B. C.'S INTEREST IN WHEAT LAND.

Vancouver News-Advertiser
The address of Mr. J. K. Cornwall at the Canadian Club luncheon, calls attention to two subjects which vitally concern this city. One is the value of the Peace River Country. The other is the duty of Vancouver to provide for the trade which this district will offer. Mr. Cornwall emphasizes the fact that the whole of Northern Alberta, as well as all British Columbia, is the hinterland of Vancouver. This is a matter in which provincial boundaries do not count. At present the Western grain traffic does not notice the frontiers of the Prairie Provinces. For commercial purposes Northern Alberta belongs as much to British Columbia as the Peace River district of this province.

Most people are not trained to think in millions, but it may help our comprehension of the situation to say that 57,000,000 acres of arable land means three times the extent of the whole prairie country under crop of all kinds this year, and that the whole area of field crops in Canada last year was 32,000,000 acres. The development of a little more than half of this region called the Peace River country would therefore add a new Dominion of Canada to the farm resources of the world. And all this belongs commercially to the port of Vancouver. It may be worth while for citizens to make use of an imagination tempered with arithmetic to picture Vancouver with additional traffic from this one source equal to that part of the commerce of Canada which grows out of the farm.

Mr. Cornwall promises in addition all the traffic originating or ending west of Red River. We do not need to hold him to this. Accepting the summer haul which determines the course of the greater part of the trade, giving the Hudson Bay route a share, this coast may look for a considerable share of the export and import trade of Saskatchewan, and the larger part of that connected with Southern Alberta.

The best answer that can be given to the question what has Vancouver done to provide for the trade that Vancouver claims, is that nothing has yet been done, but that preparations are beginning. The Public Works Department at Ottawa has explored the ground, and is maturing a plan of dredging and other development. The dredging that has been done is but a small commencement. It will be a great disappointment if a harbor board is not authorized and appointed early next year. During the period which must pass before the railways that are to connect Vancouver with Northern Alberta are completed, and before the Panama Canal is ready for business, there should be great activity on the Vancouver harbor front. We are of the opinion that the first Peace River grain that is ready for shipment to Vancouver by the railways through the northern passes will find terminal facilities waiting for it.

NEW USE FOR B. C. PINE

A new industry, that of naval stores, may yet take a prominent place in British Columbia. The bull pine of the interior has been found by experimenters in the Forest Products Laboratory of the United States Forest Service to yield turpentine resin in large quantities. A bulletin recently issued shows that, even taking into account the unfavorable weather conditions in Arizona, California and other western states, the amount of resin obtainable from the pines growing there is about two-thirds of that which can be had from the pines of the South-East where turpentine is one of the main industries. Labor is the difficulty most prominent in the eyes of H. S. Betts, the compiler of the information, but he believes that with the diminution of the supply from the South, the Western bull pine may yet engender new benefits to the country.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CEMENT

The attitude of the Liberals in opposing the reduction of the cement duty last summer to relieve the serious shortage has caused a great deal of comment. Just why they should so anxiously defend the cement trust was a mystery; or again, why should they have increased the duty until it was over 40 per cent? However, the cat is now out of the bag. Here are the names of some of the cement people:—

President—Hon. W. C. Edwards; Senator by the favor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier; a Liberal; a free trader.

Director—Hon. Robert Mackay; a Laurier Senator; a Liberal.

Director—Hon. George Cox; a Laurier Senator; a Liberal.

Director—C. C. Ballantyne, of Montreal; a Liberal.

Director—George E. Drummond, of Montreal; an old time friend of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Again, at Owen Sound, there were two cement plants. One had for its president, Mr. A. G. Mackay, sometime member of the Ross Government, sometime leader of the Liberal party in Ontario, now a champion of reciprocity in Edmonton. The other had as its president, Mr. W. P. Telford, formerly Liberal M. P. for North Grey. Yet again, Mr. James Pearson, a great Liberal, a free trader, former Liberal candidate in East Toronto, is interested in a cement plant at Attwood, Ontario.

History of Cement Duty.

It was no wonder that Sir Wilfrid Laurier so hurriedly came to the defence of the Trust and was so annoyed that the duty was cut in half.

The history of the duty on cement is interesting:

When the National Policy was devised in 1879, the duty on cement was fixed at 40 cents a barrel. In Canada the barrel is 350 pounds; so that this was equivalent to 11.4 cents on 100 pounds. There was no impost on the package in which the cement came. At this figure the duty remained until 1897, or during the continuance of the Conservatives in power. The production of cement in Canada was under 200,000 barrels a year until 1896. The question of price is complicated and difficult, but on the whole the duty seems to have been about 30 or 35 per cent, or about that accorded to numerous other industries.

Liberals Increased Duty.

George H. Bradbury, member for Selkirk, speaking in the House, gave a history of the duty. He said: "In 1894, under the old Conservative regime, and until the Liberals came into power, the tariff in existence was 40 cents per barrel, including the barrel; when the Liberals came into office in 1896, it was increased by them 43% cents per barrel, including package, making an increase in the duty of 3% cents in addition to the weight of the bag, or an increase of about 5c per barrel. But, in 1906, not satisfied with increasing the duty, this free trade party further increased it to 51% cents. When the Liberal party came into power they found a lower duty on cement, they built up a higher tariff and they created this merger through that tariff because it is safe to say that without an increased tariff there would have been no great inducement for the formation of this merger in Canada. If the duty on cement is burdensome to the people today the whole responsibility rests upon the shoulders of the right hon. leader of the Opposition, the member for Edmonton and their colleagues all over the country. They are the men who put this increased duty on cement. There is no doubt at all that it will remain for the Conservative Government to reduce the tariff and see that a fair and equitable duty is levied.

Killed the Bill.

"Before taking my seat I want to point out that there was a Bill before this House last session that was killed through the advice and influence of the leader of the Opposition, and this measure would have made it possible for this House and the country to have known exactly where the cement company stood. That was the Tariff Commission Bill. If we had a tariff commission to-day that commission could go into the office of this merger, take control of their books, ascertain immediately where this merger stood and whether they were receiving too much protection or not. The protection was increased by the Liberal Government by nearly 30 per cent, and still these hon. Gentlemen have the audacity to stand up and try to hold this side of the House responsible for the increased cost of cement."

Production Increased.

Coincident with this great increase of protection there was a great increase in production. In 1897 the production was about 200,000 barrels; by 1902 it was over 700,000 barrels; by 1906 it exceeded two million barrels; in 1909 it was four millions; by 1911 it was 3,600,000. The consumption of cement, locally produced and imported, in 1912, probably will be about 8,000,000 barrels, and some six millions of this were made in Canada. In 1909, 1910 and 1911 less than 10 per cent, of the amount consumed was imported.

While consumption increased so enormously, processes improved and the cost of making cement in up-to-date plants rapidly decreased. The question of price is difficult, but if we take $1.10 as a basic price for the Canadian product, we get a protection of not far short of 50 per cent.

That is what Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Government of convinced free traders did for cement. And, remember, in 1906, when Mr. Fielding revised the tariff, the drop in cost had begun. But Mr. Fielding kept the duty on. The reciprocity arrangement would have cut the duty on American cement from 12% to 11 cents a hundredweight, leaving the total impost at 46 1/2 cents a barrel; or over 40 per cent.; or 6 1/2 cents more than the Conservatives left it.

BUG-OLOGIST ON THE TRAIL

The Division of Entomology of the Experimental Farms Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, has recently issued a bulletin by Dr. C. Gordon Hewitt, Dominion Entomologist, on "The Control of Insect Pests in Canada."

An account is given of the history of the war against insect pests in Canada and of the manner in which insect pests have invaded the country as it has been gradually opened up and cultivated. The manner in which the Dominion and Provincial governments are endeavoring by legislation and other means to prevent the introduction of insect pests into Canada and the increase and spread of those pests already here is described. An interesting summary of the various lines of work undertaken and carried on by the Division of Entomology at Ottawa is given and the general public will no doubt be surprised at the many problems which come within the scope of the Entomologists who are called upon to deal with insects in their relations to all the varied activities of man; insects affecting farm crops, fruit growing, forest and shade trees; insects attacking man's possessions and infesting houses, attacking domestic animals and finally affecting the health of man. All insects, however, are not injurious and the work of the Entomologist includes bees and beekeeping and the study of parasitic and other enemies which may be of assistance in obtaining control of insect pests.

Copies of this publication, Bulletin No. 9 (Second Series), may be obtained from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

HOSPITAL DONATION

The secretary of the Hedley Hospital requests us to acknowledge receipt of a cheque for $25.00 from E. A. C. Studd as a Christmas remembrance. Mr. Studd has always been very generous to the hospital and has helped in the problem of making ends meet.

It is the intention of the staff to issue next week's Gazette a day earlier owing to Christmas coming in the middle of the week. Advertisers who have changes to make in their ads are requested to have the copy in on Monday.

GOLDEN ZONE MATTERS

Mr. I. H. Hallett, barrister, of Greenwood arrived in town on Monday to handle the matter of the mechanics' liens against the property of the Gold Plate Mines Co. Limited, in behalf of the lien-holders, of whom there are somewhere about twenty. It began to look to the lien-holders, who have given the principals every chance in the world to square up without adding more costs on them, that the delay in Victoria was for the express purpose of seeing whether the lien-holders might not let their claims lapse by going beyond the thirty-one days allowed by the Act for commencing action in the county court. This is the third batch of liens or actions for wages that have been filed against the Golden Zone. The first batch was in connection with the operations of the original owners, Marks, Brodhagen and Murphy. The heaviest claimant in that instance was the Jenckes Machine Company which supplied the stamp mill and other mine equipment and other judgments still unsatisfied obtained at that time were for wages. The second lot were against the Golden Zone Company when various liens for wages were filed, the cases entered in the County Court and judgments obtained but no execution ever followed. This time it is not at all likely that the creditors will be so lenient or so patient and if the money be not forthcoming the property is likely to go the hammer.

All these things tend to give a property a bad name when it may not, and in this case apparently does not, deserve it. In every instance they run into debt in an ill advised manner and chaos worse founded is the result of it all. While it might seem like undue meddling on the part of the Government with private enterprise it is nevertheless time that stricter supervision of operations be taken to prevent men and merchants being victimized by irresponsible parties who will undertake operations that they are not in a position to carry out. A rigid supervision by the Government of the bank account of all who undertake work of this kind is required and if the money is not on hand to meet obligations being or about to be incurred the work should be stopped summarily. It is not enough to place a lien of that kind on the statutes. The main thing is to make ample provision for its enforcement.

GENERAL NEWS

The board of conciliation appointed by the Dominion government to investigate the differences between the C. P. R. and the brotherhood of railway employees who had gone on strike has reported that the men were fully justified in the course they had taken.

A Vancouver firm of architects won the first prize for best design for the new B. C. university. Another Vancouverite was second and the third and fourth prizes went to men in Montreal and Toronto.

Indian chiefs on the coast to the number of about 100, incited by some white agitators, principally clerical, have decided to treat no more with the Provincial government for settlement of the land question, but will carry their case to the Privy Council.

The United States Senate refuse to entertain the idea of submitting to arbitration the matter of Panama tolls.

The Gazette has heard several reports about violation of the game law in the matter of exceeding the limit of deer killed in the season. With a game warden, deputy game warden and a game protective association that sort of thing should not be allowed to go. Whether it be true or not we are not prepared to say but where there is so much talk about it the thing should be investigated and if there be no truth in the report let the public be told so.

Mrs. Bunnell, of Fairview, died there recently. Her husband was killed in an accident a little over a year ago. There is a large family of nine children. The eldest, Mary, who is well known in Hedley where she went to school last winter, has had almost the entire responsibility of the family since she left here last June.

THE TWO WILLIAMS

If Emperor William will only be as obliging as President Taft and will make public any letter which he may send or may have sent to some friend expressing his approval of the way in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier is carrying out in Canada the wishes of the said Emperor William in endeavoring to nullify the effect of Canada's contribution to the Empire navy, the people of Canada would have another example of how far wrong a public man may go who will place party before country. Taft appreciated very highly the efforts of "the old cock" in trying to bring about reciprocity which he explained to Roosevelt would "make Canada only an adjunct of the United States." The most charitable view of that circumstance we can take for Sir Wilfrid is that he was ignorant of the fact that Sir Wilfrid was making a tool of him, for it would seem incredible that Sir Wilfrid could be aware of Taft's design and still go on advocating the means of which Taft so bluntly pointed out the end. Nevertheless, in view of the fact that Sir Wilfrid after learning Taft's intention in the matter of reciprocity has since affirmed his intention of going on with the advocacy of the means by which Canada was to be betrayed, we would be justified both in assuming and asserting that Sir Wilfrid wilfully and knowingly concurred in the plot.

Now while there is still left to us the chance of believing that Sir Wilfrid may have been more sinned against than sinning in playing into Taft's hands for the undoing of Canada, it is practically impossible for us to believe that he does not know he is playing into Germany's hands to the undoing of the Empire when he is trying to prevent Canada from sending her dreadnoughts to the only place where they could be of any service in curbing Germany's aggression. This is no newborn ambition on Germany's part to wrest the supremacy of the sea, but a long cherished ambition and plan. As long ago as 1896 when Li Hung Chang made that memorable tour through Europe, Bismark told him of how Britain boasted of her big navy, but how Germany was going to humble her. These things are coming out now in the diary of Li Hung Chang which is at last being published. When Bismark told him about the "Hundred weak points in Britain's armor" by which he was going to get her, there is no doubt he had in mind a certain class of politicians in Britain and her colonies of whom Asquith, Lloyd-George and Laurier are examples. As a weak point Laurier has been a shining success. First it was Pres. William Taft who made tool of him and now it is William Hohenzollern.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Why should Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his following show so much antipathy towards the British artisans as they appear to do when they scold about Premier Borden's railway policy providing employment for the workmen of Great Britain? The display of a spirit of that kind at the present time is a poor way to convince the rest of the world of the solidarity of the British Empire and that was one of the main things that were sought by Borden in formulating his policy. It has been shown by Fred Field of the Monetary Times that over $1,000,000,000 of British money has come to Canada to develop industrial enterprises that have given and are every day giving employment to Canadian workmen, and why should it make Sir Wilfrid and his followers so jealous and so angry that British workmen are going to get some employment out of the three super-dreadnoughts which Mr. Borden on behalf of the people of Canada proposed to donate to the British navy.

There have been many comments on Borden's naval policy from the press of the entire world and from the public men in all corners of the Empire. In Britain the Unionist papers, and many of the Liberal as well, commend Canada's attitude and congratulate Mr. Borden. In Canada the Conservative press are backing the movement in every instance, while some Liberal and nationalist papers are disposed to carp and find fault. One of the most dishonest pieces of criticism is that of the Toronto Globe, which calls it "a policy of tribute". A more dishonest and low down piece of misrepresentation is scarcely conceivable than contained in the word "tribute". If his rivine who is responsible for the editorial utterances of the Globe knows the meaning of the word "tribute" he must know that none but a deliberate falsifier and distorter would make use of it in this instance. Borden's programme appears to have met all the valid objections which have been urged against Canadian aid to the Empire navy. It has completely satisfied the Liberal administration in Britain and notwithstanding the carp of the half-Yankee preacher on the Globe, it is likely to get as emphatic an indorsement from the Liberal party in Canada.

The bounty on big horned owls is to be taken off at the end of the year. Why this is being done is difficult to see for there was possibly no bounty being given that was doing more good towards waging a war of extermination against the greatest enemy of small game than the small allowance for killing big horned owls.

I. H. Hallett, after spending a day here with the Golden Zone lien-holders went on to Princeton on Tuesday. If there is any particular advantage in this case to be obtained by the victimized wage earners Mr. Hallett is going to see that they will have it.

For an appropriate Christmas present that the recipient will think of and appreciate all the year through, nothing will fill the bill better than a subscription to the Hedley Gazette for the year 1913. Fifty two times a year it will remind the recipient of the goodwill of the donor.

Don't forget the Minstrels on Saturday night under the auspices of the Hedley Hospital. This is one of the Cosgrave attractions, and to know this is to know that there is going to be something worth while. The attractions he has supplied in the past for the hospital have been of the best and he cannot afford to risk his reputation by ringing in a snide one.

Fred. Gwatkin came in on Monday from the Golden Zone. He and Jim McLean have been keeping the pumps going to prevent the underground workings from filling up and they report that the shaft and drifts are making water at the rate of about three buckets an hour. At that rate it will not be long in drowning out everything.

J. G. Davie, late of the Brandon Daily Sun and an old-time printer who has worked in and has had charge of the typographical work in some of the best offices in Ontario, arrived in Hedley on Monday in answer to a distressful appeal for aid from this office and proceeded forthwith to relieve the strain under which the crippled staff have been working. He had come out to the coast in search of rest and a holiday, which he had expected to take in California, but he will find the climate of the Similkameen more bracing and the more easy-going routine of a country weekly will make a restful change from the hurry and stress of a city daily. With an office as well equipped for good work and a type artist of Mr. Davie's capabilities the Gazette is in a position to serve the wants of all comers.

The deer hunting season is over for this year and the slaughter was not nearly equal to that of last year and neither did the deer seem nearly as plentiful as last year. It is hoped that some action will be taken this year to have the season shortened up. If something of the kind is not done soon it will only take a few years more to make the sport of deer hunting a thing of the past. Scarcely any of the bucks killed after the 15th of Nov. are fit to use and as a result they are merely slaughtered for the horns and left to rot in the hills or make a few meals for the coyotes.

It was fortunate that there was no zero snap in November or December this year as in former years or the machines would have been frozen up before the steam heat is turned on in the mill. For those who have manual labor enough to enable them to keep the blood in circulation no particular hardship is experienced with the cold, but for those on night shift who have nothing to do but stand around and watch machines in a temperature that often registers as low as 30 degrees in the damp atmosphere of the mill, it becomes no joke, and even the mill whistle with throat of brass and lungs of steel has contracted bronchial or laryngeal affection resulting in a hoarseness which often makes it difficult to make itself heard over town.

Miss Emily Jackson left on Friday for Spokane where she expected to meet the runaways and see what they had to say for themselves. After a brief visit to Spokane she was going to her aunt in Northport, with whom she expected to spend the winter. Miss Emily takes with her the warm regard of many friends in Hedley for she was a genuine sensible girl. In her departure the Golf Club lose one of their best lady players.

The bachelors of Keremeos are in imminent danger of becoming confirmed dyspeptics before the holiday season is over.

Last week A. Wheeler and E. Millward went over to Riordan Mountain and sampled the claims there, for some Vancouver parties. Riordan Mountain has some fine showings and it is a wonder they were not taken hold of long ago. The main claim on which most of the development work has been done and upon which fine showings are to be met with, is the Billy Goat owned by Jimmie Riordan and C. S. Morris.

Hotelkeepers are often put up against it in a way and to an extent the public know very little of. The man who is broke must eat and it is the hotel-keeper he goes to for the staff of life. Frank Dollemore has had a taste of that since the Golden Zone work shut down. A gang of men who were thrown out of employment and who had received no money for their work landed in on him, and although the prospect for early payment was uncertain he could not turn them out in the cold and it has cost some money to feed them.

The Gazette is indebted to the kind consideration of Charlie Christiansa, of the mill crew, who is an old type and came along a couple of evenings to help throw in the type of last week's issue, while the editor was working off some of the accumulated jobwork.

Maurice Daly who has been attending Gonzaga College in Spokane arrived home this week to spend the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Sorge and bride after spending their honeymoon on the prairies came back on Tuesday.

H. H. George, V.S., who has been relieving here during the illness of Dr. Thompson, left for Kamloops this week. Dr. Thompson is back on duty again but has not yet made full recovery.

The veterans are dining at the Hotel Incola in Penticon this evening. The event is to be made an annual affair.

Tim Griffin went down to Night-hawk last week where he expects to be working for the winter.

When Peck McSwain paid his last visit to Hedley he "stood so little upon the order of his going" that even his dog "Gold Dust" was given the slip. At all events "Gold Dust" is still here and nobody knows where Peck is by this time. The dog is a "gleesome fleasome" knight of the road with the spirit of the tramp in his blood, but he seems to have taken a liking to the canine fare in Hedley, and whether he had just cause or provocation for leaving Peck's bed and board is matter for tramp etiquette to decide. The Grand Union Hotel and the printshop and a residence on Kingston Avenue where he can always count on a hand-out are his favorite resorts.

It is expected that after Saturday December 21 it will be known definitely what the B.C. Copper Co. are going to do about their bond on the Voigt group on Copper Mountain. The reports have all been sent in to head office in New York and it remains for New York to say what is going to be done.

As we go to press the Woodmen are assembling for their annual ball. Fraternity Hall is gaily decorated for the occasion and, guests from the outside points are on hand.

Christmas goods for the holiday trade are on display in the shops of our advertising patrons. F. H. French has a gaily decorated window in which groceries, fruits and confections for the cuisine are made a feature, but the piece de resistance for gifts is the aluminum ware for the housewives and the radiopticans and meccano outfits for the children. At Schubert's store a strong feature is the millinery stock and cut glass, with fruits and vegetables for the table. Bruce Rolfs is prepared to delight the kiddies in toyland and regale them with candies. At Keremeos Centre, Richter & Co. are catering to the Christmas trade with a large stock of choice goods in men's, women's and children's wearing apparel.

His Glasses.
Once that genial comedian Peter Dailey consulted an oculist about his eyes. His nose was small, and he couldn't keep on the glasses with which the oculist was trying to fit him. "You are not used to glasses, Mr. Dailey," said the oculist. "Oh, yes, I am," replied Mr. Dailey, "but not so high up!"

Wearing Apparel.
Customs Officer to woman traveler from the continent--I thought you said, madam, there was nothing but wearing apparel in your trunk. What about these three bottles of cognac? "Oh, those," said the lady, "are my night caps."--Fit-Bits.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said an Irish manager to an audience of three, "as there is nobody here I'll dismiss you all. The performance of this night will not be performed, but will be repeated tomorrow evening."

Mr. J. D. Smith of the Bank of Commerce here will leave in a few days to spend Christmas with his parents at Coquitlam, B.C.

Mrs. Graham and Mrs. McLagan left last Thursday for Vancouver and Clayburn respectively.

We would like to ask through these columns, whether it is not the right thing to stand up during the singing or playing of our Canadian National Anthem just as quick as it is done when playing the British National Anthem, God Save the King. This little controversy arose after the Imperial Bellringers' Concert last week. During their programme "The Maple Leaf" was played and everyone was apparently glued to their seats. Some say it is not customary to stand, but we maintain that, custom or no custom, it is the right proper and patriotic thing to do under any circumstance.

Whatever you do, don't forget to come and hear the Pan American Concert Company on Christmas Eve in the Town Hall.

There will be a Christmas Tree Entertainment in the Similkameen School House, Thursday of this week, to which each and all are invited.

The Imperial Bell Ringers gave a delightful programme to a good audience in the Town Hall last Tuesday.

The W.C.T.U. have invited the bachelors to be their guests at an afternoon Tea Party in the reading room adjoining the restaurant on New Year's afternoon.

Mrs. Keeler invites all the bachelors to be her guests for Christmas Dinner, which will be served at five o'clock in the restaurant on Thursday evening, and to enjoy a pleasant sociable time.

The Annual Christmas Tree Entertainment, given by the Keremeos Sunday School children, will take place on Monday, Dec. 23rd, at 8 p.m. A very good programme has been provided by the children. Come old and young and enjoy yourselves. Admission—adults 25c, children free.

Everything is now O.K. for a big time on the 27th at Richter's Hall. And the dinner. Yes! Don't forget that very essential item. Mr. Harry Tweddle is the host, and everything will be merry and bright.

Miss Mildred Kirby, who has been ill for the past ten days, we are pleased to say, is around again and feeling much better.

The Ladies' Aid will hold a Sale of Work on Thursday afternoon of this week.

Joe Goodwin, Welby's Auto stage driver, who was rather badly hurt some short while ago is getting better every day. We hope he will be able to get around before Christmas.

Robert J. McCurdy and Miss Mabel Manery left on Monday for Kelowna to spend Christmas with their uncle of that place.

Harry Tweddle's auto is still on the run between here and Pentiction and is still keeping to schedule time.

The little snow we had of late has put the kibosh on the river skating for a short while. Guess we will have to put in a little overtime on the rink.

Mrs. George Sproule of Hedley who was the guest of Mrs. J. A. Brown last week returned home on Monday morning's train.

Charley Jordan moved up to Olall last week. He intends to work at the mines after Christmas.

Mrs. Kirby, as usual, invites all the bachelors to have dinner at the Hotel on Christmas Day at 5 o'clock.

DECEMBER "ROD AND GUN"

"Rod and Gun" for December, published by W. J. Taylor Limited, Woodstock, Ont., is an especially readable number. Among its varied list of contents may be found: The Calgary Stampede, a description of the wonderful historical pageant that took place last Sept. in that city of the plains; "Bud Parsons," an amusing tale of a youthful hunter who thirsted for the blood of a bear; a finely illustrated article describing the winter attractions of a well known summer tourist rendezvous—Alouquin Park; and a very funny Indian story poem of "Hole in the Jaws"—so named because His mouth was large and wide. Extending clear from ear to ear And six by eight inside.

"Food and Feeding," is the subject of the eighth article on the Culture of Black and Silver Foxes and other stories of adventure are of an exceptionally entertaining nature.

New Federal Law Compels Vessels to Have More Wireless Operators

Many good positions are open to young men and women in the field of "Wireless" and of commercial telegraph service. The passage of the new federal law, effective Oct 1, compelling all sea-going vessels to be equipped with wireless instruments and manned by two competent operators, has created a wide demand for operators in the marine wireless service. Federal law now requires railways to use more operators than ever before. The Morse Telegraph company, of Seattle and Portland, works in close connection with wireless and commercial officials, and can place graduates in good positions. It will pay you to write for full particulars. Adv. 49-4
