No. 44

Of Local Interest

Dr. Mathison, dentist, Naden-Flood block.

Dr. Foster returned last night from a trip to the coast.

F. M. Elkins returned Saturday from a business trip to Nelson and Cascade.

Neil Morrison left yesterday for Cobalt, where he will prospect during the summer.

V. Dynes delivered over ten thousand fruit trees in the Nelson district this season.

Neil Falkingham, who left for Cobalt about a month ago is prospecting for a wealthy syndicate.

R. G. Sidley of Sidley, B. C., was in the city Saturday and Sunday ordering stock for his store.

John Faulkner came down from the West Fork Tuesday and left yesterday for his home in Cape Breton.

J. P. McLeod returned Monday from Kamloops and Vernon where he had been on legal business for the city.

Jas. Russell, president and manager of the Russell-Law-Caulfield Co., left Saturday on a business trip to the coast to be gone a week.

Bishop Dantenwell of Westminster was in the city this week and held confirmation services in the Roman Catholic church Sunday morning.

Rev. H. S. Hastings leaves Monday to attend the Methodist conference which opens in Vancouver Wednesday. Mr. Hastings will not be stationed here next year.

A ball game was played Sunday last between Midway and Boundary Falls. Midway won by a score of 28 to 8. A return match will be played next Sunday in Midway.

L. A. Campbell and wife, of Rossland, and J. J. Campbell, wife and daughter, of Nelson, were in the city Friday last to attend the dance given by J. E. and Mrs. McAllister.

The dance on the evening of the 24th of May will be a benefit to Chas. Shaw, and no doubt every one will buy a ticket. The best of music will be provided. Tickets $1.50, supper extra.

A letter received by a friend in this city of W. H. Jeffery, states that he is working for a company capitalized at thirty million dollars. Ontario may be on a cent basis, but she has dollar suckers.

R. R. Gilpin and wife of Grand Forks, were in the city Saturday. Mr. Gilpin is the pioneer customs officer of the Boundary district, having come here when Boundary creek flowed into the North Fork and Twin creek had its outlet in Long lake.

Howard Moore expects to reopen the Pacific Cafe about the 18th inst. The rooms of the hotel will be nearly all plastered and furnished by the 24th of May, and the proprietors will be in a position to accommodate a large number of guests during the two days of the celebration.

Duncan McIntosh returned this week from a trip to Manitoba and the Territories. He spent some time in Winnipeg, and found it the same old hustling city. He met Premier Roblin, Bob Rogers and other Tory leaders who are proving to the people of the prairie province the benefits to be derived from an honest and progressive government. Mr. McIntosh will return to the Northwest in a few weeks.

"Cariboo Brand" Tape Gutta Percha Fuse is the highest grade. Hunter-Kendrick Co. are distributors.

J. L. White of White Bros. leaves Saturday for Victoria, where he will engage in business.

Geo. Collins left last week for the coast. Mr. Collins has been interested in mining development in this district for the past ten years.

There was a little squabble in the city Saturday evening, the result of one or more big jags. A knife was used, for which the P. M. imposed a penalty of 30 days at hard labor.

R. A. Nicholson leaves Saturday for the coast. From there he will go to Stewart lake to build a fish hatchery for the Dominion government. His many friends in this city will be sorry to see him go but wish him success.

The programme for the 24th of May celebration is out and includes horse racing, athletic sports, drilling contests, tug of war, baseball tournament, etc. Over $2,000 will be given in prizes, and every effort will be put forth by the committee to give visitors an enjoyable two days.

The baseball team will journey to Oroville Saturday to play baseball Sunday. Oroville is on the V., V. & E. and in the United States of America. In order that the people of the U. S. A. may not be too badly discouraged, Greenwood's second team is going to Oroville. Not the team that won last Sunday.

Baseball.

There was a baseball match on the grounds Sunday afternoon. At least a rumor to that effect reached this office Monday. It is wicked to play baseball on Sunday. A charge of playing ball on Sunday, or any other day, will never be preferred against either team. The regular team were defeated by a scratch nine, the score standing 12 and an innings to 10 in favor of the scratch nine. Seven innings were played. It is needless to go into details. If you want particulars see the manager of the team. He was right there all the time with the score book.

County Court.

His Honor Judge Brown will hold county court here on the 14th inst. Naturalization papers will be applied for by Pierre Wilfrid J. A. Maureux, Sivert Olson, Antonio Terano, Francesca Petosa, Francesca Spensieri, Giuseppe Peloso, Santo Crostanzo, Felice Petrelli, Camile Petosa, John Person Thomas, Mark James Moriarty, Prescilla Saunders.

The docket is as follows: Pfeifer v. Peterson—Action for amount of commission on sale of house. A. M. Whiteside for plaintiff, J. P. McLeod for defendant.

Shaw v. Wake—Settlement of account. I. H. Hallett for plaintiff, J. P. McLeod for defendant.

Clark v. Caron—I. H. Hallett, for plaintiff, A. M. Whiteside for defendant.

Meyer v. Wood—I. H. Hallett for plaintiff, J. P. McLeod for defendant.

Dalton v. McIntominey—A. M. Whiteside for plaintiff, I. H. Hallett for defendant.

NELSON NEWS.

The Grove hotel, under the able guidance of Ernie Borden, looks like a howling success. It is lo-ated just on the edge of Nelson, and the situation is the most picturesque of any hotel in the city.

Sam Walker came in from Burton City on Saturday to buy a team of horses. He is one of the oldest ranchers on the Arrow lakes and looks prosperous. The ranch next to his was sold last week for $7,000.

The hotels are crowded every night, and if business keeps up all summer some of the tourists will have to sleep on the grass. Some think the 20,000 Club or Fred Starkey are responsible for the boom.

Houses are much in demand, and some capitalist can find a profitable investment in that direction.

The Daily News will move into its new quarters next week. The new Miehle press will be turned loose at the same time and this famous interior daily will then always be eight pages. The paper is making a fortune for its enterprising owners and readers great service in this upper country.

Smyth has sold the Queen cigar store and will go to Vancouver.

Bill McCandlish has sold the Silver King hotel and will now study political economy. Already he is the biggest politician in the city.

The fuse company, represented

In the Slokan. After a long struggle with Brights' disease, Jimmy the Barber, died in Sandon last week.

George Clark may leave Sandon to prospect around Cobalt.

Walker Smith has secured a long renewal of his Payne lease and will develop that original mine of the camp upon an immense scale.

Some work is being done on the Howard Fraction.

Kaslo is to be connected with Sandon by telephone.

The zinc plant at Rosebery is not running.

The town of New Denver is becoming filled with fruit trees and flower gardens.

There is no cessation of the boom in Three Forks.

Real estate is still high in Sandon. It has over three thousand feet the best of Vancouver.

There is no truth in the report that a barrel of Scotch whiskey had been found in place on the California.

Silverton is probably the most distinguished city of the Slokan. Bill Hunter lives there.

framers of the act intended to place so much power in the hands of the provincial legislatures. Several of the eastern provinces have assented to the bill and British Columbia would have done the same if it had voiced the sentiments of the people and not of certain classes. It was weak kneed policy which prompted the Dominion government to shift the responsibility upon the provinces, and it was largely a spirit of stubbornness that caused British Columbia to stand in the way of the enforcement of the law.—Penticton Press.

The Penticton Press is slightly in error in the foregoing. Labor unions do not oppose a day of rest, and labor unions are not anti-religious. If there is a printer working on the Press, he knows that for 15 years previous to the passage of the Lord's Day Act, no printer working under the jurisdiction of the International Typographical Union was allowed to work more than six days a week if a substitute could be procured to work in his place. Previous to this law being passed by the central body, few printers worked more than four or five shifts a week on daily papers, and some of the local unions worked under a

Jas. Schiewe of Spokane, stated while here this week that an electric hoist would shortly be installed at the Fremont mine.

The electric power line was completed to the Moreen last week and the juice turned on Monday. Development work will be vigorously pushed at the mine.

Alex. Robinson resumed work on the tunnel of the Golconda, in South Deadwood Camp, this week. The tunnel is now in 700 feet and it is the intention to run another 50 feet, with the expectation of encountering the ledge.

A part of the Skylark force was laid off last week, and it is probable that nearly all the high-grade mines near Greenwood will either reduce their force or shut down altogether until the wage difficulties of the district are permanently adjusted.

D. M. Curry came down from Beaverdell Saturday and returned on Wednesday's stage. A car of ore from the Duncan and Bounty Fraction has been brought down to the wagon road and will shortly be hauled to the railway at Midway for shipment to the smelter.

A diamond drill will shortly be started on the Strathmore. The boiler to furnish power is now at the mine, and work will be commenced as soon as the drill arrives. It is the intention to thoroughly prospect the property with the diamond drill, running each hole in 1500 feet.

W. H. Turner and wife of Riverville, Wash., Jas. Schiewe and J. Whitus of Spokane, were in the city Sunday and Monday. The three gentlemen are interested in the Sudbury claim in Deadwood camp. While here they made arrangements with E. G. Warren of the Greenwood Waterworks company, to furnish power and install an electric hoist on the mine. The power line will be extended from the Moreen.

GREENWOOD, May 5, 1907. At the last regular meeting, Greenwood Miners' union No. 22, W. F. M., the following resolution was regularly adopted:

That all members of organized labor be requested to patronize houses displaying the I. W. W. card.

Union men, do your duty. PRESS COMMITTEE, No. 22, W. F. M.

Nicola Coal.

Work on the Nicola Valley Coal and Coke Co.'s property at Coal Gully is going on steadily and excellent work is being done by the management. The tunnel is in over 600 feet and in good coal and is keeping up to the representations made by the management and experts who have visited the property. Besides the tunneling a good deal of preliminary work on other seams and general work has been done. A water system has been installed and a fine flow of water is now on the property.

W. H. Armstrong of Vancouver, the energetic manager, was at the property last week consulting with the superintendent, Alex. Faulds, and was well satisfied with the progress of the work. Bruce Warden of Bankhead, arrived at the mine this week and will assist Mr. Faulds with the engineering work. At present the company is supplying the railway company with 100 tons of coal a week and have orders in for all the coal they can produce.

The Nicola Valley Coal & Coke Co.'s property has many advantages in its favor to make it one of the greatest coal mines on the continent, with an abundance of coal, and its location is admirably situated for working. The coal is not a supposition, but a reality, as can be seen daily, teams hauling same to the side track a short distance from the mine, and from the manner in which the company's business is being conducted, parties interested can have no fear of the outcome. The coal has been used locally for many years, but it was not until the railway was completed that work commenced in earnest. Before the end of this year will see the company with its collieries and a large staff of men busily engaged in getting out the black diamonds; and with this mine alone will be able to support a good sized town in a short time.

Mr. Faulds, the superintendent, is a man of vast experience in the coal line and everything done in connection with the company's interests is done in a substantial and business like manner.—Nicola Herald.

K. of P. Grand Lodge.

On Tuesday afternoon A. D. Hallett, representative from Greenwood lodge No. 29, and L. Bruce Hodge, Duncan Murray and Alex. Rowe left for Nelson to attend the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias. Charles M. Melville, grand representative, and E. A. Hain of Midway lodge No. 36, were on the same train. Other members of Greenwood lodge left on Wednesday morning by the Great Northern.

The D. O. K. K.'s of Spokane, have bottled a Kansas cyclone and will journey from that city during the week to turn it loose in Nelson.

A number of teams will compete in degree work during the session of the Grand lodge, for which a prize is offered.

Robert H. Cosgrove, secretary of the Spokane Interstate Fair association, announces that purses, aggregating $1,250, will be awarded for two rock drilling contests at the fair this fall. The purse will be divided $900 for double contest, $500 for first prize, $250 for second and $150 for third. For single jack contest $350 will be offered—$250 for first and $100 for second. Entries close September 3 at noon; an entrance fee of $15 per man will be charged in each contest, and $10 of this will be returned to each man who drills. Any one entering and not drilling will forfeit entrance fee. Time allowed in two hand contests will be 15 minutes; in single contests 10 minutes. All tools must be furnished by contestants. Drills for double contest to be caliper 3/4 inch at bit and at point 3 inches back of bit; for single to caliper 3/4 inch. Any weight of hammer allowed. One assistant will be allowed in all contests. The rock will be granite from quarries near Spokane. Contests will take place between September 25 and 30.

The lake service of the Canadian Pacific between Fort William and Owen Sound was opened on the 7th, the Manitoba leaving Fort William on that date. Regular tri-weekly service will be maintained, leaving Fort William Tuesdays, Fridays and Sundays.

by C. D. Goepel, will move its headquarters this month from Nelson to Vancouver.

Ranchers should be instructed in the use of dynamite. One lost his life near here the other day by failing to keep away from a stump until all the powder had been circulated.

During the past few days Boundary people have been very numerous in the city.

Joe Gormerly is mixing high balls in the office, while Charley Macdonald gently slides the booze across the bar in the Hume.

Pete Genelle, who sold all his lumber interests last fall, has returned to Nelson after spending the winter in Mexico, and will likely settle down somewhere on the coast. He reports Mexico even more prosperous than Canada, which assertion is difficult to believe by those only familiar with the boom in this glorious Canada of the C. P. R.'s.

Ernie Borden, who at one time presided over the destiny of the dining car on the Bulldog express, had a grand opening of the Grove hotel on Saturday evening. The free lunch has never been surpassed around Nelson.

A. Gray has sold his ranch and will leave here in two weeks for Hazelton.

Holy Smoke!

The provincial legislature, in catering to the wishes of the mine owners, lumbermen and labor unions in regard to the Lord's Day Act, will not meet with the approval of the people of British Columbia in general. It seems remarkable that the public who have the greatest voice in the election of the governing bodies should so often be the least taken into consideration when it comes to legislation. We fail to understand why the government should be bound, on matters of this kind, by any corporation or combination of corporations, or yet much less by the demands of labor unions who do not know what they want. It is evident that the labor unions opposed the enforcement of the act purely through anti-religious sentiments. If an attempt were made to legislate for the abolition of the day of rest altogether there is no class of people who would more strenuously oppose what they would term an infringement of their rights than the labor unions. The stand taken by the provincial government that the Dominion should enforce its own enactments is perhaps legitimate, but it is not technicalities with which we have to deal, and it is doubtful if the five-day law.

In 1894-5 the members of Winnipeg Typographical union worked only five days a week, the hours being 8 per day in news rooms. We have not met a single member of the Miners' Union in the Boundary district who is in favor of 7 days' work a week. As for unionists being less religious than other people, the statement is ridiculous. Union men are like other human beings in regard to their religious leanings, and, like others, can safely be divided into fanatics, Christians, indifferent, agnostics, atheists, and hogs, whose mentality or spirituality can only be reached through their stomachs. You will find among them many extremists, but the large majority are level-headed, reasoning creatures. Members of large corporations may be classed about the same, with, perhaps, a larger percentage of pigs, and the Press's special, pets, the farmers, could easily be marked ditto.

THE COAL STRIKE.

The agreement adopted last week by a majority vote of the miners was signed by the district board on Monday. It guarantees a 25-cent raise per day for drivers and outside men, 15 cents a day for others and about 5 per cent. increase all round.

ARE WE READY?

The Laurier government is spending this year in round numbers one hundred and thirty to one hundred and thirty-five millions of dollars, the sort of generosity of expenditure that you meet with in an election year.

A vaster expenditure of this sort means the usual hooray about a growing country and "expansion and prosperity all along the line." It also means that not very far distant there is a general election. An appeal to the country in the fall of 1908 is the accepted theory. It has been the accepted theory for some time. The enormous monetary handouts provided for in the appropriations passed by parliament—with other things—have somewhat shaken the believers in their belief. Among the other suspicious circumstances is the promise of Sir Wilfrid Laurier that there will be another session of parliament. It is no secret that the opposition have been storing up graft scandals to be touched off during the last session before election. Liberals know it—and just here it might be mentioned that the government apparently have excellent facilities for learning the plans of the opposition. Enraged Conservatives have so far failed to discover the leak. It is just possible that the government may think enough of these coming bombs to want to head them off unless there is no session. In other words there will be no heading unless there is an election next fall. It is offered as conclusive proof that there are no lists ready and therefore there can be no election. As a matter of fact the old lists did pretty well for the government, much better in some regions than can be expected from new lists.

The opposition regard a 1907 election improbable, but they have at the same time a weather eye on the possibility of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his ministers—except Sir Frederick Borden—returning from the Colonial conference, unpacking a nation-building gold brick, ostentatiously ridding the cabinet of the useless old men and the notorious others, and going to the country with a waving of flags, blowing of bugles and dispensing of duets. It is a practical certainty that Sir Wilfrid will come back with some improved or readjusted trade arrangements with Europe, perhaps with some treaty-making right also. He has already declared his hostility to the establishment of a permanent Colonial council in London—if he did otherwise, there would forthwith ascend a howl of protests from the Bourassas of Quebec. He can't afford to come back empty-handed. He can't bring preferential treatment for Canada in the markets of Great Britain; he won't bring participation in a Colonial council scheme. He has other things in his head, things that he regards of sufficient importance—perhaps campaign importance—to have enshrouded in a tomb-like silence.—Bruce Herald.

His Honor, Judge Forin of Nelson, may not be the most brilliant man in the world, but he has a will of his own, is a hard-working, conscientious officer, and like an illustrious dignitary of the Supreme court, is sedulously intent upon maintaining the dignity of his office. This is as it should be, "for who would fardels bear when he might their quietus make with a bare injunction?" The injunction referred to was laid upon no less a person than Mr. J. A. Macdonald of Rossland, the leader of the opposition in the Provincial assembly. The mild-mannered but somewhat dour Scotchman some three months ago trod upon the tail of the coat worn by the judicial Irishman, and as the latter was prohibited by the etiquette of the profession from resorting to the use of a shillelagh, he laid an injunction upon the bellicose Scot, preventing him from appearing in the august presence until he had purged his offence by offering a most humble apology and bowing his face to the floor three times, looking toward Nelson. The eminent counsel vainly imagined that the statute of limitations with respect to such injunctions operated after three months, but was both shocked and surprised to find on turning up in the court last week that the Irish judge had by no means accepted that interpretation of the law, and still insisted on his "pound of flesh." For once the cold-blooded Scot waxed Irish hot, and strange to say the effect worked inversely in the case of the Irish judge, who became increasingly cold, until he reached the verge of stony-heartedness. The sequel was
