

City Council Meeting

The council met Monday evening in regular session with a full attendance of aldermen. There was an unusually small amount of business on the agenda.

The question of the grant to the Canadian Patriotic Fund was brought up by a letter from Mr. Beale who pointed out that, although public collection of subscriptions had ceased, the government having taken over the affairs of the fund, it was still necessary to provide for the distribution of cheques to those entitled to them, for which reason he asked the council to continue their donation. It was decided to make a grant of $20 per month for the months of April and May to meet this expense.

A lengthy discussion took place as to the propriety of the council presenting an address of welcome and recognition to Kelowna soldiers who had returned from overseas, in accordance with a proposal made some weeks ago, the subject being raised by Ald. Knowles who handed to the council a design for a card prepared by Miss Peggy Harvey.

Some of the members were of opinion that the recipients would probably appreciate such an address more if it came from say the G.W.V.A. or some other organization more closely connected with military affairs than the city council. Finally it was decided to hand over the proposal to the Kelowna War Memorial Committee for their consideration.

Ald. Mantle said he would like to get the consent of the council to the Public Works committee making the necessary repairs to the approach to the hospital and laying a cinder walk between Pendozi street and the Hospital building. He pointed out that the hospital had no machinery for doing this work, and that the present condition of the road was a disgrace.

The council expressed its willingness to sanction the work required.

Owing to increase of work in connection with assessing and tax collecting entailed by amendments to the Municipal Act, it was arranged that the stenographer be engaged full time instead of half time as heretofore.

A request from the Salvation Army for a lease of the building on Pendozi st., N., behind the police offices, for use as a hall, was declined, as the city is at present using it as a workshop and store-room.

Mayor Sutherland, with Ald. Rattenbury, Mantle, Duggan, and Knowles, were appointed to act as members of a Court of Revision to be held Monday next June 2nd at 10 a.m.

Interesting Pupils' Recital

An interesting event took place Monday evening at the Aquatic Pavilion in the form of a musical recital by the pupils of Herge Ambler. As all those contributing to the programme were young people of the district, there was a large audience present, and all were agreeably surprised at the high order of musical talent which is being developed by Mrs. Ambler amongst her numerous pupils. The programme, which is given below, was followed by a dance arranged by the War Veterans, to whose funds the proceeds of the affair were given.

Kelowna Ball Team Wins at Summerland

The Kelowna baseball team covered themselves with glory last Saturday on their visit to the big Summerland picnic, where they had been invited to play two separate teams. The first was from Penticton and sailed under the colors of the K.V.R. To state that they were defeated is altogether too mild a term to use. They were annihilated, a score of 17 being piled up against them without giving them a chance to gain a single run.

A Summerland team then took up the gage of battle and though they fared a little better in the matter of scoring they finally retired with 5 to 1 against them.

Besides the honor of winning the two games away from home ground the same day, the boys brought back $25 in prizes and three new base balls. They have made great progress lately in their quality of play, the result of strenuous practice. Norman DeHart excelled himself in the pitcher's box, while Ferguson did equally well behind the bat. These with Patterson and Roth on the infield make a strong aggregation and they have every reason for encouragement at their prospects for the season.

To-day the Vernon team is visiting Kelowna in the first league game of the season and the match will be played in the city park at 3 o'clock.

The lacrosse league also opens its schedule with a game at 4.30, when Vernon will meet the newly-formed Kelowna team.

Irrigation Dams Threatened to Break

Trouble which developed at the storage dams of the Kelowna Irrigation Co. has been causing some anxiety to the land owners of Glenmore and Rutland during the past few days. The new dam which was put in last year developed a defect and a break was made which resulted in the water draining out into Mill Creek. A leak was also discovered in the old dam, and for a time things looked bad. A call was sent round for help and after a good deal of strenuous work over the week-end the situation was reported to be well in hand. The leak has been plugged so as to make the loss of water negligible, and the new dam repaired. Fortunately the trouble has arisen early enough in the year, so that there is time for both dams to fill up again before the dry season comes. The water is, in fact, reported to be rising in both cases.

After a separation of nearly ten years Mr. S. Old is happy this week in the arrival of his son and daughter from the old country.

Principal D. J. Welsh of the Enderby High School, will conduct the services on Sunday in the Knox Church. Mr. Welsh, it will be remembered, was some years ago minister at the Baptist church here.

The Salvation Army has decided after all to open their work in Kelowna, and inaugural meetings will be held at 2.30 and 7.30 p.m. on Sunday in the Morrison Hall, when Brigadier McLean, of Vancouver will conduct services assisted by other officers. The Brigadier will also lecture Monday evening in the Baptist church.

Fire Brigade Answers Four Calls During Week

Damage Done However is not Very Great

The Fire Brigade has had a busy week, though the damage done by all the four fires which have occurred during the past week has not been very large.

Last Thursday afternoon two calls were sent in within an hour of each other. The first was to a blaze which had started in a pile of sawn lumber near the power house, very near to the one of the previous week. The cause this time has not been determined, but it was probably due to someone carelessly throwing aside a match or cigarette or to a spark from the chimney. The fire got a pretty strong hold of one pile and for a time burnt like a furnace, defying all efforts of the brigade and a line of hose from the sawmill to put it out. A force of men, however, got busy tearing down the pile and in this way made it possible to extinguish it.

A little later a second call came in from the South End Store on Pendozi street. A bon-fire burning in the back yard had been caught by the high wind which sprung up suddenly, and was spreading in a dangerous manner towards the store.

Soon after midnight Saturday startled citizens roused from slumber by the shriek of the siren, looked from their bedroom windows to find the sky illuminated by a big blaze to the north of the city. As this was near the cannery and packing shed district some alarm was felt, but it turned out to be nothing worse than the old Lum Lock house again, which gave the brigade a run about a month ago. It is generally believed that the unsightly old shack was deliberately fired by someone anxious to get rid of it, for it seemed to burst into flame all at once, and in every corner of the building. Although the brigade was out promptly, the place was beyond hope of saving when they got the water on. It was decided therefore to let it burn and to direct attention to keeping the fire from spreading. It was a spectacular blaze while it lasted, but in a very short time the place was reduced to a little heap of ashes.

Thus passed away the last landmark of a once well-known local character—the big, fat, genial and wise old Chinaman, Lum Lock. Since his decease, and the departure of his young widow the estate has got into difficulties over unpaid taxes.

Yesterday evening directly after six o'clock the fourth call of the week was turned in. This time it was a private house on Paul street, the residence of Mrs. Kirk, where from some cause the lattice work of the back porch had caught fire. It was soon extinguished and the damage done trifling. A little mishap prevented the chemical engine from reaching the fire on this occasion. Taking a sharp turn round the corner from Water street the truck skidded badly, tearing off one of the rear tires.

Benvoulin Notes

Dan Bernard arrived home on Saturday afternoon's boat from overseas.

At a joint meeting of the United Farmers and Farm Women last Thursday evening two very interesting addresses were given. Mr. H. Slater of the Growers' Exchange, took as his subject "The Marketing of Farm Produce," while Mr. Kerr spoke on "The Legal Status of Women in B.C."

A little excitement was stirred up one day last week when one of Byrns' cows got on her back in the flume. The timely arrival of some neighbors prevented any serious consequences, and Mrs. Byrns is very grateful to those who helped.

Mr. Manly Byrns took a motor trip to Vernon on the 24th.

The Benvoulinites took advantage of the holiday on the 24th to hold a picnic to the home of Mr. A. Reid at South Okanagan. Contrary to all expectations no rain came near the day, and everybody had a good time.

On Monday evening a meeting was held at Mr. Burtch's to discuss matters pertaining to the Carnival. It was decided that Benvoulin would go in with Rutland and serve tea in the Park June 14th. All ladies in Benvoulin are asked to help out with the cooking and also with the serving.

The Benvoulin Auxiliary of the W.M.S. will meet at the home of Mrs. E. A. Day on Wednesday afternoon, June 5th at 2.30 sharp. The roll call word to be "Fervent."

Mr. J. M. Holding, from Armstrong, spent Thursday last and Friday with his cousin, Mr. Clarence Burtch.

Unusually High Water is Causing Anxiety

Mission Creek In Flood Again Menaces Low-lying Lands

The condition of Mission Creek is again causing anxiety. With the warmer weather the water is now beginning to come down, and though the high water mark can not nearly have been reached yet, the overflow is higher now than it has been for ten years past. The main road north of the Mission bridge is now almost impassable, from two to three feet of water flowing swiftly over it. Lands have been flooded this year which have not been reached for many years past.

Fred Gillard, whose farm lies alongside the creek has been obliged to get out altogether and seek shelter with his brother Leon, abandoning his crops to their fate. Casorso and McEacherns have also suffered considerably along with others.

Should the water rise much higher fears are entertained for the safety of the bridges, and should these two go out communication will be cut off from the benches.

The problem of Mission Creek seems to defy all solution and each year matters are getting worse. The mouth is now so badly silted up with sand and gravel that fully two-thirds of the water is not following the channel at all but is escaping across adjacent lands.

Presentation to Retiring Baptist Pastor

The Baptist congregation met together last Thursday when a social hour was held in honour of the retiring pastor, the Rev. W. Arnold Bennett, and his wife.

The main feature of the evening was the presentation to Mr. Bennett of an address of appreciation of his services as pastor of the church, and this was accompanied by a more material gift in the form of an eight-day clock, whilst the ladies presented Mrs. Bennett with an ornamental bread tray.

Both the recipients were manifestly agreeably surprised and voiced their thanks to that effect. Speaking on behalf of his wife and himself Mr. Bennett said he was happy to see such a large circle of friends present. With some there seemed to be a misunderstanding as to the nature of his mission, and he always counted on meeting such people, they were not native to Kelowna. He had come to this city with one aim and object: to preach the Gospel, with the Bible as authority, not to pose as a social reformer, nor to tickle the ears of his congregation. He believed strongly in social service, but that was not what he was ordained for. His mission was to preach Christ, and that involved telling people truths which they did not want to abide by; hence he did not expect to differ from his predecessors by being popular. This was not the first time he had said farewell to a church but he could say that never before had he had such loyal friends as he had met in Kelowna.

On Sunday last Mr. Bennett preached his farewell sermons, and left for the coast Tuesday morning where he will take the pastorate of Emmanuel Church, South Vancouver.

Rutland News

(From our own correspondents.)

A picked team from Rutland and Ellison football clubs motored to Lumby on Victoria Day. The visitors proved victorious, scoring 4 goals to 2. The return match will be played at Rutland Sat. June 7th.

A debate by the members of the Young People's Society last Friday resulted in a verdict for the affirmative. The subject was "Resolved, that the war has caused more good than evil." The speakers for the affirmative were Miss Morrison and Elwood Fleming, for the negative Miss Bruce and Arthur Gray. The judges were Rev. Connal, Messrs. Everett Fleming and Bamling.

The Junior football teams of Rutland and Ellison played their third game on Friday last in the school grounds, and they succeeded in obtaining one goal each.

The U.F.B.C. will hold their monthly meeting in the school on Monday, June 2nd, commencing at 7.30 p.m. It is hoped the Ladies' Committee will be in attendance.

Urges Farmers to Co-operate More

Mr. R. A. Copeland, formerly a well-known resident of Kelowna, and now president of the United Farmers of B.C., has forwarded for publication the following appeal addressed to the farmers of the district. Mr. Copeland was one of the original organizers of the U.F.B.C., and is today one of the most enthusiastic workers to increase its scope and influence. He says:

Probably at no time in the history of Canada was there greater need for farmers getting together and considering matters of vital importance to themselves and their country. One important matter for us in British Columbia is whether as farmers we should run our own business affairs or continue to sell our produce at whatever prices those who grow rich by the handling thereof may choose to offer us, and to buy our requirements with no control whatever over the purchase prices. Such a course will inevitably doom us to failure no matter how efficient we may be in the other operations of our business.

The war is over and the reconstruction period is upon us. There are no indications that the forces which have stood between us and our rights are any more willing to yield us our rights than they have been for the last fifteen years. I fear that as farmers we will wake up to the full realization that we will have a large proportion of the war debt to assume. As farmers we are quite willing to pay our just share but should not have to pay any more.

There are indications that advantage will be taken of the confusion growing out of the war to appeal to prejudices and passions to blind the people to their own interests. The farmers can only protect their rights and interests by mobilizing their strength and co-operating. This can only be done through organization. Our only present hope is in the development and growth of our organization.

Get busy brother farmers and fellow laborers. Now is the time to organize. Let us cut out petty spite and selfishness and get together, so that we may know and trust one another more as time goes on. We want our wives, our sons and our daughters behind this organization so that the social side of life will not be overlooked. Perhaps the greatest work that the U.F. of B.C. has accomplished is in merely bringing the farmers as a class in closer association with each other. If all the farmers in each district in B.C., men and women, could be induced to meet regularly once a week all winter and to talk over their mutual problems, western agricultural and rural social conditions would be revolutionized.

The field for a helpful activity of a local U.F. of B.C. is almost without limit. It is very much better that ideas and suggestions should emanate from local meetings and be forwarded to the central than that that a line of work should be fully mapped out at the central and forwarded to the locals. As much as may be initiative in the locals should be encouraged.

Will the returned soldier go on the land? Will he continue as a farmer? That will depend partly on the soldier's inclination; partly, no doubt, on the government's programme; but very largely these questions will be wrapped up in the biggest question—will farming pay? It is the business of the organized farmers to see that conditions are changed so that farming will pay; to see that the farmer gets a profitable return for his efforts; to see that the cost of his production is brought as low as possible. By such means we shall assist in making agriculture flourish; we shall assist in providing for our returned soldiers; we shall perform a national duty.

Lieut. Gen. Harman Had Distinguished Career

Left Kelowna as Captain On Outbreak of War

Amongst the returned soldiers this week Kelowna had the pleasure Monday of welcoming back Brigadier-General Harman. Capt. Harman, as he then was, left his ranch at Ellison immediately the war broke out and has served with distinction throughout the war with the Imperial army winning rapid promotion to his present elevated rank. Mrs. Harman and family returned some weeks ago.

Thursday last W. Pettigrew arrived, who after leaving Kelowna had transferred to the Flying Corps. He did not return alone either, for whilst overseas he had taken to himself a wife who shared his enthusiastic welcome. The same boat also brought Lieut. A. E. Seon of the Flying Corps and Esley Wilson, of Rutland.

Corp. Dan Berard was also an arrival during the week, and Pte. John Riorda, of the Casorso's ranch Pte. and Mrs. Vidler, W. Shugg and E. Batt were also welcomed during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. McDonald left this morning for a visit east.

Mrs. J. D. Williams, who has been undergoing a serious operation at the coast, returned yesterday to Kelowna. She was accompanied home by Mrs. W. D. Brent, who has been staying for some time past in Vancouver and who intends spending the summer here.

To join in carrying out these objects should be the work of every farmer in western Canada. It will be the work of the farmers' movements; it will be the work of the farmers' associations and of the farmers' companies. One of the greatest factors in the work of reconstruction in the making of Canada a better place to live in is the farmers' movement. Its importance goes beyond the individual's interest, beyond the interest of the west alone. It is a thing of national importance. Every farmer will want to share in the reconstruction work of the farmers' movement, and to enable the movement to take its full part in its national work for the deserving returned soldier, we cannot say or do too much. Between the forces who fought at the front for our freedom and the farmers who furnished the food may there be a bond of unbroken brotherhood. We will be glad to have them advise us how we may be of use to them. I advocate the establishment of a U.F. of B.C. information bureau so that our members could register anything they had for sale and buyers could learn what was for sale in the district.

As to farmers' co-operative stores and markets. I am strongly in favor of the farmers owning and controlling their own supply store if run on a proper business basis, so that our members could get their goods at cost plus a small margin to cover running expenses.

The U.F. of B.C. intend to link up with the united farmers of the provinces to the east of us and affiliate with the Canadian Council of Agriculture which has proved such a tower of strength to our agricultural interests.

School Column

By Principal Gordon

A debate worth hearing took place in the Principal's room last Friday. The question for debate was: Should the C.N.R. be brought into Kelowna? Miss Caldwell's class took the affirmative and the Principal's class the negative. The sides were Arthur Packham and Sybil Mackenzie against Alberta Small and Dorothy Morrison. Several fine speeches were made on both sides. The decision of the judge was not given as the debate had to be adjourned till next Friday. Following the debate the girls of the School Club furnished refreshments.

We have already obtained the names of fifty children who will enter school for the first time next September. That means two Receiving classes next term. Another room will certainly be required.

HOW THE FAIRIES CAME TO KELOWNA

In a far away city the people began to love money more than anything else. They forgot about the Fairies. The smoke of the great factories hid them from the children and the noise of making money was so great that the Fairies could not make themselves heard.

What was worst of all the grown-ups did not tell the children about the Fairies. Although the poor Fairies danced every night in the lamplights and, when it rained, on the wet pavements, the children did not see them. It is a very queer thing about Fairies that you cannot see them unless you know they are there. You must believe in them.

The Fairies tried to make the boys and girls hear them by whistling down the chimneys and by making strange sounds on the great harp of wires that was strung over the house tops. But the grown-ups told the children that it was just the wind and that they must go to sleep.

One night when all the children were asleep in the great city the Fairies met in their Shadow Hall under the bridge. The most beautiful of all the Fairies was there. Her name was Sparkling Eyes. Wherever you see eyes sparkling she is there and you know she is there if you believe in Fairies. You can see her only in the eyes of good people.

All the Fairies called for Sparkling Eyes to speak to them. This is what she said: "I am a Fairy just like you, but if I stay here in this city any longer I feel that I shall die. No one knows me even when I sparkle my best in their best friends' eyes. They think I am just Love or Health or Joy. Of course I go only where there is Love or Health or Joy, but it breaks my heart to think that people do not know me—real me. I must go away. The smoke is making me dim. The grown-ups like the glitter of gold better than my light, and what is worse the boys and girls do

Orders for Local Scouts

Kelowna Troop.
Troop First; Self Last

Edited by Pioneer. May 27, 1919

ORDERS by command for week ending June 6th, 1919.

DUTIES: Orderly Patrol for week, Otters; next for duty, Owls.

PARADES: The combined troop will parade at the club-room on Wednesday the 4th of June at 7.15 p.m.

An important Court of Honour is being held this evening with one representative from each patrol. We have to decide whether we shall take in any recruits before camp, which will necessitate the formation of a new patrol, as with the exception of the Beavers every patrol is now over the regular strength of seven. We have also to appoint two leaders in the places of P.L. Charles and Leonard Gaddes. The responsibilities of a Patrol Leader are not to be lightly undertaken nor frivolously or carelessly carried out, for as the Leaders are so shall the Troop be.

We are authorized to order that the half salute only need be given when in multi, to either officers or scouts, the first time when met in the day. In a small town like Kelowna where we are all running into each other sometimes many times in one day this order will be appreciated.

Ten scouts have yet to bring in their returns from concert tickets.

The Scoutmaster, Troop Leader, Second Marshall, and Scouts Rowcliffe and Butler went to Summerland on Friday last to be present at the entertainment given that evening by the Summerland Troop and we wish to congratulate them on the very excellent entertainment given, which also seemed to be very much appreciated by every member of the local audience. In going down by the Okanagan we picked up the Commissioner at Peachland, who forthwith signalled this happy re-union by entertaining us all to dinner. We all had our camp appetites for the occasion and as the courses began to come and go in rapid succession we began to notice a sort of worried expression gradually growing on the face of the Steward. Knowing that we were disembarking at Summerland he must have sent a special messenger up to the Captain in the Pilot House appealing for assistance, for O, Horror! just as we had all drawn a long breath preparatory to attacking the last course, the whistle sounded for Summerland. It is believed that never before has the C.P.R. steamer made that port with anything like the same speed, and it was now that heart-rending decisions had to be made as to whether it would be the cold ice-cream or the hot coffee, for it did not seem possible to get away with them both together at the same time. Next time we hope to start having dinner at Westbank.

The program opened with our old friend "O, How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning," sung by the troop, and this was followed by some well executed pyramids, including the five tier collapsible. In memory of our late dinner we were all glad that this was one time where we were in the audience. Troop Leader Alec Smith then showed us another side of his versatility by getting a solo out of his system all by himself and then two very fine exhibitions of parallel bar work and tumbling were given. In the tumbling Scout Roland Reid dived over eight boys and followed this by a very difficult feat splendidly done. He stood on his head on a chair, placed another chair on top of the first one and stood on his head on this. He repeated this until finally he stood on his head on five chairs piled on top of each other. It is difficult enough to stand on ones head on the floor, and it is difficult enough to balance five chairs on top of each other, but when it comes to both of these feats together in the way Scout Reid showed up, well, all

"A chief's among ye takin' notes and feth, he'll prent them."—Burns.

O wad some power the giftie gie us
Tae see ourselves as others see us,
It wad frae mony an error free us—
An' foolish notion.

In common with other departments of society the political world is showing signs of decided unrest. Some of the party war horses evidently are sniffing the battle from afar, and we are presented with a view of all the old familiar stage settings and also a foretaste of the usual stage thunder. On the banners which are being hoisted may be traced, with scarcely any change, the same devices and mottoes which have served so often that I fear they are worn out. The amazing thing is that the old parliamentary hands do not seem to realize that the party shibboleths which once served their purpose, are no longer effective, and that politically speaking anyway, old things have passed, or are passing, rapidly away, and in the same sense, all things either have or are becoming new. As in political, so in all other circles, religious, social and industrial particularly, changes are taking place; changes which will become permanent and which will ultimately in a better and a sweeter world, or our sacrifices of recent years have been in vain.

In the name of good taste I beg most respectfully to enter a protest against the prevalent use of slang in our everyday speech. I must say that such expressions as "gee whizz!" "beat the band!" "search me!" &c., are bad enough, but when it comes to calling our children "kiddies," well, to say the least of it, that expression gets my goat!—there, I have gone and done it I know! This goes to show how evil communications corrupt good manners. Seriously, however, I do think reformation of our ordinary work-a-day speech is called for.

I am sorry to appear in so critical a role this week but I have heard complaints with the arrangement of our occasional holidays. Take the last one, the 24th, for instance. Stores open Thursday afternoon then late on Friday night, the question naturally and therefore properly arises: where does the holiday come in? I humbly pass on the question to the Merchants' Association for their earnest and early consideration.

The boys of the old (fire) brigade had quite a busy day last week. Two fire calls in quick succession, and, just as exciting and certainly more interesting, a soldier reception turn out. A pretty good record for one afternoon I call it.

In this connection I would like to put on record the admiration which I share with the Kelowna public generally, at the remarkable smartness of the brigade at all times in turning out.

We can say is that he has shown his qualifications for the Royal Air Force. The troop then sang "Come On Canadians," and a short interval followed.

The sketch, "April Fools" was then acted, with A.S.M. Allen Harris taking the part of Mr. Peter Dunnbrorne, father of several marriageable daughters, P.L. Bernard Taylor, the part of the man who wished to buy a horse, and T.L. Alec Smith, the part of the undertaker. The performance was brought to a close by the singing of "O, Canada" and the National Anthem, the audience standing for both.

After this the hall was cleared of chairs and benches and the trippers of the light fantastic held away until about 2.30. The proceeds are to go towards their camp, which they purpose holding about the same time as we do. We are very sorry that we shall both be in camp at the same time, a long way off from each other, because this means that we shall be unable to have any visitors from our popular sister troop.

At the sports next day Second Marshall won the 220 yard open, but was beaten in the 100 yard under 15 by Scout Warren Gayton, who also won the 100 yard open.

TOWN AND COUNTRY NOTES

Mrs. A. Homuth and son left yesterday on a visit to Preston Springs, Ont.

Tobacco is another crop which will be much to the fore this year. Altogether Mr. L. Holman reports having made arrangements throughout the valley for about 300 acres. Planting will soon be in full swing.

The steam roller has been put into operation this week, rolling in the gravel which has been hauled on to the streets during the past month. At present it is engaged upon Richter street south, which had got into very bad shape.

The Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, accompanied by Water Comptroller Cleveland, is visiting the Okanagan this week, and is to speak in Kelowna tomorrow night on the subject of "Irrigation." He will outline the government's policy on this very vital question.

Arrangements have been made for a supply for the Baptist church during the coming months in the person of Rev. W. M. Armstrong, of Edmonton, who is resigning his charge there. Mr. Armstrong will preach both morning and evening in the local church Sunday.

The K.L.O. Red Cross was organized December, 1917, and after sixteen months' work has disbanded. During that time they have made the following contributions: Kelowna Red Cross, $733.95; Prisoners of War, $40; Great Red Cross Drive $500; Vancouver Red Cross, $624.16. Total $1,898.16.

T. M. Anderson, secretary of the G.W.V.A., has been appointed to the Vocational Staff of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Reestablishment. The duties of this staff include the placing of returned men with industrial concerns for the purpose of training for any particular occupation. Any local firm which could accommodate such a man should communicate at once with Mr. Anderson, who will give all information as to conditions.

Results of the theological examinations at Brandon College have just been announced, and the list includes the name of H. D. Riggs, of Kelowna, who has been successful in gaining his diploma as Bachelor of Theology. Mr. Riggs returned to Kelowna a few months ago after an extended absence during which he spent two years at the Brandon College. He gained his B.A. degree, it might be mentioned, some years ago at McMaster.

Robbing the People

The following is reprinted from the Province, and shows clearly that people are being literally robbed in many cases. YOU ARE NOT ROBBED BY DARK'S PRICES.

"The government recognizes also that much of the present agitation is due to profiteering. . . A boot and shoe manufacturer reported to the labor department this week that he purchased one of his shoes for $14 which he had sold to the retailer direct for $6.60. His own profit was only 25c."

DOCTOR SAYS VINOL IS THE BEST TONIC

Honest Opinion Doctor Gave His Patient

Bedford, Ohio.—"I was in a pitiful condition, weak, nervous and run down so I could not do my housework. I had doctored for years and tried everything under the sun. A friend told me about Vinol. I asked my doctor about it, and he replied, 'It certainly is the best medicine that can be had today. I couldn't give you any better.' I took it, and today I am as well and strong as any woman could wish to be, and it was Vinol that saved me."—Mrs. Frank A. Horkey, Ash St., Bedford, Ohio.

not believe in me. I must fly away on the wind somewhere."

All the Fairies clapped their hands, for that was how they felt too. A policeman heard the noise of their clapping and looked over the bridge and all the Fairies had to keep very still for they did not want him to think they were talking about going away. The policeman did not see or hear anyone and he went on his beat.

After he had gone some of the other Fairies spoke. Rustling Leaves, Dancing Water, Whistling Wind, Fro'sy Light all said they would go too. Only Creaky Door and Curly Smoke said they would stay. But they promised that if the other Fairies went away they would visit them once in a while. And you know they do.

But the poor Fairies did not know where to go, so they thought their best plan was to visit the Queen of the Fairies who lives in the sky and knows all the world. Ordinary people call her the Moon.

To get to her the Fairies had to climb up the Milky Way, stepping gently on the stars. That is why the Fairies danced down the great river till they came to where the Milky Way touches the earth. Then they climbed and climbed till they met the Moon. As she was sailing past they told her their troubles.

The beautiful Moon told them that she had seen them in their Shadow Hall, for she had looked up at them from the river. She had heard what they said too. "I have spoken across the sky to the Great King about you, my children. He was very sad about you, but he said he could not let you die, and that he would take you to a land where he shines his brightest. You are to go to the hill where the King of the Fairies rises and as soon as he comes you are to jump into his chariot of gold and he will take you a long journey over the Great Ocean to the mountains where he goes to rest at night."

The Fairies all crept down on the sleeping stars to the hill where they huddled together waiting for the sun. They had a great ride in that lovely chariot. But they did not know how they could ever get down to the earth again and they were getting tired and sleepy. So the sun made the wind whistle for the clouds and when they came rolling up the lovely lake he made a rainbow. The end of the rainbow rested on Black Mountain and the Fairies scrambled out of the chariot and just sat on that rainbow and tobogganed down on their folded wings, for they were too tired to fly.

Now the Fairies are happy all the time for they have come to a beautiful valley where the children believe in fairies. —J. G.

Expect Big Crowds to Attend Carnival

Two weeks on Saturday to the big carnival in aid of the G.W.V.A. and the Hospital. Judging by the preparations which are being made this will be a great affair. There is a better carnival spirit abroad anyway this year than last when the shadow of war was over everything. People are more willing to let go a little, and on June 14th they will have every chance of doing so.

The street parade of course is to be a feature, and this will no doubt be a big one. Prizes are being offered for the following:—

Best decorated float, motor car, motor truck, rig, girl's bicycle, boy's bicycle, best lady's fancy costume, lady's comic costume, gentleman's comic costume, best horse and rider (for lady and gentleman), best costume girl under ten years, costume boy under ten years, costume girl over ten years, comic costume for boy over ten.

In addition to these Mr. M. A. Alsagard is offering a special prize of a "bumper" for the best decorated "Chevrolet" car of any model. Mrs. Trenwith is also offering prizes for the best children's costumes representing nursery rhymes.

The parade is to start punctually at 2.30, and all those entering are asked to be ready.

This week a refreshment committee are canvassing for cakes, sandwiches, etc., and a special plea is put forth for generous donations. It is hoped to have the biggest crowd ever assembled in Kelowna on June 14th, and no one should be allowed to go away hungry. The ladies are working hard that this might not occur, so please if you have already given to some other department of the Carnival, do not refuse this particular committee.

The ladies of Rutland and Benvoulin have come to the aid of the Carnival committee and are having a tea and refreshment booth in the Park. Ample provision is thus being made for all.

$86.30 was the sum collected, all in nickels, by the Ladies' Hospital Aid for the benefit of the local hospital. The ladies besides were competing for a prize in their collections, the one who collected the most of the nimble coins to win a Crown Derby cup and saucer donated by the president, Mrs. Knowles. This was won by Mrs. G. A. McKay.

The competition is now closed, and if there are any canvassers who have not made their returns, they are asked to do so by leaving them at Knowles' store.
