The monthly report of the Police Department was read showing a total of 35 cases, including several breaches of the speed limit regulations and one of a Chinese disorderly house. From the Robert Hamilton Co., re shipment of door and frame for the new boiler of the power house.

An anonymous post card was received in reference to street lighting, but could not be considered.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE DRAMATIC SOCIETY

The annual general meeting of the Kelowna Musical and Dramatic Society was held on Tuesday evening with an attendance of 30 members. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted and the treasurer's report was brought up for discussion. The committee for the past year retired and a new committee was appointed to carry on the affairs for the ensuing year. ...

Various items of the balance sheet were discussed at some length, including a claim from Messrs A. W. Tams, Music Library of New York for $180 royalty fees for permission to play "San Toy." This had been shown to be an unauthorized claim on the part of Mr. Tams and the secretary reported that as a result of making enquiries at the Canadian Copyright Office he had ascertained that the right of production were not within the jurisdiction of that c[illegible] it was therefore up to Mr. Tams to show his authority for his claim.

Mr. A. L. Meugens expressed a wish that the orchestra might be represented on the committee by two members thereof, and the orchestra was advised to appoint two members to serve on the Society's committee. A proposal was then placed before the members for a means of raising funds for carrying on the work of the society, details of which will be announced later.

The meeting then adjourned.

WILL SEARCH FOR TITANIC WRECK

That the end of a mammoth steamship seen sticking far from the Newfoundland banks is the wreck of the ill-fated Titanic, is the belief of a party from New York, who were in St. John N.B., a few days ago, with a view to visiting the hulk and discovering for certain whether their theories are correct.

The party is headed by Captain Freemantle, who was manager of the expedition to Baffin's Land two years ago.

The intention of the party, it is said, is to locate the hulk, find out if it can be successfully raised and then claim salvage. Such salvage in the event of the successful raising of the gigantic steamship would amount to many thousands of dollars.

It is also known that a similar expedition to locate the reported Titanic hulk is being organized in New York.

THE VERNON INSANE HOSPITAL CLOSED

The inmates of the Vernon branch of the hospital for the insane, numbering 69 patients, were taken to the coast last week, and hereafter will be looked after at the fine new institution for that class of sufferers which has been provided at a cost of about a million dollars at Coquitlam. W. G. Armour and Guard Parsons will remain at Vernon a while to look after the building and harvest the crops. It is not known definitely what the government will do with the building there; but it is not unlikely that it may be again utilized as a provincial jail for which purpose it was originally built.

Today, September 11th, is the date of the Kelowna Rowing Club's regatta held on a small scale.

A subscription dance will be held at the White Restaurant on Tuesday next at 9 p.m., the cost being the nominal sum of 50 cents.

An auction sale of dairy cattle from the ranch of Major Naish of Penticton will be held in Kelowna on Saturday at 2.30 p.m., by Mr. E. Albert Orchard, of Vernon. An advertisement of the sale appears on another page of this issue. There will be about 14 head and some local stock, including horses.

The baseball benefit performance at the Opera House last Thursday was a splendid success. A crowded house was out and enjoyed a splendid show. The one act plays by Mr. McRaye and Miss Webling were good and the local talent who appeared before the footlights did excellent work, the Scotch songs and baseball parody by Mr. Geo. McKenzie bringing down the house.

HARVEST EXCURSION TRAIN DERAILED

The last special harvert excursion train of the season to be run by the Grand Trunk Pacific was derailed last Friday afternoon near Rockwood, Ont.

The train was an exceptionally large one, containing nine passenger coaches and carrying about 1000 excursionists. Although the accident was not seriaus a bad panic resulted and a number of passengers are now suffering from a bad shock.

When the train was derailed, the occupants of the front coaches were tnrown from their seats as the result of the sudden stop and a stampede followed to the doors. The doors were soon jammed by panic-stricken passengers and it was with the greatest difficulty that the officials succeeded in restoring order.

The first game between the Armstrong and Vancouver lacrosse teams for the Mann cup was played on Saturday last and resulted in a win for the coast boys by a score of 16 to 2. The second game was also taken by the home club, the score being 9 to 1. This gives the Mann Cup to the coast team by a total of 25 goals to 3.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF MUNICIPALITIES

IMPORTANT RESOLUTIONS ON MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT

Over eighty mayors, reeves, aldermen, councillors, and municipal clerks of different municipalities in the province were present at the ninth annual convention of the Union of B. C. Municipalities, which took place at Vancouves during the past week. Kelowna was represented by Mayor Jones and City Clerk Dunn. Ald. D. W. Sutherland also visited the coast and attended the various sessions. The convention assembles at different points each year for the purpose of discussing matters relating to city government, and the results of their deliberations are embodied in the form of suggestions to the provincial government for future legislation. The government has thus the advantage of advice and counsel from a body of men who are practically engaged the year round in administering the municipal laws.

This year the time of the various sessions was largely occupied in discussing proposed amendments to the municipal clauses act, suggested by the recent municipal commission, which toured the province visiting Kelowna amongst other places.

In his address of welcome, Mayor Baxter said there was not infrequently jealousy, not only in municipalities, but also in wards. That was a thing which was very damaging, and nothing could be better than to have such a convention, striving for the general benefit of all. It was good for them to meet together, get each other's views and broaden out their standpoint, with the intention of making British Columbia the best province of the Dominion.

Continuing he said there was great need in Canada, especially in British Columbia cities, of more laws regulating personal conduct. For instance, he declared there was strong need for a law that would follow a wife deserter and bring him back for punishment, just as a murderer or thief is tracked down and brought back. He would also have a lazy husband law that would force some of the "won't works" to clear government land and have their earnings paid to their wives. He also advocated a law that would compel a drunken husband to have his pay cheque made out to a magistrate or some other official, who would administer it wisely.

Many resolutions were put before the delegates by Mr. F. W. Peters, city solicitor of Prince Rupert, chairman of the resolutions committee. The first of these suggested an amendment to the Municipal Act of 1913 which provides that municipalities must pay for the keep of prisoners when it is possible to fine them instead of sending them to prison. As it is legal to impose a fine as an alternative to imprisonment for terms running up to five years it means that nearly every prisoner has to be kept by the municipality while in prison. This was carried and will be put before the government for consideration.

Several matters were brought up by the City of Duncan for consideration of the delegates to the convention. The first four of these suggestions, which follow, were carried and will be placed before the government for consideration. The suggestions were:

That when a resident of a municipality pays an automobile license to the government that a portion of such license be returned to the municipality as a contribution towards the upkeep of roads.

That when the water power of any stream or river is used for the purpose of a municipal electric light and power plant or for any other municipal purpose, that the government licence fee and annual charge in connection therewith be made a nominal one only.

That no land subdivision plan be accepted by the government is respect to any land situated within the boundary of any municipality until the same has been approved by the council for the municipality concerned, and that no subdivision by metes and bounds be permitted within the boundary of any city or municipality unless the same has first been submitted to and approved by the council of the said city.

The next three suggestions were not taken up by the convention, the first being that boards of school trustees include one member of the municipal council. The second was that the provincial government be asked to guarantee the interest on municipal bonds under such safeguards as will protect the government in the passing of the money bylaws. The last suggestion, made by the municipal council of Duncan, which was also dropped, was that section 94 of the proposed new Municipal Act be amended, so as to give municipal councils power to issue treasury certificates at a rate of interest up to 7 per cent., instead of limiting it to 6 per cent., as at present.

A resolution asking that municipalities be allowed to invest their sinking funds in debentures of other municipalities of B. C., was carried and the request will be put before the government.

By a considerable majority it was decided to approve of the seven mill limit on the school taxation rate.

A resolution was put forward by the City of New Westminster asking that the federal government start labor bureaus was considered to be out of the province of the Union and the matter was dropped.

After several conferences with the Diarmid, Victoria, solicitor to the Municipal commission, Mr. F. McUnion of B. C. Municipalities stated that he had thrashed out details of the proposed new municipal bill. He stated that the commission had objected to the division of municipalities into four classes and that they had also opposed the request that the municipalities should operate their own telephone systems.

After some discussion on this matter it was decided to pass a resolution in favor of submitting it to the government. The same action will be taken with regard to the municipalities owning and operating swimming baths.

A proposition that section 53 of the act be amended was made by ex-Reeve Weart of Burnaby. The amendment suggested being that municipalities should have the right to establish, regulate or maintain any public works or to do any public act considered to be in the interest of the public, subject to the approval of the lieutenant-governor in council. This matter was referred to the resolutions committee and dealt with later as above.

Tax sales and definition of wild land were the next subjects under discussion, the latter being referred to the executive to take up with the government. The clause asking that no land be exempt from taxation will also be re-submitted. Another clause which will be submitted is the one regarding the qualifications of the voters. The convention are asking that the same conditions as there are at New Westminster be granted.

The opinion of the delegates seemed to be almost unanimously in favor of resubmitting the clause asking that the financial year be closed a month earlier in order to allow time for the accounts to be sent in before the January elections. Another matter to be resubmitted is the proposal that a ratepayer should have the right to vote in all the wards in which he has property.

That power be given to the municipalities to purchase, construct and operate motor buses, street railways, ferries and telephones outside its boundaries is another request to be resubmitted and as this seemed to be one of the most important clauses there were a good many speakers on the subject and the vote for its resubmission was unanimous.

Mr. Henderson, C. M. C., for Coldstream put a motion before the meeting recommending that the government be asked to give a certain per mile grant per year for the upkeep of trunk roads. This matter was referred to the executive committee and will be placed before the government for consideration.

Several interesting papers and addresses were given during the course of the convention, including one by Ald. McMahon, of Vancouver, on "Municipal Ownership," on "Volunteer Fire Brigades," by the acting chief of the Vancouver Fire Department, etc.

The delegates were entertained to luncheon by the municipality of Point Grey and the directors of the Vancouver Exhibition, and had several interesting motor trips.

At the close of the last session of the convention, the officers for the ensuing year were elected. Mayor Robinson of Kamloops was elected president. Mayor Robinson has acted in the capacity of vice president during the past year and has been connected with the organization for several years. Mayor Baxter was elected as the new vice president. In the position of hon, secretary-treasurer, Ex-Reeve Bose of Surrey was reelected. Mr. Bose has served the organization for many years in this capacity and is one of the most valuable men connected with the movement.

The executive committee, consisting of seven members, was elected as follows' F. W. Peter, Prince Rupert; Mayor Jones, Kelowna; Reeve May, District of North Vancouver; Ald. Gleason, Victoria; Mayor Shaw, Nanaimo; Mayor Gray, New Westminster; and Mayor Kilpatrick of Revelstoke.

Herbert Fryer Recital

Those who took advantage of the opportunity last night to hear some really good music, a delightful contrast to the eternal "rag time", were well rewarded, for the entertainment provided by Mr. Herbert Fryer at the opera house was like an oasis in the desert to music lovers of this community. The lessee of the opera house must surely see the advisability of providing an entertainment of this nature more frequently for the audience was quite large and very enthusiastic.

About the merits of Mr. Fryer's performance critical remarks would be presumptuous for he showed himself completely a past master of his profession, and anyone who has given universal satisfaction from the platform of Queen's Hall, London, and other famous concert halls would hardly fail to please the musical palates of an audience in the heart of British Columbia.

All the items of the program were well received, the composition of Henselt, "Si oiseau j'etais" evoking a well deserved display of enthusiasm from the audience. This number was immediately preceded by a minuet and valse, composed by Mr. Fryer, which clearly showed how thoroughly he had penetrated all the branches of his art and brought ont in a very clever manner intricacies of melody and harmony proving himself to be well worthy of the position he has gained for himself in the musical world. The last item on the program. Polonaise in A Flat, by Chopin, brought forth a burst of applause, and Mr. Fryer was forced to respond with another item, of a quiet nature, which brought the recital to a close.

Mr. Hodkinson assisted on the program with two songs, "The Trumpeter" and "Songs of Romania" for both of which he was applauded with much enthusiasm, his accompaniments being played with much skill and taste by Mrs. Hodkinson.

VISIT OF MINISTERS OF EDUCATION AND AGRICULTURE

The Hon. Dr. Young, provincial secretary and minister of education accompanied by the Hon. Price Ellison, minister of agriculture, stayed off at Kelowna for a short time last Thursday on their was from the opening of the new school at Penticton. In company with the mayor and several of the school trustees a visit of inspection was paid to the new building in progress in Kelowna, with which both members af the government expressed themselves as highly pleased. Visits were also made to the new sewage disposal plant and to the Cannery and other places. The journey to Vernon was made by automobile during the afternoon.

Mr. Alec McQuarrie returned on Tuesday from the coast where he spent the past week.

An extensive mud slide covered the C.P.R. track near Field last Friday, and held up trains from the east

The government is about to commence a survey of fifty expired timber licenses in the Comox district. They comprise some 50,000 acres and it is possible that a quantity of this land may be found suitable for settlement. If so these lands will be thrown open for pre-emption. Out side of the Comox district there are some 1200 expired timber licenses which will be examined as speedily as possible. The policy of the forestry branch is to ascertain exactly the nature of the land in these expired timber lareas and to utilize it for the purpose for which it is best suited. In this policy the Lands Department is far ahead of any similar department in Canada.

MAY CHANGE TIMBER REGULATIONS

The possibility of deriving a larger and more proportianate revenue from the timber resources of British Columbia is the main object of the inquiry into the royalty question which is being undertaken by Hon. W. R. Ross, commencing at Vancouver on September 8. The matter is one that effects the interests of the public at large. After deliberation which involved consideration of the subject from many angles the conclusion has been reached that the stumpage is in some instance being sold for less than it its worth and the object of an increased and possibly graded royalty is to insure that the timber resources, which are the property of the people as represented by the crown, yield a revenue that is considered commensurate with their great value. At present the royalty is 50 cents per thousand feet, board measure, but this it insufficient. It is not considered a wise policy that the timber men should be enriched at the expense of the public, and while the government is anxious to do everything in its power to encourage the lumber industry the duty of safeguarding the public interests is paramount to every other consideration.

Premier McBride arrived in London the last week in August and spoke to one of the papers in favor of Mr. Borden's plan of giving three ships to the British Navy. He believed it would be carried out yet. Sir Richard spoke of the splendid reception given the New Zealand by the people of this province, and praised Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C.P.R., for the work he is doing to prepare for the opening of the Panama canal. When this short route from Europe to the Pacific coast is ready, the premier stated, there will be not only a great increase in trade and commerce, but many industries will be undertaken.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The hunting season is now in full swing, and many, many are the wonderful tales that are being told in club, hotel and home. One of the best is of a party who left Kelowna early on Monday the 1st., inst., and commenced to slaughter the innocent on Carney's lake in the usual way with the most up to date lethal weapons that could be obtained. After badly scaring several members of the duck tribe, someone raised the cry of "Bear! there's a bear up by the gate!" The rush that ensued was a marvel for speed. Archie being well to the fore, beating the Doctor by a short head. After looking carefully around; Arch saw it in the bush and took a pot shot, at the same time exclaiming "I've hit him!" But as they failed to find the bear it evidently was not much hurt. The event caused much excitement in the neighborhood, and several prominent nimrods were seen prowling around during the day, looking for Brer, Bear, but on enquiring from Tommy "who is a true chip of the old block," as to the whereabouts of Bruin, beat a speedy retreat when informed that it was George Monford's bob-tailed dog that had been mistaken for a bear, consequently shooting is strictly prohibited on Carney's property for fear of some over enthusiastic sportsman mistaking a cow for a moose. We would advise hunters to look before they shoot.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for the lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent of Sub-Agent of Dominion lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

WONDERS OF LONDON DOCKS

The Port of London authority has issued a guide for the use of visitors to the docks and warehouses under its control.

A visit to the docks and warehouses of the metropolis is a wonder trip, so extraordinary is the diversity of London's shipping trade, as exemplified in the contents of the vast warehouses along the docksides from St. Katherine's Dock, close to the Tower bridge, to Tilbury, more than twenty miles down the river, says the London Chronicle.

In the warehouses attached to St. Katherine's dock, are some of the most valuable articles of produce which come to the port of London. Here great chests of tea, weighed and tared by the customs and excise authorities, await delivery, and often the floors are covered with immense heaps of Indian and Ceylan teas, which are thoroughly mixed by means of great wooded spades to obtain an even quality throughout the parcel. A scent manufactory occupies part of another building. Extract of flowers mixed with fat is imported from San Remo and other places. The extract is separated from the fat by special machinery and mixed with alcohol. The process takes place in the dock precincts, so that scents may be made in bond for exportation, and the payment of duty on alcohol avoided. Then there are the shell rooms, where tortoise shell—the best sells for as much as £16 a pound—and mother-of-pearl are sorted and totted on behalf of the Port of London authority by a staff of experts.

Wool and wine, brandy, sugar, rubber, ivory, spices, drugs, dates, pepper and quicksilver are some of the valuable commodities which lie stored in the vast vaults and warehouses by the London docks, where the gangways alone cover a length of 28¼ miles, and where 105,000 pipes of wine can be stowed at one time. The ivory storehouse is a wilderness of tusks, and last year its contents represented the ivory of about 34,000 elephants, the total value being £360.-000. One of the most curious features of the wine vaults is the rich coloring of the fungus which encrusts the roof, a feature which is entirely absent in the brandy vaults, which, by the way are four acres in extent.

Tobacco, the market price of which is nearly £9,000,000, lies stored in the neighborhood of the Royal Victoria docks, and in the Cutter street warehouses lie thousands of cigars from Havana, the Philippine Islands, Madras and Burma, with cases of cigarettes, the contents of which make a total of 30,000,000 and 1,400 cases of Cavendish tobacco, containing about 210,000 pounds.

Adjoining is a warehouse which would make the mouth of the China enthusiast water. Here stands specimens of the old blue and white Chinese porcelain sought by collectors; delicately painted Satsuma rubs shoulders with vases and bowls of Cloisonne enamel, or is backed by the rich red and gold of Kaga ware. Carved ivory figures, lacquer cabinets, ancient manuscripts from Persia and Mexico, are to be found with silk piece goods from China, Japan and Bengal, the value of which reaches the sum of over £700,080. Then there are the feathers and bird skins from all parts of the world, the total value of the feathers annually sold amounting to about £3,000,000.

SUBSTITUTE FOR GASOLINE

Aj oint committee appointed by the Royal Automobile Club, the Automobile Association and the Society of Motor Manufacturers of England to find an efficient substitute for gasoline has discovered a process, which it is said, will produce 40,000,000 gallons of motor spirit annually without in any way depleting the country's mineral resources. It involves the utilization of a by-product of coal, hitherto unsuitable for motor fuel.

Experts have made a full investigating, with excellent results, and a full sized commercial plant is being built at London. The spirit can be sold for not more than 28 cents a gallon, probably for less. The secretary of the committee shows that the annual consumption of motor spirit in Great Britain is about 100,000,000 gallons, and that the present high price of gasoline is 42 cents a gallon.

Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai of the Chinese Republic has issued a decree announcing his intention of resigning office as soon as peace is restored, according to a telegram from Mukden.

There is to be a conference in London of delegates from all parts of the empire to consider naval defence. It is hoped to discover some plan whereby all the overseas Dominions can work with Great Britain for the common defence.

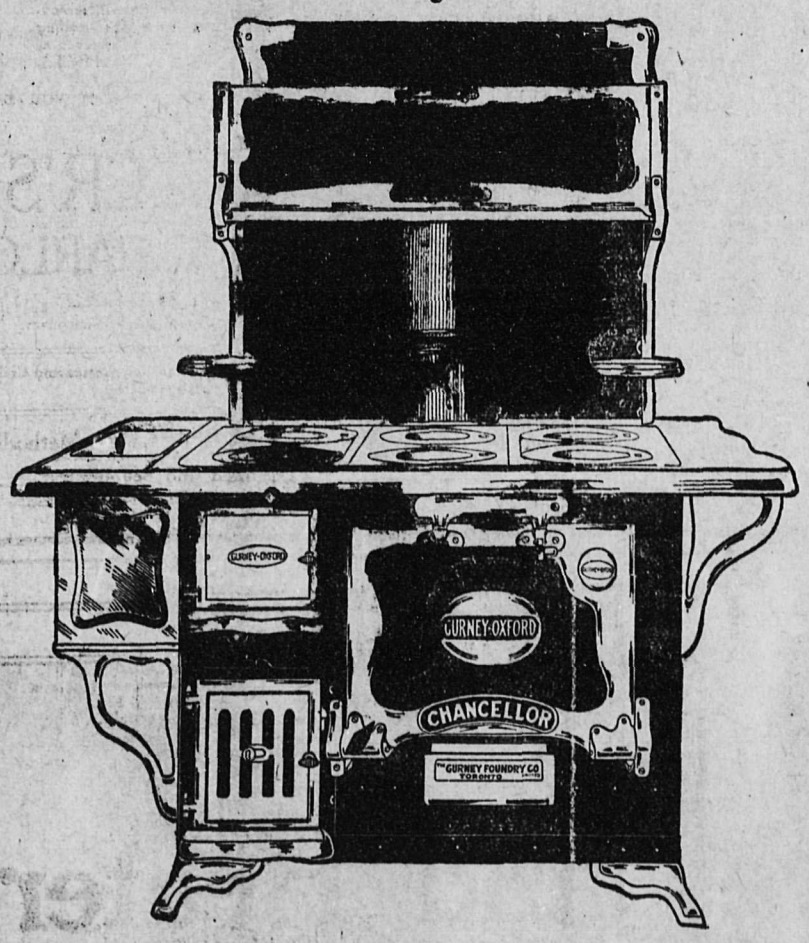
GURNEY-OXFORD

The Gurney-Oxford



Why it is the Best Range Procurable

It stands to reason that the foundry of national reputation for its equipment of the most notable hotel, restaurant, and institutional kitchens throughout the Dominion, also makes the best range on the market for the home kitchen.

This Gurney-Oxford range is the result of over seventy years' experience and experimental study of improvements to benefit the woman who toils in the kitchen.

Even Bakings

By means of a Divided Flue Strip, the heat is divided evenly over the top and down the back and sides of the oven. A pan of biscuits in the front and back of the oven will brown with perfect evenness without having to change their places many times during the baking. The two back lids of the range also receive an equal cooking heat that will boil two kettles at the same time.

Perfect Control

The entire range is controlled practically by one handle, called the Economizer. It turns around a series of six notches to determine the exact degree of heat required. Such control saves time, fuel and labor.

Saving of Fuel

Then again the special Reversible Grate saves coal bills by burning the coal to a fine white ash. No unburnt coal can lodge in the rounded corners of the firebox.

It's Sanitary Too

The Gurney-Oxford is "different" from all other ranges—its exclusive devices make an irresistible appeal to every woman.

THE LESSON OF A METERED WATER SUPPLY

The subject of a metered water supply is one of great interest, not only in connection with economy of distribution but also in regard to the fairness of the method of taxation as compared with the flat rate assessment. The waste of water is also greatly reduced by the metered system with resultant economy to the taxpayers.

There is a metered service in operation in Milwaukee, and the figures accompanying this article were compiled by the city engineer of that place. The average daily consumption of water in Milwaukee in 1912 was 47,556,000 gals., or 113 gals., per capita her day, but eliminating the 100 largest consumers, it was 75 gals., as compared with nearly 200 in Ottawa. The actual cost per thousand gals., including sinking fund charges, depreciation, taxes and 4 per cent., interest on net invested capital was 5. 733c; the revenue based on total pumpage was 4.676c per gal., and, based on the total for which the city actually received payment, 6,257c per 1,000 gals.

Classification of Water Consumers, Milwaukee, Wis.

1,185 pay less than $0.50 per year	2.10 p.c.
6,347 pay between $0.50 and $1.00 per year	11.00 p.c.
15,182 pay between $1.00 and $2.00 per year	26.33 p.c.
10,656 pay between $2.00 and $3.00 per year	18.48 p.c.
7,157 pay between $3,00 and $4.00 per year	12.41 p.c.
4,899 pay between $4.00 and $5.00 per y?ar	5.50 p.c.
8,017 pat between $5,00 and $10 per year	3.86 p.c.
598 pay between $20.00 and $30.00 per year	1.00 p.c.
271 pay between $30.00 and $40 per year	0.47 p.c.
167 pay between $40.00 and $50 per year	0.29 p.c.
376 pay between $50.00 and $100 per year	0.65 p.c.
428 pay between $100 and $500 per year	0.76 p.c.
66 pay between6 $500 and $1000 per year	0.11 p.c.
80 pay between $1000 and over	0.14 p.c.
57.657	100.00 p.c.

The advantage of a metered supply should be obvious. Wilful waste is done away with and the charges for water can be equitably adjusted. In the case of Milwaukee one hundred of the largest consumers paid $402,563 or nearly 50 p.c., of the entire revenue of the water department during 1912. Of the water consumers of Milwaukee, 58 per cent., paid less than $3.00 per year and 70 per cent.—over two-thirds—paid less than $4.00 Can any eastern Canadian city make anything like as good a showing?

The news from the new mines in the Shushana district shows that while there is gold on the creeks, too many people are going in unprepared and food is terribly dear.

Sir Edward Carson has been making speeches in Ulster urging the people of that province never to submit to Home Rule in Ireland, should that measure become law.

FOREST GROWTH IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

It is estimated that British Columbia contains over one hundred million acres of wood land, of which upwards of sixty-five million acres may be regarded as actually or potentially capable of producing merchantable timber, though, outside of this, the land is not of value. On this area nature has been busy for a great many years storing up what is today one of the greatest of the few extensive reserves of commercial timber left in the world. It is estimated that this area contains over three hundred billion feet board measure of timber, comprising over half the standing timber of Canada. When the question of forest planting is linked with such a resource, it becomes of interest, even though the importance of planting to the perpetuity of the resource yet remains to be seen.

The matter of reforestration has been considered in connection with British Columbia from three points of view:—

1.—Silvicultural.
2.—Financial.
3.—Economic.

Owing to a very favorable combination of soil and climate, nowhere, at least in the temperate zone, do trees grow more rapidly and more persistently than on the Pacific slope of North America, nowhere is natural reproduction more prolific and vigorous. In fact, this very readiness of nature to undertake the work renders discussion almost superfluous.

However, it has been demonstrated that reforestration is practicable in British Columbia. Not only would it be possible to reproduce those trees which are indigenous to the soil, but also other exotic trees such as the hardwoods. But, in a province which is cutting as yet only one-fifth of the annual growth of its forests, it is naturally hardly necessary for man to undertake to facilitate the reproductive processes of nature.

It may be concluded, then, that artificial reforestration is neither necessary nor, relatively speaking desirable over the major part of British Columbia today.6 With regard to the three considerations mentioned above in this article the following conclusions have been arrived at:—

First—forest planting in British Columbia is silviculturally possible. The hardwoods may be grown as well as softwoods.

Second—forest regeneration in British Columbia is financially practicable, as also is forest planting,

Third—forest planting is not now, in general, necessary, nor is it the most profitable way to spend time, energy, or money in British Columbia —W.L.C.

The Canadian Northern Railway Co. will have completed the part of the transcontinental between Sudbury and Port Arthur before Christmas. This section is 450 miles long, and when it is finished, the trains can carry grain from the prairies to the elevators at Port Arthur, the head of navigation on the Great Lakes. This line will be finished from ocean to ocean next year, and plans are now being made for a line of big freight boats to carry the grain down the Lakes.

Concrete is the best building material

A BROAD statement—Yet literally true. The aim of man from the beginning has been to make his building materials as nearly like natural stone as possible. The great labor required to quarry stone led him to seek various manufactured substitutes. The only reason he ever used wood was that it was easiest to get and most convenient to use.
Wood is no longer easy to get. Like most building material, its cost is increasing at an alarming rate.
The cost of concrete is decreasing. So, from the standpoint of either service or economy, Concrete is the best building material.
Canada's farmers are using more concrete, in proportion to their numbers, than the farmers of any other country. Why?
Because they are being supplied with

Canada Cement—

The secret of concrete's popularity in Canada lies in the fact that while we have been advertising the use of concrete, we have also been producing, by scientific methods, a cement so uniformly high in quality that the concrete made with it gives the complete satisfaction our advertisements promised.
Concrete would not have been in such universal use today, had an inferior grade of cement been supplied. Insist upon getting Canada Cement. It is your best assurance of thoroughly satisfactory results from your concrete work. There is a Canada Cement dealer in your neighborhood.

Without this label it is not "Canada" Cement.

BILL MINER DEAD

Death has freed "Bill" Miner, notorious robber and jail breaker, from his last prison term. His picturesque career, which included clashes with the laws of more than a score of states and several Canadian provinces ended a few days ago at the Georgia State prison farm.

Miner's criminal career began nearly sixty years ago. He left his home in Jackson County, Kentucky, before he was 15 years old, and went west. He admitted several stage coach robberies and train hold ups and was several times imprisoned for robbing banks. Three years ago he was taken to the state prison farm at Atlanta, Ga. for robbing a train near Lulu, Ga.

He was caught for the attempted robbery of a Canadian Pacific Railway train near Kamloops, British Columbia. This came near being his undoing, and "Old Bill" Miner was arrested, tried and sentenced for life in the Westminster penitentiary in British Columbia.

This was not Miner's first job of train robbery in British Columbia. More than a year before he was taken for the Kamloops robbery he had robbed a train near Mission, B.C., and escaped across the line into Whatcome county, Wash. He was traced across the line, but managed to elude the officers, who did not [illegible] his trail again until after the Kamloops robbery. He escaped from the penitentiary at New Westminster and was soon out of the country. He was next heard from in connection with the job which landed him in the Georgia prison.

Summerland is soon to have two drinking fountains which will be erected as memorials to the late Captain Scott of South Pole fame. The work of collecting a sufficient fund for this purpose has been largely left to Mr. Wm. Sauter, to whom much credit is due for his untiring efforts and determination to see the thing through to completion.

Engineer Carlton of the G.T.P., announces that his road will undertake the construction of a line through Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat, the Crow's Nest country into Southern British Columbia. The Calgary-Edmonton line will be extended south to make connections with the proposed line, work on which will be commenced in the spring.

COST OF BALKAN WAR

Enormous Loans Will Be Asked From Western Powers

M. Philouze, editor if La Correspondence d'Orient, estimates the two Balkan campaigns cost the belligerents no less than $500,000,000. M. Philouze in the course of his investigation, went through the papers of the Turkish general staff with the late Mahmud Shefket Pasha and estimated the expenditure of Turkey to July 1, 1913, at $180,000,000, not including the requisitions in Roumella at the beginning of the first campaign.

As for the allies, Greece alone has officially communicated her military outlay, which amounts to about $80,000,000 including $8,000,000 on the war with Bulgaria.

An exact estimate as regards Servia and Bulgaria is impossible, but Servia says M. Philouze was very economical in her mobilization for her campaigns, and her total outlay is not more than $70,000,000 while that of Bulgaria probably is $100,000,000. Roumania spent $40,000,000 preparing for war and her mobilization and campaign cost her $30,000,000 or $70,000,000 in all.

In addition to this total of $500,000,000 M. Philouze adds a further sum of $400,000,000, which he reckoned for bringing the armaments up to date. This means that the western powers, France especially, will shortly be asked for enormous loans.

Mr. W. H. Hayward, M.L.A., representing the British Columbia Agricultural commission is now in Copenhagen, studying Danish methods of marketing produce. He will shortly proceed to Berlin to attend the German Agricultural Congress.

As the four-horse team stage was returning to Keremeos in the early hours of Tuesday morning, the leaders of the outfit ran into a skunk in the vicinity of Cold Creek. One of the leaders was pretty hard hit in the charge and evinced his disproval of same in a series of disgusted equine sneezes. Some of the sleepers in the rig also found the situation too sublime to sleep through and those who happened to be awake tried to do the disappearing act with all the agility they could summon under the circumstances.—Hedley Gazette.

The total grain crop of Saskatchewan, which is now practically assured promises to exceed that of 1912 by several million bushels, declared Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture. The crop will be of unusually high grade and if frost keeps off for the balance of the season Saskatchewan will have every reason to be well satisfied with the results of the year's operations, said the minister. To reap a bountiful harvest in a season in the early months of which the outlook appeared far from promising, is exceptionally gratifying.

Amusements

VERSATILES

We are pleased to announce that Mr. Robert Duncan has booked for Friday and Saturday October 3rd and 4th, as an attraction at the opera house at a very great expense, F. Stuart-Whyte's famous London Versatiles, who received such a very flattering reception on their last visit.

During the fulfillment of his London engagements last spring, F. Stuart-Whyte still further augmented his company by some very well known English artists who are particularly suitable to the requirements of Canadian audiences. The Versatiles of 1913, in fact constitute a record as regards their success on the Pacific coast this summer season. Their performances have been witnessed by upwards of thirty thousand people a week during the sixteen weeks they played in Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., and their patrons have no fear in expressing an opinion that this company is absolutely the strongest combination ever seen on the coast.

The Versatiles repertoire this season will be similar but more elaborate than on their last visit.

The first half of the program will consist of their world renowned Pierrot entertainment, and the second half will be devoted to one act musical comedies. "The Canadian Express," which has for its setting a tourist car on the Canadian railway, as you can well imagine is extremely funny and lends itself to all kinds of comical situations and interspersed will be a number of musical items. Taken as a whole this comedy is voted to be one of the biggest laughter producers ever seen in the west. The Versatiles also have other musical comedies in their repertoire so that when more than one night is to be played in a town an entire change of programme will be assured. The costumes, lighting and scenery are all that can be desired and if F. Stuart-Whyte does not sell out the house on the occasion of his visit through the reputation left behind on the Versatiles former appearance we shall indeed be surprised. It is such shows as the Versatiles we wish to encourage in the west for we well know that under this management when the performance is over, you will never hear a remark passed in the crowd on coming out, such as "stung again."

Boy Scout Notes

BY MAGISTER

Having described all the badges and decorations authorized for wear by a Boy Scout, a few miscellaneous regulations next come to our notice. A common question asked is, what is the age limit for joining the Scouts? The limits for enrolment are from 11 to 18 but that does not mean that at the latter age a scout must leave the troop. Indeed one of the hardest problems now exercising the attention of the authorities is how to keep the seniors from leaving. Various methods are put forward in the Headquarters Gazette to which the reader is referred owing to lack of space in our columns.

The effect of a band is well known for marching purposes but how many bands are of such a mediocre nature and only succeed in making themselves a nuisance to their hearers and bring their organizations into disfavor with the public. The following regulation, therefore will be recognized as a step in the right direction.

Scout bands must not play when passing churches, hospitals, or any house where illness is known to be. No bands may play after 9 p.m., in the streets and bugle practice may not be carried out in open places within 680 yards of any houses.

Begging

It may be wondered why troop funds are often low. Regulation 47 states that Scouts are not allowed to solicit money, either for their troop funds or for any other purpose. It is bad for the boy and lends itself to fraud by outsiders. The spirit of the movement is that on the part of the boys themselves, money should be earned and not solicited. Each scout pays a small subscription weekly and every department from Headquarters to the individual troops depends on the public for its support. Troops and local associations are nor required to contribute to headquarters funds.

Cadets may belong individually to the Boy Scouts but not as a cadet unit.

Camp raiding is strictly prohibited. this is a welcome regulation to those who appreciate sleep under canvas.

An annual census is taken on Sept. 30th and the 2nd annual report of the province of British Columbia shows some very interesting facts with regard to the growth of the movement. To quote this report' "The total strength in 1912 was 1,003; 1911 showed 1317 while in 1910 there were 1023 on the books.

These figures may appear to indicate a decrease, but it must be remembered that the earlier figures represent a large number of what I may call "paper scouts" —boys who were induced to join owing to the novelty and when the novelty wore off, quit. Then again we have lost scores of really keen scouts owing to the difficulty that is ever with us, namely, want of qualified scoutmasters and assistants. Troop after troop has been broken up owing to scoutmasters going away and being without a capable assistant to carry on the work until another scoutmaster can be found, no one is left in charge.

Later in the report the following remark occurs: "Kelowna made the common mistake of looking for quantity rather than quality. They reached a paper strength of about 60 and then collapsed. An entirely new troop has been formed."

The provincial headquarters balance sheet for two years, ending Dec. 1912, shows a balance in hand of $619.15.

Combined church parades are not allowed without special permission from the commission, and under no circumstance should scoutmasters insist upon scouts attending places of worship, other than those of their own denominations.

IMMIGRATION TO CANADA

New arrivals in Canada during the first four months of the fiscal year increased the population by slightly over a quarter of a million. The features of the figures for the four months, April to July 31, issued recently are an increase of 20 per cent., in the arrivals from all countries, a big increase in the immigration to Canada from Great Britain, and a falling off in the number of Americans who have crossed the border to make their homes in the Canadian west.

The total immigration during the four months was 250,906 made up of 99,101 British; 50,040 Americans and 97,765 from all other countries.

During the four corresponding months of the last fiscal year, the total number was 209,442 composed of 88,318 British; 65,000 Americans and 61,424 from all other countries.

BASEBALL

Well! The baseball season is once more a thing of the past, and the season came to a close last Thursday afternoon when the locals defeated the Vernonites for the second time in the three-game series at the close of the league season.

During the season just finished Kelowna has made a record to be proud of. This may seem a queer statement to many, but when it is remembered that Kelowna won more games than any team in the league, but had the misfortune of having to play men at various times who were not signed the demanded 14 days, thus giving the other club the privilege of protest, which each club did, the games going for naught after being first won by the Kelowna team.

Last Thursday afternoon was the last game of the series between Kelowna and Vernon. and a fitting close it was for Kelowna. The Vernonites never become dangerous during the contest and only succeeded in getting one man as far as third base.

A good crowd turned out to witness the last game of the season and all went away happy, for they not only saw Kelowna defeat their rival but did not allow them to register a single tally, while the Kelowna boys piled up seven runs.

This made Kelowna the winners of the post season series, by winning two games of the three that were played.

The tie between Vernon and Revelstoke which was to have been played off on Friday did not materialize owing to the fact that Revelstoke wanted the tie to be played off in a three-game series. This did not appeal to Vernon and the game was not played. We understand that the league head has awarded the pennant to Vernon. owing to Revelstoke's refusing to play the single contest for possession of the handsome silver trophy presented to the league by the Calgary Brewing & Malting Co.

Thursday afternoon and evening saw the boys who had represented Kelowna in the league preparing to depart for their homes. Friday morning's boat carried Alberts, Stanley and Casad, going via Vancouver to their respective homes. Albert goes to Tacoma, Casad to Bremerton, and Stanley whose home is near Seattle, will go south to California where he will join his wife and spend the winter in San Francisco.

The south bound steamer in the afternoon carried Davis and Holgerson, en route to Spokane, where Mr. Davis will join his wife and go east to his home in Indiana. Holgerson goes to Tacoma.

Many were the regrets expressed by the boys on leaving. They were glad to have been members of the team and one and all expressed the hope that next year would find the bunch again called together here.

TO ESTABLISH WATER PLANE STATIONS

It is the intention of the British Admiralty, with all possible speed, to encircle the coast with a girdle of water plane stations 50 to 100 miles apart, says the London Daily Mail. This is due to the fact that the water plane— Britain's best weapon of defence—has come through the first stage of the naval manoeuvres with flying colors.

In the naval manoeuvres the water plane has proved invaluable as a scout and as a means of discovering the approach of a submarine. This, too, not in a single instance but on a dozen occasions. The naval waterplanes stationed at Cromarty discovered a Red submarine approaching on the surface and brought about her capture.

Again, a lieutenant in a waterplane from the Yarmouth naval air station detected a submarine cruising off Hunstanton. Her number was read and she would in war have fallen a ready prey to surface ships. Similar experiences have been gained on the south and north coasts.

It has been ascertained that the submarine can easily be seen from the waterplane in clear weather so long as she is running on the surface. Yet in this position she is almost invisible at a distance from large ships, as her conning tower is hidden by the waves.

Below the surface the submarine can be made out when the waterplane is overhead or nearly overhead. The airman looking down is not baffled by the optical effects of the waves.

Thus the first effect of the waterplane is to relieve the large ship's crew of the intense nervous strain that is felt when there is peril of a sudden blow from an invisable antagonist. Its second effect is to hamper the submarine's movement and greatly diminish her tactical value. She can no longer hope to cruise unseen and will have to keep much farther below the surface than she does at present and to be far more wary.

UNKNOWN PARTS

Perhaps one of the most interesting and least known countries on the face of the globe and one which has so far, pretty successfully denied civilization lies secreted among the Himalaya mountains.

It is presided over entirely by women, who are responsible for such rude laws as are necessary even in a lawless district, manage the affairs of state, and live in a luxury of inverted Mormonism, by possessing four or five husbands apiece. All the rough tasks and menial labors are assigned to the hillmen, and "mere man" is of small account beside these Himalayan amazons.

On a rough estimate it is declared that 7,000,000 square miles, or one-eighth of the total land surface of the world, are waiting to be discovered. Some 200,000 of this lies in the Arctic regions of the north, but among the frozen tracts that from "Antarctics" in the south, where Scott and his gallant followers were penetrating, nearly3,000,000 square miles are relegated to the sole use of the whale, pengiun, aod other animals and birds of the frozen zone.

In Arabia it seems that there is a tract of land unexplored which is nearly five times as large as Great Britain. Probably there is no more desolate waste to be found in the entire globe than that which is called the "dwelling of the void." Not a single river is estimated to flow throughout the entire 400,000 square miles.

Although the famous El Dorado, Peru, which set the sixteenth century ablaze has never been unearthed, the country might fittingly be called El Dorado, from the rich minerals and priceless stones which emanate from there. Strange, wild-eyed men occasionally descend from the mountains and bring wonderful fragments with them. But they refuse to act as guides to those who would accompany them back.

It is curious to realize that vast parts of the British Empire have never been seen by British eyes or the eyes of any white man. Nearly a quarter of Australia is still unexplored, mainly in the west, where the population averages only one person to every twenty miles.

New Guinea has baffled countless expeditions, though many are trying to fight their way inland from the coast.

ENORMOUS FREIGHT COST

The passenger fare by the river steamer White Seal from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Shushanna, the scene of the new gold rush is $100 and the freight rate $250 a ton. The White Seal is taking a two-killowatt wireless plant which was formerly at Kaltaga. The wireless plant will be erected at Shushanna and will work with the radio station at Eagle.

Mr. R. Duncan is about to install a new screen at the opera house at a cost of approximately $100. This new addition will astonish the habitual patrons of the moving picture shows, for its main value lies in the remarkable improvement in the production of the image. This special make of screen is known as the "Mirroroid" being made of special canvas somewhat similar to tent cloth. The surface is specially prepared with a combination of mercury and aluminum, applied by means of hot rollers, and there is no doubt that it enables the audience to watch the play without any effort of the vision. The excuse for abstaining from patronizing cinematograph entertainments on account of resultant headaches is now entirely eliminated. As soon as the screen in installed Mr. Duncan will take the first favorable opportunity of demonstrating the astonishing difference between the new and the old screens by exhibiting half the picture on each at the same time.

Dear Sid,—As I have told you before, many times and oft, we who dwell in this Elysian field, commonly called Kelowna, have blessings showered upon us with a prodigal hand. The climate, the scenery, and the fruitfulness of our little paradise would tend to make one imagine that life held nothing more in store. But the gods in the goodness of their hearts, have held the golden chalice of victory to our lips, bidding us drink, and drink we did till the cup was drained to the very dregs. In elucidating the foregoing convalrian I would remind you that in my last epistle there was mention made of a series of base ball games being played with Vernon; and also the lamentable fact that Vernon had won the first game. After letting Vernon get away to this flying start, what does little old Kelowna do? She turns around like a tigress driven to bay in defence of her young, and just clawed the supreme wadding out of that bunch from the city of the dead. Yoy know Sid, it's not the way you start, or your performance in the middle of a race that's remembered, but the way you finish. Thus it is with our baseball team. There have been times when they have tried our patience sorely but all that is forgiven them now, in the language of that immortal bard Hiram Contassel of Okanagan Centre. "Their faults we write upon the sands, but their victory over Vernon we engrave upon the imperishable tablets of love and memory."

On Thursday night we initiate our new picture screen, and believe me when I say that it is almost impossible to believe the difference it makes in the pictures. The boss has been handing me a lot of what I thought was hot air about this screen business, but I said to him in this case "I am a native of Missouri, and you will have to show me!" He did allright and I find that he didn't say half enough. Anyway, the people will have a chance to judge for themselves on Thursday night, and if the general opinion is not that the pictures are improved 100 per cent., I'll get up on the stage Friday night and eat the darned thing, frame and all. That's fair enough isn't it?

I went out last Sunday and tried to catch that kickininny I was telling you about, but there was nothing doing, my jinks followed me and I was skunked once more. Do you know, Sid I believe if those fool things were running so thick that a person could walk across Mission Creek on their backs, if I started out from town they would break their blamed necks getting back to the lake. However, we are going out again next Sunday and I will either bring back one of the blooming things, or else leave my moldering body at the marge of the creek. I'll let you know next week how I come out, but in case I get handed a goose egg this time I will inform you that my favorite flowers are buckwheat and cauliflower, and that I would like to have that pathetic ballad entitled "He Sleeps' in the Valley By Request" sung at the funeral. Good Bye Sid, old boy, Don't forget to write to your old college chum. Best regards to everybody,

Yours, JIMMY.

FOR APPLE PICKERS

The following excellent hints for the picking of apples is taken from "Suggestions and Tables for Fruit Growers." issued by the North Pacific Fruit Distributors of Spokane:

1.—Apples should be carefully picked and handled. (a) Care should be used by pickers to secure stem of apples intact. (1) By lifting up and out with a slight side twist, apple will come off spur easily and without pulling out stem. (2) Lay apple in picking basket do not drop. Every apple dropped will bruise two or more. Bruised apples are unmarketable.

2.—Large apples should be transferred from picking bucket to orchard box by hand.

3.—Small apples may be carefully poured from bucket into box. Place bucket in box, tip slowly, holding the hands over top of bucket, allow apples to roll out gently.

4.—Apples should not be picked when frosty.

5.—Windfalls, if picked up, should never be mixed with the good fruit. (a) If grower wishes to have windfalls handled, he should first store them away for two or three weeks so that the bruises will have a chance to show up. (b) It is impossible to sort windfalls right direct from the orchard.

A comprehensive valuation of Buckingham Palace, London, and its contents, just completed by a west-end firm is given at $17,500,800. The value of one room is estimated at $2,500,000.

DEVISHE S SURPRISE BRITISH CAMEL CORPS

English papers contain extended accounts of the recent fight in Somaliland in which a detachment of the Somaliland Camel Corps was almost wiped out by an overwhelming force of Dervishers, led by the Mullah. The Commander, Mr. R. C. Corfield, was killed. Captain Gerald Summer, of the Indian contingent was badly wounded, and some fifty of the rank and file were killed and wounded. It appears that a small detachment of the recently formed Camel Corps while carrying out reconnaissance duties between Berbera and Odwein, was surprised by an overwhelmingly superior body of tribesmen, numbering between 1000 and 2000 armed with rifles, and was overpowered by sheer weight of numbers. Not only was the British force outnumbered, but their effectiveness was diminished by the unfortunate jamming of their maxim gun.
