FIRES.

Calls From Fred Robinson Mill and Lower Town.

The town was startled yesterday afternoon by the tooting of the whistle at the Fred. Robinson Lumber Co.'s mill, followed by the ringing of the fire bell. No. 2 and the C. P. R. brigades quickly mustered, Supt. Kilpatrick, Master Mechanic Temple and Locomotive Foreman Roberts actively joining. Bucket brigades were organised by citizens pending running out the hose reels. The brigades were handicapped owing to the long line of hose they had to run as the 4-inch main to be laid across the track, and which was ordered by the city four months ago, has not yet arrived and no hydrants are provided near the mill in consequence. The city clerk was advised two days ago of the shipment of the pipe, and as soon as laid a recurrence of the same difficulty at the east end of the town will be avoided.

The alarm was caused by a violent wind storm springing up from the east and igniting sawdust and dry stumps and logs around the mill by the stream of sparks which was carried along. The falling of the wind, accompanied by some rain, assisted the efforts of the bucket brigade, and the danger was soon over.

Bourne Bros. and R. Howson acted with commendable promptitude in getting the fire equipment on the scene. Messrs. Bourne's delivery wagon, in charge of G. W. Bell, was waiting in front of the store when the alarm was given, and was promptly utilised to run the hose reel from the fire hall, while Mr. Howson had the spare hose run up.

Simultaneously with the alarm from the mill another alarm was raised in the lower town. The chimney of the Oriental hotel took fire and the wind extended the fire to the roof of No. 1 fire hall and the old Mining Exchange. The water supply here was first class and with its prompt use by No. 1 brigade the fire was speedily suppressed. Meantime No. 2 brigade was appealing to No. 1 to come to their aid at the mill, the former being unaware of the trouble at the lower town. This fire was suppressed with merely nominal damage.

A BLOODY REVOLUTION.

King and Queen of Servia, Their Family and Ministers Murdered by Militia.

Belgrade, June 11.—A military revolution broke out here last night. The troops, who revolted under leadership of Major Angikovics, surrounded the palace and assassinated King Alexander, Queen Draga, the latter's sister and brother, Nijodemia, Premier Karkvitch, Ministers Petrovitch and Tudorovitch, General Pavlovitch, the former minister of war, and some members of the royal guard. Prince Karageorgevitch was proclaimed king. A new government was formed.

NORTH BEND.

C. P. R. Hotel Damaged by Breaking of Reservoir.

The C. P. R. Hotel and yard at North Bend has been supplied with water from a reservoir on the mountain behind the hotel. Owing to the log jam in the stream being carried out the rush of water was so great the structure was carried down the mountain side and broke through the hotel, the dining-room of which was filled with debris and the beautiful lawn attached to the hotel was ruined. The incident scared the occupants of the hotel badly but no one was hurt. Supt. Beasley arrived at North Bend Thursday to take steps to repair the damage.

COLUMBIA RIVER IMPROVEMENT COMPANY.

We have received a copy of the Columbia River Improvement Co. bill introduced by Mr. Galliher, M. P. The incorporators are Jas. White, G. McCormick and D. J. Grant, of Orillia, Ont., Archibald Alexander and C. W. McMillan, of Winnipeg. The capital is $50,000 in $100 shares, with power to increase to $200,000, and head office is Winnipeg. The bill gives power to place booms on the Columbia river or Arrow lake, but such booms shall not interfere with free navigation by steamers and other craft. The company may erect booms, slides, piers or dams on the river between Surprise rapids and Arrow lake or any tributary thereof, and may levy toll on timber coming into its possession at a schedule to be approved by the governor-in-council.

The company to have power to operate tugs, telegraph, telephone, electric light and to expropriate land same as railway companies.

VILLAGE SETTLEMENT.

Great Improvements Being Effected By Settlers.

A trip through the village settlement on the north side of the track shows the settlers there to be making rapid improvement in their holdings.

Geo. Laforme Senr. has a fine crop of clover. His garden looks well with its crops of strawberries, rhubarb, and onions.

P. Kennedy has eight acres of splendid land which he intends setting out in fruit trees.

P. R. Peterson has the best homestead in the rural districts lying round Revelstoke. His buildings are most complete, his land is well cultivated and in a year or two he will have one of the most highly improved village lots in the district.

Dan McIntosh is getting his lot in shape to plant with fruit trees.

T. Skinner has one of the best cultivated lots in the settlement. He has sown out a quantity of early onions. The seed was imported from Australia and gives a crop a month earlier than Canadian seeds. Mr. Skinner has a fine lot of small fruits, including currants and gooseberries. Half an acre is under strawberries, the variety grown being a hybrid he raised himself. Crops are also grown of peas and asparagus. Mr. Skinner is having more land cleared up and will reserve a grove to make it a pleasant spot for visitors who wish to go out and take the run of the berry patch. Mr. Skinner is a breeder of Belgian hares, of which he has 15 to 20. He took up this fancy five years ago and finds the hares do well here.

E. Picard has one of the neatest homes in the settlement. His lot is well fenced and cultivated. At his poultry yard he wintered 150 fowls.

J. Maddox, who purchased four acres from E. Picard is having his land cultivated with a view to putting it under potatoes. J. Sands is doing the work, and has done nearly all the cultivation in the settlement.

H. E. R. Smythe has planted out a large number of fruit trees. He has a fine showing of strawberries and other small fruits, and his poultry yard is well stocked.

L. Benoit has a splendid crop of hay, and is making here one of the neatest homes in the settlement.

The new house erected by E. Brault is a great improvement to the settlement.

J. Maley's garden on the Big Bend road is an ever interesting spot for visitors. Numbers of ladies go out and personally select their pot plants and annuals from Mr. Maley's stock. Many tomato plants have been set out in the hot-house and are already fruiting well so that citizens will soon be able to get a supply of locally grown tomatoes. He has also planted out citrons and cucumbers under glass. Mr. Maley intends going in strongly for roses and cut flowers by next season. His strawberry patch looks splendid. He has a large quantity of early cabbage, celery and late cauliflower planted out.

S. Smith is getting his lot on the Bend road cleared and cultivated and is keeping two cows.

W. Hamilton intends going in largely for poultry.

FIRE VALLEY.

From our own correspondent.

C. W. Calder, of Nelson, has pre-empted a ranch in the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood, of Nelson, are guests at the Edgewood Dairy Ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Winn, of Rossland, have been in the valley for a short time as the guests of E. J. Bangs.

Mrs. Carmichael, who has been visiting her mother in Rossland, returned home on Sunday.

F. C. Morrison left for Monashee mountain on the 4th.

J. B. Old returned from Nelson on Sunday. Mrs. Old and son are expected home this week from Revelstoke.

RAIL AND STEAMER

The steamer Revelstoke was unable to leave for the Bend yesterday owing to high water.

C. P. R. Manager McNicoll, who is now travelling towards the coast, says he is making a thorough inspection of the company's system this trip.

On the Lardeau railway the iron bridge over the Lardo river was swept out and other damage done which will probably suspend traffic for three weeks.

An instance of the vagaries of the present railway tariff presented itself this week when a local firm paid $300 a carload less on a consignment from the old country than the rate charged for the same consignment from Eastern Canadian points.

WATER SUPPLY.

City Takes Steps to Improve the System.

Mayor O'Brien has been closely investigating the question of water supply for the city, and has had his coat of climbing the mountains behind the reservoir. As a result a special meeting of council was called for last night.

As the result of the Mayor's report it was decided to repair the present reservoir as it is leaking badly, and to repair the lower dam and dams at reservoir and on Long's creek. The flow of water will also be measured at point of intake and also at a point 1000 feet higher up where Brewery creek flows along bedrock. If there is found to be a loss in the gravel bed at the lower point a flume will be extended to take in the larger stream and a dam built there so as to make the most of the supply available.

The Mayor also recommended building auxiliary reservoir with capacity of 42,000 gallons to be used solely for fire protection, but decision on this was left over for a fuller meeting. These proposals will greatly improve the water supply, and if there is loss by percolation as now supposed the plan suggested by the Mayor will give a water supply for the city sufficient for the next two years and at the low cost of $1,500.

ARROWHEAD.

From our own correspondent.

The water is over the track in several places between Wigwam and Revelstoke.

Mrs. J. Kellett and family leave today for Winnipeg and Southern Manitoba to visit relatives and will return in September.

It is expected today's train will be the last for some time. Steamers Kootenay and Rossland will make trips to Revelstoke while high water lasts.

June 12th.

THE STRIKE.

A Settlement Arrived at—Local Union Endorsed Terms.

Yesterday Messrs. Halton and Brookes, of the U. B. R. E. arrived in the city to confer with the local division with a view to settling the strike. They met the local members last night and the terms of settlement were endorsed. Messrs. Halton and Brookes left this morning for Calgary and Winnipeg to meet the divisions there and submit the terms of settlement. If they fall in the agreement between the company and the men will be finally executed and the strike declared off.

Asked as to the terms the delegates say both they and the company are bound not to disclose them and the statements of the coast papers are untrue. They assured us the terms were satisfactory to both sides.

THE MINES.

The eastern visitors to the Granby mines are worth $50,000,000.

Messrs. Andrews, Dougherty and Riley left on a prospecting trip of Shuswap district.

The Camborne Miner says rich ore has been encountered in the Stockholm near the Eva.

One of the Duluth stockholders in the Revelstoke and McCullough Creek Hydraulic arrived this week on a visit to the property.

C. Hustead and W. Leser, of Elwood, Indiana, two shareholders in the Western Star, are on a visit to the company's property.

Manager Blackwell of the Northwestern, reports having located an exceedingly rich ledge of quartz below the recent strike.—Miner.

H. Howell and J. Magee have gone in to Vermillion creek to do assessment work on the claims they and other Revelstoke parties hold there.

The final payment on the $50,000 bond on the Providence, Greenwood, was made by Madden Bros., Chicago. Excepting initial payment of $12,500, the Providence, from the proceeds of its ore, has met cost of development, mining expenses and instalments of purchase price, and there is a substantial balance in the treasury.

Mr. Paine, the Boston copper capitalist, says he is confident that mining in British Columbia is only in its infancy, but the character of the ore is such that only economical management and low railway charges could make such enterprises successful. Commented on railway rates, Mr. Paine stated the road of which he is president in Michigan hauls ore an average distance of 17 miles for 15 cents per ton.

The local branch of the socialist organisation has doubled its strength during the past two weeks.

UNION LABEL

SATURDAY, JUNE 13, 1903.

Steps should be taken to give the village settlers on the north side of the track a proper system of roads. At present there is no road along the river bank.

The Columbia river is encroaching rapidly behind the village settlement on the north side of the track, and the provincial government should take steps to protect the bank before more damage is done.

A justice of the peace is required at Cariboo City or Burton. There are over 200 people in that vicinity, and the want of some one to take declarations etc., especially in mining matters, has been much felt. John Houston, M. P. P., intends running for Ymir at the coming elections and we suggest he take steps to have a justice appointed for that portion of the electorate.

REFORMS WANTED.

The staff of the government buildings at Victoria needs thorough reorganisation. From all parts of the province come complaints of the lax administration of departments. The Camborne Miner relates an instance of gross negligence in the Lands and Works Department. There is a very strong feeling throughout the province against the unsatisfactory manner in which public works are carried on under Mr. Gamble, provincial engineer. Hon. W. C. Wells was urged in many quarters to improve the work of this branch of his department, but was powerless to do anything as Gamble is a prominent conservative and the tory element in the cabinet, being in the majority, insisted on matters remaining as they were for Mr. Gamble's convenience, no matter how much the province should suffer as a whole. How long will the people tolerate the continuance of this state of affairs?

THE POLITICAL POSITION.

British Columbia has arrived at a new stage in its political history by the adoption of party lines. Whether the result will be for better or worse time alone can show. The conservative party is in power. That is nothing new. Though not on specific party lines the conservative party has virtually been in power in this province for many years, with the exception of the period of the Semlin-Cotton government, which was largely dominated by the liberal influence of Joseph Martin. The province never had a better government than that, till internal dissensions brought it to grief.

The conservative rulers of British Columbia have left a bad record behind them. Under the Turner government one of the ministers, Col. Baker, was a party to the steal of three million acres of B. C. Southern land including the Crow's Nest coalfields, worth scores of millions to the province and for which not one cent was paid the public treasury. Baker made his fortune out of the scandalous transaction and went to England to live on the proceeds. The same government arranged the deal to give the C. P. R. the balance of the East Kootenay coal and oil lands, the grants for which have just been cancelled.

In the new conservative cabinet are two ministers who supported that system of public spoliation, R. McBride and A. E. McPhillips. The evidence at the land investigation showed McBride was a member of the cabinet when it was proposed to hand over these valuable lands to the C. P. R. and he supported the scheme. The evidence also showed that McPhillips visited ministers personally and urged the handing over of these grants to the C. P. R. But for the stand taken by Chief Commissioner Wells it would have been done.

Will the electors consent to allow the affairs of the country to remain in the hands of men who supported the proposed spoliation of the public estate in the past? We do not believe they will. If these men would endorse such a transaction two years ago, what evidence have we of their having undergone a change of heart such as would prevent them putting through a similar deal again? The country demands that its public affairs shall be in the hands of men with a clean record, men who will work for the good of the people instead of the corporations. In the liberal party Canada has found men to place in power at Ottawa whose administration has on the whole been most beneficial to the country and a great improvement on that of their predecessors. Is it not reasonable to expect that the party who has done so much for the whole dominion can do as much for the province if entrusted with the administration of its affairs? We think it is, and certainly it would not be much to its credit if it could not institute in British Columbia a change for the better from the existing state of affairs for which the conservative party has been mainly responsible in the past.

UNITING THE EMPIRE.

Canada has reason to be proud of having Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the head of the government. Highly as he is appreciated by the liberal party his splendid statesmanship is not fully realised. With his foresight he was able to see the advantages of a reciprocal trade policy within the empire and laid the corner stone on which the edifice of a new British nation is to be erected. Chamberlain is the foremost statesman of the empire today. He has taken up the policy initiated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the liberal party of Canada, and will stand or fall by it. In his great speech at Birmingham he said:—

"Canada has been the most forward in endeavoring to unite the empire by other means of strengthening our commercial relations and by giving us special favor and preference. If we appreciate this action properly it seems to me that not only is it certain that every other colony of the empire will necessarily and in due time follow this example.

"Now, what has Canada done for us? Let me say, however, before I come to that that my policy which I wish to make clear to you is not to force our colonies—that is hopeless; they are as independent as we are—but to meet everything they do. If they see a way of drawing the empire together, let us help them in that, even if they may not be prepared to join us in some other way from which we think the same result would be achieved. But let us be prepared to accept every indication on their part of this desire. Let us show we appreciate it, and believe me it will not be long before all will come into line."

Australia, New Zealand and South Africa have already intimated their desire to fall into line with this grand empire-building policy—the greatest the world has ever seen, binding the British nation into one harmonious whole, with a military, naval, commercial, and educational prowess which will maintain it as the most powerful and vigorous nation on the face of the earth.

THE U. B. R. E. STRIKE.

The investigation of the U. B. R. E. strike at Vancouver has resulted in the Chief Justice censuring the C. P. R. for wrong towards its employes. The evidence showed the company had deliberately set itself to kill the U. B. R. E. on the ground that it was a socialist organisation detrimental to the road. We can tell the C. P. R. that half its employes today are socialists, or on the high-way to socialism, and if an election took place tomorrow a socialist candidate would take nearly half the railway vote. What is the matter with socialism anyway? Statesmanship all over the world is travelling rapidly in that direction. State ownership of monopolies, one of the cardinal planks of socialism, is advocated by both liberals and conservatives. There is no more socialistic administrative body than the London County Council.

It is therefore evident that the company's objection to the organisation on this score is absurd. But what does the company's contention, if sincere, amount to? Simply this—that it regards its employes as serfs who have no right to think for themselves. Turn a thinker loose and he shakes the world. Turn a monopolist loose and he shakes as much of the world as he can fence in. The company's stand in this matter can only mean that it is afraid members of the U. B. R. E. are thinkers, and that these thinkers will stop it from grabbing more of the people's assets. On its own confession the C. P. R. would support the revival of those dark days in history when our forefathers were burned at the stake for daring to speak or write their thoughts. The company in these days cannot very well erect stakes, pile faggots and give an exhibition of a public bonfire of its employes who dare to think, but it can dismiss them from its employment, and can blacklist them so they cannot get employment on other road, and, owning as it does the monopolies of transportation and vast areas of the public estate, it can refuse the means of subsistence to the less independent of its employes and starve them into subjection. This is the sort of tyranny that educates and spreads the doctrines of socialism. The C. P. R. is probably in this way the most active propagandist of socialism in Canada today. Other evidence showed beyond question that under Manager McNicoll the management of the road is drifting into tyranny and Shylockism which, if continued, must be attended with serious strikes in the future, curtailment of privileges and imposition of heavy taxation by the legislature.

WHY I AM A LIBERAL.

No. 2.

Another important chapter in the history of Canadian liberalism is the story of the battle between church and state. The liberals fought for domination by the people while the conservatives, to retain power, pandered to the sectionalism and religious prejudices of Quebec. Of this Mr. Willison says: "To Sir John Macdonald, "in view of his Quebec alliances, there was clear political gain in resisting the Brown school of federalists."

LAURIER'S STAND FOR RIGHT.

Though Catholic by upbringing, Laurier's education in an English school, and his intimacy with Protestant families instilled in him that religious toleration that has made him as much esteemed by Protestants as by those of his own faith and prepared him for the stand he was to take in resisting the encroachment of his mother church on the liberties of the people. In his first speech he urged the duty of "holding within limits the audacity of the powerful and relieving the wretchedness of the weak," and added: "I say it to our glory that race hatreds are finished on our Canadian soil. There is no longer any family here but the human family. It matters not the language the people speak or the altars at which they kneel."

In closing that speech he urged "justice, the most noble of all human perfections; patriotism, the noblest of all human virtues; the union between the peoples, the secret of the future."

HIS FIGHT AGAINST THE CHURCH.

Laurier showed his determination to stand for liberalism and in defense of civil rights by joining the Canadian Institute, a literary and scientific society of Montreal which was tabooed by the Catholic Bishop Bourget. The priesthood tried to crush it by starting rival societies, by excluding any but Catholics from joining, refusing Protestant papers to the reading-room, charging the institute with circulating immoral books and literature, and by getting up petitions among members pledging to withdraw from membership. Such men as Laurier, Dorion, Doutre and Laflamme fought these schemes, and insisted on the right of the institute to be its own judge of the literature to be placed in the library. The bishop said he was the only judge, and warned the members of their liability to excommunication. Laurier maintained the right of independent thought, and replied to the bishop by issuing notice of a lecture "Does religious profession in Canada entail civil death?" The institute also resolved that the education system controlled by the priesthood was defective and unsatisfactory, Laurier supporting the resolution. The fight was carried by these resolute liberals to the Pope at Rome.

THE INSTITUTE KILLED.

The Pope supported the Bishop, but the liberals would not be downed. They issued a report of lectures, one of which was given by Mr. Dossaulles, in which he said: "What evil is there, in a country of mixed religious opinions, in men of mature mind belonging to different Christian sects, giving one another the kiss of peace on the field of science? What! Is it not permissible, when Protestants and Catholics are placed side by side in a country, in a city, for them to pursue together their career of intellectual progress?"

In the report was Horace Greely's lecture in which that eminent man said: "For the liberal, in the century in which we live, there is but one country, the World; but one religion, love to God and man; and one patriotism, to benefit and elevate the human family. We have for adversaries tyranny, ignorance, superstition, and everything which oppresses or degrades."

That was too much for a bigot like Bishop Bourget, who immediately issued an edict forbidding Catholics belonging to the institute or retaining, keeping, or reading its reports, and threatening members with refusal of the sacrament. Thus has the French-Canadian wing of the liberal party fought for that freedom of speech which is the God-given privilege of every country where liberty seeks to take the place of tyranny.

CORRESPONDENCE

Fair Play Criticised.

Editor KOOTENAY MAIL:

Sir,—After a careful perusal of "Fair Play's" attempt at argument I can only see one or two points worthy of notice. He says that "a little knowledge" is a dangerous thing." Whose fault is it that the majority of people have only a little knowledge? I do not think that it is the workers fault. The majority of us would like to have some useful knowledge, but there is the critical point, what can be called useful knowledge? By that I mean knowledge of use to everyday working people. The only knowledge taught in public schools, which by the way, are condemned by "Fair Play," is reactionary and absolutely misleading. "Fair Play" is an example of this system of education.

He quotes a text book for school children called Collier's History of England for an authority. As a collection of dates referring to battles, butcheries, rapine, murder and illicit loves of degenerate kings and nobles, Collier's history is certainly to be commended, but to call it a history of the English people is a travesty so absurd that no sane man would entertain it for a moment. A history, to be a history, should not deal so much with individuals and their opinions, unless these opinions influenced the economic condition of that time or the future, but should state the conditions and feelings of the people en masse existing at the period under discussion.

What do we care whether Wat Tyler was killed by a king, noble or mayor? The only fact here worth recording is that a people oppressed by tyranny and taxation made a bid for liberty in the best way they knew how. I suppose "Fair Play" would suppress all labor troubles in the same way that Wat Tyler's bid for liberty was suppressed. ("Fair Play" must be a lawyer: vide Collier's history p.p. 86-87.) He is on a par with a certain New Jersey court, which in a famous railway case rendered a verdict basing their decision on a precedent established in reign of Henry VIII.

The pity of it is, instead of giving children their knowledge of economics at school we allow bitter experience to be their teachers. This has filled the earth with a sullen proletariat, bursting with class hatred, who, instead of exerting their power in an intelligent manner, strike with a blind fury at their oppressors.

The only ray of light in "Fair Play's" effusion is where he states that responsible directors of industry should give these matters their mature consideration and that they have staunch friends in the press and church. This statement should show the workman on which side his interests lie. "Fair Play" clearly implies that the industrial barons should bring greater pressure to bear on the workers, drive the women and children into the factories and mines, put their daughters in department stores where they cannot earn enough to support themselves, in fact he asks for anarchy, for as he says they are the law, and the press and the church is subsidized. But "Fair Play" loses sight of one fact—the workers still have the ballot box to go to.

"Fair Play" had better come out of his trance, and instead of turning his back on the future and diving into folk-lore hundreds of years old he should study the economic problems as they exist today. Washington Irving must have written Rip Van Winkle immediately after attending an "at-home" given by the class to which "Fair Play" belongs and intended no doubt that, R. V. W's. rifle (which was rusty to say the least) should be symbolical of their knowledge of economic questions as they exist today.

"Fair Play's" letter reminds me of the following parable: A farmer one day hitched up his mule to a cart, but when he picked up the reins the mule refused to move. "What is the matter," said the farmer. "I want some oats," the mule replied. At this the farmer flew into a rage and said, "Look here, your father worked every day harder than you work, and all he got was hay. Why should you have oats when hay was good enough for him." "I know," said the mule, "but my father was an ass."

Workers, old party lines are represented by the hay. Which would you rather be, a mule or "Fair Play?"

Yours etc.
FATHER PLAY.

THE LIBRARY OF MODERN ELOQUENCE stands without a peer. Nothing like it was ever attempted before. Edited by one of the greatest of Modern Leaders of Men, Ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed, assisted by a corps of editors famous wherever English is heard, MODERN ELOQUENCE is the masterpiece of one who has lived close to those who have made and are making the history of our times.

In these volumes the reader runs the whole gamut of eloquence, from laughter to tears, from pathos to ridicule; keen satire is mingled with unctuous humor; the strong, trenchant utterance of action with the droll fancies of the humorist.

THOMAS B. REED

We see the speaker, we hear the laughter, we surrender to the spell of the words; we can feel the tense silence as the speaker mounts in his sublimest flights, then hear the outburst of applause as the audience catches the speaker at his climax.

One sits at the banquet board where the greatest after-dinner orators, wits and humorists are at their best. One listens to those master minds who from lecture platform have swayed multitudes, and held men's minds captive by the magic of their words.

These are the books for the home—for an idle hour—for the days and nights of preparation—for an evening's entertainment—for the future. They are filled with living thoughts for living men.

The Library is published in 10 volumes, with a total of 4,500 pages, royal octavo, 7¼ x 10½ inches in size. Illustrated with 75 photogravure portraits on Imperial Japanese Vellum. Several volumes contain frontispieces in multi-color.

NORTHWEST DEVELOPMENT COMPANY'S STAMP MILL.

The above engraving shows the pioneer stamp mill on Fish creek. Two other mills are now being built in the vicinity. This mill has already turned out two gold bricks of good dimensions, and it is confidently believed, when the property is developed, to furnish a steady supply to the mill, the mine is one that will pay good dividends.

REVELSTOKE LUMBER CO.

The predictions of the knockers that the Big Eddy would never make a good mill site, as the Eddy could not be made to hold the logs have been proved during the recent high water to be fallacious. The improvements which the Revelstoke Lumber Co. made during the past season and the strong booms which were put in have answered their purpose admirably and the company are now satisfied they can handle their logs at the Eddy as well as any other company operating on the Columbia, and before another season comes around the present booms will be extended to the point of rock which marks the southern boundary of the Eddy, thus affording accommodation for about 5,000,000 feet of logs. At the present time there is over three million feet in the booms together with a large quantity held up on the bank behind the mill as a reserve supply. The logs now in will keep the mill running full time till the period of high water is over.

ARRANGMENT OF THE PLANT.

The logs are carried from the river over an elevated inclined tramway and the mill has been re-ranged throughout so as to enable the raw and manufactured material to be handled with the least amount of labor. Fans and draught pipes have been put in for the removal of the shavings and sawdust from the machines, the waste being delivered automatically into the boilers and the edgings carried to the burner. Loading stages have also been put in with two turntables, the loading tracks extending over 1100 ft. The loading devices were arranged by R. J. Stewart, foreman of the yard, who has had extensive experience in lumber having been in the employ of the Laughlin Lumber Co. of Manitoba. The manner of arrangement allows seven to eight cars to be accommodated on the switches and loaded simultaneously. The day before our visit the company had loaded and shipped out six cars of lumber each containing 21,500 ft.

THE OUTPUT

of the mill is at present about 40,000 ft per day.

In addition to improved arrangement of the plant and yard facilities the company has fixed up an excellent fire protection system with gravitation supply of water and hydrants at various points about the mill and lumber piles, so that high pressure can be turned on at a moment's notice in case of necessity. A sprinkling system has also been fixed on the roof.

THE PLANT

consists of twin-circular saws, edger, slab table, trimmers, lath bolter and lath machine, three planers, sticker or moulding machine, shingle machine, blowers, dynamo, resaw for splitting thin lumber, 75 h. p. engine, two boilers of 150 h. p., 15 h. p. engine for running dynamo, 120 light dynamo, 25 h. p. engine for running planers, donkey engine for handling logs, steam nigger, steam log kicker, with twin engines. The furnaces are self feeding. The plant was manufactured by the Waterous Engine Company and supplied through the British Columbia agent, H. B. Gilmour M. P. P. of Vancouver.

THE DIRECTORS

are Messrs. C. B. Hume, C. F. Lindmark, R. Davis, F. C. Manning, E. M. Allum, of Revelstoke, and D. K. Mollison of of Toronto, Ont., the managing Director being Mr. C. F. Lindmark. F. C. Manning is mill foreman, R. Davis has charge of the engine-room and plant, J. Anderson is engineer, J. Slayten, setter, J. Thomson sawyer R. J. Stewart yard foreman, A. E. Jessop accountant and book-keeper. Mr. Manning was formerly with the Georgian Bay and Fred Robinson Lumber Companies. The mill is lighted by electricity. In addition to the incandescent lights two arc lamps are mounted for use as occasion requires.

FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS.

Considerable further improvements are projected at the mill. The C. P. R. will put in a through siding and the company will move all its buildings to the south side of the track, so as to give the necessary accommodation on the north side for laying tracks and storage of lumber. The company will also probably obtain a launch to facilitate handling logs in the river. A stone wall is being erected at the end of the waste pile for locating the burner.

LABOR EMPLOYED.

The company is a large employer of men labor, 45 men are now employed at the mill and there were 70 engaged there for some time this season. In addition 40 men are employed in the company's lumber camps along the river.

GENERAL.

While Mr. Manning was on his eastern trip he visited a number of leading mills and picked up the most up-to-date ideas on lumbering.

The company has a valuable extent of timber along the Columbia river and is turning out excellent material. We noticed some fine clear white pine giving cuts of 27 by 34 ins. very suitable for counter work and store props.

The company's booms are substantially put in consisting of sticks 40 feet long pointed to 14 inches at one end and 20 inches at the other and bound together with 4 inch boom chains. The piling is 50 feet long driven to a depth of 25 ft. Glance and sorting booms are also arranged for.

We wish the company every success in an enterprise which will do much for the up-building of Revelstoke.

LUMBERING.

Another sawmill is to be put in at Camborne.

The Trout Lake sawmill has been shut down till the water in the lake falls.

G. M. Clark has gone to Kaslo to take charge of the saws at the Columbia River Lumber Co's. mill there.

The boom in timber limits is over for the present. Representative lumbermen inform us there is practically no sale for timber limits.

As result of the carpenters strike at Calgary the president intimated the carpenters were prepared to fight the so-called lumber combine if necessary. When asked how this could be done he replied; "By the union trainmen refusing to handle lumber between Calgary and Laggan."

The Navigation Co., C. P. R. and local lumber companies have objected strongly to the Columbia River Lumber Improvement Bill as at present drawn, and particularly against the clauses giving control of side streams and construction of piers and booms which may interfere with navigation.

FEMALE WEAKNESSES

in Summer Time.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Tones and Strengthens Every Weak Organ and Invigorates the Whole System.

Paine's Celery Compound has been specially prepared for the relief and cure of many ailments that afflict women, and never fails to give a new and healthy tone to the female organs; it removes relaxed debility, and unhealthy secretions; it purifies the blood and establishes a perfect and vigorous health. Mrs. Percy S. Browning, of Provencher, Man., writes as follows:—"After deriving such wonderful good from the use of Paine's Celery Compound, I consider it my duty to let suffering women know something about the only medicine in the world that can banish female troubles and give to women that health and strength that makes it a pleasure to live. I suffered for a long time from falling of the womb, irregularities, nervousness and headache. My doctor could not do much for me, and my relatives thought I would become a confirmed invalid. My sister induced me at last to try Paine's Celery Compound, and I thank God it was brought to my notice. After the use of seven bottles I am a well woman, and as healthy as any of my friends. Paine's Celery Compound is surely the remedy for every sick and suffering woman, and I recommend it with all my heart."

POLITICAL.

Hon. C. Wilson, K. C. has refused a portfolio and may run for Cariboo.

Garden, Dunsmuir, Gilmore, Smith Curtis, Dickie, and Kidd announce their retirement from politics.

H. G. Muller of the Coldstream Hotel, Vernon, may be the liberal candidate against Price Ellison.

W. W. B. McInnes is favorably spoken of in many quarters as the coming leader of the liberal party.

Mr. Goodenough or Mr. John Keen will probably oppose Hon. R. Green for Slocan, and will poll a big liberal vote at Trout Lake.

In event of T. Taylor, M. P. P. becoming conservative candidate for Revelstoke, he will move his home from Trout Lake to Revelstoke during the election.

Many conservatives want C. F. Lindmark to allow his name to be put in nomination at the coming election for Revelstoke riding, and it is believed he would poll a big vote.

J. Theo. Wilson, chairman of the conservative committee, is mentioned as a candidate for the conservative party of Revelstoke. His friends say he would score a big railway vote.

A Vancouver man says Joe Martin will be strongly supported in the coming elections in that city as he is regarded as the one man who has the experience and force of character to cleanse the Augean stable at Victoria.

Many friends of G. S. McCarter, both liberal and conservative, have urged him to become a candidate at the coming elections, but he has refused, his large practice preventing him from attending to active politics. It is understood T. Taylor, M. P. P. will be the standard bearer in the Revelstoke riding at the coming election. Mr. Taylor is probably the strongest man the party could run in the district as he secured a big majority when running on the straight conservative ticket for Revelstoke last election.

John Keen, of Kaslo, who has done such splendid service for the Provincial Mining Association of which he is president, and who ran as conservative candidate last election has decided to throw in his lot with the liberals at the coming provincial elections. He declares he cannot support the conservative party as at present constituted under ...ion. R. McBride as ... simply means placing in power at Victoria the old crowd of grafters who tried to give away East Kootenay coal and oil lands to the C. P. R. and who have been responsible for the disgraceful state of affairs so long existing at Victoria.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all druggists.

The dam at the power house has been giving some anxiety to the mayor and aldermen. Owing to high water the top of the dam was carried away and the steel cable broken. The dam was only saved by the substantial props recently put in.

The Upper Columbia Navigation Company are giving the school children a free trip to Columbia lake. We suggest that if the steamers run to Revelstoke during high water the C. P. R. give the school children of Revelstoke a free trip to Arrow lakes.

An American visitor who stayed off at Halcyon Springs on his trip up the lake, speaks in glowing terms of the virtues of the waters and accommodation there. He thinks if the attractions of Halcyon were known in the eastern states thousands of people from there would be glad to visit Halcyon.

The homes of Revelstoke never looked so well as they do now. In the west end of the city the homes and grounds of Rev. C. Ladner, Messrs. B. A. Lawson, T. Downs, W. A. Morris, J. A. Stone, W. Abrahamson, C. Holten, J. P. Sutherland, H. N. Coursier look particularly well. Mr. Stone finds his fruit trees doing well, his cherry trees bearing last season and promising a good crop this season.

The recreation ground on the north side of the track will one day form a valuable asset to the city. It consists of 54 acres, the most of which is level land easily cleared. There are two natural terraces on the east side which could be utilised for buildings, grandstand etc. We have again to urge that the city let the land on an improvement lease so that it may be got ready for use at a future time.

Another assault was alleged between Buchanan and another party. The former is stated to have used a gun and the latter an axe.

How to Beautify the Complexion.

To have a soft, smooth skin, free from eruptions and pimples, the blood must be healthy and pure. Ferrozone invigorates enfeebled blood, and cleanses it of all impurities and poisons; it brings color to the lips and cheeks, brilliancy to the eyes, whitens the teeth and sweetens the breath. No tonic compares with Ferrozone in rapid action and permanent results. Try it. Price 50c. at druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

HANDSOME PRESENTS

From Railway Employes to Mr. and Mrs. T. Kilpatrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick have received handsome presents subscribed among the railway employes as follows:

From Superintendent's Office Staff: Large vase with sterling silver applique and filigree.

From Trackmen: Large cabinet of sterling silver plate, one of the best and most complete manufactured. It contains fish and fruit sets and accompanying the chest were several beautiful extras, including bread tray and knife, crumb tray and scoop, and cut glass sets. On each piece were engraved the initials of the recipients, and the chest bore the following inscription: "Presented to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kilpatrick on their marriage, April 22nd, 1903, by the Trackmen of the Shuswap and Mountain sections of the Canadian Pacific Railway, as a token of respect and good wishes."

The most appropriate gift of all, and one specially appreciated by Mr. Kilpatrick as coming from the branch of the service with which he started railroading, and over which he was inspector for some years prior to his promotion to the position of superintendent, was a splendid silver tea and coffee service, inscribed: "Presented to Mr. and Mrs. T. Kilpatrick by the Bridge and Building Department of the Mountain and Shuswap Division of the Canadian Pacific Railway, 1903."

PRESBYTERIAN.

On Saturday night the special train with members of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church arrived at Banff, where the visitors spent Sunday. Leaving Banff Monday morning they spent three hours at Glacier, and also three hours at Revelstoke, where a meeting was held on the railway platform. Several songs were sung and speeches made by two of the ministers. One of them said the scenery of the C. P. R. was much grander than he had seen on the Northern Pacific or Great Northern. Among the visitors were Rev. Macintosh, of Toronto, brother-in-law of W. Cowan of this city; Rev. McKinnon, of Halifax, cousin of Mrs. Kilpatrick; Rev. McRae, uncle of Postmaster McRae; Robt. Kilgour, of Toronto, uncle of H. K. Livingstone of Arrowhead; Rev. Dr. Warden, Toronto; Rev. Dr. Bryce, Winnipeg, moderator general assembly, and Hon. Colin H. Campbell of Winnipeg.

Mr. Parr conducted services at Presbyterian church here Sunday, and Rev. Mr. Glassford will take the services tomorrow.

Rev. Mr. McKinnon, cousin of Mrs. Kilpatrick, will conduct service in Revelstoke on the 28th.

ANGLICAN.

Rev. C. Procunier and H. N. Coursier represented Revelstoke at the session of the diocesan synod at Nelson.
