PAT WELCH GETS IT

Has Contract of Building Canadian Northern Through Fraser River Canyon-A $16,000,000 Job

The Spokane firm of P. Welch & Co. was awarded yesterday, at Toronto, the contract for the construction of approximately 165 miles of the Canadian Northern railroad at a price aggregating $16,000,000.

As this is the biggest piece of railroad construction for which tenders have been asked recently every prominent firm of railroad contractors in both the United States and Canada submitted bids on it.

Western contractors who went over the section of the road for which the contract has just been let pronounced it the heaviest work they had ever seen on the Pacific coast. The rock cuts in many instances are in solid granite of the hardest kind, and there will be a number of suspension bridges of unusual height.

ENTAILS HEAVY WORK

The contract awarded to P. Welch & Co. is for that portion of the Canadian Northern railroad between Hope, B. C., on the Fraser river, and a point beyond the junction of the Thompson river, covering the entire Fraser river canyon. People who have traveled over the Canadian Pacific railroad from Yale westward, through the same canyon but on the opposite side of the river, will have a fair idea of the character of work which the construction of this road will require.

WOODMEN ORGANIZE

A local camp of the Modern Woodmen of America was organized in Hedley on Thursday night last by organizer Anthony. The local camp starts off with twentyone benefit members and three social members. The former carry the insurance furnished by the society and the latter are attached for the fraternal feature of it alone.

The officers elected for the ensuing term were:

G. McEachern, Counsel
W. Lonsdale, Adviser
H. F. Jones, Banker
S. E. Hamilton, Clerk
W. W. Corrigan, Escort
J. W. Wirth, Watchman
R. J. Edmond, Sentry
M. D. McEwen, Doctor
E. Simpson, Past Counsel
Board of Management,—E. E. Burr, R. J. Corrigan and John Smith.

The local camp will meet in Fraternity hall on the first and third Thursdays of each month.

T. MAYNE DALY DIES SUDDENLY

Was One of Winnipeg's Leading Citizens and an Ex-Dominion Cabinet Minister

Citizens of Winnipeg are mourning the death of Hon. Thomas Mayne Daly, police magistrate of the city and a former Dominion cabinet Minister. His death was caused by hemorhage of the liver after only about one day's illness. Both officially and socially he was one of Winnipeg's foremost men, and at all times identified with everything which made for the upbuilding of the city.

LEADER BORDEN'S TOUR

Hon. R. L. Borden, the leader of the opposition, is meeting with a cordial reception on his tour of the prairie provinces accompanied by several of his lieutenants from the east. The meetings in Winnipeg, Brandon and elsewhere have been most successful and attended with a degree of enthusiasm quite unexpected in view of the belief that the west was more strongly in favor of reciprocity than any other part of the Dominion. The greatest surprise of all was the effect which the meeting with the Graingrowers Association and the plain answer given them by the Conservative leader, seems to have produced. Borden did not mince words with them but told them straight that they need not look to him for any support to reciprocity as he was strongly opposed to it. Strange to say, the graingrowers themselves are prepared to give him credit for the manliness and candor he displayed. The Graingrowers Guide even went so far as to admit that they preferred his straightforward pronouncement on every question submitted to him to that of Sir Wilfrid and his flowery evasions.

SELLS HIS INTEREST

M. K. Rodgers reported to Have Disposed of His Fifth Interest in the Hidden Creek to Granby

The Spokane Spokesman-Review gives out the following interview with Jay P. Graves which will be of interest to Gazette readers:

"We not only have closed up our deal with the Hodgen Brothers of Butte and New York for the 80 per cent of the capital stock of the Hidden Creek Mining Co., which we had under bond from them, but we also have arranged to purchase the remaining 20 per cent of the stock from Mr. Rodgers, who originally interested them in the property", said J. P. Graves, vice-president of the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting and Power Co. at his office in the Terminal building yesterday shortly after his arrival from New York.

"This latter purchase will give the Granby Co. complete possession of the entire assets of the Hidden Creek Co., so we propose to disincorporate the latter and turn all of its property over to the Granby company as soon as possible."

Acqusition of this mine will mean considerable for Granby Co. for it will add from 6,000,000 to 12,000,000 tons of ore averaging 2% copper, running as high as 15% in copper, and gold and silver values as high as 60 cents a ton.

WORDS, WORDS, WORDS

Laurier Says One Thing But Taft Shows That He Means and Has Agreed to do Quite Another

News-Advertiser

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has once more told a British audience that the Canadian policy of British preference "has been hoisted to the top of the mast and there it will stay." In the same speech the Premier stated that whatever privileges were granted to other countries, meaning the Unites States, "would be given equally to England."

This is an illustration of fine words that do not mean anything. The British preference is an advantage over foreign countries. If the British preference were hoisted at the masthead it would mean that privileges given to the United States would not be given equally to England.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is professing one thing and practicing another. But it is not every day that he professes two contradictory things in the same speech. Where equal terms are given to the United States and England, the Mother country has no preference. Reciprocity, so far as it goes, destroys the British preference. It is a policy contrary to closer commercial relations with Great Britain.

President Taft understands it so and makes this the chief argument in its favor. His parting of the ways speech describes the situation as completely as Sir Wilfrid's top of the mast statement escapes it.

HONORING A PIONEER

The reports in the Vernon News and Enderby press of the banquet given in Enderby to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fortune and Mrs. Schubert, mother of J. A. Schubert, make interesting reading especially to the earlier residents of the Okanagan who had the pleasure of the acquaintance of the pioneers thus honored.

The banquet idea was originated by Rev. Duncan Campbell, of Enderby and the time chosen was the 15th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fortune's arrival in the Okanagan where they were the first to engage in farming and market their produce outside the valley. It was in 1862 that these pioneers of what is known as "The Overland Party", about 140 in number, made their way across the plains and through the mountains, but it was not until four years later that Mr. and Mrs. Fortune took up their homestead at Enderby and a few years later they were followed by Mr. and Mrs. Schubert.

The banquet was attended by the leading men of the Okanagan and Hon. Price Ellison, Minister of Finance, came up from Victoria to attend. The News aptly put it in saying that the Okanagan was honoring itself in honoring these pioneers.

BEGINNING TO SUSPECT

Vancouver Awakening to Possibility of Big Mine Salting Fake in Steamboat

The directors of the Steamboat Gold Mines, Limited, that were boosted so loudly in Vancouver appear to have at last awakened to the fact that they have been too credulous. The Nelson News in a despatch from the coast says:

"For the past two months rumors have been current that there is something amiss with the property. Questions began to be asked as to the whereabouts of W. A. Stevens and Ian Greenwalt, two men who brought the alleged rich discoveries at Steamboat to the attention of the western mining world and Vancouver investors. Since March nothing has been heard of them, although both left Vancouver after having given the officers of the company plausible reasons for their departure. Their continued absence gave rise to much gossip and it was reported that the property had been scientifically salted.

It is rumored at Steamboat, at Hope and on the streets of Vancouver that the salting was most elaborately done at a cost of between $500 and $1000. So far as known in Vancouver, both Stevens and Greenwalt have clean records. So far as the officers of the company are aware Stevens did not derive any pecuniary benefit from the sale of the property at Steamboat. Something over $20,000 was paid to Greenwalt by a Vancouver syndicate whose members are now shareholders of the company. What he did with the money which was paid before the arrival of the ore from Steamboat which gave the famous rich assays, is unknown."

THE "WITNESS" PROTESTS

That Staunch Old Paper Will Not Indorse Laurier's Separatist Ideas.

Like a shaft of light across a darkening sky comes the flash of insight with which The Montreal Witness discerns the true omen of what it calls Sir Wilfrid Laurier's "new declaration of separation and a refusal to share with our fellow subjects in Great Britain the blessings which Great Britain at their expense has so largely conferred upon us," at a "crucial moment" of the Imperial Conference: As the Witness says; "We must either move towards the Empire or away from it. For Canada any weakening of the British tie means dependence in another direction."

It has been given to the one unreserved free trade daily newspaper in Canada to discover that something infinitely greater than free trade is being put to the test. The Mother country offered to consult the dominions regarding the broad, vital courses of foreign policy. The Witness fairly states what happened: "Instead of hailing this forward step, Sir Wilfrid repudiated it."

What is that but moving away from the Empire? Repudiation is a strong, an ominous, even an ugly word. In the mouth of this steadfast Liberal and free trade paper it is peculiarly significant. Surely we have reached a condition that may well upset some of our theories, and impose upon the most reluctant the imperative duty of protest. If Sir Wilfrid truly reflects the temper of Canada, we should know it. If he does not, there is a tenfold stronger reason for proving, beyond a peradventure in Canada, in Britain and wherever the King's writ runs, that he misinterprets the signs of the times, and that the statesmanship we desire to speak for us in London is not of the kind that chiefly makes excuse.

Unhappily, it is seldom possible for objection to be raised against the deliberate action of a Premier of Canada without the charge of political partisanship being made against the objection. But Sir Wilfrid's repudiation of the Imperial Government's offer will hit many thousands of Canadians in a place that is far removed from the seat of partisanship in Dominion politics.

TOO MUCH WARD POLITICS

Judging from the comments of British and Australian papers Sir Wilfrid Laurier has managed to scandalize himself and Canada throughout the empire by his attitude of opposition to and aloofness from all propositions which looked to cementing the ties of Empire. One of the Australian papers refers to Sir Wilfrid as Sir Wontfrid. One redeeming feature of the situation from which Canada can take a little comfort, however, is that most of these papers refuse to believe that Sir Wilfrid represents Canadian sentiment in the grounds he has taken. An amusing feature of the situation in this country is that a few of the the more servile Liberal papers which will attempt to discuss the Laurier attitude at all, are indignant at any imputation of questionable attachment on Sir Wilfrid's part to the cause of imperial unity and they cite the part played by Canada in the Boer war as their greatest argument. For their own good they would much better have kept that part of it in the background for the time is not so long ago that people should have time to forget the circumstances attending that unfortunate incident. The first colonial contingent to offer for service in that war was an Australian cavalry regiment then visiting England and when popular sentiment in Canada clamored for the sending of Canadian troops Premier Laurier went on record officially as saying that it could not be done for the constitution would not permit it. (An old fyle of the Toronto Globe proves this.) But Ontario wouldn't stand for that ruling and a monster indignation meeting in Massey Hall, Toronto, showed Laurier the advisability of backing down from an untenable position. Under those circumstances it is a bit difficult to base a very strong claim for much enthusiasm in the way of Imperial unity. The secret of the whole thing is that when talking in England Sir Wilfrid unfortunately for this country made it the opportunity to do a little electioneering in Quebec against Bourassa. In sending him to Britain on so important a mission as that of representing Canada at the Imperial Conference and the Coronation, Canadians had a right to expect that he would try to sink the ward politician in the statesman for a little while at least, and try to forget the little Quebec squabbles with the Nationalists.

The general tenor of the comment of the American Press on the coronation and its sneers at Royalty and everything appertaining thereto should be noted carefully by Canadians and seriously considered by them in the light of what they are to expect should Laurier succeed in deluding Canadians into bartering away their independence through a blind step like reciprocity. That ever-present piece of balderdash with which Yankee kiddies are stuffed about a clear road for them to the presidency and the shut gate to the throne was made the subject of a nauseating cartoon in the Spokane Spokesman-Review of the 22nd. When we consider some of the individuals who have found their way to the whitehouse and contrast their language and actions with those of the British nobility there is cause for thankfulness that there is such a thing as breeding in the human animal as well as in the shorthorn or Jersey. Even the best minds in the United States to-day protest against the bald-headed fallacy contained in the declaration of independence that "all men are born free and equal", and yet that is the kind of stuff the youth of the United States are taught to memorize and repeat like parrots in the schools. It is quite true there are sometimes degenerates and blackguards among nobility; atavisms are known in all types of animal life. The well-bred man whether he be noble or peasant is never so ignorant as not to know when he is insulting other people of finer sensibilities and the lack of that breeding which always recognizes the opinions and aims of others, can never be glozed over by the possession of either wealth or power. If the press of the United States (and it is fair to assume that they represent the popular notion over there) cannot refrain from exhibiting their hatred and scorn for some of our treasured institutions while so momentous a movement as that involved in the question of reciprocity is in process of incubation and they are trying to hoodwink us into the belief that they are inspired by nothing but love and good feeling for us, what will they not do or say when they have us roped in?

Town and District.

T. C. Brooke, of Princeton, was in town on Monday.

The Orangemen of the Similkameen are to celebrate in Hedley on the 12th of July.

Two ballast trains are working on the Kettle Valley between Midway and Rock Creek.

Mrs. W. A. McLean came in on Tuesday from Kelowna and will remain for a few days.

Billy Richter and Val Haynes took a drove of 125 head of cattle over to P. Burns & Co. in the Boundary.

Several nice strings of fish have been caught in the river during the past week. The water is still a bit high but has become quite clear.

Mrs. G. P. Jones started yesterday on a trip to Michigan to visit brothers and sisters whom she had not seen for fifteen years. She was accompanied by her children, Miss Avonia and Master Gomer.

Percy French, brother of our townsman F. H. French who graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, has been appointed by the provincial government as inspector of orchards for the Kootenay district.

For the service on Sunday evening the church was decorated with flowers and bunting to mark the coronation event, and Rev. A. H. Cameron's sermon had special reference to it. The congregation, also was larger than usual.

There was a good turnout of children and their parents at the Sunday School picnic on Saturday last which took place on the baseball grounds. It was to have been held on Friday but the rain prevented. Thsre was a programme of races for the kiddies.

The fragrance of the wild roses and syringas is most marked at present all over the town. The whole outdoors seems to have put on its most pleasing garb and rarely has such profusion of bloom and fragrance delighted the senses of sight and smell as we have this summer.

Those who went down from Hedley to hear the concert given by Mrs. J. A. Brown in Keremeos on the evening of Coronation Day report the event a great success in every way. There was not only a good house but a most appreciative audience. The proceeds were donoted towards furnishing the church.

Keep your eye on all the fir trees, big and small, and don't let those caterpillars get the start they did last summer. Examine the trees and buildings in the vicinity for the chrysalis and when discovered go for it with a lighted match or hot poker; but if they are once hatched out and make their appearance on the trees there is nothing left but spraying while one is to be found.

Austin Hoy, representative of the Sullivan Machine Co. made a trip up the valley last week and would have stayed over in Hedley a day and had a round or two of the links but for the Oroville layover which would have meant the spending of three days instead of the one. Mr. Hoy laid out the present links during a visit to Hedley two years ago and continues to take an active interest in the game here.

The Gazette was in error last week in stating that there was to be no celebration of Dominion Day in Princeton this year. The item was inserted in good faith on the authority of a party who had just come from Princeton and the nearness of the date with no announcement seemed to bear out the statement. It now transpires that there will be games as formerly with the exception of the horse racing which has been dispensed with for this year.

A peripatetic gentleman named Greenwood who claimed to be walking on a $5000 wager was in Hedley last week. He started from Vancouver, Wash; was going to walk eastward across the continent to the Atlantic coast; hoof it over the British Isles; walk on top of Europe and then some more. How they proposed to keep tab on him to show that he was doing all these stunts he did not explain. Part of the wager was that he was to do his stunts in two and a half years and make money enough by the way to pay all his travelling expenses. His occupation was literary, supplemented with painting and paper-hanging, and any odd jobs in these lines he was prepared to tackle. His literary work was in the line of journalism and writing short stories for some magazines, while he claimed to be gathering material for more pretentious literary work when the stunt was through.

Rev. J. Williams, of Princeton, will hold his monthly services next Sunday, July 2nd in Fraternity Hall, Hedley, as follows—11 a. m.: matins, holy communion and sermon; 8 p.m.: evensong and sermon. Subject: "The one lost sheep." All are cordially invited.

Fred Kurtz who was in Hedley about five years ago and was well known in McKinney where he was formerly mine foreman on both the Sailor and Waterloo returned to Hedley on Thursday last and is spending a few days in this vicinity. For the past few years he has been in the camps of northern Ontario wooing the goddess Fortune with gratifying success for in Porcupine he picked up some property from which he has realized a tidy competence. In fact he was one of the first to find gold in paying quanties in that camp and it is only fitting that he should reap the benefit of his discoveries. Like many other prospectors in the camps of northern Ontario he had a lot of roughing to do and plenty of hard work.

Mr. T. H. Collins, of Calumet, Mich. a large stockholder in the Hedley Gold Mining Co. arrived in Hedley on Thursday last for a look over the mine and works. In company with Mr. G. P. Jones, general superintendent, he was shown over the works in Hedley and through the underground workings of the Nickel Plate and other properties of the Hedley Gold Mining Co. From the abundant fund of good humor he displayed it is safe to assume that he was particularly well satisfied with his investment and seemed to enjoy his stay. Like President I. L. Merrill he is an enthusiastic golfer and on Saturday afternoon had a couple of rounds of the links, showing excellent form in the handling of both his wooden clubs and his irons. Unfortunately the links after the recent heavy rains were not in good shape, the greens being in very indifferent order and the rank growth of vegetation in their proximity making the approach shots a bit trying. Now that he knows the trail to the camp and has enjoyed the outing so well it is quite probable he will find his way back again before long, when it is hoped the links will be in better shape to give him a good game.

TOO MUCH WARD POLITICS

Judging from the comments of British and Australian papers Sir Wilfrid Laurier has managed to scandalize himself and Canada throughout the empire by his attitude of opposition to and aloofness from all propositions which looked to cementing the ties of Empire. One of the Australian papers refers to Sir Wilfrid as Sir Wontfrid. One redeeming feature of the situation from which Canada can take a little comfort, however, is that most of these papers refuse to believe that Sir Wilfrid represents Canadian sentiment in the grounds he has taken. An amusing feature of the situation in this country is that a few of the the more servile Liberal papers which will attempt to discuss the Laurier attitude at all, are indignant at any imputation of questionable attachment on Sir Wilfrid's part to the cause of imperial unity and they cite the part played by Canada in the Boer war as their greatest argument. For their own good they would much better have kept that part of it in the background for the time is not so long ago that people should have time to forget the circumstances attending that unfortunate incident. The first colonial contingent to offer for service in that war was an Australian cavalry regiment then visiting England and when popular sentiment in Canada clamored for the sending of Canadian troops Premier Laurier went on record officially as saying that it could not be done for the constitution would not permit it. (An old fyle of the Toronto Globe proves this.) But Ontario wouldn't stand for that ruling and a monster indignation meeting in Massey Hall, Toronto, showed Laurier the advisability of backing down from an untenable position. Under those circumstances it is a bit difficult to base a very strong claim for much enthusiasm in the way of Imperial unity. The secret of the whole thing is that when talking in England Sir Wilfrid unfortunately for this country made it the opportunity to do a little electioneering in Quebec against Bourassa. In sending him to Britain on so important a mission as that of representing Canada at the Imperial Conference and the Coronation, Canadians had a right to expect that he would try to sink the ward politician in the statesman for a little while at least, and try to forget the little Quebec squabbles with the Nationalists.

The general tenor of the comment of the American Press on the coronation and its sneers at Royalty and everything appertaining thereto should be noted carefully by Canadians and seriously considered by them in the light of what they are to expect should Laurier succeed in deluding Canadians into bartering away their independence through a blind step like reciprocity. That ever-present piece of balderdash with which Yankee kiddies are stuffed about a clear road for them to the presidency and the shut gate to the throne was made the subject of a nauseating cartoon in the Spokane Spokesman-Review of the 22nd. When we consider some of the individuals who have found their way to the whitehouse and contrast their language and actions with those of the British nobility there is cause for thankfulness that there is such a thing as breeding in the human animal as well as in the shorthorn or Jersey. Even the best minds in the United States to-day protest against the baldheaded fallacy contained in the declaration of independence that "all men are born free and equal", and yet that is the kind of stuff the youth of the United States are taught to memorize and repeat like parrots in the schools. It is quite true there are sometimes degenerates and blackguards among nobility; atavisms are known in all types of animal life. The well-bred man whether he be noble or peasant is never so ignorant as not to know when he is insulting other people of finer sensibilities and the lack of that breeding which always recognizes the opinions and aims of others, can never be glozed over by the possession of either wealth or power. If the press of the United States (and it is fair to assume that they represent the popular notion over there) cannot refrain from exhibiting their hatred and scorn for some of our treasured institutions while so momentous a movement as that involved in the question of reciprocity is in process of incubation and they are trying to hoodwink us into the belief that they are inspired by nothing but love and good feeling for us, what will they not do or say when they have us roped in?

Town and District.

T. C. Brooke, of Princeton, was in town on Monday.

The Orangemen of the Similkameen are to celebrate in Hedley on the 12th of July.

Two ballast trains are working on the Kettle Valley between Midway and Rock Creek.

Mrs. W. A. McLean came in on Tuesday from Kelowna and will remain for a few days.

Billy Richter and Val Haynes took a drove of 125 head of cattle over to P. Burns & Co. in the Boundary.

Several nice strings of fish have been caught in the river during the past week. The water is still a bit high but has become quite clear.

Mrs. G. P. Jones started yesterday on a trip to Michigan to visit brothers and sisters whom she had not seen for fifteen years. She was accompanied by her children, Miss Avonia and Master Gomer.

Percy French, brother of our townsman F. H. French who graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, has been appointed by the provincial government as inspector of orchards for the Kootenay district.

For the service on Sunday evening the church was decorated with flowers and bunting to mark the coronation event, and Rev. A. H. Cameron's sermon had special reference to it. The congregation, also was larger than usual.

There was a good turnout of children and their parents at the Sunday School picnic on Saturday last which took place on the baseball grounds. It was to have been held on Friday but the rain prevented. Thsre was a programme of races for the kiddies.

The fragrance of the wild roses and syringas is most marked at present all over the town. The whole outdoors seems to have put on its most pleasing garb and rarely has such profusion of bloom and fragrance delighted the senses of sight and smell as we have this summer.

Those who went down from Hedley to hear the concert given by Mrs. J. A. Brown in Keremeos on the evening of Coronation Day report the event a great success in every way. There was not only a good house but a most appreciative audience. The proceeds were donoted towards furnishing the church.

Keep your eye on all the fir trees, big and small, and don't let those caterpillars get the start they did last summer. Examine the trees and buildings in the vicinity for the chrysalis and when discovered go for it with a lighted match or hot poker; but if they are once hatched out and make their appearance on the trees there is nothing left but spraying while one is to be found.

Austin Hoy, representative of the Sullivan Machine Co. made a trip up the valley last week and would have stayed over in Hedley a day and had a round or two of the links but for the Oroville layover which would have meant the spending of three days instead of the one. Mr. Hoy laid out the present links during a visit to Hedley two years ago and continues to take an active interest in the game here.

The Gazette was in error last week in stating that there was to be no celebration of Dominion Day in Princeton this year. The item was inserted in good faith on the authority of a party who had just come from Princeton and the nearness of the date with no announcement seemed to bear out the statement. It now transpires that there will be games as formerly with the exception of the horse racing which has been dispensed with for this year.

A peripatetic gentleman named Greenwood who claimed to be walking on a $5000 wager was in Hedley last week. He started from Vancouver, Wash; was going to walk eastward across the continent to the Atlantic coast; hoof it over the British Isles; walk on top of Europe and then some more. How they proposed to keep tab on him to show that he was doing all these stunts he did not explain. Part of the wager was that he was to do his stunts in two and a half years and make money enough by the way to pay all his travelling expenses. His occupation was literary, supplemented with painting and paper-hanging, and any odd jobs in these lines he was prepared to tackle. His literary work was in the line of journalism and writing short stories for some magazines, while he claimed to be gathering material for more pretentious literary work when the stunt was through.

Rev. J. Williams, of Princeton, will hold his monthly services next Sunday, July 2nd in Fraternity Hall, Hedley, as follows—11 a. m.: matins, holy communion and sermon; 8 p.m.: evensong and sermon. Subject: "The one lost sheep." All are cordially invited.

Fred Kurtz who was in Hedley about five years ago and was well known in McKinney where he was formerly mine foreman on both the Sailor and Waterloo returned to Hedley on Thursday last and is spending a few days in this vicinity. For the past few years he has been in the camps of northern Ontario wooing the goddess Fortune with gratifying success for in Porcupine he picked up some property from which he has realized a tidy competence. In fact he was one of the first to find gold in paying quanties in that camp and it is only fitting that he should reap the benefit of his discoveries. Like many other prospectors in the camps of northern Ontario he had a lot of roughing to do and plenty of hard work.

Mr. T. H. Collins, of Calumet, Mich. a large stockholder in the Hedley Gold Mining Co. arrived in Hedley on Thursday last for a look over the mine and works. In company with Mr. G. P. Jones, general superintendent, he was shown over the works in Hedley and through the underground workings of the Nickel Plate and other properties of the Hedley Gold Mining Co. From the abundant fund of good humor he displayed it is safe to assume that he was particularly well satisfied with his investment and seemed to enjoy his stay. Like President I. L. Merrill he is an enthusiastic golfer and on Saturday afternoon had a couple of rounds of the links, showing excellent form in the handling of both his wooden clubs and his irons. Unfortunately the links after the recent heavy rains were not in good shape, the greens being in very indifferent order and the rank growth of vegetation in their proximity making the approach shots a bit trying. Now that he knows the trail to the camp and has enjoyed the outing so well it is quite probable he will find his way back again before long, when it is hoped the links will be in better shape to give him a good game.

KEREMEOS, the Centre of Lower Similkameen---Famed for Fruit Growing

Town and Lower Valley.

Nurse Millar, who resigned her position at the Hedley Hospital last week spent a couple of days in Keremeos on her way out of the valley.

On Thursday evening last Mrs. Richter received word of the rather serious illness of her daughter Bessie at Victoria and left the following day, via Penticton, to attend her.

The annual picnic of the Keremeos Sunday School will be held on Friday next the 29th inst. The place selected is the first crossing of the creek on the Fairview road. Everybody welcome.

Rev. Mr. Mawhinney conducted his opening services in the Keremeos church on Sunday last before good congregations. Mr. Mawhinney is a fluent, forcible speaker and energetic worker.

T. S. Drennen, whose health has been somewhat impaired lately, left on Tuesday for Penticton on his way to his home in Vancouver. We trust that the change will benefit Mr. Drennen's health and that he will shortly return to Keremeos quite restored.

The first new potatoes which we have seen on the local market this year were brought into town on Saturday last by August Pedy. They were a splendid sample for this year; well matured, large and clean. He has quite a quantity ready for the market and expects to ship to the upper valley.

J. J. Armstrong made a trip to Princeton between trains on Monday, his object being to look up a market for small fruits and vegetables for the growers here. He reports the merchants there as anxious to secure Keremeos fruit and garden stuff and thinks that they can furnish a market for all that is produced here this year.

The advance agent of an automobile party from Riverside, Wash., who will shortly make a tour of the Southern interior of British Columbia, was at the Central hotel on Sunday making arrangements for the party to spend a night there on their trip. Another party of autoists from Kelowna have secured the services of Mr. Studebaker and his big touring car to take them on a trip through the state of Washington. This will not interfere with the motor service between here and Penticton as Mr. Studebaker has engaged a thoroughly reliable man to take his place during his absence.

M. B. Ewart returned on Saturday from his trip to Vancouver, via Hope Mountain, with a bunch of horses. He reports the pass in good condition for this time of the year but states that things are pretty flat at Vancouver and particularly so at Hope where recently there was a miniature boom on owing to the report of the good things at Steamboat Mountain and the consequent rush of prospectors and investors. The first prospectors to go in are now coming out and the reports which they bring are not such as to stimulate others to go in. Mr. Ewart found sale for only a small portion of the horses he took with him and had to bring the remainder back.

For a time it looked as if the valley was to allow the national holiday to pass without any attempt at celebration. The 1st of July has always been conceded Princeton's day and no other celebrations have been arranged to conflict with it. This year owing to the press of business and the fact that improvements to the streets of that town made it impossible to use the old recreation grounds there was a disposition to allow the day to go by default. At the eleventh hour, however, the citizens of the town in the upper valley bestirred themselves and though somewhat late bills are now out announcing a two-day's programme of sport for Friday and Saturday with a big dance on the evening of the 30th. On Saturday the train will be held until seven o'clock in the evening so as to enable people in the lower valley to return home after taking in the day's sports. Return tickets at fare and a third will be issued good from the 29th to 4th.

Several passengers, who expected to make the trip to Penticton on the "buzz wagon" last Friday evening were somewhat disappointed when they found Mr. Studebaker and his car out of commission for the trip and they had to resort to the old reliable method of Tweddle special. Mr. Studebaker is a careful driver and as reliable as a man with a motor car can possibly be but on the trip over from Penticton on the day in question he found his supply of gasoline exhausted at about the half-way house and had to wait till a fresh supply could be secured from Penticton. It is now his intention to guard against the possibility of such a mistake in the future by caching a few tins of gasoline at convenient points along the route to be used in case of emergency.

The concert given by Mrs. Brown, assisted by local talent from Hedley and Keremeos, in the town hall on the evening of Coronation day was well patronized by the public as the total receipts of $66.00 will indicate. As the only expenses to be deducted from this will be for printing and train fares for the Hedley members of the company the net amount towards the fund for painting and finishing the Keremeos church will be about $50.00. This is particularly gratifying to those who have the work in hand as the actual cost of painting and finishing the church far exceeded the estimates and even with the help of this substantial amount there will be a considerable sum to raise. Thanks are due to Mr. Armstrong for the free use of the hall for the concert and to Mr. and Mrs. Bromley for the free use of their piano for the occasion.

Chief Engineer Hogeland of the Great Northern accompanied by Superintendent Morgan passed up the valley in a special train early Tuesday morning and spent the day driving up to the end of the grade at Tulameen. The chief engineer's trip may be taken to mean preparations to lay the steel on the finished portion of grade between Princeton and Tulameen, which, we understand, is to be completed by the first of September. Indications are that this work and the building of the spur into the cement works at Princeton is all in the way of construction contemplated at present as J. A. McAlpine, who has had charge of construction supplies along this line for the J. W. Stewart Company is moving with his family this week to the west end and will probably be located at Abbotsford.

A GRAND CONCERT

A Royal Treat—Financial Results, Half a Century

From Another Correspondent

Your regular correspondent at Keremeos, having a wife whose musical powers are most undoubtedly worthy of high commendation, may not be ready to furnish you with a report of the grand concert given by Mrs. Brown and company here on Coronation night, I would like to use my pen, if necessary to mark our appreciation of their good work, at the same time I must admit my inability to do justice to it. On Wednesday night the best citizens of Keremeos filled the town hall and enjoyed to the full this musical treat. The key-note of the concert was the singing of the National Anthem and the chord of harmony was never jarred by anything on the stage or in the hall. The audience were so carried away by their delight and appreciation that forgetful of the physical limitations of the members of the concert company, their loud, hearty and continued applause encored every item on the program. Mrs. Brown and her company may certainly be proud of the success of the concert; it breaks all the records of the past for Keremeos. Mrs. Brown gave the proceeds, $50.00, to the treasurer of the Church improvement Committee.

A VERY PRETTY LETTER.

The Story of Byron's Proposal to Miss Milbanke.

Byron's proposal to his wife, Miss Milbanke, was made after sordid discussion and study and lacked all impulse. Lady Melbourne, who stood in his confidence, observing how cheerless and unsettled his mind and prospects were, strenuously advised him to marry. She suggested a certain lady, but Lord Byron fancied the idea of marrying Miss Milbanke.

"No," said Lady Melbourne; "Miss Milbanke will not suit you. In the first place, she has no fortune now, and you want money immediately. In the next place, you want a person who will have great admiration for your genius; she has too great an admiration for herself."

"Well," said Byron, "as you please."

And, sitting down, he wrote a letter to the lady recommended by Lady Melbourne. He received a refusal.

"Now, you see," said he, "Miss Milbanke is to be the person, after all. I will write to her."

As soon as he had finished his friend, still remonstrating, read the note and observed:

"Well, really, this is a very pretty letter. It is a pity it should not go."

"Then it shall go," exclaimed Byron. And, so saying, he sealed and sent the fiat of his unhappy fate.
