Sees Future For B. C. Mining

P. A. O'Farrell, whose authority on mining matters is considered to be that of an expert, and who is in Spokane on business, in an interview regarding the mining outlook in British Columbia appears unusually optimistic as to the future, and has this to say: "British Columbia mines will boom as never before."

"Canada is determined to foster every branch of the metal-mining industry."

"Great Britain has given the Trail smelter contracts for all the zinc, lead and copper it can produce in two years at eminently satisfactory prices."

"The Canadian Pacific railway has decided to make the Trail smelter the equal of the greatest reduction works on the American continent."

Mr. O'Farrell has just completed a tour of the Kootenay mining camps in the interest of the Canadian Pacific, whose plans for the quick development of the metal mining industry he is engaged in advancing.—Phoenix Pioneer

Northport's Boom Continues to Grow

Northport is a busy place these days. The big lead strike and the reconstruction work going on at the old Northport smelter is attracting many new comers.

Roy Young, one of the owners of the Electric Point, near Northport, the mine where the big 40-foot ledge was discovered in July, on which work was started last month, says that the showing is looking better than ever. Seven miners are employed and they have opened the big shoot to a depth of 24 feet, incidentally taking out 300 tons of ore.

The carbonates, which constitute about half the ore extracted, run from 34 to 41 per cent in lead, and the galena around 79 per cent, it is reported. As soon as the wagon road Mr. Young is now building to the mine from the country road along Silver creek is completed, he says, he will be able to ship a large tonnage to the smelter. He has posted "Not for sale" notices at the mine to try to get rid of would-be purchasers.

Jerome Day, of Moscow, Idaho, is at Northport, directing the work of restoration at the smelter. Work is progressing with a force of about 90 men. No more will be put on until the material and machinery ordered begin to arrive.

Most of the vacant business houses in Northport are being occupied, and one grocery, one drug store, one pool hall and two restaurants and lodging houses have been added. Most of the long vacant cottages have been occupied by families, attracted by either the opening of the high school or the resumption of the work at the smelter. The Broderius' block and the Northport Drug company's building are being repaired and repainted, and the business section generally is assuming a prosperous air.

Divine Service will be conducted in the church on Sunday, Sept. 19th at 7:30 p.m. Subject—Christian Science or Mental Assassination, a Physical, Intellectual, Moral and Spiritual Peril. A hearty invitation is extended to all. Preacher R. G. Stewart

Hedley People Pay Visit to Vernon Camp

Hearing that the men of the 54th Battalion were slated to leave Vernon in the near future, some of our Hedley people decided to go up and see them, perhaps for the last time till the war is over. Two auto loads were made up. G. P. Jones taking eight people and Frank French five.

The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Jones and Gomer. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jones and Henry. Mrs. Knowles and Miss Miller, Frank French, Paddy Murray, Grant Knowles, Tommy Rotherham and Billy McDougall.

The trip was made in about eight hours running time, a stop being made at Peachland for lunch.

The entire party visited the camp and had some interesting news to tell us. The 54th Battalion is without doubt the finest bunch of men in Vernon and the Hedley boys are amongst the best in the Battalion.

The men are all contented and happy despite the fact that they have to sleep on blankets laid on the bare ground, mattresses or straw to make them, not having been issued to them, but as they hope soon to leave for the Old Country, they are not kicking at all at their present lot, and indeed in the warm weather they feel it is not at all bad. All are eager for the front and the experiences that lie just before them.

Vernon is the busiest place in the interior at present. The Hedley party visited the income camp and saw the men at work. They are housed in wooden buildings, are well fed and have nothing whatever to complain of, in fact seem to be well contented and happy.

Among Hedleys old time fellows who were seen at Vernon are Dicky James, Tripod Harry, George Pierce, Mark Donnelly and Bobby Bartlett, the latter is the drummer in one band and bugler in another.

During the time that the party were at Vernon the men were engaged in practicing for the grand review which was held yesterday for the Governor General of Canada, His Royal Highness, The Duke of Connaught. In this review the 54th took a prominent part.

The impression given to the Gazette in conversation with members of the party, was, that they are very proud of our boys and of the Battalion and are sure that they will make a name for themselves at the front.

Ten of Pentiction's finest sports passed through last night on the way to Aspen Grove for a hunting excursion. They came in two autos and had on board all kinds of ammunition and shooting irons besides baggage. The party consisted of Messrs Jos. Markie, D. J. McIntyre, J. Plaskett, Dr. H. McGregor, H. M. Ramsey, Chas. Burch, Art Thompson and Mr. Nicholson.

Under the direction of the Hon. the Minister of Lands, an attractive pamphlet entitled "British Columbia Timber" has been prepared for distribution among the buyers in overseas markets. It is intended to draw the attention of importers overseas to the forest products of the province, and especially to the facilities for exporting British Columbia lumber. Consisting of nearly forty pages, and containing nearly thirty illustrations, the pamphlet treats of the principal exportable woods, their qualities and uses, together with information concerning their strength values, and suitability for various uses.

An Open Letter To Women of Canada

The following letter concerning the need for fighting men, is addressed to the women of Canada, by the National Committee of Women for Patriotic Service, Toronto.

A year ago the thunderbolt of war fell upon us out of a clear sky! After the first moment of surprise and confusion had passed, we asked, "How can we help?"

During the year that has passed that question has found many answers. The trained nurse quickly proved her value. Other women were called upon to organize and direct Red Cross and St. John Ambulance work or Patriotic Societies, while all gave time or money or personal service in preparing supplies.

To comparatively few came the need for the supreme sacrifice—the sending forth of husband, son or brother to the fight. The first appeal for volunteers was limited and did not appear very urgent. All honor to those who hear and obey the earliest call of Empire and whose women sent them forth with pride to fight in the front rank of the Canadian forces.

Today the situation has changed. We have learnt, after a year of war, that our task is harder, our danger more real, than we thought a year ago. We have "given" gladly, now we are called to "give up," and service must fulfil itself in sacrifice. Most urgent of all today is the call to give up ungrudgingly our husbands, sons and brothers. We are called to create in our homes such an atmosphere of self-devotion that our men and boys may feel their resolution to offer themselves in their country's service is simply what we expect of them.

This does not mean that women should be constantly urging their men to enlist, for it is doubtful if the patriotic persistence of a wife or mother would produce anything but a reluctant and resentful recruit. The men of Canada have not shown themselves less patriotic than their women; but it is for us, the women of Canada, to ask ourselves whether our self-sacrifice is falling short of the supreme test.

Are we making it hard or easy for our men to obey their country's call to service?

Why is the call so urgent now? The answer is simple: it is because our existence as an Empire is at stake. We went into the war to keep our solemn pledges to our Allies; and this reason still holds good.

But there are now other reasons which did not exist a year ago. Belgium with her ravaged land and exiled people cries aloud for justice. What do Canadian women say to the appeals of her outraged women and mutilated children? They have suffered for us; what are we willing to suffer for them?

The women of France and Russia and the United Kingdom have long ago heard the appeal to give up their men, and have responded nobly. What will Canadian women do?

Beyond the keeping of our pledged word, the woe of Belgium, and the example of our Allies, there comes to us today the knowledge that we are called on to fight our own battle; not to send help to Belgium or France or even England, but to fight for our own national existence.

We are told by the men who know that we cannot win in this war without more men.

If we hold back our men we are courting defeat; and defeat means, not a vague misfortune to the Empire at large, but the very practical result of a Canada governed by Germans.

Do we want to know what that would mean? Then let us look at Belgium, and learn how the yoke of the conqueror galls the neck of a freedom-loving people. Defeat would mean for us a period of bitterest shame and discontent and then—another war. Can we risk it? We are risking it if we do not make the path of service easy for our men.

But the most compelling call for sacrifice rings out from the graves of those who on the fields of Flanders, at Langemarck, and Ypres, and Festubert, have blazed the trail to glory with their life blood.

Can we make their self-surrender of no avail by holding back the men who would take up and complete their splendid task?

There is a saving which is losing; is it worth "saving" our men from death if we lose their respect? There is a loss which is gain; even though we learn to face "Desperate tides of the whole great world's anguish, forced through the channels of a single heart."

We are called to scale the gleaming peaks of self-sacrifice, in the company of our brave sisters of the Allied nations.

What will the women of Canada do?

R. J. McDougall, of the Pentiction Herald, came over with H. A. Turner Sunday, the former took Monday's train to Princeton and returned by rail to Pentiction. The latter returned Tuesday by auto.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

O. H. Carle was a visitor to town Monday and Tuesday.

O. A. Thompson and wife left for Oroville Monday for a short visit.

Mr. Brenton, who has been here for some time tuning pianos, left Monday for Keremeos.

The editor and his wife were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Winkler for Sunday dinner.

Roy Porritt, a miner of Salmo, came into town Monday and promptly landed a job at the mine.

W. Slattery, a miner from the Britannia mine is in town renewing old acquaintances among the miners of this camp.

Joe Goodwin passed through Hedley Tuesday with a brand new Ford machine which he was delivering to a purchaser at Greenwood.

John Cosgrove was in town Monday. John says he has quit betting on the horses, till the next time. But he'll pick a winner next time.

Grand Forks Annual Fall Fair will be held on September 28 and 29, and a very fine program of events and prize list has been prepared.

George French is confined to the house suffering from an attack of rheumatism, but under the doctor's care hopes to be around in a few days.

H. S. Votaw was a passenger to Spokane, Monday, where he expects to visit for about a week. Charlie will have charge of the office in his absence.

Frank Sophy, an old timer of this district returned Monday, and made provision for the winter by landing a job on the ranch of Mine Host Winkler, a snug berth.

Neil Heuston, a placer miner, well known in this district, is shaking hands with his numerous friends in Hedley. He says Hedley looks as good to him as any place he has seen.

Mrs. Meirhofer and nephew left Monday for a visit to her old home in St. Paul, Minn. from which she has been absent for about twelve years. She will visit her sister and numerous friends, and does not expect to return for about six weeks.

Little Marguerite Jones met with a very painful accident Saturday when she fell on a rock near the house and broke her wrist. Dr. McEwen was at once called and set the injured member, and little Marguerite is getting along well towards recovery.

Subscribers to the gun fund are requested to hand in the amount of their subscription to the secretary of the Patriotic Funds Committee, C. P. Dalton, in order that the amount may be made up and the books balanced as far as this fund is concerned.

Tommy Melville, who fell from his horse Labor Day and broke his collar bone, gamely stayed by the races to the end and won the turnstake race, was finally persuaded to go to the hospital where he was attended by Dr. McEwen and left the next day for his home at Keremeos.

The announcement is made that the recruiting offices are now accepting men of the class who cannot qualify for overseas service, for the purpose of home defence. A considerable number of men will be used for this service under present conditions and if the United States becomes involved in the war, it is more than likely Canada would need quite a few men to protect her borders from the ravages of the Germans who are now held in check across the line.

Notice was posted Tuesday that the Great Northern Railway Company would inaugurate the thrice-a-week service again for the rest of the year and until the coast connection was completed. The demand for service to take care of the fruit shipping was the excuse for putting on the daily service and the company claims to have operated it at a loss.

H. G. Freeman was a visitor to Penticton Tuesday for the purpose of meeting and bringing home Mrs. Freeman, who has been in Moosejaw for some time, getting over an attack of appendicitis. They arrived home yesterday morning. George Riddle's auto service was the mode of transportation used, a service which is becoming more popular every day.

Nat Darling, an old timer, and now cigar salesman out of Vancouver, and Al Campbell, liquor salesman from the same little hamlet, paid our big city a business call Monday, but met so many old friends in this metropolis that they were induced to stay over for Tuesday also. The old boys all like to get back to little Hedley for a visit.

J. A. Schubert, of Tulameen, passed through Monday on his way to Vernon to visit his son Bert, one of the boys who enlisted from Hedley. It was the decision of Bertie Schubert which seemed to break the ice and make it easier for some of the other boys who wanted to go, but didn't have the courage to be the first one to start, and Bertie was the starter.

Old Joe, the German, had the misfortune to fall off the sidewalk and bruise his right arm, he tried home treatment, applications of hot water, very hot, but the result was nil, so he finally went to Dr. McEwen, who now has him fixed up and well on the road to recovery. But Joe does not like the idea of going to the hospital. There is no canteen at that institution, and that his Teutonic soul sorely craves.

Last Thursday Keremeos held its annual flower show. Owing to the change of schedule on the Great Northern line our Keremeos correspondence was delayed and we are unable to announce the winners of the various prizes in the show. We are able to state, however, that the show was a greater success than ever, the attendance well up to record and the returns a very satisfactory quantity.

S. E. Hamilton returned home Monday, having spent some months in the New Manitoba gold fields, so called. The trip certainly did him good in a physical sense, as he is now 25 pounds heavier than when he went away. His report on the location up there is nothing to go wild about, although he admits that there is gold there, in places and in quantities where, to his mind, development would be difficult, if not unprofitable. There are fellows there who make bigger claims and who show some wonderful samples, but the interests who would do the development work are not taking them up very rapidly. The Pas Board of Trade is spending good money to boost the place, but what little good mineral is there would not offer very much inducement to a big company to do anything with it. There is a section of the country he would like to look over again when conditions were more favorable for prospecting work, a section which so far has been practically overlooked. So many claims are staked but not recorded that it is discouraging to a new comer.

The Gazette will be pleased to publish letters from its readers on all questions of public interest, provided the writer gives full name and address. The letter may be published under a nom de plume if so desired. In no case will the editor be responsible for the opinions expressed and does not necessarily endorse them.

Editor, Hedley Gazette, Hedley, B. C.

Sir:—Still floundering in a morass of improved statements, the Rev. R. G. Stewart renews his attack on Christian Science in last week's issue. Surely he must know that the intelligent public will demand more than his mere dictum or slanderous aspersions to convince them. His criticisms utterly fail when analyzed and in face of the fact that those people whom he characterizes as fools and being fooled by Christian Science, embrace ministers of all denominations who have accepted the teachings of this world wide religion, farmers, doctors, merchants, army officers, working men, college professors, journalists, senators, judges, nurses, lawyers, etc., have found the truth as expounded and practised by Jesus, through Christian Science. When a minister is so bumptious and bigoted as to denounce these as being fooled, there is danger of his pride taking the deserved fall.

The reverend gentleman, as with many unscientific critics, takes a few words from Science and Health, as follows: "Evil is nothing, page 330," "the unreal and nothingness of evil," and from these bases a tirade of illogical denunciation.

The Bible states that God made all and all that He made was good. He could not make evil. Anything that He did not make is not real, is nothing. What is evil or devil? Jesus said devil or evil; personalizing it for illustration, is a liar and the father of lies. Thus only truth is real. A lie can have no real existence because God made all and all He made was good. "A lie has its origin in the carnal, human, mind, not in the Divine mind. God is Spirit and He made man in His own image and likeness, therefore man is spiritual. The carnal, matter mind is at enmity with God and the flesh man or dust man, in which it is active is subject to sin, sickness and death, but the believing man, made in God's image, is immortal. "It is the Spirit that quickeneth, the flesh profiteth nothing."

Reading Science and Health prayerfully and carefully is not enough, it must be read intelligently. Its spiritual interpretation of the scriptures has caused an unparalleled demand for the book, four hundred thousand copies being sold in a short time after publication in 1876. Christian Science churches are rising rapidly in this and every land and when built are filled. Its practice of primitive Christianity as Jesus taught, will end wars, bring in the true brotherhood of man and hasten the coming of everlasting joy.

Jesus proved the nothingness of matter when the stone rolled away at the grave, when he fed the multitude, when he fasted forty days in the wilderness, when his body vanished while the disciples gazed. Even some of our present day natural scientists affirm the nothingness of matter. Spiritual things cannot be discerned by a man steeped in materialism, who worships other gods and puts faith in material remedies. Jesus never used medicine and His command was to heal the sick as He did—through the power of divine mind. The historian Gibbon and contemporaneous writers of the second and third centuries record that healing was performed as Jesus did until the teachings of Hippocrates and Aesculapius gained the adherence of those who fell away from the Christ method. Every known disease has been cured through the ministrations of Christian Science practitioners. Where the Christ method of healing is faithfully applied there can be no failure. Because of unbelief Jesus could do no

Concluding let me quote: I Cor. 2:14, "But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God; for they are foolishness unto him, neither can he know them because they are spiritually discerned." Those ministers pretending to teach the scriptures are thus referred to: Luke 11:52—Woe unto you, lawyers, for ye have taken away the key of knowledge; ye will not enter in yourselves and them that were entering in ye hindered."
