Rutland News.

From our own correspondent.

Mr. Frank Farmer, who has been amongst us for the past year, left Monday for San Diego, California.

Mr. Norman Burrows returned from Penticton by Tuesday's boat.

The Rutland store is now under new management. The new firm will be known as "Clever and Whiteway."

Mr. Dan McDonald has built a temporary dwelling on his peach orchard close to the store.

Miss Ada Locke is visiting her uncle at Wenatchee, Wash., and rumour has it that she will probably come back under another name.

Mrs. Schell, snr., returned from California last week and is continuing her visit to her sons.

Rutland was well represented among the prize winners at the Kelowna Fair, and will be more than ever to the front next year.

The death took place last Saturday of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. White, of Rutland.

More Triumphs For Kelowna Fruit

Small Hastily Gathered Exhibit Wins $720 in Prizes at the New Westminster Fair

Just before going to press a hasty wire was received from Mr. B. McDonald, who took down a small exhibit of fruit to the New Westminster Fair on behalf of the Farmers' Exchange, to the effect that out of 38 entries which had been made by the Exchange in the five-box exhibits, no fewer than 31 prizes had been secured, represent a gain in cash of $650. The fruit was gather and hastily packed only a few days before the fair under the supervision of Mr. J. Gibb.

The Agricultural and Trades Association, which also sent a small selection of fruit in charge of Mr. W. H. Blackwood for entry in the plate division, also succeeded in winning $70.

This brings Kelowna's winnings on a comparatively insignificant exhibit to $720.

This total, however, may be still further increased in later advices, as we understand that an independent exhibit was sent by the Bankhead Orchard Co,

It is to be regretted, in view of these gratifying successes that no organized effort was made a little earlier to get together an exhibit more worthy of the district.

Apples for Old Country

Vernon Board of Trade will Make Up Two Cars

Owing to the success of the carload of apples which was sent by the residents of the Okanagan Valley to friends in the Old Country last year, the Vernon Board of Trade has made arrangements to forward two cars this year. It was a splendid advertising medium and it showed the people in the homeland what the Okanagan was raising, and was the means of bringing settlers into the valley.

The rates charged will be the same as last year—cost of carriage delivered to your home address in England, Ireland or Scotland, $1.50 per box; in Belgium, France or Holland, $2 per box. If you have no fruit of your own the Board can supply you at $2.00 per box, fancy packed.

Those wishing to send are asked to write to T. G. MacInnes, Vernon, B.C., who has been appointed by the Board to look after the shipment, telling him the number of boxes you wish to send.

The shipment will leave about the first of November.

Motorist Killed Near Vernon

An automobile accident, which resulted in the death of the driver of the car, Sir Edmund Lacon, occurred near Vernon on the Vernon-Kelowna road last Thursday.

The deceased was manager of Capt. Gordon's farm at Oyama. The latest particulars received regarding the accident show that Sir Edmund left Vernon in his car alone on Thursday evening about 6.30. The car was found by Dr. Duncan overturned beside the road three miles out, at 8.45 p.m. Dr. Duncan on searching found Sir Edmund about a hundred yards from the car. He was still living but died in a few minutes. The road where the accident occurred was straight and level with about three feet drop on the lower side. His hip was dislocated, the pelvic bones crushed, and he was internally injured.

Sir Edmund was married a few months ago and his wife is now in the Old Country. His mother is in Vancouver, and the body was removed there for interment.

A "New England Tea', will be served afternoon and evening of Thursday, October 12, by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church at the home of Mrs. Hunter, above the store of Biggin and Poole. New England dainties will be served by Martha Washingtons in true colonial style. Come and see. Proceeds in aid of society

The Chancel Guild of St. Michael's and All Angels will have an afternoon tea (3 to 5.30) in aid of the new church at the home of Mrs. Lloyd-Jones on Wednesday, October 11. All are welcome.

Royal Bank Opens Fine New Premises

Monday morning of this week saw the Royal Bank in possession of the magnificent new premises which have just been completed for them on main street opposite the old offices.

As soon as business closed Saturday last the work of removal was commenced. This was made easier by the fact that none of the old fixtures were used in the new building, all having been discarded for the handsome up-to-date furniture which graces the new offices.

The new building, which occupies a commanding site on a corner lot on the main street in the very heart of Kelowna's business section, is a handsome structure of the finest pressed brick. The design is simple yet neat and substantial in appearance, and will add considerably to the imposing and business-like air of a busy city which Kelowna's main street is rapidly assuming.

Passing through the main entrance one is struck first with the massive and dignified appearance of the doors and woodwork generally, all of which are of polished oak ornamented with heavy brass fittings, the doors being protected at the bottom from kicks and mud splashes with brass sheathing.

The floor space at the disposal of the public is covered with mosaic tiling of neat design. A fine carved oak bench is also provided for the use of the public, with tables harmonizing in design and supplied with stationery and writing materials. To the left near the entrance is the office of the manager, Mr. F. R. Rees.

The whole of the interior furniture, counters and fittings are of oak, shipped from the East, and would do credit to a bank many times the size. Every modern office appliance is provided, affording ample storage for all stationery and convenient of access.

A door at the rear of the main office leads to the staircase communicating with the rooms on the second floor. These are also accessible from the outside by a side entrance on the cross street. The rooms will be occupied by the office staff, with the exception of the large front room, which is to be rented. Each chamber is fitted with hot and cold water and heated by a radiator connected with the heating apparatus. Bathrooms and lavatories are also provided, all fitted in modern style.

To the rear of the bank is the furnace room, the whole building being heated with a modern hot water system. A small supplementary boiler is provided for supplying hot water to the chambers in summer, when the main heating plant is not in operation. Mr. Gowen, snr., father of Charlie Gowen of the implement firm, is the presiding genius in this latter department having been appointed general caretaker. Mr. Gowen is only recently out from the Old Country.

The cost of the building will be in the neighbourhood of $20,000. Although probably a much less expensive building might have served the purpose of the bank for a number of years yet, the Royal Bank is a go-ahead institution and no believer in half measures. The erection of so fine a structure is an evidence of the confidence which the heads of the bank place in the future of our city. The building is a decided asset to the place and no doubt the people of Kelowna will show their appreciation by increased support.

The True Blue Auxiliary League (junior temperance) re-opened on Monday with a good attendance of members. After the usual exercises the following officers were elected for the coming year:

President: Russel Sutherland
Vice-Pres.: Annie McLennan
Secretary: Richard Horrocks
Treasurer: Louise Evans
Soloist: Dorothy Evans
Organist: Winnie Jones

Conveners of committees will be elected at the next meeting.

Glenmore Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Harker are leaving on the 15th of this month for a trip round the world. They will return in the early spring.

Mr. H. H. MacLeay has as his guests at his Glenmore ranch, Mrs. Kendall, Williamstown, Mass., Mrs. May, Edmonton, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. MacLeay, Montreal. Dr. W. Giles, of Montreal, also spent the week-end with Mr. MacLeay.

Mr. A. Dawson, Picton, Ont., has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. MacKenzie for a week.

The Central Okanagan Lands, Limited, report sales here during the past two weeks as follows:—1,000-acre block to an Old Country syndicate, 100-acre block to an Eastern syndicate. Other sales running over $10,000 each were made to Dr. Giles, Messrs. McDougall, Lewis and Dawson, all easterners. Sales running over $6,000 each were made to Messrs. Rosevear, Whitham, Ritchie and Wismer.

Mr. and Mrs. Tuckey, of Little Metis, Que., who purchased in Glenmore in August have returned from Calgary where they had expected to spend the winter. They are building their new home in Glenmore at the present time.

Mr. Wm. Rankin and family arrived last Thursday from Vankleek Hill, Ont., to live on their property, which was planted last spring. Mr. Rankin will build at once.

Among the most noticeable improvements in the valley is the beautiful building site which Mr. C. C. Prowse is making for his buildings. From this site Mr. Prowse will have one of the most beautiful views in the district. We understand his property will be known as "Orchard View." Other improvements noticed is an extension to Mr. Melville's home, and Mr. Percy Millard is building on his property.

Mr. J. S. McKenzie, who is taking a keen interest in poultry raising, has imported a prize R. C. Rhode Island red cock from New York. The price paid was $50.

Mr. Clifford Buck, who with his family spent the summer months on his ranch, has written that he will be returning from Montreal during the coming months, instead of next spring as intended.

The old trees of Mr. Mayhew's property are attracting much attention on account of thembearing the first apples produced under the new irrigation system. The trees are very heavily laden with perfect fruits of extra fine color. Anyone interested in the development of Glenmore should not miss seeing them before they are picked.

Glenmore was en fete Wednesday afternoon, when many friends turned out at the wharf to meet Mr. H. S. Wake and his pretty bride with a hearty welcome and a shower of confetti. Mr. and Mrs. Wake were driven in a properly white-ribboned carriage to Mr. MacLeay's ranch where they were received by Mrs. May and Mrs. C. A. MacLeay. Mrs. MacKenzie and Mrs. Melville poured tea from a table in the dining-room which was prettily decorated in autumn colours, centred by a pretty white bouquet. Over thirty guests, residents of Glenmore, were present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones returned Saturday last from their long tour of England and the principal European countries. Mr. Jones is enthusiastic over the many notable places which they have visited during their travels, which have been most enjoyable throughout.

Mr. H. Gaddes, brother of Dr. Gaddes, and his wife arrived by Monday's boat on a short visit Mr. Gaddes, who is a member of the firm of George R. Gregg and Co., of Yokohama, Japan, is on his way back there having just returned from a tour in Europe.

The death took place last Sunday of Basilio Guidi, the thirteen year old son of Louis Guidi, an Italian employed at the sawmill. Communications

Under this heading communications will be received upon any subject of interest. Letters must be signed, be brief, avoid personalities. The Editor does not necessarily endorse opinions given below.

To the Editor of the "Orchard City Record."

Dear Sir,—

An endeavour is being made to form a branch of the Theosophical Society in the Kelowna district, and I have had a great many inquiries as to the meaning of Theosophy and the aims and objects of the society. I should be glad therefore if you would afford space for the following brief outline:—

The word Theosophy comes from the two Greek words "Theos" and "Sophia;" Theos—God, Sophia—wisdom or knowledge; together Divine Wisdom.

It is that vast body of truth upon which all religions are founded, the basis of all law, whether moral, scientific or religious. It therefore follows as a consequence that as it is the fundamental substratum, the foundation upon which all religions are built, it cannot be said to be the property of any one religion, but points to the underlying unity that is to be found in the study of comparative religion.

It is not a religion, but religion in its essence. Its action upon all thoughtful minds is to break down the barriers which prejudice, ignorance and blind acceptance raise between men and men by opening their eyes to the contemplation of one source from which all have their origin, in which all have their place—by pointing to the unity which underlies all being, and furnishing a means to the realization of that great principle of Brotherhood which is so urgently pressing itself upon us for recognition and endeavouring to permeate the whole body of humanity. Everywhere to-day we see societies being formed professing this or that purpose, but all making a condition of membership, co-operation, unity of action, brotherhood.

Theosophy deems it wiser, rather than look for the differences between men and between religions, to look for what they hold in common; for whatever is held as a belief in all religions must of necessity bring us nearer to an original source, a point of unity and identity; while differences can only tend to separateness, to lack of understanding, to estrangement and dissolution. It is a binding principle and tends to draw together all men in a bond of fellowship, of tolerance, of mutual respect, of love.

It recognizes that though the wisdom is one, it is not reflected by all units of humanity with equal brilliancy; that this defect is not in itself sufficient to divorce one from another, but is only due to the different stage of evolvement in each one of us in the gradual unfoldment of the fulness which lies in each of us potentially.

It would be folly to expect of the acorn the strength and grandeur of the oak, yet in the germ which is hidden in the heart of the acorn is the potentiality of becoming all that its parent oak has been or will be, for it is the same life that expresses itself in both, the same energy pushing forward to express a similar idea and purpose. And so the theosophist does not grieve over the differences between men, knowing that this is only to be expected from the difference in stage of unfoldment, from the inability of the child to see all that the experience of life has taught the elder brother. It knows that ultimately all will realize the truth, and waits for the day when the work of each shall be accomplished. As it is with the acorn so it is with us. In us there is potentially the seed of divinity. Each human monad, each individual unit of the kingdom of man, when it emanated from the bosom of the Father (whom we call God) when it came forth from Him at the creation of this universe, carried into it bearing His impress, set with His seal, charged with a divine purpose to accomplish, the self-conscious realization of our sonship in Him.

Hence this recognition of brotherhood, which almost unseen forces itself into our lives in concerted action, tends to weld us all together as the expression of one life, one goal, one end, and that end the perfecting of His being in a conscious reflection of the Divine life, the making of Himself a conscious factor in the carrying out of the will of the Supreme.

"Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect," is the ideal held out to us by the Master, and surely such a pronouncement is not made in jest. Surely He to whom we look for all our inspiration would not have set us an impossible task foredoomed to failure.

Seeing that in Himself we have an example of this great achievement, we have an assurance of its possibility, and the light that Theosophy sheds upon the scriptures helps us considerably in the accomplishment of this great ideal by restoring such truths as have in the course of time been lost sight of.

The two truths which stand out pre-eminently in Theosophy as a means to an end are Karma and Re-incarnation. It will at once be seen that the ideal of perfection placed before us is not accomplished in one short life; it therefore argues for repeated returns to earth life, each time taking up our task just where we have laid it down, developing by repeated efforts the germs of that perfection we strive after, gradually building into our characters the virtues which are to make us divine. For as Mrs. Besant wisely remarked in one of her lectures reported in the "Christian Commonwealth" "Nature never gives anything for nothing." —Sydney H. Old.

- Provincial and General News -

A disastrous fire occurred at Penticton last week, completely destroying a new $3,000 house built by Mr. A. C. Pelton. Mr. Pelton was sleeping in the house at the time and narrowly escaped with his life by crawling out on to the roof, from where he was rescued with difficulty. The house had only just been finished, some painting in fact still reqniring to be done. The loss includes $3,000 for the house, $200 in furniture, and $100 in bills.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has expressed his determination to retain the leadership of his party, or as he puts it, to "stay with the boys."

The Provincial Government has provided $12,500 for the improvement of existing roads and the con truction of new ones in the vicinity of Malakwa. Two bridges will be put in this fall, one across Eagle River, one and a-half miles to the east of Malakwa, and the other spanning that river at the little settlement of Baul. This will ultimately lead to Malakwa securing an uninterrupted road connection with Revelstoke and the Okanagan district.

The Methodist general board of missions at Toronto voted $7,763 for Chinese work, and $3,921 for Japanese work in British Columbia. The total appropriations are $280,803, and of this $102,724 is for Indian work and government schools. The British Columbia conference contributed $31,108 to the work.

Three carloads of Lapland reindeer from northern Newfoundland arrived in Edmonton on the C.N.R. from the east. There were forty-three reindeer in three cars. The fourth car was stocked with reindeer food, moss and grass. The reindeer are the representatives of the species with which the department of the interior has planned to stock the district of Mackenzie.

According to an announcement made in Winnipeg this week by C.P.R. officials there will be a great many new branches opened through Saskatchewan for 1912. In that province the company has under construction about 600 miles of track, and surveyors are still out on other lines.

By a big majority the ratepayers of Edmonton and Strathcona both decided in favor of amalgamation. The question has been under discussion for some months and the joint committee has had a large number of sessions in drawing up the basis of union. The agreement was finally reached which has proved satisfactory to the big majority of people. The name of the new city will be Edmonton, and the final step in amalgamation will be brought about by an act of the legislature during the coming session in November. The combined population will be over 35,000 while Strathcona has between 5,000 and 6,000.

At the New Westminster police court, Branford Bros., fruit growers, of Chilliwack, pleaded guilty and were fined $10 and costs for having offered for sale in the New Westminster city market six boxes of apples, the shown surfaces of which were not a fair representation of the contents of the boxes, and also pleaded guilty to charges of insufficient marking and overgrading of fruit.

Lame back is one of the most common forms of muscular rheumatism. A few applications of Chamberlain's Liniment will give relief. For sale by all dealers.

Louis Colquhoun, one of the pals of the notorious Bill Miner, who held up trains in this province some years ago, died the other day in the penitentiary where he had been serving a sentence of twenty-five years' servitude since 1905.

The prevalence of foot and mouth disease, as well as hog maladies, being reputedly stamped out in Great Britain, the Canadian embargo against the importation of livestock from beyond the Atlantic has been lifted. A telegram was received by the provincial authorities from Dr. J. G. Rutherford, Dominion livestock commissioner at Ottawa, conveying the information that all restrictions operating against the importation of livestock from Great Britain have now been removed.

Treating the Forest as a Crop

The progress of the conservative policy of Canada, as applied to forest resources, depends more upon the Forestry branch of the department of the interior than upon any other organization. Upon the technical knowledge and executive ability of the officers of the Forestry Branch depends the future of the forest on 16,000,000 acres of Dominion Forest Reserves, as well as upon the large area of non-agricultural forest land in Western Canada, which for the good of the country may yet be set aside as permanent forest reserves. In addition to looking after Dominion lands the Forestry Branch is now being asked by eastern land owners to furnish advice as to the best means of securing at the earliest date a profitable crop of timber on waste land or wood lots.

The proper administration of forest lands requires a special knowledge of the trees best adapted to each region, of their uses, and of the markets. Further there is needed knowledge of the habits of all trees, especially of the merchantable species, so that it may be known how rapidly they grow, how they produce their seed, when and under what condition the seed germinates, and in what way the seedlings and young trees are affected by their surroundings Such knowledge is gained only by long study and experience. In order that the new Rocky Mountain Forest Reserves may be administered according to the latest scientific knowledge and the best experience, the Forestry Branch is now making detailed studies of the habits of the merchantable species of trees on the eastern slope of the Rockies in Alberta and has sent one of the men in charge of the work to study the systems of forest management practised during the past few years by the highly developed United States Forest Service in the national forests of Montana. The United States foresters have spent large sums of money and availed themselves of the experience of many men in developing plans of lumbering which do not inconvenience the lumbermen but which ensure the protection and reproduction of the forest, and the Canadian Forestry Branch intends to benefit largely by their experience.

The best plaster. A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound on over the affected parts is superior to a plaster and costs only one-tenth as much. For sale by all druggists.
