MINING NOTES

Poughton, White and Oliver have taken a lease on the Jewel mine, and will break down ore all winter. The mill will not run until next summer.—Ledge.

Fred Neal shipped a carload of ore to Grand Forks smelter last week from the old Nighthawk mine. If it returns justify more shipments will be made.—Oroville Gazette.

Ore from the Lucky Jim mine being treated at the Roseberry mill, near New Denver, is averaging 45% zinc. The output of ore is 100 tons per day.—Mining and Scientific Press.

With one furnace in blast during September, the British Columbia Copper Co.'s net earnings were $7000. The monthly output of copper is 350,000 lb. There are 150 men employed.—Mining and Scientific Press.

The petition to make New Manitoba into a separate mining district, with headquarters at The Pas, has been forwarded to Hon. Dr. Roche, minister of the interior. Accompanying the petition were letters of endorsement from the Pas town council, board of trade, Conservative association, Liberal association, and a personal recommendation from Dr. H. H. Elliott. There were about 200 signatures, of whom 75 were prospectors.—Pas Herald.

Cyprus, which has been offered to Greece by England in exchange for active military support, is interesting to the miner as one of the ancient sources of copper; in fact, the word 'copper' is derived from the Greek equivalent for Cyprus, namely, kupros. And it produces copper still. A recent consular report, from Alexandria, states that an American syndicate is operating at Skouriotissa, in Cyprus, by permission of the Government, and expects to build a railroad from the mines to the port of Karavostassi. It will interest our readers to know that the syndicate consists of two American engineers.—Mining and Scientific Press.

Omineca Miner: Henry Bretzins and A. H. Morten of Lillooet have disposed of the Debenture group in the Babine district. T. H. Rae, of Toronto, representing capital, took a fifty thousand dollar bond. A small amount of cash was paid also. It is understood that ten thousand dollars are to be paid in June next. O. T. Ross a western mining engineer accompanied Mr. Rae. Work on the property will not start before spring but it is the intention to provide for big development work to be undertaken in the early spring. Mr. Rae stated that he is open to take up any mining property of merit in this district. His associates are keen to invest.

PORK FOR SALE

I have the finest grain fed pork for sale and will deliver the same to Keremeos for 14 cents per pound. Above Keremeos in the Similkameen, I will deliver it for 15 cents and in the Okanagan district for 16 cents. On every order of 100 pounds, send me 50 cents with the order which will be credited on your account and I will turn that money over to the Similkameen Women's Institute, at Keremeos, for the purpose of the Red Cross fund.

R. J. ARMSTRONG, Chopaka.

Princeton was represented at the dance by Mr. King who reported a good time.

Hedley Enlisted Men Will Receive Hamper

The dance Tuesday evening held for the purpose of providing Christmas cheer for the Hedley enlisted men proved to be one of the most successful events of the kind ever pulled off in Hedley.

Nearly 150 tickets were sold and of this number the men at the mine took 82, the proceeds from the latter amounting to $123 alone. The total proceeds were $215 but as there was some expense in getting up the dance the actual amount available for the purpose mentioned will be a few dollars less than that.

The affair itself from every standpoint was a tremendous success. The crowd evidently, reviewing the past success of the Ladies Sewing Circle, came prepared to enjoy the evening, and this they certainly did. From first to last there was the very best of good feeling and enthusiasm and the minutes were few in which the floor was not taxed to its utmost capacity to accomodate the dancers.

The band rendered excellent music and were relieved at times by Mrs. Sproule, whose playing is always looked forward to with pleasure and anticipation by the dancers of Hedley and district. The Player piano also relieved the overworked musicians for a few numbers.

The ladies had prepared an excellent luncheon which was partaken of at midnight, and although there was a record crowd present there was an abundance for everyone to eat and that feature of the entertainment met with its meed of praise.

After luncheon dancing was resumed and continued until about 3 a.m.

A review of the affair suggests that a lot of credit is due to Mr. Sampson, who handled the tickets at the mine; to the men for their loyal and hearty support of the ladies and the Patriotic Funds Committee; to the ladies for the hours and hours of planning and hard work which goes to make the success of such an affair and to the Committee for the help which they rendered to the ladies.

The presence of the men from the mine certainly helped a lot, they not only enjoyed themselves, but their enjoyment is infectious and everyone else feels like entering into the enjoyment of the occasion.

Yesterday the ladies met in the opera house for the purpose of packing the hampers for the boys. There was a splendid turnout of the ladies and every one seemed to be imbued with the one idea, namely, to do something in the work of sending good cheer to the boys who are representing us in the great struggle for national existence.

Over thirty packages will be sent and each will contain the following articles:—A box of fig candy; 2 packages of Chocolate; 2 of gum; a little box of bachelor buttons; a package of cigarettes; a pipe; toothbrush; pair of suspenders; package of envelopes; writing pad; pencil; playing cards; pair of sox; nuts and raisins; small plum pudding; Christmas cake and a Christmas card.

Geo. Wagnell, representing the Engineering and Mining Journal, of New York, was in town Saturday.

The news was received Tuesday that the 54 Battalion have left Vernon for the Old Country that morning at one o'clock.

Dick Collin and Bride Get Warm Welcome

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Collin arrived Saturday from a short, but pleasant honeymoon trip to beautiful California.

The announcement of the wedding arrived rather late for the Gazette's edition of that week, so we withheld reference to it at that time.

The marriage occurred Wednesday, October 27th and the ceremony was preformed in Christ Church, Vancouver. The happy couple then left for their honeymoon amid the beauties and splendor of America's peerless state, California.

Saturday evening they received a warm welcome home, the young people waking the echoes on a charivari which for noise and duration seems to have made all previous records look like thirty cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Collin have begun housekeeping in their own house, on Ennis Street and we are sure we voice the sentiment of the people of the district, when we wish them a long, happy and prosperous life.

H. G. Freeman and E. E. Burr were visitors to Princeton yesterday.

Messrs. Coleman, McCurdy, Parrott, and Powers made the trip from Keremeos to Princeton Monday returning Tuesday.

Word has been received that Mrs. Forbes has left the hospital at Oroville and is visiting with friends for a few days before returning home.

Billy Daly, of Keremeos, passed through town Friday. He was accompanied by an assistant and they are getting the cattle rounded up for the fall.

R. Hillyard is in receipt of a letter from C. Christiana who is at the front. He writes a good cheery letter, is well and hopeful of the final outcome of the war.

Mr. J. P. Hood and Miss Lowden, of Chopaca and Miss Richter, of Keremeos Center, motored over for the dance. They had a most enjoyable time and returned home yesterday morning.

Dan Devine is now stationed at Edgwood, B. C., he likes it fine, says it is the life for him, It is his lot to do as much for his country there as if he went to the front and except for dodging shell and airships is just as busy.

Wilson Jordan, who has been employed at the mill for some time, left Saturday, Nov. 6th, for a visit at Nelson, his old home. When the old timers of the Kootenay met at Nelson he was sorely tempted to go over to the Queen City to fraternize with the other trail blazers, but finally decided to wait and make the trip at this time.

Blind McIntosh, a Hedley old timer, is in town. The story is told that when he was at Princeton the other day, quietly enjoying a drink in one of the hotels, a man came in and began to express views which not only were pro-German, but were anti-British. Although he could not see him, the old patriot promptly made a pass for where he thought his face ought to be and succeeded so well that the Teutonic sympathiser today carries prima facia evidence of an encounter with a real Britisher.

"Not By Bread Alone," Henry

Henry Ford's bumptious guff and gush about war and peace, and his announcement that he has $10,000,000 to spend for the preservation of peace causes him to be taken over the editorial knee of Life and gently spanked as a juvenile at large with more money than wit, says the Chatham World. It says:

"Have patience, Henry. This is a war against war. Folks who survive it are going to be gun shy for some time. You have done a great deal to make life attractive. That is your great service to peace, because the pleasanter life is the less people want to die. But war, Henry, brings a much greater lesson than that—the lesson of self-sacrifice. Nobody is much good who has not in him some idea, some ideal, that he cares more for than he does for life, even though it is life alleviated by the Ford motor. You help to make life pleasant, but war Henry, helps to make it noble, and if it is not noble it does not matter a damn, Henry, whether it is pleasant or not. That is the old lesson of Calvary repeated at Mons and Ypres and Liege and Namur. Whether there are more people in the world or less, whether there are Fords or oxen, makes no vital difference, but whether men shall be willing to die for what they believe in makes all the difference between a pigsty and Paradise. Not by bread alone, Henry, shall men live."

Making Headway On the Big Ditch

This month the west Okanogan Valley Irrigation officials have paid over to A. Guthrie & Co., the the contracting firm constructing the irrigation system, $122,400 on the contract price of the work. It is calculated that at the present time 60 per cent of the construction is completed, if the weather is at all favorable for the next few weeks, it is expected that most of the heavy construction will be completed by the first of the year. About all that will be left to do in the spring will be to connect up the ditches with the flumes, make such repairs and connections as may be found necessary and turn over to the district a completed job. The contractors have done excellent work, and neglected nothing to make a first class system throughout. There has been no delay in the work, and construction has been far more rapid than was expected when ground was first broken. Those familiar with irrigation systems declare the Okanogan project to be equal to the best they have ever seen. There is a satisfaction in knowing that the work is so well on towards completion.

From present indications there is every reason to anticipate that the system will be in shape to deliver water as early next year as water is necessary for crops. It is now up to the land holders under the ditch to prepare their lands for cultivation. There is going to be a demand for this valley land next year, and the tracts that are in the best condition will be the ones to find purchasers.

A FESTBUCH

We are never disposed to ridicule the enemy, but rather to endeavor to understand him. Some references made by The London Morning Post to a "Festbuch" issued for "Catholic soldiers" in Germany casts a useful sidelight upon the attitude of the common people in that country. It is attributed to a rector, and is said to have been published "by the authority of the Church." It is intended to fill the soul with a festival feeling." In this book, German and Austrian soldiers are exhorted to be brave and steadfast, and it contrasts them with the "hireling" troops of the Allies, who, however, it acknowledges are fighting bravely. It asserts that "war service is God's service. To add to the strength of its appeal, in addition to the statement that the book is published with the authority of the Church, it bears upon its cover a portrait of the Pope, together with those of the German and Austrian Emperors. Reviewing the position of the German Kaiser, the book declares that he is a "consolation" to all Germans, and then goes on to assert that it was the enemies of Germany who broke the peace. To this follows a summary of the Papal encyclical on peace, and extracts from some sermons, the evident intention of the writer being to convey the impression that the Pope favors the German cause.

The book closes with a diary of the war, from which everything is omitted that suggests anything except victory for the Teutonic allies. The only admissions of loss are that of the Emden and those of one or two submarines. The destruction of Admiral Craddock's squadron is told, but the loss of the German ships which fought with Admiral Sturdee's squadron is not mentioned "Atrocities by the Belgian populace" forms the subject of an entry, but not a word is said of the sacking of Louvain, over which the Kaiser said his heart bled.

We may treat all this with a sneer, but we ought not to forget that it is upon such provender as this that public opinion in Germany is fed. It would be the greatest mistake possible to suppose that the German people are not convinced of the righteousness of their cause, or that they do not believe that everywhere on land and sea success has attended their arms. If they knew the truth, if they knew of the defeats which their armies have met, if they realized the growing strength of the Entente Powers, if they knew the truth about Belgium, if they understood how completely they are hemmed in from the rest of the world, they would then know why the conditions of life in their country are becoming so hard; they might then appreciate how in vain have been their sacrifices. An awakening will come some day, and it will be a terrible one for those responsible for the position in which Germany will find herself.—Colonist.

The engineers on the German fleet in the Kiel Canal have to go through another examination. They were qualified as naval engineers, but now they have to qualify as stationary engineers.—Merritt News.

With the exception of two or three extreme partisan newspapers in the province, no attacks are being made upon Attorney General Bowser these days. There was so much unfairness, bitterness and personal abuse, that the people sickened of the whole thing and the attack recoiled upon those making them. The average man is willing to listen to fair criticism but few people can be led astray by partisan bitterness or personal villification.—Victorian.

The Sun today takes much satisfaction in celebrating its fifteenth birthday. In spite of the croakings of those who have no special use for the paper, and who have never contributed a cent toward its support during all the years it has been published, we feel as certain of ultimate victory as the allies do in the present conflict. We might add that if the allies will continue to wage war against their enemies with as much determination. under as great difficulties as we at times in the past have been compelled to labor, they will achieve complete success even though the balance of the neutral world should turn against them. Our task in the past has not always been a pleasant one. The future may have brighter days in store. If it has not—well, The Sun will continue to make its weekly appearance anyway—Grand Forks Sun.

One of the most successful hunts of the season resulted in the killing of three of the finest specimens of the coveted deer. Axel Sandberg and Ed. Malm, two of the men at the Nickel Plate, were the successful hunters. The bag was made up near the lake and the largest specimen weighed 350 pounds and had a spread of 13 points.

Mr. E. Jacobs, of Victoria, Secretary of the Western Branch Canadian Mining Institute, and correspondent for some of the leading mining journals of America, came in on the train last Thursday. There is probably no man in the West who is more in touch with mining conditions as they actually are, than Mr. Jacobs, and when he states it as his opinion that mining in B. C. is showing a decided turn for the best, then we may begin to look for the big things which we have so hopefully longed for during the past few lean years. His advice is to sift all reports and to beware of the evil of inflation, which dealt the industry such a serious blow in the past.

Mr. Frederic Keffer, of the firm of Keffer & Johns, Spokane, passed through on Thursday's train his destination being Princeton. In this connection it is rumored that he is on a trip of inspection with a view to seeing what the prospects are for putting the Princeton Cement Works into shape again to do business. While all kinds of rumors have been current as to the future activity of the plant, nothing definite has come of them and this visit is the first real news item in this connection which has gotten into the district press for some time.

Alfred Gutierrez Writes From Belgium

Belgium, Sunday, Oct. 10, 1915

Dear Father:

I received your letter the other day and was glad to hear from you. When you write again my address is No. 858, C. Squadron, Royal Canadian Dragoons. War Office. London, England.

Write to me often as I would like to hear how things are going. I saw Reggie the other day as I was coming out of the trenches.

How are you keeping, I hope you are well as I am in the best of health.

I have been up in the trenches a few times. France and Belgium are two fine countries. I have not got much to tell you this time so will close, hoping to hear from you soon.

Your loving son,
Alfred Gutierrez

What has this town ever done for you? It has fed you, and clothed you, and housed you, and given you employment and kept the wolf from your door for these many years.
It has done more. It has furnished you recreation, and enjoyment, and has guided you safely over many of the stones that beset the pathway of life.
It has praised your good deeds and has thrown the mantle of charity over your questionable ones.
It has been, and is, YOUR HOME. But what have YOU done for the TOWN?
You are making you money here but where are you spending it?
Are your buying goods from the local dealer, who pays and otherwise contributes liberally to the upkeep of the community and your home, or are you sending your money away to some catalogue house that wouldn't lend you a five cent piece to save your soul from purgatory?
And now you have reached the point where we want you to stop and think, and think hard, and to a sane, sensible and patriotic purpose.

Christmas greeting cards at the Hedley Gazette.

W. C. McLeod of Princeton was in town for a few days this week.

Dayton Williams, the Mason & Risch man, was in town Saturday.

Mrs. S. L. Smith returned Saturday from an extended visit at the coast.

William Shakespeare, of Vancouver was taking orders for grocery specialties last week end.

See our samples of Christmas Greeting Cards before deciding on Xmas presents. These are inexpensive gifts and suitable to any. We also carry a line of Xmas and New Year Post Cards at GAZETTE OFFICE.

The News-Advertiser, of Vancouver, was represented in town last week by Mr. J. B. Williams.

Mr. Sullivan, High School Inspector, arrived in town Tuesday for the purpose of giving the High School its periodic inspection.

Mrs. Meirhofer returned Saturday, Nov. 6th., from a visit to her home at Minneapolis. She has been away since the middle of September.

We are pleased to note that Mrs. Wirth, who recently returned from the hospital at Oroville, is gaining strength gradually and was able to be up town shopping.

E. B. Conway, Field Engineer for the Consolidated Mining, and Power Co., arrived at Night Hawk on Thursday last for the purpose of going thoroughly over the property there and making a report.

A break in the flume made it necessary to requisition the auxiliary steam plant for a few days. It is expected the damage will be repaired today or tomorrow. In the meantime the plant is running as usual and the accident only served to demonstrate the preparedness of the management for emergencies.

Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Merrill, Miss Merrill and Master Isaac Merrill arrived on Thursday's train for a short visit. Mr. Merrill came in the anticipation of enjoying a round or two of golf on Hedley's famous links, but had to pospone the pleasure on account of the snow, which, by the way, only came a few days before he arrived and is showing evidence of disappearing very soon, not soon enough, however, as Mr. Merrill and family leave Thursday for their home, via the coast cities.

Now that Christmas buying is in the air, why not make a resolution to do your buying from the people who are making your town. Birks & Co. have no interest in you or in Hedley and Timothy Eaton would not recognize you it he met you on the street and as for Simpson his only interest in Hedley is what he gets out of it. Join the boosters club and buy at home. Even if the merchants got all the business of the town they wouldn't get rich.

Carl Linne, who works at the mine, left Tuesday for Oroville to undergo an operation for appendicitis. As a further evidence of the spirit of the men at the mine, we record the fact that in answer to an appeal from the friends of the sick man, a fund was raised in a very short time, to defray the expense of the operation. Nearly $200 was collected. We venture to say there is no other camp in the country could show such a record of open-hearted generosity, care for the needs of others, as has been exhibited by these same men, during the years in which Hedley camp has been making for itself the record which makes it today practically without an equal.

What Are You Kicking About?

You Men Who Think You're Underpaid

Don't "cuss" your luck because your pay is small. Don't blame it on the boss. Don't think that the reason others get more pay is that they have more "pull" because it isn't so!

The men who get big pay are those who are trained to do work that is worth it. You have no special training, and you have to do work that any man with two hands can do; therefore your pay is small—and you, only, are to blame.

YOU can earn more—YOU can work with your head instead of your hands—YOU can give orders instead of taking them. No matter what you do, where you live, or how old you are, the International Correspondence Schools can come to you and train you for a better job.

Every year more than five thousand persons take the trouble to write to the I. C. S. that their salaries have been increased through this training. These who report are but a handful—tens of thousands of others are benefited.

For 24 years the I. C. S. have been training men having no education, other than ability to read and write, no more time than the odds and ends so commonly wasted, and no more money than the little that could be saved out of small wages.

Women's Institute Score Another Success

The sale of work held in the Town Hall on Friday evening under the auspices of the Similkameen Women's Institute, was a decided success. The sale consisted of fancy work, home made cooking and candy.

The fancy work booth was made very attractive under the management of Mrs. D. J. Innis assisted by Miss Olive Vader, while the President Mrs. R. C. Clarke and Vice-President Mrs. F. Stanton had charge of the home-made cooking.

Miss F. Daley and Miss M. Clarke did remarkably well with the home-made candy, the booth was very pretty and popular both to young and old.

Tea was served during the sale of work, presided over by Mrs. O. H. Carle assisted by Miss A. Innis and Miss E. Gibson. The tables were very pretty each centered with a large boquet of cut flowers which were also sold afterward very quickly. The sum of one hundred and sixty-two dollars was realized which is to go to Patriotic purposes.

B. C. Timber Makes Hit in Australia

The Hon. W. R. Ross is advised by the Department of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa, that the exhibits of British Columbia lumber recently sent to Australia are being shown at the Royal Exchange, Sydney, and will afterwards be featured at an approaching architectural exhibition. The Canadian Trade Commissioner at Melbourne to whom the exhibits were consigned, is arranging for timber importers, builders, and others who are interested to view them, and reports that the varied and beautiful finish which British Columbia Douglas Fir takes has been the subject of considerable comment. It will be remembered that a number of these exhibits were sent abroad earlier in the year, and as in the case of the Sydney display, have attracted much attention in the important trade centers at which they have been placed.
