Hon. Wm. Sloan

Wins Libel Action

A special jury in assize court on Tuesday evening awarded Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines for British Columbia, plaintiff in a libel action against Major-Gen. A. D. McRae, damages to the extent of $40,000,
according to a Nanaimo report.

Hon. Mr. Sloan sought $50,000 damages from the former leader of the Provincial party on the ground that he had been libelled in an article that appeared in the "Searchlight," an election pamphlet published during the campaign in January, 1924, under the heading "A Petition for a Royal Commission." In effect the article complained of, stated that in 1915 and 1916, when the affairs of the Pacific Great Eastern railway had become seriously involved, a sum of $50,000 was paid by the company to the plaintiff for protection and favorable treatment from the Liberal party.

The jury returned its verdict
after one hour's deliberation, finding in effect that the publication complained was libellous and that plaintiff was entitled to damages amounting to $40,000.
Mr. Justice Murphy presided.

RED ROSE

"is good COFFEE"

Immigration, Work and Prosperity

Notwithstanding that one of Canada's greatest needs is a larger population, the amazing fact is that whenever immigration shows a substantial increase, and it becomes apparent that the tide of settlement is setting in strongly Canada-wards, an outcry is raised in Labor circles and influences are brought to bear to discourage immigration. Nor is organized labor alone in voicing objections and offering opposition. Frequently church bodies, and sometimes national societies, adopt the same attitude.

This opposition to immigration sometimes finds expression in an attempt to induce the Government and other agencies interested in immigration to discontinue, or greatly curtail, their efforts to induce immigration to Canada. At other times it is revealed by a campaign of the most mischievous, misleading and, not infrequently, absolutely false statements regarding Canadian conditions, a most unpatriotic proceeding.

Most of this opposition is the result of ignorance or the acceptance of half-baked theories on the part of those who seek to prevent or restrict immigration. Some people object to anybody being allowed to enter Canada unless they speak the same language, dress in the same fashion, and worship at the same altar as they themselves do. These timid souls are fearful that they may be swamped; and they insist on Canada being regarded as a special preserve for themselves set aside in the world by an all-wise Providence with "No admittance" signs against people from other lands. They refuse to recognize the fact that all the great national groups of today, including the British, are the result of a fusion, an assimilation, of races.

Organized labor, on the other hand, opposes immigration because a majority of Labor Union members entertain the mistaken idea that by maintaining a scarcity of labor, the opportunities for employment of those already in the country are enhanced, and that higher wages will likewise prevail. The economic and industrial history of the world proves otherwise.

A Melbourne, Australia, man writing in the London Daily Mail declares that progress and development in Australia are both being stifled and held back by the excessive cost of labor. One of the crying needs of Australia to bring about permanent prosperity is the carrying out of irrigation schemes on a huge scale. The recent drought has once again emphasized the need of irrigation, and it is known that under the benign skies of Australia simple methods of irrigation like those practised by the peasants of Lombardy would produce astonishing results. But the problem of Australian irrigation is said to be like a hundred other problems there. It is easy to point out what might be done and what should be done, but much more difficult to get it done. The high cost of labor makes it impossible. As a result the farmer and his family struggles along as best they can with rude skill and appliances, but with low efficiency, postponed improvements, and backwardness of agricultural development.

The Labor Unionist looks on immigration as threatening his employment and as a menace to the established standard of wages. He refuses to see that a still greater menace lies in the retarded development of his country, but which development would bring increased employment and good wages for all. He overlooks the fact that immigration, upon a scale which Australia will almost certainly never experience, had little, or no effect upon the standard of employment and wages in the United States; rather did it maintain that standard by incessant expansion. The one thing to keep up, or augment, wages in Australia, or in Canada for that matter, would be great area of development. Compared with what it might be the rate of present development is slow.

The most prosperous period in Canada in the experience of the present generation was during those years following the introduction of an aggressive immigration policy under Clifford Sifton, and when immigrants were pouring into the country. Following the depression of the after-the-war years Canada is once again experiencing better times and an increasing measure of industrial activity and prosperity, with employment plentiful and wages good, and at the same time immigration is heavier than at any time since the outbreak of the war, with an increase of 68 per cent over last year.

And because of this increase immigration, once again the cry is raised to put a stop to it. Canadians as a whole are asked by one section of the population, and for purely selfish and utterly mistaken reasons, to kill the goose that is laying the golden eggs for the Dominion of the present day, while at the same time being productive of a greater development and more prosperous future.

Cobra Deaf to Sound

The cobra is deaf to all sounds, its hearing apparatus consisting of a delicate membrane which receives only ground vibrations. Indian charmers, knowing this, tap the box or basket in which the reptile is kept, partly stunning the creature by the force of the vibrations. It is thus rendered tractable so it can be handled.

Will Not Eliminate Fools

Perhaps the effort to invent a "fool proof" airplane will be successful. There is no reason to doubt that aviation will become safer as human ingenuity develops new devices. But "fool proof" is a large claim. Older means of transportation are not that. And the supply of fools is not likely to be exhausted.

Coal In Sardinia

Vast coal and iron fields have been discovered at Perusdefogit, in the province of Cagliari, Sardinia. The coal, estimated to total 30,000,000 tons, is said to belong to the same class as English anthracite.

Peace River Coal

Millions of Tons Superior to Highest Grade American Coal

There are millions of tons of very high grade bituminous coal in the Peace River district of Alberta, of a quality superior to the highest grade of American coal, according to D. H. McDougall, former general manager of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company and vice-president of the Empire Steel Corporation, who is in Halifax after a visit to the Alberta coal deposits, about which he has prepared a report.

Mr. McDougall said he did not think the development of these coal fields would affect the coal industry in Eastern Canada, as Alberta coal would always find a ready market along the Pacific coast of the United States.

He described the Peace River district deposits as being the "greatest in Canada" and said they were available for mining at the lowest operating costs.

WHEN YOUNG GIRLS GROW PALE AND THIN

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Should be Taken to Enrich the Blood.

When girls grow weak, pale and thin, parents should not neglect these symptoms; to do so means danger. The girl in her teens cannot develop into robust womanhood without an abundant supply of rich, red blood in her veins. It is the lack of this that is the great trouble with nine girls out of ten. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have achieved world-wide fame for their remarkable blood-making properties. In these pills there is vigorous health, with glowing cheeks and sparkling eyes for every weak, pale girl. The value of the pills in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. Winifred Ruffy, Barton street west, Hamilton, Ont., who says: "About two years ago my eldest girl got into very bad health. I took her to a doctor who advised having her tonsils removed, saying this was the seat of the trouble. We had them removed, but it did not help her, and she seemed to have absorbed so much poison from the trouble that she did not pick up at all. She could neither eat nor sleep, and what food she did take did not digest. Then she developed a cough that kept her awake at night, and went down in weight to 95 pounds. A neighbor said to me, 'You have tried so many things why not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills?' I got some and before she finished the second box she began to show improvement. She continued the use of the pills for some time and is now in the pink of condition, able to work and play, and eat and sleep with all her old-time vigor. These statements can be verified by neighbors who watched her restored from ill health to perfect health."

If your medicine dealer does not keep these pills you can get them by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Would Help Revive Trade

English Manufacturers Hoping Prince Will Wear Straw Hat

Luton, the English town which is now making straw hats for the adornment of hundreds of thousands of heads next summer, wants to see the Prince of Wales wearing one.

It would be enough, thinks Luton, to revive a custom rapidly becoming extinct in England.

According to manufacturers Londoners buy fewer straw hats every year, probably because of the scarcity of hot weather and too much rain. Luton is still prosperous because of the large foreign trade, but it would, of course, be far more prosperous if Englishmen kept straw among their usually large collection of hats.

Germany's Newest Card

Aerial Power Is Their Aim Says French General

Germany will return to power in the air, Gen. Girod, president of the chamber of deputies army commission, warns in an interview published in Paris, urging France to be on guard against "tremendous preparations for air supremacy now going on in Germany."

"Demilitarization on the Rhine has removed the real menace," Gen. Girod said. "But progress and science have aided Germany to raise its head elsewhere and to seek to recover its fortunes in the clouds. Germany is free to construct commercial planes, by recent abrogation of the larger part of the restrictions imposed by the treaty of Versailles, and it is embarked on a great aviation dream. On its air fleet is built its hope of coming victory."

Continuing, the general said: "Germany's will to recover its place is revealed in the fact that it is covering all Europe and soon will cover all continents with airports, commercial lines, and transit stations, invading all nations and the great highways of the world."

Germany's principal engineers, chemists, and aerodynamists are working free of all control by the inter-allied commission in Copenhagen, Amsterdam, Italy, and Russia, Gen. Girod asserts, mentioning the names of Rohrbach, Fokker, Junker and Fournier. "We will be stupefied suddenly to find the wings of the reich traverse the oceans, touch the poles, and embrace Europe and Asia, for by virtue of its camouflaged budget it allots as much for aeronautics as the whole war budget before 1914," the general asserts.

No Hustlers Need Apply

Travellers in South America Must Take Things Easy

An interesting discovery has been made by firms in the United States that are trying to make business connections with Central and South America. They find that their most useful representatives are not 100-per cent efficient hustlers of the Habbitt type, but men from Louisiana and Mississippi, who take life more quietly and easily. "Go-getters," it is declared, "are not worth a darn," on the other side of the Rio Grande, while the so-called "lazy Southerner," with his restful afternoons and more ceremonious manners, has no difficulty in adapting himself to the ways of the Latin American and making the social contacts which in that part of the world are essential to profitable trade. —Manchester Guardian.

Meet Success on Canadian Farms

Britishers Train in Old Country to Learn Conditions in Canada

So successful on Canadian farms have been young bachelors who, prior to residence in this country were students in agriculture at the Hadleigh Salvation Army Schools in Essex, England, that the Army will shortly receive into those institutions their first classes of married men destined for farm lands in the Dominion. The course will be given during six months, and will mean a thorough training in branches of agriculture, particularly adapted to conditions in Canada.

Feet sore?—Minard's Liniment

From School Teacher To Great Eminence

A young man who was brought up on a farm in Western Pennsylvania studied diligently and qualified for district school teacher. Further pursuing his studies and teaching, he managed to save up enough money to put him thru medical college. After the Civil War, he began the practice of medicine in the new oil section of Pa., and often rode horse-back thru the woods to reach and relieve those who were seriously ill. He was a student of nature, knew and could easily recognize most of the medicinal plants growing in the woods. Later, he moved to Buffalo, N.Y., where he launched his favorite remedies, and, in a short time, they were sold by every druggist in the land. Today, the name of this man, Dr. R. V. Pierce, is known throughout the world. His Golden Medical Discovery is the best known blood medicine and tonic. More than fifty million bottles have been sold. If your druggist does not sell the "Discovery," in liquid or tablets, you can obtain a trial pkg. of the tablets by sending 10c to Dr. Pierce's Branch Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ont.

Wireless Phone Spans a Distance of 1,200 Miles

Twelve hundred miles was the distance spanned in what is believed to have been the first long distance wireless phone conversation carried on from the Arctic Ocean; it was learned upon the arrival in Vancouver of the Hudson's Bay Company's fur trading steamer Baychimo with a cargo of furs from the North valued at $250,000.

Last July, when the Baychimo was sailing in the Western Arctic, connection was established by her wireless operator, D. Mitchell, with another of the company's vessels, the Bay Rupert, near the northern entrance of Hudson's Bay, and successful conversations were held between officers of the two ships on two successive nights.

A BROKEN DOWN SYSTEM.

This is a condition (or disease) to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—broken down, as it were, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its cause (they are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same; the more prominent being sleeplessness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what a tonic is absolutely essential in all such cases is increased vitality—vigour, vital strength and energy to throw off these morbid feelings, and as night succeeds the day this may be more certainly secured by a course of THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY, THERAPION No. 3 than by any other known combination. So surely as it is taken in accordance with the directions accompanying it, will the better the patient be restored to health and vigor. It is a tonic of the highest order, and it is difficult to imagine a disease or derangement whose main feature is weakness, that will not be speedily and permanently overcome by this recuperative essence, which is destined to obliterate everything that had preceded it by this wide-spread and numerous class of human ailments. Salvaging Sunken Battleships

British Firm Attempting to Raise German Battle Cruiser Hindenburg

Three months ago Messrs. Cox and Danks, Ltd., began one of the greatest salvage undertakings ever attempted—that of raising the German battle-cruiser Hindenburg, scuttled in June, 1919, between the islands of Hoy and Cava, where they had been taken from the larger waters of Scapa Flow.

Pumping began on August 1, and three times the vessel had begun to lift when a patch gave way, in rushed the water, and she settled down again.

Another attempt is now being made.

While the giant hulk was still below the sea, says a press representative, "I donned the clumsy dress—minus the helmet—of a diver, and from a small boat scrambled up outside, and down inside, a wooden chimney-stack-like structure called a coffer dam, which had been built over the foremost hatchway of the submerged upper deck.

From there, by vertical iron ladders, guided by a portable electric lamp and with sea water cascading over me and occasionally up to the waist on the floors, I slithered on three slimy decks as low as the armor deck, and as far as the stokehold, which lies beyond the gun turrets, where one peered down into the still-water-logged magazine and fumbled along the rail by which the gun charges travelled to feed the 12-inch guns.

"Above us stores are still lying in the carpentry department of the armor deck in profusion. They are rusted still. Planes, files, crowbars, axes, augers and nails still crowd their appropriate metal drawers and shelves—a slimy, greasy memorial to German orderliness. There are neatly wedged diving gear, and smoke-helmets, and hundreds of little oxygen canisters are stacked in rapid dissolution.

"The upper 'tween deck was an adventure in investigation. Beer barrels still rolled the floor of one store, one barrel attached by a pipe to a small bottle-filling plant.

"Skeletons of easy chairs float in the barber's shop, and a big mirror gave me back a somewhat foggy reflection.

"The doors of an empty metal side-board swing open and shut in the officers' lounge. The framework of once comfortably upholstered settees attached to the walls there, is rotting.

"Heavy cups hang in orderly rows from the ceiling of the officers' serving room. Everything is of metal, wood, or porcelain, is still unbroken and usable, despite seven years submersion.

"Even the orders typed out on stout paper are plainly decipherable, and some large plans found by the divers have greatly simplified the work of discovering and caulking up all apertures."

They Like Canadians

Former British Parliamentarian and Family Enjoy Visit Here

On their way home from a tour of the West, Hon. J. H. Thomas and Mrs. Thomas expressed their delight in scenic Canada and in the hospitality of Canadians. Hon. Mr. Thomas was the former colonial secretary in the British Labor Government.

Miss Peggy Thomas, in an interview, said that she noticed that Canadian children dress with more uniformity than was the case overseas. "You could plant a Canadian boy in London and you would know him immediately by his clothes." She thought the same distinction might be made with garments of older girls, but not to the same degree.

One of the outstanding features of Canadian homes noticed by the Thomases family as a whole was the open, unfenced lawns and gardens. "It denotes Canadian democracy such as nothing else could," said Mrs. Thomas. "It shows a quiet pride in well-kept lawns and gardens and a feeling that good things should be shared."

Cheap Coal for Farmers

A new coal mine is being opened about five miles east of Estevan, Sask., which will supply coal at a price of from $1.50 to $3. The output will be 100,000 tons of coal per year and the mine will employ about 100 men. It is equipped with all the latest mining equipment and car loaders. About 30 houses have already been erected for employees. The supply of this coal at a low price is a great advantage to the farmers of Saskatchewan and the adjoining province of Manitoba.

Many Join Wheat Pool

Since June 11th, 1926, just, four thousand farmers have signed up the following acreage in Saskatchewan:—Wheat, 535,950 acres; oats, 49,147 acres; barley, 14,460 acres; flax, 17,839 acres; rye, 12,745 acres; making a total of 625,141 acres in three months.

Carpet Worth Half Million

Took Twenty-four Years to Make and is 400 Years Old

A magic carpet nearly 400 years old and valued at over $500,000 held an almost reverential little group awe-struck at a carpet dealer's premises in Holborn recently.

At first sight it seemed to consist of a jumble of rich colors. Slowly, however, the design became apparent and the eye revelled in the wonderfully rich lines of ruby, emerald green, and amber.

The romantic history of the carpet was unfolded by James F. Ballard, a rich American, whose hobby for twenty years has been the collecting of rare and beautiful carpets.

"This carpet," he said, "was made at Isphahan in 1550, in the reign of Shah Safi. It was presented by the Shah to Peter the Great, who in turn presented it to Leopold I. of Russia."

"The carpet then hung for a long time on the wall of the staircase in the palace at Schoenbrunn, near Vienna."

"It was later seized by the state and was recently sold by the Austrian government to Messrs. Cardinal and Harford, of London."

"The carpet measures 24 feet by 11 feet. It must have taken at least 20 years' continuous work to make, and is evidently the work of one man. One cannot help thinking, as one looks at it, that he was inspired. His name is unknown."

The "Emperor's Carpet" as this is popularly known to the art world, consists of a center panel of conventional flowers and animals, with a ruby-colored ground work. This is surrounded by a wide margin of green and yellow ornamental scrolls twining and intertwining, very much in the manner of Irish knot ornamentation.

It is stated to be one of the finest carpets in the world.

Mountain Clock Always Right

Old Scotch Shepherd Can Rely on Faithful Timepiece

The most wonderful "clock" in the world is to be found in bonnie Scotland in a lonely glen among the hills bordering Loch Lomond. It never goes wrong for it has no works, and it never requires winding. It is the faithful time-piece of an old shepherd, who has been telling the time with amazing accuracy half a century by observing the shadows cast by the sun on the neighboring mountain ridges.

The old man was asked to give the time by his prehistoric time-piece, raised his crook-handled stick slowly, and pointed to a thin streak of shadow on the hillside. "Well, when the sun strikes that it's 3 o'clock in the afternoon as near as matters."

He paused and gazed in the direction of the long shadow. "Th' shadow is a quarter the way from yon peak there," he explained, pointing with his stick to a neighboring ridge. "So I should say it's just about 15 minutes past 3 o'clock, as near as matters—as near as matters the myself."

The old shepherd was only a few minutes out according to railway time. An incongruous thing in the centuries-old cottage where the shepherd and his wife still tell the time by the sun is a wireless set. The old couple noticed the amazement of a visitor.

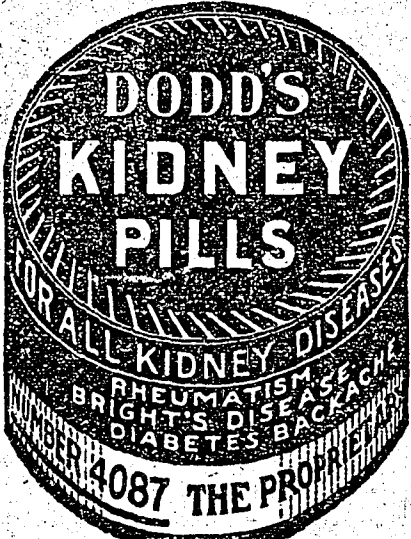

"Aye, I got that from a man I rescued awa' up there in yon mountains," said the shepherd. "He was lost, so I brought him along here tae my wee cottage, and made him comfortable for the night. He was awfu' pleased, an' when he went awa' home he sent me this wireless set."

Handling Charges for Pool Wheat

According to agreement between Line Elevator Companies and the Pool, following are the handling charges on "Pool Wheat" at the Line elevators:—"On street wheat Nos. 1, 2 and 3—5 cents per bushel. On all other grades of street wheat 6 cents per bushel. On car-lots, special bin and stored to grade—these regular handling charges, plus a service charge of 3/4 cent per bushel."

"Let's see," said the chatty man, "your brother went abroad on a fellow-ship, didn't he?"

"No," was the reply, "it was a cattle ship."

Dance the Charleston

British Scientists Cannot All be Classed as Old Fogies

Oxford has discovered that scientists are people, and fox trotting people at that, on occasion. The British Association wound up its recent conference with a ball and Sir Oliver Lodge and many of the other savants danced the Charleston and the fox trot, which showed they are not a step behind the youngsters, who formerly were inclined to regard all scientists as old fogies. Many of the papers read at the annual conference were so popular in nature that the British press gave columns every day to discussions which showed science in Britain has moved into the realm of everyday life.

Completes Flight Across Canada

Seaplane Travels from Montreal to Vancouver Without Mishap

Completing the first seaplane flight ever made across Canada, Squadron Leader A. Earl Godfrey, of the Royal Canadian Air Force headquarters staff, Ottawa, arrived at Vancouver recently. Within nine days of leaving Montreal, the transcontinental trip was concluded after several delays because of bad weather. The 720 miles between Lake Wabumun, 40 miles west of Edmonton, and Vancouver, the distance which carried them over the Rocky Mountains, was covered in seven hours and 20 minutes, a non-stop flight.

"The course we took across Canada," Squadron Leader Godfrey said, "is an ideal seaplane route. Its possibilities for the future are good. With the exception of the Rocky Mountains, it would be possible in the future to fly by night over any portion of the route."

A HAPPY CHILDHOOD A MATTER OF HEALTH

Let Baby's Own Tablets, Keep Your Children Well

Little children very quickly get out of sorts. By prompt treatment they can usually stay as quickly be set right again. Most of their troubles arise in the first place from the stomach or bowels; that is why a good cleaning-out is the first thing prescribed by the doctor. Formerly castor oil was the means used to bring this about; now-a-days Baby's Own Tablets do the same work, but without trouble to the parent or discomfort to the little one. Children take Baby's Own Tablets happily because there is no nasty taste and because no gripping after-pains follow their use.

As a specific for childhood indigestion, vomiting, constipation, colic, colds, teething pains, etc., there is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets. They never do harm and always do good. The Tablets are sold by medicine-dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Saves $24 A Year

Cooking experts figure that the SMP Enamelled Ware Roaster will save the average Canadian family fully $24.00 a year in meat bills. The secret is, it roasts the meat with very little shrinkage. Also, it makes cheap cuts taste like the best ones.

You place the roast in the roaster, put on the cover: the roaster does the rest. No basting required. Every roast is perfectly cooked.

The cover fits close, so that cooking odors cannot escape. Grease can't spatter out, which means a sweet clean oven. Prices range from 65c. to $3.50 each, depending on size and finish—and don't forget the saving of $24.00 yearly.

Russian Woman is Captain

Will Soon Command Soviet Trans-Atlantic Steamer

A woman soon is to command a Soviet trans-Atlantic steamer. She is Captain Marie Malaginoy, Russia's first woman sea captain. After graduating with honors from the government naval technical school she served successfully as able seaman, second officer and pilot on Black Sea steamers. Her appointment as a first class captain on an ocean steamer awaits only the approval of the central executive committee of the government. She wears the regulation uniform and trousers, having discarded skirts as cumbersome.

Painless and perfect in their action, Miller's Worm Powders are always a safe and reliable remedy for children who show symptoms of worms. These symptoms are easily recognizable in a feverish restlessness, frequently ending in convulsions. A point of notable importance is that after Miller's Worm Powders have expelled the worms, the stomach and bowels are toned up into a very healthy condition.

Cranbrook Ed.Fred J. Smyth, at one time on the staff of the Phoenix Pioneer during the prosperous days of that city, interviewed Cranbrook Ed at Sandpoint, Idaho, on his way south. It is not likely that Fred came in contact with anything so interesting when he used to take his Sunday jaunt from Phoenix to Greenwood.The interview as it appeared in the Cranbrook Courier follows: Fred J.
Smyth, formerly editor of the Moyie Leader, when that city was in a flourishing condition, and who was famous for his red vests and neckties, similar to the brand worn by Mayor Taylor of Vancouver, strolled over to the Spokane International station last evening and interviewed "Cranbrook Ed" in his private car, en route to California after spending his holidays in and around "Beautiful Cranbrook." The elephant was munching hay, and between copious mouthfuls his very gesture seemed to imply that he had been right royally treated. "As near as I can read the mind of an elephant, his message to me was this, writes Mr.
Smyth: "If California has anything on Cranbrook it sure has got to go some.""But why did you select Cranbrook as a place for deserting the 'big top?'"
I asked."Well, you see it was just this way;
coming west, all we heard was Cranbrook, and the 'banana belt,' and we couldn't resist the temptation to take a look for ourselves. Yes, we found no bananas, but the jungles around Cranbrook sure have those of the Euphrates or the Punjab beaten a city block.""But your escapades has cost the Sells-Floto circus a lot of money," I ventured."It certainly has that," he shot back, as he flapped his ear and drove away a pestering fly. "Why this trip alone runs into many thousands of dollars, and would you believe it, with all the extra room in this car, the C.P.R.
agent at Cranbrook had the nerve to charge excess baggage on my trunk.
Then at Eastport, the customs officer gave me a thorough going over—he was looking for ivory, I suspect.""So they caught you near Moyie," the reporter queried. "I operated a paper there at one time." "Yes, I heard about it in my travels round Moyie. I also heard a lot of other things about you, which are a credit to you, your tie and vest, and the inhabitants of Moyie."
