Two More Local Boys Fall in Battle

Will. Duggan of Kelowna and C. Gore, of Westbank, Give Lives For Country

Ald. W. C. Duggan is the object of general sympathy this week in the sad news of the death of his eldest son, Will, who was reported Tuesday to have been killed at the front. The young fellow who had just attained his twenty-first year, left for overseas some eighteen months ago with an Ambulance Corps, and it was apparently while engaged in their work near the front line that he met his death. Originally he joined up with the B. C. Horse at Vernon, but was transferred from there to Victoria to the Ambulance Corps. He came to Kelowna with his father as a young boy and attended the local schools. Later he was with Mr. J. B. Knowles' jewelry store. Needless to say the news has created a feeling of profound sorrow amongst the many friends both of the young man himself and of the family.

The family of Mr. W. B. Gore, of Westbank, are mourning this week the loss of one of its members, Cyril, the younger of two sons who have gone to the war. He left a little over a year ago with an artillery battalion from Vancouver, and up to a few days ago, although he had seen some heavy fighting, he had escaped unharmed. The dreaded news came Monday that he had been killed, and still another family has been plunged into grief.

Cyril Gore was born 27 years ago in Nottingham, England, the family emigrating to Canada some eleven years ago, making first for the prairie near Lloydminster. Six or seven years ago they came to

Want Convalescent Home

A movement to induce the government to take advantage of the excellent situation of Kelowna for a convalescent hospital for returned soldiers is being revived. It is pointed out that both the Lakeview and the Royal hotels would be available for such a purpose and as they are side by side could easily be combined, affording splendid accommodation fronting on a fine view of the lake and park. It is likely that the matter will be made the subject of further representations to Ottawa.

Ex-Alderman Cecil Rogerson left this morning on the first stage of his journey to England whither he is returning temporarily owing to the serious illness of his mother Westbank. The deceased hero was well known and liked in the district.

Civic Bye-Election Will Be Held Next Week

Two Vacancies in South Ward Must be Filled

Two vacancies have been created on the aldermanic board of the city, the first by the recent death of Ald. H. H. Millie, and this week by the resignation of Ald. Rogerson who finds it necessary to go over to England for some time at least. When the first vacancy occurred it was decided, if possible, as it was so near the end of the year, to carry on without going through the trouble of a bye-election. This second vacancy, however, especially in view of the continued serious illness of Ald. Buck, leaves the council with its numbers so reduced that it can hardly carry on the duties of the city. Consequently at Monday's meeting a resolution was passed formally declaring the two vacancies in the South Ward. Nomination day was fixed for Monday next, November 19th, and polling, if necessary, for the following Thursday, the 22nd.

TRADING WITHOUT LICENCE

This year in addition to the regular wholesale fruit shipping concerns, there have been operating a number of independent buyers and shippers of fruit and produce, and the fact that they have been required to pay no trade licence seemed to work a hardship upon the regular concerns who have to pay wholesalers' licences.

It was in connection with this matter that the manager of one of these latter concerns waited upon the council Monday morning and mentioned the names of several persons who were doing business in fruit shipping. Upon further questioning, however, it appeared that with one exception none of these were known to have any offices or warehouses which could be regarded as their place of business, but were simply buying produce and loading it directly onto the cars.

The city clerk said he had taken the case up with the solicitor, and had received the opinion that where wholesalers had no place of business, but were merely buying produce and shipping it out of the city, the council had no power to collect a licence from them. In the case of the one exception mentioned above it was decided to instruct the collector to call upon them and collect the necessary fee.

Mayor Sutherland pointed out that the city was anxious to protect the rights of all firms having vested interests in the city and also to collect all fees which were due. In most of these cases the city had no power, and he advised that if the wholesale firms still thought they had any just grievance they should unitedly take the matter up with the provincial government.

Mr. F. A. McDiarmid, solicitor for the Union of B.C. Municipalities, wrote asking for full information concerning the operation of the Kelowna sewerage system to enable him to discuss same intelligently in supporting a claim for its exemption from provincial taxes. This was in pursuance of a movement which was started at the recent Municipal Convention to induce the government to exempt from taxes all properties owned by municipalities outside their corporate limits, on the grounds that most of such holdings were non-revenue producing and generally used for some public utility. In the case of Kelowna the property so held was used as a sewerage farm.

Chief Thomas submitted his monthly report showing a total of six cases brought before the magistrate, five of which were in connection with the keeping of a disorderly house, and the sixth one of assault. Thirty-two complainants had been received and investigated.

Ptes. C. M. Bartlett, C. A. Scott, and J. Haynes, are all listed with the wounded this week.

Hon. Martin Burrell Speaks in Kelowna

Talks on Aims of New Union Government

Though in all probability he is to be relieved of the necessity for a regular political campaign in this his old constituency, Kelowna people had the pleasure of hearing the Hon. Martin Burrell last Thursday evening when he addressed a large gathering in the theatre on the subject of the new Union government. Mr. Burrell was recently selected by Sir Robert Borden for the very high distinction of a place upon that government as Secretary of State and Minister of Mines, and consequently the information he gave was rendered all the more interesting by being first hand. Mr. Burrell is a fluent and graceful speaker, and left no doubt as to his belief in the genuineness of the coalition, nor as to the "win the war" sentiments with which it was inspired. Men of both political creeds had joined hands in an earnest endeavor to solve the tremendous difficulties which faced the government to-day.

Mr. Burrell has been making a tour of the west in company with the Hon. J. A. Calder, and prior to visiting the Okanagan had addressed several meetings at coast points.

The chair was taken by Mayor Sutherland who introduced the speaker as no longer a representative of one of the political parties, but as the member of a national or Union government. He was pleased to know that such a non-political government had been formed, and trusted that it would be able to carry on the war with energy and success.

The Hon. Mr. Burrell was received enthusiastically as he commenced his address. It was very significant, he said, that the government's decision to sink all party distinctions for the good of the nation should synchronize with the jubilee of Confederation. The "Fathers of Confederation" were men of robust faith and far sight. They knew that if the traditions of British institutions and British freedom were to be preserved; if a nation was to be built up in the northern half of this continent, it was necessary to weld all the scattered elements together in one confederation. We to-day could be thankful for what they had done and for what Canada is to-day after having stood the test of 50 years.

Canada to-day, with all nations in the war, was undergoing a crucial test. It was a conflict of ideas, of democratic nations with an organization founded upon a system of government which, if triumphant, would plunge civilization back for years.

Accusations had been made that the Union government was not a genuine one, and that no real fusion had taken place; that it was only a piece of machinery for bringing the old party back again. This he emphatically denied. When he had seen men who had been lifelong political foes bury their animosities and sit at the same council table for the common good, how could he help but believe in the Union government? No man was a true patriot who did not support it and do his best to help.

He briefly outlined the platform of the new government, the first plank of which, the Military Service Bill, he characterized as the rock upon which the new government was built. He commended the attitude of the government upon the patronage question, believing that a union government had much greater chances of

Whirlwind Campaign to Sell Canadian Victory Bonds

Aim to Raise $120,000 in the Kelowna District

Overshadowing for the moment all other forms of collection the new government War Loan is being taken up enthusiastically from one end of the country to the other, and if reports already received from various centres are any indication of what will be done during the remainder of the three weeks set aside for the raising of the money there is no doubt as to the loan being fully subscribed.

Kelowna's campaign was heralded Monday morning by the vigorous blowing of the power house whistle, and the sales committee have been vigorously canvassing the town ever since.

The plan of campaign is practically the same as is being used in other places, and has been worked out by a central committee. The scheme was outlined last week by Mr. Stanley Henderson, the provincial organizer, during a visit to Kelowna, when he appointed Mayor Sutherland as chairman of the local committee.

Saturday evening a meeting was called in the city offices for the purposes of lining up forces for the campaign which was to open Monday.

Mr. W. G. Benson of the Okanagan Loan Co., was appointed to take charge of the sales committee with the assistance of duly authorized sales representatives who consist of Messrs. Harvey, Duggan and Davies, Hewatson & Mantle, Mantle & Wilson, G. A. Fisher, D. H. Rattenbury, N. D. McTavish, K. Iwashita, Lee Bon, and the three country stores at Rutland, Mission and East Kelowna. At a further meeting of this committee it was arranged to divide the city up into districts for canvassing purposes, assigning to each authorized agent a district which he was expected to cover thoroughly though he was at liberty in addition to sell bonds where and when he could. The canvassers have already done energetic work, and it is understood that a considerable amount has been subscribed. The committee hope to reach a total of $120,000 for this district.

The publicity work has been placed in the hands of Mr. T. S. Ruffel and a committee consisting of Messrs. J. W. Jones, E. R. Bailey, P. B. Willis, D. E. Braden, G. Rowcliffe, R. E. Denison and J. B. Knowles. A plentiful supply of posters, stickers, circulars, &c., has been forwarded from headquarters and these are being distributed. Besides this every means is being used of bringing the Loan before the public and inducing them to buy the bonds.

Arrangements have been made to have short addresses given wherever an opportunity occurs, and this plan has been carried out at the local picture theatre, and several other gatherings. On Thursday a meeting was held at Rutland and plans for an energetic canvass of that district laid. Saturday Okanagan Mission is to be visited.

Messrs. Willets have kindly placed a room in their block at the disposal of the committee as headquarters and from there the work of stirring up public enthusiasm in the town will be conducted.

A big dial has been made and placed in the vacant store near the Post Office and this will show the progress being made by the canvassers as the time goes on. Three weeks are allowed for the canvass which will close December 1st. It is probable that during the last week arrangements will be made to have the lights of the city switched off and on at a certain hour as a reminder that the time for subscription is getting short.

Full particulars of the Bonds rates of subscription will be found in other parts of the paper, and it is hoped that every one will do his utmost.

Pte. B. C. Hooper came in Monday on a short leave which he will spend with his sister on the benches. He has recently returned from the front wounded severely in the neck, and must return for further treatment to Vancouver. He came from Seymour Arm last fall to enlist with the 172nd in Kelowna.

What Will Canada's Answer Be?

OVER in the sodden trenches amid the bursting shells and the roar of artillery where Canada's boys are fighting and dying.

—they are waiting for Canada's answer when the sale of Victory Bonds begins.

CANADA'S soldiers expect that we at home will put up the millions they need to keep on fighting, —the millions they must have to win Victory for freedom, home and Canada.

What answer will Canada make?

What answer will you make?

Shall it be said that Canada spares not her sons from the sacrifice of battle, yet withholds her dollars to give them victory?

Rather will it be said that Canada once more, for the fourth time in three years, cheerfully puts up her millions upon millions for the cause of freedom, righteousness and justice.

Canada's answer must be,

—that the Canadian hand to the plow of Victory holds steadfast and firm.

—that Canada is in deadly earnest when she says the "last man and the last dollar."

That is the answer Canada will give to our boys in the trenches, our kinsmen in Britain, and our Allies everywhere.

That is the answer we will give to the Huns who thought and said that Canada would desert the Empire before she would fight or pay.

Every bond you buy is an answer. Let the millions of answers from Canada's loyal men and women make a chorus of Victory to ring around the world.

Canada's Victory Loan Campaign opens on Monday, November 12

Italy In the Permanent Military Committee

The conference of British, French and Italian representatives has resulted in the creation of a permanent inter-allied military committee. New leadership for the Italian army has been provided. General Cadorna, who has been in supreme command of the Italian army since the beginning of the war, has been given a place on the new committee. Among military officers, the decision of the Allies to create a permanent military committee has caused great satisfaction. It is accepted as evidence that they have awakened to the necessity for the closest union on the whole length of the western front for the political and military conduct of the war.

Germany Grows Impatient Over Submarines

Captain Persius, naval expert of the Berliner Tageblatt, notes a growing impatience among Germans with the results of the submarine campaign registered in a swelling flood of letters demanding an answer to the question "When shall we have England beaten?" He throws cold water on the optimists and warns them against accepting as reliable figures on destroyed tonnage, including those apparently German and other statistical material. Capt. Persius says that with the 1917 harvest and the imports of grain the food problem can scarcely become serious enough for the next six months at least to make Great Britain inclined to conclude peace. He holds that the submarine question for the British will be not "Can we continue the war?" but "Will it pay?"

The British Columbia Hop Co., Ltd., of Sardis, are adapting their kilns to the evaporation of various kinds of fruits and vegetables.

The British have captured Askani, ten miles beyond Gaza, and thirty miles from Jerusalem, it is stated. Ten thousand Turks were killed or wounded.

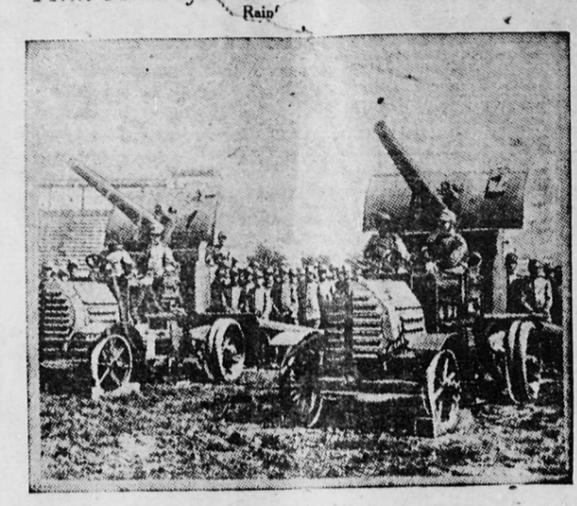

The enemy's operations on the north and east in an attempt at encirclement of the Italians have not succeeded. The menace on the Italian left wing also is virtually past.

The Hon. T. S. Sproule, M.D., former Speaker of the House of Commons, and later a member of the Senate, died at Markdale, Ont., Saturday.

The United States military draft shows that the number of those physically defective is from 7 to 20 per cent. higher in rural districts than in cities. The officials blame this on the lack of medical inspection in country schools.

The entire Turkish army in Palestine is retiring towards Hebron, approximately 24 miles south of Jerusalem, as the British advance, an official statement asserts. British airplanes are following up the retreating Turks and bombing them. Forty Turkish guns were captured. British and French naval forces are co-operating against the Turkish communications along the Mediterranean.

Notes From the Prairie Markets Bulletin

THE END OF THE 1917 SEASON

In announcing the discontinuance for the season of the Prairie Fruit Markets Bulletin the Markets Commissioner, Mr. J. A. Grant, says that the past season has been a good one from a B.C. standpoint, due to causes over which we have no control as well as to causes that we can control much better than we have done even this year. Distribution by the wholesale trade has greatly improved, new country has been supplied, but there is much to be done and B.C. growers must get ready to greatly increase the supply of many of the fruits we can grow and the kind the market demands. We have pointed out the varieties that can scarcely be over-planted and the districts that excel in the different fruits will do well to specialize in them and produce in a modern way and equip with modern machinery in every branch.

The next year will see a greater demand than ever before on the prairies and will grow from year to year. If the growers in their wisdom will unite to secure the price of production for their produce and a fair profit they will succeed in getting it, but if not the law of supply and demand can easily degenerate to the rabble and ruin that follows going it blind. We need to know where our goods are wanted, the quantity in each case, that too many are not catering to one centre, and that every place that is willing to pay for it gets a fair share.

An organized system of distribution will accomplish this and there is no other way that is known to secure this result. The different matters that can secure this market for B.C. have already been discussed in former issues. There is a splendid outlook ahead for marketing B.C. fruit. Shall we take the tide at its flood?

OF INTEREST TO B.C. GROWERS

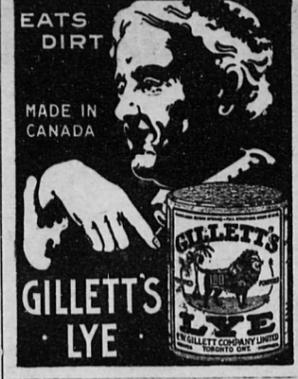

The United Grain Growers have purchased $234,000 worth of Washington apples. This represents 180 cars. The quality is most C grade or Yakima big Y brand. They will cost them $1.80 to $2 laid down here. It is claimed that this is a cheaper price than they could buy in Canada.

The price above likely represents the best the management could do at the time of decision. It is sincerely hoped that by another year they will enter early into negotiations with a reliable B.C. shipper and buy when the buying is good. The price now paid represents co-operative loss and the United Grain Growers have little to be pleased about in the deal from any angle they may view it. If the above suggestion had been acted on this year a saving of 25 per cent. could have been made. Many farmers in the U.G.G. will buy from the trade B.C. apples at a less price after paying the middleman his much-grudged profit, and get them by the box and the variety of his choice, and his money will be available for Victory Bonds that will build up Canadian industry.

ANOTHER FRUIT HANDLING CONCERN

P. Burns & Co., Ltd., have entered the field this year as fruit dealers.

This firm has a large distributing system and if they aim at the quality that they have a reputation for in other lines there is no reason why they should not be a powerful factor in distributing B.C. fruit. The consignment system is very shaky at present and by next season it should take the count. If

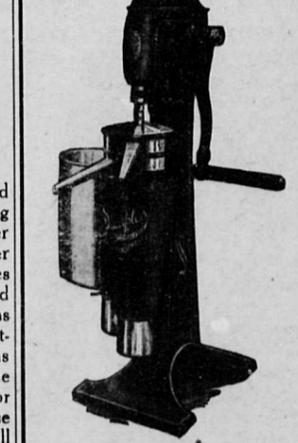

Much of Italian Scare is Fabrication

Major-Gen. F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the British war office, in his weekly talk with the Associated Press, said: "The Italian situation is serious, but a considerable part of the alarm is talk which is untrue. The report that von Mackensen made the attack with an overwhelming force of 300,000 men is a fabrication. The enemy forces were commanded by von Buelow, not by von Mackinson. Moreover, the attack was not a surprise to Gen. Cadorna, who knew it was coming so far in advance that he issued a communication warning the troops about it. The withdrawal of the Italians from the Tagliamento line need cause no discouragement, because this was part of Cadorna's statement from the moment of the first falling back. Developments now depend on the time in which Allied reinforcements reach the line in adequate numbers." Referring to the German claims of an enormous bag of prisoners, Gen. Maurice expressed the opinion that these were largely overdrawn, saying: "The Germans naturally make the best possible story and it is likely that they have counted all the civilians in the total of the prisoners they announced."

A balance of $114,100,000 in loans authorized for Russia may not be turned over by the United States if the Lenin-Trotsky peace faction gains complete control. The American Government, declared one treasury official, is not the peace business and regards the Bolsheviki as aiding Germany.

Austro-Germans Hostile in Alberta

Says a writer in the Province: "Of the seventy-five thousand Austro-Germans in Alberta, sixty thousand reside north of the Red Deer River. Of this number it is estimated that at least ten thousand electors of alien enemy races were not disfranchised by the new federal act because they were naturalized before 1900. This forms a nucleus for a very active propaganda among that element for those ten thousand Austro-Germans have votes in the coming election. These people are avowedly hostile to the Union government, to conscription and any other form of human endeavor calculated to keep Canada at the front in the great war. They talk boldly of the reprisals they propose to engage in against public men responsible for their disfranchisement and the effort to their race. Their attitude and the political situation has caused many western men who did not approve previously of the disfranchisement act to swing to the other extreme."

Value of Women in Work of the Church

Ald. Rogerson Gives Address to Equal Franchise League

The Equal Franchise League enjoyed an able paper from Mr. C. Rogerson on "Women and the Church," at their meeting Monday evening.

The lecturer, explaining his use of the word Church as implying catholic or universal, and not confined to any one sect, referred to the fine tradition of sympathy towards women found in even the Jewish Church, and greatly exemplified by the founder of Christianity, who, as the old English poet expressed it, was "The first true gentleman who ever breathed."

The Church, however, has not lived up to the splendid Christian ideal, or it would not be so helpless for good as it is shown to be in the present horrible condition of European war. The lack of courage in the Church is also seen in its silence regarding the position of the most unfortunate women—it is not considered "good form" to discuss this exceedingly important social question.

In concluding his discourse, however, and in the discussion which followed it, Mr. Rogerson spoke eloquently of the Church becoming inspired by the influence of woman as the guiding power in the family. The Christian Doctrine of the incarnation of the Divinity was itself, he held, a statement of noble womanhood. He went so far as to say that the nature of men tended to evil, whereas that of a woman tended to good. Another speaker combated the idea of evil being in human nature, pointing out that men of primitive races, such as the Esquimaux, exhibit native virtues, and that acts of great heroism and self-sacrifice even in animals, have often been observed.

The discussion turned partly on the diverse merits of individual and social effort; the social principle of the Church being, according to the lecturer, of the highest value, while, though not disputing this, others said that reform and progress always come from individual initiative—too often oppos-

Orders for Local Scouts

Kelowna Troop Troop First; Self Last

Edited by Pioneer, Nov. 13, 1917

Orders by command for week ending Nov. 24th, 1917.

DUTIES—Orderly patrol for week Ours; next for duty, Beavers.

PARADES—The combined troop will parade at the club room on Tuesday, the 20th, and Saturday, the 24th of November, at 7.15 and 2.30 p.m. respectively. Patrol leaders are responsible for the instruction of their patrols for the first part of all evening parades, and it is therefore of the utmost importance that a patrol leader should be present on time, or if he cannot arrange to be there, his second should be there for him; otherwise the time is lost for that patrol and they interfere with other patrols in their work.

Leaders and seconds should decide beforehand what they are going to do at each parade, and not leave everything in a haphazard sort of way and decide to do whatever may come across their minds when they reach the parade.

The Otters are the only patrol who are going ahead with making themselves a locker. We wish each patrol to have to sets of semi-saphore flags, which they already have, two triangular badges, splints rope for knot tying, and whatever else they may require for their patrol, to be always kept in their lockers at the clubroom. As we said before, the troop will pay for the material required for the locker, lumber, lock and key, and we would ask the other patrols to make an effort to have their lockers completed within the next week or two.

There are now 25 Cubs enrolled in the Kelowna Pack, which means they are numerically stronger than we are. Good work!

A two-hundred ton concrete ship built in Norway was launched keel uppermost and turned over in the water.

One of the duties which scouts have undertaken in London, is to furnish buglers to go around with special constables in cars after an air raid, blowing "All Clear!"

In connection with the Canada Victory Loan, we received instructions from the Dominion Headquarters to furnish assistance in whatever way we could to make the loan campaign a success, and in particular it was thought that we could be of assistance in delivery and distribution of the following—window posters, automobile stickers, pay envelope stuffers, various kinds of dodgers, letter stickers, double and single sandwich boards. We have offered our assistance to the local committee in whatever way we can furnish the same to them.

Search for Secrets.

Ponce De Leon started out to discover the Secret Fountain of Youth. Men are always looking for secrets: the secret of health, wealth, or happiness. But the secret of successful advertising has been discovered. It is strange it was not discovered long ago, but it was not until recent years, although it is remarkably simple. It is to "Tell the truth and shame the devil." Put into your advertisements the exact facts, without exaggeration or elaboration. When people see that you are entitled to confidence, they will make a beaten path to your doors.

The Minister of Finance however, reserves the right to allot the whole or any part of the amount subscribed in excess of $150,000,000.

The Proceeds of this Loan will be used for War purposes only, and will be spent wholly in Canada.

Scrip certificates, non-negotiable, or payable to bearer, in accordance with the choice of the applicant for registered or bearer bonds, will be issued after allotment in exchange for provisional receipts. When these scrip certificates have been paid in full, and payment endorsed thereon by the bank receiving the money they may be exchanged for bonds, when prepared, with coupons attached, payable to bearer, or registered as to principal, or for fully registered bonds when prepared, without coupons, in accordance with the application.

Delivery of interim certificates and of definitive bonds will be made through the Chartered Banks.

Bearer bonds with coupons will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, and $1,000, and may be registered as to principal only. Fully registered bonds, the interest on which is paid direct to the owner by Government cheque, will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, or any authorized multiple of $5,000.

Subject to the payment of 25 cents for each new bond issued, holders of fully registered bonds without coupons, will have the right to convert into bonds of the denomination of $1,000 with coupons, and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert into fully registered bonds of authorized denominations without coupons, at any time, on application to the Minister of Finance.

In case of partial allotments the surplus deposit will be applied toward payment of the amount due on the January instalment.

Civic Bye-election Next Week

ed, and fines and forfeited bail had amounted to $90.

The report also included the monthly dairy tests made in connection with the Milk By-law as follows—

- John Birch - 4.6
- Norman Day - 4.4
- D. C. Middleton 3.8
- R. Ritchie - 3.8

It was also reported that during the past week all cows kept by licensed dairymen in the city had been examined and innoculated by Prov. Veterinary Surgeon Hsley. Four cows had been found suffering from tuberculosis and had been shot and their carcasses burned.

A communication was read from the chairman of the B.C. committee of the Canada Victory Loan advising the council that in the event of any investments being made in the loan from the city's sinking funds, such purchases should be made through the provincial committee in order to avoid payment of a commission.

The chairman of the finance committee gave it as his opinion that most of the cash in the sinking fund would be required to meet debentures falling due next year.

The Vancouver Proportional Representation Society wrote advocating the adoption of the "proportional" method of holding elections as authorized by a recent provincial act, and forwarding full particulars as to the working of same. The council, however, decided to make no change in the present method until application had come from the electors themselves.

A letter was read from Mr. F. V. Royle, of the office staff, tendering his resignation owing to continued ill-health. The letter was accepted and a resolution passed expressing appreciation of his past services and the hope that he would soon be restored to health again.

Ald. Rattenbury, on behalf of the Health Committee, reported that owing to repeated complaints regarding the waste wash water from the steam laundry, he had requested the medical health officer, Dr. Boyce, to investigate conditions there and suggest a remedy. After an examination Dr. Boyce had recommended as the best method of removing the nuisance to have three tanks sunk on the property, and to lead the water from these tanks by means of inverted flumes.

The Mayor stated that he had telephoned the proprietor of the laundry to carry out these proposals.

In connection with certain alterations to the water mains in the packing house district suggested at last meeting by the Fire Underwriters, Ald. Duggan reported that there was sufficient six-inch pipe to carry out the alterations between the power house and Haynes Av., but not sufficient four-inch pipe for the other alterations required. The estimated cost of laying the pipe was $70. The Light and Water Committee was instructed to proceed with the work.

SAVE THE BABIES

Sea Water Injection is Cure for Infantile Cholera and Thousands of Children Have Been Saved By New Method.

A new cure has been found for infantile cholera, that dread complaint which wipes out so many young lives during the summer. The hot European summer, which has recently ended, claimed a toll of babies, and the new method was given an ample testing in London and Paris with what are claimed to have been excellent results.

Dr. Quintin, a Parisian philanthropist, was the discoverer of the new method, which is composed of carefully determined doses of modified sea water injected under the little infant's skin, and during the past five years thousands of children have been successfully treated. The system was introduced into London by the generosity of Mr. Otto Beit, and a large Polyclinic was opened, at which the children were treated. So successful were the results that many of the provincial hospitals also introduced the treatment with equal satisfaction.

The preparation is not a patent medicine, and, it is stated, can be prepared by any chemist, and a number of local ladies interested in child welfare are now in communication with the London officials with the idea of getting the treatment established in Montreal ready for next summer.

THE TIMID PENDULUM

Once upon a time a clock-maker was making a clock, setting the wheel into its proper place, and fitting the different parts together. The pendulum was lying on the table beside him, waiting for its turn, and it passed the time in making a calculation of how long it would be before the great wheels of the clock were worn out and its own work done.

"Of course, I shall go on ticking as long as these wheels last," said the pendulum, "I shall be expected to tick so many times to the minute and sixty times that to the hour. I shall never rest day or night, so that I must tick twenty-four hours instead of lying still and sleeping peacefully through a few of them. Then there are 365 days in one year, and, all the clock will probably last good for at least seventy years. If I had a pencil I would put it all down, but I can't do multiplication in my head. Millions of ticks, I'm sure, if not billions! I can never do it," and the poor unhappy pendulum sighed deeply.

"But surely you can do one tick at a time?" asked the clockmaker kindly.

"Oh, yes, that's a very simple matter," answered the pendulum.

"Well," said the clockmaker, "that is all you will ever have to do really," and he hung the pendulum in its place, taking care to make it quite comfortable, because it is more important to get properly settled on a hook than on a chair, and it sets to work steadily ticking.

"Now, if I were you," advised the clockmaker, "I should not count 'One, two, three, four,' because if you do happen to think of something else you'll get wrong. You will find it ever so much safer to say, 'Tick, tack, tick, tack,' that gets to be second nature in time and I can promise you will never go wrong." So the pendulum took his advice and went on steadily ticking one tick at a time, and it is ticking yet quite cheerfully, undaunted by any rows of figures either before or behind.

THE LITTLE BELL

For centuries it has been the custom to inscribe church bells with mottoes, sometimes in English, sometimes in Latin. If you have read Longfellow's "Golden Legend" you will remember the voices of the bells as they sing. These words are all taken from the mottoes on very old bells. As a child I remember seeing the enormous new bell for St. Paul's going by road to be hung in the Cathedral, and we could read the Latin inscription that was round it. When I was on my holiday I saw the bells in the tower of a beautiful old church, and looked for their inscriptions. Some of those only commemorated the date of the founding and the name of the giver or the founders but one inscription was in rhyme:— Although I am both light and small, I will be heard above you all. I could not help thinking that motto would do for a great many people as well as for that small bell, if anyone ever thought of putting an inscription round a little girl's picture or a little boy's belt.

Quite a Difference

When Lawrence Barrett's daughter was married Stuart Robson sent a cheque for a thousand pounds to the bridegroom. The comedian's daughter Felicia Robson, who attended the wedding, conveyed the gift. "Felicia," said her father, upon her return "did you give him the cheque?" "Yes," father, answered the daughter.

"What did he say?" asked Robson. "He didn't say anything," replied Miss Felicia; "but he shed tears."

"How long did he cry?" "Why, father, I didn't time him. I should say, however, that he wept fully a minute."

"Fully a minute," mused Robson, "Why, daughter, I cried an hour after I signed it."

An "Ear Telephone."

Differing from the various kinds of instruments which are used to aid persons of defective hearing, a new long distance hearing apparatus has recently been invented to assist the hearing of normal persons in much the same way that a telescope does the eye; that is, it enables one to distinguish sounds through a greater distance, besides amplifying those which would ordinarily be detected by the unaided ears. For this reason it has been facetiously called the "ear telescope."

TOWN AND COUNTRY NOTES

Packing operations at the Kelowna Growers' Exchange were completed Saturday, and most of the season's employees are beginning to disperse. There is still, however, considerable shipping still to be done.

Mr. Reuben Draper left Tuesday for Winnipeg. He is not quite sure of his destination but intends to try his fortune in the east. He disposed of his lot on Sutherland Avenue during the week.

Mr. F. Bawtinheimer and family removed Monday down to Penticton. Mr. Bawtinheimer has taken the management of the store for the B.C. Meat Market, the concern in which Messrs. Alan Wilson and W. Ludlow are interested.

An interesting display of named apples is on view in the Board of Trade window. Most of these were on exhibition at Summerland Fall Fair and some of the plates were prizewinners. All are typical specimens of their variety.

Circular Bulletin No. 17, entitled "Crop Situation in British Columbia, Sept. 30th, 1917," has just been received at the Farmers' Institute offices. This gives statistical estimates of the hay, alfalfa, potato and other crops in the province and should be of interest to the grower of these crops.

The usual Church of England service will be held at East Kelowna on Sunday next at 3 p.m.

Saved 900 lbs. of Fine Alfalfa Seed

Seed experts who have visited the valley in the last two years have suggested that this climate should lend itself excellently to seed raising. The Bandhead Orchard Co. has demonstrated what can be done in selecting and saving corn for seed purposes, and Messrs. Casorso Bros. have just completed a very satisfactory experiment with alfalfa seed saving. Last year Casorso Bros. saved a small plot of alfalfa for seed and this year reserved a field of about three acres for this purpose. This crop has just been threshed by the government seed huller and the results are very satisfactory.

The crop threshed out 900 lbs. of good seed and it is estimated that the value of the alfalfa straw will nearly cover the cost of production; so that the seed at present prices should yield a good profit. A part of the field was light soil, which required a moderate irrigation, but the part of the field which was heavier land required little irrigation. The field was not grazed in the spring but the crop was allowed to grow, flower and ripen without being forced with water.

This method would seem to be the successful way of growing alfalfa for seed and agrees with the suggestions made by the Department of Agriculture. Any data as regards seed saving of other crops or plants would be gratefully received by the Farmers' Institute, who wish to collect all the information possible on this subject.

Mrs. Finch left Tuesday for Kamloops.

Mrs. E. B. Goldsmith was a passenger to Salmon Arm Tuesday.

Arthur Evans, until lately with Leckie's store, left Monday for Vancouver. He is expecting joining the Flying Corps.

Mr. J. A. Bigger has been away during the past few days attending a convention of the B.C. School Trustees' Association at Nanaimo.

Mr. J. F. Peterson and his son came in this week from their prairie farm near Wetaskiwin. They will stay here for the winter.

Mr. T. G. Speer received a wire this week to the effect that his stepson, Harvey Naismith, had been gassed at the front. Pte. Naismith went overseas with the Highlanders and has been for some time on signalling duty in the front line trenches.

In his sermon Sunday evening the Rev. E. D. Braden made mention of the new Victory Loan, and urged all to do their utmost to make it a success.

Mr. W. Morris, auditor for the Workmen's Compensation Board, has been in town during the week checking up the pay-roll statements required for the purposes of the Act.

In the Baptist church next Sunday morning the Rev. W. Arnold Bennett will preach on "What prayer might mean to you." At the evening service he will commence his series of discourses on portraits of men and women around town, the first of which is entitled "The Greatest Sinner in Kelowna." After the evening service the Lord's Supper will be administered.

Mr. and Mrs. Peabody, with their son George and niece Miss Etter, left Tuesday for Vancouver on their way to California, where they will spend the winter months before returning to their old home in the east. It had been their original intention to make the journey south by automobile, but delays entailed in the transfer of the Palace Hotel, of which Mr. Peabody has been proprietor for close on dozen years, has kept them here too late in the season to venture by road. There was a considerable gathering of friends at the wharf to see them off.

County Court Holds Session

A session of the County Court was held in Kelowna Tuesday, His Honor Judge Swanson presiding. The only important case up for hearing was the appeal of Mr. D. Gellatly against a previous decision against him in the Westbank irrigation case. Mr. Jas. Murphy, of Ashcroft, appeared on behalf of the Westbank company and Mr. R. B. Kerr, for Gellatly. The action was dismissed on a technicality which must appear somewhat incomprehensible to the ordinary lay mind. It was objected that in the statement of his case counsel for Mr. Gellatly had not called a witness to prove that Westbank was nearer to Kelowna than it was to either Penticton or Vernon. Precedent was quoted in support of the objection, and in consequence the action ended almost as soon as it had begun.

A case in which a Hindoo named Banta sued Mr. T. Bulman for damages to his tomato crop caused by the intrusion thereon of some hogs belonging to the latter, was adjourned to the next Court in January. Mr. Bulman has a counter claim against the Hindoo, who was working on shares, for neglect of cultivation in connection with the crop.

Whirlwind Campaign to Sell Victory Bonds

dealing with such an evil than any party could have. He was wholeheartedly glad too that Universal Woman Suffrage had been pledged, because he had been a believer in it for years. He did not apprehend much trouble from its introduction, but rather a steadying of political affairs.

Conscription of wealth, he claimed, was well provided for by present legislation, under which profits over 7 per cent. were taxed upon a graduated scale, reaching 75 per cent. on profits over 20 per cent. The tax on "profiteers" was as heavy as in any other country, and there was besides a heavy income tax.

Under a revision of the pension scale many hardships and anomalies which had been a source of grumbling had been removed. The whole scale had received a careful revision and increases amounting to 40 per cent. had been made.

To most people, he said, the idea of an election of the present time when so many were oppressed with sorrow over the war was abhorrent, and he assured his hearers that the government had not sought an election. It had been forced upon them, and that at a time when every energy of the country should be bent upon the war and its issues. The war was all that mattered just now, and anything which interfered with its successful prosecution must be set aside.

The Military Service Bill, he said, was the fairest compulsory measure ever put on a statute book. Sir Robert Borden knew that the voluntary system had broken down. And he said that with full appreciation of the magnificent part Canada had played in the war so far. Too much honor could not be done to the men of Canada who had come forward under the voluntary system. Enlistments, however, had dropped until the amount to barely half the wastage from casualties and discharges, and there was nothing left but compulsion, especially as both Great Britain and America had both adopted it.

He did not doubt Sir Wilfrid Laurier's sincerity in saying compulsion was a bad thing, but he regarded his refusal to join hands with the government as an unfortunate mistake.

He referred to the "tragedy of Quebec," which province had refused to do its share, enlisting only a fraction of what it should have done in comparison with the other provinces. This was a state of things which could no longer be tolerated.

He quoted the Hon. James Calder that "there were only two leaders, Borden and Laurier, and only two issues, whether we stay in the war or whether we quit." On this account there never had been an election momentous as this one. This was a war literally between civilian populations as well as between armies, and every resource of the country should be cast into

Buying Bonds For the Family

In Great Britain, one person in every twenty-three of the population subscribed to the last war loan. The only way this could have been achieved, in the opinion of Mayor Gray, chairman of the Victory Loan district committee, was to have more than one member of a family subscribe, and this is a cue which has hitherto not been pointed out for Canadians in coming Victory Loan campaign. Canada's best record so far has been one in every 187 of the population. There is a firm determination to make the proportion very much greater this time. It is therefore urged that no man, the head of a family, should be content with taking a bond or bonds for himself, but he should see that his wife and children also have their share, irrespective of whether they have money of their own or he has to finance for them.

Mr. T. A. F. Wyanko, of the Provincial Dairy Branch, came in this morning.

the scale. The only way to win the war was to put all heart and energy into it.

He urged support for the new War Loan, which was necessary in order to provide credits for England's purchases of food stuffs and war material. It was the duty of everyone to produce all they could, to save all they could, and to put all their savings into the War Loan to help strengthen the country's position.

He referred to the heavy burdens being carried by the Premier and members of the government, burdens from which they would gladly be released. He delivered an emphatic denial to a rumor which had been set going that he had accepted his present post temporarily, with the intention of retiring after election. While all ministers were at the disposal of the Premier, no such arrangement had ever been made.

In conclusion he said he had not wished to make a political speech, but to speak as a Canadian to Canadians in the important matters now before the country. It was not the time for political strife, but for earnest and untiring effort to achieve an end in view.

After the meeting the Hon. M. Burrell was greeted cordially by many old friends and given a hearty welcome once more to the Okanagan. He left the following morning for the south intending to hold meetings at other points in the constituency.

Owing to the extraordinary rise in the price of butter parchment (which has gone up over 100 per cent) we have been reluctantly obliged to raise our prices slightly. Nearly all this paper was previously manufactured in Belgium, and needless to say this supply has been entirely cut off. Unfortunately there is no guarantee against further increases, indeed, they are more than likely.
