So Says Patrick Welch to a Province Reporter in

ON TO HOPE NEXT SPRING

A Vigorous Campaign in Railway Building Is Planned - Grading Between Princeton and Sumas To Be Rushed -Train to Coast by End of 1909.

"Southern British Columbia will be the scene of unusual railway construction activity next spring. Mr. Louis Hill, president of the Great Northern railway is desirous of rushing to completion his through line - the V. V.
& E. - between Vancouver and the Boundary district. There yet remains to be closed the gap between the Similkameen and Sumas, where the V. V.
& E. connects with the Northern Pacific system, also controlled by the Hills. It will be a big task to surmount the Hope mountains, but I understand satisfactory grades have been secured," said Mr. Patrick Welch, of Spokane, a member of the firm of Foley, Welch & Stewart, railway contractors, who are building the coast section of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

The same firm also built the V. V.
& E. from Marcus, Wash., where it connects with the Great Northern from Spokane, through the Boundary district and the Similkameen to Keremeos. Mr. Welch is here on railway business.

"The V. V. & E. has been completed as far as Keremeos, and late this fall trains will be running twenty-five miles farther to Hedley. As work will be continued all winter we expect to reach Princeton in May. Then the task of building over the Hope mountains into the Fraser river valley will be undertaken, and rushed to completion with all possible speed.
I expect to see through trains from St. Paul running into Vancouver before the end of 1909."

On Thursday morning last a special train of Great Northern officials arrived in Keremeos at 6 a. m. and left again at 6:30. There was on board J.
M. Gruber, general manager, St. Paul; A. H. Hopeland, chief engineer, St.
Paul; F. L. Brown, general superintendent, Spokane; L. C. Gilman, general counsel and new president of the V. V. & E., Seattle; branch supt. Morgan; resident engineer O. S. Bowen, and a number of local superintendents.
They were met by Mr. J. H. Kennedy, chief engineer of the V. V. & E., who was about the only one around at that early hour of the morning.

SOME OF LAURIER'S WORK

BORDEN'S HALIFAX PLATFORM.

Laid Down by Him at Halifax on August 20th, 1907.

PUBLIC FINANCE.

1. Honest appropriation and expenditure of public moneys in the public interest.

APPOINTMENT BY MERIT.

2. Appointment of public officials upon considerations of capacity and personal character and not of party service alone.

HONEST ELECTIONS.

3. More effective provisions to punish bribery and fraud at elections, to ensure through publicity as to expenditures by political organizations; to prevent the accumulation of campaign funds for corrupt purposes and to prohibit contributions thereto by corporations, contractors and promoters; to expedite the hearing of election petitions and to prevent collusive arrangements for the withdrawal or compromise thereof; to provide for a thorough investigation of corrupt practices, and if necessary to appoint an independent prosecuting officer charged with that duty, to simplify the procedure therefor and to enforce the laws so amended.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

4. A thorough and complete reformu-lation of the laws relating to the Civil Service so that future appointments shall be made by an independent commission acting upon the report of examiners after competitive examination.

REFORM OF THE SENATE.

5. Such reform in the mode of selecting members of the Senate as will make that chamber a more useful and representative legislative body.

IMMIGRATION.

6. A more careful selection of the sources from which immigration shall be sought, a more rigid inspection of immigrants and the abolition of the as to establish thorough and effective control over all corporations owning or operating public utilities or invested with franchises of a national character.

PUBLIC TELEGRAPHS AND TELEPHONES

11. The establishment, after due investigation, of a system of national telegraphs and telephones under conditions which shall be just to capital already invested in those enterprises.

IMPROVED POSTAL FACILITIES.

15. The improvement of existing postal facilities, especially in newly developed portions of the country and the inauguration, after proper inquiry as to the cost, of a system of free rural mail delivery.

TARIFF POLICY.

13. A fiscal policy which will promote the production within Canada of all useful articles and commodities that can be advantageously produced or manufactured from or by means of our natural resources, having due regard to the interests of the consumer as well as to the just claims of our wage-earning population.

IMPERIAL PREFERENCE.

14. The promotion by negotiation, legislation and other constitutional means of a system of mutual preferential trade with the Empire.

JUSTICE TO THE NEW PROVINCES.

15. The restoration of the public lands to the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan upon fair terms.

PROVINCIAL RIGHTS.

16. The unimpaired maintenance of all powers of self-government which have been conferred upon the Provinces of Canada under the constitution.

Wireless Possibilities Unlimited.

A great invention was never perfected in less than seven years. When a man has made his discovery he has just begun. Then he has to work for years and years before he has the thing anywhere near completed. We do not know what makes these waves that we call electricity go across the ocean in this way. We don't know anything about it. It is contrary to all the known laws of nature and science. All we know is that they do go, and that they carry messages with them. Just stop and think what we will be able to do with them when we find out what they are and the laws that control them. I tell you this thing is only beginning, and in a few years there will be developments along this line that will startle even the most sanguine dreamer of today. This thing is in its infancy yet. It is easy to see that.
The possibilities of the thing are limitless and beyond all comprehension.
We to-day cannot imagine the things that they will be doing with it a few years to come.—Thomas A. Edison, in the Illustrated Magazine of the New Orleans Sunday Picayune.

THE LAW OF BETTING.

How It Works Out When a Wager Comes Up in Court.

(Keremeos Trumpet.)

In the suit of Armstrong vs. the stake-holders, plaintiff received judgment and costs for all amounts paid over, by the stake-holders after the plaintiff had notified them not to pay.
The amounts comprised $200.50 paid by A. Osborne, $20 by C. L. Cummings and $15 by P. Bromley. Murphy, of Ashcroft, appeared for plaintiff, and Patton, of Hedley, for defendants.

It would appear that the stakeholders have no means of recovering the money from the parties to whom it was paid unless the latter voluntarily refund it.

Unsavoury, as the case is, it illustrates the attitude of the law in regard to such matters and may prove useful information if not a valuable warning to those who are disposed to back their choice in a game of chance or who may find themselves at times asked to act as stake-holders. A betting debt is purely a debt of honor, which cannot legally be collected, and which, therefore, the unscrupulous may pay or not at pleasure. Having the money "up" does not materially alter the situation, because the money, so deposited, is subject to the order of the owner.

The moral is never bet with a man unless you know him to be a sport, and never act as stake-holder if you can conveniently avoid it.

KEREMEOS MEETING.

Barrister Ernest Miller, of Grand Forks, Addresses Electors in Behalf of Mr. Burrell.

Considerable disappointment was felt when it was learned on Thursday last that Martin Burrell, Conservative candidate for Yale-Cariboo, was not to be present at the meeting advertised for Saturday night, he having received an urgent invitation to be one of the speakers at a Conservative rally in Vancouver on that night. The announcement, however, that his place would be taken by Ernest Miller, of Grand Forks, the Conservative candidate in the last provincial election, and that Mr. Burrell would address a meeting later on, served to allay the disappointment, especially in view of the fact that this call from Vancouver for an address from Mr. Burrell was in itself a compliment to the ability of the man who is carrying the banner of the Conservative party in Yale-Cariboo.

The meeting was held in the new public hall of the Keremeos Land Co., and while the attendance was about the same as that which listened to Duncan Ross about two weeks before, the meeting was marked by more generous applause, indicating a much more interested and appreciative audience.

The chair was taken by Mr. D. F.
Jelly, who in expressing regret at the absence of Mr. Burrell, was pleased to know that an able representative in Mr. Miller would take his place.

The meeting was opened by A. Mcgraw, who dealt briefly with local topics, particularly the question of railway connection for the Similkameen and Mr. Ross' relation thereto.

Mr. Miller in opening his address paid a warm tribute to the worth and ability of Mr. Burrell. He then took up the question of Oriental immigration, dealing exhaustively with it, showing step by step the causes which resulted in the large influx of Japanese in the summer of 1907. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's promise in 1896 and the manner in which he violated that promise even to his contemptuous disregard of the wishes of the people of this province, were scathingly dealt with.
On the question of Better Terms he was equally effective. He showed the permanent disability under which the province labored because of the physical barriers, which rendered the administration of various departments relatively more costly than in the other provinces, and claimed that any allowance made by the federal government to compensate for this should be in perpetuity. He deprecated Duncan Ross' attitude on this question, which proclaimed him an enemy of the province, and asked why a man who was opposed to the province obtaining its rights should be sent again to Ottawa.
Various charges in the long indictment for maladministration and plunder of the country were taken up to show why the present government should not again be entrusted with the management of affairs.

In dealing with the deferred election he enlarged upon the point well taken by the Trumpet that it was injurious to the constituency to have it advertised abroad as a backwoods district with no transportation facilities. He also compared this treatment of the riding by Duncan Ross with that accorded by the Conservatives in 1896, when the riding was twice as large and the transportation facilities not nearly equal to what they are now.

THE COLCHESTER CASE.

The Victoria Times and the Vernon Okanagan are about the only papers that continue to shout Colchester election since the charges of corruption against the member returned at the by-election have been dropped. Their vaporings at the present time are simply a little campaign fog with which they are trying to obscure the vision of electors and keep them from scrutinizing too narrowly the pilfering of Liberal friends of the administration who have been stealing from the public treasury.

Besides, why couldn't they have drawn attention to the manly rebuke which Hon. R. L. Borden administered concerning certain irregularities which it then appeared his friends had been guilty of in that contest. Mr. Borden told his supporters that he "preferred honest defeat to victory gained by improper means."

A DISILLUSIONMENT

Many Englishmen who voted in the old country in support of Lord Salisbury came to Canada and lined up under the banner of Sir Wilfrid Laurier without taking the trouble to investigate matters or to judge political parties in Canada upon the true basis of what these parties stand for and what they have accomplished. They were pre-disposed in Laurier's favor because of the adulation of him in the English press by English editors who knew as little of Canada, its public men and its public questions, as they did themselves.

Herein, again, is seen Sir Wilfrid Laurier's opportunism.

It is well-known, and the public records in Canada prove it, that Wilfrid Laurier in opposition was anti-British and ready at all times to league himself with those English speaking Canadians who were most pronounced in their antipathies to imperial influences in Canadian affairs. As one instance of this we have only to note his readiness in 1890 and 1891 to go with 'Ras Wiman, Ed. Farrar and Richard Cartwright for Commercial Union with the United States, afterwards changed to Unrestricted Reciprocity—a policy so grossly disloyal that it drove from the Grit party in Canada such a man as Edward Blake who in his address to his constituents in West Durham told them that he could have nothing to do with a policy which was the thin side of the wedge of annexation. In those days annexation sentiment had its home in the ranks of the Canadian Liberal opposition, and imperialism its home in the ranks of the Conservatives. So pronounced was this opposition to anything looking to establishment of closer relations with the mother country on the part of the leaders of the Liberal opposition and in its ranks that when any fiscal matter came up in the House involving discrimination between imports from Britain and from the United States, any move by the government for imperial preference was invariably met with a storm of opposition from Laurier and his cohorts.

In 1896 Laurier attained power on a side issue which apparently involved the throwing down of his co-religionists in Quebec, but which was in reality a secret arrangement with them that he should use the Orange party in Ontario to attain power and when once entrenched in power he could advance the interests of those he turned down in 1896, by forcing the autonomy bill upon Alberta and Saskatchewan.

To be the lion was Laurier's ambition and to-day he is vainly calling himself "the lion hunting alone." His first step lion-ward was prompted by the opportunity to lionize it at the Jubilee celebration in London in 1897, and to make that honor sure his opportunism prompted him to volte face for British preference in the session immediately preceding the Jubilee event. By means of this and of Kipling's "Lady of the Snows" he rolled into London in June 1897 on a chariot load of bouquets, getting the plaudits of the English press which gave a wrong "steer" to unthinking Englishmen coming to this country who were induced to vote the Grit ticket in Canada because of it.

Three subsequent events (and there are a score more which might be given) will serve to show that his sudden conversion to British preference was but a ruse to enable him to gratify his personal vanity. The first of these three was his opposition to allowing Canadian troops to participate in the Boer war in the early fall of 1899. It is on record in the files of the Globe newspaper that he took the ground that it was unconstitutional and could not be permitted, and only the mammoth indignation meeting in Toronto made him climb down from that position. Another was his treatment of Lord Dundonald and the contemptuous language by which he dubbed British generals in Canada as "foreigners". The third was his conduct at the conference of colonial premiers in London when he hitched up with Botha from the Transvaal, ignoring other premiers from the antipodes and rendering abortive the purpose of the convention by opposing matters which were calculated to promote imperial unity.

All these are serving gradually to disillusionize the people of Great Britain. But an argument that is likely to have more effect than any is when the pockets of Grand Trunk Pacific shareholders are touched by the increased price of construction owing to the thieving which Mr. Laurier has permitted his followers to engage in.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

About the weakest and most ridiculous cry-baby plea that could be advanced by a candidate is that of Hon. Wm. Templeman who asks consideration from the electors because he had given up a certainty for an uncertainty in abandoning the Senate for the Commons. This is like the man who killed his father and mother and when being tried for the murder pleaded for leniency on the ground that he was a poor orphan.

Yale-Cariboo is proud of Martin Burrell. That was a ringing speech of his in Vancouver. Yale-Cariboo will show their appreciation of it by adding about 26 percent more to the good majority they had formerly intended giving him.

That river dredge business over at Penticton is about as brazenly vulgar as Duncan Ross could well make it. If electors over there can't see through a thing like that and treat it as it should be treated they will justify Duncan's implied estimate of them.

The Greenwood Times has broken out again in the line of pre-election prophecy. It did so in 1903 and again in 1907. And now its latest prophetic utterance is that the arraignment of Cowan by McInnes in Vancouver, means sure defeat for Cowan. On the other occasion it was very funny in the cold gray dawn of the morning after to read these little prophecies pasted up on the wall, and the Cowan 'try' looks very like another of the same.

Next Monday will decide which party is to rule the roost in Canada for the next five years. Should the Laurier government go down it is an easy guess that Duncan Ross will throw up the sponge in Yale-Cariboo and not go to the polls on November 12th. Indeed some assert that the defeat in Yale-Cariboo is so inevitable in any case that he would welcome the defeat of the government to save his face, for it would be a decided humiliation to be beaten in a deferred election with the government returned. Nevertheless he will have only himself to blame, for it was pointed out to him months ago.

Town and District.

Election in Yale-Cariboo on November 12th.

Government agent Hugh Hunter is down from Princeton this week.

They all anathematize that execrable lay-over at Oroville.

W. C. McDougall, of Princeton, was in town on Monday.

The snowy appearance of the surrounding Mountain tops is a reminder that winter is not far off.

Travelling in the Similkameen is more comfortable this week since Sunday night's rain laid the dust.

Rev. Dr. White, superintendent of Methodist Missions, announces Methodist service in Hedley on Sunday 25th, at 7:30 p. m.

Miss MacHaffie was visiting for a few days last week with Mrs. J. J. Armstrong and Miss Armstrong at Keremeos Station.

Work is progressing on the new bridge. A temporary structure is being got ready for use during erection of the new one.

A party consisting of L. G. MacHaffie and the Misses Maclean attended a dance at Keremeos on Friday evening last.

Mrs. Terrill returned from Nicola last week, accompanied by Mrs. MacPhail, who will remain for a few weeks to regain strength after a severe illness.

While there is nothing definite yet as to when track-laying to Hedley will begin, there is a strong hunch in certain quarters that it won't be long now.

W. J. Manery is in town this week and showed the Gazette some of the apples with which he took first prize at the Nelson fair. These were the Jonathan and yellow bell-flower.

Jno. Gladden began work this week in subdividing Brushy Bottom into five and ten acre lots. There are something over 350 acres in the parcel and many choice fruit lots may be obtained from it.

Picture post-card scribblers at DAVIDSON'S.

The Steam shovel has completed its work down at Bradshaws and a gang are at work trimming up the grade. This means that grading to Hedley is practically completed and all ready for the rails.

After all it was better for Mr. Burrell to have delivered that speech in Vancouver on Saturday night than to have given it at Keremeos, for more people in this riding will know of it, than if it were given any place in Yale-Cariboo.

Jno. Gillan brought the Gazette a few samples of Granite Creek coal which looks like the pure stuff, is glossy black and glows brightly in the fire; and he says there is 60 feet of it, enabling it to be handled with steam shovel and put on the cars at a cost of 10 cents per ton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kennedy drove through as far as Princeton on Friday last returning on Saturday evening. It is understood that Mr. Kennedy contemplates removing from Keremeos to Princeton shortly. Construction work now being practically all located between Hedley and Princeton, it is inconvenient for the chief engineer to reside so far away from the centre of operations as Keremeos has become.

It is a good thing to purchase a piece of fruit land and plant it out in trees, but it is better still to take care of them after they are planted. Experts say that in some parts of the province trouble is expected next season from the Codlin moth, and spraying if left off till next spring will be too late to check the evil. J. A. Nesbitt, of Pentiction, has made arrangements for getting in a supply of Pendray's No. 1 winter tree spray of sulphur, lime and salt, which should make it hot for fruit pests. See his announcement.

Both the roads at Brushy Bottom are now in use, public traffic again finding its way through the bottom lands by the old route, and the new road around the bank has smoothed down nicely and is for the most part hard and firm and will be good at all seasons. The only drawback is its narrowness in places and the difficulty in passing where teams meet on it. It might be a good idea for teamsters to have some understanding by which all the teams going one way would take the road around the bank and those going the opposite direction keep the road through the bottom. The distance is practically the same.

MR. BURRELL AT PENTICTON.

A Rousing Meeting of the Electors of Southern Okanagan.

From our own correspondent.

Martin Burrell, Conservative candidate for Yale-Cariboo opened the political campaign here on Monday night, when he spoke for over two hours to a crowded house in Stewart's Hall. Mr. A. H. Wade as president of the Conservative Association acted as chairman and introduced the candidate to the audience. Mr. Burrell, on hearing that Mr. Winkler wished to speak on behalf of the socialist candidate stated that he could not spare him very much time, as he did not consider the Socialist party would poll a seven per cent vote in the constituency, and was, therefore not a very great factor in the Yale-Cariboo election.

Mr. Burrell during the course of his speech touched on the Lemieux provision, (Rural Mail Delivery) also Civil Service reform, which he stated should be entirely non-political, otherwise it destroyed efficiency and encouraged dishonesty. In his opinion the present Civil Service system was based on political pull, not merit, and was a disgrace to the empire. Touching on the Grand Trunk Pacific he quoted from Hansard the proposed cost of the line per mile in 1904 and the actual cost in 1908.

Mr. Burrell explained Mr. Ross' attitude on Oriental Immigration, and said at the present time Mr. Ross appeared to be having a severe attack of Bowseritis, and undoubtedly when the two gentlemen meet on the same platform it would be as interesting as a dog fight.

Regarding the Aylesworth Election Act, the candidate said that it was the last and certainly the most disgraceful thing that the Laurier government had tried to put through, and it was only owing to Mr. Borden and his colleagues taking extreme measures and blocking the supplies month after month that it did not pass the house.

Geo. E. Winkler then spoke for about fifteen minutes, touching on the usual Socialistic subjects, trusts, hard times, etc., inviting all to come and hear Charles Bunting on Thursday, the 22nd.

Mr. Burrell continuing said that he was strongly in favor of Better Terms for British Columbia, while Mr. Ross was evidently quite content with the present arrangement, having recently stated that instead of the Dominion owing B. C. anything, the shoe was on the other foot, this province owing the Federal Government $5,000,000. On this question Mr. Ross is in a very unique position, standing alone, as even W. W. B. McInnis stated recently that he was very much in favor of Better Terms.

Speaking more directly to the fruit-growers Mr. Burrell stated that he considered there should be duty on fruit coming in from the south.

Touching on the deferred election in this constituency he said it was absurd to say it was impossible to bring the election off on the 26th, and was just a piece of juggling on Duncan Ross' part. In conclusion, Mr. Burrell said the main planks of his platform were: Honest administration of public affairs and honest dealing with public money. Three rousing cheers were given the candidate at the end of his speech.

Mr. Burrell has created quite a good impression among the people here. He looks honest, and by the way he speaks he gives one the impression that he means everything he says.

Portions of the long-talked-of dredge have arrived at the mouth of Okanagan river and at present several of Duncan's staunch henchmen are employed building a bunk-house; this is likely to be the Grit headquarters when it is finished.

Pentiction is the proud owner of a good race track. This has been made under the supervision of Mr. Huycke who has been working on it day in and day out for quite a long time. Mr. Huycke has very generously given his time and work and does not intend to charge a cent for it, because he's so fond of horses.

A rather interesting shooting match will be brought off at Summerland on Saturday when teams of eight from Kelowna, Summerland and Pentiction Civilian Rifle Associations will compete for honors. The ranges will most probably be 200 and 500 yards. Colonel Holmes, D. O. C., Victoria, will, in all probability referee the shoot.
