Meeting of City Council

Alderman Ball Presents Financial Report—Rate of Taxation Fixed—Fire Brigade Dispute Settled

A meeting of the city council was held on Friday, the Mayor and Aldermen Ball, Bailey, Cox and Elliott being present.

The minutes of the previous meeting having been read and adopted the Mayor explained that a temporary license had been granted to Mr. Grabell of the Royal Hotel, pending the sitting of the License Commissioners.

Ald. Cox thought the Commissioners were due to sit soon, and understood that the usual time for the sitting was in the month of June.

Ald. Elliott was of the opinion that a notice of the transfer should be put in the newspapers.

The estimates were then brought forward, it being desired that they should be cut down as low as possible. The fire and water estimates were the first to be attacked, and the hose cut down to 400 feet.

Ald. Elliott said he thought that would be enough to go on with, and showed a sample of Red Cross hose whichhe advocated getting, the price was 85c. a foot, and in comparison to the price paid last year was much lower.

Ald. Bailey remarked that the hose last year was of very poor quality, and he hoped that the Red Cross would be better.

The city clerk explained that a form of agreement and guarantee was given with the sample now before the council, and it was decided to purchase. The hose would come in 50 ft. lengths, and couplings had already been ordered. Ald. Elliott had written to the Canadian Rubber Co., cancelling order if it was not already shipped.

Dr. Keller attended, and explained that he had read a report in the press that the room he was renting to the council was to be used as a court room, and wished to say that he would not rent the room on those conditions.

The Mayor said the council did not contemplate making any such plans, and that the room would be used as a bedroom for Chief Hidson, and an office where private interviews could be conducted.

A motion was then put forward that By-law No. 62, re striking a rate of taxation, be read a first and second time.

The Mayor announced that the general estimates had been cut down as low as possible, and the general rate would be one half to one per cent more than last year.

A general discussion ensued as to the time that should be given the people to pay. Thirty days was suggested by the Mayor in order to secure the 10 per cent. reduction. It was agreed that a rebate of one sixth should be made if the taxes were paid on or before the 1st of October, 1909.

The following motions were carried.

Elliott-Ball—That the Board of Works estimate be passed.

Elliott-Ball—That the estimates of the fire and water committee for the current year amounting to $700 be approved.

Elliott-Bailey—That the estimates of the Health committee, amounting to $1,500 for the current year be passed.

A general discussion then ensued as to the building of the power house. Ald. Cox advocated a building being made of concrete as it would be cheaper by about $200, and would be ready about two weeks sooner.

Ald. Bailey contended that no provision was made for concrete. The architect had decided on brick, and tenders had been asked for that material, there was no motion put before the council to call for concrete tenders and it had not been done.

Ald. Cox understood at last meeting that tenders were to be solicited for both brick and concrete, and Ald. Elliott thought it would have been better to call for both, if only for the sake of making the tenders of a competitive nature.

The original motion was turned up in the minute books, and it was found that the building was to be built of fireproof material, neither stipulating brick or concrete. The matter then dropped, it being decided to look further into the matter during the next few days.

The city clerk was instructed to order 400 ft. of Red Cross hose, at a cost of 85c. per foot, and twelve couplings for same.

The meeting then adjourned to meet again on Monday, June 28th, 1909.

The usual meeting of the city council was held on Monday last at 8 p.m., a full attendance of aldermen being present, with Ald. Bailey as acting mayor, in the place of Mayor DeHart, who is away at the coast.

The minutes of the previous meeting having been read and adopted, the following correspondence was dealt with.

J. A. Nisbitt to S. T. Elliott re the advisability of using fireproof paint for painting the exhibition buildings.

Canadian Fairbanks Co. re fireproof safes, filed.

Mr. Newby was present together with a sample of bricks he had collected from the brickwork around the boiler at the power house, and put in a protest on behalf of himself and several ratepayers against the building of the new power house of brick. He shewed the council the condition of the brick after the recent fire, and thought that the building ought to be built of concrete. A general discussion then arose as to the building of the house of concrete.

Ald. Cox was of the opinion that it was agreed to call for tenders both of cement and brick.

Ald. Bailey did not understand it that way, and had only called for tenders for a brick building.

The City Clerk explained that the tenders for the building were all in and ready to be opened. The acting mayor instructed him to proceed to read the tenders.

Ald. Ball did not think that it would be fair to open the tenders when the council were going to call for a concrete building. If the material was to be changed he contended, it was best not to open the tenders before the whole matter was decided.

Ald. Elliott pointed out that some of the tenders sent in were for concrete as well as brick, and at this point it was decided to make public the figures quoted for a brick building and to keep in abeyance the prices quoted on the cement building, The following tenders were then read:

From C. G. Clement—Brick Building according to plans. The city to supply sand, lime and brick according to specification for the sum of $2,150.

A second tender was read from H. W. Raymer offering to do the same work on the same conditions for $2,200, provided the city kept the men well supplied with bricks.

An other one was also received from M. J. Curts offering to do the work for $2,835. It was decided to refer back the tenders that had not made any provision for a cement building.

The question as to the advisability of having bins placed in the building was again brought up.

Ald. Ball was of the opinion that it was a question of vital importance.

Ald. Bailey thought it would be possible to do without pro tem, and that a hose could be fixed on to the large pump. In event of fire the whole could be practically flooded out.

Ald. Ball did not agree with the system of sawdust behind the boilers. He thought that when he brought the matter up two weeks ago, it was one of importance. The building had now been delayed two weeks, and he thought provision ought to be made with reference to the matter in the new concrete tenders that are being called.

Ald. Elliott advocated bins being put in with studding and an outside sheet of corrugated iron.

Ald. Cox advocated an outside bin with an iron slot or door leading into the building.

It was, however, decided to call for tenders for concrete right away, and to have them in by Wednesday noon.

Ald. Ball asked Mr. Newby about the sweating of concrete, and his reply was that quite a few engine rooms were built of the material, and no danger from that cause had been experienced.

Mr. Burne attended with a form of By-law from the Canadian Pacific Railway. He explained that the company were asking for an agreement whereby it was made clear that the C. P. R. track could cross Water Street. After a little discussion it was agreed to have to have the By-law prepared and read at an early date, at the same time it was mentioned that the C. P. R. should be told to urge on the work.

Mr. Samson, H. Newby, and M. Jenkins attended on behalf of the fire brigade, and asked for a written agreement as to how the brigade was to go on.

Ald. Elliott remarked that he understood that the fire brigade in future would be a purely voluntary one, and would require nothing from the council except equipment.

In reply, the members of the brigade present said that was their intention.

When asked about the account, the council agreed to pay it as amended, and it was agreed to set out a written form of agreement between the council and the brigade, to be submitted to the brigade at their next meeting. Later in the evening the bill was brought up and passed for $55 the statement reading $40 for sprinkling the streets, and $15 for the care of the hose. The agreement was left to Ald. Elliott to draw up.

Mr. McKenzie, representing the Rubberoid Roofing Co., attended with samples of fireproof roofing, and suggested that the material should be used on the power house roof instead of tin. It would require to be pinned on to shiplap and would come cheaper than galvanized iron.

The council agreed to include the roofing in their tender, aud to call for tenders for rubberoid aswell as galvanized iron roof.

The following accounts were referred to the finance committee to be paid if found correct:

Some discussion arose as to the account of Chief Hidson for fetching prisoner from Fairview, it being set forth that Hidson was acting for the provincial constable, and that the whole case was a provincial affair. It was decided to see provincial constable with reference to the affair.

A little discussion also arose with reference to the fire proof paint to be used on the exhibition buildings. The matter was left in

Serious Blasting Accident at Westbank

A serious accident occurred on the new road being constructed between Westbank ferry and Bear Creek. A gang of road makers were blasting near Vernon's place, where an unusually large boulder was in the way, with a deep pit on the side on which the road was due to take its course. The charge under this boulder was so successful, that it was decided to try the other side where a smaller rock was established. Consequently, Hank Munroe, who was looking after the placing of the charge, started work, and ramming a hole full of blasting powder set the fuse. It was then noticed that a small quantity of powder was trickling down a crevice near which the fuse was lying, and to prevent a premature explosion, a rock was placed in front of the charge, the fuse being carried over a rock. All would have gone well had not the fuse slipped, and fallen into the raven, thereby causing the charge to explode, before Munroe could get away. Seeing what had happened Munroe made an attempt to run, but was practically riddled with rock as he was trying to get out of danger. His back was one mass of rock from the neck downwards, but luckily nothing touched his head otherwise he would have been killed.

Immediately a signal from across the lake brought Hayman's "Clovelly" to the assistance of the injured man, and quickly he was placed in the boat, suffering terribly from the pain. A quick journey was made across the lake, and Dr. Huycke immediately summoned.

A stone about one inch and a half square was found imbedded in the right heel, and several other stones, some about an inch square grading down to the size of a pea. The man was immediately removed to the hospital where the painful operation of taking out the pieces of rock was gone through, it being impossible to give the man any anaesthetic owing to the weak state he was in. The latest reports to hand are very favourable, and it is expected that the poor fellow will be able to get about again soon. The pain of the wounds however is awful, and although every relief is being given; very little can be done to allay the pain. It is considered that both limbs are in safety at the present moment, but blood poisoning may set in at any time, as it is practically impossible to clean the wounds out thoroughly owing to the pain it would cause. Likely the poor fellow will pull through, as quite a lot rests with the state of his health at the time of the occurence, which before the accident was considered good.

The news was received in town soon after the explosion, and many friends have kept in close touch with the condition of their ill-fated companion.

Hotel Building For Westbank

A new hotel is now building at Westbank. Some weeks ago the Westbank Sawmill started turning out lumber for the building, and now has finished its contract. The hotel which is to take a prominent position, one which overlooks the lake, will be a great acquisition to the town, and great credit is due to Mr. Wheeler for the move he has made. The building is to be 100 ft. by 50 ft., built of wood, and will contain 24 bedrooms. A large basement with dining room and lobby, will constitute the lower portion. The proprietor, Mr. Wheeler, has only just recently transferred the Royal Hotel to Mr. Grabell, is too well known to require any introduction here. According to reports the hotel will be ready in six week's time. Who is going to start a store over there now?

Garden Party at "Guisachan"

The Union Jack was flying over "Guisachan" last Tuesday, a thing it seldom does, except upon some special occasion. The reason for its appearance on Tuesday, last, was the occasion of the garden party given by the Women's Auxillary of the Church of England. Mr. Dallin's dray which drove some of the guests out, was fitted up with seats and formed in to a veritable Tally Ho for the occasion. The only vacancy being the man with the horn a decrepancy which is soon to be provided. The guests were numerous and a good smattering of men were present, although the "fair six" predominated. The majority of the evening was spent in games and sports, while some wished to walk over the extensive premises owned by Mr. W. C. Cameron. During the evening ice cream and strawberries were served, and great credit is due to those who had the work in hand necessary to make such parties a success. After a little music was indulged in, the party broke up about ten thirty and all present expressed themselves delighted at the pleasant evening they had spent.

The strawberry and ice cream social held in the city park last Friday proved a decided success. Many people were present to witness the baseball game, professionals versus Commercials, and a real good game was witnessed. The score which kept even throughout the game ended 15 to 11 in favor of the Commercials. The city band which was in attendance can be congratulated on the quality of their music, a marked improvement on their previous endeavor. The fair sex, as is usual at these social functions, predominated and were to be seen sitting under the shade of the trees, being served with ice cream by the attendant professionals and commercials. A first-class evening was spent and everyone present expressed themselves very pleased with the accommodation provided, the band, and the finances.

The Orangemen will attend Church Parade at the Methodist Church next Sunday. All local Orangemen are requested to attend.

We are pleased to announce that R. Cummings, who has for some time been associated as teller with the Royal Bank of Canada at this point, has received promotion to the Head Office at Vancouver. Mr. Smith of the Head Office will take his place at this point. The change will take place naxt Saturday.

The Ladies' Hospital Aid Society have again to thank a generous public for their large attendance and liberal support at the Strawberry Social held on Friday evening last. The gross receipts were $110.00. After expenses are paid the balance of the money will be used in buying linen and other supplies for the hospital. The regular quarterly meeting of the Ladies' Hospital Aid Society will be held in Raymer,s old hall on Saturday, July 3rd at 3:30 p.m. A full attendance is requested.

The examinations for candidates for High School Certificates will will begin on Monday, July 5th, at 9 a.m. The examination will be held in the Public School building here, Mr. C. Fulton of Vernon acting as Presiding Examiner. All candidates are requested to present themselves for examination punctually at the hour mentioned. The time-table will be as follows:—Monday, English Grammer, Reading; Tuesday, Arithmetic, Composition; Wednesday, Algebra, Botany, Physiology: Thursday, Geometry, Physics and Chemistry, Education; Friday, English Literature, Drawing; Saturday, Latin, Greek or French.

Sawmill and Box Factory Starts Work

After some months of building the box factory and sawmill, near the hospital in Pendozi Street, has started work, and is now turning out the lumber to build its own sheds and covering for its machinery. A boom of logs, in all about 40,000 ft., was brought over the lake last Monday by Campbell's boat, and safely stacked in the small space of two hours. On Tuesday the mill started work. The frame of the building is all that at present stands, and is situated about 350 feet into the lake. A long platform wharf is built on on piles connecting the building with the shore. Upon the frame building a large engine is installed, and up above is a log carriage and circular saw. The log chute which constitutes the back of the building is already in working order, and logs are being drawn up by means of the engine power. Some little difficulty was experienced in firing the first day, owing to the dampness of the slabs used, but this will be quickly remedied.

A talk with Mr. Anderson brought forth the following information. He intends going steady at first and only turning out the lumber necessary for his own building, which will consist of the mill, several out buildings and sheds on the lake shore and an office. In all about three acres is included in the property, and on this will be the drying sheds, and stack yards.

Mr. Anderson will this year turn out sufficient lumber to set seasoning for making boxes for fruit packing next year, when he will install all the box making machinery. The main building he expects to have readv in about two week's time.

At present four hands are employed on the preliminary start, but before long some ten or fifteen more will be required. The engine which has been lying idle for some months at the end of Abbott Street, is familiar to many, and has also proved itself as good as it was at Calgary, where it was engaged in the same work.

Mr. Anderson can be congratulated on supplying a need in this district, namely a box factory. The amount of money spent on boxes from outside firms must run into many thousands, and it will be better to keep this money in town than to let it go to build up some other burgh.

An order for a large amount of lumber has already been received at the mill and work will have to be forged ahead in order to get the buildings finished, as well as to supply the clients who will patronize the new sawmill, and give it a good start.

In Liberal circles today three names are being mentioned for the office of Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, in addition to that of Mr. F. C. Wade.

First and foremost comes Mr. T. W. Stirling, of Kelowna, who is mentioned as the Scotch millionaire, and the founder of Kelowna. The others are Mr. W. C. Wells, former Commissioner of Lands and Mr. T. W. Patterson, former Liberal member of the Islands and local Legislature.

Mr. Stirling can be congratulated on his name being put forward, as he owns the qualifications for the high post, and also the wealth to uphold its dignity.

Phil. H. Dodwell, son of one of the partners in the large shipping firm of Dodwell & Co. of London and Vancouver, passed through Kelowna en route to Summerland, he will return in a few days time with the idea of locating a fruit ranch in this district.

"Orchard's Guide to the Okanagan," which appeared some months ago, is for the present, and until further notice, to be sold at 50c. a copy. The publisher is making this sacrifice, we understand, in order to get his first edition widely circulated without delay, chiefly for the benefit of the advertisers.

Attention is being called to the notices which have been posted with respect to the Bush Fire Act. Complaints are being made that the requirements of the Act are being constantly disregarded, in spite of the great danger to which such a course exposes a district, and especially one which is at all well timbered.

The recent disastrous fire near Enderby should prove a sufficient warning, one would think, for the whole Valley. But there are people to whom no amount of warning seems to appeal, and who apparently would go on lighting fires without taking any preliminary precautions, and leaving them smouldering at the mercy of the first wind, if half the province were burnt out.

The requirements set forth in the notice are not very exacting when one thinks of the frightful consequences of carelessness in this matter. To clear a safe space before lighting a fire, and to see that it is properly out before leaving it are measures of which any ordinary consciencious and careful man does not need to be reminded. In the summer months when the hot sun dries every dead twig and blade of grass until it is ready to ignite at the smallest spark, unless a space is carefully cleared a fire is apt to "creep" unawares until it gets beyond control.

A smart fine is the penalty for neglect, but with right-minded people the consideration of public safety should be a more powerful influence to ward the carrying out of a very necessary law.

It seems strange that our aldermen should be considering the advisability of placing bins in the new Power House. Some people before the fire, and the majority after the fire, at once saw the folly of having the sawdust piled up behind the boilers, and it is a strange thing that the matter should now be causing a discussion in the council chamber. The question of having a hose fixed to the big pump in case of accident, is not sufficient, a hose was supposed to be in readiness before, but where was it? One often hears the words, "it is easy to be wise after the event," but this does not seem to apply to the sawdust question in the power house.

Ald. Ball rightly brought the matter up at the last two meetings, and it is strange that the rest of the council did not take further steps and insist on bins or some other safeguard being included in the tenders of the new building. The only feasable plan seems to be to have the bins outside, a suggestion which one of our councilmen thinks would make the building look ungainly. What is wanted now is a safe power house where the risk of fire is reduced to minimum, and if it cannot be had ony other way, than by making the building look as "ugly as sin," let us have an ugly building, sooner than have a fine power house, with the ugly part inside in a position where a reoccurrence of fire may be at any time. The expense of outside bins is another obstacle put in the way and why? Would not the ratepayers be willing to rescind the recent by-law, giving the surplus on the park purchase money, to be expended on setting out the park, and have it placed on the fund for building a good substantial power house, no matter how ugly, but absolutely without the chance of a fire starting again from some false economy exercised in the building.

Canada and her Naval Defence

The visit of Sir Frederick Borden and Mr. Brodeur to the Naval Conference in London, it is to be expected will result in the establishment of some form of Naval Force, by means of which British Columbia can see her coastal waters patrolled by Canadian ships of the best type. It now is time to insist upon one thing. The prospects of the coming Canadian Navy must not be imperilled by its being turned over to the tender mercies of Mr. Brodeur and his wonderful Marine Department. That eminent statesman found his Department in bad shape, had two years in which to reorganize it, and then was caught by the Cassels' Commission with his Department as rotten as ever. Apart from the special unfitness of the Marine Department it must be remembered that its name really is a misnoner. Its business is to build lighthouses, place buoys and otherwise help navigation. Its fishery protection boats are useless for naval purposes. The Australian method should be studied. In the Commonwealth there is one Minister of Defence, and he has under him two Departments, one for the management of the Land Militia, the other for the management or the Naval Force. The Minister manages both Departments, and they are linked by a Council of Defence over which the Minister presides, and upon which sit the senior officers of both the Naval and Military branches. In this way both services are enabled to understand and help each other, and to form their plans in harmony. Australia has led the way in the matter of a naval force and her example should be followed by Canada.

Government and the Wage Question

The Government has taken a curious attitude with regard to the wages of the railway clerks at St. John and Halifax. There was a demand from these officials, who as I.C.R. employees also are employees of the Government, for a readjustment of salary. They demanded an investigation under the terms of the Government's Labor Legislation. The I.C.R. authorities consented and an inquiry was held. There was a unanimous finding that the men were underpaid. Also there was a finding that the Government were employing too many men, and that if superfluous persons were removed the pay could be raised without loss to the Company. If this decision had been given against a private employer, he would have been expected to raise the pay of these clerks. The inquiry took place last year. Nothing has been done to give effect to the finding, and the I.C.R. Board now announces that it does not intend to respect it. That is how the Government treats the Lemioux Act. Yet it expects mining and railway companies to heed it.

The Wife.

The little Dreams of Maidenhood—
I put them all away
As tenderly as mothers would
The toys of yesterday;
When little children grow to men
Too overwise for play.

The little dreams I put aside—
I loved them, every one,
And yet, since moonblown buds must hide
Before the noonday sun,
I close them wistfully away,
And give the key to none.

O little Dreams of Maidenhood—
Lie quietly, nor care
If some day in an idle mood
I, searching unaware
Through some closed corner of my heart,
Should laugh to find you there.

How East Side London Plays on Boxing Day.

ROUGH SPORT IS THE RULE.

All Cockneyland Flocks to Historic Hampstead Heath, Where Hilarity, Fast and Furious, Rules From Early Morning Till After Midnight.

Boxing day is a great institution in England. The day after Christmas is Boxing day, so called because in the old days it marked the occasion of the actual giving of Christmas boxes. Now it is a national holiday. Besides being the last in the year, it has to suffice Londoners, at all events, until Easter Monday. It's a great day in Cockneyland, and the east end crowds to Hampstead heath, the picturesque open space in the northwest of London.

All roads lead to the heath. Soon after daybreak the procession begins. Fully loaded traps and donkey barrows are the principal items in the vehicular traffic, but the majority are on foot, singing and shouting for the holiday.

"'Ere yer are, Sir 'Enery," shouts a woman, pushing a tin squirt filled with water into your face. "'Ere yer are, Sir 'Enery; all the fun of the fair. Two a penny. 'Ave a couple, will yer, m'lud?"

The London street merchants have the habit of giving prospective customers a title, presumably on the theory that a Londoner likes to have you believe that he is some well known man.

Should you be persuaded into buying "a couple" the chances are a moment later you will be face to face with 'Arriet. She wears a large hat trimmed with large feathers of brilliant hue, has a hair fringe down over her forehead and a bright colored velvet dress. Probably several will be in a line, each with an arm around the other's neck and a mouth organ in the other hand.

There is battle in their eyes, and before you are aware of it a stream of water will be running down your face. The best thing to do is to retreat, for if you should give battle you are sure to retire, defeated, with your collar like a wet rag and a most uncomfortable feeling of dampness down your back.

Once on the heath the cocoanut pitches will first claim your notice.

"'Ere yer are, kernel; seven shies a tanner. Every one yer knocks dahn yer 'ave. They're all milky. Loidies and kids 'arf way."

Then this scene will meet your eye: Outside a large tent stands a raised platform. On it are half a dozen men stripped to the waist with arms, folded across their chests. One of them, evidently the proprietor, twists a large rattle, which gives forth a most deafening noise. At last it stops, and he begins:

"Loidies and gents, I wants ter hinterduce to yer notice some of the best boxers in the world. 'Im at the end is Felix Scott of Liverpool. 'E'll fight any man in the crahd, and if he don't put 'im aht in three rahnds 'e'll give 'im a quid. Nah, then, who'll 'ave 'em on with the champion?"

Some one accepts the inviting offer, and a rush is made to pay the admission fee and get into the tent.

A company of traveling actors is assembled on the platform outside the next tent, all made up in their war paint. The piece to be performed is "Othello." The price of admission is a penny. A reserved seat, an empty box, will cost you another penny. And the house soon fills.

Outside you will find every form of outdoor amusement in full swing—"Aunt Sallies," swings, roundabouts, skipping and donkeys. The latter are greatly patronized. Young men and maidens, old men and women, all have "a pannorth of donkey ride." A fat woman clings to one poor beast's neck shouting:

"Oo'er, I'm sure I'm falling. Don't make 'im go so fast. Ho, look at me 'at. Lemme get off. I'm sure yer 'itting 'im."

"I know'd yer done it on purpose!"

At last the journey home is begun, everybody happy and tired, yet not too tired to link arms, the men wearing the girls' feathered hats and pearl buttoned coats and the girls wearing caps and hats and wondrous masculine jackets. All are singing different songs, but every now and then they break forth in unison with popular songs of the moment. In the saloons they drink beer out of one pewter and swear undying love and friendship till the voice of the proprietor, it now being 12:30 in the morning and closing time, is heard calling, "Time, gents, please," and a final start is made.

This may answer the question why the average Cockney worker always wants a second day off to get over Boxing day.

Wanted to See Them.

When Helen, aged four, for the first time accompanied her mother to church she was given some money for the collection box. It was carefully explained to her that this money was "for the poor."

Helen sat patiently through perhaps a third of the service, when she startled her mother by rattling the coins between her cupped hands and inquiring in a loud voice: "Mamma, when are the poor coming around? My 8 cents is getting all hot and sticky!"—Lippincott's Magazine.

Editor of Gloucester Chronicle Dies

The death at the age of 92 is announced of Mr. J. West, who has been for many years editor of the Gloucester Chronicle. Mr. West was a native of Devonport, and served his journalistic apprenticeship in Plymouth. Of his children one, Mr. J. S. Richard West, I.S.O., is assistant Controller of the Savings Bank Department of the General Post Office.

Burglar's House in a Boiler

A curious discovery was made at Elmfield the other day, when three men were found inside a disused boiler. The boiler which was situated on a vacant piece of land, belonged to the Small Arms factory, and seeing smoke coming out of the top the policeman peered inside. Here he found three men warming themselves by the fire, and while he was questioning them he saw a jimmy and other burglar tools, and at once proceeded to arrest the men. When brought up at the court the men admitted various burgalaries, and were accordingly sent down for a term of imprisonment.

Fleet in the Thames.

During July, the Thames will be a regular gala scene, when the man-of-war will line about forty miles of river. Wherever possible the boats will moor on the north side, and will line up for the pageant between London Bridge and The Nore. Extensive arrangements are being made at Southend for the accommodation of the crews. On one day a meat tea will be served to hundreds of men, to be followed by a musical and dramatic recital at the Kursaal. Fireworks will be let off and one or two regattas are advertised at dates that will concede with the visits of the fleets. In London the sailors taking part in the pageant are to be marched through the city on July 21st, and will there receive the hospitality of the City. Arriving at Fenchurch Street Station, they will proceed with bands and colours through the decorated streets. The Lord Mayor and Sheriffs will watch the procession at the Mansion House, and then proceed to Guildhall, where they will receive them in the Art Gallery and entertain them to lunch. The number of officers and men will reach about 12,000 and the war vessels will number about one hundred.

Banker Commits Suicide.

A verdict of suicide while temporary insanity, was returned at Leamington, concerning the tragic death of Mr. Dennis Edwin Samuel, brother of the Under-Sec. for Home Affairs, and partner of the well known firm of bankers, Samuel Montague & Co., of London, who was killed by a passing train at Leamington Station. Herbert Samuel, M.P. and Mr. Stuart Samuel, M.P. were present at the inquiry. The evidence showed that the deceased was in good health until March, when he was attacked by influenza at Monte Carlo. He was told by several physicians that nothing was wrong with him and that he only wanted occupation. He had been married eight years, and his union had alway been one of unalloyed happmess. He had no trouble in the world except imaginary ones. The driver of the train said he saw the deceased throw his hat on the platform and jump in front of the train. In returning their verdict, the jury expressed their sympathy with the relatives.

Ice Cream Poisons Children.

Ice cream has caused a remarkable number of ptomaine poisoning at Mineaton. The district most severely affected is Attenborough, where nearly every medical man is treating cases of poisoning. The most of the cases are children and number over a hundred. One doctor has no less than forty cases in hand. In most cases the sufferers were seized with a violent sickness followed by collapse.

News of the Valley.

It is reported that Rev. A. Henderson has bought in conjunction with his brother, Dr. Henderson of Victoria, forty acres of land at Enderby. In a few years they will give up their profession and resort to the gentle art of fruit farming.

The Vernon Board of Trade are doing all in their power to advertise the Okanagan Valley. Copies of their recently issued pamphlets are to be sent in large numbers to the secretary of the Vancouver Tourist Association and arrangements been made with Mr. Russell of Glasgow, Scotland, to have samples shown in the C. P. R. offices at that point. The fruit is to be sent to the Old Country in glass jars and an additional 10,000 pamphlets printed with a front cover change.

A feature projected for the regatta to be held at Naramata on the 22nd of July is a Marathon pony race. The contestants will start from Summerland with a message to be delivered to the judges at Naramata. A change of ponies will be allowed at Penticton, and the first arrival at Naramata will receive a fifty dollar saddle. Two other prizes are to be given if the entries warrant it.

The late Sergt. E. Copley Thompson of Vernon who met his death by drowning in a few inches of water, was buried last week. The funeral which was a military one took place at All Saints Anglican Church on Monday 21st. The church was crowded to the doors. Over the grave three volleys were fired by the Okanagan Mounted Rifles, and the bugler sounded the last post. The scene was very impressive, and sympathy is extended to the relatives of the deceased and also to Vernon in the loss of one of one of their well beloved citizens.

Last week the Vernon fire brigade were called out to a fire on the premises of Thomas Moss near the corner of Maple and Elm streets. When the brigade arrived they found the houses as well as the smaller buildings in flames, and circumstances pointed to incendiarism. The explanation of the fire was contained in a letter addressed to H. G. Miller in which Thos. Moss set forth his assertion that he would burn all the buildings up and himself as well owing to financial difficulties. The chief of the police was informed and on proceeding to the house, found Moss in a small closet with his throat terribly gashed. He could scarcely breathe, and by his side was a small phial of chloroform. The razor with which the deed was done was found in his hands. On the arrival of the doctor, aid was immediately given and the man taken to the hospital. It is thought he will live, but has to be constantly watched, as he is still intent on ending his life.

Rev. Baker of Penticton preached his farewell sermon on Sunday last in the Baptist Church. He has accepted a call to New Westminster.

And how is poor little Ikey? inquired the thin decrepit looking Jew to his friend Solomon. Poor little Ikey vas dead replied Solomon. Vot! replied the other, how be he dead?. W. C. T. U. Notes.

Conducted by the Ladies of the Kelowna branch of the W. C. T. U.

Why I Hate the Liquor Traffic.

Personally, I have seen so much of the evils of the liquor traffic in the last four years, so much of its economic waste, so much of its physical ruin, so much of its mental blight, so much of its tears and heartache, that I have come to regard the business as one that must be held and controlled by strong and effective laws.

I bear no malice toward those engaged in the business, but I hate the traffic.

I hate its every phase.

I hate it for its intolerance.

I hate it for its arrogance.

I hate it for its hypocrisy.

I hate it for its cant and craft and false pretense.

I hate it for its commercialism.

I hate it for its greed and avarice.

I hate it for its domination in politics.

I hate it for its corrupting influence in civic affairs.

I hate it for its incessant effort to debauch the suffrage of the country; for the cowards it makes of public men.

I hate it for its utter disregard of law.

I hate it for its ruthless trampling of the solemn compacts of state constitutions.

I hate it for the load it straps to labour's back, for the palsied hands it gives to toil, for its wounds to genius, for the tragedies of its might have beens.

I hate it for the human wrecks it has caused.

I hate it for the almshouses it peoples, for the prisons it fills, for the insanity it begets, for its countless graves in potters' fields.

I hate it for the mental ruin it imposes upon its victims, for its spiritual blight, for its moral degradation.

I hate it for the crimes it has committed.

I hate it for the homes it has destroyed.

I hate it for the hearts it has broken.

I hate it for the malice it has planted in the hearts of men—for its poison, for its bitterness—for the dead sea fruit with which it starves their soul.

I hate it for the grief it causes womanhood—the scalding tears, the hopes deferred, the strangled aspirations, its burden of want and care.

I hate it for its heartless cruelty to the aged, the infirm and the helpless, for the shadow it throws upon the lives of children, for its monstrous injustice to blameless little ones.

I hate it as virtue hates vice, as truth hates error, as righteousness hates sin, as justice hates wrong, as liberty hates tyranny as freedom hates oppression.

I hate it as Abraham Lincoln hated slavery.

And as he sometimes saw in prophetic vision the end of slavery and the coming of the time when the sun should shine and the rain should fall upon no slave in the Republic, so I sometimes seem to see the end of this unholy traffic, the coming of the time when, if it does not wholly cease to be, it shall find no safe habitation anywhere beneath the "Old Glory's" stainless stars.

The Poet Says

"Beauty Draws us by a Single Hair."

This seems something of exaggeration on the part of the poet, it at least does not apply to men. The man with a single hair would not draw worth a cent, unless as a curiosity.

Provincial and General News

Westminster Bridge Steel Floor to be Extended

An important change is to be made in the New Westminster bridge, to prevent a reoccurence of the accident which took place last week, when the engine and tender of the Great Northern railway plunged to the bottom of the river and resulted in the loss of two lives. The hole through which the engine dropped after leaving the track is to be covered over with steel, steel girders being used as supporters. This will make it impossible for a train to leave the track and get into the river. The locomotive which ran off the bridge has been located in 50 feet of water and a seven knot current is running over the spot. The Provincial Government have not yet announced the date of investigation, but when this does happen and the responsibility is placed, it is likely to be attended with some strange evidence.

Lineman Escapes Electrocution

While stringing wires for the police patrol alarm at Vancouver, E. Moore, an itinerant lineman, narrowly escaped death by electrocution. Both his feet grounded on the transformer and he was held by the current for some time. His cries were heard by some firemen, who after some difficulty procured a high ladder and managed to release him. It was found that holes had been burned through the soles of both shoes, and his feet were blistered. A crowd was collected together watching the lineman in his fight with imminent death, but were unable to give any assistance. The current was turned off once, but came on again as the man was attempting to descend. As the current reentered his frame the cries of the man were heart rending.

Flagman Struck by Engine

A Galician, whose name is unknown, and who was employed as a Flagman for a gang of workmen about three miles from Kenora, Ont., was struck by a local train and thrown off the track. The man who was sitting on the line was, it is believed, asleep at the time, and the engine driver noticing the obstruction slowed down, but not in time to prevent the accident. The man was at once taken to the hospital and is reported as doing well.

Double Drowning Fatality.

A terrible drowning fatality took place last week at a little town called Low near Ottawa, under very distressing circumstances. The victims were an eleven year old boy, named McCormick and Miss Nellie Daling, seventeen years of age. The boy was splashing his feet in the lake when he fell in. Miss Daling went immediately to his assistance and also fell in. Both were drowned.

Robber Chase in progress.

The R. N. W. M. P. are called to locate the train robbers. The country around Ducks, where the train was held up is being scoured by officers and men. About fourteen men left Calgary last Thursday for the scene of the robbery, and the superintendent at Maple Creek arrived with eleven men. Fourteen horses are on the way from Calgary, who will scour the country south to the border. The general opinion is that the robbers took a northern course in order to bluff their pursuers, and that a dash is being made south to the boundary line.

Licenses Shut Down in Vancouver.

No less than three hotels in Vancouver have been refused a license and dice throwing has been strictly barred. The applications refused are those of W.S. Cook who asked for a permit for the Stanley, located in Pender Street. The Glasgow the Terminus and Royal, which were refused on the grounds that their premises were unsuitable. The license of the Windsor was suspended 60 days owing to the recent cases of drunkenness and disorderly persons rooming at the house.

Dropped Propeller Blade.

When making 21 miles an hour in the Atlantic Ocean, 445 miles east of New York, the North German Lloyd steamer, Kaiser Wilhelm der Grose, lost a propeller A wireless message to the effect was sent to New York, and help was sent. Owing to the sea being very calm, the chance of damage is small and the excitement that usually attends such catastrophes, was practically nil.

Mr. Raffles Visits Vancouver

The proprietors of the "Daily Province" have made arrangements with a Mr. Raffles, a well known trickster, to place himself in a different disguise each day and walk abroad among the people of Vancouver. He claims he can avoid detection by disguising himself, even keeping his identity unknown to the chief detectives. The Province is giving a good reward to the person who captures the man and who challenges him with the words, "You are the mysterious Mr. Raffles of the Daily Province," and it is likely to cause some little commotion in the city the same as it did in England when the Daily Express sent out a Miss Watson on the same stunt.

Electric Railway Damages Water Mains.

From a report of Professor Herdt of the McGill University it is estimated that the damage to Winnipeg's water mains since the Winnipeg Electric Street Railway started is enormous and will amount to about $8,000. The city By-law provides that the company running an electric railway are liable for damage done to the city's property and it is likely the case will receive much attention when taken up by the authorities this week.

Sixteen Men Nearly Smothered By Grain.

Sixteen grain trimmers on S.S. Lake Manitoba, had a narrow escape from death last week. The men who were working some distance from a hatch were surprised to find grain pouring down the hatch hole, and so cutting off their escape. The grain which filled the hatch, was certain to smother the men had not they clustered round an air shaft in which position they were found after four hours imprisonment. The alarm of their disappearance was not noticed until the lodging houe keeper wondered why they had not turned up to supper, and on making enquiries caused the vessel to be unloaded with all possible speed.

Floods Carry away Railway Camps.

High water on the Skeena River has undermined the banks in many places and small landslides have occured. Two camps belonging to railway construction contractor, were carried without warning into the stream, They were, however, recovered and planted further back from the banks away from the swift current. The buildings were completely covered with water but no lives were lost.

Dry Docks for St. Lawrence.

The Hon. Mr. Brodeur when in London stated that he would consult the authorities there on the dry dock question. He favours a dry dock at Montreal and also at Quebec. The latter, it is intimated, will used in connection with imperial defence. The Montreal dock being used for mercantile shipping. Nothing can be decided, however, until Mr. Brodeur returns after his conference with the admiralty.

Steamer Aground.

The steamer, Campania which is ashore on the rocks at St. Valiers, has been abandoned to the underwriters by the owners of the vessel, she is reported in very bad shape. Her insurance which is covered in London, Eng., companies of which Lloyd figures largely, will feel the loss greatly.

Mining Dam Bursts Suddenly.

The dam of the North Columbia Gold Company on Surprise Lake at the head of Pine Creek, Atlin district, has given way, and an eight foot wall of water rushed down into Lake Atlin a distance of twenty miles sweeping all before it. The big bridge of the British-American Dredging Co.' costing $250,000 was wrecked, and a sawmill nearby swept away. Several finmes have also been destroyed. The total damage is estimated at about $80,000. The flood will greatly retard work in this district this year.

Town and Country News.

The baseball boys paid a visit down the lake to play Summerland last Thursday, chartering the Clovelly for the occasion. The trip was made in 2 hours and 50 minutes, but despite the good start, our boys were left in the lurch when they tried to beat their antagonists. The result which was 20 to 6 in favor of Summerland, was not suggestive of a good game, the fault being that Eastman was unable to pitch and the substitutes had not got their eyes in. Still, better luck next time.

The local Chess Tournament which has been in steady progress during the winter months, is finished. The winner is Mr. Mathie, closely followed by Mr. Ellison.

A special service will be held in the Methodist Church next Sunday when the pastor, the Rev. Thompson will deliver an address on "Patriotism."

The silly season for horses seems at hand, and runaways seem to be the order of every day. A serious smash up was experienced last Friday evening about six o'clock, by Mr. J. E. Wheeler and Mr. Daniel. The same Shetland pony which gave us a stunt to write about last week, for some unaccountable reason turned into the sidewalk by S. Elliott's store and turning the rig over precipitated the occupants on to the sidewalk. Mr. Wheeler escaped with a bruised side, while Mr. Daniel was severely cut about the knees, and has occasion to wear a shade over his eye, which together with his nose was injured.

An interesting game of baseball is advertised for Thursday next, when Summerland will play our boys in the city park. The Summerland band will accompany the team and give selections during the afternoon. The game is one of vital importance to our boys, for should they win, it will put them ahead in the league. It will be an afternoon well spent if you come and urge the team on to victory.

Armstrong will have many visitors on Dominion Day. The boat which leaves here at seven-fifteen for the Landing, will take with it the lacrosse and baseball teams, together with a large number of spectators. Three brass bands have been engaged, and will supply the music during the day. Kelowna will play Summerland at baseball, and Armstrong at lacrosse, and are very hopeful of pulling off both events.

A goodly few contemplate attending the social at Guisachan Ranch, on Wednesday, June 30th, and some first-class sports are to be indulged in. The party is held in connection with the Women's Auxiliary of the English Church.

It must be very embarassing to leave your horse tied up in the street, and on returning to find it gone, yet this is the situation Mr. Burtch found himself in last Friday evening. He consequently had to stay in town all night, and after informing Chief Hidson of the affair, the two went down to the livery barn to find the horse had been brought in late that night. The chief on enquiries found out who had stolen a ride that night, and summoned him to appear before the magistrate. He was fined $15 and costs, a total of $17.50, rather an expensive ride, but Mr. Burtch can be congratulated on getting his horse and rig back in safety.

The Aberdeen will take passengers to Penticton on July 1st in time to attend the various sports at that point. Several Kelowna athletes have been training for the mile and half-mile events, and are rather upset at not finding them on the programme. Nevertheless there will be a good day's sport in that direction and several will attend from this point.

The heavy rains of Saturday and Sunday morning did a lot of good to the crop generally. The roads however were made difficult to travel over, and several would-be country ramblers had to stay in town over Sunday owing to the difficulty in walking out into the country.

No less than 42 candidates are entered for the examination that is taking place at the Public School, under the superintendence of Miss McNaughton.

An interesting case of assault in which a screw driver, a lock, a store counter and a bitten nose figured largely, was before Magistrate Burne last Monday. Mr. Kerr, counsel for the defendant, severely criticised the evidence given for the prosecution, and a trip had to be made to the scene of action in order to verify a statement made by one of the witnesses "that he saw what was happening through the window." The accused pleaded not guilty to the charge, and in the course of his evidence stated that he was assaulted first, and that if he bit the prosecutor's nose it was not with any intention to do harm. The prosecutor who appeared with his nose bandaged up was sure his nose had been bitten, and as he could not bite it himself, it naturally followed that the accused was to blame. The defendent's counsel in the course of an animated speech declared that the case was in favor of his client, as the prosecutor had started the assault by taking hold of defendant's arm. He also declared that no undue violence was used by the accused. Magistrate Burne however, in summing up thought that a bitten nose savoured of undue violence and gave his decision in favor of the prosecution, fining defendant ten dollars and three dollars costs.

An upturned top buggy, a regular menagerie of broken eggs, and strawberries, mingled with other groceries, were on view in Bernard Avenue last Saturday. The reason of the display was the negligence of a teamster, who was passing the buggy with a wagon. The buggy which belonged to Mrs. D. McLean, was turned in towards the house she was visiting, being left occupied by her two children. The wagon which was passing at the time turned in, and catching the hind wheels turned the buggy completely over. The children escaped without a bruise, but some little damage was done to the rig. The teamster, awakened to the severity of the mishap, had to procure a rig for Mrs. McLean to proceed with, and also promised to pay for the repairs and the scattered groceries. The rig procured however, had not a top on it, and Mrs. McLean did not reach home before she was drenched by the rain.

Rev. D. J. Welsh of Chicago has accepted a call to the Baptist church at this point and will arrive about the 1st of October. He is at present taking his degree of Bachelor of Theology at the Chicago College.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING

the hands of Ald. Elliott to report at next meeting.

Ald. Ball thought too much money was being expended on the exhibition grounds, and an estimate ought to be struck and the present finances looked into, before any more work was done.

Ald. Elliott did not like the way things were being done on the grounds, and took for example the matter of fencing. He had given instructions in one direction, when someone had gone down and altered all plans, and had run the council into an additional $200, he wished to know where the authority came from to alter the plans.

Ald. Cox said he had met Mr. Buckland, who had complained of the quality of posts that were being used, but that was all he had heard in connection with the matter.

Ald. Ball thought the work ought to be suspended until the expenditure was estimated, as it was running into pretty high figures.

Ald. Elliott was of the opinion that the work ought to be forged ahead so as to allow people to train their horses for the races. If it could not be started soon he was of the belief that there would be no races this year.

Ald. Ball made out a motion to suspend operations, but the question of the work for the teams came up. A rough estimate was prepared, and the figures were shown inside the estimated expenditure, and Ald. Ball withdrew his motion.

Ald. Ball next read his report of the Finance Committee. The estimates of the various departments he summed up as follows:

Health Committee Estimates	$1,500 00
Board of Works Estimates	3,515 45
Fire and Water Estimates	700 00
Legal Expenses	300 00
Assessment	173 00
Police Department	1305 00
Office Expenses	1633 00
Scavenger expenses	1500 00
General expense	363 15
Grants	1150 00
School Estimates	3442 00
Contnigent Account	500 00

Revenue

Hotel Licenses	$900 00
Trade "	750 00
Hall "	50 00
Dog "	100 00
Road Taxes	75 00
Total	$1875 00

Making a total estimated expenditure of		$11139 60
Less general revenue	1875 00
		$9264 60
Interest and Sinking fund		$10920 55
School Estimates	$3442 29
Less outside School taxes	150 00
		$3292 29
Amount of Taxation to be raised		$23477 44

The taxes to be levied as follows would bring in.

General at 13½ mills	$11348 91
Less 1-6	1891 48
		$9457 43
Debenture at 15 mills	$12609 90
Less 1-6	2101 65
		$10507 25
School at 4½ mills	$3782 97
Less 1-6	630 49
		$3152 48
Making a total rate of 33 mills on the dollar, realize the sum of		$23117 16

The amount as shown, to be realized is $23,477.44, the deficit on the above figures being made up by those who do not take advantage of the 1-6 reduction.

Ald. Ball in submitting his figures explained that the rate compared with last year is an increase as follows.

General rate 1½ mills increase.

Interest and Sinking Fund, 10½ mills increase.

School Purposes 1½ mills increase

He explained that the expenditure of the current year was slightly below the actual expenditure of last year on general account, but the rate levied last year was not sufficient to meet that expenditure. The finance committee had pared down the estimates of this year as low as possible, and it would be difficult to carry on the work of the city within the estimates.

The Mayor informed the council that Mr. McDonald had asked for more money in connection with the purchase of the exhibition grounds, as he would be leaving on holidays shortly. It was decided to give the matter attention.

By-law No. 62 with the taxation rates duly filled in at 33 mills on the dollar was then read a third time.

Ald. Elliott produced a plan of subdivision of Mr. Davies lot in Richter Street, and some discussion ensued as to the advisability of making a rule that a lane should be left between the lots to make access for the scavenger. The discussion however was not continued.

Some little discussion arose with reference to the sidewalks, and to a plan of assessing and providing for them through the local improvement system. The acting mayor took for example the North side of Glenn Avenue where a sidewalk was needed, he remarked that if the people on both sides of the street were assessed, it would mean that the South side that already had a sidewalk, would in all probability vote against it. The matter was however dropped, to be taken up again at next meeting.

Some little dissatisfaction had been expressed to the council about the finish on the cement sidewalk on the north side of Bernard Avenue, it was agreed to see Mr. Clement on the subject and report at next meeting.

The meeting then adjourned to meet again on Wednesday, June 30th at five o'clock.

Colonial Musical Comedy Company

With a cast of principals that has never beeu surpassed in any organization outside of the larger cities of America, the Colonial Musical Comedy Company will make its appearance at the Opera House in July presenting its initial bill "The Show Girl". This organization includes Adele Oswald, who has appeared in three of the leading musical productions of New York and Chicago in the principal feminine roles. Nellie V. Nichols, concededly the best dancing soubrette on the American stage. Essie Barton, an exponent of character roles, that has won deserved recogniton. E. Coit Albertson, the creator of the leading tenor parts in several conspicious productions: Frank V. Nelson, a fine baritone and clever actor: Frank Woods, one of the funniest little comedians known to the stage: Harry Burgess, another famous comic, and others of equal note. Back of this exceptional list is a chorus of twenty people, including the famous "Eight Dancing Ponies" selected from the best New York and Chicago "Broilers"—so called. The work of these little women alone would make any entertainment worth seeing. In all there are 35 exceptional people with the Colonial Company. "The Show Girl" is one of the best musical comedies seen recently in the United States. Its long and prosperous engagements in New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia have created a desrie every where to see it, and the cities favoured with its production have invariably declared it the best and brightest thing of the sort seen in years. No ordinary company could do "The Show Girl" justice, as it demands a special and high order of talent, which the Colonial Company supplies. Seat sale at the usual place.
