Hospital Seeks Aid To Instal X-Ray

Delegation Urges Great Need of Plant to Local Institution

A deputation from the Kelowna Hospital, consisting of Messrs. DuMoulin, Ballard and Binger, waited upon the council Tuesday to make further representations regarding the cost of making the necessary electric power connection to run the new X-ray plant. This matter had been before the council at a previous meeting, when, though no action had been taken, the view had been expressed that the city would not be able at present to undertake the heavy expense involved in the purchase of wire and transformer equipment and installing. The delegation now pleaded the urgency of the matter and asked the council to reconsider the situation.

It was pointed out that the hospital was in very great need of the plant, some thirty-two people already awaiting X-ray treatment.

Mayor Sutherland stated that if the city were to comply with the wishes of the delegation the amount of the hospital grant for the year including the usual refund of light and water rates, the cost of the new road and sidewalk in the hospital grounds, and this expenditure on the electric connection, would be doubled, representing a sum of about $1,500. He did not think the city finances were in a condition to warrant such a donation.

The claims of the hospital as a public institution worthy of a generous donation, were urged by Ald. Mantle and the members of the delegation. The suggestion was also made that a portion of the expenditure might be spread over a period of years.

The Mayor said the council had already decided to make a grant equal to that of previous years, and had already incurred considerable expense on the fixing of the hospital roadway. He suggested, however, that the city now purchase the transformer and necessary wire and that the balance of the cost be solicited from the 1920 council, thus avoiding throwing the whole of the burden on the present financial year.

The proposal met with general approval and the delegation withdrew after thanking the council for their liberality.

Mayor Sutherland informed the council that the absence of the city clerk from the present meeting was due to the fact that he had instructed him after attending the convention of B.C. Municipalities, to go over to Victoria to look into the matter of the foreshore lease applied for by the Kelowna Growers' Exchange.

D. Hookham was appointed fireman at the city power house at a salary of $100 per month, B. F. Beecroft being engaged as teamster at a salary of $3 per day.

Manure Can Be Shipped from Calgary Stock Yards

A circular has been issued by the B. C. Traffic and Credit Association announcing the results of enquiries which have been made recently into the prospects for getting cheap and adequate quantities of fertilizer for orchards.

"We have been working," the circular states, "on the subject for some time in view of the necessity of finding some source of getting manure for improving the soil of the valley, both for fruit growing and truck crops. After considerable negotiations, the C.P.R. have furnished us the following rates for carloads of 50,000 lbs. minimum:

Enderby, 16c per 100 lbs.; Vernon, 16½c per 100 lbs.; Kelowna, 17½c per 100 lbs.; Penticton, 18½c per 100 lbs.; West Summerland, 19c per 100 lbs.

I understand the stockyards company make a charge of 75c a ton for loading, which with the freight makes a delivered cost of from $3.95 to $4.55 per ton. They are able to ship this manure at the rate of several cars per week until the period of freezing weather early in November. On this account, any one in the valley who wishes to take advantage of this opportunity, should place their order as quickly as possible. We will be pleased to give any one further information if desired.

Congestion in Fruit Shipping is Serious

Transportation Inadequate to Get Fruit Quickly to Markets

Never before in the history of the fruit industry has the congestion in shipping been so great as it is at the present moment. Unable to get sufficient cars to get rid of the packed fruit and thus release the warehouse space, the various shipping houses are packed from cellar to attic, and are obliged to restrict the hauling from the orchards to two or three days per week. This, of course, dams back the flood of apples upon the growers, in whose orchards the piles of picked fruit are accumulating in an alarming manner. The whole situation is aggravated by a shortage of boxes which consequently holds up the picking, causing a great loss of time and added expense to those who have large gangs of pickers engaged. Unless the weather is unusually kind and severe frosts hold off until a later date than customary, it seems inevitable that much of the apple crop will be lost.

The blame for this state of things is placed unanimously by the shippers upon the transportation company. The service provided by the present barge system has proved to be totally inadequate. Whatever efforts the C.P.R. is making to provide cars for the loading of fruit, they are not reaching Kelowna, at least not in the quantities required by the shippers to move their embarrassing accumulations of packed fruit. Greater storage facility would help no doubt, but just at present the shipping firms are not seeking to store fruit but to supply their customers who have bought the fruit and who need it at once. Only a quicker service of cars can enable them to do this and to make room for more fruit, and thus clear the orchards. In the meantime the growers are being urged to make use of every available inch of frost-proof storage they may possess, placing the apples in bins or other receptacles which will preserve them from injury until they can be handled. Otherwise it is feared they may suffer much loss.

Another grievance which the shippers have against the Company is the enforcement of a regulation requiring the prepayment of fruit on all cars of fruit shipped out. This will undoubtedly impose a great additional burden upon the shipping firms, forcing them to make financial provision for carrying thousands of dollars of outstanding freight.

Summerland Wants Kelowna Exhibits

There was a time when towns in the valley were very free in sending representative displays of their products to the fairs of neighbouring towns. The war interfered more or less with this practice, but now that peace times are upon us once more, there is no reason why the good work should be taken up again. This is a form of community advertising that every grower and farmer can help along with. Do your bit for Kelowna in this way. An advertisement from the Summerland Fall Apple Show and Peace Fair in this issue calls forth these thoughts. This event is scheduled to take place on October 29 and 30, and is going to be on a larger scale that heretofore, it is announced, to mark the return of peace. The classes set forth in the prize list seem to be just what Kelowna growers could excel in, and this chance to impress upon the lower end of the valley the superiority of Kelowna products should not be allowed to pass by. Write to the secretary and get a copy of the prize list.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Melville and son are to sail this week from San Fransisco for New Zealand.

British visitors to our fruit districts suggest that shippers who ship fruit to the United Kingdom feature the words "British Columbia" on every label and stencil, as "B.C." does not mean anything to people outside of Canada.

Baptist Harvest Festival

Sunday last was Harvest Festival at the Baptist church, and the special service drew a large congregation. The church was very tastefully decorated with fruit and evergreens, music being contributed by the choir. The services were conducted by the Rev. W. F. Price who recently took over the charge of the church. Mr. Price, it might be mentioned, was prior to his coming to Kelowna, with the Canadian forces in England, having joined the Canadian Y.M.C.A. as chaplain at the outbreak of the war. Later he was Canadian representative on the International Hospital League which had the duty of caring for soldiers on leave in England. Residing thus in London during the whole period of the war, he had personal experience of the German air raids and had several narrow escapes. Mr. Price is a lecturer and writer of considerable ability, and while in London was a regular contributor to the Canadian Baptist, his articles being in the form of "Jottings from England," describing events and personalities in the political, social and religious life of the motherland. He also prepared a lecture: "Four Years on the Battle Front in London," describing life in the great city during the war. This lecture he has delivered at several places in Ontario, where it created much interest. He hopes to be able to give the lecture in Kelowna shortly.

Mr. Price is a native of Nottingham, receiving his training for ministerial work at the Metropolitan College, London, then presided over by that prince of preachers C. H. Spurgeon. After pastoral charges at Torquay, Devon., and again at Bristol, he came over chiefly in the interests of his family of boys to settle in Canada, and was in North Bay at the outbreak of the war.

Admiral Lord Jellicoe will arrive at Esquimalt aboard the battle cruiser New Zealand on Saturday, November 8th. He will spend some days in Victoria, and has accepted an invitation to attend a ball to be given in his honor by the navy league on Monday, November 10.

Three carloads of copper wire cable have been unloaded at Brideville for use in the building of the high power line between Greenwood and Princeton. There is about $40,000 worth of copper in the shipment.

Veteran From C.N.R. Camp Given Military Funeral

The funeral takes place this afternoon of W. Frost, a returned soldier, who for some time past has been engaged on the engineering staff under Major Workman now in camp about three miles east of town. Frost was one of the original 7th battalion who enlisted at the outbreak of the war, and was in the Valcartier Camp in September, 1914. He went over with the first contingent and was severely gassed and wounded at the second battle of Ypres. He was in hospital for fourteen months in England, but never fully recovered from his injuries, finally developing acute tuberculosis. About three or four weeks ago he was seized with haemorrage of the lungs and though every medical care was given him, he died Monday morning. The funeral is being attended by a party of the local G.W.V.A., who will accord their comrade military honors. Service is to be held in the Presbyterian church at 2 p.m.

Deceased was unmarried and has no relatives in this country. He was a member of the Vancouver branch of the Veterans' Assn.

Navy League Campaign

A large portion of the proceeds from the Nelson Day Campaign to raise a half a million dollars will be devoted by the Navy League of Canada to the purpose of the naval brigades. These brigades have been established in the principal cities of the Dominion for the training of Canadian boys for service on the sea.

Canada's future is bound up in its export trade and depends much upon merchant marine. It is vitally necessary that the Dominion should provide qualified sailors. The Navy League of Canada is giving the younger generation of Canadians the opportunity for free training in seamanship, and business men are agreed that the value of this work cannot be over estimated.

The success of the Boys' Naval Brigades hangs on the generosity of public support. It is important to every Canadian that this movement should not be handicapped by lack of funds. Public spirited citizens are called upon for a generous response to the Navy League appeal through the Nelson Day Campaign. The big drive will cover three days, commencing October 21.

In addition to the demands of the Naval Brigades, the Navy League has to finance its sailors' homes and institutes in Canadian ports. All the money raised through the Nelson Day Campaign will be spent in Canada.

Column for Boy Scouts

ORDERS by command for week ending October 25, 1919.

DUTIES: Orderly patrol for week, Wolves, and also for the week following; next for duty, the Eagles.

PARADES: The combined troop will parade at the clubroom on Tuesday, October 21st, at 7.15 p.m.

• • •

Patrol leaders and seconds are reminded that they must be ready to answer any questions that may be put to them in connection with their second class, any time before the end of this month.

• • •

We take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Dundas for her kind gift of magazines, which will make excellent reading material for our scout library.

• • •

Colonel Belson has very kindly offered to give a series of lectures to the troop during the winter upon the subject of field sketching. We are very grateful indeed to Colonel Belson for giving us this opportunity of hearing a good deal of a subject of which it is very necessary that every scout should know something.

• • •

The following is a letter which the Scoutmaster was given by Mr. Bennett. When over in England Mr. Bennett wrote the Chief Scout, whom he knew personally, and whom he had not the time to interview, telling him of the keen interest he had taken in the Scout movement, and asking for a letter which he might give to the Kelowna Troop on his return. The Chief Scout wrote the following letter:—

"I am very glad to have your letter and to hear of your interest in the Boy Scouts of Kelowna.

Please tell them, when you get back, that we are watching with great interest the progress of our brother scouts over there and I hope that they will stick to their scouting and make themselves into good and efficient men for the Empire. Wishing them all success, Yours truly, Robert Baden Powell."

We must thank Mr. Bennett very much indeed for taking the trouble to write our Chief Scout, and thereby causing us to receive such a kind message from the Chief Scout himself.

• • •

We shall be unable to commence our basket-ball practises this year as early as we did last, as the Kelowna Growers Exchange are at present using the exhibition building for a store-house and our first practise will probably not be till after December 1st.

Conclusion of the winning scout diary:—

Saturday, July 12th, 1919.—We were up early on Saturday and after washing parade we dressed and fell in for prayers. Very soon we were relieved to hear the breakfast bugle blow we hurried to the breakfast-table. After breakfast we busied ourselves collecting our baggage into the various places allotted to our patrols. Then we started taking down some of the tents. Of course some of them had to be left up for the cubs. We soon had them rolled up and put in their tent-bags, and by that time dinner was ready. After dinner we sat around waiting for the truck to come. At last some cars arrived and took back to town some of the scouts. Later the truck came down bringing the cubs' baggage. We set to work to unload it all and then put on our own baggage. Four of us went with Mr. Chapman on the truck to unload the baggage at the clubroom. When this was finished we left for our homes. We felt that we had had a very enjoyable camp, and we added the 1919 camp to our memories of previous camps.

Experience of the past season has shown the Aquatic Association that the present pavilion is far too small to accommodate the crowds which gather there, and it has been decided, as soon as funds permit, to enlarge the building. Soaking the Public

Have you read the reports of the Investigation Commission—and what one shoe seller admitted he had easily cleared?—a downright shame. Men, these high prices are a joke, which you pay for. Personally, I'd welcome any Commission that would visit Kelowna. My slogan is "Honesty."

Random Remarks

By the Chiel

"A chiel's amang ye takin' notes and feth, he'll prent them."—Burns.

When the hours of day are numbered
And the voices of the night
Wake the better soul that slumbered
To a holy calm deligh
Then the forms of the departed
Enter at the open door,
The beloved, the true hearted,
Come to visit me once more.

I notice that an illustrated American weekly has a series running just now, consisting of opinions of eminent people in response to the question "Are the dead alive?" Waiving the absurdity of the question as presented, I make bold to say that it is an important and interesting one, and I would like to think that you agree with me, in so far as that opinion goes. If I were asked for an answer to the question, my reply would be an emphatic "Yes." I arrive at this conclusion from the testimony of such unimpeachable witnesses as Conan Doyle, Oliver Lodge, the late Russell Wallace and many others, besides some little experience of my own. In an case, I submit that the belief is a comforting one.

I pray you in your charity tender me your sympathy, for I am sure bewildered and undecided. I can't for the life of me make up my mind as to whether I should become a detective, an electrical engineer, a nurse or a lawyer, or all of them. You see I have just indulged in a course of advertisement reading, and in one case an earnest looking young man points an accusing finger at me and all but commands me to become an engineer. He is impatient too, is this energetic young fellow, and insists on me taking the decisive step today.

I had all but decided on acting on the suggestion, when, turning the page, I was faced with the peremptory order to "be a detective." I think perhaps it would be better after all to take up a memory training course first and so stabilise my mind if possible.

* * *

I saw in a paper the other day a statement by Rev. Father Vaughan, S.J., to the effect that living the gospel did infinitely more good to the world than giving away printed copies of it, and the good Father is right. Of course the idea is not new, but it was written in the pithy and telling manner for which Father Vaughan is famous, and so came with all the force of novelty. Don't you think now, honestly, that there are too many church and kindred associations, conventions, conferences, talk, in short, too much congregational resolution and leaving it at that, and too little individual action and initiative? I do.

The Navy League of Canada
Its Vital Work for Canada

THE Navy League of Canada fosters the splendid spirit that made the British the greatest of maritime nations. It organizes loyal Canadians so that practical work may be accomplished for the development of Canada's direct interests at sea.

The human side of Canada's Mercantile Marine is the League's especial interest—training Canadian boys to become the sturdy type of British manhood that won its laurels again and again in the great war—relieving distress among victims of the submarine warfare—and giving the sailor ashore an alternative place for rest and recreation to the places of doubtful entertainment that abound in port.

Why the $500,000 is needed

On Nelson Day, October 21st, starts a 3-day campaign throughout the Dominion to raise $500,000 necessary to finance the coming year's work of the Navy League of Canada. Help the work by giving liberally. As a nation whose expanding trade will depend on exports, we must educate our boys to the highest type of seamanship so that they will be equipped to man our ships to carry our exports to foreign markets.

You will do your part in this work by contributing liberally to the support of the Boy's Navy Brigades, the organizations by which the Navy League trains boys for our merchant marine.

Every dollar subscribed will be used to further the work of the Navy League in Canada—the work in which you are personally interested as a patriotic citizen. Help by giving.
