There are no blanks in a box of K & H cigars. They all draw and omit an aroma that perfumes the ozone when set on fire. It is ever a pleasure to follow a man who is smoking a K & H cigar. Try one and be convinced.

The union was in favor of a strike by over two-thirds majority. The smelter and Mother Lode mine are now closed down.

The License Question.

At a meeting of the hotel men in this city the following resolution was carried unanimously:

Resolved—That it is the sense of this meeting that owing to the loss incurred by those hotel men going out of business, and the additional cost of partially remunerating the same, together with the increased cost of license to those remaining in the business that the license commissioners of this city leave the matter of the hotels in its present status.

All the hotel men signed this resolution with the exception of Greigg and Morrison. If the commissioners take no notice to this resolution then the hotel-keepers will tender for the licenses, the licenses to be granted to the five who put up the most money to indemnify those shut out of the business.

A Vigorous General

General Charles S. Warren, of Butte, Montana, is a man you don't meet every day. He was with Sherman and marched through Georgia in the days when the North and South did not play sluff together. After the war he came west and chased the redskins out of Montana. Then he was made the first police magistrate of Butte in the days when horse thieves and check lifters were thicker than 'coots at a watermelon fair.' He made an immense fortune, got ambitious and swam to New York to show the Wall Street boys how they did things in Butte. He lost $500,000 against the bear game and had to hike west in search of more ammunition. He was a cheerful loser and came back to Butte just as fat, rosy and jolly as ever. In the flush days of Rossetti the general mounted himself into the history of the country and will never be forgotten by the old timers. Lately he has been in California where he is interested in the cooling greatest gold mine on earth. Although Charles is not much over 100 years of age, he is lively as ever, and his friends have come to the conclusion that he will never die. The world needs more Charles Warrens.

The Royal Seal cigar has been before the smoking public for a dozen years. It is made in Nelson and can be bought in nearly every mountain town.

Boom at Stewart.

As is usual with new mining camps there is a boom at Stewart. Within a week the number of buildings in the townsite at the head of Portland Canal have been doubled, and when the snow leaves the ground it is anticipated there will be a big building boom. Lumber is going into the place from every northern mill, as well as from Victoria and Vancouver. The Georgetown, Prince Rupert and Skeena Bay mills are sending lumber to Stewart on every steamer.

On Salmon River, across the British Columbia border, a townsite has been staked by some enterprising Americans on the mudflats. They have staked the mudflats over a considerable area and state that they intend to dyke it and reclaim the tide lands. There is a rush on to this place from Ketchikan, Juneau and other ports.

At Stewart there was much excitement over the finds made on the property of the Stewart Mining and development Company of free milling gold. The residents are also awaiting the arrival of the construction party for the government wharf, for which an appropriation of $15,000 has been provided, and for the building of the railroad by Mackenzie & Mann.

Mitts, gloves, bats, balls, masks and other baseball goods can be bought at Cole's Book Store.

Kootenay Marble.

Referring to the marble deposit at Lardner, an eastern paper states: "There are billions of cubic feet of marble there, and judging from what has been uncovered, of the finest quality. The whole mountain appears to be of marble. White marble, blue marble, and variegated marble have all been exposed by the preliminary quarrying. There are there we have found portions equal to the finest Carrara statuary marble."

The K & H cigar has jumped into prominence through the excellent flavor of the tobacco out of which it is made.

About Comets.

In the last half of the last century 121 comets, including returns, penetrated the sphere of the earth's orbit. From this host, Pickering infers that we should expect to be struck by the core of a visible comet once in about 40,000,000 years, and by some portion of the head once in 4,000,000 years. Since comet's orbits are more thickly distributed near the ecliptic than in other regions of the sphere, the collisions would come rather more frequently than this, but hardly as often as once in 2,000,000 years, and since it has been estimated that animal life has existed upon the earth for about 100,000,000 years, a considerable number of collisions, perhaps as many as fifty, must have taken place during that interval. In Prof. Pickering's opinion, evidently without producing any very serious results.—Scientific American.

Andy's Money.

Andrew Carnegie's philosophy finds readers principally because of the millions he possesses. The public mind works something after this fashion:—If this man has brains enough to make himself the steelmaster of the world, he has brains enough to say some wise thing about life. Let an unknown whose life has been spent in the realm of thought, and not in the marts of trade, utter Carnegie's statements, and he would wait in vain for a listener, let alone newspaper space. For it is true that the possession of means does act as recommendation of a man's ability and sanity. When George Washington was being ridiculed in a great assembly as a farmer-soldier, someone arose and mentioned the amount of George Washington's annual income, and instantly a wave of respect for the insurgent swept the house. We wonder if we are not Russell Lowell, (or was it Oliver Wendell Holmes?) used to say that a minister with an independent income was a more forceful teacher than one who had to depend on the contributions of those he taught. And so with Carnegie; he is raised above the necessity of thinking, talking and writing for money, the people listen to him, therefore, expecting an untrammeled word, a vision unbound by policy or necessity.—Farmer's Tribune.

If the strike continues any length of time, it will have the effect of spoiling the Mother Lode and Greenwood baseball matches.

Rupe's First Mayor.

The first civic election will take place in Prince Rupert upon May 16. The Empire is boosting Fred Stork for the mayoralty, and painting his supposed virtues in rosy colors. Fred is a red coat worshipper and dearly loves to smell the powder of blank cartridges. When mayor of Fernie he was the tool of monopoly, and his actions in that city decried the possession of a narrow mind. He may have improved since he went north, although it is seldom such men conquer themselves. In a corporate sense he is suited for Rupe. As a municipal statesman he will not assay much more than country rock, mixed with considerable gall and ambition.

The wholesale price of beef in Japan is 12 cents a pound. P. Burns & Co. have no shops in that country.

A new theatre will be erected in Winnipeg. It will cost $150,000 and seat 1,900 ordinary sized people.

Hon. James Dunsinuir is reported to have invested four million dollars in the Canadian Northern railway.

Owing to the number of large irrigation projects now under way in the Okanagan labor is very scarce in that section.

The price of meat is going up in B. C. During the past year the retail price of pork has advanced about 50 per cent.

There is no work around Fort George except upon government roads and for survey parties. The wages are $3.50 a day.

In the Similkameen, the Columbia Coal Co. will use a diamond upon their properties on the north fork of Granite Creek.

In Hope, the people want the C.P.R. to appoint a day agent. At present they can only send and receive telegrams in the night.

Fort George is 330 miles from Ashcroft and the fare in the summer is $50. This includes fare, and meals and berths on the steamer.

Captain Fred Stork has received authority to organize a military company in Prince Rupert. The company will be called Earl Grey's Own Rifles.

The rush up the Skeena river this spring is so great, that the freight and passenger accommodation upon the steamers is all booked ahead for five or six trips.

At Middlesboro, the Nicola Valley Coal & Coke Co. will build 1,000 coke ovens. The company expects to sell its product in the Boundary when the Kettle Valley railroad is finished.

Helps the Boundary.

Of intense interest is the company promoted by Americans which has just secured incorporation in Canada. It is the Canadian Metallurgical Company, the backers of which are said to be C. H. Carpenter, president of the Herring-Hall-Martin Safe Company of New York, and W. H. Alexander, president of the International Metallurgical Company of the same place.

The object of the company will be better understood by metal men, particularly when it is stated that it controls for Canada the Xaxeres process for the extraction of metal from gold and silver ores. The process can be operated with very small and cheap installations anywhere there is ore to treat, and it can handle ores that are refractory to a smelter.

An enormous advance in the copper industry of Canada is predicted, and many workable ore bodies will soon become richly paying properties.

Rupe's Closed Tight.

Except in the matter of rain Prince Rupert is no longer a wide open town. The blind pig with its counterfeited booze, the black jack dealer with his marked cards, and the roulette wheel, with or without 'brakes' have all been thrown into the street and ordered to 'travel south.' Moral reform is rampant in Rupe, and the lid has been put on with a double set of rivets. In an interview with The Optimist the chief of police says:

"Things are now in the shape I wanted them. The net is spread far and deep and we are now beginning to pull in the ropes. We are men on the job who have placed every hindrance and snare we are going to give them a chance to go south. If any of them are here after the next boat goes south, we will send them south at the expense of the department and will probably find them a summer job at Westminister. Sound the warning that they are not to go north, for we have the same organization now there as we have here. They will go south either of their own free will or in the ship's skookum room. It is simply a matter of choice."

Respect for the Dead.

The man is dead. But all is not lost, we will attend the funeral. We will fall over one another in our haste to show respect. We will bring beautiful wreaths as loving tokens. We will dig out a large piece of granite and carefully place it over the grave in honor of his memory. We will write on this rock the things we lacked the courage to impart to the living being. We will consign to this stone the kind words that have been delayed till the brave heart that has fought and blundered, is stilled in eternal silence. But the elegance of our offerings and the depth of our emotions avail little, for we are filled with remorse when we remember our former coldness and indifference.

Joe's Ideas.

Joe Martin, who deserted his own country in order to get more air for his egotism by posing as a politician in England told a bunch of Britishers the other day in Whitefield's Tabernacle that English land ought to be taxed on the basis of what it could be sold for, as in Canada, and not as at present, on the basis of the rent. He also said that capitalists ought to be supported by the state, so that the poor could obtain assistance as a right and not be made paupers as now. Liquor licenses, Mr. Martin said, being granted by the State, the State should be free to revoke them without compensation to the holders.

As a matter of common sense the State should always make good any loss to individuals sustained through its change of actions. In Canada the unfortunate rumrunner has a hard time. If he does not buy a menagerie with his own booze he is liable to be turned out of doors any time the wind of caprice, or moral reform blows against the chaps who deal the license game. Let us pray for the unlucky booze dispensarian.

Mark Twain before his return to Bermuda said: "My active work in this life and for this world is done. I shall write no more books, attempt no more lectures or new work. I have half a dozen unfinished books that I have hardly touched in three years. Among them is my autobiography of which 100,000 words have been written. There are still 500,000 to write."

"I didn't see you at school last Sabbath," said the good man.

"Didn't you?" replied little Johnny. "Well, you needn't think you're so blamed smart on that account. There was a whole lot more people didn't see me there either."

According to Taste

The teacher was giving her class their first lesson in fractions. An object lesson seemed to be desirable.

"Mary McCutley," she said, "if there was a mince pie on your dinner table, and your mother asked you if you would have a third or a fourth, what would you say?"

"A fourth," said Mary.

"Some of the children giggled, and the teacher asked, 'Why would you have a fourth?'"

"'Cause,'" said Mary, "I don't like mince pie."—Lippincott's.

CURED HER KIDNEYS.

Mrs. John Pettigrew, of Central Economy, N.S., is practically helpless from Rheumatism.

"She could not stoop, and her limbs ached so that it was torture for her to be up and around the house."

As Mrs. Pettigrew put it, "I was all crippled up. I saw Gin Pills advertised and sent for them, and after taking only two boxes, am a different woman. Gin Pills are the only things that helped me, and I cannot say too much for them."

"Have you ever noticed," began the bald gentleman, who liked to entertain the people gathered in his corner of the hotel piazza, "that little men invariably marry large women?"

"It may be so," murmured a mild-eyed fellow-guest, "but I had always supposed that it was the other way about—that the large women married the small men."

Stocking Dye Caused Poison.

A case at Kingston shows vividly the danger of neglecting to apply Zam-Buk to a cut or sore.

Mrs. A. Harrison, living in Place d'Armes, while attending to her household duties, struck her ankle against a chair projection on the furniture. She took notice of the injury, deeming it trivial.

In a day or two the ankle began to swell and cause excessive pain. A doctor, called in, found that dye from her stocking had entered the wound and set up blood poisoning.

Treatment with Zam-Buk followed, but it was several days before the limb was out of danger. It had not been for the powerful antiseptic properties of Zam-Buk and its exceptional healing virtues, the wound might have had a very serious result, says Mrs. Harrison.

"But I believe if I had applied Zam-Buk at the time of the injury, it would have prevented the blood-poisoning altogether."

He drew his money from the bank. Because he feared a crash. The bank is where it always was. Alas! where is his cash?

SUFFERED FOR SIX LONG YEARS

THEN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED MRS. RICHARD'S DIABETES.

Her Rheumatism Also Vanished When Dodd's Kidney Pills Put Her Kidneys in Condition to do Their Work.

East Chezzetook, Halifax Co., N.S. (Special)—Cured of Diabetes and Rheumatism from which she had suffered for six years, Mrs. Boniface Richard, well known here, is joyfully telling her neighbors that she owes her health to Dodd's Kidney Pills and to no other cause.

"My Rheumatism and Diabetes were brought on by old and a strain, and though I was attended by a doctor he could not help me. After suffering for six years I made up my mind to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and to my surprise they did me good almost at once. Two boxes cured me completely. I recommend them to everybody as a sure cure for Diabetes, Backache and all other Kidney Diseases."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mrs. Richard's Diabetes because Diabetes is a Kidney Disease, and Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney Diseases.

Mrs. Richard's Rheumatism was caused by her diseased kidneys failing to take the waste and out of her blood. When her kidneys were cured they strained the uric acid out of her blood and her Rheumatism vanished.

Another Modern Miracle
Paralysis Permanently Cured

The Sufferer Paralyzed From Waist to Feet—Encased in Plaster of Paris for Nine Months—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cure After Four Doctors Had Failed—The Cure Vouched for by a Well Known Clergyman.

Paralysis, no matter how slight, is a terrible affliction, but to be paralyzed from waist to the feet, to be a helpless cripple, totally dependent upon what others do for you, is a condition as wretched as man could possibly bear.

Such was the state of Mr. Allan J. McDonald, of Rice Point, P.E.I., for over a year he was a helpless invalid. He was paralyzed from his waist to his feet and for nine months lay in bed encased in a plaster of Paris cast. Four of the best doctors in Prince Edward Island were unable to help him and he seemed doomed for a life of misery and despair. But hope came to him when he read of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done for other sufferers from paralysis. He procured a supply of the Pills and began taking them. Gradually they broke the chains of disease that bound him, and filled the whole body with new blood, life and vigor. Mr. McDonald says: "I am a farmer and in consequence have a great deal of hard work to do. One day while about the time I injured my back, but at the time I paid little attention to the injury and continued my work. As time went on, though, the pain became more severe and I soon found myself unable to lift anything no matter how light. It was not long before I had to stop work altogether and consult a doctor. He treated me but his treatment did not help me, and I rapidly grew worse. I had to take to my bed, and in the hope that my spine might receive strength I was encased in a plaster of Paris cast. This did not help me and I could feel the paralysis slowly creeping over me. I was totally paralyzed from my waist to my feet. I lost all control over my bowels and bladder and my legs had no more feeling than if they were made of wood. Three other doctors strived to cure me, but their treatment also was a failure, and for seven months I lay in bed unable to move. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were then advised and I was shown testimonials of others who had been cured of paralysis through them. I bought a supply and in less than three months they made a remarkable change in me. I was able to get out of bed and crawl along the floor on my hands and knees. Gradually my limbs became stronger. Soon I could walk with the aid of a cane and inside of nine months after I had begun the cure of the Pills I was totally cured, and once more able to do light work. Now I am as strong as ever. I was and can do my work about the farm without the least trouble. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are without an equal, for, besides my own case, I know of two other cases of paralysis cured by them. Two young girls who had been crippled and whom I advised to try the Pills.

In corroboration of what Mr. McDonald says, the Rev. Dr. MacLean, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes: "I visited Mr. McDonald many times during his illness. He was attended by three or more doctors and put in plaster of Paris, and everything imaginable which might be of benefit was done for him without success. He had lost all power of his body from his waist down and I think he was nearly a year under treatment before he began to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was with him the first day he moved his big toe and from that time on he gradually improved and for the last few years he has been perfectly well. I can vouch for the cure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills effected in his case."

If you are sick and the treatment you are now taking does not help you, give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. They have cured thousands after doctors and other medical treatment had hopelessly failed. These Pills actually make new, rich, red blood, feed the starved nerves and bring health and strength to every part of the body. This is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure such apparently hopeless cases as Mr. McDonald's, and it is why they have cured thousands and thousands of sick, discouraged people in every part of the world. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

An Easy Pill to Take.—Some persons have a repugnance to pills because of their nauseating taste. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are so prepared as to make them agreeable to the most fastidious. The most delicate can take them without feeling the revulsion that follows the taking of ordinary pills. This is one reason for the popularity of these celebrated pills, but the main reason is their high medicinal quality as a medicine for the stomach.

The Bowels Must Act Healthily.—In most ailments the first cure of the medical man is to see that the bowels are open and fully performing their function. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are so compounded that certain ingredients in them act on the bowels solely and they are the very best medicine available to produce healthy action of the bowels. Indeed, there is no other specific so serviceable in keeping the digestive organs in healthful action.

A BIT OF CHALK.

What It Shows When Placed Under a Powerful Microscope.

Few people know what a wonderful object a bit of chalk is when examined under a microscope. Take your knife blade and scrape off a little of the loose powder, catch it on a clean glass slide and place this on the stage of a good table microscope. Use a quarter-inch objective lens and illuminate the field with a cone of light from the concave side of the reflector. The powder will be seen to consist of a confused mass of beautiful, thin, shelly, many of them of the most curious form.

A better way, however, is to rub down a portion of chalk with an old toothbrush in a tumbler half filled with water. If you desire to prepare several slides rub on about a teaspoonful of the powder. Shake the tumbler briskly, allow the sediment to settle for a moment and then carefully pour off the milky looking water.

Repeat this until the water remains clear, and you will then have left in the bottom only perfect shelly or large parts of shelly. Take up a small pinch of this deposit and spread it carefully over the center of a glass slide. Dry over a lamp and if you wish to preserve the slide for future use mount it in Canada balsam, pressing out the bubbles of air beneath the cover glass.

MECHANICAL INGENUITY.

A Full Rigged Ship That a Fly's Wing Would Cover.

Many instances of mechanical ingenuity really remarkable to us in these days, when we are supposed to have advanced in learning, are related by various ancient authors. The silver sphere, "a most noble and ingenious performance," which was presented to Sultan Solymann the Magnificent by his imperial majesty Ferdinand, is mentioned by Paulus Jovius as showing and keeping time with the motions of the celestial bodies in various configurations. It was carried to Constantinople by twelve men and there put together by the artist that made it.

Myrmecides, an ancient carver, was so proficient in microscopic mechanism that he made an ivory ship, with all its decks, masts, yards, rigging and sails, to so small a compass that it might have been hidden under the wing of a fly. He also made a chariot with four wheels and as many harnessed horses, which took up scarcely more room than the ship.

George Whitehead, an Englishman, made a ship, with all things pertaining to it, to move as if it sailed, upon a table. "All hands were aloft; a woman made good music on a lute, and a little puppy cried in the midship, all of which variety," says the old writer, "was pleasant and diverting."

The Vulnerable Point.

Mrs. Holt could be depended upon at almost any time to say the wrong thing with the best intentions in the world. "Nobody minds what poor dear Fanny Holt says," her friends told each other when repeating her remarks. "We know she means all right."

"Isn't it queer how differently things affect people?" one of Mrs. Holt's neighbors said to her the day after a beach picnic. "We both got tired to death, you and I. You say you've had just a little bit of indigestion, while I have this fearful blind headache."

"By that's perfectly natural," said Mrs. Holt cheerily. "Of course when people are tired out it goes straight to the weakest part of them. Mine is my stomach, and everybody knows yours is your head, poor dear!"—Youth's Companion.

The Word Silhouette.

The little black pictures called "silhouettes" derive their name from Etienne de Silhouette, who was the French minister of finance in 1759. His extreme economy in matters of finance was caricatured by all classes, and any cheap mode or fashion was sarcastically called by his name.

About that time these profiles were produced by cutting the shadow of a face on the paper by the light of a candle and tracing about it. Because they were cheap they were called in ridicule at the minister "silhouettes," and the name has ever since been retained.—Boston Globe.

All the Printer's Fault.

"What because of that paper you were going to start in the interest of uplifting the poor tramp?" asked the interviewer.

"Did he make a grave error?"

"I should say so. You know the paper was to be named the Bar of Hope. Well, that idiot of a printer changed it to the Bar of Soap, and as soon as my constituents heard the name they started running, and they are running yet."—Chicago News.

Court Logic.

Lawyer—My client, your honor, has confessed that he committed the burglary. You will admit this an eloquent proof of my client's love of truth and of his upright conscience, and, your honor, a man with such a delicate conscience should not be accused of having broken into a house to steal. Never!

Quite Satisfactory.

Stern Father—Young man, the lights in this house are put out at 10 o'clock! Young Man—That suits me. Don't delay on my account.—New York Times.

Invest At Home

Far away fields are usually thought to be green. This is probably why so many people in the Boundary are constantly buying real estate and stocks far from the district in which they live. Why not put some of your speculating money in ventures within a few miles of your own door, and benefit yourself and the country in which you reside and make money?

The Argo Mining and Tunnel Co. of Greenwood is organized under the laws of British Columbia, with a capital stock of $125,000, divided into 500,000 shares at 25 cents each, non-personal liability. Adjoining Greenwood the company own a large number of valuable claims, with high-grade gold and copper ore showing on the surface. The company is now engaged in running a 3,000-foot tunnel to tap all these leads at great depth. Every indication is favorable to the striking of valuable deposits of ore, and the time to invest is now. Soon as ore is encountered at great depth the price of stock will ascend rapidly and the chances of making big money out of a small investment will not be so good. The time to speculate is when things are beginning. The success of this big tunnel means great wealth for the investors and increased prosperity for the entire district.

Investors and visitors to the district are cordially invited to inspect the properties and view the work being done in the tunnel. For further particulars address the president or secretary.

OLA LOFSTAD,

President.

A. S. BLACK,

Secretary.
