Of Local Interest

Dr. Mathison, dentist, Naden-Flood block.

Mrs. E. B. Dill will be at home Tuesday afternoon, November 6.

J. S. C. Fraser, of Roseland was in the city this week.

"Rolling" is still a fashionable pastime in the city.

Have you tried Mapeline? It is sold by Anderson Bros.

The latest invention in burnt leather post cards at McKee Bros.

Houses for rent or sale—Will be in town a few days only.—F. W. Hart.

Mrs. Smith, of Beaverdell, came down on Tuesday's stage and will be a visitor in the city for a few days.

R. K. Hutchins returned from Edmonton last week, and has accepted a position with Geo. H. Cropley.

A marriage license was issued at the government office yesterday to Tuxford E. Collins and Susan Brown, both of Phoenix.

Mrs. C. Radcliffe, of New Denver, arrived in the city this week and has taken over the dining room of the Kootenay hotel.

Work has been resumed on the Providence creek addition to the waterworks system, the difficulty between the city and the Providence Mining Company having been settled.

Salma Sakrisan and Anna Kleri, of Phoenix, purchased a marriage license at the Government office on the 27th October, and were married the same day by Rev. M. D. McKee, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

There was an attempted hold-up in the city Saturday evening. Harry Shaffer, superintendent of the Strathmore, was asked to deliver the goods, but refused point blank, and the hold-up man failed to make good.

The Boundary Creek Times has been moved to the corner of Greenwood and Government streets, the old P. Burns shop, two doors south of THE LEDGE office. It is to be hoped the new editor will not perpetrate any cold-storage jokes.

A number of his friends gave D. A. Bannerman a little send-off Monday evening on the eve of his departure for the Coast. Mr. Bannerman always took a lively interest in the fire department and in sports of all kinds. Had it been known that he was going to leave so soon, a banquet would have been given.

D. A. and Mrs. Bannerman left Tuesday morning for a trip to Alaska, and on the trip Mr. Bannerman may decide on a new business location. Mr. and Mrs. Bannerman have been residents of Greenwood for seven years, during which time they have made many friends, who are sorry to see them leave the city, but wish them continued prosperity wherever they make their home.

The building just completed for the Miners Union hall and reading room at Boundary Falls, will be opened on the evening of Thursday, November 8th, by a ball in aid of the building fund. The committee of management intend to make the affair a success.

Bush's orchestra, of Midway, will be present, which is a guarantee of good music. Supper will be served at the Smelter hotel. Tickets $1.50; supper extra. There is no doubt the hall will be crowded.

Tuesday evening, the members of Boundary Valley Lodge, No. 38, I. O. O. F., held their fortnightly social evening. Progressive Pedro was the order of the evening, and the winners were D. A. McDonald and J. Barlow. A. E. Braithwaite succeeded in capturing the "booby" prize, being a valuable piece of Dresden China. The first prizes were a leather card case, a pack of cards and cribbage board; and a cigar case. Next Tuesday the third degree will be conferred, and the following Tuesday F. Edward Brown will open a discussion as to the advisability of organizing a Rebekah lodge in Greenwood.

Last week the Knights of Pythias of Midway and province presented

E. A. Hain, C. C., of the Midway lodge, with a purse containing nearly $400. Mr. Hain was burned out some time ago, and was a heavy loser by the fire. In August a committee of his lodge started a subscription, with the result as above, contributions coming from every lodge in the Grand Domain of B. C. The presentation came as a surprise to Mr. Hain.

The Midway Bridge

The work on the new bridge across the Kettle river at Midway, has been hanging fire for some time, owing to lack of lumber and timber. Early in August, Government Agent McMyrn asked for tenders for timber and lumber for the bridge from a number of sawmills. The Kettle River Lumber Co. was the only one making a bid, which was accepted on the 28th of August, the company agreeing to furnish the necessary material within 14 days of acceptance of their tender. Foreman Wilmshurst then pushed the building of the piers as quickly as possible, ordered his iron and got everything on the ground ready to complete the work as soon as the lumber arrived. The lumber has not yet arrived. Of course it was necessary to strip the old bridge before the new one could be erected in its place. It is no doubt a great inconvenience to the public travelling by team between Midway and Ferry to have to ford the stream which is fully 18 inches in depth at some places in the ford, and is nearly 100 feet in width. These are perhaps all the facts in connection with the new bridge at Midway.

It is not possible that the delay in building the bridge has prevented the provincial government from bringing on the elections this fall, as one of the Liberal papers has hinted. It is not possible that the commissioner of lands and works would hold the work over until near election time for "campaign purposes." It is more than probable that all the people of Midway understand all the circumstances in connection with the delay, and that none of the government officials are in any way to blame.

George Horton in It

There are few commercial men better or more favorably known than Geo. Horton, the Winnipeg cigar traveler. His many acquaintances will be pleased to know that he has started in business at Pincher Station, Alta. He has opened a general store in that new town, and has also become a partner in the King Edward hotel, and has purchased considerable land in the town and immediate vicinity, and is liable to make a heavy winning in his new venture. If energy, determination and perseverance are factors in success he will succeed.

A Great Hustler

M. McDonald, of Calgary, better known as "Little Mac," is one of the busiest men in the west. In fifteen months he has organized and financed four companies in Alberta with a total capital of $300,000. He is now busy on a fifth to be known as The Western Elevator Co., with a capital stock of $250,000 with head office at Calgary. The last named company is made up of Minneapolis capitalists and a year from now they will have twelve 35,000 bushel elevators doing business in Alberta. Little Mac deserves all his good fortune. If his body was as big as his soul he couldn't find a bed big enough to sleep in anywhere in the west.

On the Old Trails

George Tunstall was looking at the old trails around Nelson last week. George now lives in Montreal and seems to be perfectly resigned to his fate. He says that plenty of people in the cent belt have money and most of them a meal ticket. When in Kamloops he met Bill Reed who is now over 80 years old, and lives in the Old Man's Home. Bill, who crossed the plains in '49 has not yet quit drinking, although the size and roscate hue of his nose has subsided since Bill settled down in Kamloops. George is firmly of the opinion that one or two of his friends in Nelson might be similarly benefitted by a long residence in the B. C. paradise for old men.

Nelson

N. Hoover will spend the winter in the east.

A Nelson syndicate recently sold 2045 acres of land on the Arrow lakes for $20,000. The land cost them a little over $5 an acre.

It is quite likely that the C. P. R. will fill in the low land along the lake just east of their depot in order to acquire more yard room. The present yard room is too limited for their constantly increasing business.

Winnipeg real estate men are numerous in the city on the hunt for fruit lands. The tops of the mountains are still safe.

Mr. Haworth has moved his birds and other effects from Slokan to this city, and made a business alliance with Mr. Nickerson. He is one of the oldest watchmakers in the west.

It is likely that there will be a double daily passenger service from here to Slokan when the winter route to the Coast goes into effect on the 10th.

For many years Francis Holland has worked alone on his three claims situated on Granite mountain across the lake from Nelson. A short time ago he struck some copper ore in one of the tunnels, and has sent a sample of it to his partner in 'Frisco.

Hardly any interest is taken in the approaching municipal election. Property owners will do most of the voting as few householders have registered. Without the combative Houston Nelson is a dead one politically.

The writer nominates David M. Carley for the next mayor of this great tourist city.

Some of the shows appearing at the theatre in this city are strictly in the cellar of excellence. The gall of some people calling themselves actors is colossal.

Another photograph gallery will soon be opened in this city.

Fred Simpson, of the Cranbrook Herald is in the city. He sold his Lethbridge paper last week to a company, and it would not surprise his friends to see him embark in a journalistic venture somewhere in Kootenay. He goes to Revelstoke from here, and may look at the sea before returning.

Sid Nolan and Jack Mason have returned from a successful hunting expedition. They only left two or three bears in the mountains.

James McCarthy has been transferred to the express office in Medicine Hat.

"Here comes the pursuer," said a little boy on the Kananook the other day as the pursuer passed along the deck. The boy evidently had been studying the new-fangled spelling that is abroad in the land.

Last Saturday a woman from Lake street attempted suicide by jumping from a boat into the lake. A young man named Lindsay rescued her with great difficulty. He finally succeeded in getting her into his launch. She was insensible and he rolled her over an oil can until she awakened, and gave evidence of being insane. Thoroughly frightened he hurried ashore and had the unfortunate woman taken to the hospital suffering from a severe attack of hysteria.

New Denver

Henry Stege seems to be the official assignee of the city.

Rev. Baynes is the latest parson in the parish. He is of the kind to be popular in this camp.

A. O. Ostby seems to be in luck. He has a lease on the California, and has run into a nice bunch of ore.

Herbert Twigg intends to spend the winter in Ireland.

W. S. Drewery has moved his family to Nelson where he will reside in the future.

Silverton

Wm. Hunter is taking a look at Phoenix this week.

A few men are working on the L. E.

The Wakefield will resume op-

Around the Mines

At the request of the directors, W. H. Jeffery, M. E., examined the Prince Henry mine the past month, and reported as follows: The main shaft is now down on the level 167 1/2 feet. At the 112 1/2 level a drift is run on the lode north 140 feet. I noticed some very high-grade ore on the floor of this drift, and it appears to me that this level just reaches the apices of the ore shoot, which evidently does not come to the surface, and in only one place in the drift did I notice that the rich ore rises above the drift roof. The lode is strong to the surface but lies very flat, and only where it begins to straighten up to place, as in the drift, is the rich ore found. At the face of the drift there is a break or split in the lode, the quartz tending to the east evidently being in the main lode. This should be followed for some distance still, as at any time ore may be encountered. At the 140-foot level another drift has been run north. Here you are immediately above where the lode straightens up again, after a slight pinch. The shaft is some twenty feet deeper than this No. 2 drift, where the lode is from 4 to 13 inches wide, and standing nearly vertical, or slightly inclined to the east. The quartz in the lode at the bottom of the shaft is making mineral and is to the south of ore shoot. You can look for bunches of ore as you sink deeper, but on drifting north you will encounter the ore proper. The rock in the footwall is hard, but you will find the richest ore lies in the hard formation. The development work has been well and properly done, but would advise sinking to the 200-foot level leaving a sump from 10 to 15 feet deep to facilitate the hoisting of water. Then drift north and carry a stopes with the drift. In this way you will be able to take out the ore in quantity and cheaply. The mine is looking well and is very encouraging for the amount of work done. If it were possible to keep on sinking while drifting. At the 200-level, would advise doing so, as you must get depth to get your ore in the formation.

Elmore Collier came in from Spokane Tuesday evening and left for his home at Beaverdell, West Fork, on Wednesday's stage. Mr. Collier has been in Spokane for the past two weeks in connection with the sale of some of his West Fork properties.

The crosscut from the 300-level in the Elkhorn is in over 100 feet, and ore may be encountered at any time. A car shipment is being taken out from the 1140-level.

Andy Hamilton is working on the Grand Lacey group near Eholt, owned by himself, Thos. Kermua and the estate of the late Thos. Corhill.

Brifting on the E. P. U. is being steadily prosecuted. Five men are employed.

Lardeau Copper

Jim Cronin is evidently after more copper claims. He has acquired from E. Sloan, J. Foster, N. McKim and others four copper claims on Copper creek in the Lardeau.

Council Meeting

At the council meeting Monday evening, there were present, Mayor Naden, and Aldermen Mathison, McKee and Wood.

Minutes of previous meeting read and adopted.

Letter from G. C. Hodge, re: posting notices on telephone poles. Referred to city solicitor.

From E. Steele, re: reading room. Referred to committee.

City solicitor was instructed to prepare a deed between R. Wood & Co and the city for lots 9, 10 and 11, block M, map 455, and when the deed is completed, the sum of $290, together with taxes to date, be paid to R. Wood & Co.

Streets committee recommended that W. G. McMynn be paid $25 for earth deposited on Long Lake street. Received and adopted.

Mayor reported attending meeting of B. C. U. M., and that the printed report would be presented at an early date.

Council went into committee of the whole on bylaw 120. Committee rose and reported bylaw complete as amended. Bylaw 120 received, adopted and finally passed. The amendments to bylaw were dogs and bitches each $2; insurance agents reduced from $50 in original draft to $5.

Ald. Bunting asked leave to introduce bylaw 122—public morals. Bylaw read a first, second and third time.

Bylaw 123 introduced and read three times.

Should Try Greenwood

Four Minnesota capitalists are making a tour of the Canadian west, with a view to establishing a brewery. They will visit the coast cities as well as the principle towns in the interior, and when they find a satisfactory location will spend $100,000 in establishing the industry. It is said that they have been promised railway sidings, no matter where they select their site.

New Banff Hotel

A new hotel will be erected in Banff, Alta., during the coming winter and be ready for business when the season opens next year. Messrs. Hattray and McDougall have purchased the lease for three lots on the corner opposite to the King Edward from R. Inglis, the price paid for the transfer being $8,000. On these, which make a plot 120 by 120, will be erected, a three-story building with basement containing 80 bedrooms. The dining room will seat 100 persons.

It is expected work will be resumed on the Starvout in a few days. An extension was given on the bond until the first of this month, to allow the holders to make a turn with Spokane parties, who have been looking over the property, and it is believed that the report has been satisfactory. If so, work will be resumed in a few days.

It is bliss to smoke a Kootenay Belle cigar.

R. T. LOWERY,
EDITOR AND FINANCIER.

GREENWOOD, B. C., NOV. 1, 1906.

PUBLISHER'S NOTE

With this issue it has been found necessary to increase the size of THE LEDGE to meet the demands of advertisers, and at the same time give a larger amount of reading matter. THE LEDGE has only been doing business in Greenwood six months. At the time of starting it was given one month of existence by some people not friendly to the principles it advocates. The business has been gradually increasing since the first issue, and the local subscription list has grown to such dimensions that the wise business man cannot well afford to overlook its advertising columns in his bid for public patronage. It is the endeavor of the publisher to produce a live weekly, that will bring to the notice of the investing public the vast resources of the district and Province. In this endeavor persons financially interested in the district—either in business, mining or agriculture—can help by throwing their patronage our way. THE LEDGE will always be found keeping pace with the business growth of the city and district. It does not expect to trail behind the procession, but is willing to bear its fair share in helping every industry in the city. We do job printing of every kind, and our advertising columns are open to all legitimate enterprises. We do not give space to quacks or fake promotions.

MANY are called, but few show down a set of fours.

MONEY is the root of all evil, and nearly everybody is out with their spade.

It gives some people heart failure when they have to pay express rates in B. C.

CANADA is a very religious country but most of the jails are full. Why is this so?

A country rapidly becomes degenerate when those in authority fail to do the thinking for all the people.

The people should work one day and rest the other six. We know of only one in Greenwood who follows the doctrine.

Under the guidance of Bourassa the Liberals in Quebec are showing Laurier that they want no more pacaroni in their politics.

The post-master-general still permits the bible to pass through the mails, even when it is not printed in Laurier French.

A CANARY in New Jersey committed suicide because its voice failed. Perhaps the heiress of the family had been playing the piano.

Things in this world are contrary. The people in New York prayed for rain, and it fell on San don where the crops are always moist.

We prophesy that after the 19th of this month the mail from Phoenix will get here in a few hours thus proving the power of the press in protesting against postal procrastination.

EDMONTON, Nov. 1.—A lake of pure whiskey has been discovered about 8,000 miles north of this city and the real estate men expect that the immense rush to it will greatly benefit this place.

CONNETT, Nov. 1.—It is reported that five mines here are getting ready to ship a million dollars worth of silver every minute. It is necessary to do this in order to keep pace with the Toronto papers.

THIS AND THAT

About all the "hot air" we have in Grand Forks comes from Greenwood. Please copy.—Grand Forks Sun.

We regret to admit that there may be some truth in the contention of our estimable contemporary. If we have not been misinformed the Greenwood band furnished hot air, with musical interjections, for a summer carnival at Grand Forks some years ago. At the same time and place, the Foulds Brothers warmed the atmosphere in a drilling contest to such an extent that they succeeded in defeating all competitors. Neither the Greenwood band nor Foulds Brothers have been paid for their endeavors towards more rapid vibrations in the atmosphere at Grand Forks. As a matter of common decency the Sun man should either see that the "hot air" is returned to Greenwood or pay for it.

INSANITY is upon the increase in Ireland. There always has been a thin wall between genius and insanity.

THE Laurier faction of the Liberal party is opposed to the freedom of the press. It wants liberty for its own use, and whenever possible denies it to others.

THE high price of copper is causing many old mines to be reopened in Wales, Ireland and England. In Cornwall many new shafts have been sunk with satisfactory results.

AFTER all the banking system in Canada seems to have a hole in it, and rich editors all over the country are seriously thinking about keeping their money in the ink barrel.

JIM HILL makes speeches in favor of keeping the boy on the farm. If Jim had followed this advice he would still be on the old farm hoeing potatoes and kicking against freight rates.

Those owning white metal mines should now get busy in order to take advantage of the price of silver while it is in the clouds. Strange to say there was more activity in the Slokan when silver was 47 cents than there is now at 70 cents.

WRETT's corruption in banking, insurance and political circles Canada is fast gaining a reputation that does not indicate a very high standard of honesty. The greed for money is sapping the morals of the people and must end in destruction if some remedy is not soon found to abate the evil.

NOR being able to stand the greed corruption and small cold-decking tricks of the Laurier wing of the Liberal party Henri Bourassa has withdrawn his support and will lead the French against the wiles and tactics of that pretty idol of other days—Sir Wilfred Laurier.

IF Lemieux would bar Eaton's catalogues out of the mails he would make a host of votes. It is a wonder that somebody with a political pull does not persuade him to do it. He could easily do it upon the grounds that pictures of ladies clothing are indecent and immoral.

A PROMINENT actress recently lost $150,000 worth of diamonds by leaving them in a sleeping car. She will soon play even by the extra amount of free advertising the A. P. A. is giving the matter. After a while when the dear creature finds them she can have the ad repeated.

PEOPLE are wondering where all the gold goes to. We are not to blame for its disappearance for since we escaped from Fernie we have not seen enough of the yellow metal to plug the tooth of a white-ringed angel. The Midway Starman must have it cached under his arm.

TALLOWGRAPHIC NUSE

BY OUR LEASED LIEK.

St. PETERSBURG, Nov. 1.—The anarchists are now buying Chicago canned cat instead of bombs.

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—No banks have been wrecked or closed in Ontario discovered within the past five minutes.

FRISCO, Nov. 1.—Pirates are plentiful in the city. Most of them are disguised as landlords with buildings to rent.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The assertion that Roosevelt and the Kaiser made the earth is being denied by the leading scientists in this city.

THREE Forks, Nov. 1.—Hugh Niven has just blown in $400 for a team of horses. He wants them to draw his beer from the station.

well to warn him of the danger he is running. Many people in Ontario and Quebec contracted brain fever from reading this paper in years gone by, and it should be taken in homeopathic doses by persons who are not exceptionally strong intellectually. It may be that the post-master general wishes to obtain authentic information as to the utility of the postal service west of Merina. On this point he can get an unbiased opinion from any person in the west, with, perhaps, the possible exception of the member for Patweli. It is so slow that it is beyond the power of mortal to describe. Eleven years ago a letter was mailed to a little girl in St. John, N. B., notifying her of the postponement of a sleighing party. The letter was received by the person to whom it was addressed in Greenwood, B. C., this year. By this it will be seen that the system is so slow that even natural decay does not affect it. The distance between Greenwood and Phoenix is four miles. It takes a letter from two to six days to travel that distance on trains averaging 15 miles an hour. It is so slow that occasionally on letters coming from Toronto to points in B. C. the envelopes are worn off, and the contents sent to the dead letter office for identification, and often the seals are worn off the envelopes. In the latter instances it is only letters addressed to Conservatives that are unfortunate. A letter was mailed four years ago to the secretary of the Conservative association in Greenwood. It hasn't arrived yet. It may have become worn to a frazzle, or it may not. There is much in regard to the postal service in the west that should receive the careful consideration of the head of the department. Very much, indeed, of greater importance to the public than press censorship. If the reading of THE LEDGE will cause the P. M. G. to think and act, it will have been of benefit to a nation—and long suffering public.

Dress has a mechanical influence upon the mind, and we are naturally awed into respect and esteem at the elegance of those whom even our reason would teach us to condemn. The appearance of a correct and attractive costume gives to a man inclines all who meet him to hold him in respect, and is of itself a recommendation of considerable importance. The man who knows how to dress well is possessed of good taste in reference to most matters and always buys custom made clothes, and whatever the variety of styles that are in vogue may be, he will, while strictly complying with the dictates of fashion dress unobtrusively, for to dress well is to dress quietly, to appear genteel and most ostentatious is the aim of all who dress well, hence to have clothes made by a custom tailor is a guarantee of perfection.

Some men's heads are so soft that a shadow from a brick wall produces a serious impression. When a man runs short in his accounts he is apt to run long in his travels.

THE House of Commons will be opened up this month in the old stand in Ottawa, just near enough Quebec for the press censor to be in touch with his principals, and not far enough away from Nova Scotia and Ontario to escape the perfume from Queens-Shelbourne and London in the bush. Hons. Fielding and Hyman should be able to give interesting dissertations on "First Aids to the Poor." The Postmaster General might tell "How it's Done in Russia," and compare Liberal methods with those of that benighted country. Our own Duncans might show how British Columbia is being built up by establishing industries in the State of Washington, and how the ranchers of Sidney have been benefited by the V. V. & Co. being built in American territory. Then there are the minor questions of ballot-box stuffing in Saskatchewan, Frank Oliver's colony of office holding convicts in Alberta, Preston's reward, Templeman on the G. T. P., M-Therson on Brotherly and—and—the life endangering speed at which M. Leno's has mail distributed through British Columbia.

Our excellent, refined and unadulterated postmaster general has lately expressed a desire to see and read THE LEDGE regularly, and his wishes or commands are being complied with. It is possible the gentleman contemplates another coup similar to that on Lowery's Claim. If he is actuated by a desire for knowledge, his latest move is to be commended, but still

For 40 cents you can get a pound can of Crescent baking powder at Anderson Bros.

Your Neighbor

Your neighbor is just as good as you are. Your neighbor is no coarser, commoner or more vulgar than you are. Your neighbor is just as truthful just as honest, just as sincere as you, and possibly not half as big a lying gossip as you are. Your neighbor is just as religious, just as virtuous, and in every way just as good a citizen as you, and has just as much right to inhabit the earth as you. Your neighbor has a right to eat his own pie with a fire shovel if he likes; has a right to attend church or stop at home just as it pleases him; has a right to punish his own children, go fishing on Sunday, smoke a pipe, keep his face clean or do a lot of things, and you are not appointed, chosen or elected to set yourself to judge him, or his.

You and your neighbor are made of the same mud, live in the same sunshine, governed by the same laws, and ashe attends to his own business you should to yours; and when you set yourself up to gossip about your neighbor or scold away others, just because you can find somebody to listen to your hypocritical criticisms, you simply advertise yourself as a three-story idiot. Stop lying about your neighbor, stop speaking nastily of anyone, attend to your own business while your neighbor attends to his, and your chance of wearing a crown will be very greatly improved.—Ex.

The Greatest Passage

To ask for the one most justly celebrated passage in English prose literature is like asking for the one most justly celebrated sort of fruit in the orchard. There are easily a score of equally worthy passages, each one making its special appeal to a different mood of the mind. Ruskin's description of Turner's Slave Ship satisfies our love for the majestic color and motion of the sea. De Quincey's reverie on the Nebula in Orion carries a sense of the vastness and mystery of the sky. Pater's picturing of the Shield of Hercules rebuilds for us the light and life of buried Hellas. Swinburne's eulogy of Rossetti astounds us with the pleasure and speed of his words. Le Gallienne's prose fancy, "The Twelve Wells," stirs our hearts with the precious disquiet of old sorrows. Victor Hugo's oration in "The man Who Laughs" awakens in us the ennobling passion of humanity. Lincoln's Gettysburg speech hushes the soul with its fine appeal to the heroic in the heart of man. I might go on to mention Emerson, Poe, Thoreau, Hawthorne, Lake Harris, Jeremy Taylor, as well as St. Matthew, St. John, Job and other peers in the parliament of words. But I content myself with making the one selection that is perhaps my favorite in most of my moods. I refer to that stately and sonorous passage from Carlyle's "Sartor Resartus," where he sees history, as a stupendous procession, forth-issuing from the Cimmerian North and vanishing from pathetic and fathomless Silence. Here is the passage:

"Like some wild-flaming, wild-thundering train of Heaven's artillery, does this mysterious Mankind thunder and flame, in long drawn, quick succeeding grandeur, through the unknown Deep. Like a God-created, fire-breathing Spirit-host, we emerge from the Inane; hasty stormily across the astonished Earth; then plunge into the Inane. Earth's mountains are levelled, and her seas filled up, in our passage; 'E'en the Earth, which is but dead and a vision, resist Spirit—which have reality and are alive? On the hardest adamant some footprint of us is stamped in; the last. Rear of the host will read traces of the Earliest Van. But whence? O Heaven, whither? Sense knows not; Faith knows not; only it is through Mystery, to Mystery, from God to God.'—Edwin Markham

Crime of Poverty

How they flock to the aid of this man who wrecked a bank! A criminal now in the eyes of the law, yet, he fares sumptuously and can wear purple and fine linen. No dark, gloomy prison cell for him. Oh, no! Luxurious apartments to receive the man who wrecks a bank. Men tumbling over each other to go on his bond. The bank wrecker is free—at least for a time.

A poor man stands in the dock, charged with a petty theft. A wife and little children were starving at home, and he stole—stole, did I say?—oh, no, merely appropriated to his own use, some old scraps of iron he sold to buy bread. But the law says in his case, it was there. He stole! The rough, burly policeman has brought him to trial, he stands charged with the awful crime of theft; the wife looks on, and little children cling to her dress skirt, one on either side, with their tear-stained faces. "Guilty," says the court, and the father, this bread-winner of the little home, is off to a cold cell. He stole, you know, a few scraps of worthless material lying around loose.

The attorney-general didn't spend any time in looking up precedents, or wondering whether he should act or not. Oh, no! Not a cog in the wheel of justice was delayed a moment. He was a poor man and must suffer. A cell in prison is his portion. God help him! Poor object of pity—and the wife and children at home. He is not a wrecker of a bank. Only a poor workman.

Insupportable fate! What a crime it is to be poor.—Tom Humble.

Dr. Fraser on Socialism

In the First Presbyterian church Sunday night, Rev. Dr. Fraser dealt with "The Strength and Weakness of Socialism." Answering a question which had been addressed to him in course of the week, "Is not the antagonism of socialism to the church caused by the antagonism of the church to socialism?" he denied that the church was opposed to socialism. He asserted that the church, from its constitution and make up, was not opposed to socialism, but was opposed to wrong doing, whether in capitalism or in socialism, in people or in priest or preacher. Dealing with his subject proper, he argued that socialism was strong because of the truth that is behind and in its propositions, because it aimed at securing the greatest good for the greatest number, and because it sought to obtain for every man his due and proper proportion of that which he produced. The weakness of socialism was the intemperance and intolerance of socialists. According to a statement made by Upton Sinclair, author of "The Jungle," in "The World's Work," every socialist had to swallow and stand by the whole socialistic platform, and every candidate must first of all put a written resignation in the hands of the party, so that, in the event of his breaking away from the platform in any particular, the resignation would take immediate effect. The preacher referred to utterances by Jack London and Eugene V. Debs, and to the assassination of President McKinley as instances of intemperate language and its effect.

SOCIALISM WAS WEAK, he said, because socialism created a class struggle and it was wrong to array men against men. It was weak because of its absolute ignoring religion. In this connection the preacher quoted Mr. Hawthorne's words in Nelson. Every organization, he continued, that attacked religion, made a great mistake, as history showed. Socialism was weak because it attacked the family as an institution. Views which he quoted from socialist writers, were, he said, individual, and they did not in any sense, of necessity attach themselves to the fundamental principles of true socialism; but they were held and exploited by socialists. Socialism, he declared, needed a new spirit in its propagation.—Vancouver World.

Good English, is notoriously quaint, and the following quotation from a speech said to have been delivered by a native lawyer in Bengal in an assault case quite maintain the reputation of the wild Hindu for unconscious humor. My learned friend with mere wind from a teapot thinks to brow beat me from my legs. I stand under the shoes of my client, and only seek to place my bone of contention in your honor's eye. My learned friend vainly runs amuck upon the sheet anchors of my case. My poor client has not such phsyic of mind as to be able to assault the lusty complainant. Yet she has been deprived of some of her valuable leather, the leather of her nose.

Dealing with the evidence of a hostile witness, the learned pleader proceeded to observe:

Until the witness explains what has become of my client's nose leather, he cannot be believed. He could not be allowed to raise a castle in the air by beating upon a bush.

Whether the speech containing these gems of eloquence prevailed with the judge we are not informed.—Ex.

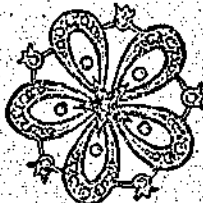

Mamma, I've been praying every night for a new doll, said little Dorothy, and God hasn't sent it yet.

Perhaps God doesn't think that you need another doll, dear, answered the mother.

Then why doesn't he tell me? asked the little girl, so I could pray for something else.—Woman's Home Companion.

In the Lardeau the Winslow is to be operated by a stock company. London capital is becoming heavily interested in silver properties near Silverton. That pretty town will yet be a lumina.

Jim Cronin has purchased some claims in the Lardeau.

The flight of time has worked many changes in the Slokan. On his farm this fall Bill Brandon dug up a potatoe that weighed five pounds.

There are four typhoid patients in Nelson, all from outside points. It is rumored that a syndicate will buy New Denver, and make it the leading summer resort of the west.

More sawmills are to be built at Nelson and Arrowhead.

Typhoid fever is epidemic in Regina, Moosejaw and other towns on the prairie. At Moosejaw the trouble has been traced to the milk.

There is a wood famine in Nelson and alarmists say the price will reach $10 a cord.

It is said that Bill Hunter will run again for the legislature, in the Slokan.

M. A. Burritt has removed from Rossland to Davenport, Wash.

The new Royal hotel was opened in Vernon last week.

The Dominion Copper Co. has banded the Delphia group, on Lafleur mountain, just across the line in Washington. B. W. Parks will have charge of the development work.

In the Last Chance, near Sandon, a good strike has been made in the lowest level. About forty men are working on the Chance.

Kaslo

Geo. Ransom, formerly of the Payne is now devoting his time to the Sovereign, where he is company with a couple of others, are meeting with very encouraging results. As a result of this season's operations, they have a car of high grade ore ready for shipment.

The Ruth mine and mill are maintaining a steady output of ore and concentrates. Part of the product is zinc, the other lead. The zinc is to receive a second treatment at the Kootenay Ore Co.'s works here. The lead goes to the Hall Mines smelter. About 20 men in all are employed around the mine and the mill. The concentrator will be kept in operation as long as the water allows. On the Hope, adjoining the Ruth, development work only is being carried out.

At the Sunshine, under lease to Messrs. Carley and Holmquist, the strike made a few weeks ago continues to hold its own. The ore is being packed down steadily and once rawhiding starts, heavier shipments will probably be the order. The Sunshine is one of the group of twenty-six claims owned by the Minnesota Silver Co., and is located about two miles north-west of Sandon. Judging from the appearance it may prove another Lone Bachelor.

The Cork has resumed operations after being closed down a couple of weeks, in order to allow of the installation of a new water wheel and the completion of a 1500 foot flume. These last improvements will give a big increase in power, both for mining and milling purposes. The mill is in good shape for a steady winter's run, and it is likely that an average of two cars per week will be shipped. The last car sent to the smelter assayed 48 ounces silver and 72 per cent lead. Good stuff that at present prices. Kootenai.

Grand Forks

According to Chief Engineer Warrington, of the Kettle Valley lines, work on the new down-town depot, which will be located on Third street, between Bridge street and Winnipeg avenue, will be started about the 10th of next month. The old skating rink, which occupied the site of the proposed new station, has been torn down and cleared away, and the ground is now ready for the workmen. Mr. Warrington also states that as soon as the contractors finish their contract at the B. C. Copper Co.'s smelter in Greenwood, work will be commenced on the railway bridge at Third street in this city. He expects that this will be some time between the 1st and 10th of next month. As soon as the piles for the bridge here have been driven, the pile driver will be moved to Eagle City and work started on the bridge at that point. He expects to have the heavier portion of the work on both these bridges completed before severe weather sets in.—Sun.

A New Mill

The Clowholm Lumber Co., in which Vancouver people are interested, and of which C. Ralston is manager, is starting a large mill at Salmon Arm, just off Sechart Inlet. It is to be 125 horse-power mill, run by water. The mill will have a capacity of 40,000 feet of lumber and 80,000 shingles per day, and it will be ready to start up at Christmas. The company controls large timber limits in the vicinity of the mill.—Vernon Vow.

Don't delay getting your photos. Mr. Macknight will be glad to see you at the City Studio any day for the next fifty weeks.

Zinc Smelters

Again it is announced that zinc smelters will be built in Mexico to develop the large deposits of ore which have been discovered in recent years, particularly in the north. The United States tariff on zinc ores undoubtedly will have a tendency to encourage zinc smelting in Mexico. But on the other hand, this smelting must be conducted on a scale that will enable the operators to sell spelter in the markets of the world in competition with the Europeans whose works have been established long and are operating with great economy. The spelter produced in Mexico could not under present tariff regulations enter the United States, and as the consumption in Mexico would be comparatively small for some years to come, it must therefore find its largest market in Europe and elsewhere.

The Magdala is the name of a cigar that the barkeep will show you if you ask him for it.

Turn of the Tide

The result in Quebec County is undoubtedly a lesson for the Government. No convention was called for the County, but Mr. Amyot was imposed upon the Liberals by a Quebec junta and Sir Wilfred's prestige was invoked to secure his election. An independent Liberal took the field: the Conservatives threw their weight behind him, and his election by some 400 majority has now to be recorded. It is not probable that the result will effect the Government's majority in the House, for Mr. Robitaille is probably as good a Liberal as Mr. Amyot—quite possibly a better one. But it would be idle to deny that the result is a bad blow to the party organization in Quebec. Another mix-up is threatened in St. Anne's, where the tactics, which have brought disaster in Quebec, are being attempted. A few months ago gross mismanagement in the choice of a candidate, cost the party the constituency of Maisonneuve. It is about time the leaders of the party took some thought of the Quebec situation; it is quite evident that there is something perilously akin to revolt among the Liberals of that Province.—Winnipeg Free Press.

A Good Tip

The Toronto World, which is just now busily engaged in boosting Cobalt stocks up to the shingles has the following to say about the stock game across the line:

"Canadian investors ought to be careful these days in regard to the stock market of the United States which is in a very unsettled condition."

Furthermore, nearly all the stocks dealt in New York are much too high for the values behind them. They have been so inflated with water that, sooner or later, revaluation must take place, and when it does take place the holders of the stock are likely to be the sufferers.

Canadian investors also ought to beware of financial letters published in Canadian papers and written in New York newspaper paper offices, and intended to boom New York propositions in Canada.
