Kelowna's Twenty-fourth Annual Fall Fair and Exhibition

Smaller Entry is Compensated for by High Quality of all Exhibits—Revival of Interest in Poultry Department

For twenty-four years in succession Kelowna has held its annual Fall Fair, and though this year's display lacked something in point of quantity, in quality of exhibits and attractiveness its reputation was fully maintained, and great admiration was expressed by visitors, some from other fruit districts for the fine quality of Kelowna's fruit product. In one department, that of poultry, a great increase was noted, fully thirty per cent. more birds being shown than in any previous year.

The Fair was opened Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, by Mayor Sutherland. In mentioning that this was the twenty-fourth annual event of the kind in Kelowna he said he well remembered attending the first one, when he believed there was a bigger exhibit and greater enthusiasm. He regretted the smallness of the entry this year. The number of entries had not grown in the same ratio as the advancement of the district, and he did not think the farmers realized the great benefit to be derived from a fair of this kind. Its great educational value meant much more than the few dollars to be gain from prizes. He referred to the great interest taken in all agricultural matters by the president, Mr. Bailey, who had worked actively for the Association ever since its formation.

Prof. Sadler, of the B.C. University, delivered an address on the work of the University and its value to the farmer and dairyman. The staff was working under great difficulties due to unsuitable temporary buildings and lack of proper facilities, and he hoped that the government would soon see its way to provide them with adequate permanent quarters at Point Grey.

Vice-president L. Dilworth occupied the chair, while the Kelowna Band provided musical selections at intervals.

The people of Glenmore had a most effective display of apples which well deserved the special prize awarded for the most attractive display in the Fair. The Benvoulin United Farm Women had a corner well filled with garden produce, jams, jellies, cooked meats, needlework, &c., and they were also awarded a special prize. The Ellison district was also represented with a fine exhibit of fruit and vegetables, grain, bottled fruits and miscellaneous farm produce.

A very attractive corner was that devoted to school work, the Manual Training and Domestic Science classes having on display some very fine examples of pupils' work.

The Summerland Experimental Farm Exhibit was again an interesting feature, showing models of buildings and appliances as well as grain, grasses, and other educational matter. Adjoining this was a fine display from the Entomological Branch of the Department of Agriculture, in charge of Mr. Max Ruhman of Vernon.

J. H. Trenwith had a display of "Delco-Light" and various electrical supplies, while a new departure was made in a display of automobiles. B. McDonald had two fine McLaughlin cars, S. T. Elliott showed "Maxwells", and M. A. Alsgard a "Studebaker" which showed few signs of having made a trip from the coast a few days ago. Outside the building, Mr. Elliott had some "Maxwell" trucks, Messrs. Glenn & Son their new "Avery" tractor, and Morrison-Thompson a "Fordson" tractor. A "Bean" spray motor was also in operation.

Mr. Boucher was there, of course with his rundabouts, ferris wheel and other attractions.

The clouds, which had threatened the afternoon's sports, cleared away, and a good crowd was in attendance at the races, the results of which are given elsewhere. The City Band also added much to the afternoon's enjoyment with a number of well-played selections.

Following is a list of the prize winners:—

Will Open Medical Practice in Kelowna

Dr. R. G. Stevenson, who for the past eighteen months has been superintendent of the General Hospital at Golden, has rented the office formerly occupied by Dr. Huycke beside Dr. Shepherd and has begun the practice of medicine here. While at Golden the Doctor held the office of C.P.R. surgeon for the district between Beavermouth and Lake Louise. He was health officer for Golden and Field and medical inspector of schools. Last year he was appointed coroner.

Dr. Stevenson has taken half a dozen post graduate courses in the large hospitals of New York, Chicago and Baltimore. He spent nearly one year in the eye, ear, nose and throat institutions, and it should prove interesting to any one with defective sight to learn that the Doctor purposes furnishing his office with the best instruments for testing the sight and fitting of spectacles or eyeglasses.

The party of coast business men who have been arranging a tour of the Okanagan are expected to arrive in Kelowna next Wednesday morning from Vernon. No special arrangements have been made for their entertainment but their time until the arrival of the boat south will likely be spent in visiting the various packing plants and other places of interest.

Visiting Heir to British Throne Leaves Favorable Impression

Cheering Crowds Give Him Enthusiastic Reception in Kelowna—Memorable Scene in Park

With a crowd such as has probably never been seen in the city before, Kelowna welcomed the visiting Prince of Wales Tuesday evening. In accordance with the altered schedule the royal party arrived from Vernon by car at 6.30, their arrival at the city boundary being signalled by blasts from all available syrens and whistles, and later by the cheering of the people as the cars passed on to the gates of the park, preceded by Chief of Police Thomas, who had motored out to meet the party. The traffic arrangements were perfect and nothing interfered with the progress of the procession.

At the park the Prince and party were received by the Mayor and council and after a little preliminary hand-shaking, were conducted to the platform, decorated for the occasion. Here the city clerk read the following address, which was afterwards presented to His Royal Highness in a handsome little casket, the work of some of the Boy Scouts under the direction of Mr. Mitchell, of the manual training school. The casket was made of juniper wood with beaten silver hinges and was much admired by the royal recipient.

"To His Royal Highness Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David, Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester, in the Peerage of the United Kingdom; Duke of Cornwall, in the Peerage of England; Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick, and Baron Renfrew, in the Peerage of Scotland; Lord of the Isles and Great Steward of Scotland, K.G., G.M.M.G., M.C., etc. etc. May it please your Royal Highness to accept from the citizens of Kelowna the most sincere and cordial welcome which it is possible for loyal hearts to offer. It is our most earnest desire and prayer that your visit to Canada may be productive of great good in binding by closer ties the people of this wide and fair Dominion to the Mother Country and to the glorious British Empire. When we learned that your western itinerary included the Valley of the Okanagan, we were delighted.

Kelowna, known throughout this Western land as the Orchard City of British Columbia, is the centre of an agricultural district of which we believe we have just cause to be extremely proud. We venture to believe that you will be interested to know that our fruit goes into many of the World's greatest markets, not only to China, South America, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand, but to the cities of the British Isles, where, in London, our fruit has, on different occasions, been awarded the highest possible diplomas.

It is with great pleasure that we recall the kindly and almost intimate feelings which existed between your Royal Highness and the Canadian troops who took part in the great war. Over seventeen hundred men from the Kelowna District joined His Majesty's forces to fight for right and freedom against the Empire's enemies.

Assuring you with no little pride of our loyalty and attachment to the British Throne and Empire, and to His Most Gracious Majesty, King George the Fifth, we have the honour to be, Sir, your Royal Highness' most obedient servants,

D. W. SUTHERLAND, Mayor.
G. H. DUNN, Clerk.
Kelowna, B.C.,
September 30th, 1919."

In a clear voice the Prince read his reply as follows:—

"Mr. Mayor: You have welcomed me most kindly and I beg to convey my sincere appreciation and good wishes to all the citizens of Kelowna.

I have heard much of the agricultural wealth of this district, and I also know of your splendid services during the great war. I congratulate you most heartily on your fine record, and I trust that you will be able to develope the great promise of this region in full measure now that the Empire is once more at peace.

It will be a pleasure to tell my father, the King, of your warm expression of loyalty to his throne, and in his name I wish you all prosperity and success."

Following the formal addresses the Prince chatted for a few minutes with Mayor Sutherland and others on the platform. He spoke of the pleasure of his trip through the valley and made many inquiries as to the city and its industries. He received very gratefully a present of several boxes of apples which, the Mayor informed him, had been specially prepared for him by the various packing houses, and gave instructions that they be forwarded to the Queen at Buckingham Palace.

The War Veterans were drawn up under the command of Col. Belson and naturally received much attention from the Prince who walked through their lines chatting with one or another of them in a most friendly manner.

The Boy Scouts and Cubs were also inspected and Scoutmaster Weddell complimented upon their appearance.

A touching incident was witnessed when the Prince passed along a little line of those women whom the war had bereaved of husband, brother or son. To every one he gave a sympathetic shake of the hand.

Lined up to one side of the platform were the school children, who sang lustily "God Bless the Prince of Wales" as the royal visitor ascended the platform. Later the Prince expressed his pleasure at the singing and asked for the principals of the schools to be presented to him. As they could not be found at the time, Mr. A. C. Williams, of the Broder Canning Co., who had trained the children, was presented, and received from the Prince a message to the schools asking for a holiday for the scholars to commemorate his visit. Friday was afterwards chosen as the holiday.

To conduct the Prince to the waiting s.s. Sicamous, which was to convey him to Penticton, an escort was formed of war veterans and boy scouts, and the short walk to the wharf was made amid renewed cheering. Before boarding the boat the Prince made a brief address to the veterans. He was pleased to see the good turnout they had made. Now they were back home again he hoped they would be happy and prosperous. They had been accustomed to regard him as a comrade in France and he hoped they would always think of him as such.

The cheering was taken up again and again as the boat pulled out from the wharf, and continued enthusiastically until the boyish figure of the Prince waving his farewell to the people of Kelowna could no longer be distinguished.

Fire Pevention Day is to be Observed

The tremendous increase in the property loss in Canada from preventable fires, in addition to the appalling destruction of valuable timber and denuding of watershed areas from forest fires, is a matter for serious thought and vigorous action. Abundant evidence has been gathered to show that carelessness and want of sensible precaution are at the bottom of most of this great economic waste. Only a wide stirring of public interest and an awakening of the public conscience can avail against such a condition. With this end in view a Dominion proclamation has been issued appointing October 9th as "Fire Prevention Day" throughout Canada. The idea is to concentrate attention on an educative campaign, and to inform the public and especially the children as to the proper measures which should be taken to prevent fire. Every individual is expected on that day to carefully inspect his own immediate surroundings, and to see to it that sources of fire danger are removed.

What is the Matter With the Fall Fair?

Though successful in many ways it must be admitted that the number of entries at this year's Fall Fair was disappointing and unsatisfactory, especially in view of the the bountiful production which has characterized this year's harvest throughout the district. Why should this be? One hears many reasons given, but although they may account for some of the falling off they do not afford a real explanation. Too small prize money and lingering soreness about certain failure to pay all the prize money, which happened some five or six years ago when the Associa was in bad straits from overexpansion, are mentioned to explain why more people do not bring in their exhibits We do not believe this has much to do with it, and besides is rather insulting to the average citizen, who is generally too good a sport to let such considerations influence him. A more serious reason given is "lack of time," the Fair happening when everyone is up to the eyes in work. Whatever it may be there certainly is a cause, and it should be one of the first duties of the board of directors to find out and suggest a new line of action.

Orders for Local Scouts

Kelowna Troop.

Troop First; Self Last

Edited by "Wolf." Sept. 30, 1919.

ORDERS by command for week ending October 11, 1919.

DUTIES: Orderly patrol for week, Beavers, and also for the week following; next for duty, Wolves.

PARADES: The combined troop will parade at the clubroom on Saturday, Oct. 11, at 2 p.m., in uniform.

A Court of Honor was held on Wednesday last after the regular meeting, and as an outcome of this a new patrol has been formed, with Leonard DuMoulin as patrol leader and Teddy Groves as second. The following have been transfered from the Cubs to the Troop: Howard Leathley, William Akeroyd Elwyn Williams, Jas. Laidlaw, Harold Cunningham, and Ellis Todd. Of these, Ellis Todd has been attached to the Eagles, Harold Cunningham to the Owls, and the rest to the new patrol. Five scouts have left the roll, and of these three have left town, and the remaining two left us of their own accord.

* * *

We were to have been honored by a visit from the Chief Scout for Canada on Thursday the 9th of October, but it seems this date may be altered as he intends to be present at the New Westminster Exhibition and this makes it necessary to readjust his schedule. When he does come the troop will have to parade in full strength, as being the Chief Scout he will naturally wish to see Scouts wherever he goes, provided of course the time of his arrival makes a parade possible.

Short Pieces for the Wolf Cubs

By the Old Silver Wolf

The Cubs again took a hike to the turtle back on Saturday, and this time more boys were able to go which made the scouting game a great success. The "German army" was also met on the way only this time looked fiercer than last week. There is a great lesson to be learned here—the things that look or appear hard or fierce are not always really so. Many hard tasks seem quite easy when tackled and the Cub who keeps thinking he can't do things will never do very much.

Another great lesson can be got from the visit of the Prince, and that is Unity. I noticed a thing that often happens when there is a crowd of people—the line of boys got broken. A man who had no thought for the Cubs walked right through their line with the result they got scattered a little in the crowd's rush. This we cannot foresee, but should you ever be in a crowd again you must get a firm hold of the boy in front and Hang On. We shall play a game like this one afternoon when on a hike.

There will be no parade tomorrow night as just for the present we have no room for meeting in. Watch the paper for announcements, and then tell one another.

Random Remarks

By the Chiel

"A chiel's amang ye takin' notes and feth, he'll prent them."—Burns.

Let others seek for empty joys
At ball or concert, rout or play:
Whilst far from Fashion's idle noise,
Her guilded domes and trappings gay,
I while the winter eve away
'Twist book and lute the hours divide
And marvel how I e'er could stray
From thee, my own fireside.

* * *

The frosty tang in the air and the palbably shortening days, brings sharply home to us the approach of winter with its peculiar joys and opportunities. Don't you think now is the time to organize an exclusively Scottish Society for the district. As I ventured to remark before, the want of such where there are so many Scotch people constitutes a reproach which I humbly submit, should be removed. If this meets the eye of any interested, send in your ideas and a get-together meeting could surely easily be arranged.

* * *

I like reading poetry—sometimes—but you know some of those poetical Johnnies make some awful breaks. Take those lines for instance: "An infant crying in the night; an infant crying for the light." In this the poet displays an ignorance which would do a bachelor proud. When a baby wails in the night the light will not pacify it by a long shot. It is more likely to be crying for an application to the maternal font, as Micawber would say, or perchance the trouble might be allayed by a few drops of dill water.

* * *

I wonder if you noticed, as I did, the account of the man somewhere in the U.S.A. who, on his rescue from drowning offered his rescuer a chew of tobacco? This would suggest that individuals do not always very greatly exceed in estimating their own worth.

* * *

The famous smile of the Prince of Wales is genuine and being so is pleasing. Being one of a big crowd in the park I got a good view of H.R.H. and I don't think a more pleasing personality than he is often met with. His quiet and unassuming bearing with its mixture of dignity and boyishness endeared him (I am sure you will agree with me) to all. I always consider a smile a valuable asset to any one, but it must be a genuine expression of the inward condition, if you understand what I mean, and it seemed to me we had a perfect example of this in the Prince.

* * *

But you know that artificial smirk. It is too horrid for anything and the inane grin which is too often mistaken for a sign of good nature. Then there is the fat smile of a Chadband or the sneering smile of a Carker. These are an abomination as all spurious things are.

It is easy enough to be pleasant
When things go along like a song,
But the man worth while
Is the man with a smile
When everything goes dead wrong.

* * *

The rivalry between two makers of bird cages had become intense until at last one went to the other and said: "See here Smith, I don't see how you can sell your cages for 1s 6d each. I can't possibly afford to sell mine for less than 1s 10d a piece and at that I steal all the material of which they are made." "Well," said the other, "since you are so candid I will tell you my secret, I steal mine ready made."

The Why? of Another Victory Loan

WHEN, on the morning of November 11th, 1918, the guns were hushed and glad tidings flashed across the world, there followed with the Nation's Prayer of Thanksgiving, one yearning query, which found echo in the faster beating hearts of wives, mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters and sweethearts. That query was, "How soon will our boy be home?" And, from France and Flanders, from Italy and Egypt, from Palestine and from far-off Siberia, there came an answering echo, "How soon, how soon, may we go home?"

CANADA caught the spirit of these longings, and at once resolved to satisfy them. It was an appalling task. Shipping was tragically scarce. The composition of the Army of Occupation had not then been settled. And other parts of the Empire as well as Canada were looking for the speedy return of their men.

THE problem was this. The half-million men that Canada had overseas had taken more than four years to transport to the field of battle. To bring them home in a few months was a gigantic undertaking—one to tax all Canada's ingenuity and resources. Canada solved the problem, but it meant crowding into a few short months, an expense for demobilization which it was impossible to foresee.

THEN, too, besides the sentimental aspect of the necessity for bringing the men home quickly the economic side could not be overlooked. That was, to transform efficiently and speedily the nation's army of workers.

\+ \+ \+ \+ \+

Need Divides Itself in Two Parts The answer to the question "Why does Canada need another Victory Loan?" divides itself into two parts. (a) To finish paying the expenses of demobilization, and the obligations we still owe to our soldiers. (b) To provide national working capital.

Obligations to Soldiers The obligations to soldiers include:
That already incurred cost of bringing home troops from overseas.
The payment of all soldiers still undemobilized. This includes more than 20,000 sick and wounded who are still in hospital, and who of course remain on the Army payroll till discharged.
The upkeep of hospitals, and their medical and nursing staffs, until the need for them is ended.
These three items alone will use up at least $200,000,000 of the Victory Loan 1919.

Gratuities There is also the gratuity which has been authorized, and has been and is being paid to assist soldiers to tide over the period between discharge and their re-adjustment to civil life. For this purpose alone, $61,000,000 must be provided out of the Victory Loan 1919, in addition to the $59,000,000 already paid out of the proceeds of the Victory Loan 1918.

Land Settlement Furthermore, soldiers who desire to become farmers may, under the Soldiers' Land Settlement Act, be loaned money by Canada with which to purchase land, stock and implements. The money so advanced will be paid back; meantime each loan is secured by a first mortgage. Up to August 15th, 29,495 soldiers had applied for land under the terms of this Act; and 22,281 applications had been investigated, and the qualifications of the applicant approved. For this purpose Canada this year requires $24,000,000.

Vocational Training For this work which, with the Vocational Training and Soldiers' Service Departments, embraces the major activities of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, an appropriation of $57,000,000 is necessary.

These national expenditures are war expenses. They will be accepted readily by every citizen who gives thought to the task which Canada faced following the Armistice, and to the success with which she has met it.

National Working Capital Canada needs national working capital, so that she may be able to sell on credit to Great Britain and our Allies the products of our farms, forests, fisheries, mines and factories.
You may ask "Why sell to them if they can't pay cash?" The answer is, "Their orders are absolutely essential to the continuance of our agricultural and industrial prosperity."
The magnitude of these orders and the amount of employment thus created, will depend upon the success of the Victory Loan 1919.

The "Why" of Credit Loans Farmers and manufacturers (and that includes the workers on these orders) must be paid cash for their products. Therefore, Canada must borrow money from her citizens to give credit, temporarily, to Great Britain and our Allies. Actually, no money will pass out of Canada. If Canada does not give credit, other countries will; and they will get the trade, and have the employment that should be ours, to distribute amongst their workers. And remember, we absolutely need these orders to maintain employment. If we don't finance them business will feel the depression, employment will not be as plentiful, and conditions everywhere will be adversely affected.

For Transportation Money must also be available to carry on the nation's shipbuilding programme, and other transportation development work.
For loans to Provincial Housing Commissions who are building moderate priced houses.

These, then, are some of the things for which Canada needs national working capital. She is in the position of a great trading company, and her citizens who buy Victory Bonds are the shareholders.

Those who give thought to our outstanding obligations to soldiers, and to our need for national working capital, cannot fail to be impressed with the absolute necessity for the

DELCO-LIGHT

The Complete Electric Light and Power Plant

Pays for Itself

ANY one of over 75,000 users will tell you that Delco-Light pays for itself.

In money.

They will tell you that the pleasure and comfort of Delco-Light cost you nothing.

Delco-Light does work on the farm. Saves time for more productive things. Its electric power will, in most cases, save enough time to pay for the complete Delco-Light plant in three years.

The electric light you get free.

CHORES are non-productive work. Cut down chore time and you can do things worth money to you. Wm. Schneekloth says the electric power from his Delco-Light plant saves him 8½ hours a week on the churn, separator and washing machine alone—over 40 working days in a year. Think of the money he can make in those forty days.

On the Helms farm at Belleville they use Delco-Light power for the chores—in milking and feeding stock, in pumping water, in ironing and washing—and save 10 hours a week, or about three months of one man's work in the year. Here's a hired man's work for three months which Delco-Light does. The cost of operating Delco-Light is less than the cost of oil for oil lamps.

But operating the small machinery around the farm is only a part of the work which Delco-Light does for you. Take the question of pumping water; with Delco-Light you can have water under pressure at taps anywhere on the farm. You can water stock easily and quickly. You can have hot and cold water in the house. S. W. Cooke & Son, of Maysville, have a big herd of Holsteins. Delco-Light has pumped the water and done the milking for three years. They figure that their saving is not less than $1,800. As Mr. Cooke says, they could pretty nearly afford a new Delco-Light plant every year. And remember this saving does not include the convenience and comfort and saving of electric lights.

J. H. Lackey raises Polled Jerseys and Poland China Hogs. He, also, needs a lot of water. His Delco-Light outfit enables him to get along without two men he formerly hired.

AROUND the house there is a great big saving of time and work for your wife—time she can very well use for her chickens or her garden or her dressmaking. A. F. Hinnenkamp tells us that Delco-Light saves his wife 416 hours of housework a year by operating an electric iron, a vacuum sweeper and a washing machine. Besides—no lamps to clean, no matches to use, no danger of fire, lots of light.

C. F. Tressin adds in the time saved from cleaning lamps and makes a total of 547 hours a year. Think of all the things your wife could do with that extra seven weeks. And then you have electric light. You can't know the joy and comfort of electric light till you have experienced it. Just press a button and release a flood of bright, clean, safe light. No matches. No lamps. No danger. Delco-Light gives four times as much light from a gallon of coal oil as a lamp gives.

DELCO-LIGHT is a complete electric light and power plant, easy to install and easy to care for. It will give twenty-four-hour-a-day electric light and power service.

Delco-Light is direct connected. There are no belts to slip, break or be replaced.

It is self-cranking. Pressing down a lever starts the engine.

It is air-cooled. There is no water to carry, to freeze, or to boil away.

There is only one place to put oil.

A simple mixing valve regulates the fuel supply. There is no complicated carburetor.

Ball and roller bearings cut down friction to a minimum.

Long-life batteries mean economy.

You need to know more about Delco-Light. We have fully illustrated literature showing Delco-Light in operation. Write your nearest distributor for it.

Throughout this advertisement we have quoted from letters received from Delco-Light users. Each of these letters is accompanied by an affidavit. We have prepared a folder reproducing some of these letters, and with photographs of some farms where Delco-Light is used. Your nearest distributor will be glad to send this book to you.
