HOSPITAL BALL

A Successful and Profitable Social Function

WHERE MERRY MASKERS MEET

The annual hospital ball for 1913 has come and gone and is to be numbered among the successful ones. The net proceeds while not quite so high as in some former years were nevertheless well up to the average and the event passed very smoothly and satisfactorily. In the matter of the supper a different method was tried and it has much to recommend it. At all events it relieved the women folk of a great deal of labor and worry and that is a consideration, for the social aspect must not be altogether lost sight of in the labor to obtain funds to keep the institution going.

The outside representation was perhaps not up to former years, nevertheless Keremeos did fairly well and other points were represented.

The hall was neatly decorated for the occasion and a different arrangement of the platform for the musicians gave larger floor space for dancing. Many of the costumes were apt and well carried out while a fair sprinkling of them were as usual on such occasions, more or less nondescript.

The men's costumes were as a rule rather better than the ladies' and if a prize had been given for the best sustained character it would have been easily won by J. Smith whose make-up and acting of the character of waiter were equally inimitable and whose fussy obsequiousness and eternal vigilance to keep after the nimble sixpence never flagged for a moment in the course of the evening before the hour for unmasking came about. The prospector's rig-out was also apt and so far as the dressing of the part is concerned was well carried out in detail. "Little Boy Blue" was deeply cerulean in color and the horn was there. There was a superfluity of clowns on the job and a few of Brooks' 60 from Mexico had strayed up in this direction apparently still in search of the long deferred pay.

The music supplied by Miss Lyall and Messrs. Daly and Knight was well to the liking of the dancers, while the supper served at the Grand Union was by common consent voted excellent.

Following is a list of the maskers although it is possible that some may be missed as no provision was made for handing in the names and characters represented. Those who may be missed will therefore know that they will have only themselves to blame:

Miss Beale, snowball; Mrs. Bowerman, winter; Miss Bowerman, Dutch girl; Mrs. Bradshaw; Miss Bradshaw; Leonard Bradshaw.

Robert Clare, Indian; J. Corrigan, clown; W. Corrigan, Spanish cavalier; Mrs. Corrigan, Spanish.

Mrs. French, fairy; Mrs. Freeman, schoolgirl.

Mrs. Gormley, red and yellow.

H. H. Hobbs, Mexican; S. E. Hamilton, Chinese mandarin.

Miss A. Innis, Indian girl.

Mrs. G. P. Jones, Mrs. McEachern, two little maids; Miss Jackson, domino; R. James, clown.

G. P. Knowles, clown.

G. P. Lyon, sailor; Miss Nora Lyall, cowgirl.

Mrs. Murray, Chinese lady.

Mrs. McEwen, cowgirl; Mrs. McLean, night; Miss McCaffery, nun.

Mrs. Naff, Hedley Gazette; Miss Newhouse, sunflower.

Mr. Perry, sailor; Mrs. Perry, Red-ridinghood.

J. Raitor, Indian; B. Rolls, cowboy; Mrs. Rolls, stars and stripes; Mrs. Rotherham, Indian girl.

J. Smith, waiter; Mrs. Sproule, pink lady; E. Simpson, little boy blue; C. Saunders, soldier.

T. Willey; Mrs. Wirth, crimson rambler; R. R. Wood, sailor.

From Keremeos:—

Geo. Allison, commodore.

Mrs. J. A. Brown, Spanish fortune teller.

Miss Corrigan, schoolgirl.

Miss Daly, night.

Miss Easton, Indian girl; H. C. N. Etches, summer dude.

Mrs. Kirby, Miss Violet Kirby, Miss

Mildred Kirby, Miss Rita Kirby.
R. McCurdy, clown.
From Princeton:—Miss Evans, Scotch girl; Miss Evans, Spokane Indian; B. Irwin; Mr. Legge.

HOCKEY MATCH

The hockey match announced for Saturday afternoon on the local rink between Hedley and Keremeos turned out something of a disappointment in more ways than one. The exceedingly mild day and hot sun made it pleasant for spectators to watch a game in the open, but it played the mischief with the ice which became very soft and cut up badly. Some of the Keremeos players objected to play because of the ice and also of the absence of sufficient boarding on the sides. The rink too is a few feet shorter than the usual size where seven are played on a side and much time was lost by this manifestation of balkiness before anything got going. As several had lost their shifts for the match and there was too large a crowd of spectators to be sent away for nothing it was finally arranged that a scrub exhibition game be given with five on a side. When the game finally got away, with R. H. Carmichael of Keremeos refereeing, it was evident that the softness of the ice made anything like fast play an impossibility and it was also evident that on the line-up there that day Hedley had very much the better of the argument. The play was mostly on the Keremeos goal and J. A. Brown who was guarding it for Keremeos had numerous stops to make. He saved a good many times but a half dozen got through on him. Harold Townsend who played a good game for Hedley got three of them. Will Innis notched two and Les. Robinson, one. The score stood 6 to 0 for Hedley. Below is the line-up:

| HEDLEY      |          | KEREMEOS    |          |

A SERIOUS CHARGE

Young Man Sows the Wind and Has Good Crop of Whirlwind Nearly Ripe.

On Saturday last Constable Sproule gathered in a young fellow from south of the line named W. A. McDonald who was trying to live off his wits and is in a fair way to realize that he wasn't possessed of a sufficient amount of grey matter to pull off the job with even a moderate chance of success. The immediate charge upon which he was arrested was that of obtaining money under false pretense, and the manner in which he went about it was to draw cheques on the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Princeton and cash them in Hedley with whoever he could persuade to give him the money on them. On Friday he drew one for thirty dollars in favor of Frank Dollemore and managed to get the money from Frank for it. Again on Saturday morning he tried a like game with A. Winkler of the Grand Union but before giving him the money Winkler hiked up to the bank and got the manager here to wire up to Princeton when it was found he hadn't a bean to his credit there. By this time the Dollemore cheque was in the mails addressed to Princeton, and as it was clear that McDonald intended taking the afternoon train for Oroville he was gathered in without further delay. On Monday evening he was brought up for remand pending the return of the cheques from Princeton and a few minutes after he had been given a remand for three days word came from Coalmont that he had given a cheque to Louis Marcotte who had tried to cash it in Princeton and was given the same information from the Bank as Dollemore.

As the convenience of the necessary witnesses will be best served by having the hearing in Princeton instead of in Hedley the constable decided to take him there.

CARD OF THANKS

The undersigned begs to thank the people of Hedley for kindness shown in her recent bereavement in the death of her father.

MATTHE STOTT.

THE LATE JAMES STOTT

General regret was felt when it became known on Friday afternoon that James Stott had died suddenly at his residence. Just when the event occurred is not known but it is not likely that many minutes had elapsed before he was found by Miss Eva Campbell who had occasion to go to the house and found him lying on the floor beside an overturned coal scuttle as if he had been suddenly seized with heart failure or paralysis when in the act of putting coal in the stove. Dr. McEwen was summoned but there was nothing to be done and as coroner he saw no occasion to hold any inquest. The old gentleman had been seen several times during the forenoon attending to work about the house and was on his roof shovelling off the snow which had begun to soften about the noon hour. Deceased was 78 years of age and had lived in Hedley since 1903. He came to the province from Northumberland county and in his early days had lived in Cobourg, Ontario, which was most likely his birthplace. He was a wheelwright or carriage-maker by trade, a calling which had also been followed by his father. Just when he came to the province is not exactly known but it was most likely in the very early seventies if not in the late sixties, for he was running a large carriage shop in Yale in 1874, where he had five forges constantly at work doing repairs for the freighters and stages on the Cariboo road and had run a similar business in Lillooet before that time. At one time he had seen worth considerable money but some unfortunate investments later on in placer mining on Siwash Creek and Granite Creek caused heavy losses, and the old gentleman was not the one to repine and during the ten years he lived at Hedley he has been a most industrious and capable workman. For several years past he has done nearly all the painting and paper-hanging in Hedley and was smart and active in spite of his years and always cheerful. If he had any troubles or regrets he kept them to himself for he was never the one to pour complaints into the ears of others. A life of helplessness would have been a severe trial to him and he was mercifully spared it in the sudden manner of his taking off. A few years ago there were slight premonitory symptoms of paralysis when he was threatened with loss of the use of an arm, but the difficulty passed in a few weeks. The circumstance, however, leads to the belief that his death was due to a return of the malady in graver form. He leaves to mourn his loss one daughter, Mattie, in Hedley his wife having predeceased him about thirteen years ago. The funeral on Sunday was largely attended which bore evidence of the general high esteem in which deceased was held.

GRANDPA PROTESTS

The following paragraph in last week's Oroville Gazette by Frank M. Dallam, sr., shows that the old folks can always be counted on to stand up for their rights. It reads: "The Woonatchee World of Thursday last states that Frank M. Dallam, jr., would leave Olympia in a few days to join his father in the publication of the Oroville Gazette, and that Mrs. Dallam and baby had gone to Albany, Oregon, to visit with her parents for a few weeks before going to Oroville. Now that item rings true enough with the exception of the 'baby.' If there is a baby in the family then the boy has been playing it low down on the old man, for this is the first intimation we have had that there is any such adjunct to the family. It is just possible that the young folks have held back this information in order to work a surprise on the governor, or fearing that the grandfather might spoil the kid have refrained from mentioning the incident for the moral well being of the heir, or heiress, as the case may be. Even then it would be taking an unfair advantage of this end of the parent stem by carrying the hootsey-tootsey off to the female side of the house and letting the other grandparents get the first whack at doing the spoiling. We will look into this when the male party to the frame up reaches Oroville, and file a protest."

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE

Business Rather Than Talk is Feature of the Session

IMPORTANT BILLS INTRODUCED

Debate on Address Brought Out Some Important Features—New Members Shewing Up Favorably—Doukhobour Commissioner's Report Roughly Handled.

The debate on the address was completed in almost record time but nevertheless many important matters were dealt with in it that will prove helpful in the legislation which is to follow. To have it out of the way and the House ready for the regular business of the session so early on, is a distinct advantage.

During the debate on the address the member for Nelson, who is a new man, gave the House some new light on the Doukhobours and showed wherein the commissioner had failed to obtain valuable information which the House should have had as the result of so important an inquiry.

The Attorney-General's bill to provide a provincial audit on the lines of the Dominion audit has shown that the administration is not satisfied with anything short of a genuine independent audit and the officer whom they appoint will be vested with powers which will place him beyond the influence and control of the ministry.

The Premier's speech on the address and particularly his sentiments on the naval question was an apt contribution as well as his outline of some of the more important legislation which would engage the attention of the present parliament.

The announcement that the estimates would shortly be brought down was evidence that the business of the session would be prosecuted with despatch to the close.

HOSPITAL MEETING

Annual General Meeting of the Hedley Hospital Association—Gratifying Statement by Auditor.

The postponed annual general meeting of the Hedley Hospital Association was held in French's store on Tuesday evening January 28th. The attendance was not nearly as large as could be desired but there was no inclination to lose further time.

G. P. Jones was elected chairman of the meeting and F. H. French secretary.

The minutes of last annual meeting were read and confirmed, after which the Treasurer presented the annual financial statement showing the finances of the hospital to be in a very satisfactory condition compared with some former years. The accounts for the year showed careful financing on the part of the hospital staff which resulted in a considerable saving in the expense in different directions and notably that of the mess. This feature was pointed out by the chairman who expressed the gratification of the Board to know that the hospital staff were working with them and endeavoring to aid the Board in making ends meet. The year had witnessed a reduction in various items of expense and all this contributed materially in enabling them to make the favorable showing which the annual statement presented.

The directors elected for the year were—G. P. Jones, F. H. French, R. S. Collin, H. D. Barnes, Thos. Wileg, G. H. Sproule and H. G. Freeman, and the meeting re-elected S. L. Smith auditor. The statement will appear next issue.

THE GOOSE AND THE GANDER.

It is a funny thing that anything imperialistic in its tendency that may originate in Canada, unless it may happen by the merest chance to have had its origin with a Liberal, is sure to meet the malignant opposition of many Liberals in the Canadian House of Commons. The tendency to sneer at and belittle all things British has become as much a fixed habit with a lot of them that they do not seem to be able to help it. So deep-rooted does the sentiment appear to be that on the very slightest provocation it is sure to break out, and where providence neglects to supply the provocation it will break out anyway. An instance of this was seen in the House of Commons the other day when Foster's bill to give effect to the West Indies trade agreement was up for its second reading. A. K. McLean of Nova Scotia, a prominent member on the opposition benches and an erst-while cabinet minister in the Nova Scotia provincial legislature, left no reason to doubt his antipathy to Englishmen in his attack on the Unionist party in Great Britain. Until Hansard comes to hand to reveal the connection in which he was led to make his attack, the public will continue to be mystified, for there was nothing in the meagre press reports of the occurrence to give any clue by way of justification. He denied the Unionists any right to interest themselves in Canadian affairs or to express any opinions thereon and "travelling Englishmen" who dared to speak of Canada were to beware henceforth of his wrath. It would be interesting indeed to know wherein the Unionists offended. And it would be likewise interesting to know why he had no word of condemnation of the action of Premier Asquith in espousing the cause of reciprocity with the United States to help Laurier when that question was an issue before the Canadian electors. In view of what Taft has revealed concerning that question since the Canadian electorate have spoken, it is now up to Asquith to give some explanation of his interference on that question, and if the Unionists in Great Britain were of the same kind of petty politician as A. K. McLean they would have made inquiry ere this in a form that would compel Mr. Asquith to acknowledge his error and express his regret for having spoken as he did. As for Mr. McLean, before he has any further rebuke for the Unionists along the lines he indicated he should remember Sir John Macdonald's paraphrase of the old proverb which reads: "What is sauce for one gender of a certain animal should be sauce for another gender of of the same animal." and try to discipline his own allies across the water.

A few weeks ago the Liberals of Great Britain were in raptures over the division in the Unionist ranks caused by a difference of opinion on food tax. Now they have troubles of their own and Lord Grey's amendment to the Franchise Act is proving as effective in carrying dismay into the ranks of the government. When one member of a cabinet undertakes to give his colleagues a dressing down on the floor of the House things are getting a bit serious and you have all the elements present for a good abled family row.

HOW TO NAME AND SPELL THEM

Geographic Board of Canada Gives Some Recent Rulings

The Canada Gazette of a recent date makes alteration in the naming and spelling of some geographical names in Canada and following are a few of them that affect British Columbia. There are a few more that should engage their attention, as the spelling now seems to be a sort of go-as-you-please and the next time the Board deliberate in a similar manner they should settle the spelling of Chopna, on the boundary line between here and Nighthawk, and also tell us whether we should write the name of the Great Northern station on Rock Mountain as Brideville or Bridesville. Then when they are at it the name Anarchist to another locality in that part of the district should be forever officially buried although we are not aware that it ever did have official recognition, as the postoffice is named Sidley and the Farmer's Institute are known as the Glenside Farmers' Institute.

The rulings which we publish are from the recent list:

- Awilgate—Indian village and peak, east of Hazelton, Cassiar district, B.C. (Not Ahwilgate.)
- Chilliwak—Lake and river, near Int. boundary, Yale district, B.C. (Not Chilliwack, Chilliwack, Chillukweyuk, nor Chiloweyuck.)

MONETARY TIMES "ANNUAL REVIEW."

Hundreds of papers in Canada have, during the present month, issued annual reviews. Most of them satisfied themselves with the general acceptance of the meaning of an annual review, which is that of giving a recapitulation of the work of the past year in their respective communities, but the Monetary Times set itself a much more ambitious task. The ordinary annual review is a matter of a few hours' reading, but the number turned out by the Monetary Times is a text-book or rather it is a combination of text-books for a year's study. Thus it is an annual review in every sense of the term to the man who will attempt to attend to his business and undertake to thoroughly digest it. If you have not seen it, by all means get a copy.

THE MOTTO

OF THE
Mutual Life of Canada

"The Largest Amount of Assurance for the Least Possible Outlay."
 The reasons why they can do this are:—

1. The Expense Rate of this company is unusually low—considerably lower than many other Canadian Companies.
2. Its Death Rate is remarkably favorable—being only about one-half of the amount "expected" and provided for, showing careful selection of lives.
3. Its High-Class Investments have been such that in the 41 years during which the Company has been doing business, not one dollar received from its Policy-holders has been lost out of the millions invested for their security.

These conditions produce large profits, and large profits mean good results to Policy-holders. A policy in this Company pays.

The ice harvest is now fairly on and several of the ice houses have already been filled with a tolerably good brand of the cool stuff.

Good weather at certain seasons of the year plays us much havoc with traffic as bad weather. One would have thought that with the fine weather prevailing at the end of last week there would have been no hindrance to public traffic, but the train which reached here Monday carried no daily papers from either the coast nor from Nelson. Evidently some snowslides or mudslides had resulted from the softening of the snow on Saturday. No coast dailies were to hand on Monday in consequence.

Nick Pickard had a scrap with a golden eagle on Saturday and for a while the honors were even. The bird was caught in a trap and when taken in charge by Nick was quite peaceable. He was brought into town and when Nick was showing up his good points in the butcher shop the beast turned on him, fastening one talon in his hand and another in his side and struck at his face with its beak. At that time J. Maierhofer began to take a hand and clubbed him into submission. The brute was afterwards despatched.

Skaters and on-lookers continue to throng the rink every evening and the ice is being taken advantage of by all who can procure a pair of skates and have mastered the gliding art.

the past thirty years, having been appointed provincial constable for this district in 1890. For a number of years he resided in Grand Forks, but upon the opening up of Prince Rupert and Stewart the late Mr. Dinsmore was placed in charge of police work in these sections, afterward returning to the Boundary and taking up his residence in Greenwood. He is survived by his widow.

The funeral was held from the Odd Fellows' Hall, Grand Forks, on Jan. 24th, the order in which he was an ardent worker having charge of the arrangements.

The Dominion is divided into five zones consisting of the Provinces of Quebec, Ontario, British Columbia and the Prairie Provinces. Local zones are also established. Rates have not been finally decided upon, but will probably be similar to that established in the United States."

A CORRECTION

Mr. Editor.—Will you kindly permit me to call attention to an item which appeared in the Keremeos page of the Gazette of Jan. 9th in reference to the essay contest. The article is so misleading that some reference to it was thought necessary lest a wrong impression be conveyed. Unfortunately the judges were unable to meet to discuss the relative merits of the essays, so the "much discussion" of which the writer speaks never took place. Neither did the judge whom he berates "stick out that the prize in his idea should have gone to so and so."

The essays were for a purpose—to get the members of the Sunday school to study the tithing system; and, as pastor of the church, it was my duty to criticise those essays, especially the one read in public. The papers were good and showed a great amount of study, but their conclusions were not in accord with the best New Testament criticism. I gave my idea of the tithing system, and did it without favor or ill-will towards any one.

The article would also leave the impression that the work of the other two judges was not appreciated. Their work was highly appreciated; and allow me this opportunity of extending to them the thanks of the Sunday School.

G. T. MCKENZIE.

New Federal Law Compels Vessels to Have More Wireless Operators

Many good positions are open to young men and women in the field of "Wireless" and of commercial telegraph service. The passage of the new federal law, effective Oct 1, compelling all sea-going vessels to be equipped with wireless instruments and manned by two competent operators, has created a wide demand for operators in the marine wireless service. Federal law now requires railways to use more operators than ever before. The Morse Telegraph company, of Seattle and Portland, works in close connection with wireless and commercial officials, and can place graduates in good positions. Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

KEREMEOS, the Centre of Lower Similkameen---Famed for Fruit Growing

Town and Lower Valley.

Robert McCurdy returned the early part of last week after spending a few weeks' holiday. He took in Kelowna, Vernon, Chilliwak and Vancouver.

H. A. Turner, road superintendent, was in town Sunday, driving over with Mr. Welby from Penticton.

Sheriff Wood of Kamloops was visiting the district over last week end.

Keremeos lost their first hockey match, but believe they will win their second.

Mrs. Miss Rita and Mildred Kirby, R. J. McCurdy, J. D. Smith and H. Etches sleighed over to Hedley to attend the masquerade, returning after the ball was over. By the way the snow was on the road it didn't look as if anybody had driven east from Hedley for a couple of weeks. One foot of snow on Sawmill flat, and three hundred feet through a three foot drift made the trip most interesting. But at any rate they would go through a mile of drift to be at a dance that was so enjoyable.

Mr. and Mrs. Tingley sleighed to Hedley last Saturday to attend the hockey game. They managed to get back before the Chinook struck the district proper.

W. H. Stockwell of Mulkeytown, Ill., spent last Friday looking over the district.

H. Blaisdell of Coalmont was rounding up some cattle last week to ship up to the coal town.

The revised conditions and rates for cable letters, week-end letters and deferred cable messages by the Western Union Telegraph Co. which came into effect Jan. 1, 1913, means the saving of many dollars for those who wish to keep in touch with the old land.

The "At Home" given by the ladies of the Lower Similkameen was a decided success. A very good programme was provided. Musical recitals and games occupied most of the evening. The collection taken amounted to sixteen dollars. There were sixty-one people present of which thirty-seven came from Keremeos.

The K.K.K. met last Thursday, but owing to the absence of the debaters, that part of the programme could not take place, so each member was called upon to relate any travelling experiences they had. A very pleasant evening was spent, about thirty being present.

Mrs. Keeler last Monday gave a nice little party in honor of Miss Bruce, who will leave shortly for the old country. Dancing occupied most of the evening. Refreshments were kindly served by the hostess at eleven o'clock.

Owing to a small mechanical breakdown the Tweddle auto has had to lay off for a few days. As soon as the necessary part arrives the service will be continued.

Harry Parker of Fairview spent the week end here after taking in the dance at Hedley.

Dance! Don't forget next Friday in the Town Hall, Keremeos, B.C. This will be the fourth of the winter series of dances given by the assembly and every effort will be made to have it as great a success as the first or greater. We hope to see many of our Hedley friends turn out. Fairview will be well represented and we hope our Princeton friends will do their best to be with us. This Friday, Jan. 31st.

As the Editor has the notes of the masquerade ball in hand we can add on behalf of all who attended from this town, that each and every one had a most delightful time.

The Hedley hockey team will be down to meet the local team on Friday this week. Game to start at 3 o'clock.

L. D. Stinson of Spokane was a visitor to town last Friday.

Don't forget the hockey match on Friday.

Apples from 75 cent. a box, latest market report.

The married men defeated the single men in a hockey game last Monday.

F. Demuth of Grand Forks, superintendent Kettle Valley Railway, passed through on Friday on his way to Penticton and construction points.

Cutters and sleighs have been put away and the wheels are hitting the grit once again.

J. J. Armstrong returned from a somewhat extended visit to the coast where he went to attend the meeting of the Fruit Growers' Association in which he has always taken a keen interest and is one of the executive for the district. The proceedings were of special interest on this occasion. Not so much attention was paid this time to topics dealing with growing as with marketing the crop and handling the output generally. Last year most of the loss was due to the breakdown of the handling end of the enterprise and it is hoped the organization is now on a fair way to be remedied.

A. C. Kennedy was in this week and reports that he has been successful in recovering six of the seven head of horses which he recently lost. Moral is when you lose anything do as Mr. Kennedy did and take the orthodox way of letting the public know your loss and somebody will send you word.

A POSER FOR GAME WARDEN

Game Warden Schissler is Up Against a Hard One--Will He Cinch Jim? If Not, Why Not?

A funny occurrence took place on Monday evening as the G.N.R. train was returning from Coalmont which will tend to place the district game warden in a difficult position. When nearing Roany springs between Coalmont and Princeton the train ran into a bunch of four deer on the track and the engine struck one of them, killing it. The train was stopped and the killed deer was thrown on the tender and taken along. Now this happens to be the close season when it is unlawful "to catch, kill, destroy, hunt for, pursue, or have in his possession any of the animals or birds mentioned in Schedule B to the Game Act." The game warden has cinched others, what is he going to do with Jim Hill? While it is very true that the Great Northern has bought its right of way through the province so far as this piece of ground is concerned and has the right to run their trains over it, no matter who or what may be standing in the way, there is nevertheless no exception made in the Game Act where the ownership of ground cuts any figure to exempt from the law except in the case of deer destroying a farmer's crop and the Great Northern had no crop in this instance. If the deer had been left on the side of the track where it was found when killed the case would have been somewhat easier for the game warden, but there is the "having in possession" to be got over and altogether the case is an interesting one of great possibilities.

The Effect Produced

BY NEATLY PRINTED STATIONERY—bearing imprint of the home office—is a valuable aid to the local business man, for it shows that he is public-spirited and loyal to his town. Having this, he can consistently appeal to the community in which he resides to give him their trade.

The Gazette Job Department

Is the best equipped of any office in the district, outside of Vernon and the larger offices in the Boundary

Latest Type Faces, High Grade Paper and Artistic Arrangement

Are the three essentials to good work:

LETTER HEADS BUSINESS CARDS
NOTE HEADS BILLS OF FARE
BILL HEADS COMMERCIAL FORMS
