FOREST FIRE STATISTICS

What British Colambia Lost This Year By Failing to Take Care of Forest Fires.

Victoria, Dec. 1—Chief Fire Warden Gladwin, of Vancouver, has rendered his annual report to Hon. W. Ross, chief commissioner of lands. The report sums up a number of suggestions for increasing the efficiency of the service.

The number of forest fires reported for the season amounted to 1184. The cause in 335 cases was sparks from locomotives or donkey engines. Campers are charged with 162 and settlers land clearing with 184. Lightning is set down as the cause in 103 cases and 374 fires are recorded "causes unknown.

The total estimate of damage done is $620,915, apportioned as follows:

To standing timber $193,076; to cut timber $63,974; to improvements $371,965.

Six persons during the fire fighting were suffocated, one man was killed by a falling tree two were seriously injured. A total fire fighting force of 4,452 men were employed by the government, involving a disbursement of $35,000 by the government and $37,394 by private employers.

The total value of the property protected is placed at $1,405,000. An area of 218,388 acres was burned over. The fines for breaches of the Bush Fire act amounted to $1,275. The total expenditure of the government amounted to $185,902.

The warden suggests that the government should share in the expense of burning the bush, refuse, etc., left by the lodgers either in the autumn or in the early spring. Any fire warden should be empowered to impress into the service any person at a wage of 25 cents per hour. Increased staffs, more wardens, rangers, etc., are also urged.

THE HOSPITAL BAZAAR

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hedley Hospital scored an unqualified success in the bazaar which they gave on Friday last in Fraternity hall. The bazaar was offered to the public in afternoon and in the various booths was displayed the array of fancy and useful articles which they had provided for sale in aid of the hospital fund, These booths were arranged with greatest taste and skill and the ladies in charge proved themselves adept saleswomen for in the afternoon they had disposed of nearly everything and there was but little left for the evening. For the children the fish pond was the booth that excited most interest. By way of entertainment a musical program was provided both afternoon and evening, and on the latter occasion was more extensive and varied. The instrumental music was provided by Mrs. Sproule and Mrs. Lyon on piano and violin and contributed largely to the enjoyment of those present. Songs were sung by Mrs. Forbes and Messrs. Whiteman and Oliver the former giving "Father O'Flynn" and the latter "The Midshipnite", but the feature of the program was the singing of Mrs. J. A. Brown, who sang Flight of Ages with fine effect and in response to a hearty encore sang "Then why don't you ask Me". Another feature of the program which was much enjoyed was the recitation of Whitcomb Riley's "Granny's Come to Our House" by little Erminie Wheeler which was very cleverly done, showing as it did wonderful talent on the part of the child and careful, skilful tuition on the part of whoever trained her. In response to an encore she recited the "Minuet".

Last on the programme but not least in the interest it created was the vot contest for the most popular young lady. For the contest Miss Bond, Miss Emily Jackson, Miss McLean, Miss Boeing, Miss Clare and Miss Mable Robinson were nominated. Five cents counted as a vote and it was clearly a case of where money talked. Very soon Miss Jackson and Miss Bond shot ahead in the voting and as it became plainly a contest between the supporters of these two the others were allowed to drop behind. The contest terminated only when time was called and then it was found that Miss Jackson stood 744 and Miss Bond 710 while the contest netted the fund $77.55. The total proceeds of the bazaar totalled $269.80.

AN UNDESERVED STIGMA

German Paper Attacks Business Methods of Reputable Vancouver Firm

Vancouver papers do well to resent the action of the Monetary Times of Toronto in repeating a dishonest attack of a German paper, the National Zeitung, upon the Vancouver financial firm of Alvo von Alvensleben. That firm advertised in a German paper setting forth the advantages of Vancouver and of British Columbia as a field for profitable investment and went on to explain the class of investments they specially recommended and this ad was seized upon by the Zeitung and distorted so as to make the firm appear as a wild-catting concern.

The ad when reproduced and thus given to British Columbia readers who throughly understand conditions here is found to be a plain unvarnished statement of facts and instead of it subjecting the Vancouver firm to the suspicion of wild-catting can only be taken as evidence of the conservative methods pursued by them in their recommendations to intending investors.

The Monetary Times is being taken to task for its apparent approval of the German paper's attack, for while the action of the German paper may be due to its ignorance of Canadian affairs, that excuse can scarcely be urged for the Monetary Times.

STILL INDECISIVE

First Day's Polling in British Elections Give Unionists Slight Gain

In 106 seats decided last Saturday the Unionists have 62 and the Liberals 40. To the Liberal strength may be added the nationalists and laborites who are also against the House of Lords and their 14 seats added to the Liberal strength gives a total of only 63.

There are still 564 seats remaining to be voted on and unless these go much more favorable for the Unionists than the first 106 it is unlikely that they will get enough to out-vote the other three combined, and unless they can, Britain must still be ruled at the dictation of John Redmond.

The shortness of the time in which to explain the referendum to the electors is believed to militate against the success of the Unionists. Many defections from the Liberals have already taken place and these are in most cases prominent Liberal free traders who are opposed to the wrecking of the constitution in the reckless manner evinced by the Asquith government.

LOCAL NEWS

On Sunday last there was about eight or ten parties out deer hunting but L. C. Rolls was the only nimrod in the batch who bagged his quarry. Rolls got a couple.

Bob Clare and Billy Matthieson, left on Monday for England going by way of New York. They expect to sail on the 15th which will give them time to reach their homes for Christmas.

Harry Bradish returned on Saturday from Grand Forks where he had been called by the last illness of his mother who died there shortly after his arrival. Deceased had four cancers which had made considerable progress before the cause of the trouble had been ascertained.

The Victor people are keeping up their reputation for supplying first class music in their records. One of the most popular of their recently acquired artists is Mrs. Wheeler whose singing is hard to equal. Ask Rolls to play over some of her pieces.

Mrs. J. A. Brown, Mrs. Daly and Mrs. Crooker were among the Keremeos people who took in the bazaar last week. Mrs. Brown contributed greatly to the success of the musical part of the event by her songs which proved so great a treat to a Hedley audience.

During her recent trip to Vancouver for the Apple Show Mrs. J. A. Brown, of Keremeos, had the pleasure of hearing the noted Welsh choir which recently completed a tour of the province and of which she was formerly a member before she came to Canada. Many of those on this tour she knew quite well and the pleasure of meeting them again and hearing them give their concert was by no means the east enjoyable part of her coast trip.

There were over 30 inches of snow fell up at the Nickel Plate last month. This amount so early in the season and the lake still up above the running out point as the result of better judgment on the part of the management in saving it, there will not likely be any necessity for pumping before the end of February and then about two or three weeks will be the extent of pumping. This makes the outlook particularly good for a long spell of cheap power next year.

It may be interesting to members of the golf club to know that monthly dues will be suspended for the winter months beginning with November and will not likely be resumed again until April or perhaps May. The short days have prevented most of the members from getting much use of the links since the end of October and the executive see no need for continuing the monthly dues. It will be well, however, for all who may be in arrears up to and including October to pay up so that next spring may find all hands squared with no arrears being held over.

The water pipes have all been covered up with dry earth and fine gravel in good mild weather with no frost in the ground and there does not appear to be any possible danger from frost this winter no matter how severely the weather may set in or how long the cold snaps may continue. The management played in rattling good luck with the fine mild spell which came along with the beginning of last week, removing every vestige of frost there had been up to that time and enabling the use of scrapers to fill in over the dry earth which had been put over the pipes.

The Hotel Hedley has not made the necessary application for renewal of licence which now lapses by default. The conditions laid down by Inspector Colin Campbell, requiring vastly improved accommodations in order to hold a licence under the new Act is likely to weed out a good many of the smaller and older hotels throughout the province. The proprietor of the Hotel Hedley also gave out the information some time ago that he had made assignment to the sheriff, but as many of the formalities which are supposed to go with the making of an assignment have been omitted in this case, creditors are somewhat mystified and want to know where they are going to get off.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Winston Churchill's favorite tune to harp on in the present British elections is to prate of "the idle rich." There is another class of rich of whom he says nothing; they are the rich with an insatiable thirst for notoriety, and of them he is himself a characteristic type. To such as these the plaudits of "the mutable rank-scented many" are as music to the ear, and in their degree of pestiferiousness they bear to "the idle rich" the same ratio as the mosquito does to the butterfly.

While there is a certain poetic justice in the treatment which Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his friends received in the by-election of Drummond-Arthabaska in that they were but receiving back the same medicine and in similar doses to that concocted for Sir Charles Tupper in 1896 when there was no naval question before the people and nothing in sight to suggest service abroad for Canadian troops, it is questionable whether the opposition are acting wisely in referring to it as much as they have done during the debate on the address. If the Laurierite candidate had been defeated on any other issue than that which it is admitted was the cause of his downfall and the contention which won out had been more in line with their own policy it would have been a different matter, but the opposition have scarcely the right to rejoice with Bourassa on his victory obtained by the means which appear to have been employed, for Bourassa's arguments were as applicable against Borden's naval programme as against Laurier's. The opposition, under the circumstances, are not in a position to felicitate with Bourassa on the result and they showed to better advantage so far as their attitude on that point is concerned, when they sat silent in their places and were as undemonstrative as the ministerialists when the new member for Drummond-Arthabaska was introduced in the House.

The whole question of Canada's position in the matter of naval defence is one which should have been kept out of politics as far as possible. Until Canada can approach the question with the same degree of unanimity and patriotism which the Germans are showing in their support of the "navy league" movement in that country we shall fall far short of accomplishing what all patriotic Canadians would like to attain. The thing that is needed is some broad general platform upon which all can unite, and Lord Northcliffe seems to have caught the correct idea in the movement he has set afoot in the columns of the overseas Mail for the organization through Britain and the colonies, of clubs which declare for the broad principle that Britain must be kept supreme on the seas. In no other colony of the empire that we are aware does there exist the indifference on that principle which is to be found in Canada and particularly in Drummond-Arthabaska and other parts of Quebec while there is a sprinkling also in some of the other provinces. If the Drummond-Arthabaska election has any leeson for thoughtful Canadians it should be that now is the time to cultivate the sentiment in this country that Canada owes it to herself to be no laggard in the matter of cheerfully contributing her share for the maintenance of an institution which has protected her for all these years, and whether her contribution take the form of a Canadian owned and manned navy acting in concert with that of Britain or whether it be a direct annual contribution in money, let it be given cheerfully and ungrudgingly and without any unseemly wrangling among ourselves.

Town and Lower Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Moody were visitors in Hedley between trains on Thursday last.

Mr. Quaedvlieg and family have moved into their newly acquired home on the Webster ranch.

J. A. Schubert, of Hedley, was in town on Saturday on his way from a trip to Penticton.

Mrs. E. M. Crooker, Mrs. Daly and Wm. Daly attended the hospital bazaar in Hedley last Friday.

C. A. McDonald, of Vancouver, was in town last week and made a trip up the valley as far as Princeton.

Mrs. A. C. Kennedy, of Olalla, went out on Tuesday train bound for California, where she will spend the winter.

A pleasant social evening at which dancing was the principal attraction was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Knudson on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Richter left on Thursday to spend the winter in California. Mr. Richter considering a change of climate adviseable for his health.

F. H. French, of Shatford's, Ltd., Hedley was in town on Wednesday last accompanying Mrs. French, who was leaving on a visit to friends in the Okanagan.

F. Schneider has disposed of such of his household and other effects as he did not wish to take with him and with his family will leave for Vancouver this week. Good-bye friend Sch-Schneider.

Mrs. R. H. Carmichael, of Princeton who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Armstrong, accompanied her husband home last Friday on his return from his regular weekly visit to Keremeos.

George B. Clark who spent the summer and fall up in the Cariboo district returned on Saturday to his home in Keremeos. He was accompanied part of the way by Mr. Fargo who with Mrs. Fargo is expected a little later.

The regular annual christmas tree and entertainment for the scholars of the Keremeos Sunday School will be held in the town hall on Friday evening, Dec. 23rd. A good musical program is being prepared by the children.

Charlie Armstrong has made a selection of a ten-acre lot and is busy these days clearing it up ready for operations in the spring. He has chosen No 66, the lot in the east end of the sub-division which Mr. Kirby had in garden this year. We understand that this lot is also to be used as the government experimental station for the Similkameen.

J. J. Armstrong received a letter this week from W. E. Scott, deputy minister of agriculture, Victoria, congratulating him on the success of the Keremeos exhibit at the Royal Horticultural Society's exhibition in London in winning the silver Knightsian medal and contributing to the success of the province as a whole in winning the Hogg memorial, which has now been won for the first time. The honor is one which Keremeos fruitgrowers have reason to be proud of and should stimulate to further effort.

M. C. McAuley, after a brief flutter in the mercantile life of our village, closed his butcher shop on Saturday and is now awaiting word to go to Princeton where he has the offer of a job with the P. Burns' company. It is said that this company is closing its slaughter house at Greenwood, which they have already made their headquarters for the boundary country and will transfer it to Princeton. This will do away with the necessity of driving cattle all the way from the summer ranges above Princeeon to Greenwood and should effect a considerable saving in beef for the company.

Considering the extremely unfavorable evening there was a good attendance at the town hall on Saturday evening to hear the presentation of the rural comedy drama "Joshua Simpkins". The company were not in the best form after their long tiresome drive over from Penticton, which owing to unfavorable roads and a poor equipment of horses took them from early morning till late night. But even with such poor opportunity for preparation they acquitted themselves in a manner that appeared entirely satisfactory to those who braved the weather and took in the performance.

W. A. Ross, of Seattle, Asst. Passenger Agent of the Great Northern was a visitor to the valley last week. He was accompanied by R. C. Morgan supt. of Spokane in his private car. We understand that it was hinted that a through service on this line is likely to take effect but no date set. Wonder if any of the present generation will live to see it. There is also a rumor to the effect the present time-killing schedule on this line is to be superceded by another which will permit of the run between Oroville and Princeton being made in one hour less time each way.
