Chas. Saunders Writes From England

W. Hambly is in receipt of a letter from Charley Saunders, which he kindly gave us for publication.

Bulford Camp, Salisbury, Wilts,
Sept 5th, 1915

Dear Friend Billy,

Just a line to let you know how I am getting along these days and I hope this letter will find you in the best of health as it leaves me at present. Well Billy you will see by this letter that I have joined up and I am now a driver in the R. F. A. We are training on Salisbury Plains about 83 miles from London and it is a very nice place I enlisted on the 26th of August and I left London on the 28th. I enlisted for the Royal Engineers but after I had seen the doctor they told me they were full up for the time being and they said they could put me in the R. F. A. so it was alright with me anyway I might get transferred after awhile but I hardly think so they are so short of drivers on the Artillery. I have been here about 8 days now and getting along pretty good for a greenhorn. Was up at 4.30 yesterday morning and was out till 6 at night. There are so many horses here you are never done and half of them are Broncho's from the States and Canada.

Well Billy I was out with Tommy Calvart, on the last night I was home. He came up to London for 4 days and he wanted me to wait and try and join the Canadians but it was too la have I as I had signed up I don't thhly shit Tommy will go to Fran[illegible] a price ile by what he told me altho[illegible]gid. Contingent is going soon [illegible]e but Tommy is an officers serv[illegible]ink the [illegible] and the officer is not going yet. I might say I saw Danny Dollemore and Johnny Corrigan in Dover but did not have much time to talk to them. Well Billy how are things going on up at the mine these days just the same as ever I guess. You must remember me to all of them, I promised to write to a bunch of them but I never did yet, but you tell them I will write after awhile. I am going to have my picture taken and then I will write to several of the boys up there. I want you to remember me to J. Holland and wife, Prideau and wife, Sampson and wife, Mr. W. and wife and Eddie and Arthur and also your Father and Mother and Katie Jack Grieves. I am not going to say much more this time as it is very near parade time again. 4.30 for stables and I have an awful long address to write down. So good-bye now, wishing you the best of luck I remain,

Your old pal,
Charlie

Mining Dividends

The following British Columbia companies have paid dividends for the quarter:

Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company	8%	$116,094
Granby Consolidated M., S. and P. Co.	6%	$224,472
Hedley Gold Mining Co.	20%	60,000
Standard Silver Lead Co., (monthly)	30%	50,000

New South Wales has a mountain from which a stone yielding 80 per cent alum has been mined for more than half a century.

Public Meeting Discusses Gun Fund

Owing to the fact that the government has practically purchased the out put of the factories for some time to come, the purchase of machine guns is out of the question, and the committee in charge of the fund, found it desirable to call a public meeting to discuss the whole subject.

On Saturday, September 18th a meeting was held at the mine, for that purpose.

On motion of R. Hamill and L. S. Morrison, the names of W. Sampson and G. Prideau were added to the Patriotic Funds committee. Carried.

Moved by J. R. Brown, That owing to the fact that the Government of Canada has contracted for the entire output of the machine gun factories, it is Resolved that all monies subscribed by the employes of the Hedley Gold Mining Company, for a machine gun fund, may be used by the Hedley Patriotic Funds Committee for the assistance of Hedley enlisted men. The Red Cross Society, Canadian Patriotic Funds Society, or any other charitable purpose that the committee may deem it advisable to use it for. Carried.

At a public meeting held in Hedley Opera House Tuesday to discuss this fund, on motion of J. D. Brass and R. S. Collin a resolution similarly worded was put through, authorizing the committee to use the fund for the above societies or any other charitable purpose for which they may see fit to use it.

On motion of H. D. Barnes and J. G. Webster it was decided to appoint two auditors, whose duty it would be to audit the accounts and books every three months.

H. D. Barnes and F. M. Gillespie were elected auditors.

The meeting then adjourned.

TEN YEARS AGO

(From the Hedley Gazette of Sept. 28, 1905.)

C. F. Law announces a big copper strike at the head of Bear creek.

W. T. Hunter, of Greenwood, has a bond on the Carmi mine on the West Fork of Kettle river, at $100,000.

Geo. Kirby and Hans Richter went through last week with a party from Keremeos on their way to the Dominion Fair, going out by way of the Hope trail.

Work is proceeding on the flume, to prepare for winter by boarding it up on the outside. In this way it is hoped that the trouble from freezing up will be obviated.

J. Gladden is still at work taking levels and obtaining data for the Daly Reduction Co., who are considering the early installation of a further power plant to make use of the waters of the Similkameen.

Frederic Keffer returned from Copper Mountain, and on Thursday of last week left Hedley for the Apex Group accompanied by D. Morrison, Supt. of the Sunset work and M. Lehmer, of Greenwood. The car was not running that day, and they were obliged to walk. As they took the tramway for it, the climb must have proven an appetizer. From the Nickel Plate they walked over to the Apex Camp, and Mr. Keffer went out by way of Olalla.

O. H. Carle and boy were in town Tuesday.

Putting an End to a Conspiracy

In demanding the recall of Dr. Dumba, President Wilson has done more than rebuke an indiscreet diplomatist who was found guilty of grossly reprehensible conduct.

He has served notice upon both Germany and Austria that there is an end to the anti American conspiracy which they have subsidized in this country in flagrant disregard of international good faith and international decency.

The President's note of dismissal will be read with no less attention and interest in Berlin than in Vienna. The punishment falls directly upon Dr. Dumba, but the President's action in its entirety is directed to all whom it may concern.

President Wilson in dealing with the Dumba matter has again shown that clearness and steadiness of purpose which have characterized his foreign policy throughout the war. There was no unseemly haste, but there was no needless delay. When all the facts were in his possession he acted and acted in accordance with the honor and dignity of the Republic. While Washington was still guessing what course he would adopt, the note to Vienna was on its way.

In the end the President's disposition of the Dumba incident will make for a better understanding between the United States and Germany and Austria. It will clear the air. Both Berlin and Vienna have had to learn that the United States is a Nation, Hitherto they have regarded it as a congeries of European immigrants of various races and conflicting sentiments who were to be dealt with as pro-German or pro-British, as the case might be. The pro-German element has been stimulated to putforth all its influence and all its efforts in behalf of the Teutonic alliance. No obligations of any sort to the United States have been recognized. The element that was not pro-German has been treated as pro-British, to be subdued as a hostile people. That there might be Americans in this country with rights that belligerents were bound to respect has apparently never entered into the calculation of Berlin and Vienna.

Unquestionably the German and Austrian Governments have been much deceived by the violence, the shamelessness and the flagrant disloyalty of many so called American citizens of German birth or decent. They have been deceived too by the beneficiaries of their own subsidized propaganda which reported what it was paid to report. These hirelings, in their zeal to earn their tainted money, have done their best to convince Berlin and Vienna that this country was a legitimate battle-ground of conflicting belligerent interests, and that a powerful public opinion could be arrayed in support of anything that the German and Austrian Governments might undertake to do in bending the United States to their military needs.

That has been the most serious factor in the diplomatic negotiations between the United States and Germany in respect to submarine warfare. Germany has persisted in looking upon the United States as one-quarter German, and into believing that the other three-quarters could be silenced by intrigue and intimidation.

The Dumba incident has given to the President the long-needed opportunity to disillusion Germany and Austria and to assert once and for all the dignity and the sovereignty of the Republic. The awakening may be painful both in Berlin and Vienna, but if Germany and Austria are at all desirous of maintaining friendly relations with the United States, the most formidable obstacles—which were of their own creation—are now out of the way. President Wilson's note demanding the recall of the Austrian envoy will give them a clearer idea of the temper and purposes of the American Government and the American people than they have yet had. There is still time for them to change their methods and their point of view toward this country.

The President has ended an intolerable situation, and has ended it in a manner that reflects the highest credit upon himself, upon the Government of the United States and upon the American people.—New York World.

Granby Smelters Make New Records

Granby Consolidated made a new high production record in the month of July, turning out 3,380,397 pounds of copper from its two smelters, according to details just made public. This compared with 3,626,929 pounds in June and 3,684,115 pounds in May.

The new smelter at Anyox made its best performance to date at 2,264,615 pounds, while Grand Forks contributed 1,624,782 pounds. The production in higher values were: Anyox, 28,627 oz. silver and 1,084 oz. gold; Grand Forks, 22,433 oz. silver and 3,488 oz. gold.—Grand Forks Gazette.

The Miners and the War

While our soldiers are fighting valiently at the front for the victory that is sooner or later to come to the Allied forces, we have in our midst an element that are giving in proportion to their means in support of the soldier's dependants an amount each month, that counts for much.

The Daily Miner, going as it does into the trenches and to the various concentration camps, will carry to the gallant men these glad tidings.

In another column of this paper is to be found the monthly report of the Patriotic committees of the Le Roi, War Eagle and Centre Star mines, which committees have apportioned to the various Patriotic funds from the amout subscribed by the men the sum of $2,300 for the month just ended, besides setting aside a substantial sum for emergency cases.

With a display of loyalty, and with the consideration that is characteristic of the miner for their fellow man and their families, they agree by resolution to continue the work of aiding the dependants through the various channels handling the funds, and in caring for the soldiers by giving support to the Red Cross for a further period of six months.

Few, if any mining sections have so freely given as have the miners of Rossland, and they are praised for their liberality and determination to aid further those who are facing the enemy in the struggle for freedom.—Rossland Miner.

The Great Western mine, being operated by Sidney Norman of Spokane, is in a good body of lead ore, the management states. Shipments will be begun in 3 or 4 weeks. Ten miners are employed now and the force will be increased as soon as the tunnel taps the shaft and thus improves the ventilation.

AN APPEAL

If there is anything we can say to emphasize the appeal to every good man and woman to put your last ounce of strength and influence at the back of the government at this time when the whole Empire is engaged in the supreme effort of the war, we wish to say it.

Does the sense of duty appeal to you? There may be those who turn a deaf ear to the appeal, but you are not one. Just where your duty lies is not for us to suggest.

How about patriotism? The very few within the influence of this paper who are not amenable to the stirring feelings of patriotism, must ere this have realized what the loss to themselves really is, when they see the happiness others derive from their soul-stirring love of country. How about you?

What of the future? Do you line up with the heroes, or with those who could have but did not face the emergency of the Empire, like a man?

With all the good news yet to come, how will you feel when the wire begins to tell of the glorious assaults the victorious charges, the conquering marches, and the home-coming of the boys who have given up all and risked death for love and truth and justice?

PROHIBITION

The prohibition topic seems to occupy a large part in the minds of the people of the province at this time. But the thing that we have to consider most is the form of prohibition. A law which does not absolutely and totally prohibit the manufacture, sale and importation, would be of no use to the province and would only be a detriment.

It seems as though it would be infinitely better to wait till the time was ripe to put on the statute book such a law. At present it certainly is inopportune to interfere with a business which is so heavily taxed and produces so much revenue as this liquor business does. Just now that revenue is needed and is a mighty handy asset.

Again, there is the matter of compensation. The B. C. government, aiming at the perfection of legislation on this very troublesome question, has gradually, through the years enacted legislation which has entailed expense on the hotel men, which in some cases has meant the investment of considerable sums of money. Is it fair to shut down now on these men and deny them the time to reimburse themselves for this expense. There are two sides to every question and there is such a thing as being too zealous, to the extent of working a hardship on individuals, who whatever their business may be, are good citizens, good neigbors, good business men and in some instances have the respect and regard of the very best people of the town in which they carry on the business of looking after the wants of the travelling public.

THE CRISIS IN B. C.

If anyone doubts that we have arrived at the crisis in B. C. we ask them to contemplate the sight of the ministers who subscribe to the Ministerial Association forsaking the once enticing field of gospel preaching to take sides in a political discussion. Not only that but in this case the men who preach about obeying the law and honoring those who are placed in authority over you, now appear in the role of those who are casting reflection and abuse on the government and all its agents.

The Crisis to that type of politician arrives when he sees himself out of power.

They even went to the Trades Congress with their troubles, Wonder if the members of the Congress are aware that the papers of the province have been circularised by those cheap politicians with a view to advertising their "critical position"? But the crisis is so critical with them that they can't afford to pay even one of those aforesaid papers for the printing of their appeal, it is run off on some mimeograph, the emblem of the sweat-shop, perhaps this same machine has produced several other anti-government diatribes before.

The Crisis in B. C. is the same crisis in which the nation and the empire are engaged, we are at war, and if these ministers had more sense and less greed for political power, they would realize that in this time of the Empire's crisis, they would serve the country better by backing the government and giving it every ounce of their support, than by muck-raking and stirring up political dirt which proves nothing except the bitterness of their spleen.

Editorial Quotations

Who is paying for the high-priced prohibition speakers just now? The campaign that is being put up costs big money. What interests are back of the movement is what a lot of people should know.—Victorian.

The "buy-at-home" slogan is a very popular one just now among the merchants and other business men of B. C. But if those who are loudest in yelling the cry from the housetops continue to break their own rule and send east for their printing it won't be long before their dupes fall in line and follow their example.—Phoenix Pioneer.

"The crisis in Greece recalls an old prophecy, the conditions of which seem to be propitious at present," says a London paper. "The king and queen of Greece bear the same names as the founder of Constantinople and his wife—namely, Constantine and Sophia. A tradition centuries old, and widely believed in by many, affirms that 'when Constantine and Sophia shall once more reign in Hellas, Constantinople will belong to the Hellenes."

The Grand Forks Gazette, one of the best weeklies printed in the interior, and an authority on mining affairs, has this to say of the future of the mining industry of the province:

All signs point to a boom in British Columbia mining on a scale hitherto unknown. Encouraging reports of mining activity come from nearly every quarter of the Province, and those best informed are unusually optimistic. The metal prices are stimulating the smelters to top speed. Trail smelter is spending hundreds of thousands in betterments and has contracts for its entire output for at least two years. Granby is still planning betterments and is reaching out for new properties. The governments are making definite steps in the matter of a zinc refinery, and possibilities of a copper refinery have become more probable. There was never a time when more capital was seeking sane investment in mining in this Province than at present. Here in the Boundary prospectors have become more active, more of the smaller properties are being worked and altogether there is a healthy development which is attracting wide attention. Several important deals are now under way and there is a feeling of expectancy locally that more far-reaching deals are being considered. The future of mining in the Boundary never appeared brighter than at present.

READ== Then Think!

Now that you have commenced to read this article, just keep right on to the end, and then you will have absorbed meat of the cocoanut.

What has this town ever done for you; It has fed you, and clothed you, and housed you, and given you employment, and kept the wolf from your door for these many years.

It has done more. It has furnished you recreation, and enjoyment, and has guided you safely over many of the stones that beset the pathway of life.

It has praised your good deeds and has thrown the mantle of charity over your questionable ones.

It has been, and is, YOUR HOME. But what have YOU done for the TOWN?

You are making you money here but where are you spending it?

Are your buying goods from the local dealer, who pays and otherwise contributes liberally to the upkeep of the community and your home, or are you sending your money away to some catalogue house that wouldn't lend you a five cent piece to save your soul from purgatory?

And now you have reached the point where we want you to stop and think, and think hard, and to a sane, sensible and patriotic purpose.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

Thanksgiving Day October 11th.

Mrs. Bradshaw was a visitor in town Friday.

Dan McLeod, who has been working at mine for some time left for Nelson Tuesday.

Geo. Wardle, Alex Bloomfield, Geo. Cawston, all of Princeton were in town Wednesday.

M. and Mr 'sWirth left Saturday for Oroville where Mrs. Wirth will enter the hospital for treatment.

Harry and Bertie Jones made the trip to Keremeos Sunday by bicycle and report a very pleasant trip.

W. Roscoll of the Nickel Plate mine is confined to the hospital with an aggravating attack of La Grippe.

A. S. Whiteworth, representing C. C. Snowden, of Vancouver, was rounding up business for the firm Tuesday.

T. R. Mackenzie, of Vancover, representing the Canadian Consolidated Rubber Co., was in town yesterday.

Printing, as you like it, when you like it, delivered where you like it, at the HEDLEY GAZETTE Job Department.

Joe F. Koehler has just arrived to take the place of R. M. Jones as section foreman for this part of the line. He hails from North Dakota.

Tom Porteous made a trip to Keremoes yesterday in the record time of fifty-two minutes. The return was made in the forenoon in fast time also.

Dan Saunders and W. Bryant acted as sponsors at the baptism of Mrs. Schultz baby which occurred on Sunday morning, Rev. Griffiths officiating.

W. H. Stevens, Superintendent of Government telephones, came to town Wednesday, accompanied by his brother. From here he went on to Penticton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Allen are taking up their residence at the central station, up the hill. Mr. Allen has been there for some time and Mrs. Allen joined him Monday.

Any local items of interest, notes on Social Gatherings or any personal items may be sent care of Society Editor or telephone 18 and the Editor's wife will give it personal attention.

Divine Service will be couducted on Sunday Oct. 3rd. at 7.30 p. m. Subject: Jeremiah's Review of a Past Harvest, or Four Things That Never Come Back. A hearty invitation is extended to all. Preacher. R. G. Stewart.

Miss Beale, who has been in charge of the drug store and post office during the absence of Mr. Gillespie, left Saturday for a visit with frinds at Kelowna, Penticton and Keremeos. She expects to be away for a week or two.

A Winkler is making considerable improvements of his ranch near town. He has broken some more land and put it in fall wheat. This year he grew some very fine wheat and some potatoes that would charm the heart of a potato-loving Irishman.

R. J. Edmonds and wife and Game Warden Chisler left Monday on a hunting expedition. They fully expect to beat the record recently made by Messrs. Burr, Rolls, and Kellogg who returned last week from an extended trip and reported "hunting" as very good.

Hugh Megraw leaves today for Kamloops to report to the 102nd Battalion with which he enlisted recently while at Penticton. Mr. Megraw has just returned from the Pas country in New Manitoba, where in company with Mr. Hamilton he has been prospecting for some months. This is the same battalion which N. Hewitt has joined. The latter left Saturday for Kamloops.

Mr. Hanson, the hotel man from Rock Creek, came to town Monday by auto, bringing Hugh Megraw over with him. They went to Princeton in the afternoon.

The Patriotic Funds Committee is now composed of seven members, Messrs. Jones, Dalton, McLean, French, Sampson, Prideau and J. R. Brown. Any one of these gentlemen will be glad to discuss the afairs of the fund with you, or to recieve your subscibtions.

Lawrence Morrison, who lives up at the mine, had the good fortune to round up a deer alive Monday. He was passing a windfall and hearing a stirring in the branches went to investigate. To his surprise he saw a deer entangled, a captive. He secured it and took it home in triumph.

W. T. Butler has demonstrated that you can grow most anything successfully in Hedley. In the small space of his yard back of the barber shop he grew this season five big bags of splendid potatoes. Four of the average run of his crop he gave to the editor to weigh and we were surprised to see them tip the scale at four pounds.

Roller skating in the Opera House will be resumed Thursday, September 30th, and every Tuesday and Thursday thereafter during the winter. It is the intention of the management to hold skating carnivals, races, etc. during the season. The price of admission will be 10c, skates 15c extra. Monthly ticket $1.00. Wednesday nights will be reserved for private parties.

Molybdenum

There is a demand for molybdenum in the United Kingdom. We have before us a cable offer for monthly shipments in quantities and at a price for a year that will make the delivery of it very profitable. This offer can be placed in Seattle, but it is desirable that it should be placed in this Province, where there is molybdenum ore in quantity. In order that British Columbia may have the first chance to fill this order, we do not deem it advisable to give names, prices or quantities, but if any persons are disposed to consider the investment necessary to fill the order, and our information is that the amount of money required is by no means large, we shall be glad to put them in touch with the person who has the placing of the order. The opportunity is one requiing quick action if this contract, which isa large one, is to beplaced int his Province.—Colonist

MINING NOTES

J. M. Turnbull, mining engineer with the Consolidated Company at Trail for a number of years, has been appointed professor of mining in the new British Columbia University.—G. F. Gazette.

The Bertha mine at Bannock City, which is being worked under lease by Republic parties, on Wednesdry made a trial shipment of a carload of ore to the Granby smelter. Those who have seen the ore say that it is high grade. The Bertha has splendid shipping facilities, being located within a short distance of the North Fork branch of the Kettle Valley line.—G. F. Sun.

Although South Africa is the greatest gold producing country in the world, it has experienced a shortage of currency because no gold has been minted there. The British Government is taking steps to remedy this and propose to establish there a branch of the Royal Mint—a privilege enjoyed for many years by Melbourne and Sydney, in Australia.

Roy Young, one of the owners of the Electric Point, stated that he would spend $6,000 in the constuction of a wagon road to the mine right away, so that he can ship the accumulated ore taken out in develpment to the Northport smelter as soon as it is ready to receive it. There is about 200 tons of shipping ore now on hand. The galena averages between 65 and 70 per cent lead.

The British Empire produces 60% of the world's gold. Of this proportion Canada is credited with 2.9%, the production of the Dominion being placed at $12,715,000. The Transvaal is the world's largest gold producer, with a value of $90,720,000; Australia thiad, with $53,790,000; Russia fourth, with $25,685,000. The Triple Entente controls seven-tenths of the world's gold supply.—M. E. and Electrical Record.

C. C. Enfield returned Monday from spending a few days at Northport, Wash., and is of opinion that there are worse places than Grand Forks. He states there has been a great rush to Northport, but the town is lacking in accommodation. While there are some good properties in the district and the smelter will probably open in the coarse of a few months, there are no special developments at present.—Grand Forks Gazette.

A leading mining exchange contains the following:
To the mining community should be accorded the highest credit for the generous aid they have given the nation in its time of trial. The employees of Britannia Mine have subscribed for two machine guns and have liberally aided Red Cross work. The employees of the Hedley Gold Mining Company at Hedley and the Granby Consolidated Mining and Smeling Company, at Grand Forks, Phoenix and Anyox, have all contributed generously the Phoenix camp alone contributing two machine guns, and contributing about $2,000 a month to the Red Cross and Patriotic funds. The employees of the Hedley Gold Mining Company, at Hedley, contributed 3 machine guns and the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company have also been important contributors. At Nanaimo the employees of the Western Fuel Company organized a special company for service at the front. The public-spirited work of the miners is thus something of which the Province may well be proud.

Mrs. H. Tweddle shipped a carload of grapes Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. S. Stanley, of the Hedley Gazette, were visitors in Keremeos. last Saturday.

Mr. Condit, of the Horn Silver Mine, was in town last Monday, and reports everything fine at the mine.

Miss Mabel Knudson, who formerly resided at Keremeos, but now lives at Princeton, is visiting here this week with several of her friends.

In the church last Thursday evening, a Prohibition Meeting was held. An enthusiastic crowd was present, who were much interested in the addresses given by the different speakers.

Last Sunday, two autos from Penticton passed through here, and it was reported that in one of them was Sailor Woods, of Princeton, who was wounded and was returning from the Dardanelles.

The Keremeos Troop of Boy Scouts will meet in the Town Hall on Friday evening October 1st, at half past seven o'clock. The President of the Local Council, Mr. Frith will be present to award five Second Class Badges. The troops will muster in full uniform. Visitors are welcome at this meeting.

In honor of Miss Knudson, Miss Annie Innis invited several of her friends to spend Tuesday afternoon, and to bring their knitting and sewing. All of the work brought was for the soldiers, mostly knitting, which was done by several of the young ladies, who looked very nice and quaint, as they diligently worked. Surely old customs are being revived.

A special meeting of the Ladies Aid was held on the 23rd., at the home of Mrs. Gibson and it was decided to have the regular annual Thanksgiving dinner at six p. m. in the Town Hall. The price will be fifty cents, which no one objects paying, for such a supper as the Aid provides. Last year forty-five dollars were made, which was sent to the Belgian Relief Fund, but this year, the proceeds will be used at home—to help pay for a new kitchen at the parsonage, and to make the place comfortable for the winter.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY

A special Rally Day service will be held next Sunday, October 3rd., at half past ten o'clock. The morning church service will be combined with the Sunday School Program. It is hoped that a large number will be present.

Harry Etches Writes to Keremeos Friends

The letter enclosed is from our old friend and postmaster, Harry Etches. 77708, No. 1 Company,

France, Sept. 4, 1915.

Dear Annie,

Well, here we are again. I hardly dare say lucky, but very fortunate indeed. We lost a couple of men and several wounded. The rain and mud were simply fierce.

Those blessed German shells fairly rocked the ground, and one high explosive came through the parapet twenty-five yards away leaving a hole like a door-way. In places the trenches were nearly up to our knees in water, and it was a hard job with a full kit to get through them.

I could not write from the front this time, as it was none too cheerful—and the Germans only 400 yards in front. So that with the big shells, rifles and machine guns, it kept us on edge.

Now here is the best news and the greatest delight I have had for some time. We, being a little behind the front, were just wandering around among the boys. when I looked toward the road, and whom did I see but good old Hill. You can realize how glad we were to see each other again. He stayed with me a couple of hours. He is with the No. 3 Batt. Came in with some re-inforcements. He is just the same old boy,—cheerful and bright as ever, and looking well and fit.

We did have a good talk and were saying how we would like to be at Hedley, Labor day. Then we went down to Bob Hogg's camp, and all three wandered nearby.

Hill is stationed about a mile from me, and guess when we go back, his Batt, will be close by for a few days. So God sparing us, we will see each other under the circumstances. He may not always have to go right up to the front lines, but the danger is always around. He is with the Medical Transport Detail of the Battalion. Already he has been under shell fire, so he knows what it feels like.

We will all do our best to keep the Flag of Freedom flying, and thank God that we are able to do our bit towards this end.

It is nearly four months that Bob and I have been at it, and I have never been sick nor missed a shift in the trenches yet. Lots to be thankful for.

Will close for now.

Harry

Victoria, B. C. Sept. 21, 1915.

Editor, Hedley Gazette,

Hedley, B. C.

Dear Sir:

With your kind permission I would like to offer some comments upon the two letters, written by a clergyman, which appeared in your issue of Sept. 9. These letters are rather extraordinary, if for nothing else than the amazing assumption that, because the writer has read the Christian Science textbook, he is therefore entitled to speak with authority concerning its teachings. He knows, of course, that infidels have read the Bible carefully, but he would not on that account accept them as authority on the sacred writings.

Obviously what is really meant is, that although the writer has read the Christian Science textbook, he does not understand it. However as many do read and understand this book, our critic must in all honesty admit that the fault must lie with himself. Let me say in all kindness, judging by what he has written, that what he would describe as Christian Science would be promptly repudiated by any Christian Scientist. In one letter he twice misnames this book, so that if he cannot even quote its title correctly he can hardly claim to be an authority upon its contents. It is possible to mis-read a book, ignoring its author's viewpoint, as to utterly miss its real meaning; and this is evidently what has been done in this case.

There is no doubt, and there never has been, that Christian Science differs widely from popular or accepted theological teaching regarding God and man, and the problem of human salvation; but it does not therefore follow that it is not in accord with inspired Scriptural teaching. At no point does Christian Science depart from the fundamental truths of Christianity, although it may depart from man-made doctrines and creeds that have divided Christendom into numerous sects, and that have not prevailed over the evil that is in the world, which evil, by the way, this critic takes such apparent satisfaction in defending as real. When spiritually understood the Scriptures sustain every statement of Christian Science, our friend's objections notwithstanding.

The statement that Christian Science substitutes another book for the Bible is an invention, pure and simple. The Bible, and the textbook of Christian Science, are read side by side at every Christian Science service. It would be quite as truthful to say that a minister substitutes another book for the Bible because he uses a Commentary in preparing his sermons; or that the preacher substitutes his own views for the Bible because he assumes to interpret its teachings to his congregation. As a matter of fact, a great many persons have come to study and to love the Bible as a result of their interest in Christian Science.

The charge that Christian Science treats the human body as of first importance is another fable, though one not so frequently met with, for most persons will do everything possible to have a healthy body, and they are none the worse Christians for that. If our critic has read "Science and Health" carefully as he states, he must have come across the following, on page 150: "the mission" of Christian Science now, as in the time of its earlier demonstration, is not primarily one of physical healing." This physical healing, Mrs. Eddy goes on to state is "to attest the reality of the reality of the higher mission of the Christ-power to take away the sins of the world." Also in her little book, "Rudimental Divine Science," Mrs. Eddy says: "Healing physical sickness is the smallest part of Christian Science. The emphatic purpose of Christian Science is the healing of sin,"

Our friend has no doubt noticed that practically all of the so-called miracles of Jesus were concerned with the healing of the body, or in connection with bodily wants. He surely would not wish to be understood as implying that our Master made too much of the healing of the body; but that would be the natural conclusion, since Christians are commanded to take up the cross and follow Christ. It might also be noted that Jesus used no drugs. We have no record that he recommended his patients to go to the physicians if were sick again, In the case of the woman who had "spent all her living upon physicians, neither could be healed of any" and who eventually applied to Jesus for help, is it possible that the Savior erred in "repudiating the system of medicine (and) the skill of the physician," or did he do the will of God by healing the woman without resorting to material means? The obituary list in the daily papers hardly inspires one with confidence in materia medica as being the rightful substitute for Christian healing, as this clergyman would have us believe. But clergymen as well as doctors disagree on this subject, for eminent members of both professions have admitted that Christian Science does "do the works," our critic's denial to the contrary notwithstanding.

As for the attitude of Christian Science towards evil, which seems to trouble our friend sorely, let me assure him that Christian Science does teach most unequivocally that evil, when examined in the light of God's absolute allness, has neither reality nor power. He makes no mistake about finding that in the Christian Science textbook. If he reads the other works by Mrs. Eddy he will find it there too. If he chooses to look he will find it in all the Christian Science periodicals. There is no attempt to evade this point, why should there be, since Christian Science rests upon the truth that God, or good, is infinite? The gladdest thing that has come to the Christian Scientist, or that can come to any man, is the absolute assurance that good is supreme and omnipresent. We are taught in the Scripture that God is in every place, how then can evil still have a place to exist in?

I regret that lack of space forbids taking up all the points raised in these letters, but enough has been said to show how far afield their writer is in his judgement of Christian Science. While I can heartily sympathize with his efforts to reconcile Christian Science with his own religious viewpoint, his failure to do this in no occasion for adverse criticism, or for the utterances of opprobrious epithets and meaningless innuendos. Invective and vilification are always unsatisfactory substitutes for dignified reason and argument, and are often used to cover the weakness of one's position. Making reckless charges against a teaching because it differs from one's own belief is foolish and unconvincing. If denunciation and abuse were effective weapons, the Christian Science movement had long ago collapsed, for these have been heaped upon this movement and upon its Founder; but it continues to grow and to prosper because it is meeting the need of mankind for a demonstrable knowledge of God and of man's relationship to Him; and this practical knowledge of God's infinite goodness and love is all that can meet this need. It is every day becoming more generously admitted that Christian Science is of God, and that it is vain to attempt its overthrow "lest haply," in the words of Gamaliel, one "be found even to fight against God."

"On the Field of Honor"

The publishers of The Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal, are making a strong bid for that beautiful picture, full of pathos, entitled "On the Field of Honor." It is assumed the publishers of the Family Herald have in mind using it as a presentation plate. If that is so there is a great treat in store for readers of The Family Herald and Weekly Star this autumn. In past years The Family Herald of Montreal has been noted not only for the wonerful excellence of that journal but for many beautiful pictures it has presented to its readers. The Family Herald has a name for succeeding in anything it undertakes, and we feel sure if it is humrnly possible to secure "On the Field of Honor" that the publishees will succeed in getting it. "On the Field of Honor" is attacting widespread attention in Europe.

The convention of the Western Canada Irrigation Association will be held at Bassano, November 23 to 25.
