KINGSTON MINE RESUMES WORK

A Force of Men at Work
Under Direction of H.
C. Pollock.

GIVE US ONE OR TWO MORE!

A Likely Property From Which Much Is Expected—The New Man in Charge Thoroughly Conversant with the Property.

It is reassuring to see work again under way on the Kingston. About a fortnight ago word came to Mr. H. C.
Pollock from the head office of the company to resume operations, and work was commenced with a force of 8 men, which will be added to shortly.
Former development work done under direction of F. M. Wells was closed down at the end of December of last year, and left the mine with various excellent showings at various points on its properties. It was thought at the time of closing down in December last that the rails would be laid on the V. V. & E. to Hedley in the spring, and had this been done there is little doubt that work would have been in progress long before this. Now, however, they have decided to go on under the same old disability.

The Kingston group consists of the Kingston, Metropolitan, War Horse and Grand View mineral claims, and most of the old workings as well as the mine buildings are situated on the Kingston itself. The property is much closer to the town than the Nickel Plate, being on the steep mountain side about 2000 feet above the valley.
The mountain side is so steep where the mine buildings are located close by a spring, that cribbing and grading was necessary in order to get a sufficiently level foundation. The buildings are made of peeled logs and are neatly put together. They can afford cooking and sleeping accommodation for a crew of twenty men or more, whenever it is decided to employ as large a crew as that.

The property is owned by the Kingston Gold & Copper Mining Company, Limited, incorporated under the Companies Act of British Columbia, and most of the stock is owned in Quebec.
The president of the company is Mr.
W. A. Marsh, and with him are associated the Messrs. Boswell, of Quebec, while Mr. Fernie, of Victoria, has a large holding.

Regarding the Kingston itself upon which most of the work has been done some extracts from an engineer's report give as follows:

"There is a very strong vein on the Kingston claim, showing, where exposed by open cuts, to run about 30 to 35 feet in width. Against the hanging wall, this vein contains from 4 1/2 to 6 feet of a copper chate, containing chalcocopyrite and pyrrhotite, and on the foot-wall there are from 8 to 12 feet of an arsenical iron ore, carrying good gold values; the latter is very similar to the rich Nickel Plate ore. Between the above chutes or pay portions the vein is by no means barren, being mineralized throughout, and in some parts being well streaked with copper and arsenical iron pyrites. On this vein most of the development work has been done, and it is exposed in tunnels and open cuts for a length, on surface, of over 400 feet above the No. 1 tunnel, which is the lowest working.
At this point, 400 feet above the tunnel, the lead is covered with wash, but farther up the hill about 600 feet it is again found and exposed by open cuts.
The continuity and width of this vein are remarkable and are most favorable indications of its permanence in depth.

"There is a difference of elevation between the No. 1 tunnel on the Kingston and the vein where exposed on the War Horse of about 1,450 feet, so that this great depth can be obtained on the property by adit tunnels.

"There is ample good timber on the property for the purposes of development. I will conclude by saying that I have formed a very high opinion of the property, and I will be greatly mistaken if it does not turn out to be one of those good things that mining men spend their lives in search of.

"When I visited the property a year ago I did not know of the existence of the extremely valuable portion of the vein on the foot-wall side—I mean the arsenical chate,—and even then, and only seeing the copper showing in the tunnel No. 1, I was greatly impressed with its possibilities. Now I think there is no doubt that the Kingston will make a very valuable mine, and on account of its easy development ought to be a paying proposition from a very early stage.

The report further tells of assay results from some six different samplings at various parts of the work, and these arranged in between $17.63 and $40.33.

DROWNING MEN GRASP STRAWS

How Duncan Ross' Paper Tries to Cheer Drooping Spirits of His Followers.

Duncan Ross is evidently in a bad way when his paper will in all apparent seriousness try to make the public believe that because L. W. Shatford with Burrell it is the very opposite.

It was on April 24th that Burrell was chosen as the Liberal-Conservative candidate in Yale-Cariboo, and in the month of June L. W. Shatford went through the Similkameen riding from end to end receiving such assurance of support for Mr. Burrell that he is confident of a good majority for him in Similkameen. Again, L. W. Shatford was not a candidate for the nomination in Yale-Cariboo, and neither did W. T. Shatford seek the nomination although many of his friends were anxious that he should have it; but Martin Burrell has no more loyal supporter in Yale-Cariboo to-day than W.
T. Shatford. Furthermore it is a piece of Tommy rot about Shatford spending his time at present campaigning in Nova Scotia. His place for that is in Similkameen and he is at the present moment using the utmost expedition to get back here so as to have as much time as possible before polling-day.
The issue of the writs a month earlier than he was counting on may have disarranged his plans somewhat; but it is his intention to be on the ground at the earliest possible moment to show Duncan Ross that there is nothing he could say anywhere else that he is not prepared to say in Yale-Cariboo.

MARTIN BURRELL,

The Liberal-Conservative Candidate for Yale-Cariboo, and Next Representative of This Riding.

MR. BURRELL was born in England, and came to Canada over thirty years ago, when he engaged in the fruit-growing industry in the Niagara peninsula in Ontario. In that province he was recognized as an able speaker on horticultural topics, and was one of the most acceptable lecturers at meetings of the farmers' institutes in each electoral riding of that province. With the opening of the Boundary district he came to British Columbia to engage in fruit growing, and has since been recognized as an authority on that question, representing British Columbia in England last winter. While identifying himself with the Conservative party he has never been a violent partisan, and stands for placing politics on a higher plane. Such a man would make an ideal representative for Yale-Cariboo. Do yourself credit by voting for him!

happens to be at present in the east, there is not perfect accord between him and Mr. Burrell. The Times says:

"L. W. Shatford has gone to Nova Scotia to take part in the Federal campaign. Mr. Shatford failed to get the nomination for Yale-Cariboo and Martin Burrell must play the game without him. Besides, L. W. will be permitted to say things in Nova Scotia that he wouldn't dare to mention in Yale-Cariboo."

A more absurd piece of rot than the above is inconceivable. If there were any truth in the statements it would mean that L. W. Shatford was playing into Duncan Ross' hands to have him elected; and why should he do so?
Some of the foulest deliberate falsehoods that were uttered against Mr.
Shatford in the last local election were by Duncan Ross. Some of his shameless mendacity at that time was proven to his face, and much of it yet remains to be exposed, which L. W. Shatford will do before this campaign is over.
Instead of Shatford being out of accord

THIS PUTS IT EXACTLY.

(Ceremonial Trumpet.)

Deferring the election in Yale not only disfranchises every voter but it advertises to the outside world that our constituency is a backwoods settlement, sparsely settled and without transportation facilities, a condition which is far from the case.

The weakest part of Duncan Ross' address on Monday night was his closing appeal to the electors in which he said: "The election will be deferred.
Sir Wilfrid Laurier is certain to be returned to power and I can accomplish more for you than anyone else." It was equivalent to saying: "I have the cards stacked against my opponent.
Join me in the game and you will get a take-off." It is an appeal that will not appeal to the honest miners and bankers of the Similkameen. They believe in playing the game hard but playing fair.

A EUROPEAN WAR SCARE

The Berlin Treaty, for 20 Yrs. the Basis of Peace in Europe, Is Broken
Because

BULGARIA CLAIMS INDEPENDENCE

From the Rule of Turkey; and Austria Has Annexed Bosnia and Herzegovina—Servians Want King Peter to Rescue Bosnia.

Like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky (if the political condition of the Bul-kians could by any stretch of imagination ever be described as such) came the news that the treaty of Berlin had been broken into smithereens when the Bulgarians declared their independence of the rule of Turkey, and Austria-Hungary, emulating the example of the early bird, proceeded to gather in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Whether this portends a war of any magnitude will depend on how Turkey will be disposed to view the conduct of Bulgaria, and whether other European powers that were party to the Berlin conference and the treaty which was the outcome, will stand idly by and watch Austria effect this coup.

Many fancy they see in it some of the meddling intrigue of the Emperor of Germany, and from this out the diplomats of all European powers will be busy in the making up of new alliances and the patching up of old ones.

In Serbia the war spirit is rampant and Servians are calling upon King Peter to buckle on his armor and go to the rescue of Bosnia. King Peter is one of the newest rulers of southern Europe and was not too particular as to the foul means employed to gain his throne, but whether he would have as keen a relish for bloodshed in warfare on the frontier as for that spilled in a private palace in the removal of those who stood between him and the throne is another question.

The war scare has already had the effect of tightening up money, and already some of the colonial loans in London awaiting subscription are experiencing the difficulty attendant upon financing in times of stress.

MARY AND HER LAMB.

The World has very many lambs, Whose owners' names are hid,
And yet these lambs grew wool As white as Mary's ever did.
Of course the fame of Mary's lamb Is not at all surprising, 'Twas brought about by-out-and-out Persistent advertising.

Town and District.

And still no more word about when track-laying is to begin.
Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Lind of the Great Northern Hotel attended the Spokane Fair last week.
Beit Harris of Shatfords Limited is taking a holiday off and has taken his shotgun along.
Hugh Mcgraw, who was visiting for a few days in Hedley, returned to McKinney on Thursday last.

A Pleasance is getting a fine lot of wood stacked up in the yard at the Daly Reduction Co.'s power house.
Mr. C. A. Crawford who has been auditing the books of the Daly Reduction Co. left on Friday last for Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Rose and children returned on Tuesday last from Spokane where they had been attending the Fair.
Penticton has decided on incorporation as a district municipality and steps will be taken towards that end immediately.

Dr. H. W. McGregor, of Winnipeg, arrived on Saturday night to take charge of Dr. Whillans' practice during the latter's absence.

Mr. C. J. Wilson, of P. Burns & Co., was in town over Sunday, and on this occasion took a look around the camp, visiting the Golden Zone and Kingston.

J. Gillan has got his bottling works in operation again, and is turning out iron brew and various other beverages, with which to trim the night-caps for the local hotel trade.

The Government is putting in a new bridge over Twenty mile creek near the post office, and work commenced on it last week. The new bridge will be placed on the same site as the old.

Mr. Arthur Davies who contributes an interesting short story entitled "The Dalton Case" to the October number of Westward Ho, is father of Miss Davies, teacher of the Hedley public school.

The report of the irrigation convention which was held at Vernon some time ago has been put up in pamphlet form, and a few copies were sent to L. G. MacHaffie who will give a copy to anyone who may wish to procure one.

Dr. H. A. Whillans went out on Monday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Whillans and daughter bound for Alberta where Mrs. Whillans will remain for the winter while the doctor will go to Chicago to put in five or six months in the hospital there.

All the cases for the sitting of court here last week were settled out of court, and Judge Brown had an easy time of it in consequence. The Judge went on to Princeton to hold court there on Friday, and returned to Hedley on Saturday night to spend Sunday here.

The Gazette was in error last week in saying that the deal had been completed for the purchase of J. F. Royer's livery and stage business to Innis Bros. Negotiations were on but they fell through. It is now rumored that Mr. D. Gillespie has bought out the concern.

No date has yet been fixed for Martin Burrell's meeting in Hedley, but he will in all probability be along inside of the next ten days. His tour through the riding has been eminently satisfactory to him, and everywhere he goes new recruits are met with to increase his voting strength.

Jno. Gladden has been instructed by C. de B. Green to survey Brnsby Bottom into five and ten acre lots for fruit culture, and expects to begin the work shortly. This is a piece of land that should find ready purchasers, and by placing it on the market in this way, much good should result to this portion of the valley.

There were two insurance policies on the life of the late C. L. Thomet, of Midway, one an accident policy for $1,000 in the Ocean Accident and Guarantee Co., and the other a life policy in the Mutual Life of Canada, and both were paid through F. W. McLaine, the Greenwood agent for these Companies.

It is rumored as we go to press that Martin Burrell will hold a meeting at Kerences on Saturday night. He is killed for Vernon on Thursday 22nd which would indicate that his programme is to work up through the Okanagan, then westward along the C. P. R. coming into the Similkameen again from Nicola.

MARRIED.
CONN-KEITH.—At Winnipeg, on Saturday, October 3rd, by Rev. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Conner), Rev. J. Thurburn Conn to Miss Margaret Keith.

TIT-BITS FROM PENTICTON.

(Belated in Transmission.)
Of course the chief item of interest in and around Penticton during the past week was the rather unexpected visit of the Governor-General, Earl Grey, and suite, comprised as follows: Lord Stanhope; Mr. Harold Lowther, brother of Mr. Gerald Lowther, speaker in the British House of Commons; Mr. Benson, Earl Grey's nephew, and Capt. Pickering, of the Scots Greys, aide-de-camp to His Excellency; a corporal and three troopers of the R. N. W. Mounted Police accompanying the party as escort. A telegram was received late on Monday night announcing His Excellency's intended visit, and on Tuesday morning the merchants and business men of the town hurriedly hung out bunting and hoisted flags above their stores and offices, and in a short time the town looked very gay. The party was timed to arrive in Penticton at 2:30, and an excellent lunch was in readiness at the Hotel Penticton at that hour. It was close on five o'clock, however, before the visitors appeared, and by that time most of the people who had turned out to take in the excitement had wandered back to their afternoon tea, having given the Earl's visit up as a bad job. It's a pity His Excellency was not on time as he really missed a most enthusiastic reception, but the old maxim, "Hope deferred maketh the heart grow sad," answers here as elsewhere. As soon as possible after Earl Grey's arrival, he and his staff, accompanied by Mr. W. T. Shatford, Dr. R. B. White, Mr. J. R. Mitchell and your correspondent, took a short drive round the orchards on the bench. As it was dark when His Excellency came here two years ago he had no idea of the extent of Penticton's fruit lands, and he was very agreeably surprised at what he saw during the course of the drive, stopping the rig several times to ask questions about different orchards and complimenting Mr. Shatford on some of those being looked after by the S. O. Land Company. He remarked once that "he only wished he were twenty-five years younger and he would sell some of his turnip farms in Northumberland and invest in Penticton fruit lands. The drive had to be cut short owing to the late hour, but everyone seemed most enthusiastic over what they had seen. On arriving back in town, His Excellency and party proceeded on board the S. S. "Okanagan" which had been placed at their disposal by the C. P. R. The boat stayed at the wharf all night and left at 8:15 on Wednesday morning, returning to Penticton at 3 a. m. Friday morning. The Governor-General and party, accompanied by several local gentlemen, left here at 7 a. m. on Friday, driving to Dog lake where Mr. Webster's launch was in readiness to take them to Okanagan Falls, the police with the horses going round by road. Arriving at the foot of the lake at 8:30, a short halt was called while His Excellency inspected the Falls and made the acquaintance of some of the residents. Starting again about 9:15 through the S. O. L. Co.'s upper ranch and past the score or more farms and orchards en route, Fairview was reached by 12:30. Here mine host Harry Jones of the Golden Gate had an excellent lunch in readiness, which everybody enjoyed. After lunch His Excellency paid a visit to the government office and school, leaving Fairview at 2 p. m. for Oroville and arriving there at 5 o'clock. On reaching Oroville the Governor-General and party went on board the special train which was in waiting at the station, extending a cordial invitation to the three gentlemen who accompanied him on his ride, to go on board and have tea with him. Before leaving, His Excellency expressed his thanks to Mr. Shatford and Dr. White for the kind treatment accorded himself and party while at Penticton and on the trip south, and said as regards the country he had ridden through he thought it wonderful to think that the beautiful valley from above Fairview to the Boundary only awaited the necessary irrigation development and it would then be a vast fruit orchard. The train left Oroville at 6 p. m. for Nelson.

The Rifle Association have accepted the Summerland Association's challenge for a friendly shoot on Saturday afternoon. Both teams will be represented by their eight best shots. The ranges will be 200 and 500 yards.

My remarks in the last Tit-Bits, referring to the leasing of the lake foreshore, and "Searchlight's" letter to the Press, seem to have started things moving. Why didn't the Board of Trade stake from Forbes street up to the corner of Harlow's lot?
