Clean up days were a great success. Everywhere the loyal and patriotic citizens were seen with their rakes, shovels and wheelbarrow cleaning up the rubbish, while the city council had teams and men engaged cleaning up the streets. The city now has a tidy appearance. There are still, however, a few backyards that are a disgrace to the community, but it is hoped that before the health inspector makes his rounds that these yards will be cleaned up.

Large Audience Well Entertained

There was a large and appreciative audience in the Greenwood Theatre last Friday night at the entertainment given by the Tennis Club and there was no excuse for any one of them failing to enjoy the programme from start to finish. The general verdict was that it was the best all round show ever given in the city. The programme was produced in such good order, the customary waiting time between numbers being saved, it was completed by ten o'clock which means that the entertainment lasted for nearly two hours. Space will not permit to do justice to the different items, though every single one was given in a manner creditable to the performers and all were encored.

The Greenwood orchestra appeared for the first time and their difficult selections were happily chosen and played with good assemble and remarkable dexterity of fingering. The orchestra is doing good work and if they will continue to practice there is no telling what heights in the world of music they will reach.

Mrs. Birch, of Midway, is the possessor of a rich well trained voice and she gave the audience a rare treat with her singing. She had to sing four songs and even then the audience wanted more. Mrs. P. E. Rock accompanied at the piano in a most artistic style.

D. Cavaye was one of the surprises of the evening. Mr. Cavaye has sung in some of the biggest halls in Edinburgh, and Greenwood is fortunate in having him. His rendering of "Hail Caledonia" sent a thrill through the hearts of all Scots. Mr. Cavaye's voice has a beautiful timbre, seldom heard in a baritone. "The Old Fashioned Town" was very pleasing.

A. V. Foot is already a favorite and was in good voice. "The "Mountains of Mourne" is at least exacting, but he sang it with exceptional ability. He gave a hunting song as an encore.

A number which deserves special mention was the singing of "My Little Gray Home in the West" by P. H. McCurrach who is well known to Greenwood audiences and is always a favorite. The singing of this song had great effect because between the verses dancers gracefully glided on to the stage and waltzed. This number had to be repeated to satisfy the demands of the audience.

Nor on the dramatic side was there any sign of hesitation or weakness. The recitations by Miss McIntosh were well delivered and and much appreciated by the audience.

The choruses were well rendered and particularly well chosen for the occasion.

Greenwood is accustomed to perfection in Mrs. Taylor's accompaniments and on Friday she enhanced an enviable reputation.

Following the concert "Romeo of the Rancho" a one act farce full of exciting and amusing complications, was presented; G. S. Walters, Miss Barron, R. Spencer and W. Bryant taking the parts. Not once was the voice of the prompter heard. Mr. Walters, who had the leading male part, gave a splendid characterization of an old Shakespearian actor who was very keen on having his daughter, Rosalind, become a great actress. He was a laugh provoker all the way through. Miss Barron, as Rosalind, was very graceful and her pronounciation is clear and her acting good, while Roy Spencer as a gushing cow boy played the part to perfection. W. Bryant as bell boy had a difficult part, but he rose to the occasion and helped make things funny. From the dramatic critics point of view they are entitled to a quarter of a column of boquets each and their pictures would go with the compliments if they were available.

After the concert a most enjoyable dance was held in the Masonic Hall at which there was a very large attendance. The Greenwood Orchestra played assisted by the Rock Creek Orchestra which made the evening a happy one. The gross proceeds of the concert and dance amounts to nearly $150 and after expenses are paid the surplus will go towards repairing the tennis courts.

NOTES OF THE CONCERT

It is not often that an audience is so appreciative.

Every number was heartily encored.

It is difficult to write about it without dealing almost entirely in superlatives.

Any audience would have liked it.

Many were present from Rock Creek, Kettle Valley, Midway and Eholt.

One old country gentleman said that "hunting scene and John Peel chorus brought him back to the days of his youth and sent a thrill through him."

The Kettle Valley school trustees have invited the concert party to repeat the show at Riverside Hall on Friday the 13th inst, which has been accepted.

Early Sunday morning J Wagner, of Midway, was shot in the neck by some Americans near Ferry, Wash. The wound is not serious and Joe is doing nicely. It appears that he was held up while crossing the line and shot without warning. The hold-ups robbed Wagner of all he had and departed in a car for parts unknown.

A Serious Accident

A serious accident of a mysterious nature occurred on Wednesday morning about 7 o'clock when C. A. Carlson, C. P. R. section foreman, and his assistant O. Scholberg received painful flesh wounds on the legs, arms and face. As Mr. Carlson opened the door of his section tool shed to get his speeder there was an explosion which was heard all over the north end of town and the two men received nasty wounds. Dr. Burnett who gave first aid, before sending them on the work train to Grand Forks, found pieces of copper in the flesh of the wounded men. The explosion could hardly be the result of gasoline for then the place would have gone up in flames, but there is a hole in the floor of the shed where the mysterious thing exploded. An investigation should be held.

Rock Creek Institute

The regular meeting of the Rock Creek Women's Institute met at Riverside Hall on Saturday afternoon, April 30th, 16 members being present.

A short discussion on the coming conference in June. Mrs. Lindsay was elected as government delegate and Mrs. Norris as Institute delegate.

The Institute donated $10 to each of the three district schools for books for children's library, and also voted $50 for the Canadian Vimy Memorial Church.

Mrs. Pittendrigh gave a very interesting address on rural community improvement.

Refreshments were served and the meeting was adjourned by singing the National Anthem.

Popularity Contest

Only two more days and the Contest will close. There are many anxious people waiting to hear the result. Now is the time to cast your ballots. Boost for your favorite candidate and don't forget tovote. Contest closes on Saturday May 7 at 12 p. m. The following is the latest official count:

Miss A. Podbielanick, Midway, 520, Mrs. Geo. Walters 4220, Miss Eva Murray 6710, Miss Cassie McDonald 1620, Mrs. H. Snell, Rock Creek, 2470, Miss Josephine McKee 2340, Miss Georgina Lee 5210, Mrs. C. T. Fenner 4210.

AMONG THE DAISIES

By E. L.

Written Exclusively For This Paper

"And so, Nellie, you have made up your mind to go to the big city?"

Nellie swung her wide brimmed hat to and fro' ere she replied:

"Yes, Ned. I want to be independent to earn money for myself, and now that Aunt Maria has this friend of hers coming, it's a good chance for me to get away."

Ned, big and brawny, with his shirt open at his pillar-like throat, a very son of the soil, could not forbear a slight smile as he looked down at the five feet of independence before him, who was about to go out and make her mark in the world.

Nellie was an orphan who had been brought up by her aunt, but for some time now her soul had chafed against the restraint of her quiet country existence. She was twenty-one and she wanted to go to the city.

And so, with a gay smile on her lips, standing amongst the daisies in the sunlit field that beautiful June afternoon, Nellie said "good-bye" to Ned who had loved her all her life. Ned was a prosperous young farmer, but he seemed very prosaic to Nellie who had all sorts of visions of being a clever business woman and to whom the life of a farmer's wife did not in the least appeal. And Ned, whose heart was aching, said no word.

* * * *

The weeks in the city passed slowly. The little room for which Nellie thought she had to pay a small fortune was hot and stuffy and she could not help remembering the clean white cottage she had left where the rambler roses climbed, and yes, sometimes as she struggled with the mysterious dots and dashes in the Pitman system, the beautiful green fields white with daisies rose before her. But she was proud and said no word, and in the country they thought she was happy. They had no idea of how lonely a little country girl of twenty-one can be in a large city.

* * * *

And then one day Nellie took sick and for weeks she lay at the point of death. But youth and a good constitution triumphed. Ned and Aunt Maria travelled up to the city to see the "little lass."

"P'raps," ventured Aunt Maria hopefully, "she may be willin' to come home fur a spell, eh Ned?"

"I shouldn't wonder," replied Ned, setting his lips in a firm line, "I shouldn't wonder."

* * * *

And when Nellie saw Ned she knew that she was not cut out for a career, that she was just a little country blossom which would quickly fade if transplanted elsewhere, and that she could, after all be quite happy in a farmhouse.

"Oh," she said, as they were leaving the hospital, "where are you taking me, Ned?"

"We're taking you home, my girl," Ned's voice was gruff, but his heart was full and he could hardly suffer himself to look at that little pale face which had been so blooming that last day they had talked among the daisies.

"Yes, dearie," chirruped Aunt Maria, "the city don't 'pear to have agreed with ye, but if ye have a rest and pick up ye can come back next summer."

* * * *

Next summer came and on a lovely June day Nellie and Ned again stood in the field of daisies.

Ned stooped and picked one of the white blossoms and brushed it against her soft cheek.

"Are you going to the city this year, Nellie?"

"Maybe!" replied Nellie mischievously, showing a provoking dimple as she smiled.

"And maybe not!" replied Ned masterfully, drawing her closer to him.

"Maybe not," he went on. "Instead I think you and I are going to be married and live in the big farmhouse down the lane. You were never meant for the big, hungry city, but just for a sweet country daisy."

As Nellie made no reply to this we presume that Ned was right.

Nervous Headaches, Dizziness

COULD NOT SLEEP

Wherever there is any weakness of the heart or nerves, flagging energy or physical breakdown the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will soon produce a healthy strong system.

They renew lost vitality, build up the strength, increase mental activity, give nerve and brain power, improve the appetite and make rich, red blood, thus banishing nervousness, headaches, sleeplessness, nervous prostration, heart palpitation, shortness of breath, faint and dizzy spells, smothering feeling, anaemia, general debility and all troubles arising from a run down system.

Mrs. M. Damgand, Youngs Cove Road, N.B., writes:—"I was bothered very much with my heart and nerves; had nervous headaches and dizziness, could not sleep nights and my appetite was all gone. I was almost on a nervous breakdown when a neighbor told me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. This I did, and before I had the second box used I was better."

War With Wild Beasts

Many People In India Are Killed Every Year.

The struggle between human beings and wild animals in India seems to be constant. Last year fifty-five persons were killed by elephants, five by hyenas, 109 by bears, 350 by leopards, 853 by tigers, and 688 by boars and other animals. Poisonous snakes claimed no fewer than 22,478 victims. More than 19,000 wild beasts of various kinds were destroyed and 91,000 snakes were killed. High floods killed off many of the small animals that are ordinarily the prey of wild beasts, and this probably accounts for the attention that tigers and other large animals have given to their human neighbors.

Rub it in for Lame Back.—A brisk rubbing with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will relieve lame back. The skin will immediately absorb the oil and it will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the liniment sinks in the pain comes out and there are ample grounds for saying that it is an excellent article.

For Relief Of Unemployed

Large Amounts Are Obtained From the Federal Government.

That up to April 23, $133,093.42 had been paid by the Dominion Government to municipalities throughout Canada for relief of unemployed, was stated in the Ottawa House recently. Winnipeg led the list with $51,003.49 and Vancouver next with $49,457.00.

The municipalities and the amounts paid to them as the Government share of the relief plan, follow:

Amherst, N.S., $830.54; Montreal, $3,811.03; Winnipeg, $51,003.49; Moose Jaw, $7,505.10; Saskatoon, $1,320.37; Regina, $10,540.24; New Westminster, $112.30; Vancouver, $49,457.00; St. James, Man., $847.47; West Kildonan, $316.43; Burnaby, B.C., $140; Nelson, B.C., $105.51; Prince Rupert, $1,558.45; the district of South Vancouver, B.C., $5,519.28; and Cumberland, B.C., $26.21.

Increased Use Of Drugs

Drug Addicts Reported on Increase in Vancouver District.

Indicating an increase in the use of drugs in Vancouver during the last few years, the annual report of the city health department shows that the number of examinations of drugs during 1920 was nearly double that of the year previous and more than five times as many as in 1917.

During 1920 the health department analyzed for the police department 2,148 samples of opium, morphine, heroin and cocaine. During 1919 the number was but 1,133. In 1918, 513, and in 1917, 429.

"Your Teeth"

By Rea Proctor McGee, M.D., D.D.S., Editor of Oral Hygiene.

GOITER.

Copyright, 1921, by Rea Proctor McGee.

In speaking of the diseases and infections of the body that arise from the teeth, it is not intended to give the impression that the teeth are invariably the cause of infection, but these cases are explained in order to show the results of neglecting mouths.

Until recent years we had not realized the danger of neglecting the mouth and teeth—because digestion was so seriously interfered with, by the inability to chew, and because appearance and distinct speech were ruined, and because pain of many kinds and of great intensity was a very frequent occurrence, and because broken roots and open cavities retained decomposing food and mucus, with a resulting bad breath. These were a few of the things that caused the more cultured people to have their mouths put in order.

The researches of the great institutions that are devoted to the study of disease have shown us that the results of neglected mouths are far more serious than we had at first believed; and there is just one way to avoid these serious results. That is to take care of the mouth in time.

Begin with the children, and if the child is trained to have its mouth in good condition and to know the comforts that follow a good mouth condition, thhe child will make very strenuous efforts, in later life, to have those same physical comforts.

One of the most embarassing as well as serious of the widespread diseases of this country—a condition that is becoming more and more frequent—is goiter, which is the enlargement of the thyroid gland which lies in the interior portion of the neck.

A swelling of this gland produces a very unsightly enlargement of the neck, many times causing a series of what is known as thyroidism.

Thyroidism is attended with sleeplessness (or insomnia), nervousness and excitability, twitching and rapid heart action.

It was found that in large numbers of goiters the infection in the thyroid gland was a certain bacteria that is found in abscess sacs at the ends of roots of diseased teeth in the mouth of the patient; and in many instances the treatment of the teeth, or the extraction of the teeth and curetting of the sockets, relieved the goiter entirely.

It is therefore advisable to have a careful X-ray examination of the mouth in all goiter cases.

Superstition of Sailors.

Old sailors believe ill-luck will surely follow if anyone even accidentally counts the number of persons on board ship.

It Will Prevent Ulcerated Throat.—At the first symptoms of sore throat, which presages ulceration and inflammation, take a spoonful of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quinsy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

The Old Gardener Says.

In your garden planning allow for liberal crops of all vegetables which can be canned for winter. Almost everybody cans peas, corn and string beans, but the fact is often overlooked that carrots and beets are really better when canned than when stored in the cellar. The only point is that they must be taken when small. This means, of course, that more of them must be planted. New Zealand spinach is another good vegetable to can and greatly relished when winter comes.

Percheron Horse for Okanagan.

Naval Periscope For Skyscraper

New York Man Wanted to Enjoy the Harbor View From His Apartment.

"We Senators aim to oblige," said Senator New (Ind.), "but often there are demands that cause us to dust off our thinking caps. Instance a letter from a man in New York wanting me to ascertain where he could get a periscope cheap. It seems he has an apartment at the top of a skyscraper overlooking New York harbor and his idea was to insert a periscope in his apartment so he could take his ease in his library and yet enjoy the spectacle of incoming and outgoing ships.

"We discovered that the gentleman could have a perfectly good but obsolete periscope for $400, but that if he insisted on a brand new, ultra medium, top-hole first-class navy periscope, it would cost him a cool $18,000. That information was promptly transmitted—to the gentleman's satisfaction, I hope."

The Doughboys Know Best

American Soldiers Who Went With the British Through the Hindenburg Line.

There are some people who seem to be under the impression that in the World War we fought against Great Britain, and not on her side. But the American soldiers who went with the British through the Hindenburg line know better. They did not care whether they fought under an American, a British or a French commander, if only they might bring America's power to bear on the enemy in the most effective way. In the greatest enterprise that the world ever saw, the two nations were welded together in bonds, forged in the fires of war, which, it is hoped and believed, will never be broken. Our people have not forgotten, nor have our soldiers, and they are not likely to forget.—Indianapolis News.

Letters Of Recommendation

Tell the Truth But Rarely Tell the Whole Truth.

"Billy" Williams, United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue, says a lawyer told him once that "a letter of recommendation does not evidence a man's ability, but merely signifies the amiability of the writer." That is about as solid a truth as one will see in a day's walk. Every ready letter writer will agree to that. Many letters tell the truth about the man for whom they are written, but they rarely tell the whole truth. If there are unpleasant facts about the bearer of the letter, the writer has been discreetly and courteously silent in respect to them. It is not his business to argue and analyze. It is his job to give a friend a lift.—Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser.

Antelope Becoming Scarce

Few of These Animals Now Remain In Canada.

Half a century ago countless antelope roamed the prairie of Canada, the United States and Mexico, today it is doubtful whether there are 15,000 of these graceful little animals in all this vast area, though in past years reliable observers have seen several thousand in a single day, says a writer in Conservation.

Mr. Thompson-Seton has estimated that, at the time of first settlement of the west, the range of the antelope covered two million square miles, and that there were no less than twenty million of these animals.

The rifle and the advance of agriculture have done their work. One writer, in describing the antelope herds of the "seventies," say "the prairie seemed to vibrate with the galloping of these swift little creatures, and they were slaughtered to such an extent that their outstretched carcases were piled in heaps like cordwood."

Oil Development in Alberta.

The development of Okotoks and Black Diamond oil districts will be undertaken by the Royalite Company, recently incorporated and capitalized at $1,000,000, of which, it is reported, $800,000 of stock is held by the Imperial Oil Company, and $200,000 by the Dingman interests. It is said that the Imperial Oil has contracted to spend $400,000 in developments of the properties.

Motor Boat For Police Patrol.

Owing to the growth of northern settlements, Provincial Police will patrol the Saskatchewan River between Prince Albert and the west Manitoba boundary by means of a motor boat capable of carrying 24 men. The departure is estimated to effect an economy, as these settlements have been policed overland at great expense. The boat will be put into the river at once.

Mount Everest, for some reason unexplained, has no native name, as most of the gigantic peaks of the Himalayas have, but was named after Sir G. Everest, who was the first director of the Indian Survey.

The number of flowers used in scent-making is legion, but three stand out before all others—the rose, violet and orange blossom.

Baby Specialists.

THAT there are Physicians who specialize on Infant ailments you know. All Physicians understand Infant troubles: all Physicians treat them. It is his profession, his duty, to know human ills from the Stork to the Great Beyond.

But in serious cases he calls in the Specialist. Why? He knows as every Mother knows, or ought to know, that Baby is just a baby, needing special treatment, special remedies.

The False and the True.

Advertising by the use of large space, the expenditure of huge sums of money have placed on the market, have put in your home, perhaps, many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit.

Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than has Fletcher's Castoria: modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies?

The big splurg, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the honest truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise that beat the hare.

Mothers everywhere, and their daughters, now mothers, speak frankly, glowingly, enthusiastically in praise of Fletcher's Castoria. Speak of it lovingly as a friend that has brought comfort, cheer and smiles to their little-one.

To them: to these true mothers no argument can induce them to set aside their bottle of Castoria, their old friend, that they might try even another and unknown remedy for babies. Then, would YOU think of going to YOUR OWN medicine chest to find relief for Baby's troubles? Can you not separate the false from the true?

One Of The Unconquerable

Man Paralyzed in Childhood Has Career Worthy of Admiration.

Joe F. Sullivan, formerly of Imboden, Ark., who was paralyzed in childhood, and who in spite of his serious infirmity struggled through school, edited a paper and became mayor of Imboden before he was 21, is now, at the age of 29, earning $7,000 a year as a writer and head of the Michigan Hospital School at Farmington, near Detroit, established with a million dollar gift from Mayor Couzens. There will be no steps to climb in the buildings, because the school is for cripples. Joe Sullivan's career is worthy of admiration.—Arkansas Methodist.

Old Auto Tire Useful.

A piece of discarded auto tire tubing cemented to the sole of the shoe will, it is said, outwear two leather half soles. This is easily done by roughing the leather with rasp or scraper, applying three coats of patch cement and a layer of cushion stock, to which is applied the cemented tubing as in the patching of a tube on the road.

Greater Love For Canadian Women

Canadian Born Men Select Native Born Wives for Most Part.

The Canadian born man holds greater love for the Canadian women than the women of Canadian birth does for Canadian men, all this according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics report for 1920. Excluding the province of Quebec, the number of marriages recorded in the Dominion last year totalled no less than 56,637, including all registrations at Ottawa up to April 10, 1921. Of this number 6,200 Canadian born women selected husbands other than Canadian men, whereas 4,632 Canadian born men chose as their wives other than Canadian women, the total of such marriages being 10,882.

Of the 56,637 carriages in Canada last year (excluding Quebec) 29,104 took place in Ontario, or in other words more than half were solemnized in that province. A table shows the number of marriages in Ontario as follows: 1915, 23,506; 1916, 23,401; 1917, 21,499; 1918, 19,524; 1919, 26,328; and 1920, 29,104.

The Shortage of Homes

While not prepared to fully accept the statement recently credited to Canada's only woman cabinet minister that this Dominion stands in need of one million new houses, which would mean that at the present time something more than one-half our estimated population of nine millions of people lack reasonable housing accommodation—most Canadians will readily agree that the provision of additional housing is one of the pressing needs of this country. Canada, however, is not peculiar in this respect; it is a condition which prevails in practically all countries, and constitutes a problem that is engaging the attention of people in Great Britain, the United States and other countries.

Dealing with the housing problem in Great Britain a short time ago, Lloyd George uttered one of those epigrams for which he is noted, and compressed in a few words a truth which it is well all statesmen, in fact all citizens, should recognize. He said: "You cannot maintain an A-1 empire with a C-3 population. You cannot bring up healthy people in unhealthy homes."

A lack of adequate and proper housing accommodation means the resorting to makeshifts, to overcrowding of people and whole families in buildings where the necessary conditions of sanitation required to maintain health cannot be observed; it means the use for purposes of habitation of buildings which should not be devoted to such purposes; it means a loss of that privacy in family life, the loss of which so frequently leads to a laxity in morals; it means, in fact, the physical and moral deterioration of the people and a consequent weakening of the nation. The effect on babies and young children, who are the hope and citizenship of the future, is positively dangerous and alarming.

Socially and economically the result of inadequate and bad housing is just as serious as it is in a physical way. When people are compelled to live cluttered together in a state of congestion, or in habitations which are not fit for human beings, unrest and general dissatisfaction with the prevailing order of things is engendered, and, as inevitably Governments and the present system of industrial life and society are blamed, rabid socialistic and even revolutionary ideas and doctrines are accepted and spread, discontent grows, and the very life of the State is threatened, the while the physical standard is being lowered.

Revolutionary ideas and extreme socialistic doctrines seldom find much acceptance among people who are the owners of the dwellings in which they live. Ownership of a bit of land, and a house which becomes a permanent home, is the best possible guarantee of contentment within and stability for a nation. In Canada it is frankly recognized that the large percentage of the population engaged in agriculture and living on land of their own, and not as tenants, is the one outstanding reason why this Dominion has escaped to a greater extent than perhaps any other country the perils which have threatened the world following the upheavel of the Great War.

If not a million new houses, at least tens of thousands are required in Canada this year. Yet the prospect of obtaining them is remote unless some action is taken to meet the need. It cannot be met under existing conditions if left solely to individual effort, initiative, enterprise and available financial resources of individuals. Governments and municipalities have made some provision, but it is inadequate and haphazard in contrast with the importance and seriousness of the problem. Something further is required, and it would seem as if that "something" should be provided, not in the way of paternal Government assistance, but in the direction of encouragement of building operations all over the Dominion.

How is this to be done? In the humble opinion of the writer of this article, by Governmental action bringing about a lowering in the present costs of construction. Governments in Canada, Federal, and Provincial, own and control millions of acres of forest and timber lands. They have it in their power to reduce the cost of lumber to the people of Canada by developing those resources on a large scale and in a scientific manner. By so doing they can provide employment for thousands of laborers and artizans, develop the natural resources of the country, and add immeasurably to the wealth and prosperity of the nation.

The cost of transporting needed commodities from one part of the Dominion to another has risen enormously in recent years because of increased freight rates. Admitting that increased rates were necessary to enable the railways to pay their way, it would nevertheless appear to be the part of statesmanship to reduce those rates on lumber and other building materials in order to build up the country.

Cheaper lumber in the first instance, and a lower cost for transporting it to those who want it and will gladly use it if they can obtain it at a reasonable price within their means, would operate as an immediate and tremendous factor in bringing about renewed building activity. This would provide an enormous volume of employment, and artizans with steady work and wages would soon begin to build homes for themselves. It would mean greater prosperity, less unrest, better health. Under present conditions even those who can possibly afford to build defer doing so because of a belief that sooner or later costs of construction will fall, and they would then be faced with a heavy depreciation in the value of properties constructed at present high prices. They, therefore, continue to occupy houses, paying unduly high rents for the time being, which houses would otherwise be made available at a more moderate figure for those who are not in a position to build for themselves.

Urges Canadians To Buy at Home

Drayton Says Idea is that Canada Cannot grow or Manufacture Things Properly.

Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance of Canada, was given a civic welcome in the City Hall, Toronto, by the Mayor and officials who were his colleagues when he was corporation counsel for Toronto, and addressed the Women's Canadian Club and the local Council of Women in Convocation Hall, University of Toronto. Sir Henry appealed to the ladies to help to keep the Canadian dollar working at home, instead of in the United States, where it was at such a heavy discount. Evidently having in mind recent statements by prominent Toronto ladies to the effect that a number of Canadian manufactures were inferior to manufactures imported from the United States, Sir Henry, leaning forward on a desk in front of him and speaking confidently to the audience said:

"You have an idea not only that we can't make anything properly in Canada, but you have the extraordinary idea that we can't grow things properly in Canada."

As to Canadian manufactures not being satisfactory, Sir Henry said: "Wouldn't it be a good thing for us if we feel that our manufactures are not what they should be, to examine them and see that they are made right?"

Sir Henry paid considerable attention to the importations of fruit and vegetables from the United States into Canada, which was called a great agricultural country and he said that in the past eleven months Canadian imported $29,965,000 of fresh and canned fruits. "Ought it to go on?" he asked. "Can't you wait until you get your own strawberries, your own tomatoes?" Niagara grapes were pretty good, he said, yet this country imported 6,627,853 pounds of grapes in the last eleven months.

Among other importations touched upon by the minister of finance was American soups, which were advertised in American, not Canadian magazines, and he asked: "What kind of advertising do you think all this is giving agricultural Canada in trade statistics?"

Leg that Wouldn't Heal

"Ever since a boy of fourteen," writes Mr. John Redmond, of West Frampton, Que., "I had trouble with a bad leg. I used many remedies. Though some appeared to heal the ulcer for a while, it always broke out again as bad as ever. This last time I suffered continuously for nine years, and the old remedies had absolutely no effect.

"The limb was in an awful state when someone advised me to get Zam-Buk right away. I had only used this herbal healer a few days when I began to see great improvement. So I continued the treatment, for even Zam-Buk needed time to have complete effect. However, I am glad to tell you that it was only by the aid of Zam-Buk that the leg was eventually thoroughly healed. Never a sign of the ulcer since."

A Federal Research Bureau

Bill Providing For This Will Be Fathered by Sir George E. Foster

Provision for steps to be taken toward the equipment of a federal research institute on somewhat the same basis as the bureau of standards at Washington, will be made in a bill to be introduced in the house by George Foster, minister of trade and commerce.

The provision of a research bureau at or near Ottawa has been urged upon the government during the last two sessions by the honorary and advisory council for industrial and scientific research. It has been urged by the council and by the members of the special parliamentary committee on scientific research that the establishment of a research bureau here was absolutely necessary if Canada was to take her proper place in industrial and scientific development.

The proposals which were laid before the government called for an expenditure of about a half a million dollars for buildings and equipments, but it is understood that this estimate has been somewhat modified and that the initial outlay would not be more than $200,000 for the first year.

The Crux of the Trouble.

The time is not one for widening the gap between employers and employed by frothy appeals to class-war, but for drawing them together on a basis of greater mutual frankness, in order to save the industries in which they have a common interest. We are still of opinion that the crux lies in output rather than in wages. The best way for the workers to avoid wage reductions is for them to study the ways of improving their output up to the level of wages now paid.—London Daily Chronicle.

DRINKS FOR THE CHILD

BY LORETTO C. LYNCH

An Acknowledged Expert in All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

A mother writes to say it is all very well for dieticians to tell mothers that their children must never have a drop of tea or coffee, but that children get tired of cocoa.

For a change, give them Cambric tea. Half a cup of milk is mixed with half a cup of boiling water. A little sugar is added and the youngster sips his tea along with the grown folks who are perhaps indulging in Orange Pekoe.

The cereal coffee on the market—and there are several varieties—are good for children and most acceptable to the palate if properly made. Read the directions carefully and then proceed to follow them accurately.

Sometimes a child will take hot malted milk when it is flavored with cereal coffee when it may refuse it if unflavored. Malted milk may be mixed with either hot water or scalded milk. It is good cold as well as hot. Cold malted milk is often accepted by a child if a generous spoonful of flavored ice cream is well mixed into it.

Hot lemonade for the last meal at evening may be very properly given. It is so much btter than tea or coffee. Squeeze half a lemon into a strainer set over a saucepan. Add one level tablespoon of sugar and one-half a measuring cup of water. Boil for one minute. Pour into a mug. Add a little cold water to cool for drinking.

Grape juice, either hot or cold, is suitable for children. A little grape juice added to a lemonade gives it a different turn.

Orangeade, also, is good for children.

Of course, children should learn to drink several glasses of water a day. Make the water hot if you must, but give the child water.

If you live where fresh pineapples are fairly cheap, you can enjoy a drink that will promote good digestion. Prepare a pineapple and crush the fruit into a bowl. Sprinkle lightly with sugar and let stand. Collect the juice and dilute it with hot or cold water. The drink may be made from canned pineapple, but it is not so valuable to digestion as when made from the fresh fruit.

World's Highest Mountains

Andes Have Greatest Number of High Peaks.

The Himalayas contain the tallest mountains in the world, but it is in the Andes of South America that are to be found the greatest number of peaks over 20,000 feet in height. In Bolivia are the Cordilleras de la Paz, of which twelve peaks, altogether, tower more than four miles towards the sky. Farther north, in Eucador, are twenty volcanoes in one cluster, all covered with perpetual snow. The lowest is just on 16,000 feet, the highest, Mount Chimborazo, is 20,498. Three of these volcanoes are still active, and eleven out of the twenty have never yet been climbed. The highest of the South American Andes is supposed to be Aconcagua, 23,030 feet. But the Andes, between the Isthmus of Panama and Cape Horn, can show no fewer than 288 peaks, which are more than 10,000 feet in height, 138 over 18,000, seventy-nine over 19,000, and forty-two over 20,000 feet. The four biggest all exceed 23,000 feet. The Andes possess another record, in the shape of the highest road in the world. This is the famous Aroya Road, in Peru, which pierces the mountains by the Crucero Tunnel at a height of 15,654 feet. This is almost the same level as the topmost summit of Europe's highest mountain, Mont Blanc.

The British Family

British Unity Not a Sham But Is a Reality.

We have no fears as to the loyalty of the Dominions to the Empire, any more than we have of the Empire's loyalty to the Dominions, for although matters may arise causing friction between them such will be family quarrels which do not affect the family unity. If other peoples would remember that most of the Dominions are permeated with our blood and that the bond is not a bond of Imperial conquest, but of family relationship, they would realize that British unity is not a sham or veneer, but is a reality which forms in fact the grain in our oak.—Singapore Free Press.

Where Things Are Cheap

Money Has Great Purchasing Power In New Russian Republic.

If you want to buy a quart of diamonds for a dollar or two, go to Tiflis, writes a correspondent. Tiflis is the capital of Georgia, one of the new republics that have risen in the Caucasus on the ruins of the Russian empire. The value of the Georgian ruble is worth hardly anything at all. But the dollar has such abnormal purchasing power in this nation of lost values that it seems less like money than magic. You can get a fine dinner in Tiflis for 10 cents and rent a room in the best hotel for $1 a month. The Bolsheviki have ruined Georgia. They have killed industry and trade and consequently the value of the native ruble. The swarms of refugees from Russia have sold their most precious possessions to Tiflis merchants for food and clothing until the stores of the city have become stocked with diamonds and pearls and all kinds of precious things which were paid for perhaps with a plate of beans or a pair of socks.

A Famous Hat

Napoleon's Chapeau Among Relics For the Waterloo Centennary.

The hat that Napoleon wore at the battle of Waterloo, will be among the relics of the great Corsican to be displayed at the Arch de Triomphe, when the 100th anniversary of the Emperor's death at St. Helena, will be celebrated.

In the route that followed the crushing of the Imperial Guard, Napoleon came very near being captured by Blucher's Uhlans, leaving the farm at Hougemont a few minutes before the Uhlans arrived. Fleeing through the night in a downpour of rain, Napoleon's hat suffered greatly and when he reached Paris on the morning of the 20th of June, he sent the hat to his hatters at the Palais Royal to have it repaired.

Events precipitated with such rapidity that Napoleon left Paris before the hat was repaired and it remained with the hatters, who presented it to the Museum at Sens where it is still.

A Gruesome Paradise

Russia Dying Before the Eyes of a Helpless World.

After a little over three years of Soviet rule Russia lies dying before the eyes of a helpless world. What was to have been the triumph of Marxian Socialism has become a disaster, which has involved in mental and physical suffering many millions of human beings, besides sweeping away all the foundations upon which their prosperity rested. When Lenin, Trotzky and Chicherin seized the reins of power towards the close of 1917 they proclaimed a Communistic Government with a Constitutional Assembly—which has never assembled from that day to this—in which the last word as well as the first word would lie with "the workers." At last the great masses of Russia, whether living in the towns or engaged in various agricultural pursuits in the countryside, were to come into their own. What has been the sequel?—London Daily Telegraph.

Hawaii Using Volcanoes

Scientists Claim Volcanic Gases Have Limitless Possibilities.

The volcanoes of Hawaii, whether dead or alive, are working for, or are going to be made to work for the people. Honolulu has just tapped the extinct crater of Palolo, overlooking the city, and is getting therefrom 2,000,000 gallons of drinking water daily. Hilo, on the island of Hawaii, is raising a fund to tap the active volcano Kilaue and utilize the tremendous volume of gases there for industrial and other purposes. Scientists say that pentup volcanic gases have limitless possibilities from an industrial and power standpoint, while they also contain all the food elements necessary to sustain the human body—carbon, nitrogen, hydrogen and lime.

Hennessey's Clock.

Hennessey had bought an alarm clock. He took it home and wound it but failed to get results. He tried to open it to get at the starter, but failed. Finally, disgusted, he threw it in the corner, and when it struck the floor, the back fell off. With contrition in his heart, Hennessey picked it up and as he did so a dead cockroach fell out.

Baulky Horses

What to Do and What Not to Do to Prevent and Overcome Trouble.

It is doubtful if any horse is a born baulker, that vice generally being acquired through mismanagement when young. It is no exaggeration to say that numberless even tempered horses have been absolutely spoiled by overloading and over-driving before the muscles of the shoulders are seasoned to the pressure of the collar. Young animals should never be expected to pull a load when first broken. The task should be gradually increased as the horse becomes accustomed to work, and gains confidence as his shoulders harden. In all cases a man must be watchful, and see that his horse, especially if young, is not getting winded or showing signs of overfatigue by breaking out suddenly into a heavy sweat. Before he stops of his own accord, pull him up with a sharp "whoa," lift the collar, and let his shoulders cool for a minute or two; do something to the harness while he gets his wind. By doing this the animal goes freely again, and is not cowed. If the shoulders are over-heated and tender, and he is out of wind, violent means to make him go render him frightened, then obstinate, and thus a baulker is made.

Board of Trade

There was a good attendance at the monthly general meeting in the Board of Trade rooms, Monday evening May 2nd. President R. Lee in the chair.

The matter of stocking Long Lake with Manitoba white fish was decided to accept the offer of the Dominion Fisheries Department for this work to be carried next year.

A communication from J. A. McKelvie, M. P., was read and satisfaction expressed by the Board for the interest being taken by the member for the district in the matter of improved mail service.

The publicity committee was instructed to collect all data possible in connection with industries, mining and agriculture. This will be published in a book being issued by the Board of Trades commission and sent broadcast throughout the United Kingdom and other countries.

The date of the monthly meeting was changed to the third Thursday of the month.

The Romance of Tarzan

Vivid in characterization and gripping in plot is "The Romance of Tarzan," which visualizes the concluding chapters of Edgar Rice Burroughs' great story, "Tarzan of the Apes," for patrons of the moving picture screen.

"The Romance of Tarzan" will be shown at the Greenwood Theatre, on Saturday, May 7. It is in seven parts, and in addition to the remarkable novelty of its theme, offers the eve a rare treat with scenes of natural splendor, amid which wild animals and equally savage cannibals are shown in all their primitive strength and cruelty.

Elmo Lincoln again takes the part of Tarzan, the white ruler of this untamed wilderness, while Enid Marxey has the role of Jane Porter, the beautiful daughter of the rich American scientist on an exploring expedition in the wilds of Africa, where she meets and loves Tarzan.

Tennis Meeting

The Tennis Club held a meeting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Walters on Tuesday night and after routine business was disposed off and the financial statement read it was decided to hold a "bee" on Saturday afternoon and put the finishing touches to the tennis courts. A grand opening will be held on Wednesday, May 11th, and the social committee instructed to have refreshments served during the afternoon.

P. H. McCurrach was added to the committee in recognition of faithful service during past years.

After the meeting Mr. and Mrs. Walters threw their house open to the club and a most enjoyable evening was spent in songs and dancing. Refreshments were served at midnight and dancing again continued until after two o'clock. The National Anthem brought a happy evening to a close.

The Home Circle

One may be happy awhile away from home, but he is very glad to return to it. The plainest old familiar dish is better than the daintest epicurean bill of fare abroad. One's own little room, with its handy, compact belongings, is preferable to all the marble halls, swept through by silken clad dames.

A stranger entering a houshold knows whether the key note there is high or low. There are houses, affluent wealth and culture, where the discords are incessant, and the meaning of life no higher than that of brutes. But no symphony can compare with the significance of daily life, in a family of gentle words and noble conduct.

It should be the aim of all to give the girls just as broad a business education as the boys. It makes them capable of taking care of the family, if such responsibilities is placed upon them; it broadens their ideas and makes them nobler and better. Girls as a rule, are fully as clear headed as boys when young, but if, as is the common practice, the girls are brought up to do nothing, to think of little except of dress and amusement, they fall far behind the young man, at the age of twenty, in mental ability.

Tommy Prayed

Tommy was out playing till he was very tired, and did not feel inclined to say his prayers, but his mother insisted. So Tommy began: "Now, I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep—" "If," prompted his mother. Tommy (sleepily): "If he hollers let him go, eney, meeny, miny, mo."

Float

FLOAT is not a periodical. It is a book containing 86 illustrations all told, and is filled with sketches and stories of western life. It tells how a gambler cashed in after the flush days of Sandon; how it rained in New Denver long after Noah was dead; how a parson took a drink at Bear Lake in early days; how justice was dealt in Kaslo in 93; how the saloon man outprayed the women in Kalamazoo, and graphically depicts the roamings of a western editor among the tender-feet in the cent belt. It contains the early history of Nelson and a romance of the Silver King mine. In it are printed three western poems, and dozens of articles too numerous to mention. Send for one before it is too late. The price is 50 cents, post paid to any part of the world. Address all letters to
