

THE SEMLIN CABINET

WEST KOOTENAY RECOGNIZED BY THE NEW GOVERNMENT.

A contrast to the way it was treated by Turner—The new Minister—it promises well for the further attention to West Kootenay.

Hon. Mr. Semlin's cabinet has been completed by the appointment of Mr. Fred Hume, member-elect for Nelson riding, West Kootenay district, as provincial secretary and minister of mines. The filling of the fifth portfolio, so long used as a bait for the credulous among the digressed government, is under consideration by Hon. Mr. Semlin, but it is not possible it appears without legislation. In case of the creation of the extra place the provincial secretaryship and education would be put together under one minister and Hon. Mr. Hume would remain minister of mines.

Hon. J. Fred Hume, provincial secretary and minister of mines, was born August 3, 1859, in Jayneville, Carleton county, New Brunswick, in the vicinity of which place his father carried on extensive mining operations. When Mr. Hume was but ten years of age his parents moved to Fredericton where he received a liberal education. In 1881 he journeyed west and at Carberry was manager of the H. A. Perley Hardware Company. (Mr. Perley is now of the Hotel Revelstoke.) In 1883 he came to Revelstoke in time of railway construction and was one of the merchant sons of Hume, Dobson & Co. While in Revelstoke he became associated with Messrs. Cowan and Sanderson, the pioneer steamboaters of Arrow lake, and in 1888 as the Columbia River Transportation Co. they built the steamer Dispatch, the pioneer boat on the lakes. They ran her two seasons when she was bought by the C. & K. S. N. Co., the owners taking stock in the purchasing company. In 1891 he moved to Nelson and there built up a successful general business and became interested as every one does in Kootenay in numerous mining ventures.

In 1891 he was elected to the local legislature for South Kootenay riding as a follower of Mr. Semlin defeating G. Q. Buchanan by a substantial majority. Again in 1893 he was returned for the newly created Nelson riding of West Kootenay, defeating Mr. Farwell in a very close race. His re-election as minister is, however, assured.

The Semlin government did well in giving West Kootenay a representative in the provincial cabinet, and there is a special fitness in the place given to the control of the mines department, the mineral industry being the mainstay of the West Kootenay district. West Kootenay will not forget this recognition of its importance and industry to Hon. Mr. Semlin and his colleagues. It has long felt itself entitled to this and in extending it the Semlin government removes one of the chief causes of discontent against its predecessors who, while laying heavy taxes on the districts industry and reaping revenues largely in excess of those from sections much of let, failed yet to recognize in any political manner its importance to the country.

This early recognition by Mr. Semlin of West Kootenay and its industry indicates not only his keen political perception, but also his sense of justice and broadness of view; and the contrast shown by his favorable notice of the district with the almost complete indifference heretofore given it will not be forgotten by Kootenayites nor forgotten to him when next he comes before them. Again, there is great pleasure in noticing that this appointment augurs well for the practical interest of the new government in the development of the district's great resources, resources so extensive, varied and rich as to justify their consideration as the hope of the country. The appointment of a Kootenay man to the responsible cabinet position of minister of mines is a practical guarantee of future government interest in these resources and an outward and visible sign of an inward appreciation of their value to the country.

While it is but natural that we should have liked to see the representative of this riding of Kootenay, Mr. J. Kellie (who was West Kootenay's first member), get this cabinet position we do not blind ourselves to the fact that Mr. Hume has much greater claims on Mr. Semlin, as he has followed that gentleman much longer than has Mr. Kellie and no one we feel sure will be more ready to congratulate Hon. Mr. Hume than the member for this riding who, though still a private member, will always be looked upon as the champion of Kootenay's rights and the advance guard who leaped the way to the CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

Opposition Papers Striving to Make Capital of Government Economy.

Some opposition papers (it is not long since the MAIL answered that description) greatly exercised at a report that the government intended curbing civil service expenditures, are trying to aggravate it into one of the inauguration of the spoils system. The MAIL hopes that the abridgement of the civil service which is very generally known to be in places considerably over-manned, will also extend to expurgation by the removal from it of every official who took a partisan part in the past election. If it is "spoils system" to remove unnecessary and partisan officials by all means let it be inaugurated without delay, especially in the case of the partisan.

Civil servants are not the servants of a party but of the public and when they enter into their service they should learn to leave their politics behind them. Their political preferences should be subservient to public duty and when they let their partisan zeal get the better of their sense of duty and discretion they deserve nothing but dismissal. Indeed if such persons, who while in office deem it necessary to interfere with voters' free opinions and exert their influence publicly did the right thing, they would not need a dismissal but would manfully take the consequences of their partisanship preferring private life to being officially freed from the hand they did their best to bite and injure. The civil service, according to reports, needs reformation and the government will be well advised if they begin it without delay.

THE CARNES CREEK CO.

Another Splendid Assay Received By the Local Company.

I. T. Brewster, secretary of the Carnes Creek Consolidated Company, is showing a piece of ore from the Rosebery that doesn't look like much, yet the value of it is surprising. He explains that on his recent flying visit he took the idea of getting a few samples at random and privately sending them to W. Pellew Harvey for assay. They were all much alike and didn't look anything in particular when he got into town but he sent two of them away and kept one. The assay result reached him Thursday morning—$224 to the ton. This will be a record assay and proves satisfactorily that the Carnes Creek Consolidated Company have a very high grade pay streak. It is contemplated to raise the price of treasury stock.

The Adair Group.

Back from Laforme creek, Mr. Ed. Adair of the Adair group is very enthusiastic over the prospects of that camp. He believes he is on the mother lode of the country there as it can be traced distinctly for over three miles and the general geological indications are just the same as at Carnes creek for which it strikes. He has built a trail into the group and with three others is working the Eureka which is opening up splendidly. He uncovered the ledge which is 18 feet wide and runs through all the claims of his group and for several claims east of it. He is putting in a crosscut 20 feet deep and just before leaving he had struck the foot wall showing up some splendid mineral. There is 52 inches of ore now on the surface running in bands of from 4 to 14 inches thick, and the balance filled with galena. The iron ore seems to be towards the foot wall and the galena on the hanging wall of the ledge. Above this 18-foot ledge is one of quartz three feet in width well mineralized and carrying 4 to 6 inches of galena; and below the large ledge again are two ledges of a black matter, as described in Mr. Leake's Carnes Creek report, with 4 inches of ore on the hanging wall of one. Mr. Adair will return to Laforme creek on Monday. Further particulars of this very promising and interesting camp will be fully expected as the opinion is steadily gaining ground that it is a bonanza.

Militia News.

Lieutenant-Colonel Hatton, the newly-appointed commanding officer of the militia, arrived at Ottawa Monday night to assume his official duties. The appointment has not yet been officially gazetted but will be in the course of a day or two. Col. Hatton's salary will be $30,000 a year, the high figure Canada has yet paid for a commanding officer. Col. Hatton is a Devonshire man and commanded in New South Wales. He has a splendid army record.

Mr. Kellie's Yukon Motion.

If it had passed it probably would not have come to anything nevertheless, Mr. Kellie's motion, made in the session of 1897, asking that the Yukon be annexed to British Columbia, was right in principle. If the Yukon were in British Columbia the Klondyke discoveries would have been published to the world as being in B. C. and thus the world British would have been connected with them in everyone's mind. Furthermore, being in B. C. no one would have imagined they were in Alaska, hence no one would have gone to American cities to outfit. The administration of the mining laws would have been more satisfactory and the produce have a handsome revenue. Mr. Kellie did not foresee the Colonists alone has any pre-eminence, all these things. He was endeavoring to build a wiser than he knew but it is right to remind the public how very near to being a statesman the member for Kootenay came on this occasion.

If he could have had his will the name of Kellie would have shown resplendent for generations to come, with never a fly in it. Colonists

THE GARDEN PARTY.

A Most Ungratified Success in Every Particular.

On Thursday evening Mrs. T. L. Haig threw open her grounds to the public the occasion being a garden party given in aid of the funds of Fire Brigade No. 1.

The grounds, which are most beautiful naturally, were converted into a veritable paradise being illuminated with innumerable Chinese lanterns and decorated profusely with bunting and flags.

Everything was done by the hostess to render the evening a memorable one and aided by an able and willing band of helpers the party passed off with great cheer and may fairly be ranked as "the function of the season."

The various stalls, which were well patronized, were presided over as follows: Candy, Miss Smythe; bran muffins, Mrs. Cragg; tea and coffee, Mrs. Abrahamson and Miss Turnour; fruit, Mesdames Lawson and Grogan; ice cream, Miss Corlett; Miss Mabel Corlett; Miss McConnell and Miss Stella Brown; flower, Miss Powell; lemonade, Mr. D. Braithwaite.

The Aunt Sally shooting gallery and phonograph were well looked after by Messrs. George, Holmes and Villiers Scott.

The band was present and rendered an excellent programme under the leadership of Prof. Sawyer. The following programme was successfully gone through: the veranda being utilized as a concert stage. Song: "The Storm Fiend"; Mr. S. Saunders; song and chorus: "My Heart's Best Love"; Miss N. Smith; mandolin, guitar and banjo trio, Mrs. Haig, Miss Smythe and J. G. Barber. Miss Sorley presided at the piano.

that grave irregularities have been found to exist in connection with the Glenora-Toslin trail, the statement being made that liabilities amounting to $60,000 had been incurred ostensibly for the construction of the trail without authority.

A member of the government, while declining to state the exact amount of the expenditure, confirms fully the existence of a highly discreditable condition of affairs, no appropriation having been made for the purpose named.

It would be premature to go fully at this time into the details, but the Colonist will perhaps be relieved to know that the new government is proving false the insinuations that they are doing nothing by unearthing what will prove to be a most detectable subject for consideration by the electorate.

REVELSTOKE, AUGUST 27, 1888.

The long-expected explanation by the Colonist of the cause of the Turner government's dismissal has at last been given to the world; yet after all the labor, all the agitation, it but covers itself with further ridicule by bringing forth nothing at all particularly worth attention, except perhaps the partial statement by Mr. Turner himself. That gentleman seems afraid to go as deep into the mire of political controversy on matters of state as the Colonist seemingly would like him to go, yet just goes far enough to demonstrate his own weakness and the mistake he is making by rushing into print. There are several authoritative ways of securing the facts concerning the Turner ministry's dismissal and they can be had, if any one is really anxious to get them, in the course of time.

ANOTHER promise broken; another idol smashed. Following fast the failure of the Teslin-Lake railroad deal comes now the statement by Mr. Hugh Sutherland that the Penticton-Boundary Creek railroad will not be built this year but await a Dominion bonus. Where, O! where, is the dismissed government's progressive railway policy? A reward should be issued for it by their successors. Of all the railway building, of all the promises, of the 1010 miles of road provided for in Bill 68, only 80 miles are actually in course of construction and they would probably be built without the assistance kindly offered by the government deceased. It was indeed time for a change.

While Mr. Hume's appointment to a cabinet position removes one of the legitimate causes of Kootenay complaint, there are others remaining from the dismissed government's policy of extravagant discrimination that requires attention, viz.—fair representation, appropriation commensurate with revenue and equality of taxation. In directing the attention of the government to these matters the MAIL does so with every hope of speedy and sympathetic action being shown as soon as the circumstances of the political situation will allow it. That there is every reason to expect such is evidenced by the appreciation of the district already exhibited in Hon. Mr. Hume's appointment.

THE international conference began its deliberation on Tuesday, and representatives of Great Britain, Canada, Newfoundland and the United States met to discuss a number of questions important to their mutual relations. May an amicable settlement ensue and may August 23rd be a date long to be remembered.

With the opinion of the News Advertiser re a British Columbia delegate to the Quebec commission the MAIL thoroughly agrees. Such delegate would have no standing at the commission and a memorial from the provincial government to the British members of the commission would certainly command attention and respect.

The government's action in canceling that mortgage tax commission is commendably received. It doesn't need a commission to discover that two and two makes four.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.
A WEEKLY BUDGET OF POLITICAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

More yellow journal complaints—Pre-judged guilty—A world's fair for Toronto suggested by the Globe—The cardinals hat for Archbishop Walsh.

OTTAWA, August 20.—Having worked off a large amount of superfluous energy—we were going to say spleen—in reproducing, with every variety of trimmings, the yellow journal yarns from Dawson City via Seattle and San Francisco, it is now occurring to the ultra-conservative press to demand an investigation into the alleged mal-administration in the Yukon. With exquisite appreciation of that British fair play that declares every man innocent till he is proven guilty, the traducers of the minister of the interior and his subordinates in charge of the government of the gold fields have accepted every story that reflects discredit upon the department and taken for granted that every charge and allegation is true.

WHO ARE THE KICKERS?

By far the greater proportion, if not the whole, of the stories referred to are traceable to their masters who are taking this means of kicking against the regulations that require them to contribute towards the maintenance of law and order in which they are the greatest beneficiaries and who imagine that their disreputable tactics may bring about the removal of the officials who are too strict and impartial in enforcing the regulations. There is, unfortunately, a certain amount of truth in the idea that if you throw enough mud some of it will stick, and it should therefore be borne in mind that while on one hand there has not been a scintilla of unimpeachable proof of corruption, claim-jumping, bribery, extortion, oppression, discourtesy or wrong doing of any kind on the part of a single official, there has, on the other hand, been any quantity of testimony as to the efficiency and high character of the authorities in charge, and reiterated categorical denial of these stories of mal-administration.

Having demanded an investigation and having received in reply, not only the support of the government press, but the promise of the government itself that the full inquiry shall be made, would it not be the part of common decency, let alone patriotic citizenship, to allow the matter to rest until at least some opportunity has been given to make the said investigation?

A FAR-SIGHTED POLICY.

No more far-sighted step has ever been taken in the department of immigration than the project so successfully put through under the Hon. Mr. Sifton's suggestion of conducting excursions of newspaper men from the Northern States through Manitoba and the North West. Scores of newspaper men from Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota have been spending two weeks in personal contact with the magnificent possibilities of our great west country and now scores of newspapers in those states are telling hundreds of thousands of readers of the infinite possibilities of the country only a couple of days journey from them. When we remember that probably nine-tenths of that constituency are of the very class of sturdy farmers that will make the greatest settlers, we can begin to realize what the net result of that little holiday trip is likely to be.

SOME BUNNY IDEAS.

One does not realize how absolutely ignorant our neighbors are, even to-day, of the actual conditions. One paper says, "We thought Canada a worthless wilderness, and Canadians cold, unsympathetic and selfish;" another refers to "Our pre-conceived notion of Manitoba as a land of barren prairie, Indians, half-breeds and rebellion;" while a third speaks in superlatives of "the vast areas of arable land waiting settlement and cultivation, the grandeur of scenery, and the fraternal spirit of the Canadian people." These are but samples of scores, maybe hundreds of like illusions, for many of the papers are running a series of letters upon what the editors saw during their trip.

A WORLD'S FAIR FOR CANADA.

Wide spread attention is being attracted to the proposal to hold a World's Fair in Canada at the commencement of the twentieth century. The project is an immense one, and the Toronto papers are performing valuable public service in securing the candid opinions of experienced public men thereon, for, to be successful, it would require to be carried out upon a scale greater than anything ever before attempted in the Dominion. The advantages to be expected from the scheme would be the splendid advertising that Canada would receive throughout the world, and the excellent facilities that would be offered to tens of thousands from other countries to visit the Dominion and personally judge for themselves of its unparalleled opportunities and resources.

era of unparalleled prosperity and progress Canada's greatest need to-day is to become better known to the outside world.

THEY DON'T KNOW US.—To us who are familiar with the actual condition of affairs here, the ludicrous ignorance existing abroad is scarcely conceivable. We are producing in yearly increasing quantities vast stores of natural products, particularly agricultural and mineral, for which new markets must be found. If a World's Fair would assist in opening up those markets, supplementing the untiring efforts of the federal and provincial authorities, it will be well worth the time, trouble and cost; if, however, the proposed exhibition is simply to offer facilities to the foreign exhibitors to display their goods, Canadian interests will only derive a minimum of benefit. That every dollar judiciously spent in placing the resources of the Dominion before the purchasing nations is a glorified investment, no one will question, and our governments are to-day alive to its importance. This more ambitious project of bringing the purchaser here is a departure from the old lines, and in view of all that is involved, there must be most cautiously entered upon.

The outcome of the present discussion will be watched with great interest throughout the Dominion, and if it is decided to go ahead and make the experiment, Canadians from Halifax to Victoria, may be relied upon to stand shoulder-to-shoulder in making the exhibition a magnificent national success.

HE WOULD HAVE BEEN CARDINAL.—There is a pathetic interest attaching to the post-mortem announcement which has recently appeared, to the effect that the Holy See was about to confer upon the late Archbishop Walsh of Toronto the Scarlet Hat left vacant by the death of Cardinal Taschereau. Protestants and Roman Catholics unite in admitting that the high honor could not have fallen on more worthy or more competent shoulders. While it is distinctly intimated that the position is now entirely open, the Vatican having no second choice, there is a very persistent rumor that Archbishop Duba of Ottawa is the most likely candidate.
