Wilson Landing and Westside Notes

(From our own Correspondent.)

We are glad to hear that Lieut. R. A. D. Ramsay is progressing favorably, since being wounded some months ago. It was feared that he would have to lose his leg, which danger is we hear now past. He is to return home on leave as soon as able to do so.

Capt. Mutrie and Lieut. Seeley and Logan have just returned to Vernon after a very successful hunting expedition. They had to go a considerable distance back before they found the game. But six bucks formed a good bag nevertheless.

After two years at the front Mr. Lionel Somerset is at home again. During the last few weeks, he has visited many of his friends, and has some thrilling experiences to relate, with many wonderful escapes, when in the fighting area. Most of the earlier part of the time has been spent in transport work. He has lost two brothers in France, one of them being Tpr. Barnard Somerset killed in the trenches by machine gun fire. The other being Lieut. Francis Somerset, who died in the thick of the fight in a captured German trench.

Rutland News

(From our own Correspondent.)

Mrs. Draper came in from the prairie last week on a visit to her daughter Mrs. Coventry.

The girls club gave their president, Miss Jennie Clever a surprise party on the occasion of her birthday last Tuesday evening.

The children of the Methodist Sunday school are busy practicing for the Christmas entertainment which is to be held Friday week.

A concert is to be given in the Rutland school house on Thursday Dec. 21st, in aid of the Belgian, destitute children. Details will be announced later.

An interesting ceremony will take place on Sunday in the Methodist church when the honor roll of members who have enlisted, will be unveiled. The list contains about 40 names. There will be a special service with patriotic singing.

Items from Ellison

Mr. Price Ellison was down at the Simpson ranch Monday returning Tuesday.

The Ellison Girls Club is holding a concert and dance in the school house on Friday next in aid of the Red Cross.

Mr. T. D. Lewis, of Calgary, was in the district this week on business connected with his property on the Vernon road. He has made a sale of his stock to Messrs. Casorso Bros.

Bank Has Remarkable Enlistment Record

In an "Honor Roll" issued by the Canadian Bank of Commerce some remarkable figures are given showing the high percentage of the bank's staff's enlist in the present war. A total of 1,200 officers of the Bank have taken up military duty, representing 65 per cent. of the male staff between the ages 18 and 45; 60 per cent. of the entire male staff, and 40 per cent. of the Bank.

Of these 77 have been killed up to the present date, 155 wounded, 7 missing, 8 prisoners of war, and 17 ill.

The ven. Archdeacon Greene returned yesterday from Nelson.

Germany Makes First Offers For Peace With the Allies

Proposals Do Not Meet With Much Sympathy From Allies— Regarded as Cunning Scheme to Save Enemy's Face

Germany has made to the Entente a formal and definite proposal to discuss terms of peace. The proposal was made through the representatives in Berlin of the United States, Spain and Switzerland, who were received, one at a time, by Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and given a note which they were asked to transmit to the governments of the Entente Powers. In the note Germany announces her intention of entering forthwith into peace negotiations, and her willingness to suggest propositions which, those in authority believe, will be appropriate for the establishment of a lasting peace. The governments at Vienna, Constantinople and Sofia have submitted identical notes and have also communicated with the Holy See.

Germany's peace terms in general measure propose the restoration of the status quo, before the war with the exception of the establishment of independent kingdoms of Poland and Lithuania. They are understood to propose the complete restoration of the occupied portion of Belgium and France in return for Germany's captured colonies, and to dispose of the Balkan situation because of its extremely complicated nature, in the peace conference.

The note concludes with the statement that, should the terms not be accepted by the Allies, Germany disclaims any responsibility for the continuance of the war.

The offer has been received in Britain, France, and also in America, with much derision, and is regarded as merely a ruse to take advantage of the temporary gains made in Roumania to save themselves from inevitable disaster.

The Westminster Gazette says: It is to neutrals rather than to us that Germany is appealing, therefore we must be careful not to be manoeuvred onto the ground where we will seem in wrong.

Fire Blight Control During the Dormant Season

By BEN HOY

A great deal of fuss is made over the control of various fungus diseases and insect pests attacking our orchards, but these are relatively simple matters in comparison with Fire Blight. With ordinary fungus and insect pests one part of a community, or even an individual grower may effectively control these pests in his orchard without the cooperation of the community. Blight is a community problem, and for effective control there must be a determined effort on the part of every fruit grower to cut out all existing infection before the blossoming period.

At the present time there are enough "hold-over" cankers (should weather conditions be favorable for its spread in the spring) to do very serious damage to the trees and crop. The dormant season (from the time the leaves fall until the blossoming period) is the time an effective clean-up can be made, and the work can be done in less time and with less wastage of tree tissue than at any other time of the year. Fruit-growers who have the welfare of their orchards and community at heart should make every effort between now and spring to get all the "hold-overs" out of the orchards.

Cause of the Disease

The Fire Blight is of bacterial origin. The organism causing it is a small rod-shaped body measuring about one sixteen-thousandth of an inch long, and one forty-five-thousandth of an inch wide. This germ commonly enters the plant by way of the blossoms, where it multiplies in the nectaries of the flowers and finally extends into the near-by twigs and leaves. It may enter the growing shoots, limbs, or trunk through the agency of various pests. Having once gained admittance to the plant, the bacillus, if conditions are favorable, multiplies rapidly feeding upon and destroying the cells of the inner bark and cambium. It winters over in the form of "hold-over" cankers on the limbs or trunk of the affected trees.

Method of Control During Dormant Season

This work is very often carried out at the same time as the pruning, but for thorough work this is not enough. There is no pruner or blight cutter expert enough to remove at one cutting all the existing cankers in an

Agricultural Association Elects New Officers

Mr. E. R. Bailey is New President—No Reduction in the Number of Directors

The special meeting called by the Agricultural Association to consider the several suggested amendments to the constitution and by-laws was held last Saturday afternoon. With only a few alterations the proposed amendments, which have already been printed in detail, were passed. One of the most important, however, providing for a reduction in the number of directors to six besides the president and secretary, did not find favor, and it was decided to elect fourteen directors as before.

Following this special meeting, the annual general meeting adjourned from November 25th, was then resumed and the following directors elected: Messrs. E. R. Bailey, L. E. Taylor, A. W. Cooke, A. Day, Lynn Harvey, P. Casorso, W. F. Schell, L. Dilworth, E. Dart, A. D. Monsees and T. Morrison. Mr. G. A. Fisher was appointed auditor and the financial statement for the year formally passed.

Following this, a directors' meeting was held when Mr. E. R. Bailey was elected president for the year and Mr. R. A. Copeland vice-president; Mr. R. L. Dalglish was reappointed secretary-treasurer.

The following committees were selected: hall, grounds, live stock, poultry, sports, and prize list. The executive committee will consist of the president and vice-president, with Messrs. A. W. Cooke, Lynn Harvey, C. Rogerson and L. E. Taylor.

Mr. H. V. Chaplin was made a life member in acknowledgement of the kind voluntary work he has done for the Society for years in connection with the staging of fruit.

A resolution was also passed granting permission to the Boy Scouts to use the exhibition building so long as it remained vacant, for basket ball, &c.

Miss Edith Davies, from Bradner, B. C. and Miss E. Paton, from Dewdney, will be added to the school staff with the beginning of next term. Miss Boake, a present teacher, is resigning.

fall and early spring when the frost is out of the ground.

In cutting out branches in the top of old trees, every effort should be made not to leave large stubs. Even if it is necessary to cut back another foot or so, it is better to bring the tree back to a lateral branch. This will tend to stop sucker growth and make a better shaded tree.

Use of Corrosive Sublimate

Nearly all growers have some method of their own for applying this solution to the cuts and wounds, but one of the surest ways is to carry the solution in a small flask in the hip pocket. A small sponge can be carried in the left hand attached to a string on the wrist, so that when necessary to use the hand it can be let hang from the wrist in easy reach when needed again. Keep the sponge thoroughly soaked in the solution, and swab over the tools and cut after making each cut.

Many believe that there is not any need of disinfection when the work is done in freezing weather, but this cannot be recommended as there is a certain amount of risk. The only time it would be permissible is when it is so cold that the solution freezes, and even then the cuts should be disinfected at some subsequent date when the weather is warmer.

For further information regarding Fire Blight and its control Bulletin 38 (pages 12, 13, and 14) and Circular No. 23 should be studied. Both of these are issued by the B. C. Department of Agriculture, and can be obtained at the local office of the department in the Board of Trade building. ■

Aged Westbank Man Disappears

Police and Search Parties Fail to Find Any Clue

Search parties of Westbank and Kelowna people, the provincial police, and Indians from the reserve have been scouring the country across the lake during the past week for some trace of Mr. J. Dobbin, an aged Westbank resident who mysteriously disappeared from home Wednesday, and has not been heard of since. Despite the most careful combing of the district for a radius of many miles not a clue has been found to afford the slightest indication of what can have happened to the old man. The searchers, however, are still persisting in their endeavors.

Last Wednesday evening it appears that Mr. Dobbin, who is 86 years of age, went for his mail as usual to the house of a neighbor, and returning home, sat reading the papers until a late hour, his wife and daughter retiring and leaving him thus occupied. In the morning he was nowhere to be found. His fur coat and hat, overshoes, pipe and tobacco, and cheque book were also missing. Obviously moved by some sudden fancy, he had prepared himself for a journey, and had set out without disturbing the family. What direction he took, and what was his aim, remains an impenetrable mystery. The house he occupies is about four or five miles back from the lake, and there is very little choice of direction except by rough climbing over hilly country, which would scarcely seem possible to a man so old and feeble. On Thursday a light fall of snow made chances of tracking him still more remote, though several expert Indians, tempted by a reward of $50, have taken up the task. The weather has been fairly cold lately, and unless the old man has been able to find shelter, it is extremely unlikely that he can have survived the exposure for so many days, especially as he apparently took no food with him.

It appears that the old gentleman, who is an old soldier and veteran of the Indian mutiny, has been very much exercised over the war lately. The paper he was reading contained the news of the Teuton successes in Roumania, and it is thought possible this may have preyed upon his mind, somewhat, and prompted him to forget his years, and to set out with some vague notion of "doing his bit." He was very proud of his past record as a soldier, and could often be seen wearing the medals he had acquired during his long service. He had no particular troubles except his anxiety over the war, and it seems impossible to assign any other motive for his action. In any case it is remarkable that no trace of him can be found, as it is a difficult country to get out of, and his tall old-fashioned figure would command attention anywhere.

One of Mr. Dobbin's sons, Arthur, went away this fall with the Foresters' Battalion, while another son, John, resides in the Westbank town.

Careless Handling of Ashes Cause of Many Fires

During the winter months the disposal of ashes from stoves and furnaces demands a caution. Though many fires are caused by the disposition of hot ashes against frame buildings, wood enclosures, etc., the practice is still continued. Too much care cannot be given to the disposal of ashes. Either metal containers should be used, or the ashes should be placed at a safe distance.

Municipal politics in Kelowna have been rather tame and uneventful for the past few years, at least to the outside observer, and it seems scarcely likely that this even tenor will be much disturbed by the forthcoming elections, which are due early in the new year. We say "tame" with some reserve, for those who have been responsible for the financing of the city's business for the last year or two would scarcely admit the term. Still, there is nothing of very absorbing interest to the general public, however exciting it may be for the aldermen themselves, in keeping the wolf from the city's door. And the council must be given full credit for having pursued this unpleasant task so patiently and successfully.

Some changes in the personnel of the council are inevitable, owing to the retirement of Mayor Jones from the office he has held for so many years. As member for the district he will no doubt have his time fully occupied, and will also be obliged to be away from the city at frequent intervals.

So far the only one who has definitely indicated his intention of becoming a candidate for the vacancy thus created is Alderman R. A. Copeland. Ald. Copeland is no beginner in municipal matters, for he has just completed his sixth consecutive year as alderman. He is one of those invaluable men to whom public work is a real pleasure and a hobby, and he is never afraid of making personal sacrifices for the cause in which he is interested. Alderman Copeland's name appears on many committees of local institutions and he is always ready to do his bit in this respect. If he has any preferences, however, they are undoubtedly the City Council and the Agricultural Association, and for these two bodies he has done an incredible amount of self-sacrificing work. Judging by the votes he has always polled as alderman he should have no difficulty in securing election, even if opposed, which at present is doubtful. Assuming that all the rest of the council agree to "carry on" there will still be need for one new man. Don't all speak at once!

Of the five school trustees, Messrs. J. A. Biggs, W. R. Trench, and J. B. Knowles are due to retire this year, having served their two-year term.

GILLETT'S LYE EATS DIRT

These gentlemen have made no statement as yet of their intentions, nor have any other names been mentioned as likely candidates—except—oh, yes, we had nearly forgotten—there seems to be every likelihood that the ladies, emboldened no doubt, by their recent triumph in securing the provincial vote, will put up a candidate. We have really no authority for saying it, and may get into trouble, but Mrs. Calder's name has been freely mentioned as the likely nominee and really, when you come to think of it, it would be difficult to find a better—male or female. There are many good reasons why some level-headed woman should take an interest in the work of the public schools, and we confess we would like to see Mrs. Calder on the Board.

Many people have forgotten, perhaps, the recent legislation passed by the provincial house providing for a weekly half-holiday. The fact that Kelowna had already enjoyed that privilege for some time perhaps caused less interest to be taken in the matter here. There is one provision in the Act, however, which demands attention, as it will be necessary to take a vote of the ratepayers upon it at the time of the municipal election: that is, the day upon which the holiday shall fall. The choice in Kelowna apparently rests between Thursday and Saturday.

In the coast cities, where the voting has already taken place, the choice fell by overwhelming majorities upon Saturday afternoon, notwithstanding that the merchants conducted an active campaign against it. So far as can be judged from the tone of various discussions which have been held in the smaller interior towns, there is an equally strong feeling in these places for the weekend holiday.

There can be no doubt that the mid-week holiday, as a holiday is almost a failure, and is tolerated only by the store clerk and the working man generally in the absence of something better. The opposition to the Saturday holiday comes almost entirely from the merchants, who are not unnaturally anxious about the effect upon their trade of interference with what has always been regarded as their best shopping day. The Saturday half-holiday is not a new thing with retail stores by any means, and it would be interesting to know the experience of those who had tried it just how it worked out in that respect. Probably the loss of business notion is not borne out by facts anyway. Re-compense is made in the Act for the loss of Saturday evening, should that day be chosen, by an arrangement to open Friday evening.

It is announced that vice-admiral DuFournet, commander of the allied squadron in Greek waters, has been replaced by Admiral Caucher.

Judge Forin last Thursday granted William Hunter, Conservative candidate in Slokan riding, a recount. Hunter was beaten by C. F. Nelson, Liberal, by one vote in the general election.

Municipal Fire Survey

Many fire chiefs have instituted municipal surveys so that those responsible for the protection of our towns and cities may be better fitted to cope with any outbreaks of fire. Excellent results have been secured, from the standpoint of both the public and the fire departments. The inspections revealed many dangerous fire conditions, which the lay mind had passed unnoticed. The majority of cases required only that the attention of the owner or occupant of the building be called to the unnecessary risk to secure its removal.

Fire Chief James Smart, of Calgary, has recently undertaken a fire survey of that city, and apparently with great success, as is shown by his report of progress. Chief Smart says:

The survey of fire conditions in Calgary is about completed and I have every reason to feel that much has been accomplished in reducing the fire hazard.

"Our method of procedure was to have every building and premises inspected by the captain of the fire station covering the district. Instructions were given to note special information that might be helpful in preventing or putting out fire, to note the conditions of chimneys and pipes, method of heating, fuel used, disposal of ashes and especially accumulation of inflammable rubbish in basements or yards. In addition, of course, the names of owner and occupant and short description of each building with its street and number.

"As the survey proceeded notices were sent to premises where conditions were reported dangerous, and where the captain had pointed out the required remedy. I am glad to say that in every instance so far the citizens have heartily co-operated in the work.

"An added value of the survey is that each captain is more familiar with the lay of the premises in which he may be called upon to combat fire.

National Service Card to Be Filled In

There is to be a national service week in Canada. The date will be announced shortly by R. B. Bennett, director of national service. It probably will be the first week in January.

One of the features of the week will be the issuance of a card to every man in Canada. This card will have printed on it a number of questions regarding national service and must be filled in and returned by all men between the ages of 16 and 65.

The questions are as follows:

1. What is your name?
2. How old are you?
3. Where do you live? Province?
4. Name of city, town, village or post office, street, number.
5. What country were you born in?
6. In what country was your father born?
7. In what country was your mother born?
8. Were you born a British subject?
9. If not, are you naturalized?
10. How much time have you lost in last 12 months from sickness?
11. Have you full use of your arms?
12. Of your legs?
13. Of your sight.
14. Of your hearing?
15. Which are you—married, single or a widower?
16. How many persons beside yourself do you support?
17. What are you working at for a living?
18. Whom do you work for?
19. Have you a trade or profession?
20. If so what?
21. Are you working now?
22. If not, why?
23. Would you be willing to change your present work for other necessary work at the same pay during the war?
24. Are you willing, if your railway fare is paid, to leave where you now live and go to some other place in Canada to do such work?

Two million of these cards will be issued and it is understood that the services of Canadian postmasters will be requisitioned to issue them.

The object is to secure an accurate inventory of the number of men available for the vital industries, such as agriculture and munitions manufacture.

There is nothing in the cards which can be interpreted as showing a move towards conscription, but of course the number of men of military age available for recruiting will be ascertained.

Fifty-six sons of members of Parliament are serving with the colors, many of the Cabinet ministers being thus represented. Parliament has personal as well as public reasons for doing the best it can for the soldiers.

Lieut.-Col. Henniker, an Okanagan officer, who went overseas in command of the 103rd Battalion, has been promoted to the rank of Brigadier General, to command the fifth Canadian Brigade, which will comprise four western battalions.

The new mace for the Canadian House of Commons, made to replace the one that was lost in the fire which destroyed the Ottawa Parliament Buildings a year ago, is now completed. The new mace is beautifully executed, and in general design is similar to the one used in the British House of Commons. It is being presented to Canada by the ex-Lord Mayor of London, Sir Charles Wakefield, and Sheriffs Touche and Shead, all of whom are well acquainted with the Dominion.

Printed Butter Wrappers

According to the new Dominion Government regulations all farmers who sell butter either to the stores or privately, are required to have it properly covered in a wrapper on which MUST appear in prominent letters the words "DAIRY BUTTER."

The fact is also emphasized that all butter in such packages must be of the full net weight of sixteen ounces, and in default of same a fine of from $10 to $30 for each offence is imposed. Why butter must be so labelled even when mixed with dairy butter, and dairy butter retains its label though it be mixed with the creamery product.

You can be supplied with neatly-printed wrappers for your butter at the Kelowna Record Office, for the following prices:

100	PAPER & PRINTING INCLUDED	$1.50
200	" "	2.00
500	" "	3.15
1000	" "	4.50

These prices include Both the Paper, which is the best obtainable for the purpose, and the Printing of same. Please note this.

Owing to the extraordinary rise in the price of butter parchment (which has gone up over 100 per cent) we have been reluctantly obliged to raise our prices slightly. Nearly all this paper was previously manufactured in Belgium, and needless to say this supply has been entirely cut off. Unfortunately there is no guarantee against further increases, indeed, they are more than likely.
