City Council Meeting

Barb Wire Fences. The Repairing of the Irrigation Ditches. Aquatic Association Agreement Accepted. A. & T. Association. Police Report.

A full council sat on Monday night and discussed quite a lot of business.

Mr. Meurling was present with a plan of the proposed extension of the Royal Hotel. It was proposed to build an extension over the yard at the back of the hotel, the same to be raised on 12 ft. pillars made of concrete.

Mayor DeHart wanted to know if the fire arrangements had been gone into at this hotel.

Ald. Bailey explained that at present it was fully equipped in case of fire and Mr. Wheeler had promised to extend a suitable equipment to the new portion to be erected. Under these circumstances permission was granted for the extension.

Mr. Mansel attended on the council and asked if it anticipated buying a scavenger wagon, power or horse roller, as he would be happy to supply any should they require it.

Mayor DeHart replied that although a power roller was necessary for the roads, he thought it best to use the grader first. As far as a scavenger wagon was concerned the council had in mind the buying of one, and if Mr. Mansel would leave his catalogue the Council would consider it, when they were deciding.

Mr. Wilks approached the council for leave to use the park on the 24th of May, as he was organizing a Marathon race for that day and would like to see some good healthy sports run in conjunction with this race.

Mayor DeHart replied that the council would give the matter their attention and would advise him further in respect to this.

Ald. Ball believed it could be done cheaper than it is at present.

Ald. Elliott pointed out that the matter had been taken up before and figures had been gone into, and it was found that the carting was being done as cheaply as possible, the only suggestion that could be made was that the council had a horse and cart of their own, this might cut down the expense a little, but as there was no knowing how long the sawmill was likely to stay on this side of the lake, it might not prove a very profitable investment for the city.

A discussion next arose severely criticising the number of barb wire fences that bordered on the sidewalks of some of the principal streets.

Ald. Bailey remarked that he thought a by-law was made whereby such fences were not allowed.

The council agreed that these fences were very dangerous and referred the matter for Mr. Bailey to look into, and if necessary have these fences removed.

The Mayor suggested that it was time grading was commenced on some of the streets, and in pointing out the state of the roads between Richter Street and Glen Avenue, also between the school house and Harvey Avenue, remarked that the roads last fall were in a terrible condition owing to the overflow of water from the irrigation ditch, it was time these ditches were fixed, and any repetition of the overflow was arrested.

Ald. Ball thought the owners of the ditches in question ought to have them put in a good state of repair, and did not see what the council wanted to do the work for, he took it that the owners or users of the water were liable for any damage done to property, and if the ditches were not fixed this year the council could come upon the users of that water, for damage to the road. Mayor DeHart replied that it was very near a case for the council to take up last year, as one of the citizens had threatened to sue the city for having a stagnant pool of water in the neighbourhood which was detrimental to health.

Ald. Ball suggested that the whole matter be referred to the Board of Works, and that they should see the city Solicitor and report at next meeting.

Mayor DeHart said the matter ought to receive immediate attention, as it would not be very long before water was turned on for irrigation purposes. He suggested that a water meeting should be called this week, and it was finally decided to make arrangements for this meeting to be on Thursday, 15th, in Lequime's Hall.

Mr. G. Rose attended on behalf of the Aquatic Association to submit to the council a term of agreement for the erection of a suitable building on the lake shore in the park. This matter was fully gone into, and it was agreed to accept the agreement made between the Aquatic Association and the Park Committee.

Mr. L. C. Aviss attended and asked permission to draw his boats up on the beach, and also asked leave to build a landing on the site of the old boat house. Leave was granted until more satisfactory regulations could be gone into.

The question of the sale of the A. & T. Grounds was put before the council by the Mayor. It was suggested that an agreement be made with the A. & T. as follows:

The unconditional sale of property to the city for $5,500.

The A. & T. Association to erect a $2,500 building on land leased by the city in the Park.

The city to have the use of building for any special civic purpose.

The Mayor had already spoken to several members of the A. & T. association and they had endorsed the arrangement as being in every way satisfactory.

Letters were read from the following:

Kelowna Land & Orchard Co., altering statement made by Messrs. Marty Bros. at the council meeting on April 5th and stating that the company would give 33 feet along the south side of lot twelve for the purpose of a roadway instead of 45 ft, as stated by Messrs. Marty.—Filed.

The police report was then read as follows:

Arrested three. Persons assisted to home, one. Summons for small debt, seventeen.

On March 26th took two horses off the street.

Chief Hidson wished to point out the decrease in crime this year, only ten being recorded, against twenty-nine for the same three months last year.

The Mayor thought the chief ought to be commended on such a good report, and also wished to bring before the council the fact of a very clever arrest having been made on Friday during the football match when Pomeroy was found with a suit of clothes on his person stolen 4 months ago from the Lake View hotel.

Chief Hidson asked the council to consider supplying a life buoy, ropes and grappling iron, as in case of accident around the wharf he would have great difficulty in saving life or recovering dead bodies.

It was proposed by Ald. Rowcliffe, seconded by Ald. Bailey that the city provide two life buoys and ropes to be placed on the C.P.R. wharf and ferry wharf, also a grappling iron to be used in case of accident.

Discussions arose on the system of a code of whistles being established so that people might know in which direction a fire was. Also a system of fire alarms was suggested by Ald. Elliott.

It was agreed that a hook and ladder brigade was greatly needed in the town, and the matter was referred to the fire and water committee.

The following motions were put forward and carried.

Elliott - Rowcliffe — That the agreement between the Aquatic Association and the city council be accepted, and that the Mayor and and City Clerk be instructed to sign.

Elliott-Rowcliffe—That the court of revision be held in the Council Chamber from 10 to 12 o'clock, on the first day of June, 1900, and that all the members of the council act on the revision.

Elliott-Ball—That Mr. Middleton be given permission to connect with the city water works pipe, providing he stand all the expense. The work to be done to the satisfaction of the fire and water committee.

Rowcliffe-Bailey—That the Fire and Water committee be instructed to communicate with the Vernon city council re the purchase of a fire wagon and to purchase same if a satisfactory arrangement can be made, also to arrange with the engineer at the power house, signal whistles to be used in case of fire to locate same.

The crack in the sidewalk caused by the moving of Raymer's building across the street, was next taken up. The council thought Mr. Raymer ought to be informed that he would have to pay for the damage, and left it in the hands of the Board of Works.

The council then adjourned to meet on Monday, April 19th, at 7:30 p.m.

Drummond Recital

The recital given by the Rev. D. E. Hatt, at the Baptist Church last Tuesday evening was received with great admiration by those present.

At intervals some vocal selections were given by Messrs. Chappell, Harvey and Hill. The bulk of the evening was taken up listening to Mr. Hatt. His elocution is unsurpassed, his voice being heard to advantage through the church His rendering of the "Dream" and "Pro Patria" were really first class, and it is to be hoped that we shall be able to listen to him again in the near future.

The music throughout the recital was furnished by Miss Smith.

McAulay - Bowers.

The marriage took place on Wednesday last, April 14th, of Malcolm McAulay and Lillie Maud Bowers. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents at Pleasant Valley.

Kelowna Beats Penticton

A fair crowd was present to witness the football match on Good Friday, but owing to the uncertain state of the weather many would-be spectators kept at home. Enthusiasm goes a long way, and had quite a lot to do in carrying the Kelowna boys to victory. Penticton arrived in time to see a bit of the town, and to get used to the climate before wending their way to the park. The Juniors had a short game early in the afternoon and managed to get beaten by Penticton juniors. The score being three goals to one. They played a good game and on both sides many could be picked out as likely to be useful seniors in a few years time. The great game started at two thirty when the seniors took the field, the line-up was as follows.

Penticton		Kelowna
Coulter	goal	Butt
Courbesley	back	Willis
Courbesley	r back	Hudson
Shark	c half	Lee
Moore	r half	Pittman
Rowe	l half	J. Wardlow
Bell	centre	Davies
Syser	l inside	Smith
Gibbons	l outside	Scholl
J. Patterson	r inside	D. Mills
Guilford	r outside	D. Lloyd

The whistle blew at 2:30. It was now a case of "when Greek meets Greek." Slowly but surely the home team pressed towards Penticton's goal. A skirmish, a shout, and Kelowna had one goal put to her credit. The half time came as a pleasant relief after a hard battle, the score standing at two to nil. The arrival of the "Okanagan" dwindled down the number of spectators, but soon the teams were hard at it again. Smith was still on the look out for a good shot in goal, and very soon the opportunity came. The hard part was practically over now, and Kelowna held the day, as long as she could defend her own preserves. The whole time score was four to nil, and a good game was, alas, at an end. Penticton played a good game from start to finish and the chances are, it may not be so easy for our boys to win when they are met in a strange field.

The Penticton team returned soon after supper, and were given a hearty send off. Cheers being given and received by those on the wharf and boat. The saying of one of the finest schoolmasters, a Rugby man, crept into the mind as the little "Clovelly" bore the visiting team home. "We love em and lick em, but love them first."

Victoria Day Marathon Race

Quite a little excitement was caused by the announcement, that a Marathon race would be run over a ten mile course in Kelowna. The date set for this event is the 24th of May, Victoria Day, and entries are coming in fast from all quarters. The course, which is open to all comers is from the wharf to Stirling's orchard, turning down by Pridham's orchard towards the five bridges, thence by way of the Vernon road to the Benvoulin corner, this point will mark the course about half way, the second half being via Davy's slaughter house up the new road to Pendozi street, finishing up at the starting point. The route will be lined with marshals who will tender very soft drinks to the competitors, aud direct the course. After the race an afternoon of sports is suggested, and the whole ought to afford quite a good time. For the great race four prizes of a substantial nature will be offered, and as soon as the figures can be arrived at they will be made pnblic.

A strong committee has been appointed to look after the whole affair, and it is likely that they will approach the A. & T. Association at their meeting next Saturday week, with a view to get their grounds for the occasion. Owing to some misunderstanding the whole affair was called off during the week, but is now going as strong as ever.

Monthly Meeting of The Board of Trade

The meeting of the City Board of Trade was held on Wednesday night, a number of the members being present, Mr. Pitcairn taking the chair. The minutes having been read by the Recording Secretary, Mr. McTavtsh, and adopted.

The chairman stated, that contrary to the general rules, he wished to make a suggestion:—Owing to the correspondence taking so much time, he would like to see any fresh business taken up before the letters were read and gone into fully. Transportation had hitherto taken up much time, in fact more than was due to it, as more immediate matters were at hand. He also wished to state that the Secretary had letters from various people which were never read at the meetings, he did not know this until a few days ago, and thought it his duty to inform the other members of the board of the fact. These letters were mostly from land seekers, and he did not wish to blame Mr. Kerr for keeping them from the board, but he would like the other members to put forward their views.

Mr. Kerr in reply stated that that the letters in question, asked for information concerning the temperature, as to whether chickens thrived well here, or whether there was much rain, in his opinion it was ridiculous to read correspondence of this nature, and he had taken the liberty of replying to such letters without waiting for instructions from the Board of Trade. He would now proceed to deal with the correspondence and various letters were then read, which were taken up again during the evening.

A letter from the C.P.R. Company at Winnipeg, stated that the attention of the company had been called to the advisability of changing the name Sicamous Junction to Okanagan Junction, such a change would be confusing, and they did not see the advisability of making any alteration. Also they would look into the fact that Armstrong was not marked on their folder. In reply to the desire for a daily service during the winter, he wished to state that the line at present was not quite as paying as it might be, and the company could not see its way clear to continue the daily service of boats for the time being, but however, stipulated that the daily traffic up and down the lake would start on May 1st, 1909.

A letter from Hewetson and Mantle was next read, with reference to obtaining some of the diploma certificates won by Mr. DeHart at the Spokane show. The chairman was of the opinion that these diplomas were the property of the Board of Trade and that they ought to be left in the hands of the board to distribute as they thought fit.

Mr. DeHart stated that the diplomas had been framed at his expense, and he was at present displaying them in his real estate office. The total cost of framing, etc., was $22.50, and if the Board wished to distribute them among the real estate people he was of the opinion that it was a very commendable action.

Mr. Mantle endorsed Mr. DeHart's statement, and stated it was better to convince people of the value of land in Kelowna by showing them a diploma won at the Spokane show, than by simply giving verbal information that might be believed or disbelieved at leisure. As far as the frames were concerned he was willing to pay for them.

Mr. Ellison thought that as it was possible that in the near future a permanent place would be established in the park for the show of these diplomas, the whole should be kept by the secretary until this place was erected.

Mr. Stirling thought it better to distribute them with the discretion of the Board of Trade, in any case they ought to be formally returned to the Board.

Mr. Pitcairn pointed out that the diplomas were lent to Mr. Dickson of Vernon by the Board of Trade, and had since been returned to Mr. DeHart.

It was finally proposed by Mr. Jones, seconded by Mr. Stirling, that the diplomas be handed over to the Board of Trade, and that the Board pay Mr. DeHart for the frames and special box to contain same.

The resolution was carried, and it was agreed that the diplomas be distributed to the various real estate people who are members of the Board of Trade, at the discretion of the secretary.

Much discussion arose in connection with the sending of diplomas to the Tourist Association in Vancouver, to advertise the town, and a motion was put forward by Mr. Leckie, that a letter be sent to this association asking them if they would like to show the diplomas. This motion was lost, Mr. Elliott remarking that it was better to keep them in Kelowna, as we never knew when we should want them.

It was suggested that only pamphlets be sent, and as the new ones would be out in two weeks time, it would be best to refer the letter to the next meeting.

Mr. Kerr did not agree with this arrangement, as he had decided to send pamphlets to all who wanted them as soon as they were issued and did not think it necessary to ask the sanction of the board on this score.

Mayor DeHart did not consider it advisable to let the matter of sending away a diploma drop, and proposed that the secretary send the best diploma to the secretary of the Vancouver Tourist Association to be recalled at the option of the Board of Trade. This proposition was eventually seconded by Mr. Knowles and carried.

The question of a lecturer was next put before the board, the Secretary remarking that he thought it a very good plan for Kelowna to send one of its citizens to lecture on fruit in the United States. He suggested the name of Mr. DeHart. That gentleman did not think business would permit him leaving the town, but Mr. Kerr insisted that as the Government desired to find a lecturer, it was only right for Kelowna to pick out a good man and one that knew what he was talking about. He proposed that Mr. DeHart's name be mentioned to the Government as a suitable lecturer. After some discussion this proposal was carried.

The reports of the committees were next taken.

The transportation committee reported they had gone into the usual passenger rates, and found that five cents per mile was the usual rate charged, in some places it was over five cents per mile. With reference to the free delivery of express parcels they had found that in the large cities parcels are often delivered free because it comes cheaper to the railway company, than affording the storage space, they did not think there was much chance of this occuring here.

Mayor DeHart remarked he had obtained a refund of $32.14 on the apples that went to Spokane. This money belonged to the board.

Mr. G. Rose on behalf of the Publicity Committee said that a sum of $500 was granted by the council for advertising purposes and as they had $79 in hand, he Socialism and the Rights of Private Property.

By GEORGE F. STIRLING.

Some journalistic definitions of Socialism which we have read remind us of Sheridan's famous criticism of newspapers. "The newspapers! Sir, they are the most villanous, licentious, abominable, infernal——. Not that I ever read them! No, I make it a rule never to look into a newspaper," and truly it would almost appear that some of the bitterest opponents of Socialism went so far as to make it a rule never to read anything about it. So appalling is the general ignorance of its primary principles that we have seen it described by such adjectives as abominable and infernal, by one paper, and utopian, by another, and these notions are supped in like pap without any chewing whatever by the man in the street. As these descriptions emanate from the opposition it is not necessary to disprove both. Socialism is engaged in casting out devils from our industrial system and it cannot be reasonably argued that she casts them out by the power of Beelzebub.

If the other objection does not show a clear grasp of the subject, it at least indicates that the writer is so astonished at its high ideals that he cannot think it will ever come to pass. To hint to such a man that it is already coming to pass is to immediately lead him beyond his depth. But we claim that Socialism is being realized, and that there is a steadily growing social conscience, not only in this, but in most civilized countries today, and Socialistic legislation is being forced upon our national assemblies.

The roads in England were at one time owned by private individuals. But the free use of the roads was necessary for the welfare of the people, and smash went the toll-bars. That was Socialism. That was interfering with the property rights of individuals. Some day the land question will be settled in a similar manner, but the time is not yet ripe. We are told that the state should not interfere with the property rights of individuals, but the state does interfere, and our city interferes. You cannot put up a building in the city as you like. You cannot own an orchard without having inspectors coming and telling you what you have to do to keep down insect pests. "Yes," you say, "but the state and the city only interfere with my property rights in so far as they affect the well-being of the people." Precisely, and that is what would happen under Socialism, but the principle would be more generally applied.

Is must be clearly stated, however, that although the private property rights of individuals will be regulated in a Socialist state as they are now, the ownership of private property will not be interfered with.

In one of the most recent outbursts against Socialism (by Roosevelt in "The Outlook") this fact, so elementary, is hopelessly and wilfully mangled.

The public property which Socialists demand should be owned by the people is the property which is necessary for the production and distribution of wealth. This includes the air, the water and the land, the mines, factories, railroads, mail, express, telegraph and telephone service, light, water and heat plants, stores, etc., so that private monopoly, and Graft, Rent, Interest and Profit will be abolished, and all may have the full product of their labor. Of course, nobody has cornered the air, yet, but why should they not? Any argument against the private ownership of air is equally powerful against the ownership of land and water by private persons. Yet men seek, not only to own the earth, but they actually claim the rain from heaven, which God, in his bountiful mercy, bestows upon this semi-arid region. But you say, "Granted that the natural resources should be collectively owned, on what grounds do the Socialists claim that factories, mines, railroads, stores, etc., should be owned by the community?" The basis of the claim is that these things have all been produced by the workers themselves. But, we are told, the workers didn't produce the necessary money to make and build these machines, factories, railroads, etc. This is a common mistake, and was clearly pointed out long ago by John Stuart Mill. People forget that the machinery of production in use today has been practically all made within the last ten years, out of the profits of the last ten years which have been taken from the workers.

Moreover, the money that is owned today by capitalists did not exist centuries ago, as some would have us believe. Under the present system capital is continually reproducing capital. The Duke of Westminster today is not living on money he inherited from his great great grandfather, who inherited it from his great great ancestor, who originally stole the land from the people. Not at all. He is living today on the rents of today which have been earned by the workers of today.

A man in business ten years is not working on the capital he started with, but he is working this year on the profits of last year. Let us illustrate the point.

Approach a contractor in a town who is giving orders to some workmen, and say to him:

"Why do you order those men about like that?"

"Oh," he replies, "because I pay them three dollars a day."

"I sell houses."

"Who builds them?"

"The workmen."

"Then why don't they own them?"

"Because I have to furnish the money for the raw materials."

"Where did you get that money?"

"I sold houses last year."

"Who made the houses you sold last year?"

"The workmen."

And so you would find that the so-called capital in use today is really the product of the workers' toil. Hence the claim of the workers for the machinery of production is only a claim for what they have created and what belongs to them by right.

Whether a Socialist state would compensate the owners or not would be a matter for the people to decide when the time comes to take over the public property. We are only concerned in proving that it belongs to the workers, and in the event of the present owners being forced to give up their claims, we cannot see anything unjust or immoral in it, as we are unable to believe that God brought a few men into the world ready booted and spurred, to ride, and millions ready saddled and bridled, to be ridden.

EBONY WOOD.

All of the Several Varieties Are Heavier Than Water.

Ebony was known and highly esteemed by the ancients as an article of luxury and was used by them for a variety of purposes.

In India it is said that it was employed by kings for scepters and also for images. On account of its supposed antagonism to poisons it was used largely for drinking cups.

The name ebony is given to the wood of several varieties of trees. All kinds of ebony are distinguished for their great density and dark color. The wood in all varieties is heavier than water. The heaviest varieties are the darkest. The other grades require a considerable amount of staining to make them black.

Ebony is of a uniform color throughout and will not show any deterioration even from long continued use.

There are three varieties of ebony well known in commerce. The ebony from the Gaboon coast of Africa is the darkest. The Madagascar ebony is the densest. The Macassar ebony furnishes the largest pieces. It is sold by weight.

Imitations of ebony can always be distinguished by their lighter weight, and the cheaper imitations can be detected by merely scratching the surface.

SPECTRAL WARNINGS.

The Bloody Mark That Appeared on Cardan's Finger.

Who shall say that spectral warnings are entirely chimerical? History has many instances to the contrary. Thus the once well known tragedian John Palmer died on the stage at Liverpool. At the same hour and minute a shopman in London sleeping under a counter, saw distinctly his shade glide through the shop, open the door and pop into the street. This an hour or two later he mentioned very coolly, as if Mr. Palmer himself had been there.

Cardan, the noted Italian philosopher, saw on the ring finger of his right hand the mark of a bloody sword and heard at the same time a voice which bade him go to Milan. The redness progressively increased until midnight. The mark then faded gradually and disappeared. At that midnight hour his son was beheaded at Milan.

The father of Dr. Blombey was captain in an army serving in America. We are told by Dr. Rudge that six officers 300 miles from his position were visited after dinner by this modern Banquo, who sat down in a vacant chair. One said to him, "Blombey, are you mad?" He rose in silence and slowly glided out at the door. He was slain on that day and hour.—St. James' Gazette.

The Wooing of the Woodcock.

The wooing of the woodcock is one of those sights to witness which a lover of nature in all its moods will make a journey of miles. The scene is enacted at twilight, and the setting is of willow or alder bushes whose branches are just beginning to show the tender green of early spring. Suddenly from the damp ground a bird form shoots upward like some swamp spirit until it is outlined against the gray of the evening sky. Then it circles above the branches, and the song of the wooing begins. Hidden in the darkness of the thick lower growth is the object to which this love song is directed. The bird above circles perhaps a score of times, then drops back to the damp thicket, making a sound which can be likened only to the dropping of water into a woodland pool. Again the bird soars and circles, singing still the love song. This is repeated time after time until the last gleam of light has faded and night's darkness comes down.

The Life Saving Service.

The first stations of a life saving service in this country were established by the Massachusetts Humane society at Lovell island and Cohasset. All efforts for saving life and property in cases of shipwreck were made by this society till 1837, when the president of the United States was authorized to employ ships to cruise along the shores and render assistance to distressed navigators. In 1848 congress passed a law creating a few life saving stations between Sandy Hook and Little Egg harbor, New Jersey. From this has grown the splendid system which now takes in all the coasts of the country.

A Watch Tip.

"So you lost your watch in the crowd, eh?" Lecoq, the detective, sneered. "Well, I'm ashamed of you.

"You ought to know after your long friendship with me that there's only one safe way for a man to carry a costly watch—in the right hand vest pocket, with the chain running into the right and left pockets.

Quite Unexpected.

The Mistress—What, Suzanne, going to leave me? Going to get married? This is most unexpected. The French Maid—Oui, madame, but eet ees not my fault. Eet was only last night zat your son proposed to me.

Why They Doubted Him.

Hewitt—Figures won't lie. Jewett—That's what I tell the people I meet in business, but they won't believe me. Hewitt—What is your business? Jewett—I'm collector for a gas company.—Town and Country.

Old Country News

Gales on the South Sea.

Great gales and storms have been prevalent on the Dorset, Devon and Cornwall coasts, during the last week, and quite a lot of wreckage has been washed upon the neighborhood of St. Ives. It is feared that more than one ship may have come grief. Several local coasters and fishing vessels are over due, but it is the general opinion that they are safe. The schooner "May Queen', arrived at St. Ives leaking badly, having experienced one of the worst squalls the captain had ever met with. She was completely dismantled and it is probable she will not be able to put to sea again.

Paupers Have Less Brandy.

The Lambeth board of Guardians granted permission to buy one bottle of brandy for the use of invalids in the work house. It was mentioned that under the present temperance policy of the board not more than eighteen shillings a week was spent on intoxicants. Only a few years ago the records would show that £1,000 a year was spent.

A National Theatre.

It has been decided that a national theatre shall be built in London, and a subscription list has been started. A gift of $350,000 has been promised by an anonymous person and quite a few other promises of smaller amounts have been made. An estimate puts down the amount wanted at two and a half million dollars, to be alloted in the following manner: For the site $500,000, stage and equipment $250,000, endowment $1,250,000.

The theatre is to be called the Shakespeare National Theatre, and will be opened in 1916, but subscription lists will be closed in 1911.

Mill Hill Blaze.

Quite exciting times attended a disastrous fire which occurred at Mill Hill Grammar School, and it was lucky that the boys were away on a cross country run, otherwise the blaze might have been responsible for a greater disaster. The fire started in the basement and with alarming suddenness attacked the large class room, and several of the smaller ones. The school is about 100 years old and was considered one of the finest buildings in the locality. It was only owing to the quick attendance of the fire brigade, that the scoool was not completely gutted.

Death of Sir Edward Boyle.

The death is announced of Sir Edward Boyle, which occurred suddenly after only a few weeks illness. It was only last month that deceased retired from his seat at Taunton where he had sat in the conservative interests since last general election. The late baronet who was responsible for many publications is succeded in title by Mr. Edward Boyle, M.A., barrister at law.

Lord Beresford Gives up Command

Lord Charles Beresford who has for the past nine years had his flag flying as Commander-in-Chief of the Channel fleet, has given up command.

The commander took leave of the fleet off Portsmouth amid stirring scenes. The battleship King Edward VII got under way off Portland and steamed slowly down the line of battleships and cruisers. As each ironclad was passed, the bluejackets, who were lining the sides, threw out their farewells in cheers, mingled with the refrain of "Auld Lang Syne." Lord Beresford stood on the bridge of his flagship and acknowledged the farewell of the fleet.

Landing at Portsmouth, Lord Beresford had to encounter a fresh crowd, and it was only with great difficulty that the carriage containing the commander was able to proceed to the station.

At Waterloo, London, a crowd had congregated to witness the arrival, and the efforts of the police were completely overturned. As the train bearing Lord Charles, steamed into the station the crowd broke through the barriers, and it was only after some time that the commander was allowed to mount his motor car, which drove off among the cheers of warm hearted Londoners.

Gets War Medal at Last

John Waplington, of Atherton, Bolton, has just received his war medal for active service in the Indian Mutiny. The Bolton Veterans United Association drew the attention of the War Office to the fact that the medal had not been received, and found that his name had been accidently missed by that department when compiling the list. Waplington saw service as a private soldier in the mutiny with the 6th Royal Regiment.

"Suppose," hissed the villian, "suppose our plot should leak out?"

"That's all right," said his accomplice, consolingly, "it can't. Don't you remember telling me five minutes ago that it had thickened!"

Grouch: "The Rev. Mr. Smiley's scheme to pass around the cigars and let the men smoke during services has proved a failure." Blink: "What was the trouble?" Grouch: "His wife bought the cigars."

If you find it hard to pay interest on the mortgage and meet every-day living expenses of your family, how do you suppose your wife could pay the interest and keep the family together if you should happen to die?

A certificate in the Modern Woodmen of America furnishes the means by which the wife can keep the family with her.

Are you a member? If not, you should get in on the ground floor, and become a Charter Member.

Messrs. Jackson & Parker, contractors of Salmon Arm, have made an assignment to their creditors.

A movement is on foot to form a Farmers' Institute in Penticton, an organization meeting has been called for the 23rd of April.

A Review representative was told a yarn yesterday which it is hard to swallow, and yet the narrator has a reputation for veracity. The story goes that new settlers in the district planted a lot of trees last year and planted a large proportion of them upside down. This spring they carefully pruned the roots and are at a loss to know why the trees are not thriving.—Summerland Review.

While walking through a patch of brush near the foot of Long Lake, where he is getting out logs for Johnston & Carswell's mill, Isaac Johnston felt something clinging to his leg, thinking it a piece of brush he was about to detach it with a sweep of his hand, when to his horror he found a three-foot rattlesnake of the diamond species clinging to the back of his leg a little below the knee. He killed the reptile, and upon rolling up the heavy mackinaw pants with which his legs were clothed, found that the fang had punctured the skin. He at once made tracks for Oyama where the wound was treated by Dr. Irvine. It is pretty safe to say that had it not been for the heavy nature of the material in his trousers Mr. Johnston, would have had a hard fight for his life. He says. that since he has been logging on this section of the lake he has killed hundreds of rattlers from little creatures out of the egg to monsters three and four feet long and as thick as a man's wrist.—Weekly Okanagan.

All Saints Church at Vernon is the oldest in the Okanagan, and the pioneer residents here decided to celebrate the next anniversary in a manner which is not only commendable, but also shows a good example of the French bell founders' art. The bell which has come all the way from Paccard, arrived by the Blue Funnel liner "Oanfa" a few days ago, it bears the inscription, "To the Glory of God this bell is presented by the old-timers of fifteen years and over to All Saints' Church, Vernon."

Definitions and axioms in "Euclid for Suffragettes," published in Messrs. Hathard's literary circular, are smart and amusing. Here are a few of them:

A "rush" has magnitude but no point. A woman who is equal to three months in Holloway, is equal to anything.

A "demonstration" consists of a series of plain figures bounded by no laws, to whom all wrangles are right wrangles.

A "rumpus" in which unemployed and suffragettes are equal is said to be a "regular rumpus."

Two suffragettes who meet at any point cannot contain themselves.

Liverpool's Experience.

Prior to A. D. 1890, in the streets of Liverpool drunkenness and its attendant vices were so conspicuous as to make that city almost notorious and arouse the authorities to the necessity of reducing the number of licenses and enforcing existing law more strictly. This has been done, and Liverpool, the greatest seaport in the world is now one of the cleanest and most law-abiding cities in the United Kingdom.

From the license records of Liverpool we quote the following:

Year.	Liquor Licenses Cut off.	Persons Arraigned for Drunkenness.
1890	10	14,680
1891	19	11,343
1892	30	9,005
1893	36	7,936
1894	21	5,657
1895	27	5,205
1896	22	5,026
1897	20	5,105
1898	24	4,329
1899	29	4,069
1900	57	4,180
1901	35	4,227
1902	figures not presented.
1903	81	5,115
1904	66	7,507

Total Licenses Cut Off.....486

It will be noticed that there was a considerable increase in the number of persons arrested for drunkenness in 1903 and 1904, but in 1903 and 1904 the population increased from 684,958 to 716,810, and during the entire period of reduction the city grew from a population of 629,598 to 716,810.

Notwithstanding this increase in population, the cutting off of 486 licenses resulted in a reduction of the number of arrests for drunkeness from 14,680 in 1890 to 7,507 in 1904.

It should be stated that the chief constable of Liverpool says:

"I venture to state that the increase in prosecutions in 1903 and 1904 is proof, not of increasing number of offenses, but of stricter administration of the law."

"Thus by a simple process of reducing the licenses, Liverpool has changed from being the black spot on the Mersey into one of the soberest of the great English towns."

That the principle of license reduction is effective when applied to a large city is fully established by the experience of Liverpool. That it is equally effective when applied to the more extended area of England and Wales is indisputably proven by the blue books, "Judicial Statistics," page 18, and "Licensing Statistics," page 3, issued by the Government of Great Britian.

The Lord's Prayer on a Pin.

Probably we have all heard of one-dollar gold pieces with the Lord's Prayer engraved on one side. Several years ago these were worn by many as watch charms. Occasionally even now one may be seen thus worn. Such minute engraving may well be considered skilful work.

But recently this has been made to seem, at least by comparison, quite a simple matter (says a writer in the January "St. Nicholas"), because Mr. William L. Stuart, a young man engaged in business in New York City, has performed the seemingly impossible feat of engraving the entire Lord's Prayer on the head of an ordinary pin, to which he has added his name and the year, making altogether two hundred and seventy-six letters and figures.

Mr. Stuart did the work at odd times during his regular employment, and with very ordinary tools which seemingly are not adapted to such fine engraving. The pin was set in a block of wood, and a common engraver's tool was used. A simple microscope, costing only about twenty-five cents, and known as a "linen tester," furnished the necessary magnifying.

New Passenger Service to Hongkong.

It is reported that the Holt line who hitherto have only been running freight boats across the Pacific, will start a new passenger service in the near future. Four new lines bearing the Blue Funnel are already in construction and passenger accomodation will be one of the great features in these new boats. Asteady service will be established at an early date.

Saved a Child's Life

Only through remarkable presence of mind was engineer Arthur Denman of the C.P.R., able to save the life of a two-year-old child. The west bound Boundary train was travelling at a good speed towards Riverside Avenue crossing, Grand Forks, when a little child was noticed by the engineer to be on the crossing. Denman knew he could not apply the brakes in time, and at once threw open the throttle and reversed the engines. The escape was hairbreadth even then, for as the train drew up the little girl was actually against the cow-catcher.

The Cricket in the Ring

In Philadelphia's Chinatown there is a Pekingese set that pursues cricket fighting madly. Cricket fighting, a national sport in the Celestial kingdom, is odd to see.

Crickets are trained. They are exercised and dieted, and daily, before a match smaller, weaker crickets are opposed to them, that they may work out for themselves good fighting systems.

In matches the betting is very high. The Chinese who are tremendous gamblers often lose fortunes over crickets, as American millionaires lose fortunes over race horses. A good cricket fight will last half an hour.

The opposing crickets, each in a tube like a box stall, are dropped into a ring with a wall around it about six inches high.

Tiny bells are rung by the seconds. These bells have a peculiar timbre, and excite the crickets to a very frenzy of fighting.

Strong Winds do Much Damage.

Winds have been general all over the country last week, and reports come in from all quarters of damage done to some property or other. Western Ontario has suffered more than the other provinces, St. Thomas being one of the towns worst attacked. London had the chimney and part of the roof blown off her schoolhouse, and a freight car at Michigan centre had the whole roof blown off. Victoria is another sufferer and damage to the extent of a thousand dollars is reported. As far as is at present known, no damage of a serious nature has been done in this district, save the breaking of glass in Hunter's store, but it is certain that anybody on the lake would have met with serious disaster from the wind that occurred last Friday.

Regina Chosen for Saskatchewan University.

A board of governors have been touring the large towns in Saskatchewan, with the view of choosing a site suitable for a University. Last Thursday they visited Regina, and have practically settled on a site, south east of the parliament buildings. It contains 650 acres, and is ideal for the purpose to which it will be devoted.

The City of Regina will, it is expected purchase the site at a reasonable figure, and hand it over as a gift to the University of Saskatchewan.

Counterfeit Half-Dollars.

Quite a few storekeepers have been badly left the last few days, Victoria suffering the most. A number of lead half dollar pieces have been placed in circulation by some unscrupulous person or persons. The coin is tendered during a rush of business and is dropped into the till unnoticed until the time for cashing up is at hand.

The false coin is a facsmile of the real article and can only be told by the ring it gives out when thrown on the counter, although it is slightly lighter than the true article.

Ice Jam in St. Lawrence

During the past few days, ice has been coming down the St. Lawrence in great quantities. Owing to a jam the old C.P.R. sheds at Montreal have been completely destroyed, and the low level wharves are completely submerged. The town of La Prairie is partly under water, and is in great danger unless the ice breaks up.

Edmonton to Athabasca Railway

One of the first lines to be built as a result of the government guarantee of bonds will be the C.N.R. line to Athabasca. It is expected to be finished this year, the survey being now in progress, work on the line will start as soon as the frost is out of the gronnd. This railroad will open up a new country and make room for an increased traffic in oil from the Athabasca oil mines.

Coast Steamer a Total Loss.

The San Francisco Pacific Co.'s steamer, Indiana, is reported ashore at Magdelena Bay, wtth fourteen feet of water in her hold. The passengers and their baggage have been transferred and landed safely on the mainland. The owners of the ill-fated vessel consider her a total loss and value her cargo at $500,000.

Prairies Will Have Telephones.

The use of the telephone has become so general, and the towns that have had a telephone system installed have grown so rapidly, that the governments of Manitoba and Alberta have each decided to undertake the building of 800 miles of telephone lines in the most needed places.

Japs Fire on Train.

Three Japanese were charged at Vancouver with firing on a C. P. R. train as it was proceeding east. The passengers in the train had a narrow escape, as the Japs emptied their revolvers in quick succession, and it was quite by mere chance that nobody was killed. The evidence showed the affray to be the result of a drunken spree.

Furthest South.

Following Nansen's expeditions to the North Pole, and Scott's voyage in the "Discovery" to the South Pole, Lieutenant Shackleton who was one of the officers in "Discovery" expedition, decided to have another try to reach the goal aimed at by so many explorers.

In 1907 he fitted up the Newfoundland whaler "Nimrod" to battle with the ice floes of the arctic regions, and from previous knowledge equipped the vessel with every comfort procurable, for a long and perilous journey to fhe South Pole. The vessel itself was fitted with auxiliary engines of 60 horse power, and left the Thames in August 1907, with a crew of twenty-one men, and provisions for eighteen months. The last call on the English coast was at Torquay, leaving there for New Zealand on August 7th, 1907.

Lieutenant Shackleton did not join the expedition until New Zealand was reached, he together with twelve other scientists having gone on ahead. The start for the Arctic regions was made in January, 1908, from this point.

The "Nimrod" was nine months on the voyage from Lyttleton, New Zealand, to Cape Royd, at which point Shackleton left the ship on October 29th, 1908, in company with Lieut. Adams, Eric Marshall and Lieut. Shirk to travel further south over the huge fields of ice. Manchurian ponies were used to draw the sleighs, and also to supply food for the explorers.

After a perilous journey a point 111 miles from the pole was reached, and owing to fatigue and lack of sufficient food supplies, the travellers were bound to turn back. The nearest point reached by other explorers was 450 miles from the pole. Shackleton having explored 340 miles south of Scott's expedition in 1902.

The return journey was more difficult and four of the Manchurian ponies died. Marshall was taken sick and had to be left behind when only a few days severed him from the "Nimrod." Adams and Shackleton went on together to get help and food from the ship, and soon brought their comrade into safety.

The expedition has discovered new mountain ranges and volcanoes and will prove to have made valuable additions to our geographical knowledge. Records of temperature were regularly kept, and it is the opinion of Schackleton that the South Pole can be reached.

The Queen sent congratulory telegrams to the explorers when she heard the news and the Victorian Order was confered on Lieutenant Shackleton.

A list of the famous expeditions to the South Pole may not be out of place:

In 1774 Cook reached a point 1200 miles from the pole.
In 1823 Weddell came within 1050 miles.
In 1841 Ross came within 850 miles.
In 1902 Scott came within 450 miles.
In 1909 Shackleton has broken all previous records by attaining a point only 111 miles from the pole.

Immigration Less Plentiful.

The statistics of the immigration department are to hand and show a decided decrease, for the fiscal years just ended. The number rejected at port of entry exceeded 5000, as compared with 1272 last year, and while 7,452 Japs entered Canada in 1907-8 by virtue of the agreement less than 500 have landed this year.

Sale of Prince Rupert Townsite

The sale of Prince Rupert townsite lots will commence in Vancouver on Tuesday, May 29th and continue through the week. A total of between 2,000 and 2,400 lots are to be sold at this sale, including, as far as possible, lots in every block in the townsite, both in the business and residential districts. About 100 feet of the ditch had been damaged on J. White's place, and the majority were of the opinion that this had been caused by bringing the lowest ditch too close. It was decided to put in a new flume and charge same to J. White.

Manufacturing Old Pictures.

As to the test of looking at the back of a panel or canvas, to deduce its age, the forger is also ready to meet that practice. Never forget that he is better acquainted with the tricks of the trade than his clients. Thus, by means of a special paste, a modern copy or pastiche of an old master is attached to the canvas or panel of some genuine but worthless old painting bought for a few pence. The concoction is then generally baked in an oven; thus the glue gets incorporated and there are found those cracks dear to the amateur and which are to him another certain proof of age. Wood-ashes and smoking in various degrees of strength, also furnish a certificate of age, and liquorice juice is as efficacious for curing pictures as for curing coughs. A decoction of liquorice is rubbed carefully over a canvas, thus producing that warm golden tint that is the collector's joy.

Nor do obstacles such as fly-specks, the incrustations formed by the dust and dirt, daunt the counterfeiter. He has a receipt to meet even these. Thus, to produce fly-specks, a mixture is make of weak gum tinted with China ink or sepia; into this is dipped a fine brush; then standing at some distance, the operator flicks the liquid upon the canvas, thereby creating fly-marks that appear Nature's handiwork. If too many are formed this is easily rectified before the liquid has set. In places where the copyist's skill of hand deserts him (though this is rare, for these copyists are mostly real artists) he will mess a certain spot on his picture just as an uncertain speller before the typewriter days would judiciously blot a word concerning whose spelling he was doubtful. A damp cloth will then be rubbed over the portion that is to be obliterated. The action of the water upon the varnish gives birth to a minute growth of mould, which, carefully manipulated, imitates to perfection the results that the real damp and time might have brought about. Nor are those lines forgotten which in stndio slang are known as "pentimenti," i.e., a contour begun and then modified.

Many a great master's work shows such "pentimenti," and are valued as ineexes of his original intentions. Could the forger overlook even this? As to signatures, only the greenhorn regards these as proofs of authenticity. There are men who make a specialty of appending signatures. They know all the methods of the masters, old and new, in signing, and would take in even the authors. A favourite dealer's device is to get this sign placed under some of the mouldy spots of which mention was made above, and, after assuring their client that in their opinion the work is by so-and-so, leave it to him to make the discovery of the signature after he has got his purchase home and has subjected it to a little of that amateur cleaning so dear to the purchaser's heart. Then the dealer triumphs and the client's faith in him is strengthened.—Helen Zimmern, in "The National Review."

Things Worth Knowing.

Boil a handful of wormwood in a quart of vinegar, and apply the tea as hot as can be borne to a sprain or bruise, then roll the affected member in flannel to retain the heat. Repeat frequently until the swelling is gone

For sore throat pour a pint of boiling water on about thirty leaves of garden sage, and let stand for an hour; strain and add vinegar enough to give it a pleasant acid taste; sweeten with honey, shake well, and in the early stages of sore throat gargle several times a day with it. This is perfectly harmless, and to swallow any of it will do no harm

A great relief for tired, swollen feet is to bathe them in a bath containing the following:—Alum, one ounce; rock salt, two ounce; borax, two ounces; using one tablespoonful to each quart of water. Bathe the feet in this water every night for a week,—"Family Doctor."

The Elephant Fleet.

Its elephant fleet is one of the strangest and most deadly departments maintained by the British Government in India. It is a large fleet of coasting steamers specially built for the transport of elephants.

India's population is one-fifth that of the entire globe. All these people use elephants. They use them for draught work and for tiger hunting, and in the arenas of the native States they even pit them against one another and against wild beasts. The elephant fleet transfers the animals from Dacca, the trapping and training headquarters, to the various districts whence comes the demand.

To get an elephant aboard ship is a difficult and dangerous task. The animal must wade through the surf to a stout raft, and this unknown surf, so white and tumultuoes, often terrifies and maddens him. If in his fury he slaughters a mahaut or two, he cannot be greatly blamed.

Once on the raft, his legs are tied to pegs, and the slow sail to the ship is uneventful.

But now a great band must be arranged under the elephant's belly, and a crane must hoist him up some twenty or thirty feet to the deck. here again the elephant cannot be set down as intractable if, losing his head in that unprecedented aerial journey, he murders some more mahouts.

Very prosperous, albeit stained a little with mahout's blood, the elephant fleet for many years has plied up and down the Indian coast, embarking and disembarking its heavy, unmanageable freight.

Board of Trade Meeting.

would suggest that the money over after paying for the pamphlets be spent in newspaper advertising. The 5000 pamphlets would cost about $350 and would leave quite a fair sum for newspaper advertising purposes.

Mr. Elliott wanted to know if 5,000 pamphlets was enough, he was of the opinion that the whole of the $500 granted by the council was to be spent on pamphlets.

Mr. Rose pointed out that it was not the intention of the Board of Trade to spend all the money on these pamphlets, and had estimated that 5,000 would be enough, if if that was the case why buy more than is needed. As the committee was in the hands of the Board of Trade, more pamphlets could be got if they desired it.

A specification was next read from Mr. Hudson asking if the board would like to put up two frames in the C.P.R. hotel at Sicamous. A suitable place had been selected, and he proposed filling the frames with local views. These frames would be 75" x 40" and would contain twelve views, each one 8" x 10". The cost being $45. He guaranteed them being hung in a conspicuous position.

Mr. Elliott thought a better place for these views would be in Winnipeg.

Mr. Taylor proposed, seconded by Mr. Stirling that the purchase and location be left in the hands of the publicity committee.

Mr. Knowles put forward a suggestion that as the name Sicamous could not be changed to Okanagan Junction, would it not be best to approach the C.P.R. with reference to putting up a board with some such words as, "Do not leave the Okanagan without seeing Kelowna," or that some sign or board be placed in a conspicuous position saying that Sicamous was the junction for Okanagan, and enumerating the various stations in the Valley.

The chairman pointed out that the idea had already been referred to the C.P.R., but it might be as well to urge it further.

The name of Mr. L. Hayman was mentioned, and it was prcposed by Mr. McTavish that he be asked to become a member of the Board of Trade. The proposition was carried.

At this juncture the meeting was closed no other immediate business being on hand.
