WONDERFUL SNAPSHOT OF THE VERMONT IN A STORM

This picture was taken by a sailor on one of the vessels convoying the damaged warship after she broke her shaft at sea in a gale and had to be towed to Norfolk, Va. It shows the stupendous force of the waves even where a 16,000 ton battleship is concerned.

The ship will be placed in dry dock for repairs and it will be some time before the real extent of her damage has been ascertained. Several of her compartments were flooded, but the others remained intact. At the time of the accident the Vermont was returning with the other American battleships that visited Italy and the south of France.

Armoury and Drill Hall is Now Assured

IMPORTANT LETTER FROM MINISTER OF MILITIA

Kelowna is now assured the much-talked-of new armory and drill hall for the use of the B. C. Horse and the newly formed company of rifles, a definite statement having been received from the Minister of Militia to the effect that the building is expected to be erected during the year, 1914.

At a meeting of the executive of the Conservative Association held December 13th, the following resolution was passed:

"That whereas a squadron of the B. C. Horse, also a company of the One Hundred and Second Rifles are stationed here, and we have an assurance that the city will grant a free site suitable for the erection of a complete armory. Be it resolved that we urgently request the Minister of Militia to place a sum in the estimates for a building of sufficient size for above units."

This resolution was telegraphed to Hon. Sam Hughes, minister of militia and the following reply has been received by the secretary of the association:

Ottawa, Dec. 18, 1903.

Dear Mr. Morrison,-

Let me thank you for your kind telegram, relative to Kelowna, B. C.

The name of your town is on the list for a drill hall, and we hoped to be able to erect one this year. However we will do our best to have one completed there next year, at the latest, as I fully realise the requirements of a drill hall at this point. Wishing you and yours, and the association of which you are secretary the compliments of the season.

Faithfully

SAM HUGHES.

No information is yet to hand as to the kind of building to be provided but it is understood that it will be a much superior structure to those which have been provided in many places in B. C.

The city council has already under consideration the submitting of a by-law to the people for power to donate to the government a site in the city park It is proposed that this would be on Abbott street at the extreme corner near the bridge. As this is public property it is necessary first to get the sanction of the electors before it can be turned over to the government.

Councillor R. Conklin, chairman of Penticton's light and water committee is in the running for mayor in that city this year.

May Form Basket Ball Team

A movement is on foot for the formation of a basketball team in the city. There are two or three good men available and no doubt many others are in the city who are familiar with the great indoor game. Arrangements can be made with the management of the local roller rink for practices and nights for games can also be arranged, if material enough for a good team can be gathered together. Basketball is a splendid game during the winter months and the roller rink provides a beautiful floor and ample room for the game, also room to accommodate large numbers who wish to witness games. All interested in this great indoor sport are requested to attend a meeting in the Casorso boock tomorrow (New Years) at 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon.

POULTRY ASSOCIATION WILL MEET ON TUESDAY NEXT

A meeting of the Poultry Association will be held on Tuesday evening, January 6th, 1914 in the Sons of England room, Keller block, at 7.30 to pay out prize money and map out a program for the coming year. A delegate will also be appointed to attend the annual meeting of the Vernon Poultry Association to make arrangements for the provincial poultry show to be held there next December. Local breeders must get busy and show the coast breeders what we can do in the Okanagan. With the splendid stock here and at Penticton, Summerland and Vernon, we should have the best provincial show yet held. All interested in poultry are invited to attend. There is no slump in the poultry business. Prospects are good for a successful year.

REMAINS OF BERT McCLURE LAID AT REST

The death took place on Monday last of Bert McClure, at the age of 35. Deceased has been subject to tuberculosis troubles for some years past, and of late has been failing rapidly. His family were amongst the old-timers of the district, having resided here for over twenty years. The funeral took place on Tuesday. Mr. McClure leaves, besides his wife, five young children to mourn his death.

The management of the ice rink are working diligently to get a sheet of ice at the tennis courts on Fl avenue. The weather man has not been overly generous in handing out suitable weather for this sort of sport. However, the bottom is now well formed and only a couple sharp nights is needed to produce a good sheet of ice.

City Council Approaches End of Year's Term of Office

NOMINATION DAY FIXED FOR MONDAY, JANUARY 12 AND POLLING FOR THURSDAY JANUARY 14.

The fact that last Friday's council meeting happened the day after Christmas did not prevent a full attendance, although one member turned up suspiciously late.

The term of the present council is nearly at an end and the business consisted chiefly of routine matters and the winding up of affairs for the year.

A formal resolution, fixing the date of nomination of candidates for mayor aldermen and school trustees was passed. Nomination day will be Monday January 12th, between 12 o'clock, noon and 2 p.m., and the poll if required will take place on the Thursday, three days later.

A letter was read from the secretary of the Hospital Society asking for a cheque cavering the city's grant to that institution. The letter was handed to the finance committee.

Mr. W. D'Aeth waited on the council respecting the lease to him for four months of the city wharf, a copy of which lease was submitted by the city solicitors, Messrs. Burne & Temple.

A report was received from the Union of B. C. Municipalities respecting the work which had been done by that body during the past year, and also stating that the Union had again secured the services as solicitor of Mr. McDiarmid, of Victoria, at a slightly increased salary.

The assessment against the Kelowna council for this and other expenses during 1914 would be $30. The payment of this was left over for the incoming council.

Mr. J. B. Whitehead, of the pool room appeared before the council and indignantly protested against the action of the chief constable, who had come into his place on Christmas eve at 25 minutes to 12 and ordered all games to stop and the place to be closed up. He knew of course that the by-law required a pool room to be closed at 11.30 but he thought that the same liberty should be given to him as was given to the rest of the stores. It was a common practice for the stores to keep open some time after six o'clock, but the police would'nt think of entering a store if customers were being served after six o'clock. He thought too, that the enormous licence he was compelled to pay should entitle him to some little consideration.

The resolution read at a former meeting from the Armstrong council in reference to the exemption from taxation of lands held by the C.N.R., was discussed, and although it was felt that such indiscriminate exemption worked a hardship on the various municipalities, the resolution did not seem to fit exactly the local case, and it was thought better to notify the solicitor of the Union of B. C. Municipalities in order that he could watch for any possible application for time extension in the interests of the city.

Alderman Cosens asked if anything was being done in the matter of securing the irrigation water record in the interests of the water users of the city. He thought it would be a shame to let it lapse, and he had met one user who was willing to pay the whole amount of the fees required in order to secure it.

The statement made at a previous meeting was repeated that the city would see to the securing of the record if the water users themselves would get together and put up the thirty odd dollars which were required as fees. If this "blanket record" were not secured by the city individual users would have to go through all the legal forms of application for their own records.

The Finance Committee recommended payment of the following accounts:

Increase in Years' Customs Figures

INDICATE BIG GROWTH OF SETTLEMENT

The following figures, for which we are indebted to Mr. A. E. Boyer, collector of customs in Kelowna, may be interesting as giving some indication of the growth of the business in the Kelowna office during the past year. The increase in the value of "free goods" entered, nearly 100 per cent., is especially noticeable, as this class is composed chiefly of settlers' effects, and shows more clearly than anything else could that there has been a much greater influx of families during the past year than in the previous twelve months.

	1912	1913	Increase
Duty collected	$ 25,565.36	$ 36,907.96	$11.342.60
Value free goods entered	23,889.00	46,629.00	22,921.00

EABTERN DIVISION OF C. N. R. COMPLETED

The last spike on the eastern division of the Canadian Northern railroad on the section between Port Arthur and Sudbury, which makes the road practically a transcontinental one, was driven Tuesday. The ceremony took place at a point 255 miles east of Port Arthur and the hammer was swung by Sir William Mackenzie, president of the road, who is leaving Toronto for a trip of inspection over the road. This trip will also be notable as the first in which Sir William has travelled from Toronto and Port Arthur and the west, entirely over his own line.

The spike, which was used on this occasion was of gold with only sufficient alloy to make it hard enaugh to serve the purpose.

New Year's addresses will be given by the pastor in the Methodist church on Sabbath. The morning topic will be "What shall 1914 be" and the evening "Back of all—God."

THE MOTORCYCLE DISPATCH RIDERS OF THE ORANGE ARMY.

This picture shows a review of the men training to carry war dispatches who will be used in case Sir Edward Carson and his men from the north of Ireland are called upon to resist the enforcement of the proposed Home Rule Bill. They are equipped with fast motorcycles and many of them come from the best families of Belfast. Their wives, mothers and sweethearts are looking on from the grandstand.

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS TREE ENTERTAINMENT

The Christmas tree entectainment of the Mount View Methodist Sunday school was held on Tuesday evening last, and was very much enjoyed by all who were present.

It consisted of choruses, dialogues, and finished up with the appearance of Santa Claus, who came down the chimney and through the fire place just at the opportune moment dragging an immense basket of toys and presents for the children. Just as he was about to hang them on the tree, he noticed some children watching him and quickly disappeared back into the chimney, leaving the presents behind.

Every item on the program was given entirely by the small children and rendered perfectly, although one little fellow was troubled with an attack of stage fright.

The drills were very good indeed, and reflect great credit, both on the children who took part and on those who had the responsibility of their training.

The little ones, in the Japanese drill, each with sash and fan, and flowers in their hair made a very pretty picture. The bigger children in the tennis drill, boys and girls, all dressed in white, with red sashes and ties certainly deserved the encore they received.

The following ladies composed the committee who had charge: Miss Ruby Hunter, Ida. Fleming, Annie Gay, and Mrs. Willis Schell, at the organ. The program was as follows:

Hymn.—"The Gospel Bells are ringing."
Prayer .... by Mr. Vance.
Chorus.—"Where Santa Claus Dwells" By the school.
Recitation.—"What Dolly Hasn't", by Etta McDonald.
Recitation.—"Rosa Ann" by Thelma Dilworth.
Recitation.— by John Campbell.
Solo.—"Lullaby", by Jessie Plowman.
Recitation.—"A Christmas Wish," by Delpha Woolsey.
Chorus.—"On Christmas Eve." by the school.
Recitation.—"A Mortifying Mistake." by Verna Ford.
Solo.—"If I only had a Home Sweet Home." by Jean McDonald.
Dialogue.—"Dolly's Sick," by Mona Ruth Woolsey and Leslie Richards.
Japanese Drill.— by ten little girls.
Recitation.—"A Cheerful Aunt." by Mildred Ford.
Recitation.—"The Angels' Song." by Earla McDonald.
Recitation.—"Santa's Visit." by Richard Wigglesworth.
Song.—"Snow Fairies" by Amy Fleming, Minnie Campbell and Jean McDonald.
Recitation.—"Kiss Must." by Minnie Mumford.
Chorus.—"Hurrah for Christmas Time"
Recitation.—"A Doll's Mother." by Jessie Plowman.
Recitation by Minnie Campbell.
Recitation.—"Then and Now." by El... Fleming.
Tennis Drill.— by twelve pupils.
Exercise.—"The Star of Bethlehem." by six girls.
Dialogue.—"Looking for Santa Claus" by five girls.
Chorus.—"Goodnight", by the school.
Hymn.—"Joy to the World."
Benediction.

School Opens Monday in New Building

FORMAL OPENING WILL TAKE PLACE LATER

School opens Monday next in the new building, all the ten rooms of which will be filled, leaving one of the primary grade still to be accommodated in the present public school. Two other rooms of the latter will also be used for the high school, which lately has been occupying temporary quarters on Leon avenue. This leaves the old frame school unoccupied for the present, but later in the year it is to be fitted up for manual training classes.

Mr. Nobles of Lethbridge, architect, for the new Central School was in town this week making final inspections of the building.

The January meeting of the Study Club will meet at the home of Mrs. K. F. Oxley on Thursday evening, January 8th at 8 p.m. A full attendance is requested.

In municipal affairs the past year has been a most trying one, not only for Kelowna, but for scores of other young and growing cities of the west. The almost disastrous slump which for some months past has fallen upon the money market, making municipal bonds almost a drug on the market, has lain like a wet blanket on municipal enterprise and development. That this stringency is the perfectly natural result of certain well-defined causes may be quite true— financial experts are busy telling us so almost every day —but it is mighty inconvenient and is causing many a municipal council to wear a worried look. Few cities are in so fortunate a position that they can depend upon current revenue to provide funds for their natural expansion and certainly not in the newer communities, whose institutions and public utilities are all in the making. More money! More money! is the cry from all sides, and the demand for loans throughout western Canada has of late years grown to almost unbelievable proportions. Up to a short time ago the response has been prompt, and capital has been pouring into the country in a steady stream.

"The amount of this capital is so great" says Sir George Paish, one of the editors of the London Statist, who has been addressing Canadian Clubs, and other bodies in the east for the past ten days, "that very few people realize or appreciate it. The mother country in recent years has provided Canada with the sum of no less than £950,000,000, a sum you will recognize is a very large one. I am told that the United States has also provided a very large sum of money. The result is, that at the present moment the Canadian people owe to foreign countries— or to the United States and—I can scarcely call Great Britain a foreign country— to Great Britain as well, a sum of no less than £600,000,000 or $3,000,000,000; and it is now up to the country, up to Canada to provide the interest on this great sum of money."

That Canada with her vast resources and undeveloped wealth is well able to do this there is no doubt, but there is no getting away from the fact that for the moment the sources of supply of capital have been diverted to more profitable channels, and such comparatively low revenue bearing securities as municipal debenture bonds are left out in the cold.

Hitherto Kelowna has been particularly fortunate in disposing of her debentures at good prices, and probably the optimism thus created is to blame for the present decidedly awkward state of affairs, though it might be some comfort to reflect that Kelowna is far better off than scores of other towns. Who could foresee that the $180,000 worth of unsold debentures which the city has on hand would hang fire in the way they are doing? And the unfortunate part about it is the money is already spent! The sewerage system, water and light extensions, and the new school building have swallowed up all that could be raised from the Bank and one or two private loans. The city is practically in the position of a man who has cashed his weekly pay check at the grocery store and laid in his weekly supply for his family's needs, to find after most of it has been consumed that the check is returned "n.s.f."

Of course the sale of the debentures would at once relieve the situation, but until that much hoped for event occurs, the council has a heavy responsibility resting upon it.

No wonder then that the demand for seats around the council table this year in not likely to be very keen. The position of an alderman in a city like this is at the best one demanding considerable self-sacrifice. The chairmen of the various committees are called upon to give so much personal attention to the details of city work as to involve a very serious tax upon the time of a man who most likely has his own business to attend to. And when these ordinary worries are complicated by financial troubles of so serious a nature as to threaten to interfere with the regular routine of city business, the position is by no means an enviable one. It is all very well to be an alderman when municipal skies are blue and money is plentiful and cheap, and everything goes merrily, while the people look on and cheer. But when financial clouds are heavy, and the council is handicapped at every turn by lack af funds for badly needed improvements, it constitutes a severe test of a man's public-apiritedness to consent to stand the kicks and often unfair criticism which a term in the council under such circumstances usually means.

The incoming council is likely to have a hard row to hoe, and the very difficulty of the position makes it more than ever necessary that a strong body should be got together, who can steer their ship through to calm waters again. The difficulties of course are all financial, and it is a matter for congratulation that the finance committee consisting of Aldermen Taylor and Sutherland, with the mayor have been again prevailed upon to accept nomination. However devoutly these gentlemen might wish it, nothing could be gained by a change just at the present stage and it might easily be highly detrimental to the city's interests.

It is to be regretted perhaps that some other members of the council could not see their way to continue in office until matters began to straighten out a little, but the needs of private business interests must of course be attended to, and nominations will be needed on Monday week for four aldermen to take the places of Aldermen Copeland, Cosens, Thompson and Calder, who have definitely decided to withdraw.

PARCEL POST MAY REDUCE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Speaking at Smiths Falls, recently, Mr. George E. Foster said of the cost of living that the new parcels post system would help the consumer and the producer very greatly by reducing the numbers of middlemen. It would be possible to have a farmer 100 miles from town send regularly 10 or 20 pounds of butter direct to the city consumer, thus saving the grocer's profit, to which is added an apportionment of the grocer's high rent, made high by the speculative land values. In the course of his speech Mr. Foster deprecated the extravagance of the people of this country and urged that they correct this weakness. In the two words "middlemen" and "extravagance". The minister of trade and commerce has discovered a couple of very potent causes of the present high cost of living.

MAY MEAN HUGE CONSTRUCTION IN THE WEST

Speculation has been rife during the past couple of weeks at Ottawa, as to what the Canadian Pacific intends to do with the $42,000,000 nest egg which it will have by its latest financing.

With the C.N.R. proposal eliminated there are several possible theories. The most likely, and the one which is believed correct is that the C.P.R. is planning an aggressive construction campaign in Northern Saskatchewan, northern Alberta and northern British Columbia. The only part of the west which the C.P.R. does not tap is the great northern stretch through the fertile Peace River country and the great agricultural stretches of northern British Columbia. Both the C.N.R. and G.T.P. are laying steel or securing charters in every direction and it is generally believed that the C.P.R., also is planning an invasion of the north.

How unlike the fair sex is nature. During the summer when the hot rays of Old Sol are scorching the earth surface the fair sex drape themselves in the daintiest and prettiest white they are able to scare up, while nature today, in the middle of the coldest season of the year is clothing herself in the prettiest white dress of all time.

BRIQUETTES MADE FROM STRAW IN PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Professor Andrews, of Regina, bids fair to go down to posterity as one of the most practical and far-reaching benefactors of the western country. In Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba millions of dollars' worth of straw is annually burned out of the way, in the same manner, and for the same reason that in the pioneer days of the eastern provinces millions of dollars' worth of magnificent timber were destroyed for want of a market.

If Professor Andrews' invention for turning the straw into little fuel briquettes proved to be what he claims it is, a problem which has vexed the soul of the western farmer for many years has been satisfactorily solved; and waste has been turned into value in the most remarkably beneficial manner.

The first briquette, Professor Andrews has produced, is very small—not much bigger than a crown piece. It is black, and as far as appearance goes, might be made out of coal dust. The farmer if he has power on his farm can make the briquettes himself. He can drive his threshing machine, and make briquettes at the same time.

The doctor claims that the cost is small, and that the equivalent of 80 tons of anthracite, or 160 tons of the Saskatchewan lignite coal can be obtained from an average crop of straw grown on a half section of 320 acres. Ten tons of this would warm the farmer's house, but he would be saved the trouble and expense of hauling it from town. The sulphur of the briquettes would be available for sale in the towns which also would get cheap fuel instead of the dear fuel as at the present time.

If Professor Andrews' briquette is what he claims for it, he has added millions annually to the wealth of the prairie country; and, as patents go in this commercial age, he should incidentally make a few millions for himself, for he will have done one of the biggest things and solved one of the knottiest of problems.

A referendum on the extension of the franchise to married women will next year be taken in every city in Ontario. declared Dr. Margaret Gordon, president of the Toronto Suffrage Association.

CANADA'S PREMIER SWIMMER WILL GO TO OLYMPIC GAMES

In spite of reports to the contrary George Hodgson, Canada's best all-round swimmer and breaker of records will compete in the 1916 Olympic games if the M.A.A.A. wished him to, says an eastern exchange. Before the Canadian swimming championships held in Montreal the great swimmer had decided that that event should be his last official act as a water-speed competitor.

Since then, however, he has evidently been thinking things over, and has at last decided to wear the colors of the McGill men for the balance of the present season. This will not entail the usual trip to New York and Boston, but will merely mean participation in the intercollegiate meet with Toronto Varsity to be held in Montreal about the middle of January.

With the end of the present year Hodgson's career at McGill University closes and the great swimmer will now take up his profession as a civil engineer. The big merman, however, is himself authority for the statement that he had practically decided to stay in the game for a few more years at least, and says that he intends keeping in shape and turning out for the tryouts.

"After this year" said Hodgson, "I shall probably not do any swimming, except for my own amusement, until the 1916 Olympic rolls around."

ICELAND WILL HAVE A FLAG OF ITS OWN

In the Danish cabinet council recently Mr. Hannes Hofstein, the minister of Iceland, moved that a royal manifesto be issued by which special colors of Iceland be authorized, the details of the flag to be decided by another royal decree after the wishes of the Icelander on this point have been learned by the minister.

The premier, Mr. Zahle, stated that there would be no objection to Iceland having its own colors, provided that the Dannebrog, the common flag of Denmark and its independence, be displayed as usual. This flag ought always be hoisted on the government buildings of Iceland. The king expressed his sympathy with the motion, taking it as a matter of course that the new Icelandic flag would not bear any striking resemblance to that of any other non-Danish country.

Poultry Notes

THE LANGUAGE OF FOWLS

Do you ever listen to your fowls and endeavor to understand what they are talking about? If you study your birds and become familiar with the sounds they utter, the many different ways of making and accenting the same or similar sounds, you almost unconsciously learn to associate each sound with a meaning of its own. After a while you know that a certain kind of cackle means return to the flock after nesting, or another form of cackle may mean prowlers, cats, dogs, foxes, or perhaps snakes. The "hawk cry" you probably know well. If you have attended to the wants of many brooder chickens you certainly know the "hungry cry," the pitiful bleat of the lost chick that can't find its way home, the "brooding cry", the happy little twitter which accompanies feeding, the contented going-to-sleep song when put snugly to bed, and many other sounds that all have a meanibg to the observing poultryman. Knowledge of the different sounds and their meanings often may help a poultryman to make his chicks more comfortable and to prevent losses. Don't make any mistake, every cry of chick or fowl has a meaning and the others understand it.

DRY MASHES IN THE RATION

Experiments show that a greater efficiency is obtained from feed consumed if a part of the grains are given in their ground form or as a dry mash. Two years' work on the phase of feeding show that birds receiving whole grains give a product valued at only 48 per cent above the cost of feed, while those receiving part of the ration in the form of ground grains show an excess of 68 per cent.

The actual difference in the total value of product was found to be almost one-third greater with the hens having ground grains in the ration.

This does not mean that ground grain can take the place of whole grain. Ground grains require less energy in their digestion, but a ration composed entirely of them restrict exercise and the health of the birds would be impaired by reason of the tendency toward too great a concentration.

Ground grain or dry mash, as they are usually called, give variety to a ration, increase palatability and add relish to the feed. If a hen is getting tired of the whole grain, she can make up on dry mash.

The dry mash is fed in a self-feeding hopper, which saves much labor. On large commercial egg plants, where the hens number up to the thousands, the dry mash has supplemented, or on many of them almost entirely taken the place of the wet mash.

The objections to the wet mash are that more labor is required in mixing and feeding, and if it is not fed with care it may, by being allowed to become sour and moldy, produce indigestion and diarrhoea. The absolute cleanliness the feeding demands is not found on many poultry farms. It is a good practice on small farms where flocks are small and where there is sufficient time for the feeder to give the constant attention to details the method requires and demands.

PARCEL POST WILL BE INAUGURATED IN JANUARY

A definite announcement that the parcel post system will be inaugurated during the month of January is made by the Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster-General. The date, however, will be towards the latter part of the month, after the holiday rush has subsided. There has been rumors of delay in putting the service in operation, but while the necessary negotiations with the railway companies have tended that way, this will not prevent a start made at the time forecasted. An agreement with the railway companies in respect to compensation for their handling the parcel post mails has not yet been reached, but matters are shaping themselves auspiciously. The companies will be liberally paid for the service, and, while there is no official statement about it, there is much doubt of them getting all they ask.

The Rev. C. H. Meyrick left this week for the Old Country where he has accepted the living of Wytham, in the diocese of Oxford. Mr. Meyrick will be amongst old friends when he reaches his new charge, Wytham having been his fatherjs first living, and consequently the scene of his boyhood's days: He has been curate in charge of the Okanagan Mission Church for over two years. He was entertained this week at a farewell social by the Sons of England lodge ol which his brother, Mr. B. G. Meyrick is president.

The annual guessing competition at P. Burns & Co. Ltd., created no little interest last week and as every farmer and rancher in the district considers himself a good judge of weights of beef the guessing the weight of the Prize Heifer has been keen. The weight was 917 pounds, and she was a beauty. The successful guessers were Hazel Purves and Clifton Ferguson, who each received a prize, a fat turkey. The lowest guess was 80 pounds and the highest 9,728 pounds. Total entries numbered 602. We would like to meet the 9,728 pound heifer and twist her tail!

The services at the Baptist church on Sunday were of a Christmas character. The church had been tastefully decorated and the singing by the choir was much appreciated. A special musical program was rendered by the choir at the evening service. The Anthem "Glad Tidings" (Hugg); "And there were Shepherds" (Chappel) and "The Wondrous Story". (Adams) were creditable performances, while the soprano solos, "The Prince of Peace" with violin accompaniment by Mr. Pelton, given by Miss Duggan and "The Universal King" also with violin accompaniment, sung by Mrs. Pelton were pleasing items. The male quartette "Lift up your Heads" (Adams) was also much enjoyed. The Rev. D.J. Welsh took as the subject of his sermon, "What if every day were Christmas" during the course of which he enumerated some of the benefits that would result from a continuance of the spirit of good will all the year around.

D. D. CAMPBELL TO OPEN NEW GROCERY STORE

An important business announcement is made this week in our advertising columns to the effect that Mr. D. D. Campbell is to open a new grocery store in the fleller block in the premises just vacated by Messrs. Dalgleish & Harding.

Mr. Campbell, of course is too well known to the people of Kelowna to need any introduction and his numerous friends will, no doubt be glad to know that he is once more entering the business field. His connection with the grocery business in Kelowna dates back to very early days, some eight or nine years ago, since when, and until recently he was manager of the grocery department of Lequime Bros., the pioneer store of the district.

The exact date of the opening of the new store is a little uncertain, owing to the fact, that considerable alterations have to be made, and shelving and counters erected, but it is hoped to be able to commence business early next week.

EKLUND IN VANCOUVER SEEKING MATCH WITH WINNER OF WALKER-HATCH BOUT

When George Walker and Al. Hatch step out on the mat at Dominion Hall for their handicap wrestling match Clarence Eklund, the wrestler who is now making Kelowna his home and who is the only grappler who has beaten Walker, since the Vancouver man turned professional, will be an interested spectator at the ringside, says the Province. Eklund arrived in the city recently and called at the Province office and posted a forfeit of $100 to bind a match for a $500 side wager with Walker, who has been clamoring for a return match ever since Eklund pinned his shoulders to the mat at Moose Jaw. Also Eklund admitted that he would willingly take a chance at the Hatch person on the same conditions that Walker has undertaken for this match, to throw Hatch twice in an hour or forfeit the match.

PACKING SCHOOL

As a sufficient number of pupils are not forthcoming to carry on the Fruit Packing School arranged for in Kelowna to start on January 7th, it will be postponed until some time in February. Anyone wishing to take advantage of the opportunity to learn apple packing should give in their names without delay to the representatives of the Farmers' Institute in their district to facilitate arrangements being made to hold a school in any district where a minimum number of 12 pupils can be got together.

MRS. PANKHURST ON STRETCHER AFTER HER LIBERATION

Mrs. Emmaline Pankhurst, famous leader of the Militants, being taken on a stretcher from an ambulance at Kingsway, London, into the headquarters of the Woman's Political Union, following her liberation from Exeter Jail. Mrs. Pankhurst was arrested immediately on her return to England from her visit to the United States. Now her jailers have been compelled to liberate her again, but under the "Cat and Mouse" bill, she is always liable to re-arrest to complete her three year term enforced on her for complicity in dynamiting the home of Chancellor Lloyd-George.

"THE CORNER GROCERY"

EIGHTY MEET DEATH WHEN CALL OF "FIRE" CAUSES PANIC ON CHRISTMAS EVE

Man Responsible for the "False Alarm" Makes Successful Escape.

Four score persons, mostly children, were killed at a Christmas Eve celebration held by copper mine strikers in an Italian hall at Calumet, Mich., because of a needless panic caused by the call of "fire."

While several hundred miners and their wives looked on, the children pressed eagerly toward the stage to receive Christmas presents. A man put his head in the door of the hall and yelled "Fire". The cry was taken up by those in the hall. Everyone started for the door. The weaker were thrown to the floor and those behind tried to climb over those ahead of them.

The stairway and other avenues of egress were blocked so effectively that those inside could not get out, and those without could not get in to aid the panic-stricken crowd in the hall. It was some time before the panic subsided.

The alarm was spread outside the hall by several persons who had been near the door and escaped unhurt. A crowd assembled and the work of clearing the hall was begun.

The principal exit was a narrow stair way at the back of the hall. When this had been cleared of the bodies that filled it to the top, and a quick accounting had been made, it was found that seventy-four corpses had been piled up before the hall building. It is thought a dozen others were carried away by friends.

The dead were piled up side by side, the girls numbering 37, boys 19, women 13 and 5 men. Excited women stood about the building, some dazed by the sudden change from holiday festivity to tragedy, others, calling hysterically for a missing child, and a few even threatening violence to the rescuers for keeping them back.

There was not much work for the many doctors who hurried to the scene as soon as the alarm was spread, for those who were not killed in the first rush were held upright and safe by the force of the onrush.

Only three of the injured persons were taken to hospitals, and a few went home with the assistance of their friends.

Dr. Bridges, Poet Laureate, has started a crusade for the purification of the English language.

WATER FAMINE IN MONTREAL IS CAUSE FOR MUCH ANXIETY

Owing to a break in the intake pipe serving the city waterworks system, the manufacturing and downtown sections of Montreal are without water. The hospitals have been compelled to buy aerated water by the ton, while the city officials have issued a notice urging people to use boiled snow for sanitary purposes. The situation is growing more desperate every hour, and there is grave danger of a conflagration should fire break out downtown.

Through the breaking of the intake pipe, Montreal may unearth a civic scandal of immense proportions. It is stated that the members of the board of control are already in possession of facts regarding the disaster which will warrant conducting a special and very searching investigation into the whole circumstances surrounding the matter.

The fact that the break in the intake pipe was not a new one, and that certain civic officials are alleged to have been aware of defects in the intake long before they resulted in the present water famine, are among the grounds that will enter into the investigation if it is held.

B. C. APPLES IN NEW ZEALAND

W. A. Beddoe, Canadian trade commissioner in New Zealand in a report to the department of trade and commerce, says that the steamer Makura, which arrived about the middle of November, had on board 11,679 cases of British Columbia apples. He adds: "This season, the apples were much better than the last shipment. Last month the apples were too green and but for the fact that there was none on the market, the sales would all have been unsatisfactory; but those arriving on the Makura have given every satisfaction. This office has been notified that British Columbia growers will make an exhibit at the Auckland exhibition in December."

The recent petition of the Canadian Pacific Railway company to the Austrian government for permission to resume its full activities in Austria, including the transport of emigrants has been refused. The Neue Freie Presse learns that the government will not give the desired permission pending the result of the judicial enquiry which is now proceeding.

RUSSIAN NEWSBOY SAVES MONEY TO BRING FAMILY TO CANADA

By dint of hard work and rigid saving Benjamin Dworking, a little Russian lad of 14 summers who daily sells papers on the streets of Calgary, has accumulated enough money to bring his father, mother and five little brothers and sisters from Russia to the land of promise— The Canadian west.

The boy embarked for Canada about fourteen months ago and at first worked at odd jobs around the city. He soon discovered that more money was to be made in business for himself so he started as a newsie on the streets. Furthermore, selling papers gave him a chance to go to school, and he took advantage of the night classes for foreign-born citizens which are conducted by the technical education board of this city.

Young Dworkin's dreams were realized the other day when his family, seven in number, arrived from Russia, and all secured work, which will take a big burden off his shoulders.

THE HATPIN DANGER

When a judge, giving damages for injuries caused by a dangerous hatpin, suggested that a cork might be put on the end he was probably not aware that an ingenious little machine on the market solves the problem.

This does away with the hatpin danger by the simple process of decapitation, not of the wearer, but of the offending pin itself. It cuts the pin to fit any hat.

After the hat is chosen it is measured, and a pin is selected and cut to the required length. The pin is inserted in the machine, and part of the handle cuts off the portion not required, another repoints it, and a final turn adds the polish. This machine is in use in more than one of the big stores.—Evening News.

NEW WIRELESS DEVICE

A pocket wireless receiver, resembling a small telephone was presented to the French Astronomical Society by Engineer Justin Landry. The instrument needs no mast or autennaw, but it brought in contact with a metalic surface, it enables the listener in Paris to hear the time signals from the Eiffel tower, catching signals over thirty miles radius. A telegraph pole with wires gives the instrument a range of 650 miles.

BUNTY PULLS THE STRINGS

This play is a play one is not likely to tire of seeing. It is as indigenous to the soil of Scotland as a Quiller Couch story to a fishing community of Britain. The Scotch character that has persevered through generations of trial and struggle wresting life from a stubborn soil and faring bravely on against every disadvantage, religious to superstition, clannish, parsimonious but always intensely human, has full play in the types presented.

"Bunty Pulls the Strings" is fresh and sweet as a budding hawthorn. Not that the characters are overly good, on the contrary they have many and glaring faults, but the tenor of the play is cheerful, wholesome, and gives a welcome picture of life as it is, not as people fear it will be, as men hope to make it. The reality of the play makes its humor natural, and one might think himself sitting upon an eminence overlooking some rural Scotch neighborhood with the vision of a seer who saw into the hearts of all the actors in the scene. The company presents the play with its light and shade in capital fashion. The quaint costumes, the burr of the Scotch dialect, and the open exposition of the Scotch characteristics make a happy combination through which the author peeps good-humoredly, and smiling at the follies of men.

Miss McNaughton is an ideal Bunty. With all her doll-like prettiness she looks and acts like a young woman of unusual intelligence—industrious, frugal, but with a deeper current of natural affection that shines through all she says and does, like the steady flame of an alabaster lamp, says the Seattle Post Intelligencer of recent date.

Thomas Biggar, played by J. H. Her on, the Scotch butterman, who believes the Lord created his race "His own peculiar people" but who has not the courage to face trouble without shying at his principles is capitally done. Wellum Sprunt, big honest, religious, sentimental, but putty in the hands of Bunty, found at the hands of J. M. McFarlane excellent expression. Grace Richardson played the parsimonious aunt, Susie Simpson, Madeline Powell was the Glasgow boardinghouse keeper, and Ester Ford looked pretty as Teenie Dunlop. Others in the cast were Gertrude Cary, Paggy Williams, John F. Clancy and Charlie Hesse.

Thirty-two foreign nations have announced their intention to participate officially in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition as follows: Argentine, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, Chili, China, Costa Rica, Cuba, Denmark, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Guatemala, Hayti, Holland, Honduras, Japan, Liberia, Mexico, New Zealand, Sweden, Nicaragua, Panama, Persia, Italy, Spain, Peru, Portugal, Salvador, Uraguay, Venezuela, Millions will be expended by these governments in the greatest display the world has known. The number of participating nations exceed that of any exposition in history.

The first marriage ceremony to take place in Kingston between a Chinaman and a white girl was solemnized by the Rev. E. Leroy Rice, pastor of the First Congregational church. The groom is K. F. She wanted the ceremony performed over a year ago, and although he had the girl's consent and also that of her parents all the ministers in the city refused to officiate.

BE PREPARED FOR SPRING SEEDING

Now is the time for farmers to consider the question of a good seed grain supply for next spring.

The greater part of the grain in the west was harvested under ideal conditions last fall and little difficulty will be met with in getting seed of strong vitality. Notwithstanding this there are some individuals and even sections of the western provinces that were not so fortunate at harvest time and now have seed of doubtful vitality in their granaries for the spring seeding.

Seed of strong vitality makes a good start, helps to keep down the weeds and finally gives the big yield; while seed of poor vitality is a sure loss.

Therefore every farmer who suspects the vitality of his seed should send a sample to the Dominion government seed laboratory, Calgary, for a germination test. In order that the report of this test may be of greatest value to the sender, preparatory to sending the sample he should clean his seed as for seeding. Too often seed that is badly contaminatedwith weed seed is sown. Every year the proportion of western wheat and oats which contain wild oats is increasing. Such grain must take a lower grade because no satisfactory method of separating it has been devised. Samples of flax containing 15 per cent. of weed seeds are only too common; this amounts to approximately 200 bushels of waste per car. When the cost of threshing handling and freight on this useful material is added to the loss occasioned by the injury to the growing crop, the net profits per acre is very materially lessened.

Flax is the most badly contaminated weed which the farmer sows, and since it is usually sown on new breaking his land is practically ruined at the start. Farmers who have clean farms, or farms free from some of the most troublesome weeds—wild oats, stinkweed, false flax, ball mustard, tumbling mustard, etc., should be very careful to sow only clean seed.

The Seed Laboratory at Calgary is at the disposal of the farmers or the public, and it is hoped that they will make use of it in their efforts to obtain a pure seed supply.

In former years most of the samples have come in to be tested in March and April, overtaxing the capacity of the laboratory and sometimes causing a delay in reporting on the samples.

It is therefore urged that samples be sent is as early as possible to avoid this delay and to enable the farmer to replace his seed who thereby finds it unfit for use.

NEW C. P. R. TUG NEARLY READY FOR THE WATER

The C.P.R.'s new steel tug, a duplicate of the "Castlegar," excepting that the hull of the latter is wood, is now all but completed. Another week's work will add the necessary finishing touches, when the craft will be ready for launching, which will be about the first of February.

The new steel passenger boat is also rapidly getting into shape. The hull has been set up, and the machinery installed. The main deck is now being put on. There remains, of course, much work in construction of the superstructure, but everything looks promising for the launching of the new ship early in the summer. It is understood that this new boat will for some weeks replace the steamer "Okanagan" which will be pulled out and given a thorough overhauling.

Both vessels are being built at the Canadian Pacific yards, Okanagan Landing.

MAIL CONTRACT

Sealed Tenders, addressed to the Postmaster General, will be received at Ottawa, until noon, on Friday, the 30th January, 1914, for the conveyance of His Majesty's Mails, on a proposed Contract for four years, three times per week each way, between Kelowna and Rural Route No. 1., from the Postmaster General's pleasure.

Printed notices containing further information as to conditions of proposed Contract may be seen and blank forms of Tender may be obtained at the Post Office of Kelowna and at the office of the Post Office Inspector.

LATEST WIRELESS DEVELOPMENT

The newest development in wireless telegraphy was demonstrated at the exhibition of the Physical Society of London in the Imperial College of Science. This invention aims at the detection of the direction from which a message comes. No ane has yet discovered how to send wireless rays, like a search light, in any definite direction. They go out everywhere, but even though they cannot be directed, it is just possible that a ship will be able to find out whence they come. This is done by a wonderful new instrument shown by the Marconi Company.

EMBARGO ON POTATOES

At present the Canadian and United States markets are closed against all imports of potatoes from the British Isles. The discovery of canker in Newfoundland and the likilhood of its introduction into Canada led to a prohibition of the importation of potatoes from Europe nearly two years ago.

The diseases black scale and powdery scab are now reported as prevalent in England and Ireland, which increases the distrust of the purity of supplies from that quarter. The Secretary of Agriculture and Technical Instruction for Ireland, Mr. T. P. Gill, is now making personal representation to the governments at both Ottawa and Washington to have the embargo removed from the Irish potatoes.

HYDROAEROPLANE DUCK HUNTING LATEST THING IN SPORTING CIRCLES

The wild duck has become such a "high flyer" that the decoy duck has ceased to lure him from his course; consequently, it has become necessary for the hunter to "go up and get him". In order to do this the hydroaeroplane has been brought into use.

This photograph shows a Chicago millionaire after duck hunting on the shores of Lake Michigan in a hydroaeroplane.

WOOD TICK DECLARED TO BE THE CAUSE OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Researches by Dr. Seymour Hadwen, pathologist of the Dominion department of agriculture, at Agassiz, into the cause of paralysis among a flock of sheep at Keremeos, has resulted in important discoveries as to the virulent wood tick (Dermacentor venustus).

The investigations, which seem to establish the cause of paralysis among sheep, also threw a sidelight on several cases of infant paralysis and mortality among children in the upper country.

Since 1910, repeated complaints had been coming to the department from a rancher in the Similkameen regarding a form of paralysis affecting his sheep, and occurring annually between late February and early April. The farmer in question lived near Keremeos, where the summers are hot.

In the autumn of 1910 he imported 900 sheep from Montana, and in the following spring they began to develop symptoms of paralysis, which during the 30 days depleted his flock of 46 sheep.

In 1912 he lost 12 more, 34 yearlings in all being affected; and during May, June and July he lost eight out of 300 affected, but it is impossible to say if all were affected with paralysis.

Dr. Hadwen was sent to the district by the department, and was unfortunate in not seeing any recent cases, but several which had been affected.

"The sheep had just been shorn" says Dr. Hadwen, "and on examining one of them, a large tick which had been cut in half was found attached ro its back; This was what gave rise to the idea that the disease was caused by tick bites. I remembered also hearing of curious cases of paralysis in children where ticks were found attached to their backs.

"Todd (1912), in a recent publication, collected case reports from medical men in British Columbia of paralysis in children associated with tick bites, and Bishopp and King (1913) have heard of similar cases in Montana. After thoroughly going over the situation. I returned to my laboratory at Agassiz, bringing with me a number of ticks, and it was here that the disease was reproduced experimentally under laboratory conditions and in a locality where the disease does not exist. Early in June another visit was made to the affected district, and the flocks of sheep again inspected There were only a few ticks about, however.

"One lamb was seen, about a month old) partly paralysed in the hind quarters, with a gorged tick attached to neck. The tick was removed, and two days later the lamb could run like the rest. Another lamb, showing slight loss of co-ordination in the hind quarters, was also caught, but was recovering rapidly.

"The obvious reasons for few cases developing in lambs is that they usually come late in the season and are kept in fields for a week or ten days after they are born so that by the time they are taken up tothe hills the ticks have practically gone for the season.

"I was informed that there had been about 25 cases among the lambs, but the shepherd thought some of them had rheumatism, which may, of course, be correct. As far as can be ascertained, the tick season round about Keremeos may in some years commence as early as February, and it does not extend much beyond May.

"Another shepherd told me that a few adult ticks were usually found on the sheep io the early autumn, and that he generally saw a few cases of paralysis at that time.

"The district of Keremeos is a very hot and dry one (it has the distinction of being the only place in Canada where scorpions are to be found) and this doubtless is the reason why ticks abound throughout the country."

The disease is a form of paralysis occurring in sheep, man, and probably other animals, and is caused by the bites of Dermacantor venustus Banks.

The tick has a decided preference for biting along the spinal column; whether or not the disease can be reproduced by ticks biting in other parts of the body remains to be proved, but it is evident that the bites of this tick are capable of producing serious local effects at any situation on the body where they become attached. According to sheep owners, the disease is sometimes of long duration. One shepherd carried a paralysed lamb from camp to camp nearly all summer and it finally recovered. In sheep which graze on the mountains, disastrous results are said to occur from affected animals losing their balance and falling.

A yearling colt was seen showing a loss of co-ordination; a dog became paralysed for a few days and recovered after the removal af a tick, reports have been received of paralysed rabbits having been found, and of young grouse dropping out of the trees with rings of ticks round their necks. The exact nature of the disease has not been ascertained. All that can be said is that in sheep symptoms of paralysis occur six to seven days after ticks have become attached to them; that the only pathological lesions found on autopsy are subcutaneous haemorrhages where the ticks had been attached and congestion of the brain and cord. Attempt to transmit the disease by inoculations have not been successful, and no parasites have been discovered in the blood or in the nerve tissues. Bouillon cultures, prepared from diseased animals, have remained sterile.

The most likely explanation seems to be that the paralysis is due to toxins inoculated by the ticks.

The incubation period of six to seven days suggests that "tick paralysis" may be a disease of microbic origin, and it is of course possible that the causative agent has not been recognized; but the fact that no fever has been recorded and inoculations have been successful rather negatives this idea. That ticks may exert toxic effects is probable.

The symptoms of "tick paralysis" in lambs develop gradually. The first noticeable sign is restlessness, the lambs at times stagger about and bump against obstacles and occasionally fall when trying to stop; later on they fall down and cannot rise; at this stage they struggle a great deal As paralysis advances the lambs cease struggling but still have a wild-eyed look; they drink milk with less avidity As soon as recovery begins they again continually struggle in their attempts to rise, and this continues until they are able to stand, after which recovery is very rapid.

No efforts have as yet been made to treat the affected animals, but this will be undertaken in the course of investigation. It would appear advisable, however, on general principles, to remove the ticks from affected animals and to resort to dipping, if possible.

The evil effects of this tick are apparently not confined to animals as a number of deaths have occurred among children, notably in the Kootenays, which seem to spring from the same cause.

One such case occurred at Creston, where a four-year-old girl lost the use of her legs and became unable to stand. A tick was removed from the nape of her neck, and in three days she was well.

In January of last year a similar case occurred at Vernon, the child being three and a half years old.

At Nelson two deaths occurred. After death, a tick was taken from the nape of the neck of one child, and from the right temple of the other. Medical men report several instances of the same kind.

The tick in question is not the ordinary sheep tick, but a wood tick, which flourishes in the warmer parts of the upper country.—Fruit and Farm.

WORLD'S STRONGEST WOOD

Probably the strongest timber in the world is a species of eucalyptus, known as yate, which grows to a considerable size in Australia. Its average tensile strength is 24,000 pounds per square inch; in other words a bar of this wood one inch square will (in theory, at least) hold up a weight of 12 tons. This is equal to good cast iron. No similar tests ofCanadian woods have as yet been made, but at the Forest Products Laboratories, recently established by the Dominion Government at McGill University, it is proposed to investigate the mechanical properties of native tree-species, with a view of determining, on a scientific basis, their utility for structural work.

STEAMER G. R. HUGHES RUNS ASHORE ON MAIDEN TRIP

The fishing vessel G. R. Hughes, of Vancouver, was wrecked off Secretary Point, Hope Island, last week. All the crew were saved through the arrival on the scene of the Henrietta. The men were taken on board and carried to Vancouver. It was the maiden trip. She is reported to be a total wreck.

Alert Bay wireless station got in touch with the Henrietta shortly after the accident and received the report of the mishap which was as follows:- "Henrietta picked up whole crew of fishing vessel G. R. Hughes. Vessel on maiden voyage out of Vancouver. Engines broke down in strong gale and vessel ran ashore on Secretary Point, Hope Island."

The Hughes encountered some of the rough weather that prevailed an the coast line recently and in attempting to make headway against the gale her engines gave out, and she was driven against the rocky shore of Hope Island.

In Japan recently there was completed a railroad bridge nearly seven miles long, built of native materials at a cost of $375,000.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for the lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion lands.

LOTS OF OTHER BARGAINS

BARRED FROM FUNERAL RECLUSE BEGS TO DIE

Call it infatuation or love as you will, but the attachment which caused a young and beautiful woman to inflict self-imprisonment on herself for three years, gives up her self-respect and forsake all the pleasures of a gay world because of her devotion to an old man, shows how intense a woman's devotion can become.

The above is a photograph of Adelaide M. Brance, prisoner for three years in the office of Melvin Couch, a Monticello attorney who watched his funeral cortege from her cell and then pleaded for poison that she might kill herself and join him in death.

B. C. FISHERIES FORGING AHEAD

The annual report of the fisheries department last week shows that British Columbia easily leads the provinces in the value of its fishing industry. The total marketed value of the fisheries of the province for last year was $14,455,488. This is an increase of $778,363 over the total for the preceding year and establishes a new record. The salmon catch was considerably greater than that of previous year, but its value was over $300,000 less. This falling off in value was due to the fact that a large proportion of the catch consisted of humpbacks and the other inferior kinds, which, of course, sold at much lower rates than the sockeyes. The herring catch was much greater, the increase in value being over $600,000.

The value of the halibut fishery shows an increase of over $600,000 owing to a largely increased catch. As an evidence of the rapid advance of the halibut fisheries in British Columbia in recent years, it may be pointed out that four years ago its annual value had not reached one million dollars. Last year the value in round figures was $2,500,000.

MILK AND CREAM COMPETITION

The B. C. Dairymen's Association has announced a milk and cream competition to be held at Chilliwack on Thursday and Friday, February 5th and 6th, 1914, the dates during which the annual convention of the association will be held.

The competition will be open to producers anywhere in British Columbia. The prizes offered are of liberal proportions and the exhibition of milk and cream with its comparative influence should have considerable educational value.

CONTRACT LET FOR CANADA'S MONSTER TELESCOPE

Will Weigh Fifty Tons and Be the Most Powerful on Earth.

The Canadian government has awarded a contract to the Warner & Swasey Company, of Cleveland, Ohio, for the construction of what is to be the largest telescope in the world. Eighteen months will be required to manufacture it and place it in position. A rough idea of its size may be gained from noting that a full sized automobile could be readily driven through the tube.

The Warner & Swasey Company built the Leik telescope, finished in 1887, the object glass of which is thirty-six inches in diameter, and the Yerkes telescope finished in 1893, has a forty-inch glass, the largest in the world.

Ambrose Swasey, a distinguished scientist, and a member of the contracting firm, when asked for the details of the collossal new instrument, said:

"Great impetus will be given to astronomy by the action of the Canadian government in acquiring this splendid seventy-two inch instrument.

"This great engine of science, weighing fully fifty tons, resting upon massive piers of concrete, will have a tube thirty feet long and seven feet in diameter, which will weigh ten tons."

At the lower end of the tube will be created the principal spectrum composed of a disc of glass seventy-three inches in diameter, ten inches in thickness and weighing approximately two tons.

The settlers in the LeRoy district of Saskatchewan who lost heavily by prairie fires last month, are being aided by the government, which is lending them $8,000 to buy seed grain, provisions and hay for their stock. Security for this will be taken by liens on homesteads.

ALBERT, THE INDUSTRIOUS KING OF THE BELGIANS

King Albert, of Belgium, following the example of his uncle, King Leopold 13, puts in many hours at his desk every day. He familiarizes himself with the work of his administration to minute details.
