crossing of the creek, which will mean that the line will be entirely out of reach so far as the passenger and freight business of this district is concerned. To obtain the desired results, it has been necessary to increase the grade from slightly over 1 per cent., which was secured on the preliminary survey, to over 2 per cent., and from Sawmill creek to the Okanagan-Kettle river summit the grade will be almost level. This does not look like good modern railroad practice, which seeks to avoid "toboggan slides," as Jim Hill is said to have contemptuously termed the C.P.R.'s 2 1/2 to 4 per cent. grades through the Rockies.—Kelowna Courier.

DEATH OF MRS. N. McMILLAN

Mrs. Norman McMillan died last Sunday aged 50 years. Her death was caused by pneumonia, following an attack of measles. Mrs. McMillan was born in Sydney, C. B., and had been a resident of Greenwood for ten years. Her husband died two years ago. She leaves eleven children to mourn her loss, the youngest ten years old. All her children will be present at the funeral with the exception of Mrs. Neil Morrison of Elk Lake, Ontario. The funeral has been postponed until Friday afternoon at 3:30 p. m., awaiting the arrival of her son John from Ontario. Her sister, Mrs. Daniel McMillan of Kelowna and her cousin, John McIvar of Rossland are in the city to attend the funeral. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the children of the late Mrs. McMillan, in this, the greatest loss and sorrow that can come to any home.

FIRE AT SILVERTON

At two o'clock Monday morning a fire in Silvertown destroyed the Windsor and Victoria hotels, Mrs. Cary's grocery and a store building belonging to Bill Braddon. F. L. Fairgrieve, Bob McTaggart, Bob Fairgrieve and two Pians from Phoenix were burned to death, and J. W. Cochran, F. Windoff and John Francis injured. The cause of the fire is unknown. The total loss was $25,000, with an insurance of about $7,000.

Bob McTaggart was an old timer of Sandon, and a man of sterling character. He was a carpenter by trade, and about 60 years old.
Bob Fairgrieve, the bartender was 54 years old. At one time he was a contractor, and alderman in the town of Galt, Ontario. For many years he was chief clerk at Hughie Niven's hotel in Three Forks, but when Hughie went away two years ago, Bob joined the staff of the ill-fated Windsor. Peace to his ashes.

A LAWFUL OUTRAGE

Acting under instructions from Ottawa Mrs. Bean was arrested at Westbridge this week and is now in the jail at Greenwood awaiting enquiries as to the advisability of deporting her upon the grounds of being an immoral character. Recently Mrs. Bean has been working at an hotel in Westbridge, and endeavoring to lead a better life. There is no accommodation for women prisoners in Greenwood, especially for those in a pregnant condition, and the treatment of this woman by the immigration department at Ottawa appears to carry an excess of inhumanity to the weaker sex.

THE ROPE ROUTE

Claus Jonson was found last Sunday, near Bull Creek, hanging from a tree with a rope round his neck. He had worked a few days in McLean's railway camp, and evidently, temporary insanity had driven him to suicide. At one time Jonson made a small fortune on the Milwaukee road, but squandered it all in Seattle. He was 33 years old, and had been in America seven years.
Before idling, consider whose time you'll be wasting.

Jim Moore's Death

Jim Moore was killed in the Mother Lode last Thursday while "bulldozing." He was working in the 60 foot level of No 34 stop. Some workmen about 80 feet away heard a shot go off and Moore groaning. In two minutes other shots went off, and they went to see what was the matter with Moore. They found him with one side practically blown to pieces, and he died just as they were taking him out of the mine. At the inquest the jury gave a verdict that he met his death by a premature explosion, caused by a "running fuse." His funeral on Sunday was attended by the Miner's Union in a body. The deceased was a native of Ireland, and about 25 years old. He leaves a father and mother in Ireland. John Keaty and Wm. Lakeland of this city are his cousins.

WAR IS EXPENSIVE.

WAR is hell upon earth, and expensive at the same time. When the people of this mundane sphere become real sensible, navies and armies will be but a memory of the bloody ages. The Canadian Conciliator shows up the expense as follows:

The cost of the Militia and Defence of Canada in 1880 was $600,018. In 1900 it was $1,846,178, and in 1910 the outlay of that department was $4,679,956. This did not include the cost of armories or expenditure for naval service. If we take the cost of the nucleus of the Canadian navy, the Rainbow and Niobe, and the votes for new drill halls, armories, military storehouses, the items in the Marine and Fisheries Department chargeable to the naval service, we have a grand total of over $22,280,000, to which the country is committed for 1911, and we are warned by the Minister of Militia that the estimates may be considerably exceeded. The Auditor-General shows that since 1896, $12,118,150 has been spent in the Militia Department that has been charged to capital or in other words, added to the public debt. The total cost of the military and naval preparations of Canada for the current year amount therefore, to about 20 per cent. of the country's total income.

The grand total expenditure of Great Britain during the past fiscal year, in round numbers, was $829,500,000. Of this vast total $175,715,000 was for the navy and $157,125,000 for the army. When the present Kaiser came to the throne the expenditure of Germany for its navy was $12,500,000 a year. By 1901 this had increased to $45,- 000,000, and in 1910 the German naval preparations cost $105,000,000. Adding to this the cost of the German army, war preparation absorbs two-thirds of the income of the German Empire. What this means should a great war break out may be conceived when we reflect that in times of peace and normal trade twenty-two per cent. of the population of Germany are not able to earn enough to keep above hunger and want.

During the 19th century 20,000,000 lives have been sacrificed in war. Debts of great nations chiefly incurred by war amount over $25,000,000,000, and interest on these debts $1,100,000. Annual cost of armies and navies, $2,830,000,000, and value of men's services diverted from peaceful pursuits, $2,170,000,000.

A modern battleship costs more than the land and buildings of the oldest university on this continent, and becomes obsolete in 15 years. What the United States spent on acquiring the Philippines would have irrigated every acre of arid land in that country.

The United States is spending 65 per cent. of all its national revenue for armaments, pensions, and interest on war debts, leaving barely more than one-third for civil administrative purposes, and other constructive work. The United States War Department requires this year over $ 219,000,000, while the pension list from past wars absorbs $153,500,000.

The annual cost of Britain's armaments at the present time, if shown in dollar bills piled like the leaves of a book, would make a pile 17 miles high.

Since 1850 the population of the world has doubled, but the war indebtedness has quadrupled. Wars do not consume the weaklings and criminals, but the strong and fit. It is alleged that Napoleon's wars have left the French soldiers of today two inches shorter than their ancestors.

Edmond Thierry, the noted French economist, estimates that preparations for war have cost Europe $29,000,000,000 in the past 25 years.

The man at a distance who pays his bills by cheque should always add exchange. This is an important matter to Editors who have so many small accounts scattered over the universe and suburbs.

When a Man is Fortunate

Do not think you are fortunate when conditions are easy for you. You are most fortunate when they are hard. Ease never brings out the best in man or woman, but hardship does. The finest characters are those that have been literally hammered out by adverse circumstances. The sweetest personalities are as a rule those that have developed because of the battles fought with hardship.

It is Hamilton Wright Mabie who says: "A man is specially and divinely fortunate, not when his conditions are easy, but when they evoke the very best that is in him; when they provoke him to nobleness, and stir him to strength; when they clear his vision, kindle his enthusiasm and inspire his will."

The happiest man is he who feels that he is accomplishing something and at the same time overcoming his obstacles. When a man has nothing to overcome he becomes stagnant; he is of no interest to himself or any one else.

But give this same man an object in life, give him obstacles to overcome and he becomes a vitalized, galvanized human being.

It is said that the greatest suffering soldiers know comes through inactivity. Scientists have said that sheer weariness of camp life has destroyed nearly as many men as has battle. Inactivity is not an attribute of the normal man, and when he is forced to accept it as his portion something goes wrong.

Keep a boy inactive, allow him no obstacle to overcome, give him everything he needs and never allow him to lift his finger to help himself and see what sort of a man you make of him.

The easy berth makes the shiftless, irresponsible character. Obstacles are sure to make him the opposite. That is, they will if he has the least particle of fight in him. There is something in the very fact that we are opposed that raises every drop of our fighting blood to its highest point and we immediately set all our forces at work to overcome them.

Then it is that all that is finest and noblest in a man commences to come to the surface. Take a man and suddenly toss him out of Luxury's lap to shift for himself. If he is any sort of man at all he soon develops an interest in life he never before had, and he seeks to overcome whatever of disappointment or loss he may have sustained and the chances are that he will do this.

If you are a workman with a daily task to perform, don't feel badly about it. You have your object in life, and the very fact that you have "kiddies" for whom you must work probably makes you a better man than you would otherwise have been. Your responsibilities make you desire to make the most of you opportunity and to progress as rapid as you can.—Katherine Kip.

Big Mining Deal.

Dawson—One of the largest mining deals in the history of the Yukon and of Alaska has just been closed whereby Daniel Guggenheim takes over the entire holdings of the National Trust Company of Toronto, in Yukon territory. These include the oldest and richest portion of Gold Run creek, which has produced millions and is known as one of the banner streams of the Klondike camp.

The transfer also includes the Cruger concession on Dominion creek, extending down stream two miles from the mouth of Sulphur for the full width of the valley. The consideration is said to exceed half a million dollars. The property has been controlled for years by the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Gold Run was grouped and operated first by Chute & Willis. Later Count Carboneau became involved and still later the bank got control on a mortgage for $650,000.

Guggenheim obtains control of all the ground, practically a solid block, along Gold Run to claim Forty-four above the mouth.

Harry Pinkert controls upper Gold Run, comprising 60 claims.

Treadgold had been organizing Dominion, Last Chance, Quartz and other rich creeks in the Klondike which the Guggenheims had not secured, and said he intended to get Gold Run, but in this battle of the giants the Guggenheim scooped up the creek when Treadgold thought it was his sure meat.

There are indications that the Guggenheims intend to try to buy other rich creeks.

Treadgold's company is just completing an immense power plant on the south fork of the Klondike river and has an immense acreage rivalling that of the Guggenheims.

One or two other large companies are also expected to break into this field.

His Work Cut Out

A judge in Los Angeles was moved to mercy when a man of 21 was convicted of embezzling $5,000 of the funds of a theatre and spending the money in riotous living. The court pronounced this sentence "You shall stay at home nights; you shall remain within the limits of this county; you shall not play billiards or pool; frequent cafes or drink intoxicating liquor, and you shall go immediately to work and keep at it until you have paid back every dollar you stole. Violate these terms and you go to prison." This is safe and fatherly advice, although some culprits would rather go to jail than comply with it.

Near Three Forks

The McAllister group of four mines near Three Forks, B. C., has been incorporated in the State of Washington as the McAllister Mining and Milling company, Limited, as the result of deal by which the firm of Sharp & Irvine, mining brokers of Spokane, purchased a large interest in it on the basis of a cash price of $150,000 for the property. The new company is capital at $1,500,000, with one third of its stock in the treasury.

Sharp & Irvine were interested in the property by William Bennett, who bought into it some ten years ago and who has been mining in the Slocan district since 1894. He has been foreman of many of the leading properties in that country, including both the Slocan Star and the Rambler-Cariboo, and now is manager of the Mountain Consolidated.

The McAllister group has been a considerable shipper since the winter of 1910. Smelter returns on the various lots of ore it has marketed shows values in silver as follows: 70.50, 210.7, 395, 260, 798.50, 60.9, 126.1 and 204.8 ounces of silver to the ton. The net smelter returns on one carload of 15 tons totaled $4565.59.

It is the intention to conduct the McAllister company as a close corporation. The principal shareholders besides Messrs Sharp, Irvine and Bennett are: George Bruder of Vancouver, C. E. Lyons of Fernie and W. G. Clark and S. J. Towgood of Sandon, B. C. Officers of the company will be elected at a meeting to be held in a few days.

Knot Hole Price

An exchange observes that if windows along the line of the coronation parade are renting for $1,500 for the occasion, a knot hole should be worth at least $300.

HE DID NOT ADVERTISE.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself has said,
"My trade of late is getting bad,
I'll try another ten-inch ad!"
If there be, go mark him well,
For him no bank account shall swell,
No angels watch the golden stair,
To welcome home the millionaire.
The man who never asks for trade,
By local line, or ad displayed,
Cares more for rest than worldly gain,
And patronage but gives him pain.
Tread lightly, friends; let no rude sound
Disturb his solitude profound,
Here let him lie in calm repose,
Unthought except by men he owes.
And when he dies, go plant him deep
That nothing may disturb his sleep,
Where no rude clamor may dispel
That quiet that he loved so well.
And that the world may know its loss
Place on a stone a wreath of moss,
And on a stone above "Here lies
A fossil, who did not advertise."

About Float.

Float is not a periodical. It is a book containing 86 illustrations all told, and is filled with sketches and stories of western life. It tells how a gambler cashed in after the flush days of Sandon; how it rained in New Denver long after Noah was dead; how a parson took a drink at Bear Lake in early days; how justice was dealt in Kaslo in '93; how the saloon man outplayed the women in Kalamaazoo, and graphically depicts the roamings of a western editor among the tenderfeet in the cent belt. It contains the early history of Nelson and a romance of the Silver King mine. In it are printed three western poems, and dozens of articles too numerous to mention. Send for one before it is too late. The price is 25 cents, postpaid to any part of the world. Address all letters to because it is evenly heated—because it is thoroughly heated, always. The heat-flues, broad and deep, encircle the entire oven so that it bakes as well at the top as at the bottom, and in the corners as well as the centre. The bottom is doubly stiffened so it can't warp and tilt. The inner body of the Kootenay is thoroughly protected with asbestos—the oven walls can't burn through. In view of the present disordered condition of Mexico, and the general impression that the United States may yet find an excuse for intervention, it is interesting to recall some of the events leading up to the war between the two countries in 1845.

This Oven Bakes Perfectly

fire of the Mexicans, and by the President's orders he was executed and the bodies of all the dead cremated.

Eventually however Texas won her independence, and a few years later applied to the United States for admission to the Union. The Democrats were anxious to take her in, but the Republicans fought against the proposal, chiefly because they did not want another slave State.

Though a pretence was made by both Governments of amicably adjusting their differences, both knew that such a result was impossible. The United States did not really want a friendly settlement. She wanted more territory, and swiftly the war came on.

FAMOUS PEOPLE BY FANNIE M. LOTHROP

LORD STRATHCONA Canadian High Commissioner to London In 1838 a young Scotch boy of eighteen, named Donald A. Smith, entered the service of the Hudson Bay Co. He had been educated for the Civil Service in India; but the sturdy life of hardship, the rigorous, close, hand-to-hand battle with fate, somehow appealed to him more than the easier and more enervating life of the Orient. For thirteen years he labored on the hard Labrador coast, where the climate was inhuman, the monotony insurmountable, the loneliness appalling, and promotion seemed slower than the movement of a glacier. But young Smith made his record, and in this rough training-school learned self-reliance, courage, self-conquest, prudence and shrewdness among the solitudes, and a sureness of judgment. He learned to conquer obstacles and to laugh in triumph at them. In 1869 he had gradually risen to the post of resident-governor—the supreme possibility under the Hudson Bay Co. When the Federation decided to take over the title of the company, they met an obstacle in the opposition of the Metis, the halfbreeds of the plains, who rose in rebellion under the leadership of the fanatic Louis Riel. In this extremity Donald Smith was recognized, and his courage, tact and wisdom aided in cutting the Gordian knot of disagreement. He at once became the most powerful man of the Northwest, and a year later was elected to the House of Commons. Then came the fierce battle against the corruption, bribery, and governmental incompetency in building the great railroad connecting the oceans, and later the organizing of the company, headed by Mr. Smith (the future Lord Strathcona) and his co-sin, Lord Mount Stephen, (but built the magnificent railroad on the ruins of the Government's hopeless failure. Lord Strathcona's financial ability, his organizing power, his genius to inspire others to see and to realize his visions, carried the day; and as J. J. Hill says, "the one person to whose efforts and confidence in the growth of our country, our success in early railroadings is due, is Lord Strathcona." He received his first imperial honor in 1886 and in 1897 was raised to the peerage. His manifold duties defy cataloguing; as financier, statesman, philanthropist, and in various other fields he has been pre-eminent, and like all really great men has retained his simplicity through it all. To-day, at the age of seventy-five, he is Canadian High Commissioner in London, a most excellent position, and his marvelous knowledge of Canadian affairs and his other unique qualities would make it impossible to replace him.

BOUNDARY MINES

The Greenwood smelter is using daily 100 tons of Lone Star ore.

Another stringer of valuable ore was struck in the Argo tunnel this week.

Coke for the Granby smelter arrived at Superior yesterday, and from there it will go over the Great Northern to Grand Forks. The Granby mines will resume operations on the 15th.

The Big Tunnel is in 2,200 feet, and the character of the rock is becoming richer in appearance.

The Greenwood smelter has 12,500 tons of coke on boat and rail, between the east and this city, and 6,000 more tons have been ordered.

In the Franklin camp the old workings of the McKinley mine are being re-surveyed.

If the railroads decide to lower the freight rate $1.50 a ton on eastern coke there will be no further demand for Crow's Nest Pass coke by the smelters in B. C.

A tunnel is being run on the Starveout, near where the strike was recently made on the wagon road.

The B. C. Copper Co., is working the deposit of oxide ore at its Napoleon mine, near Marcus, Wash., by the "glory hole" system.

A Geological Survey party left Grand Forks on May 30, for Franklin camp. Chas. W. Drysdale, who is in charge, will work out the areal geology and structure for a special map of the camp. O. E. LeRoy, who will direct the operation of several parties in British Columbia, will examine the mining properties in Franklin camp to get data for its economic geology.

Diamond drilling on the claims in Chesaw district that the Grauby Co., is prospecting under bond and option of purchase, is reported to have proved the occurrence on one claim of about 25 feet of copper ore.

Better grade ore in large quantity has been mined lately in the Granby mines at Phoenix than for a long while previously. These mines are reported to be looking well and in shape to ship much ore for years.

J. P. Graves, vice-president and general manager of the Granby Co. M. S. and P. Co., left Spokane for New York on Saturday, May 27. Geo. W. Wooster, of Grand Forks, treasurer and director, followed two days later. A meeting of directors in New York will shortly consider reports of the company's mining and metallurgical engineers, and of Benjamin B. Lawrence, of New York, before deciding whether to proceed with the purchase of the Hidden Creek copper property on Observatory inlet.

The first of the Counellsville coke ordered by the Granby Co., from Pennsylvania is expected to arrive at Grand Forks about June 10. If sufficient shall have been received by 15th, some of the blast furnaces will be blown in on that date.

The Granby Co., is preparing to change its system of disposal of blast furnace slag. Granulating by water will be substituted for the present method of dumping the hot slag. Belt conveyors will convey the granulated slag up an incline to have a maximum height of about 100 ft. The new system, which will do away with the use of steam locomotives and slag cars, will be ready for operation about four months hence.

Yesterday up the drift on the Elkhoru, a strike of about eight inches was made, of high grade galena.

B. C. MINING NEWS

Around Barkerville all the hydraulic mines are in full operation.

The coal mines at Lille, Beilue and Blairmore are to be equipped with life saving apparatus and with every possible convenience for the miners. More machinery is to be installed, and the output of coal will be greatly increased.

After the 15th of June the ores produced in the Republic camp will be shipped to Anaconda, Montana, to be smelted. Until recently Republics ores were smelted by the Granby.

Considerable excitement was created in Barkerville recently by the uncovering of a quartz ledge from 12 to 20 feet wide, by Messrs McKenna and McDougal, who are prospecting just back of the town. Although there is no way of determining the values of the ore until they receive returns from a number of samples sent to the Vancouver assay office, the ore has every indication of being highly mineralized, pieces of pure galena and lead from four to six inches square having been taken out, while a small quantity pulverized in a pan revealed a number of colors to the naked eye. This strike is important, inasmuch as the ledge diagonally crosses Williams' creek at the lower end of the town, where ten millions in placer gold was mined in early Cariboo days. It is the opinion of the discoverers that they have found the mother lode of the early-day rich placer claims of this section.—Quesnel Observer.

On the west bank of the Fraser river, opposite Quesnel there is a vast deposit of diatomaceous earth suitable for the manufacture of polishing powders, scouring soaps, etc.

S. S. Fowler stated at the meeting of the Canadian Mining Institute, held recently at Trail, that during nine months 43,079 tons of ore was mined and dressed and the product loaded for shipment at a cost of $1.86 per ton, including management charges.

An Important Case

For alleged libel R. G. Sidley is suing E. M. Cudworth for $10,000 damages, and the case will probably be tried by jury at the Greenwood Assizes, next week. The Attorney-general, and L. W. Shattford, M. P. P. have been summoned to appear as witnesses by the plaintiff.
