Conclusion of Mexican Journal's Write-Up of the Nickel Plate

DESCRIPTION OF POWER PLANT

Details of Ore Haulage—Early Cyanide Tests for Modification of Ore Treatmens—Result of Extraction of Slimes from New Treatment.

POWER PLANT

This consists of a 4'x5' flume three miles long, with a 0.1 of 1 per cent. grade, or 5.28 feet per mile, giving 400 feet head at the power plant. There is a Rand Compressor with compound air cylinders 17"x28"x3' stroke, direct connected to Pelton type of water wheel, and Corliss engines composed of two steam cylinders attached tandem to the air cylinders. Steam is used when short of water. These cylinders are in the rear and are disconnected when run by water. Four miles of 6" diameter pipe line carries the compressed air at 100 lbs pressure to the mines. The mill is driven by independent electric motors. A 500 K. W. generator is direct connected to a horizontal high speed engine and Doble water wheel on the same shaft.

Very complete preliminary treatment tests of the ore were made by Mr. Rodgers before building the plant, and the tube mill was determined upon for sliming after an elaborate cyanide test of the slimed ore was made in 1905. Seven cyanide tests of 667 tons of slime tailings from the concentrators, averaging by assay $5.17 per ton, show extraction ranging from 76.47 per cent to 90 per cent.

The ore is hauled from the stopes in the mine, where it is loaded into two-ton cars, about two miles on an electric railway, 3 ft. gauge, in trains of about 25 tons each, maximum grade 5%. The electric locomotive weighs ten tons. The ore is then dumped by automatic dumper into the ore bin at the head of the tramway. The gravity tramway is a three rail gravity tramway about 10,000 feet long, and the total difference between the upper and lower terminal is about 4000 feet. The loaded skip of seven ton going down draws the empty skip up. The tramway is operated in two sections by two men who handle about 200 tons in eight hours. This is probably one of the longest three-rail gravity tramways in the world. It is operated continuously through the winter.

ADVERTISE IN THE GAZETTE

A GENERAL ROW

Unfortunate Trouble Results from Publication of Sir Richard Cartwright's Reminiscences

It is unfortunate that the family of the late Sir Richard Cartwright did not scrutinize more carefully the text of the "Reminiscences" and gauge the effect they were sure to produce before yeilding to the natural inclination for publication.

As has been pointed, the late Sir Richard was a man of strong likes and dislikes and when he had not been on speaking terms with either Sir John Macdonald or Hon. Edward Blake both of whom predeceased him and were gone before the volume was written, he was not in a proper position to deal either generously or fairly with either of them. The result has been that the treatment accorded them in the "Reminiscences" exhibits more of the petulance of second childhood than the maturity of age, and he allowed his antipathy to over-ride even the caution necessary to verify the statements made.

He accuses the late Sir John Macdonald with having insulted Princess Louise. This was even too much for Sir Wilfrid Laurier who has sought to vindicate the memory of his old political foe from the aspersion by expressing his opinion of the incorrectness of the charge. The absolute disproof of it, however, comes from Sir Joseph Pope who was Sir John's private secretary all the time the Princess was in Canada, and it is repudiated by the Duke of Argyle himself who characterizes the statement as "rubbish".

Sam Blake deals with the aspersions put upon the memory of his brother, and all Canada said on Sept. 21st, 1911, whether refusal to follow the party against the country in 1891 was "treachery" or not.

The editor of the News-Advertiser has performed a timely act by furnishing absolute proof in refutation of the too generally accepted mis-statement that the Pacific scandal was the cause of the breach between Sir John Macdonald and Sir Richard Cartwright. The real cause was a tiff on the part of Sir Richard Cartwright because cabinet preferment had been given to Sir Francis Hincks instead of to himself, almost three years before the so-called Pacific scandal was heard of.

ACCIDENT TO BRAKEMAN

(Oroville Gazette.)

Herbert Silvernail, brakeman on the train running between Oroville and Princeton, met with a very painful accident Friday at Princeton, which might have been much more serious. As it is the young man will be laid up for six weeks, or two months, and that is bad enough. At the coal mine where trains run in to deliver empties and take out loaded cars, a mine track used for running cars out of the mine for the purpose of dumping slack, crosses the railroad track. These rails are removed when trains are at the mine, but by an oversight the rails had been left on the track Friday. Mr. Silvernail was on top of a car that the locomotive was pushing ahead on the switch when it struck the obstruction, jumped the track and tipped over. Mr. Silverdale jumped as the car toppled over, and in the fall sprained both his ankles and dislocated his right knee. He recesved medical attention at Princeton, and at Hedley a physician got on the train and accompanied the injured man to Oroville. Mr. Silvernail bore up under the painful hurts with a great deal of fortitude, and at last accounts was resting as easily as could be expected under the circumstances. Mrs Silvernail was near Riverside at the time of the accident visiting with relatives and was summoned home by telephone. As stated above, it will be many days before Mr. Silvernail can resume his regular run.

The German war minister has told the Reichstag that he has everything in readiness for the eventualities of war.

The temperature at Edmonton last week was 2 degrees higher than at Amarillo, Texas.

YANKEE NAVVIES KICK

Employees of Foley, Welch & Stewart Appeal to Consul-General at Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Nov. 28. – On the request of the consul-general of the United States here, the Washington authorities have asked for a thorough inquiry into the conditions of the construction camps of Messrs. Foley, Welch and Stewart upon Canadian railway work. It is alleged that some of the United States citizens working for that firm as laborers have been badly treated; that they were brought into Canada from Eastern American points and are now stranded in Western Canada between British Columbia and Winnipeg. The disclosures are said to call for immediate action, and the Ottawa authorities have been notified.

The accused firm deny anything wrong and say that the complainants are but a small proportion of their employees.

ELECTRIC SMELTING IS A SUCCESS

Ottawa Reports Process to be of Commercial Importance

Ottawa, Nov. 11.– That the electrical smelting of Canadian ores is a practical commercial possibility has been demonstrated, and will be so reported in an announcemen now being prepared by the mines department.

The report will cover results obtained with the 100-ton furnace installed at the Soo in 1906, and with the perfecting of the process in Sweeden.

The announcement is of great importance to Canada.

A DUTY EASILY DONE

Life insurance companies no longer seek to profit by lapses. A company hopes to hold every premium payer until the end of the term, or until his death. Life insurance rates are so made as to provide for the payment at some time of the face of a policy. Life insurance is for the poor as well as the rich. Many of the poor have not availed themselves of insurance in standard companies because they thought they could not afford the cost. Ten cents a day, two nickel cigars, a dime's worth of chewing tobacco, will pay a premium for an average age upon almost $2,000 insurance. The day will come when a man will insure his life just as he insures his house. Your house may never burn, but a man will surely die.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

There is likely to be a little more interest locally in motoring next year as there is a probability of several new autos in town in the spring and a certainty of some. The general agent for the McLaughlin-Buick was in town last week and placed a new machine of 1913 model with F.H. French whom he appointed agent. The auto is to be delivered in the spring.

J. Millward who was brought in to fix up the Golden Zone mill a week or two before the work closed down and has gone on with the work on the mill since the supension of operations, came to Hedley the end of the week. So far as learned the water is being kept out of the mine but at Victoria a period of hushed silence appears to have settled down after the storms of the fortnight preceding.

The new 150 horse power boiler which is being added to the battery in the power house arrived last week together with smokestack for same, and will be put in place as soon as possible. There was no truck in reach that would carry it and it had to be rolled on timbers all the way from the station to the works. The former battery of boilers, three of which were of equal capacity to this one, had more than they could do, but with this addition the strain put upon them should be eased off a bit.

The Bank of B. N. A. have changed their fiscal year which now ends on the 30th of November. The local staff have therefore been having rather a busy time of it during the past few days occasioned by the preparation of reports for the last of the month and the last of the year. They are not kicking about it, however, as they would prefer having the busy spell come at this time instead of during the holiday time when most of the people are looking for a little relaxation rather than extra labor.

A number to be fyled away among the archives and carefully preserved by all who want to know everything about the early history of the Frazer valley and New Westminster is the centennial edition of the British Columbian, Westminster's oldest and best paper. It is a mammoth edition of 96 pages with handsome colored cover and well illustrated throughout. not even the famous salmonbellies, holders of the world's lacrosse championship are forgotten, but appear in an imposing picture.

The committee of management for the cemetery made their rounds of the town and succeeded in a few hours in raising more than half of the amount required. Over $200 has already been subscribed and a good many have yet to be seen. In addition to the fencing there are many other things to be done to put the grounds in creditable shape and with the generous response that has been made to the appeal for help there is every encouragement that when all have been seen the amount raised will be adequate to put the grounds in very fair shape.

Vancouver dailies tell of the resignation of L. W. Shatford, M. P. P., from the general management of the Bank of Vancouver. The affairs of the Bank when he took hold were far from being as prosperous as they are to-day, and the directors recognizing what he had done to put it on a better footing were loth to allow him to retire, and pressed upon him their wish that he reconsider: but his friends in the Similkameen knowing how closely he has stuck to business during the past twenty years are not surprised that he should now insist on relinquishing positions so arduous and responsible as that of general manager of a new bank which is extending its business over the province. It is Mr. Shatford's intention to take a trip to Europe next spring after the session of the local legislature is over, and it is understood that the trip will combine business with recreation.

While certain Vancouver women who would be better at home attending to their house-work are touring the interior of British Columbia addressing meetings for women's suffrage, their militant sisters in England are throwing vitriol in the letter-boxes in London.

THE TWO TARIFFS

With an average United States duty of over sixty per cent against Canadian trade and an average Canadian duty of less than thirty per cent against United States trade it would seem as if there is plenty of elbow room for President-elect Wilson to revise the U. S. tariff downward. He and his party are pledged to such a course and it remains to be seen whether he and they will make good the promise. Taft, too, had promised to revise the tariff downward and relieve to some extent the rather heavy burden the consumer in that country had to bear in order that the manufacturer should have the best of it; but while he did revise the tariff he revised it upward and not downward. Then to square himself in some measure with those whom he had led to believe that they might expect greater freedom of trade, he trumped up the reciprocity deal with the ministerial "babes in the wood" from the Laurier cabinet, and so well was that job to his own liking that we have his opinion of it in his letter to Roosevelt in which he said:

"It might at first have a tendency to reduce the cost of food products somewhat; it would certainly make the reservoir much greater and prevent fluctuations. Meantime the amount of Canadian products we would take would produce a current of business between Western Canada and the United States that would make Canada only an adjunct of the United States. It would transfer all their important business to Chicago and New York, with their bank credits and everything else, and it would increase greatly the demand of Canada for our manufactures. I see this is an argument made in Canada against reciprocity and I think it is a good one."

Neither was this view of it taken by Taft alone, but it was shared in by Roosevelt who replied:

"It seems to me that what you propose to do with Canada is admirable from every standpoint."

And also as Mr. Borden pointed out in his reply to Sir Wilfrid during the debate on the address, Taft's view was concurred in by the whole Taft cabinet to whom the letter was submitted before it was made public. The United States now sell to us in round numbers $175,000,000 annually more than we sell to them. When these figures are taken along with the rate of duty charged by each country against the goods of the other President Wilson should have very good ground for urging his plea for a revision of the United States tariff that will bring the two a little more equal than they are at present.

Joe Martin, member of the Imperial parliament for the division of St. Pancras, elected as a Liberal, does not like the idea of the Premier of Canada being deeper in the secrets of Mr. Asquith and his colleagues than he (Mr. Martin) is. That is the only interpretation that can be put on his question regarding certain parts of the speech from the throne at the opening of the present session of the Canadian parliament. The questions he asked will tend to place him in a more childish light than ever and it advertises the fact that although elected to parliament as a supporter of the Asquith government he enjoys very little of the confidence of that government—a fact for which his own conduct is very largely responsible.

This week there has been another slight instalment of snow but no more frosts to make skating rinks and some are beginning to wonder whether all their labor and expense in preparing the rink has been in vain.

If you want to do a good Christmas trade tell the people of the Similkameen valley through the columns of the Gazette what you have to offer them. A little Christmas trade story deftly told will bring in the dollars.

A patriotic design for Christmas greeting cards will be just the thing this year when Canada is awaking to her duty in the matter of empire defence. The Gazette can supply the cards and print your own name and address and any greeting you may wish to send.

It appears that the disposal made of the Cook-Clark case which was up before magistrates in Princeton was not that of commitment of the accused for trial but merely direction given to the complainant to take it to a higher court. The magistrates were in doubt as to their jurisdiction in the matter.

Frank Bailey was in town ast week getting data and advertising for the pamphlet on the valley which he is bringing out. The pamphlet is meant to bring the story of development in the valley down to date and show what the Similkameen has to offer investors. He leaves for the coast shortly.

Rev. A. H. Cameron does not find the Manitoba winters as genial and agreeable as in former days. He was confined to his bed in Brandon for three days under the doctor's care, but was on the mend. He expected to leave Brandon for Calgary to-day. His Hedley friends wish him speedy and full recovery.

F. H. French began business on Monday morning on his own hook. Last week he finished the stock-taking at which the seller was unrepresenced except in the person of Mr. French himself who acted in the dual capacity of manager for the old firm and also that of buyer. This might be considered poor business on the part of Mr. Shatford but more will see in it a strong yet delicate compliment to Mr. French after 16 years' service.

J. A. Coryell an old-time surveyor in the district who did much of the engineering in the valley twenty years ago, died recently of tuberculosis in Arizona and was brought for interment to Kelowna where his mother and sister were buried. He was a graduate of the Royal Military College at Kingston and served in both the Riel Rebellion of 1885 and in South Africa. As a veteran of two wars he was given a military funeral. It was "last post" for poor old Jack.

Town and Lower Valley.

George Price was a visitor to town last Monday.

Mrs. Daly and Miss Corrigan paid a visit to Oroville on Tuesday.

Leslie Bates has moved into Mr. Mills' house on Seventh street.

J. A. Brown made the trip up to Tulameen on business on Monday last.

Miss Hattie Innis has taken a position as assistant in the local post office.

On December the 6th and 7th, Herr Bowman, a magician, will amuse the public at Richter Hall.

On Saturday last Mr. Michell, the late manager of the W. H. Armstrong ranch, and Mrs. Michell left for Hedley.

Married.—On Wednesday last by Rev. G. T. McKenzie, Howard Foster of Keremeos and Christiana Cohn of Olalla.

Charlie Armstrong left on Monday's train to take up a course in an agricultural college in the State of Washington.

The concert given by Miss Sloane in the town hall last Tuesday, although of the highest order, was not patronized as it might have been.

E. M. Crooker has taken over the management of the W. H. Armstrong ranch and will go down to take up the cudgels the beginning of the next week.

On Friday evening last we had our first snow, it certainly looked alright but it didn't last very long, and the hard cold earth is staring us once more in the face.

Four carloads of apples were shipped from this station this week consigned to Winnipeg which has made a busy week of it for the fruit-growers who were shipping.

A packing school will be started again this winter. Notice will be given later as to the time of commencement. Anyone anxious of attending school will kindly give their names in to Mr. J. J. Armstrong.

Miss Kirby and Miss Rita Kirby rode over to Vaseaux Lake on Tuesday to attend the wedding of Miss Hazel McKenzie and Mr. J. Edward Kennedy at that place. Miss Rita will be Bridesmaid and Herb Herpel will support the groom.

Mrs. G. E. Graham returned from Vancouver accompanied by her daughter Helen who has been attending Braemar College and will spend a few weeks at Keremeos. Mrs. Graham also brought with her an old friend, Mrs. McRagan of Clayburn. Mrs. McRagan is an old-timer in B. C. where her father helped to build the first Cariboo wagon road.

We have just received a poster from Hedley announcing the second annual ball given by the Modern Woodmen of America to take place in Fraternity Hall, Hedley, on December 18th. Tickets to dance $1.00. Supper served at the Similkameen hotel, 75 cents per plate. They cordially invite all their Keremeos friends to attend for which on their behalf we thank them and hope to muster a good number from the banana belt.

After a long illness Judson B. Clark passed away on Sunday evening last. Mr. Clark was well known in the district and was highly respected, he at one time was school teacher at both Similkameen and Olalla. He has struggled on bravely for many weary months, but at last the dread tuberculosis claimed him. Too much credit cannot be given Pete Williamson, who has nursed him during his long illness.

At the Town Hall, Keremeos, on December 10th, Mr. W. H. Giggle will present the Imperial Hand Bell Ringers. A comment by the Spokane Chronicle is as follows—A delightful entertainment was given by the Imperial English Hand Bell Ringers at their initial appearance before a Spokane audience, each number was received with applause. Perhaps the most difficult selections of the evening were the two overtures "Masaniello" and "Italiana" and the selection from "Il Trovatore". The Bell Ringers rendered the numbers with wonderful technique. Another feature of the entertainment proved to be the piccolo and violin solos with bell accompaniments.

The second dance of the Keremeos Assembly was a decided success last Friday. The music was of the same high class as that provided on the occasion of the first dance. Among the visitors who attended from outside districts were Mr. and Mrs. Hans Richter of Nighthawk, Mr. H. Parker of Fairview, and most of the party in connection with the trans-provincial road survey. Each and everyone enjoyed themselves to their full capacity.

Many interesting letters have been received by the postmaster from little children, who are wishing to correspond with Santa Claus. One in particular we think is worth publishing. The letter was addressed, Mr. Santa Claus, Keremeos, B. C., c | o Mr. Etches, P.M., and is as follows. Dear Mr. Santa Claus, I wish you would please bring me a nice dolly, a go-cart, a little ironing board, a teddy bear, a little set of dishes, a little stand to set my flat iron on, a little parasol, a hat and little jacket for my dolly and a little set a knives and forks. And now dear Santa if you will be real good and send me some of these things I will give you a big hug and lots of kisses. With lots of love, from your little friend * * * P. S. Oh Santa I forgot to tell you to bring me a nice little Christmas tree. Although it must have been written by someone other than a child, but still we can imagine the little tot just telling what to write. Anyway we hope Santa will get the letters and his little kids will be joyful.
