First Anniversary of Presbyterian Church

Services Attract Large Congregations

It is just one year since the handsome new brick church built by the Presbyterians to replace the old wooden structure which now serves as a Sunday School hall, was thrown open to the public, and the first anniversary services were held Sunday and Monday last.

The Rev. Prof. Geo. E. Pidgeon, D.D., was the preacher at both morning and evening services, which were rendered still more attractive by the special music which was given by the choir, in addition to solos and duets by Mrs. James Harvey, Mrs. J. N. Thompson, Mr. George McKenzie and Mr. Tom Hill.

The afternoon service took the form of a special address to the young people of the church. In the evening the church was filled to its utmost capacity, the Baptist and Methodist churches having abandoned their services to allow their members to attend the Presbyterian anniversary.

On Monday supper was served in the Sunday School hall by the members of the Ladies' Aid of the church, and the resources of the ladies were taxed to their utmost by the crowd which turned up to partake of the good things provided.

In the evening at 8 o'clock a public meeting was held which was also very largely attended. The Rev. A. W. K. Herdman occupied the chair.

The singing of "All Hail the Power" commenced the proceedings, followed by prayer by the Rev. E. B. Glass and a brief address by the chairman. A violin solo was then contributed by Mr. McBean, followed by a few congratulatory remarks by the Rev. D. J. Welsh, in which he touched upon the progress made by the church and said that although perhaps no outward sign was visible to the public eye of the great work done, an influence for good had been extended which would make itself felt.

Several musical items then followed the first of which, "Excelsior," a duet by Messrs. Weekes and Pedlar, was exceedingly well rendered and greatly appreciated by the audience. Solos by Mrs. James Harvey and Mr. George McKenzie were also well received.

Dr. Pidgeon in his address on "Some Ethical Problems of the Present Day," showed in a very forcible and convincing manner the iniquity in connection with the various forms of immoral traffic which seek to make a business out of the frailties and vices of their fellow men. Incidentally he pointed out the duty of corporations to enforce the law and of citizens to exercise vigilance in taking note of the encroachments of vice and greed in any community. He strongly combatted the notion that the bar room was a help to business. Instead it was the cause of waste and as such must work injury to all forms of legitimate enterprise.

Dr. Pidgeon recommended that a moral reform council be formed in connection with the different churches to which all moral questions as they arise could be referred and gave some striking examples of reform which had been carried out in connection with both juvenile and adult criminals. "The best asset of our country is human life," said the speaker in closing.

The chairman, following up Dr. Pidgeon's address in a few appropriate words drew the attention of the audience to the local situation and emphasized the importance of a clean city and of retaining every good measure which had already been secured.

Before closing the meeting the pastor, the Rev. A. W. K. Herdman, announced that the sum of $700 had been realized in connection with the anniversary services; $500 of this had been collected at the Sunday services while the remaining $200 were the proceeds

Meeting of City Council

A meeting of the council was held Saturday morning, the mayor and Aldermen Jones, Leckie and Dalgleish being present. There was very little business to transact and the proceedings occupied only a very short time.

The minutes were read and adopted.

Referring to the proposal which had been made to borrow money on debentures for the construction of a gymnasium for the fire brigade the city clerk said that he had obtained the advice of the city solicitor, which was to the effect that the city had no power to pass a by-law for such a purpose. The city could not borrow money except for purposes specified in the Municipal Clauses Act, and the purpose for which the money was required was not mentioned in the act.

W. W. Grummett submitted a plan of a subdivision of part of Block 31, map 462, at the corner of Richter St. and Harvey avenue. The plan being in order, was approved and accepted.

The mayor pointed out that that was the last day for receiving tenders on the $27,000 of debentures issued during the present year. He suggested that the finance committee be given authority to open the tenders and accept the most favourable.

A resolution was passed to that effect.

The meeting then adjourned until Tuesday, October 24th at 10 a. m.

From Vancouver to Calgary by Airship

George M. Ellis, birdman, is busy with arrangements for a flight from Vancouver to Calgary. Three times he has virtually tramped the mountain ranges along the line of the Canadian Pacific, picking out landing spots, investigating air currents. He knows the altitudes he will have to make, the distance he will have to maintain them.

Arrangements will be made for carrying a few parcels of mail, and other private messages. Aviator Ellis will shortly leave for Chicago to attend to the final touches to the machine. He will use either the latest model Wright or a Curtiss.

The latest Curtiss design is a flexible fantail, short control, single surface machine, equipped with a 60 h.p. 8-cylinder Hall-Short motor. This is probably the machine he will ride. It is the same motor used by Curtiss on his famous Hudson river flight, and in fact by all the Curtiss champions.

The machine, when thoroughly tested and rigged, will be shipped direct to Calgary by express, where an exhibition trial flight will be made. Then it will go at once to Vancouver for the big get away.

Aviator Ellis is a Canadian, and this is to be an all-Canadian flight. If he gets this far he will soar on across the prairies toward Montreal, with the idea of capturing the Hearst $50,000 prize and winning for Canada the honor of the first cross-continent triumph.

South Western Montana is in the grip of a terrific snowstorm this week that has cut off Butte from communication with the outside world. Every telegraph and telephone wire in Butte has been levelled, communication ceasing at Helena and Deer Lodge on the north and Dillon on the south. It was reported that over two feet of snow had fallen, that all street car service was suspended and put out of commission.

of the supper given by the Ladies' Aid. The very best thanks and warmest congratulations were due, he said, to the ladies, for their invaluable help and untiring energy.

Meeting of Board of Trade

The Board of Trade held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the office of the secretary, Mr. C. A. Fisher. As is only too often the case there was only a bare quorum present to consider the many important questions which came before the Board.

In the absence of the president the chair was occupied by Mr. R. B. Kerr, those present being Messrs. Pitcairn, Haug, Rose, Hereron, Adams, G. Rowcliffe, J. Leathley, A. Eutin, Gregory, and D. W. Sutherland.

The minutes of the last meeting were adopted and the usual batch of correspondence taken up; many of the letters referred to advertising proposals from various quarters, and were handed over to the publicity committee to deal with.

Referring to a previous agitation of the Board for the government to undertake protective work on the banks of Mission creek, Mr. Hereron drew attention to the fact that the Hon. Price Ellison would be in town on Saturday next, and suggested that a committee wait upon him to press the matter. It was of the highest importance to Kelowna that the work should be done. A committee consisting of Dr. Gaddes, R. S. Hall, S. T. Elliott and Hereron were appointed for the purpose.

A long discussion took place upon the project of a road along the lakeshore to South Okanagan.

M. Hereron who introduced the subject said that the road was one which would be of the greatest benefit to Kelowna. The possession of a beautiful drive along the shore of the lake would be an enormous asset to the town. Other places on the lake were making a strong point in their advertising of the attractions of their lake frontage and he thought that Kelowna, which had not only the lake front but a wide stretch of country at the back of it should have the advantage of fine lake shore drives.

The government, he said, was ready and willing to build the road along the lake shore to South Okanagan, but could not proceed because there were one or two people who objected that the road would interfere with the privacy of their places on the lake shore. The majority of the people of South Okanagan were in favor of the lake shore road, in preference to the road through the swamp, and the people of Kelowna in their own interest should back up the government in the former project. The swamp road would cost fully $30,000 to build, whereas the other could be constructed for little over $2,000.

Mr. R. B. Kerr expressed himself as strongly in favor of the lake shore road. Kelowna ought to have drives in both directions along the lake. As regards the legal aspect of the case which was mentioned as a possible objection, Mr. Kerr said the government could take back one-twentieth part of any crown grant to construct a road. There was no difficulty therefore in that respect.

Mr. Pitcairn said that three or four years ago anyone could walk or ride along the shore without obstruction, but now there were fences running down into the lake in several places. Inquiries as to the right of owners of land to erect these had never produced any satisfactory results. The question of government right to the shore seemed to be involved in the old difficulty between the Provincial and the Dominion governments. They all wanted a road along the lake front but there seemed to be many difficulties in the way.

A proposal that the Board of Trade request the government to proceed with the already surveyed road along the lake shore from Kelowna to South Okanagan was passed. Objection was raised by G. C. Rose, who contended that people who had bought lake shore lots within the city, and paid for them in good faith, believing they would have a right to privacy, might misunderstand the resolution and think they were to be deprived of their rights, and their property confiscated, by having a road run between them and the lake.

It was maintained, however, by several speakers, that no such interpretation could be given to the resolution. The government had no jurisdiction over the road except outside the city limits. The road, as already surveyed, was a continuation of Pendozi street, to the lake, which it touched near Dr. Boyce's camp, thence following the shore line to South Okanagan. It would remain with the city council to continue the road through the city.

The telegraph service came in for some very strong criticism. The delays in connection with the transmission and receipt of telegrams it was felt were largely due to the fact that the C.P.R. system ended at Vernon, connection being made with Kelowna by government wires. All messages had to be transferred from one system to the other. A resolution was passed that the C.P.R. be asked to extend their system to Kelowna.

The secretary was also instructed to see Mr. Millie and find out, if possible, where the delays arose, and then to write to the proper authorities asking for a remedy.

A communication was read from Mr. P. DuMoulin asking that the matter of loose paper left blowing around the streets be brought before the council.

Mayor Sutherland, who was present, said the matter was one to be dealt with by the police. If any person saw another throw paper on the streets they had a right to inform the police. He promised to take the matter up with the constable.

A motion was proposed by Mr. Rose and passed that by-law No. 4 be amended to the effect that all applications for membership be submitted to the secretary signed by the applicant and his proposer and seconder, and accompanied by the membership fee.

The idea was to avoid a recurrence of the present difficulty over arrears. A number of those in arrears disputed their liability claiming that they never intended becoming members.

It was suggested that the agitation for an experimental farm for this district be renewed the present being a very opportune time to press the matter. The secretary was also instructed to inquire again respecting the placing of a mail clerk on the s.s. "Okanagan."

A list of accounts amounting to $99.40 was referred to the publicity committee to be paid if found correct.

The reckless discharge of firearms by would-be hunters was also discussed. Three horses had already been shot and there was a danger that lives might be lost if the carelessness was continued.

The secretary was instructed to write to the attorney-general.

The meeting then adjourned.

Parker - Newby

An interesting wedding took place this morning at the home of the bride's parents when Walter M. Parker was married to Maude A. Newby, both well-known young Kelowna people. The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. A. W. K. Herdman, was a quiet one, only the relatives and most intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom being present. The happy couple left by the boat soon after eight o'clock for Vernon.

Mr. Parker is senior partner in the progressive jewellery firm of Parker and Co., whilst his bride is the daughter of Mr. E. Newby, of Glenn Avenue.

The Northern Pacific is offering a prize of $500 in gold for the best exhibit of twenty-five boxes of apples, at the American Land and Immigration Exposition. The competition is open to the world. A great deal of interest has been aroused among fruit growers and it is expected that there will be a large quantity of apples on display in competition for the prize.

ANCIENT MARINERS.

Queer Beliefs They Held About the Unexplored Ocean.

The landlocked Mediterranean, which was the only sea known to the Romans and Greeks of twenty odd centuries ago, was filled with mysterious terrors, while the more distant lands bordering on it were the abodes of wonders and strange peoples. Gods of monstrous shapes ruled the waters, enchanting sirens dwelt on the islets and rocks, and on the dry land beyond were to be found weird enchantresses, fire-breathing beasts, fierce pygmies and dreadful cannibals. Adventurous voyagers who got as far as the pillars of Hercules, now called the Strait of Gibraltar, brought back intelligence that the great ocean beyond was not navigable. It was part of the mighty river which flowed around the flat earth in an unending stream.

Tradition says that there was in those times at Gibraltar a stone pillar 100 cubits high, with a brass statue on it and an inscription stating this to be the limit of navigation. Beyond was a "sea of darkness," infested with terrors beyond the power of the imagination to conceive. Occasionally a bold navigator did, nevertheless, venture outside into the Atlantic, but was compelled to turn back very quickly. A whirlwind would arise and threaten to swamp the vessel, or, more alarming still, a gigantic hand, supposed to be that of Satan, would emerge from the ocean of eternal gloom and warn back the mariners.

Not merely on these accounts was the ocean impracticable for ships. It was reported to be so dense with saltiness and so crowded with seaweeds and huge beasts that headway could not be made through it. Even up to the time of Columbus such beliefs prevailed, and his crews were terrified on entering the Sargasso sea by the weeds and calms.

World's Largest Clock.

Liverpool will soon be able to boast of possessing the largest clock in the world, which is to be installed in the new offices of the Royal Liver Society's buildings in that city. Here are a few figures regarding this clock, which will occupy a position 220 feet from the ground.

Each of its four dials measures 25 feet in diameter, the minute hands being 14 feet long and 3 feet at their greatest width. The total weight of the framework for each dial is no less than 3 1/2 tons, and 5 cwt. of opal glass has been used for each dial. The minute spaces are 14 inches apart, and the hour marks, which take the place of the usual numerals, are 3 feet 6 inches in length. Perhaps a better idea of the size of each dial may be gathered when it is mentioned that fifty people recently sat down to luncheon round the face.

Owing to the clock's exposed position, it has been necessary, in order to safeguard against the worst conceivable weather, to construct each opal face to withstand a wind pressure of over 11 tons.

An Opportunist.

Some facility in trimming sails to the passing breeze was very useful to the newspapers of a hundred years ago. This is how one of the Paris papers announced the arrival and advance of Napoleon after his escape from Elba: "The Corsican brigand has landed at Cannes;" the next day, "The rash usurper has been received at Grenoble." Then the tone changed: "General Bonaparte has entered Lyons;" a few days after, "Napoleon is at Fontainebleau," and finally, "His majesty the emperor alighted this evening at his palace of the Tuileries." Mr. C. F. Warwick recalls the incident in "Napoleon and the End of the French Revolution."

The Taste For Horse.

Is our dislike of horseflesh simply prejudice? If we may judge from the experience of the inmates of the legions, which Miss Hooker recounts in "Behind the Scenes in Peking," the Anglo-Saxon can easily acquire the taste. "It is queer," she says, "to see how many people acknowledge that they like it, having eaten it now for two weeks. Of course, a great deal depends upon the animal, but they agree that mule and pony are better than horse. Some people, even, who have among their stores plenty of canned or tinned beef prefer the fresh horse meat."

A Gladstone Recipe.

At a country house one morning the guests were discussing at breakfast the right way of packing a sponge bag when the sponge has been used and is consequently waterlogged.

Mr. Gladstone, who had apparently been solely absorbed by his morning's correspondence, suddenly closed the discussion by informing the party that they were all wrong.

"The only proper method is to wrap it up in your bath towel and stamp upon it. Then put it in your sponge bag. You will find it perfectly dry."

Sometimes True.

The headmaster of a school recently put up a notice that on an early date he would lecture on the following subject: "Our Eyes, and How We See Through Them."

Shortly afterward he was astonished to find an alternative title written underneath:

"Our Pupils, and How They See Through Us."—London Stray Stories.

A Dry Scot.

Farmer—You had a fire at the manse this morning. Any serious loss?

Minister—Yes. Ten years' sermons were completely burned.

Farmer (with the memory of many a weary Sunday morning)—Weel, but they made a gran' blaze; they were so dry, ye ken.

The Way He Wanted It.

"I would like to have my hair cut, please," he said as he threw himself into the chair.

"Any special way?" asked the barber.

"Yes," was the reply. "Oh."

Their Effect in the First Theaters in Which They Were Used.

The first theater in the world to use incandescent lamps was the Academy of Music, on Halstead street, Chicago, the plant being installed by the Western Edison Light company. The theater was wired for 150 sixteen candle power lamps. The lighting was confined to the auditorium. No electric lights were used on the stage, as dimmers had not been thought of at that time. On the opening night, after the new lights were installed, the actors struck, claiming that it was impossible to make up by gaslight and play their parts under the glare of the electric lights. It was with difficulty that they were persuaded to proceed with the second act.

The first theater to be completely lighted with incandescent lamps was the old Haverly theater, then located on Monroe street, where the later Ocean building now stands. This plant consisted of two dynamos with a capacity of 637 lamps. On the opening night only sufficient lights were started at first to enable the ushers to seat the audience. When the curtain rose every light was turned on, causing a tremendous sensation among the audience and eliciting applause that continued for fifteen minutes. The innovation was so successful that the McVicker's theater and the Chicago Opera House immediately installed similar plants.—W. C. Jenkins in National Magazine.

A DENTAL CURIOSITY.

The Set of Artificial Teeth That Washington Endured.

It may not be generally known that the Father of His Country was one of the first Americans to wear artificial teeth. By the time the war of the Revolution had ended he had parted company with most of the outfit which nature had given him. An ingenious physician and dentist of New York city undertook the then unusual task of re-equipment and produced at length a full set of artificial teeth. These are now, of course, a dental curiosity and offer an additional proof of the heroism of our first president, for it is a matter of fact that General Washington wore those teeth for many years and, so far as we know, never complained of them.

The teeth were carved from ivory and riveted, wired and clamped to a somewhat ponderous gold plate. Three large clamps in particular figure conspicuously in the roof of the mouth and must have caused difficulty, if not anguish. There were an upper and an under set, and the two were connected and held in position relatively by a long spiral spring on each side, says Harper's Weekly.

Nevertheless Washington wore them long and well, a fact sufficiently attested by the worn and dented condition of both teeth and plate.

At the last account these teeth were the property of a dental institution in Baltimore.

A Useful Coffin.

A writer in an English church magazine once found in a collier's cottage in Staffordshire a coffin used as a bread and cheese cupboard. Notwithstanding his wife's remonstrance, he told the story of the coffin as follows: "Eighteen years ago I ordered that coffin. The wife and me used to have a good many words. One day she said, 'I'll never be content till I see thee in thy coffin.' 'Well, lass,' I said, 'if that'll content thee it'll soon be done.'"

"Next day I gave directions to have the thing made. In a few days it came home, to the wife's horror. I got into it and said, 'Now, lass, are thee content?' She began to cry and wanted the 'horrid thing' taken away. But that I wouldn't allow. In the end she got accustomed to seeing it, and as we wanted to turn it to some use we had some shelves put in and made it into a bread and cheese cupboard. We have never quarreled since it came."

Circulating Libraries.

Long before the Revolution a young printer in Philadelphia when he had taken off his working apron at night used to sit poring over his dozen of old volumes by firelight. He soon knew them by heart and hungered for more. But books were costly, and he had but little money. He had eight or ten cronies, young men who, like himself, were eager for knowledge. Hanging his books on a shelf, he invited his friends to do the same, that each of them might have the benefit of them all. Ben Franklin thus laid the foundation of the first circulating library in this country.

On Pa.

"My son," said Barker as he pointed to the ivy in front of the cottage, "always be like the vine—climb." The little boy was thoughtful. "I don't think I'd want to be like that vine," he responded seriously. "And why not, Tommy?" "Cause if I was I'd be a porch climber."—Chicago News.

He Got the Raise.

"You want more money? Why, my boy, I worked three years for $11 a month right in this establishment and now I'm owner of it." "Well, you see what happened to your boss. No man who treats his help that way can hang on to his business."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Nice Selection.

The New Minister's Opportunity

Almost without exception the eastern press, says the "The Province" is expressing satisfaction with the selection of Mr. Martin Burrell as minister of agriculture in the Borden cabinet. During the one parliament of which Mr. Burrell was a member he impressed friends and opponents alike by his comprehensive grasp of affairs and by the moderation of his tone, and he was marked out as a man of strength who if the opportunity was afforded him would "do things."

And this opportunity Mr. Burrell now has. The agricultural department has never been conducted with the vigor desirable in a country like Canada. I. has been allowed very largely to run itself, or it would perhaps be fairer to say that the burden has always been thrown on the shoulders of a few able and conscientious officials, like the directors of experimental farms, who certainly accomplished splendid work but who, of course, could not go beyond certain limits in organization and who besides had their own special tasks to perform.

All the provinces, even including British Columbia, are agricultural regions, and as a whole Canada for fertility and extent of territory is to-day the great country, agriculturally, in the world under one government. It therefore offers an unlimited field for the abilities of such a minister. Mr. Burrell is a practical agriculturalist; he is also a man of ideas, and if any one can place the department, of which he has just taken charge, on a thoroughly good working basis, and make it of great benefit to the country, he surely is the man.

- Provincial and General News -

Premier Whitney has announced that the Ontario general elections will be held in either the first or second week in December.

For the past two weeks the Provincial police authorities have been endeavouring to ascertain the identity of the person or persons who, on September 25 attempted to put out of commission the new main pipe line of the Esquimalt Water Works company, from Goldstream to Esquimalt.

Regina restaurants have decided to draw the color line, and in the future all blacks, Japanese and Chinese patrons will pay just double what their white brothers are charged. This is not a money-making venture, but a polite hint to these people that their patronage is not wanted.

British Columbia's coal production during last year increased by nearly eight hundred thousand tons.

Vancouver's civic voters' list shows a total of 28,000 names, an increase of four thousand on the list of last year.

The provincial department of public works has awarded to Johnson & Co., of Kamloops a contract for the building of a wing to the provincial home for the aged and infirm. The work will cost $45,000. This provides merely for the east wing, which is the first unit in the modern and somewhat unique plans presented not long ago by Architect Frank Owens, a scheme which in its completion will involve an expenditure approximated at $130,000 to $150,000.

The preliminary returns of the census of the new Union of South Africa, taken on May 7th, 1911 shows a total population of 5,958,499, an increase of 15.12 per cent. over 1904. Cape Province has 2,563,024; Natal 1,191,958; Transvaal, 1,676,611; Orange Province 526,906. Europeans now number 1,278,025, increase, 14.44 per cent; natives 4,061,082, increase 16.19 per cent; other colored races 619,392, increase 9.84 per cent. The percentage of Europeans or whites by provinces is: Cape 22.75, Natal 21.54, Transvaal 25.1, Orange 33.3.

The C. P. R. will continue its summer train service on the main line throughout the winter. In former years two trains each way was sufficient to look after the passenger service in the winter months, but owing to the great increase in travel over the C. P. R. it was found necessary to keep the three trains in operation the year round.

Alderman McMaster, of Vancouver, is heading an agitation there for the municipalization of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. and the B.C. Telephone Co.

The council of Moslems of all India has appealed for the intervention of the British government in behalf of Turkey. It is advised also a boycott of Italian goods.

The issue of Canadian gold coins which will be made in the course of a few weeks will bear King George's head on one side and on the other the Canadian coat of arms. The dies have now arrived from England, and coining will commence as soon as possible. The designs for the $5 and $10 pieces are practically the same. The $5 will be generally known as a "George" and the ten as a "Double George."

Miss Minnie Smith of Peachland has written an interesting novel, having for its location the Okanagan Valley. The work is, to a great extent, an appeal for women's rights, and interesting sidelights are thrown on life in the Okanagan fruit district.

A new ten thousand dollar Opera House is being erected at Endorby.

Archie Finlayson, late purser on the steamer Okanagan, has been promoted to the Empress boats running from Vancouver to Seattle. Alfred Watson from the s.s. Rossland on the Arrow Lakes, has taken his place.

Chief engineer John Grey, of the s.s. Okanagan, caught another Whitefish in the lake near Kelowna last week. It measures 18 inches in length, 5 inches in depth and weighs 3½ lbs. Mr. Grey has forwarded the fish to Ottawa for inspection by the Fisheries Department. The Whitefish are the result of an experiment by the Government 14 years ago, when they placed upon in the Okanagan and Arrow lakes. That in the latter is supposed to have been destroyed as no Whitefish have been seen there.

The first consignment of peaches ever received in London, England, from the United States was sold there last month. It comprised two thousand cases of peaches from the Wenatchee Valley, Washington. The Ontario peaches were the only peaches that had previously reached London from this side of the Atlantic.

Export of Square Timber

Year by year the export trade of Canadian square timber becomes less, due to the inadequate supply of clear timber suitable for squaring and to the increased home demand. From a bulletin shortly to be published by the Dominion Forestry branch, it will be seen that the exports as given by the Department of Trade and Commerce in 1910 did not amount to 8 per cent. of the quantities exported from 1871 to 1880, when the trade was at its height, and when an average of nearly five hundred thousand tons worth over five million dollars was exported annually. During 1910 thirty-eight thousand tons were exported, or three thousand five hundred tons less than in 1909. Ninety seven per cent. of this went to the United States. An increase in the price per ton of $2.03 partly compensated for the decrease in volume and made the total value nine hundred and eighty five thousand dollars or only six thousand dollars less than in 1909.

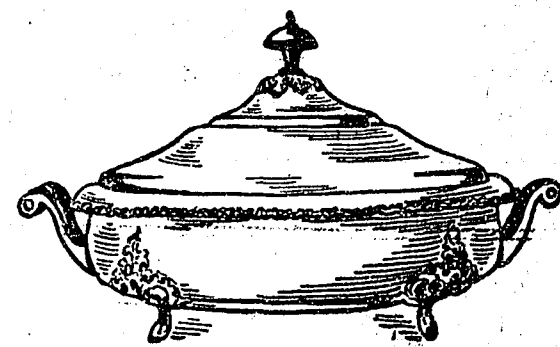

As first quality white pine is the chief specimen exported in 1910, forming fifty-seven per cent. of the total. Ontario is the province mostly drained for square timber exportations. White pine commands the highest price of the seven exported species, and the 1910 price was $31.22 per ton, a ton containing approximately 40 cubic feet. Birch was the second species in importance, although the eight thousand tons shipped out was only sixty per cent. of the 1909 amount. The six thousand tons of elm exported was nearly four times as much as in 1909 and with white pine and birch made up 95 per cent. of the exportations in square timber. Small quantities of oak, ash, maple and red pine made up the remainder.
