ORCHARD CITY

VOL. V. NO. 45. KELOWNA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1913. $1.50 Per Annum.

Regular Meeting of City Council

At the city council meeting Friday last the Mayor and Aldermen Calder, Cosens, Taylor, Thompson and Sutherland were present.

Some matters of correspondence were dealt with referring to financial transactions.

A letter was also read from Mrs. H. H. Millie as president of the Kelowna Benevolent Society reminding the council of their promise of a grant of $200 half of which still remained to be paid. The clerk was authorized to pay the remaining $100 when required.

The fire brigade represented to the council that they stood in need of 500 feet of additional hose to equip them for work during the coming winter, and the Gutta Percha & Rubber Co., had presented their contract to supply same upon request at $1.00 per foot. The contract was authorized to be completed.

The following report of the finance committee was then adopted.

By-law 139 was then read a 2nd time and subsequently a 3rd time upon the motion of Alhermen Sutherland and Taylor, in reference to striking a rate of taxation of 18.4 mills on land only for 1913.

By-Law 140, a legal formality connected with the construction of sewers was also read a 1st, 2nd and 3rd time

Alderman Calder proposed that all owners of property fronting on the sewerage system should be obliged to make connections with the sewers withour delay and a motion to that effect was passed accordingly, stating sixty days as a time limit.

There being no further business to transact the meeting adjourned.

SCOTLAND'S LAST STAGE COACH

The last stage coach, so far as Scotland is concerned, has just made its last run. The daily journey between Campbellton and Tarbert will now be made by motor. For over forty years the coach has carried the mails and passengers over this wild part of Argyllshire. The driver has many stories of adventure to tell but only once did he fail to complete his double journey. On that occasion the coach was snowed up in returning.

Preparing for Winter Poultry Show

The great success which attended the poultry section at the recent Fall Fair has given a great stimulus to the preparations which are being made for the Annual winter Poultry Show under the auspices of the Kelowna Poultry Association. The date for this has been fixed for December 2nd, 3rd, and 4th, and it is expected that it will be a long way ahead of anything that has yet been attempted in the district.

One of the most noticeable features of local industry within the last year or so has been the awakening of a keen interest in poultry, and the possibility of added revenue in it for the farmer and fruit grower. This development has been due, no doubt in a large measure to the work of the Kelowna Poultry Association, and for that reason alone the forthcoming annual show should receive every support.

The show will be held in the old exhibition building. Considerable expense, however will have to be incured in rearranging the coops and building new ones, the accommodation at the recent fall fair having been very much overtaxed.

The committees are getting busy arranging details, and have met with marked success in preparing a list of special prizes.

The next meeting of the Association will be held on Thursday, Oct. 16th at 8 p.m., in the Keller block, when all members and those who desire to become members, should endeavor to be present. Any information may be obtained from the president, Mr. J. C. Stockwell, or the secretary, Mr. E. L. Ward.

MASQUERADE DANCE

A very pleasant masquerade dance was held in the opera house last night in aid of the hospital. Some excellent costumes were in evidence and although the attendance was not as great as anticipated all went home feeling that a very pleasant time had been spent. The music, which was very good indeed, and very much appreciated, if one could judge by the frequent encores, was supplied by the opera house orchestra, which seems to be in better trim for dance work than ever before.

The A. & T. Association wish to thank those who so kindly lent their horses and steers for the bucking contests which proved to be such a great attraction at the fair this year.

Mr. N. Bornholdt is leaving Sunday next for Calgary, having resigned his position as leader of the Kelowna band. On Monday evening last he was entertained at a gathering at the home of Mr. W. D. Morgan, when during the course of a pleasant evening spent with music, games, refreshments etc., he was presented with a handsome dressing case with silver mounted fittings, subscribed for by the members of the band as a token of their esteem and appreciation of the great interest he had taken in the training of the band members during the past year.

NEW SHIPPING REGULATIONS MAKE FOR SAFETY

When on April next the season of navigation opens for the year 1914, passengers on foreign-going, coasting and international vessels registered in Canada may travel with the knowledge and sense of security that their lives are protected by the strictest life-saving rules ever enforced in the history of Canadian navigation.

The board of steamship inspection has just concluded drafting life-saving appliances for all Canadian vessels which contain radical changes in the old order of things and which, if approved by the government and strictly enforced, will make sea travel almost as safe as an intelligent supervision by the government can make it.

It has been announced at the military department that the new rifle sight made by the Ross Rifle Company, and adopted by the Dominion Government will be issued next year. It is expected that some 20,000 sights will be issued to the troops during the next season. These are the same sights as the Bisley and Palma trophy teams used this year.

FINE NEW DRUG STORE OPENED

Messrs. Willits & Co.'s New Premises Are Amongst Best Appointed Stores in Province.

Saturday last was the day fixed for the opening of the magnificent new premises which have just been erected on the corner of Main street and Pendozi street, probably one of the best business sites in Kelowna, for the drug store of Messrs. P. B. Willits & Co.

To celebrate the opening day a general invitation had been issued to the public to inspect the premises, each visitor in the case of ladies receiving a gift of a white carnation and chocolates, while the men were treated to a Kelowna cigar. Music was provided during the afternoon and evening by a small orchestra. Needless to say large crowds of people availed themselves of the invitation and the store was a busy place indeed Saturday, almost everyone expressing their admiration for the beautiful new fittings and the general attractiveness of the interior. The staff had their hands full even with the assistance of Mr. R. G. Strachan, representative of the National Drug & Chemical Co., who happened to be in town, and cheerfully helped out for the occasion.

The handsone new block which replaces the old frame structure is well worthy of the site which it occupies, and adds one more touch to the "big city" air which Kelowna's main street is rapidly assuming. No expense has been spared to make the building thoroughly modern and up-to-date in every respect. The whole block comprises two stores on the ground floor of which Messrs. Willits occupy the large corner one, with a fine suite of well-fitted rooms above, which are already all rented as offices.

The building is from designs by Mr. A. F. Pelton, a local architect, and is of a neat and attractive appearance, built of pressed brick throughout, the big plate glass and burnished copper store fronts representing the latest ideas in this line. The porchway and the whole of the floor inside Messrs. Willits store is laid with mosaic tiling. The new shelves and showcases are all of polished aak, the showcase counters being set upon bases of dark marble of a color which harmonizes well with the color of the mosaic floor. To the left on entering is the drug department, while the right side is devoted to stationery, books, tobacco and cigars. To the rear is the dispensing room, with a large window opening into the main store. Here also is provided a dark room for the storage of chemicals, sensitive to the action of light and means are also provided for regulating its temperature, the whole year round. Cabinets are also here provided for the careful storage of vaccine and serums. Another room is fitted as a humidor for the storage of tobacco and cigars with a view to keeping them in perfect condition. A private room is also provided for the sale of rubber goods and surgical appliances. Beyond all is the "work room," while the office occupies a sort of balcony above these rear rooms.

The artificial lighting system of the store is accomplished by means of a number of hanging globes on what is koown as semi-indirect method, a portion of the light being reflected from the white ceiling, the result being a beautiful soft white light, nearly approximating daylight.

The whole of the carpentry work for the building has been in the hands of Mr. J. A. Bigger, the brickwork and masonry, Messrs Ward & Baldock, the heating and plumbing, J. A. Morrison Co., and the electric lighting Messrs Claude James and Trenwith.

Messrs Willits have been associated with Kelowna since its early days and have every reason to be proud of the growth and development which has made necessary the removal to such up-to-date premises. Besides the partners, Mr. P. B. Willits and Mr. McKay, the staff now consists of Mr. Walter Jaynes, head clerk, Miss Mabel Wilson, Mr. Bernard McKeown and with Mr. S. Olds as bookkeeper.

The occupants of the upstairs offices it might here be mentioned are Messrs Cooper and Washburn, real estate and insurance; Dr. Mathison, dentist, E. C. Weddell, barrister; Mrs. G. E. Scott, dressmaker and Drs. Knox and Campbell, who will move in shortly.

BIG RETURNS IN PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Startling Figures On The Big Wheat Crop

A startling difference in the returns of the grain marketed by the farmers of the prairie provinces this year as compared with the returns for the (ame period last year is noticeable in the reports issued by the officials of the C.P.R., which refers to the grain shipped over the western lines of the system.

In the province of Manitoba the wheat shipped this year to far totals no less that 8,677,000 bushels and the other grains 1,464,000 bushels, as compared with the returns for last year, which were for the same period 849,000 and 78,000 bushels respectively.

The Saskatchewan Crop.

In Saskatchewan the greater area under cultivation with no less proportion of good crops make the returns considerably heavier and the figures for the year so far are 10,110,000 bushels of wheat and 2,365,000 bushels of other grain, which is compared with the 2,702,000 bushels of wheat last year and the 305,000 bushels of other grains. In proportion the returns for the province of Alberta are almost as satisfactory. The figures for this year are 2,540,000 bushels of wheat and 1,269,000 bushels of other grain. Last year the returns for the period were: Wheat 781,000 bushels and other grains 288,000 bushels.

The totals for the prairie provinces of grain shipued by the C.P.R., this season are 21,322,000 bushels of wheat and 5,098,000 bushels of other grain.

LOADED 16,585 CARS

In mentioniog the returns given above the officials state that the company have, up to date loaded 16,585 cars against the total of 3,887 cars last year during the same period.

The total amount of grain marketed by the C.P.R., last year for the same period over all the prairie provinces amounted to a total of 4,332,000 bushels of wheat and 671,000 bushels of other grain.

Progress of Threshing.

Reports as to the progress of the threshing operations in the prairie provinces, prepared by the C.P.R. officials, state that between 60 and 75 per cent., of the threshing had been done in Manitoba and that fall plowing was well advanced in the various districts.

In Saskatchewan between 60 and 75 per cent, of the threshing has been accomplished in the southern parts of the province, but in the north the average was 25 per cent., and in some places it has only just been started.

About 80 per cent., of the wheat in southern Alberta has been threshed and about 50 per cent., in the north.

THE ROYAL WEDDING

The coming royal marriage is the chief subject of conversation in London society these days. Both the Duchess of Fife and Prince Arthur of Connaught are most popular in all the royal circle. Arrangements are not settled yet, but it seems fairly certain there will be a state banquet on the day preceding the wedding and also a big family dinner at which the royal and distinguished guests in London will be present.

There will be no fewer that four queens present at the wedding—Queen Mary, Queen Alexandra, Dowager Empress Marie of Russia and Queen Maude of Norway— or five, if the former Queen of Portugal be counted.

NEW SHIPS FOR BRITISH NAVY

The Auroro, a light cruiser of an entirely new type, was launched at Devonport, England, this week and added to the British Navy. She is described by Winston Spencer Churchill first lord of the admiralty, as a "destroyer of destroyers." The vessel displaces 3500 tons, and was designed for a speed of 30 knots. She is to use oil fuel for motive power.

This ship is protected with a five-inch belt of armor over her whole length and is armed with guns sufficiently powerful to deal with the most formidable destroyer. Eight of this type of vessel are under construction for the British navy, and eight more are to be laid down next year.

New Business Development

Messrs. Dalgleish & Harding to Open Complete Furniture Department.

Messrs Dalgleish & Harding are this week making a notable addition to their business in the shape of an extensive furniture department. For this purpose they have rented the large building occupied by Messrs. Coates, Edwards & Gowen (who are rebuilding). The opening day of the new store is fixed for Saturday next, Oct. 4th, when the store will be thrown open for the public to inspect the new stock of handsome furniture, five carloads of which have been opened up during the past few days, making the range complete from cellar to attic.

All visitors to the opening on Saturday to the hardware department in the Keller block will be presented with a handsome cook book as a souvenir.

Extensive alterations are planned for the new store, including an entirely new and modern front. This, however, has been delayed somewhat by the non-arrival of the plate glass.

Since opening up business here Messrs. Dalgleish & Harding have made rapid progress, the public having gradually come to realize the first-class quality of the service given. In this new development it is to be hoped that they will meet with the same success as they have achieved in their hardware business.

Hon. Price Ellison Tours Northern Interior

Hon. Price Ellison, minister of finance and agriculture has returned to the capital after an arduous journey through the northern interior.

The minister was making a general round of the northern territory with a view to studying at first hand its agricultural possibilities. Unfortunately, the weather was not in a propitious vein during his trip, so the traveling conditions, which are not noted for excellence at any time, were in a rather pitiable condition. Much of the journey had to be made in a motor launch and in canoes, and many miles were covered on the road at an excessively slow speed on account of the sodden nature of the roadbed.

It was in making his way from Edmontan to Prince Rupert that Mr. Ellison found the hard conditions. With the aid of a motor launch he made splendid progress across the lakes that represent the unknown beauty spots of that Northern region, and he was also able to experience the sensation of "shooting the rapids," on the North Thompson River. Travel by road was necessarily slow.

With Mr. Ellison, for a part of the journey was Mr. J. K. More, general road superintendent for Lillooet and Cariboo districts.

FRIEDMANN TREATMENT UNAVAILING

In the death at Melbourne, Ont., of Ernest Campbell, a young divinity student. Dr. Friedmann lost the first of his patients to receive his serum treatment in that city. He took a second injection, but although the disease was in its first stages only, it made rapid progress. He was a student at Knox College, Toronto.

FIRST BOAT PASSES THROUGH PANAMA CANAL

The most important step toward the operation of the Panama Canal took place this week when the sea-goung tug boat "Gatun," drawing twelve and a half feet of water was successfully passed through the Gatun locks and later floated on the bosom of Gatun lake.

This was the first attempt made to operate the locks on the canal, and the result was highly pleasing to Col. Goethals, chairman of the canal commissian and canal officials generally.

All day long hundreds of persons, men, women and children, withstood the burning rays of the tropic sun to see the act of passing the first vessel from sea level to the level ofGatun lake, which had reached a height of over sixty-five feet, or within twenty feet of its normal level.

The Rev. A. Dunn was at the coast last week end, when, along with two other graduates of Westminster Hall he received his divinity degree.

The new 10 to 25 cent store opened up for business Tuesday and, although the whole stock is not yet here have a wonderful showing of bargains which can be purchased with the small coins.

Rutland News

(From our own Correspondent.)

Mr. Willis Schell and Miss Lily Bird are visitors at the New Westminster exhibition this week.

The meeting of the Methodist Ladies' Aid will be held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Gay on Friday afternoon.

The Kelowna Growers Exchange has a staff of six working in the local packing shed, and all are kept busy, especially now that the Jonathan crop is ready.

An old fashioned tea is being arranged by the Methodists to be held on Tuesday, Oct. 14th. More particulars next week.

Several Rutlanders were fortunate enough to secure prizes at the Kelowna exhibition last week, and a number are of the opinion that they could have shown fruit and other exhibits of as good, if not better quality.— The question is, why didn't they? If everybody put in a few exhibits, the present splendid addition to the buildings would prove too small for next year's show, and it would have the result of proving to outsiders and visitors, that our fruit is second to none.

WOULD RE-ENFORCE POLL TAX

Recognizing that additional provincial revenue must be created a joint meeting of lumber manufacturers, timber holders and Nelson business men submitted a resolution to Hon. W. R. Ross, minister of lands, urging the government to re-enforce the poll tax, increasing it to $5 per annum, but making it apply only to such persons as do not contribute to the provincial funds. The lumbermen, supported by Nelson business interests urged that no change in taxation be made which would increase the burden of the industry in the interior of the province.

It seems strange after the fruit growers of the province have raised such an outcry for the proper marking, packing and grading of fruits by the avoiding of which the American shipper secured such an advantage over B.C. growers that they should need such a severe and pointed admonition to look to their own methods as is contained in a circular which is being issued by Mr. R.M. Winslow, the provincial horticulturalist. Boards of Trade, Farmersj Institutes and other bodies have been hammering at this point for several years and at last through the Fruit Growers Association have succeeded in stirring up the government to take active steps to see that American fruit is graded and marked in a way which will give consumers in Canada a plain idea as to what they are buying, and thus place the Canadian and American products on an equal footing. But now it is found that home growers are not observing the requirements of the fruit marks act as they should. Says Mr. Winslow:

"While the great majority of our fruit growers and shippers are endeavoring, usually successfully, to live fully up to the requirements of the Fruit Marks Act (Inspection and Sales Act, Part 9) it is to be regretted that some fruit is still being poorly packed and improperly graded, and some fruit packages are falsely marked.

"The Dominion Fruit Inspectors in the province and in the prairies, are successfully securing the marking of imported fruit, as required by the new laws passed at the request of the B.C. Fruit Growersj Association. There has not been a similar readiness to observe the law on the part of our own fruit growers, which puts the Association and fruit growers generally, in an unfair position. All B. C. growers should be willing to assist the association in its efforts to protect the industry, by themselves meeting the law's requirements. Their violations are due, doubtless, to ignorance of what is required. We urge every packer and shipper of fruit to procure a copy of the act from the chief Dominion inspector, R.G.L. Clarke, 155 Water St., Vancouver, and to read and master its contents. This must result in a better pack of fruit, better prices, and a higher reputation, which, in turn, insures more stable markets in future years.

"Some of our growers are liable to prosecution for violation of the act; we hope that the number of such cases will diminish, because the prosecution of the individual hurts not only himself, but the reputation of the B. C. fruit growers collectively.

"Growers and packers should also secure copies of the circulars on "Methods of Fruit Picking and Handling, and Fruit Packing,' issued by the provincial department of agriculture, obtainable on request from the department at Victoria or from any Assistant horticulturalist. The act states the law's requirements: the circulars outline the methods of picking, handling, grading and packing to meet the requirements of the law and the market.

"There must be continual progress in the methods of preparing fruit for the market, if our fruit industry is to overcoPme its keeo competition and take its place as one of the principal industries in the province. There must also be continued effort by all our growers to keep our fruit pack honest and uniformly reliable, and to raise the standard higher each year. The more favorable markets and prices of of the current season, tempt a great many to relax their efforts resulting in lower grades. The bad results of this practice are liable to be severely felt next season, when the expected bumper crops over the north west states will make the markets much more critical towards poor packing than this year."

COMMUNICATIONS

Under this heading communications will be received upon any subject of interest. Letters must be signed, be brief, avoid personalities. The Editor does not necessarily endo. opinions given below.

Editor of "The Kelowna Record."

Dear Sir,— It affords me a great deal of pleasure to note that the public appreciates the efforts made by the directors of the A. & T. Association and myself to make a success of our fall fair, and I wish to thank the directors and the secretary for the support they gave me, and also to thank Mr. Felix Casorso, George Hillock and Clarence Willis who spent so much time getting together the bucking horses and steers which added so much to the afternoon's sports, also acting as judges in the different riding contests.

Ver½ respectfully yours,
F. R. E. De Hart.
Pres. A. & T. Assn.

C. P. R. WILL CARRY OUT COMPLETE PROGRAM

The Canadian Pacific railway will complete, to the last detail the program which was mapped out for 1913, was the statement made by George Bury, vice-president of the company on his return from Fort William, where he accompanied the directors, completing their trip over western lines. Mr. Bury stated that he had found the work going ahead so rapidly in the west that every piece of grading and every foot of steel planned to be done would be finished this year. In connection with double tracking, he said that a little of it was now in operation, but there would be more by the end of the year. Asked if he thought the company would be able to move the crop without much difficulty, all the vice president replied was: "Wait and we shall see."

PROGRESS ON THE K.V.R.

Steel on the Kettle Valley railway will be laid to the summit, 76 miles west of Midway, by Dec. 1st, according to plans of those now in charge of the work. The roadbed is in readiness but there will be about 48 days of bridge building and 20 days of steel laying in the 11 miles remaining to reach the summit.

The laying of steel from Wolfe creek at mile 65 west from Midway, started yesterday, but there will be three bridges to build in the first three miles. The bridges are framed at Carmi ready for installing. The work is now being done by the railway company, but it is expected that it will be late next summer before the link to Penticton will be connected up. There is considerable difficult roadwork yet to do.—Grand Forks Gazette.

"SAFETY-FIRST" CAMPAIGN.

The Grand Trunk railway of Canada has begun a campaign for "safety first" and has engaged Geo. Bradshaw formerly of the New York Central as safety engineer. "Mr. Bradshaw" says the vice-president's circular, "will deliver at all important centres lectures on safety and will illustrate practices responsible for injuries. Notice of the time and place of these lectures will be given, and it is desired that every employee on the system whose duties permit shall attend. No employee who considers the importance of his personal safety can afford to miss the opportunity which these lectures will afford to learn something of practical value for the protection of his life and limbs.

"We hope to reduce the personal injury to the lowest possible point, and to make our system the safest in the country. To accomplish this every officer, agent and employee is requested to give his earnest and active support and co-operation.—Railway Age Gazette.

HISTORIC FLAGSTAFF FOR STANLEY PARK.

Another historic relic will be added to Vancouver's collection next month with the erection of the mast of the steamship Beaver in Stanley Park. The Hudson's Bay Company is erecting this mast in the park at its own expense. It will be eighty feet high and will be set in concrete, the platform being surrounded by granite steps. On the side of the pole will be placed a bronze tablet bearing the following inscription: "This flagstaff was the mast of the steamship Beaver, built by the Hudson's Bay Company at Blackwell-on-Thames, England, 1835 and launched by His Majesty King William IV. The first steamship to come around Cape Horn. Sank at Prospect Point, Stanley Park, July 26 1888. Erected by the Hudson's Bay Company, October 1913."

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for the lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent of Sub-Agent of Dominion lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

GOATS AID IN CLEARING LAND

The propensity of goats for eating the leaves and twigs of small bushes suggests that they would be very useful for cleaning out scrub and reducing otherwise waste land to good pasture for other animals. This espedient has been practised in Iowa and some other states with marked success. Saplings, too big for the goats to reach the tops may be felled. although they will stand on their hind legs and can reach up to five feet or more in their efforts to get at leaves. Fields infested with hard-back and stout herbs may be cleaned out by pasturing goats on them. No trouble will be experienced from having sheep or cattle in the same enclosure.

Steep, rocky hillsides, or stony places where there is considerable browse, may be turned into permanent goat pastures. Goats are often more suitable than sheep in such situations, not only because they will thrive on food that sheep will reject, but also because they are far more pugnacious and better able to defend themselves against dogs, coyotes, and other predatory animals.

Goats are valuable for their mohair, skins, meat and milk. The best best breed for mohair is the Angora; for milch purposes, the Swiss breeds can be recommended. They can withstand considerable variations in temperature, and will thrive in a variety of situations, but are sensitive to damp. The kids are delicate for a few days after being born, and need the same care as lambs. A flock of goats need intelligent management, but they well repay the attention they require at certain seasons. When the indirect profit derived from the destruction of scrub, or from the turning of otherwise worthless land to account is considered, they may be looked upon as by no means the least profitable of our domestic animals.

Hon. A. E. McPhillips, member for the Islands, in the B. C. Legislature, has been appointed a judge of the Court of Appeal.

Letters of a Self-raised Office Boy to His Pal

In which Jimmy tells of Kelowna happenings to Mr. Sidney Harper, of Vancouver, B. C.

Dear Sid.—Since writing you last I have been deluged with such a flood of news that this is liable to be quite a lengthy epistle, however, if you will excuse me this time, I'll see that it don't happen again.

Firstly and foremostly, I must tell you about what we have done at the Opera House. The boss says to me "Jimmy, did you ever hear of twilight pictures?" I said "Not guilty, boss. What's the answer?" He said "I didn't think there breathed a mortal in this enlightened age, so sunk in benighted darkness, that he had never heard of these pictur but seeing that there is one I will elucidate. By placing electric fixtures at given intervals all along the walls and in these fixtures inserting Irish colored globes you produce an artificial twilight which softens the picture and removes the last vestige of eye-strain." The boss is the kind of guy, when he hears of anything that will improve the show, can't sleep till he has it. Same way about this thing. We've got the system working now and believe me it certainly is one big improvement.

Speaking of improvements, I must mention the fact of the C.P.R. repairing their wharf. Up until now it was almost necessary for one to make his last will and testament not to mention what hymns he wanted sung at the funeral, before venturing on the dock, but at last the poverty stricken railroad has saved up enough out of their meagre gains to put a few new planks on, so that now the citizens of Kelowna may trip blithely out on the wharf without fear of filling a watery grave.

Our old friends and favorites, the "Allen Players" are to be with us all next week. They come with a repertoire of the very latest and best plays procurable. They are led, as usual this year by that perennial favorite, Miss Verna Felton,, than whom there is no more versatile leadlng lady in the profession. We have also been assured by Mr. Allen that Miss Felton's support is unusually capable this season. So all things being considered next week promises to be a feast of good things for the lovers of drama

I'll tell you Sid, Kelowna just literally covered itself with glory by pulling off that fgir last week. Nothing in the annals of the Okanagan Valley can approach it. The committee in charge deserve the heartfelt thanks of the community for their successful efforts. The new building was easily the feature of the exhibition and Contractor Raymer is to be congratulated on turning out such an artistic piece of work.

Speaking of the fair reminds me of a novel advertising scheme worked by the Mason & Risch Piano people, during the exhibition. They had fastened one of their piano boxes on two wheels and to this was hitched a real live steer (one of the Texas variety) while perched on top of the box driving the steed was that renowned Siwash Chief, "Beer-in-the-face.j' You know that old saying "The only good Indian is a dead one." This one was alive! The turn out attracted great attention and proved the advertising hit of the fair.

Of course you know that the Avenue Theatre, in your sun-kissed city is discontinuing stock and is to book the big traveling companies on John Corts circuit. Right here is where the boss put over the best trick of his checkered career. When he heard of Corts extending his circuit into Canada, he kept the wires and mail busy until he got what he was after, namely, a contract from Mr. Cort agreeing to book his shows into the Kelowna opera house on their way from the east to Vancouver. So you see you ginks out there in mudville aint cutting such a wide swath, after all! Little old Kelowna gets the big road shows before you! Now will you be good?

Even at the risk of your thinking I am boosting too strong for my home town, I've got to uncork another improvement which has taken place in our midst to-wit a new drug store. Mr. Willits, believing that the best is none too good for Kelowna, conceived the idea of building a new home for his store, and I want to go on record as saying that the result is a drug store which would be a credit and an ornament to any town, no matter what the size.

Well, Sid, old man, I'll let up for this time and give what has gone before a chance to soak in. I will close with the old motto, "When in doubt, come to Kelowna!" Yours,

JIMMY.

P.S.—I forgot to tell you that the guy, whose wife made him stay home and mind the baby, while she came to the picture show is suing her for a divorce on the grounds of extreme cruelty and mental anguish.— Jimmy.

THE C. P. R. AND THE KETTLE VALLEY LINE

Much speculation nas existed through B. C., says the Summerland Review, and particularly in this district as to the relations existing between the C P.R. and the K.V.R. That a very close alliance existed was the general belief, but many held that it amounted to out and out ownership by the big corporation.

The statement given out by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy last week practically sets the matter at rest and shows that the C.P.R.'s president regards the Kettle Valley line as part and parcel of the C.P.R. system.

But the part of his pronouncement which interests people in this section most was his statement as to time of operation, and also the uses to which the new portion may be put. As to time he did not merely hold out the hope of completion in 1915, but definitely announced operation in 1915. For its uses one important thing which he pointed out was that it would relieve congestion of the main line, and when necessary could be substituted for entire main line traffic while important changes in route and roadbed of the main line were being made. Thus it is quite probable that towns along the Columbia & Western and Kettle Valley lines will, within a year and a half more, see the long overland trains of ten and a dozen sleepers and diners passing through.

An eastbound Canadian Pacific railway freight train was wrecked near Kinforth, Sask., Friday, presumably by a broken rail, fifteen cars piling in the ditch and blocking the main line. A temporary track was built around the wreck and at a late hour the following evening trains stalled at the scene were able to pass.

The associated boards of trade of eastern British Columbia met last week at Kaslo and resolutions were adopted asking the appointment of a royal commissioner on mining, for the creation of a separate mines portfolio in the federal cabinet, for the establishment of telephone lines with pay stations every five miles in districts at present lacking in transportation facilities, and the appointment of commissioners to secure information regarding the country for publicity purposes.

ILLEGAL FISHING

A complaint against the whites was recently made by the Indians an the Reserve south of Trout Creek, who are now busily engaged catching and curing kickaninnies. This species of fish which is so popular as an article of diet among our people when eaten fresh, comes up in the creeks at night, making for the spawning grounds, and between the hours of sonset and sunrise it is not difficult to catch them in large numbers. A popular method is to have a torch or other light to attract the fish when they may be eadily scooped out in quantities. This method of fishing, which we believe is illegal, has been practised for years, and it would seem that the wholesale slaughter of these fish is rapidly resulting in diminishing quantity, and possibly in their ultimate extinction.—Summerland Review.

Concrete is the cheapest building material

WHETHER for a silo, a milk-house, or a million bushel grain elevator, concrete is the most economical building material in use to-day.

Concrete never requires repairs, and the saving in repair-expense alone makes the greater economy of using concrete more apparent every day.

The cost of other building materials is constantly increasing.

The cost of concrete is being reduced.

Canada Cement

which Canadian farmers use, with their own sand, stone and gravel to make concrete, is the only ingredient you have to buy.

We have, by reason of our large output and scientific methods, been able to bring the price of "Canada" Cement so low that it is within the reach of everyone.

An increase in demand results in a greater economy of production, and when conditions have warranted it, we have, from time to time, shared this saving with the consumer by reducing the price of Canada Cement. This demand will continue to increase—as fast as farmers learn of concrete's superiority over other materials.

If this label is not on every bag it is not Canada Cement.

When you buy cement, see that you get "Canada" Cement; by so doing you will assure the complete success of all your concrete work.

Send a post card for our book "What the Farmer Can do With Concrete." It is free.

There is a Canada Cement dealer in your neighborhood.

Poultry Notes

THE WAY TO GET A GOOD MOULT

The chief trouble in the poultry yard just now is the moulting, which however is a natural process of nature, and must be encouraged in every possible manner.

Many breeders promote a good moult before autumn sets in by confining the birds in sheltered quarters and reducing the food supply almost to starvation point. In a natural way a fowl's moult lasts about three months although an enforced moult is much quicker, and may be completed in eight weeks. Immediately the feathers begin to fall nutritive food should be given liberally, as it is naturally a great strain on the fowl's resources to grow new feathers. Any extra expense at this period will be recouped later in the season. Directly the moult is over, laying commences in real earnest. It sometimes happens with early hatched birds, that pullets will lay a batch of eggs and fall into a moult, from which they do not recover until early in the new year or in the spring causing a loss of eggs. This necessitates the importance of hatching at the right season of the year, remembering that massive breeds take eight months, and the small and active five months, to mature. In addition to shelter, and extra food flowers of sulphur and boiling linseed added to the hot morning soft food assist the new growths of feathers, while when a fowl overmoults herself and becomes almost naked, it is necessary to rub sulphur ointment in every night and confine her to the house.

Some poultry keepers, as no eggs are forthcoming during moult, reduce the food, which is a great mistake and will prejudice the supply of eggs at a later date. Plenty of green food must be given to keep the blood cool during moult, or feather picking will result. Loose feathers quickly accumulate, and should be removed every few days, or insect pests will infest the house. Poultry keepers will always be well repaid for looking after their birds during moult. It is invariably found that whilst town and suburban poultry keepers are watchful and careful during the fowl's change of plumage, those residing in country districts especially farmers, pay little or no attention to the moult with the inevitable result of poor returns when winter eggs are expected.

BROWN EGGS

The general public prefers the brown eggs to the white. It is useless to argue that the composition of all eggs is the same, and that the difference in color of shell is accounted for by the variation in the breed of birds. However, public opinion must have preference, and there is no doubt that a basket of good-sized brown-shelled eggs, is more attractive than, white-shelled ones, and even commands a better price at market. Most poultry keepers are aware that non-sitting breeds lay white-shelled, and the sitting,6 or those which display broody propensities, brown or tinted eggs, and it should be further known that invariably the latter birds are associated with winter egg production, and possesses table properties in addition. A choice can be made from many excellent breeds, whilst cross-breeds can also be satisfactorily utilized.

The fowls which lay eggs with the deepest colored shells will be found amongst Langshans, Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds, Orpingtons, Wyandottes, and Sessel, and although it is claimed that the Langshan holds the palm for the darkest shell, some strains of Orpington, notably the white variety, press hard for premier position whilst the eggs are much larger. The Black Orpington, in its original manufacture, possessed Langshan blood, hence darkish brown eggs are generally laid. The eggs of the Plymouth Rock are decidedly attractive in color, and the hardiness and prolificacy of the breed are well-known. Many excellent crosses will give the desired result. The male bird utilized should always be of the non-sitting varieties and the hens and pullets of the more massive or sitting that the progeny hatched from such breeds; and it must be borne in mind crosses always possesses the egg-laying characteristics of the parent birds, whilst the style shape and carriage follow that of the male bird.

The claims of the Minorca, Leghorn, Ancona, or Campine, must not be overlooked, in such crosses, as cocks or cockerels mated to any hens of sitting breeds,w ilh ensure not only brown shells, but extra large-sized eggs being laid, especially if the pedigree or strain of the parent bird is investigated.

If your eyes are giving you trouble, or your glasses need changing, consult Knowles, the optician.

Pointers on Pruning

All kinds of fruit trees cannot be pruned successfully in the same method. No definite rule will apply to all cases. The orchardist should know something about the nature of the tree to be pruned, and the effect that will be produced by the operation. A few of the principles to be observed are as follows:

Pruning during the dormant season tends to promote wood rather than fruitfulness. Pruning during the growing season tends to check wood growth and promote fruit bearing.

Pruning may be done at any time of the year, but most satisfactory results usually are secured when the work is done in March

Trees that are inclined to grow very upright should be cut back to induce them to spread.

All diseased, superfluous and dead branches should be removed, and no limbs should be allowed to rub or cross.

The centre of the tree should be kept open to admit the sunlight and cause the fruit to color and mature better.

Growth may be directed by cutting back to a bud pointing in the direction that the branch should grow.

Pruning should be done methodically and regularly. A certain amount of work should be done each year, instead of once in five years.

The best implements for pruning are pruning shears. A sharp saw will at times be needed, especially on trees that have been neglected.

Leave all wounds clean and smooth with no long stubs, and paint those above one inch in diameter with grafting wax or white lead.

Pruning in itself, is not sufficient. It must be accompanied by good spraying, proper fertilizing and intelligent orchard management.— A.B.C. in the Farming World.

SLEEP AND GROW THIN

Among the various medical appliances on exhibition at the Imperial Institute, South Kensington, is one for taking exercise while one sleeps. The patient lies on a chair lined with metal plates which are connected to an elaborate apparatus at the side. He is then covered with heavy sandbags, and an electrical currant is connected with the metal plates, the result being that his muscles contract and relax in consequence of the working of the electricity. This forces up the weight of the sandbags, and so the man undergoes vigorous exercise of the muscles by the use of the electrical energy instead his own energy. This vicarious expenditure of energy is said to reduce superfluous weight very rapidly while causing the patient so little inconvenience that he can sleep all the time if so disposed.

THREATEN EXTERMINATION OF YUKON FOXES

A newspaper at Whitehorse comments on the continued capture of young foxes in the Yukon, as follows:

"Fox farming is becoming so popular and profitable that there is danger of the source of supply being depleted. The wholesale capture of young foxes that is being practised in the Yukon at present will, if allowed to continue, soon destroy the fox industry in the territory. All colors and grades are being taken, regardless of value. Legislation is needed badly; otherwise there will be no foxes to ber, December, January, February and take within a very few years. Novem-March should constitute the open season for foxes, and the balance of the year they should be immune from capture. The fox industry in this territory is a big one, but it will not last long if the young ones are captured before they are two months old."

OVERCROWDED GLASGOW

Mr. Peter Fyle, the chief sanitary inspector for Glasgow, in his annual report comments upon the increasing population of Greater Glasgow, which now totals 1,015,165, dwelling upon an area of 19,183 square acres. This is equal to 53 persons to the acre, as against 24 in Liverpool, 33 in Manchester, 19 in Birmingham and Sheffield, 21 in Leeds and 29 in Edinburgh.

BIG PRICE PAID FOR SILVER FOX SKIN 6

The highest price ever paid at the London sales for a silver fox skin was $2, 900. The next highest was $2,700 and a half dozen have been sold for $2,500 or more. At the present time, the average price is around $200 though the best ranch foxes will bring about $1,200.

FAMOUS POKER GAME FOR A FORTUNE

Back in the '50s, when the northern portion of the Territory of Dakota was hardly more than a bleak waste of uncultivated ground, the town of Pembina was founded by Enos Stutsman, who was a man as remarkable for his eccentricities as he was for his physical deformity. He emigrated to Dakota from the huckleberry districts of Connecticut and located in the upper Red River valled where he filed and proved up on 320 acres of land. It was the ground on which Pembina now stands. He had the head and body of a giant, but his legs were hardly more than a foot long, and he was unable to travel without the aid of two short and powerful crutches. He was a very shrewd, calculating fellow and soon became a recognized leader among the handful of emigrants who had taken up their places in his neighborhood. As a political diplomat he never had an equal in the territory. For four consecutive years he was chairman of the council in the upper branch of the territory legislature, and he was one of the most famous draw-poker players in the territory. He numbered among his close friends a pioneer named Jud LaMoure, who owned a line of stage coaches running between Grand Forks and Pembina.

It was these two men who played the best game of poker that was ever played in the territory. The game was played in the old Levee Hotel in Yankton, in 1862, and it lasted from ten o'clock on Friday morning to three o'clock on Sunday morning. During its progress the people of the town assembled in the hotel and watched the two men as they fought like bulldogs over the pile of red, white and blue checks.

The legislature was in session at the time, and as Stutsman, who was the chairman of the council refused to leave the game, that branch of the legislature adjourned until the following Monday and the members watched the game to the finish.

Early in the game Stutsman's luck was wonderfully good, and he played with a recklessness that surprised everyone. Later on the tide turned against him, and the chips began to flow in the direction of LaMoure, who with his slouch hat pulled over his eyes, was watching every move of his opponent. Slowly and surely, the chips went over to LaMoure's side of the table, and work what trick or artifice he would he could not turn them back.

Matters went on in this way until past midnight on Saturday, when Stutsman threw two $50 bills on the pile of chips in the centre of the table and called a $100 bet made by LaMoure. Stutsman held a king full on queens and he felt sure the pot was his, but when LaMoure threw down his cards there were four deuces, and Stutsman, gritting his teeth exclaimed: "Jud, I tell you what I'll do. You've won $3,800 of my money. If you'll put $3,800 with it I'll stake the townsite of Pembina against you, and will play for it in a lump to win or lose in one deal."

The men shook hands.

According to the agreement the hand was to be dealt by E. A. Williams, of Bismark, the speaker of the house of representatives, the cards to be thrown on the table face up. When the five cards had been dealt each man was to discard and draw, the cards being thrown up by the dealer as before, and when the highest card had been dealt the highest hand was to take the pot.

Excitement ran high, and to prevent any trickery on his part Williams was seated in the centre of the table with his legs tdrned under like a Turk, in the full glare of the oil lamp that was suspended from the ceiling. The many friends of the two men crowded around the table, and Williams was threatened if he should in any way manipulate the cards so as to give either man any advantage. Deftly Williams shuffled the cards, and squaring them, slipped one from the top of the pack and laid it down under Jud's nose. It was a deuce. Stutsman caught the queen of spades. The next card came off and Jud caught another deuce. The three spot of spades turned up under Stutsman's nose and his brow wringled a little. Again the cards fell and Jud placed the ace of diamonds beside his two deuces, while the jack of spades looked into Stutsman's face. Once more the dealer laid down the cards, and Jud claimed the queen of clubs, while his opponent caught the ace of spades. Stutsman's face began to glow. He saw a possibility of catching a flush, but the next card to him was a heart. However Jud had no better hand and held his deuces, drawing three cards. Stutsman's friends tried to prevail on him to draw four cards to the ace, but he wouldn't listen to them, and discarded the heart, he drew one card, hoping to fill the flush. The onlookers were wild when Williams threw three cards to Jud. They fell face up—the queen of clubs, the jack of diamonds and ten spot of spades. He had not bettered his hand and his opponent smiled grimly as he saw how severely fortune must snub him now if he failed to bring him a winning hand; for if he paired any of the four cards he held he must beat Jud's chance, besides there was a possibility of his filling a flush. Jude had evidently lost hope, and he rested his arms on the table and doggedly watched Williams as he turned to Stutsman and slipped a card from the pack. All stretched their necks to catch sight of the card. It was the eight spot of clubs. The game was over. Jud had won, and as he shoved his hand over the table to Stutsman the latter took it and shook it as though he had forgotten it had played havoc with his finances.

Stutsman kept his word and deeded the 320 acres of land to LaMoure. LaMoure holds much of that land today, although he sold a large portion of it and realized many thousands of dollars.

The railways have since given Pembina a boom, and the land that was won in 1862 by two deuces is now worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Stutsman died in 1880. He was buried in the lonely cemetery on the hillside half a mile north of Pembina. The only monument to his memory is the county of Stutsman.

SAUSAGES WRAPPED IN PETER THE GREAT'S LETTERS

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the "Berliner Tageblatt," describes how some autograph letters of the Czar Peter the Great were discovered there in a herring and sausage shop, where they were being used as wrappers. Peter the Great had a long correspondence with Count Tatischeff, the president of the Government mines in the Ural mountains, over the question of the disposal of the riches contained in the mines. Those letters of the Czar were bequeathed by the Count to the official museum of the mines in Ekaterinburg. The present management of the mines recently conceived the idea of selling all the old deeds, but they did not feel called upon to satisfy themselves as to the contents and purport of the literature unearthed. The deeds were all lumped together, and three weeks ago were put up to auction. The whole of the supposed "waste paper," which was really worth scores of thousands of pounds, went for 2d. The buyer was the proprietor of a large number of provision shops, including some sausage shops. One day a professor, who was an antiquary, noticed that the girl behind the counter, in one of these shops was wrapping up his sausage in a peculiar kind of paper with a crown on it. He looked at it more closely, and soon saw that he held in his hand a most important autograph letter of the Czar Peter. He went at once to the sausage dealer to find out how this extraordinary literature came into his hands, and learned the manner of it, as has just been related.

A new world's record for speed by eroplane, was made at Rheims, France by Emile Vedrines, who flew 62½ miles over a measured course at an average of 118 miles an hour. The old record was 111½ miles an hour, made by Maurice Provost at Paris on June 57.

Pegoud, the marvelous "upside-down" aviator eclipsed all his previous efforts at Brooklands during the past week. In a Bleriot monoplane from a height of 3000 feet he dropped downward, tail first, and swung over on his back, flying upside down for nearly a minute. Next, with his machine in a normal position he soared upward, and then with an eagle's swoop downward, turned two complete somersaults in the air. Each loop described a circle of about one hundred and ten yards in circumference. The spectators were thrilled by his amazing antics.

The New Gurney-Oxford Range Has Solved The "Help Problem"

Everywhere women are coping with the same difficulty—the securing of domestic help.

A Gurney-Oxford with its wonderful devices for the saving of time and labor enables you to be independent, if from necessity or choice you are without a servant.

The Divided Flue distributes the heat evenly throughout the oven, and by means of the Economizer the temperature is determined, kept constant, or changed as desired. It is easily controlled by a little lever working around six notches.

Dough and batter-mixtures will always be light, thoroughly cooked, and nicely browned.

This stove saves you the dreaded black leading process for it has an unchanging polished top.

If you must do your own work you owe it to yourself and to your family to spend less time in the kitchen.

No woman need be a drudge with a Gurney-Oxford range.

THE VERSATILES
FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

F. Stuart-Whyte's all star English comedy company, the "Versatiles" who will return to the Kelowna Opera House tomorrow, Friday and Saturday evenings Oct. 3rd and 4th.

On Friday evening the company will present the London Musical success, "Up the River," a very amusing comedy conceit of a new and novel situation.

The scenes are laid aboard a houseboat on which a party of pleasure seekers are spending the week end. The laughable absurdities arising from such a situation can be easily imagined.

The Saturday bill is also given a novel setting, as the action takes place on a tourist car. This piece is a musical adaption derived from the same source as the recent New York comedy success "Excuse Me".

The company carry a full scenic production for each of these pieces, together with a dozen changes of costume. There are a score of sure fine song hits in each performance.

Both pieces are preceded by the old country Pierrots in a short program of song and dances.

NEW ENGLISH COMEDY COMPANY

Manager Duncan of the opera house has made final arrangements for the first appearance here of Messrs G. R. Burch and P. M. Porterjs all English Comedy Company in Harry Nicholl's and W. Lestoeg's celebrated and intensely humorous three act farce, entitled "Jane". The performance to take place on Tuesday, Oct. 14th, for one night only.

The company consists of ten people all actors and actresses from some of the best known English Touring companies, led by Miss Aileen Macdonald, of "The Belle of New York" company from the Shaftesbury Theatre, London. Miss Macdonald will enact the title role, while W. Richards and M. Custance will play "Charles Shackleton." Among the excellent supporters that will be given them, we may mention the names of Miss Grace Gutgrie,

RICHARD M. CUSTANCE
Stage Director, who will play "Charles Shackleton, in "Jane."

Firth and Mr. Lenton Manifold Gibson, who have lately arrived in B. C., after a long engagement with Oscar Asche and Lily Brayton, in Australia and New Zealand, and Mr. Percy Settle, who has recently toured China and Japan with the Brandman Musical and Comedy company. The company is undoubtedly a strong one, and we recommend a perusal of an interesting little circular issued by the management, giving details of the caste, scenes etc., and a slight sketch of the individual career of each artist. The plot is in the joint author's best vein, and the piece has gained a remendous reputation in England, having been played at the Comedy Theatre, London for a run of over 300 performances and being toured in the old country at the present time under the management of the Authors.

WHEN JUDGING A HORSE

In judging a horse he should always be made to stand still. Defects in the limbs or feet that would be unnoticed while in motion, will, says a contemporary, be plainly seen by his care to rest weak or diseased muscles when standing still. If perfectly sound he will stand firmly on all four legs, the feet flat on the ground and without moving. If one heel is raised disease of the navicular bone, or at least tenderness, is probable.

ADVERTISING THE APPLE

Two advertising campaigns are under contemplation on the coast immediately concerning the fruit growers.

One of these emanates from the Okangan growers, and provides for proper publicity for the fruits of this valley on the prairies and on the coast. The other is the conception of the North Pacific Distributors, who plan a big campaign to popularize that most delectable of all fruits—the apple.

It is pleasing to note that the latter campaign is not planned on the lines of Raisin Day in California, but that it has selected as its task the work of educating the trade and the consuming public on the right time to market and to eat a given variety of the fruit—a task absolutely prerequisite to any great enlargement of demand.

An exchange says there has been a woeful lack of intelligent method in marketing the boxed apple of the Pacific Northwest, and costly lack of system all along the line. It is doubtful if one retailer in ten has correct knowledge regarding the time of maturity of even the most standard sorts. The inevitable result has been to prejudice millions of householders against this kind of fruit. Attracted by the beauty of their grocer's display, they have ordered and tried to consume the various varieties at the wrong time. They have been selling Arkansas Blacks in December and Wageners in April when it should have been the other way round.

Nothing short of big co-operative organizations can overcome this serious obstacle in the way of enlarging the consumption of the apple.

A quiet wedding took place in the Catholic church on Tuesday when Rev. Father Verbeke united in Holy matrimony, Mr. Alphonse Boulet and Miss Mary Hereron, both of Ellison district. The happy couple left on the afternoon's boat for points down the lake. Later they will make their home in Saskatchewan.

• • • •

The Kelowna Lacrosse team met defeat twice last week at the hands of the Kamloops aggregation before a large crowd, who were in attendance at the Kamloops fair, which took place on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, The games were played during the afternoon. Thursday's game went to the home club by a score of 8 to 2, while Friday's contest was taken by 5 to 3.

• • • •

The harvest festival services at the Baptist church were well attended, especially the evening service, when the church was crowded. The program of music rendered by the choir under Mr. Wm. Pearson was much appreciated. During the course of the evening Mr. Welsh said that the service completed his fourth year of ministry in the church. It was unnecessary to remind the members and friends how the work had grown and whilst he heartily thanked them for their strong support in the past it was to be remembered that there was still much to do, and he hoped that the coming winter's program would receive the co-operation and attention on behalf of all.

• • • •

An important contract has been signed by Manager Duncgn of the Opera House with the Northwest Theatrical Association which, whether they know it or not should be hailed with profound satisfaction by all patrons of the local theatre. Instead of having to depend entirely upon bookings of independent stock companies, as heretofore, the new arrangement means that Kelowna will be included in the circuits for such well known booking centres as John Corts, Schuberts and Klaw, & Erlangers, which handle most of the shows of any note travelling the Dominion.

Mr. Chas. Hubbard returned to Kelowna on Saturday.

• • • •

Mr. Geo. Hays, with his wife and child left for Revelstoke Tuesday.

• • • •

• • • •

The Baptist church was decorated for the Harvest Festival last Sunday with fruit, vegetables, and flowers, largely donated by exhibitors at the fall fair. The fruit, etc., was afterward given to the local hospital.

• • • •

Mr. C. A. Crosby, supervisor of the Royal Bank in British Columbia was visiting the local branch this week. Mr. Crosby has just returned from an extensive tour of Europe and the Mediterranean. He was very pleased with the many signs of development here in Kelowna, both in the city and district.

• • • •

Probably the most popular stock company traveling in western Canada today is the Allen Players. In all previous visits this company headed by that celebrated versatile actress, Miss Verna Felton, has invariably given absolute satisfaction in their high class production of good clean, moral plays and popular comedies. Kelowna theatre-goers will again have the pleasure of seeing Miss Felton, supported by an exceptionally capable company at the Opera House all next week in a splendid repertoire of popular dramas and comedies, including such well-known plays as "The Spendthrift" "The Gamblers" "Nobody's Widow," "The Dawn of Tomorrow." "Green Stockings" and "Get Rich Quick Wallingford.". Miss Felton and Mrs. Allen Irving Kennedy, Chas. Connors and Byron Eagan are old favorites while Norman Fensier, Lillian Fischer and Ethyl McFarland will be introduced to local audiences.

HOSPITAL DONATIONS

The secretary of the Kelowna hospital, Mr. G. A. Fisher, acknowledges the following donations for August:—Mr. C. Marty, tomatoes; C. C. Prowse, cauliflower, corn, cucumbers, cabbage; F. A. Taylor, box apples; Watson Bros., plums, box apples; Mrs. J. W. Jones, two linen tablecloths; Mrs. Lemon, peaches; Mrs. Willits, cream, maple syrup, apples; Mr. Len. Harvey, rhubarb; Friend, box apples; E. R. Bailey, tomatoes; Mr. Cosens, box tomatoes, crab apples, cabbage.

CAN NOW BOOK THROUGH SLEEPERS TO THE COAST

Travellers from Kelowna and the Okanagan generally will be glad to hear, that beginning with Sept. 27th, a regular sleeping car service is to be run from the Landing to Vancouver. Passengers can book berths here in Kelowna along with their regular tickets and be sure of getting the berth. The difficulty in the past has been that the agent here could not guarantee to the purchaser of a sleeper ticket that there would be a berth available when he got to Sicamous. He had to take his chances, and in the busy season they were sometimes very slim.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PIONEER DIES AT VERNON

James McLaughlin, the oldest of the pioneers of the Okanagan Valley, a man who often camped on the site of what is now the City of Vancouver, died in Vernon last week after having lived for five years under the care of the provincial government.

McLaughlin, who never married was in the California gold rush of '49" and made and lost a fortune during the first Cariboo bonanza days. He was 83 years of age.

The three big steel Howe truss span bridges over the Eagle River between Revelstoke and Sicamous on the new Okanagan-Revelstoke road, will be completed this autumn, according to E. P. Girdwood, the engineer in charge for the provincial government. The bridge a mile west of Taft will be 110 feet long, while those at Malakwa and at Sicamous will each be 140 feet in length.

Sealed Tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed, "Tenders for Wharf at Summerland, B. C." will be received at this office until 4.00 p.m., on Tuesday, October 21, 1913, for the construction of a wharf at Summerland, B. C.

Plans, specifications and form of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department and at the office of F. W. Aylmer, Esq., District Engineer, Chase, B.C., and on application to the Postmaster at Summerland, B. C.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupations and places of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signature, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By Order.
R. C. DESROCHERS,
Secretary.

VINEGAR

Every year we have something to say about Vinegar and although a lot of the pickling has already been done it is not yet too late to mention it this year. What we want to tell - you is that we handle only - in bulk

Heinz Pure Vinegar

Malt, White Wine and Cider - all 75c. per gal.

We add no water; we do no monkeying; but give you absolutely Pure Vinegar, guaranteed to contain no acids, guaranteed to preserve your pickles from spoiling for as long - as you wish to keep them -

Heinz Aromatic Malt Vinegar
Heinz Pure Apple Cider Vinegar
Heinz White Wine Pickling Vinegar

75c. per gallon

Remember our motto: "QUALITY AND SERVICE"

The McKenzie Co., Ld.

No articles of dress cause you so much trouble as your shoes and hose. Only by testing, testing, testing, have we found lines of shoes and hose that will stand the hard wear they must be given, and yet last and look well. On these lines of shoes and hose we have the exclusive agency for this city. Buy your shoes from us; you will get those which are strong, stylish and comfortable.
