TOO HARD TO COLLECT

That is the Reason Why Japan Decided to Forego Indemnity.

JAPAN'S ASTUTENESS SHOWN

In the Wisdom of Concluding Peace After Having Obtained All She Claimed at the Outbreak.—Getting Too Far From Base.

Japanese attaches of the peace envoys, accompanied by H. M. Dennison, the American legal adviser of the Japanese government, passed through Spokane on their way home. Mr.
Dennison, for the first time since leaving New York, discussed the treaty, the feeling in Japan and the reasons for the remarkable success of the Japanese arms. One of the Japanese members of the party was left at the Great Northern station and had to overtake his train on a hand-car.

Inferences from Mr. Dennison's interview are that the Japanese government was none too sure of continued victories or of their ability to drive the Russians further north.

"Nothing was conceded by the Japanese representatives that they were not authorized to concede before they left home," said Mr. Dennison. "The Japanese had a just claim for inden-nity, but they were not in a position to insist upon it or to force its collection. If the army of Oyama had been in St. Petersburg or Moscow it would have been in a position to force an indemnity. As it was, it had no way of doing that. It could demand, but not collect. The government felt it had a right to the money payment, but before the envoys left home they knew it would be difficult to secure this.

SAKHALIEN IS IMPORTANT.

"The indemnity was not the serious trouble between the envoys. It was made to appear so by the reports. The question of the island of Sakhalien was more important. The Russians hoped to recover by the treaty what they had lost in battle.

"If the Japanese people could have known the conditions before the envoys left home, they would not have been so bitterly disappointed. The government could not say we intend to ask an indemnity, but are not in position to insist on it or to force it.

MADE NO MISTAKE.

"Members of the party who are now en route home have no feeling whatever that any mistake was made, nor do they regret anything except that their countrymen are sorely disappointed.

"President Roosevelt did not ask the Japanese to make any concessions which were unreasonable. I think the president, as well as others, felt that an indemnity would be difficult to secure.

JAPANESE ARMY FAR FROM BASE.

"Japan wanted peace. It had pushed its army far to the north. Every additional foot gained was taken with great exertion. An army of 500,000 men was far from its supplies and had a front 80 miles long. It would have required great efforts to have pushed it farther. This is one reason why the government wanted peace.

"Organization and preparedness are the secret of the success of the Japanese arms. It was not so much Japan's generalship. The campaign was mapped out in advance, and orders were issued by the authorities in charge and these orders were carried out. The Japanese went into the war confident of victory. They felt sure of their army.

"Russia was much the stronger on the water. She had 12 battleships to Japan's six in oriental waters during the war. At Port Arthur the Russians had eight battleships to the Japanese six. Togo lost only two during the war, and these not in battle, but by mines.

NOT COMMITTING SUICIDE.

"The Japanese will be better satisfied when they more fully understand the entire situation. There is absolutely no truth in the story that Komura is committing slow suicide in New York. He is sick.

"The Japanese army will immediately be returned to peace pursuits. The men are like American volunteers, except that all had military training before they were called into the present war."

ORCHESTRA CONCERT.

An Interesting Programme Well Given, and a Good Audience.

A good house greeted the first concert of the season, given in Fraser's Hall by the Hedley Orchestra, who demonstrated their ability to entertain.
It was the first concert given in the new hall, and was a fitting commencement serving to illustrate both the excellent acoustic properties of the hall and the superior class of music which the orchestra are prepared to give.
Mr. A. H. Brown, as president of the orchestra, occupied the chair, and the programme began with a march and two-step, "Sergeant at Arms," by the orchestra, which received a hearty encore and was followed by an overture, "Heyday."

The orchestra was made up of H. A.
Wright, cornet leader; Mrs. Lyon, 1st violin; C. H. Chapman and J. Gibbon, violins; G. E. French, trombone, and Mrs. W. J. Forbes, piano accompanist.

A male quartette, "Soldier's Farewell," by Messrs. Skerving, Clark, Rolls and Dickinson, was the next number, which brought an encore to which they responded by giving "Old Kentucky Home," "Bohemian Girl" was the next piece by the orchestra, and was indeed a treat, showing as it did the excellent progress made as a result of the last few months' faithful practice and training. In this the violin solos taken by Mrs. Lyon were a notable feature, the richness and purity of tone of her fine violin being admired by all. A vocal solo, "Rowing," by Miss Mattie Stott, was next given and received a hearty encore to which response was made by singing "Loch Lomond." The orchestra's next piece, andante and waltz, "Life is a Dream," was followed by a baritone solo, "Anchored," by Mr. T. H. Dickinson, given in good voice, and to a hearty encore he responded by singing "True Till Death," which was thoroughly appreciated by the audience. The orchestra's selection "William Tell" might perhaps be considered, with the Bohemian Girl, the piece de resistance and was given in excellent form, the violin solos by Mrs. Lyon being admirably taken.
Mr. Skerving's vocal solo, "Behind the Times," was one of those unfortunate instances wherein the vocalist suffers for the sins of the song writer and composer. It was given in good voice but the song itself contained a morbid sentiment that only the most morbid of composers would choose at all for the theme of a song. In response to the encore he sang "Bluebell," a much more wholesome and more musical thing. The Geisha dance, "The Happy Jap," by the orchestra, was a spirited thing well played. The sailor's hornpipe, that work of art that never grows old, was a most pleasing number on the programme. For more than two hundred years the British tar, in all climes, in port and on the ocean, has beguiled the long hours with it, and seldom may it be seen given in these days more skillfully than as danced by Mr. G. B. Lyon. With a piano and the orchestra on the stage the movements were somewhat hampered, but nevertheless the dance was well executed by Mr. Lyon, who was compelled by the audience to repeat it. The remaining number was a march and two-step "Rough Riders" by the orchestra.

The amount realized will enable the orchestra to purchase a violoncello and a supply of music.

At the close the chairs were cleared away and a dance given until 12 o'clock, the whole orchestra providing the music.

ON THE V. V. & E.

Jottings From the Construction Camps.

Camps are scattered along the route at intervals of about a mile, and an average of 150 men in each camp.

The steel is laid to a point half-way between Curlew and Midway, and scarcity of steel is cause of the delay.

Laborers are coming into Midway at the rate of 40 per day, and distributing themselves among the various construction camps between Midway and Oroville. Contractor Shields says that 2000 men are now at work and that in November he expects to have all the laborers he will require.

SIR THOMAS SAYS BUILD

Intention of C. P. R. to Push on from Nicola to Midway

INTO SPOKANE NEXT YEAR.

Sir Thos. Shaughnessy, President of the C. P. R., has been making his annual tour of inspection accompanied by Messrs. R. B. Angus, E. B. Osler, W. D.
Matthews, L. J. Forget, Wm. Whyte, C. R. Hosmer and J. Redmond. Mr.
Angus is one of the trustees of the old Granville townsite, the other being Lord Strathcona. Mr. Osler is general counsel of the C. P. R. Mr. Matthews is a millionaire operator on the Toronto and Montreal Boards of Trade.
Mr. L. J. Forget is also a millionaire interested in stock movements and in a hundred industrial enterprises scattered throughout the country. Mr.
Whyte is second vice-president and general manager of western lines of the C. P. R., with headquarters at Winnipeg. Mr. Hosmer is another director of the great Canadian railway, and he is also heavily interested in manufacturing enterprises, the principal one being the Ogilvie Milling Company.

When on the coast Sir Thomas was interviewed by reporters for coast papers and was more communicative than usual. The Province publishes the following:

Of more direct interest to Vancouver is the statement of Sir Thomas that the C. P. R. is making plans with the ultimate intention of running the line from Spence's Bridge to Nicola Lake right through to Midway; that next year the C. P. R. will be running trains into Spokane from Yak on the line of the Crow's Nest Pass; that when destiny has worked out Vancouver will be a great shipping point for flour produced in Alberta and in British Columbia—soft wheat flour will find a ready market in Japan and China.

EXTENSION TO MIDWAY.

"We shall have to get to Nicola first," quizzically observed the railroad magnate in reply to a question about the extension of the Spence's Bridge line to Midway, "but in our report for this year we say that preparations are being made for a gradual extension through the Similkameen Valley with the ultimate intention of reaching Midway. Further than that I have no information to give at present.

INTO SPOKANE NEXT YEAR.

"With respect to our entrance into Spokane, I think that we shall be running trains in there next year over the line now being built by Mr. D. C. Corbin between Spokane and a connection with the Crow's Nest Pass branch at Yak. The C. P. R. does not own the line, but will run trains over it on a traffic arrangement."

Masonic Function.

On Thursday night last Fraser's new Hall was the scene of an important gathering in that it marked the first official step for the foundation of Free Masonry in Hedley. All the resident members of the craft who have joined in the petition for the formation of a lodge, as well as visitors within the Masonic gate, were present to meet with W. Bro. J. F. Burne, of Kelowna, who was the representative of the Grand Master. Ever jealous of the honor and traditions of the order, that high functionary must be satisfied with the honor, knowledge, integrity and skill of those seeking permission to ply the ancient craft, before recognition is given, and his representative on this occasion true to the trust reposed in him probed deeply.

When labors within the duly tyled door had ended, there was a sudden transformation in the appearance of the hall, for in a twinkling tables were laid and on a snowy-white cloth were spread out the good things provided by the ladies who preside over the homes of local Masons. The supper being ended, toasts to the King and the craft and visiting brethren were proposed and heartily drunk and called out excellent speeches from past masters, W. Bros. J. F. Burne and E. P.
Flewellling, also from W. R. Pooley, of Kelowna.

A vote of thanks to the ladies, which the secretary of the proposed Hedley lodge, Mr. A. H. Brown, was instructed to convey, brought to a close a meeting which will long be remembered in the annals of Masonry in Hedley.

The impending elections in the territories and the manner in which the machinery of party government has been used to obtain a party advantage by the Government of the Day at Ottawa appointing Liberal partisans as lieutenant-governors of each of the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, and they in turn naming partisans of the Walter Scott style of politician as premiers, is creating a degree of dissatisfaction that is likely to crystallize into action of some kind. At present it threatens to result in the formation of a third party whose ranks will be filled with Liberals who cannot stand the double-dealing of politicians who in 1896 declared for provincial rights as against a remedial bill recommended by the privy council and in 1905 disgraced themselves and their party by supporting the autonomy bill, and with conservatives who condemn the action of those conservative members at Ottawa who joined in the iniquitous sessional indemnity steal. In British Columbia the third party will have an ardent champion in Joe Martin, whilst in Manitoba and Ontario R. L. Richardson and W. F. Maclean can be counted on to drum up a horde of recruits. Haultain is making Provincial Rights pure and simple, the issue in his campaign, while Scott, premier, by the assistance of a large foreign Catholic representation in his constituency expects to brazen out the wrong.

The smelter question is the all-absorbing topic in the Boundary. Manager Thomas of the Dominion Copper Co. is highly amused at the efforts made by local parties to locate the company's new smelter. Grand Forks had it settled that the smelter was to be built alongside the Granby's, but Mr. Thomas didn't know anything about it. We have had a little smelter problem of our own here in the Similkameen, but the question was not one of location as no other site except Hedley was considered. The question here was to smelt or not to smelt. The Similkameen smelter guessers, however, don't do things by halves and in one short week a twelve furnace affair rises up from what was to be an eternal cabbage yard, the "dwarfed instinct" so badly diseased with "atrophy of religion mind and heart" having meanwhile in some unaccountable way received a quickening. Nevertheless Hedley all in good time is going to have a good big smelter and will still keep forging ahead of all others as it has always done until it becomes the metropolis not only of the Similkameen but the whole southern interior. As yet no particular number of furnaces nor anything else has been determined on and any assertion purporting to give details is merely cheap guess-work.

The proposal of the czar of Russia to send out invitations for a second peace conference at the Hague seems at this particular time to be an impudent farce. After the first conference, assembled on invitations which he sent out, he, although an absolute monarch, allowed his government to precipitate an unjust war with Japan. That war came near costing him both his life and his throne, and perhaps the recollection of the days when he was shut away in Peterhof, fearing to show himself may have given him a yearning for lasting peace, but the exercise of a little common sense should show him that if he wishes to avoid war, it is not with other nations he should concern himself but with his own rotten government. So far as other nations are concerned it does not appear as if another sham at the Hague would benefit him. The first conference was used as a blind for the purpose of Russian intrigue in the far east, and prudence should warn other nations that this second conference should be taken by them as evidence that Adam Zad is contemplating further intrigue.

Distinguished Visitors.

On Monday afternoon M. K. Rodgers returned from the Boundary accompanied by a party composed of Cawthra Mulock, M. J. Haney and J. O. Walsh. Mr. Mulock is a son of the Postmaster-general and has just come into a fortune of five million dollars. Mr. Haney is a well-known railway contractor who built the Crow's Nest line, and Mr. Walsh is an editor of the Montreal Star who makes a specialty of looking after the mining end. They were making a tour of the west in Mr. Mulock's private car, and Mr. Rodgers who fell in with them advised them to take in the Similkameen on their trip. They spent Tuesday at the Nickel Plate mine and on Wednesday left for Spence's Bridge where the private car would pick them up again. They will take in Portland, San Francisco and other western points before returning.

Smart Dressers

Young men are as a general thing the smartest dressers. The up-to-the-moment young man is a sort of lexicon of clothes style and correctness. He knows what's what, and gets it. But good fit, the newest colors, patterns, etc., aren't enough, for unless that snappy, jaunty appearance—characteristic of our excellent tailor-made clothing—is there, it isn't what the young man wants. Our success in pleasing young men is not just "luck"—it's due to our knowledge of what the young man wants, and our ability to provide it for him. Then again, our prices are always reasonable.

J. Gladden is still at work taking levels and obtaining data for the Daly Reduction Co., who are considering the early installation of a further power plant to make use of the waters of the Similkameen.

The Victoria Times now comes out printed on a large web perfecting press which turns the paper out in a much more creditable shape than formerly. To the Times these are evidently times of prosperity.

Pat Welch, contractor, who has been awarded the building of the portion of the V. V. & E. between Oroville and Keremeos, has been in the valley this week and it is said that this fall may see building operations under way in the valley on this side of the line.

Campbell & Shier have put in a large stock of gents' furnishings and are prepared to rig a man out from socks to overcoat. They have a tailoring department in connection in which shabby clothing is renovated, pressed and turned out looking like new.

C. Croteau, mining man from the Burnt Basin district near Rossland was in town last week. He came over the West Fork trail from Carmi to Pentiction and thence over into the Similkameen. Lack of time prevented him from seeing as much of this valley as he would like.

A little girl tells what she knows about King Solomon in the following essay: "King Solomon was a man who lived ever so many years ago, and in the land in which he governed he was the whole thing. King Solomon built Solomon's Temple, and was the father of all the Masons. He had seven hundred wives and two hundred lady friends, and that is why there are so many Masons in the world."

Hedley is well represented at the Dominion Exhibition at Westminster this week. If every other place in the province as distant and difficult to reach as Hedley is at present, will furnish a representation that will make as large a percentage of the total population, the province will do itself proud. With those who went out last week, and who have gone or are going this week, there will be a good turnout from the banner town of the Similkameen.

Fredric Keffler returned from Copper Mountain, and on Thursday of last week left Hedley for the Apex Group accompanied by D. Morrison, Supt. of the Sunset work and M. Lehmer, of Greenwood. The car was not running that day, and they were obliged to walk. As they took the tramway for it, the climb must have proven an appetizer. From the Nickel Plate they walked over to the Apex Camp, and Mr. Keffler went out by way of Olalla.

Rev. A. J. Fowle held service in Fraser's hall on Sunday evening last. This was Mr. Fowle's last service here, as he has notified the Presbytery that it is his intention to seek a less arduous field of labor. His health, which has not been satisfactory since last winter, when his strength was overtaxed in endeavoring to cover the distance between Princeton and Fairview in all kinds of weather, has made it necessary for him to take this step. In all probability he will return to Ontario. He expects that the Presbytery will send another man to take his place here, but he had no definite announcement to make concerning it.

Sixty cars of freight were received at Midway in 8 days.

Boundary Pioneers' Association met at Midway last week, and had a good time.

John Houston, mayor of Nelson, who was missing for several weeks, has turned up in Tonopah, Nev.

Midway has formed a citizens' association to boost the town. The new blood is evidently proving a good thing.

W. Hopkins started last week for the coast on horse back, taking with him six cayuses which he intended to dispose of on the coast.

Geo. Cawston returned on Monday from a two weeks' trip over into Washington and Idaho. He rode over to Rock Creek and from there took the stage to Curlew.

The Tariff Commission, of which Fielding is the big push, visited the Boundary last week. Local mining men suggested sundry changes in the tariff.

A new licensing district has been formed for the Greenwood Electoral District. Geo. Cunningham, Jas. Kerr and John R. Jackson are the commissioners.

L. G. MacHaffie, of the Bank of B.N. A., left on Saturday night on a flying visit to Pentiction, returning on Monday. Pentiction is a very pleasant place to spend Sunday. The lake is over there.

Coast papers indicate that the Daly Reduction Company have thrown up the bond which they had held on the Lillooet properties near Ashcroft. They are said to have expended a considerable sum on finding out what the properties contained, and the results did not come up to the standard required.

RIFLEMEN ORGANIZE.

To be Known as The Hedley Rifle Association.

The meeting called for Saturday evening in Fraser's hall, to organize a rifle association in Hedley was a decided success. About twenty enthusiastic riflemen were present and all were in favor of organizing. A Megraw was appointed chairman of the meeting, and T. D. Pickard secretary.

After discussion of the benefits to be derived from affiliation with a central organization, it was decided to organize along the lines followed by the Dominion and Provincial Associations but to defer full affiliation until later. One of the principal reasons for deciding to defer was that the regular supply of regulation rifles usually given out for the use of local associations were not obtainable at present as the Government are just now considering the adoption of a new arm for the service.

A motion was passed fixing the name of the Club as the Hedley Rifle Association, after which the following officers were elected:

President, A. Megraw,
Secretary, T. D. Pickard, Treasurer, A. H. Brown.

A committee of five were appointed to draft by-laws, rules and regulations to govern the association. The committee appointed for this purpose were Messrs Brown, Forbes, Megraw, Boeing and Pickard.

The annual membership fee was fixed at $3.00 and it was decided to allow until Oct. 7th to take in further members, after which each one joining must be elected by ballot.

The chairman appointed Messrs Reid, Barnes and Hardwick a committee to obtain further members before the 7th of October.

It is the intention to hold one or more association matches this fall and winter.

The meeting then adjourned until Saturday, October 7th.

Money

Hedley is the supply point for the Nickel Plate mountain, on which is situated the famous "Nickel Plate"—the richest gold mine in Canada—and many other promising mines and prospects. It is the mining and business centre of the

Similkameen

the new mining district which has already been proven, by a small amount of development work, to be one of the richest gold, copper and coal mining sections of British Columbia.

HEDLEY is the chief town on the route of the proposed Coast-Kootenay Railway; and with the advent of this road, which is assured in the near future, it will unquestionably become a large and important city, and town lots will bring big returns on money invested at the present time.
