DEATH OF ROBERT A. McMILLAN

The news of the death of Robert Alexander McMillan in Vancouver on Christmas Day was received with deep regret by a large circle of friends in Greenwood. Mr. McMillan lived here during the smelter days and was a keen follower of sport. Leaving here for Trail he was employed in the smelter for a number of years prior to going to the States and last fall returned to Canada, settling in Vancouver. A number of years ago he was married to Miss Alice Kerr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Kerr of Midway. Mrs. McMillan will arrive in Midway on Monday with the remains and the funeral will be held on Tuesday morning, January 1st, at 11 a.m., in the Midway Church.

The late Mr. McMillan was a member of Fidelity Lodge, No. 32, A. F. & A. M., of Trail, and the Service will be conducted by King Edward Lodge, No. 28, A. F. & A. M., of Greenwood.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Kerr, who were visiting their daughter, in Texas will return in time for the funeral.

He leaves to mourn his loss besides his loving wife, two brothers and five sisters. To them the sincerest sympathy of all is extended.

The children had a good time last Thursday in the Farmers' Hall. Santa was a busy man. He related how difficult it was to travel, and to reach Midway in time he was obliged to knock over several chimneys over to get through with his plane. Mr. McArthur stack being one of them, but Santa was well rewarded for his good work. All the kiddies received some real good presents, after which games were played and supper served.

Christmas Concert Enjoyed

The Annual Concert and Christmas Tree at the Kettle Valley School was held on Friday evening the 21st inst. The program consisted of the following items:

Song	Oh! Canada
Rhyme	Health Alphabet
Chorus	Silent Night
Play	Naughty Land
Duet	King Wenceslas
Rhyme	Lazy Boys Alphabet
Solo	Harp
Play	Pirate Percy
Chorus	Jingle Bells
God Save The King

The children performed their parts in a most creditable manner, and if possible surpassed the many fine concerts of former occasions. The music was excellent, much talent was displayed in the plays, especialy that of "Pirate Percy," and great credit is due the teacher for the very successful entertainment.

Good Old Santa Claus arrived punctually after the concert, in spite of a breakdown, and soon made all the children happy, although they were sorry to observe that his eyesight appears to be failing a little, as he apparently mistook the teacher for a pupil, and complimented him on attaining the dignity of long pants this year.

COMMUNITY CONCERT A SUCCESS

The Community Christmas Tree Concert held in Greenwood Theatre on Thursday evening, December 20th, was one of the best of its kind ever held here. Each item of the programme was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd. It was difficult to choose which was the best as rounds of applause followed each number. Santa arrived after the Concert and distributed the many presents that surrounded the Tree.

Wm. B. Fleming was chairman and his witty remarks pleased all present. Mayor Gulley voiced the sentiments of the townspeople when he moved a vote of thanks to the committee in charge; also to the school teachers and others, who made the evening's entertainment possible. His remarks brought forth hearty cheers.

The Programme follows:

Opening Chorus	Christmas Carol
Recitation	Alice Clark
Virginia Reel	Div I

Archie Aberdeen, of the Bridesville Road, came in on Friday afternoon last to spend the holidays in Greenwood. Archie walked eight miles in order to get the train which brought him to town. An eight mile walk is a good walk for everyone but for one who will be celebrating his 100th brithday next June we think it is a wonderfull walk.

McKEE—HILLS NUPTIALS

"A very pretty wedding took place on Friday, December 14th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hill, White Rock, when their daughter, Miss Susan D. Hill became the bride of Mr. Daniel C. McKee of Trail, amid surroundings both solemn and gay, many friends of the happy couple being present at the tying of the true lover's knot, which was performed by the Rev. Father Corcoran.

The parlor in which the happy event took place was beautifully festooned with flowers. Amongst the guests was noted the genial presence of Rev. Mr. Frank of the Union Church.

Mr. and Mrs. McKee left the same evening for their future home in Trail. —The Surrey Gazette, White Rock.

The bride is well-known in Greenwood and at one time was a popular nurse on the staff of the District Hospital, while the groom is a son of Mrs. Hugh McKee, of Trail, one of the best known old timers of Greenwood. The happy couple passed through Greenwood last week, and a host of friends were at the station to extend congratulations.

Miss Heather Harris left for her home, in New Denwer, on Friday afternoon. Miss Harris expected to be motored from South Slocan home by her brother.

THE BEEF CATTLE INDUSTRY

The high level of prices for cattle during the last year and a half has been one of the most satisfactory and welcome changes affecting agriculture, according to the Monthly Commercial Letter issued by the Canadian Bank of Commerce. This upward price movement, which actually commenced in 1924, although returns have been generally profitable only since 1926, is the last phase of a cycle which, judging from past experience and from an analysis of world supply and demand, may be expected to continue until at least 1931. The first part of the cycle, that of a low price level, was described in the May, 1926, issue of the Monthly Commercial Letter, when it was also mentioned that improved conditions were in sight which would cause higher prices. It may be stated, however, that while the period of declining prices was of acute distress for many Canadian cattlemen, the ultimate results were less serious in this country than in others. For instance, the inability of small country banks in the United States to carry loans to stockmen forced large-scale liquidation of cattle. Relief was secured through The Stock Growers' Finance Corporation and The War Finance Corporation, by loans aggregating over $100,000,000 to banks, which in turn made these funds available to cattlemen, but there was marked depletion in herds until 1927, when profitable prices were obtainable. In Canada the banks were able to support their customers, and as a result liquidation was gradual and Canadian cattlemen were in a more fortunate position than their American neighbours, for their herds were almost of normal size in 1927, and they have been able to market cattle during the most recent period of high prices in greater volume than in some years when prices were low.

The Canadian cattle industry has been developed chiefly to supply the domestic market, but it depends to some extent upon the foreign market and is therefore influenced by world conditions. In 1927 about 7% of the estimated beef production was exported and it is clear that this movement has been a major factor in establishing profitable prices. As Canadian prices follow world prices, a discussion of the causes of a prosperous cattle industry and its future prospects must take into account developments in other countries, both exporting and importing. In South America, one of the world's greatest sources of supply, the number of cattle is thought to have declined by between 5,000,000 and 7,000,000 since 1922, and production of meat for export this year appears to have been somewhat smaller than in 1927. A fairly large reduction in herds in recent years is reported from Australia, more than offsetting an increase in the comparatively small holdings of beef cattle in New Zealand. Europe as a whole has materially enlarged its domestic supply since the war, although, of course, it continues and will continue to import vast quantities of meat, mainly from Argentina and Australia. It should also be noted that beef consumption in Europe is slightly less than it was a few years ago when prices were lower. The African and Asiatic countries do not produce beef for export, but to complete the analysis of the world supply situation it may be mentioned that important increases in cattle numbers are reported from India and Russia-in-Asia. A sharp decline has occurred in the United States, while Mexico, which ships a fairly large quantity of young cattle to the State of Texas, has built up its herds to a large figure compared with that of three or four years ago. Canada had in June of this year about 200,000 head less than in 1927, but almost as many as in 1920. World conditions in respect to supply and demand are, therefore, favourable to the maintenance of profitable prices to producers for two or three years, during which time the world's holdings of cattle may be expected to increase and eventually to exceed its requiremnts for beef. There will, of course, be seasonable price fluctuations, such as the recent sharp decline, which appears to have been due mainly to very large shipments during the past summer of stocker and feeder cattle (in which Canada participated) into the American corn belt, a subsequent marked increase in shipments of finished cattle to the stockyards both in the United States and Canada and the resistance of the public to high prices for beef. It may be noted that prices seem to have been temporarily lifted to a higher level than was warranted even by the favourable conditions surrounding the industry and that, while profitable returns are in prospect for some time to come, it is improbable that the sharp upward trend of 1927 and the first eight months of 1928 will continue. Present indications point to fairly stable prices, no higher during 1929 than in 1928 and somewhat lower than the peak of this year.

The conclusions in the preceding paragraph are based upon the best information available as to world supply and demand, but it should be borne in mind that as practically the entire surplus production in Canada during the last two years has been disposed of in the American market, a sudden raising of the barrier to this outlet by an increased tariff on cattle and meats might alter the immediately favourable prospects. It is not certain that a higher tariff will be instituted; in fact, at this distance it seems unnecessary for the protection of the American cattlemen since they have not been able to furnish sufficient beef for the home market. The United States is one of the few countries with a smaller domestic supply than in pre-war days and it has been necessary to import feeder stock from Western Canada and further to supplement the domestic supply of meat by purchasing Canadian beef, but the total importations from all sources in 1927 were less than one-half of 1 per cent. of the estimated American consumption, and it is, therefore, difficult to see how the producer in the United States has suffered from foreign competition. If, however, a downward movement in prices should bring about an agitation strong enough to raise the tariff, Canada might look once more to the English market which imports annually from 650,000 to 700,000 tons of beef, a strong preference now being shown for the chilled variety.

The problem of gaining a permanently stable market for Canadian cattle is important, not only to cattlemen but to farmers in general who grow fodder and grain for cattle consumption, and whose returns are governed in a measure by beef cattle prices. It should not be left to the packers and exporters alone who, in their attempts to build up a foreign trade in cattle, have sometimes suffered heavy losses. Probably the worthy efforts to develop a cor-ordinated programme of production and grading could be extended to investigation of the marketing situation, for it is certain that much good would result from the establishment of a permanent market, whether in the United States or Great Britain, while a haphazard policy might bring difficulties similar to those which the industry has had to struggle against in the past.

HERE AND THERE

The present season of navigation is characterized as "a phenomenal year as far as general cargo is concerned" by the chief of the wharfage department of the Harbor Commission of Montreal, commenting on business outside of grain. "We shall show a revenue increase that will be astounding when the annual report comes to be made up," he said.

Although the Canada Colonization Association only started to operate in Ontario last February, it has already placed 139 families on 5,671 acres of Ontario farm lands, according to a statement made recently in Toronto by W. C. Kent, Hamilton, provincial representative of the association. It was his opinion that British settlers found it easier to start in Ontario than elsewhere.

Some 200 of the thousand head of buffalo in Elk Island Park, east of Edmonton, have been slaughtered during December in order to keep the size of the herd within the carrying capacity of the park pasture. It is expected that most of the meat thus secured will be shipped north in the form of pemmican to provide food for Eskimo inhabitants of the Northwest Territories as a result of the growing demand from this source following the trial shipments made last year.

Supplies for the 150 inhabitants of the lonely little island of Tristian da Cunha in the southern Atlantic not far from St. Helena are being collected by Montreal chapters of the I.O.D.E. and will be delivered in February by the Canadian Pacific Liner "Duchess of Atholl". This great liner, making a cruise of South America and Africa, is one of the few vessels to call at this isolated point. The visit is one of the unique features of the cruise for the passengers and the event of the year for the inhabitants of the island.

Necessity is the agument of tyrants, it is the creed of slaves.—William Pitt.

STIRRING NAVY FILM SLATED FOR GREENWOOD THEATRE

With the final assembling of several spectacular scenes of the Battle of Jutland including the sinking of a part of the German fleet, Robert Kane's epic of the Navy is at last ready for release. The special which was four months in the making and cost more than $1,000,000, is to be shown at the Greenwood Theatre on Saturday, December 29th.

The pictures of the actual marine battle were borrowed from the German and British Navy Departments, while the United States Navy Department co-operated in the production of the picture by lending several reels of the American battle squadron in action, from which were taken many thrilling scenes.

The return of the fleet to New York harbor, following the Armistice, the reception by the Secretaries of War and Navy, Newton Baker and Josephus Daniels, and the embarking and disembarking of the first troopships, are other scenic headlights of the film which tells a dramatic tale of "The Bridge of Ships" across which two million American soldiers were ushered to France during the War.

Dorothy Mackaill, Lowell Sherman, Lawrence Gray, William Collier, Jr., Ian Keith, Jack Ackroyd, Ione Holmes, Gail Kane, Vincent Serrano and Eddie Gribbon head the cast, which includes about fifty senior and junior officers from the Brooklyn Navy Yard, from which were recruited for several scenes, more than 1,000 enlisted men, stationed on the U.S.S. Seattle, the U.S.S. Milwaukee, the U.S.S. Richmond and the U.S.S. Dobbin.

"Convoy" is based on John Tainter Foote's short story "The Song of the Dragon."

Mr. Henpack was finding that married life was not all he thought it would be. He was finding it out now, when they were moving into a new house.

In the intervals of directing the furniture men his wife was giving orders at express speed. As a rule he was the most submissive of men, but even a worm will turn.

At last, after a particularly biting taunt, he threw out his manly chest and brought his fist down on the table.

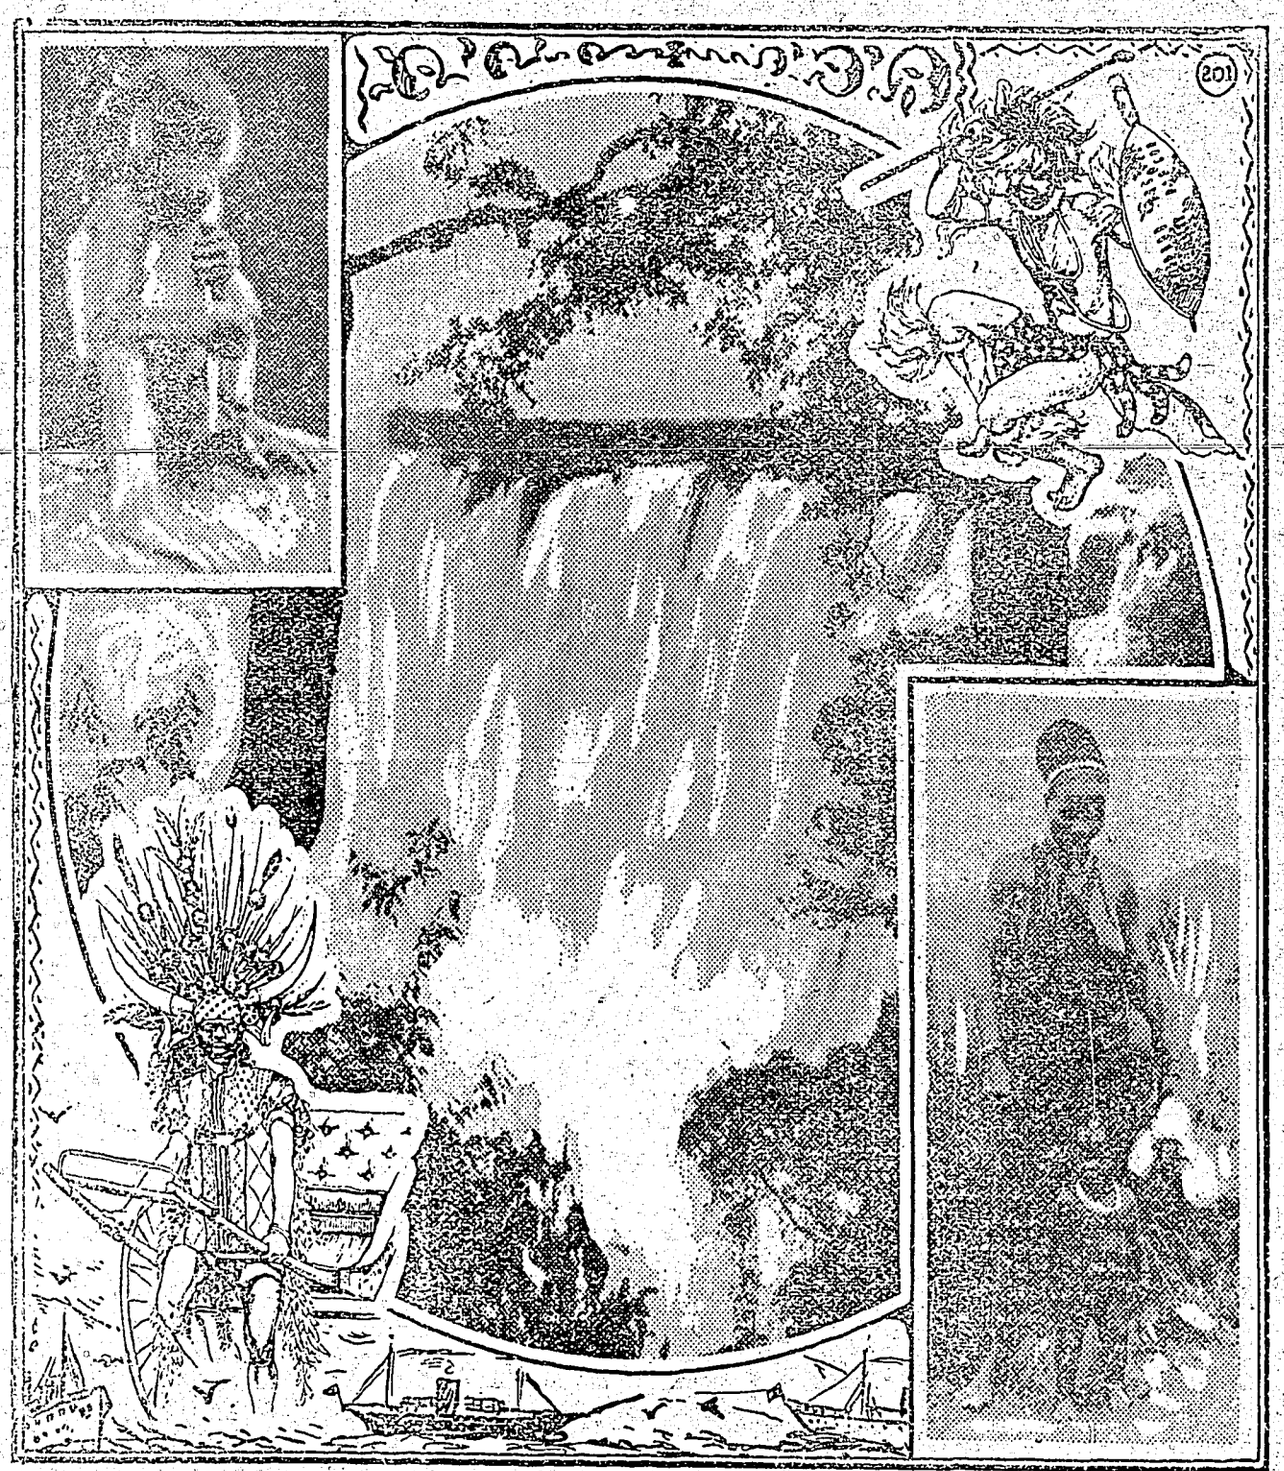
"Do you think, my dear," he ventured, "that you rule the universe?"

"No," she snapped, "but I rule the first letter of it."

Goblers

Turkeys are harder to rear than children sometimes, but they mature earlier, and once they reach maturity there is less chance of them going wrong. W. Freeman with his tremendous flock demonstrates that other than wheat can be raised in Alberta. He gets his greatest returns at a time when Santa Claus is making his heaviest outlays. The farm is at Strathmore, where is also the Canadian Pacific Experimental Farm.

MONKEY AND PICKANINNY VIE



NO—the little figure is not an effigy of Pan playing his pipes to inveigle the wood-nymphs; it is a young monkey who consented to pose for the official photographer on the Canadian Pacific cruise to South America and Africa last year. The camera-man, somewhat irreverently, titled his picture, "Boy, page Mr. Darwin."

Monkeys, frightfully dressed Zulu ricksha boys, frightfully undressed Zulu belles and completely undressed pickaninnies vie with the rushing, roaring Victoria Falls; with Pao de-Assucar—more familiarly known as the "Sugar Loaf"—from which a marvellous view of Rio de Janeiro is obtained; with the tomb of Cecil Rhodes, mighty Empire-builder from which, carved in the living granite of a huge boulder topped with a bronze slab the spirit of the founder of Rhodesia can survey his handiwork; with the stranger sights, sounds and smells of the bazaars of Port Said and the majesty of Vesuvius frowning on the fateful city of Naples famed for the gaiety of its life despite the ever-present menace of the world's most famous volcano for supremacy in the memory of the voyagers when they sit back in their easy chairs at the end of the voyage.

Wherever the "Duchess of Atholl" calls her passengers will see new sights, their ears will meet strange sounds and they will gather impressions that will endure of many of the different races and countries of which this world consists.

And when it is considered that the cruise, starting from New York January 22nd, 1929, will visit Jamaica, Trinidad, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, South Africa, Tanganyika, East Africa, Kenya, the Sudan, Egypt, Italy, Monaco, France, Gibraltar and England, the sights depicted above are not really needed to indicate the "infinite variety" of this "cruise of contrasts."

The visit of the R.M.S. "Duchess of Atholl" during the three months of the cruise will provide an opportunity for citizens of ports in these various countries to see the new 20,000-ton Canadian Pacific liner—and to realize the strides the great Dominion is making. The ship is equipped with an individually controlled ventilation system that makes it ideal for tropical climates.

"An average of 1.888 cars per day have been loaded with grain by the C.P.R. since the middle of September," said J. G. Sutherland, head of the transportation department at Winnipeg. This means about 2¾ million bushels moved daily—a record never before approached.

The International Dog Sled Derby that is one of the outstanding attractions of the winter sport season at Quebec City will take place from February 21 to 23, it has been announced. The course is 120 miles in length and famous 'mushers' from all parts of the country compete.

President Calles of Mexico, has purchased 176 prize British Columbia hens for stocking his farm near Mexico City. He paid $5,550 cash for these birds, all of which have a record of more than 300 eggs a year and all of which are White Leghorns. The purchase was made through two agents of the president who came up from Mexico for this purpose.

Quebec city's new grain elevator will be completed in January, it is now thought. All that remains to be done to the 2,000,000 bushel structure is to complete the three galleries and the marine tower.

A Chicago Holstein breeder has made a special offer to B. H. Thomson of Braeburn Farm, Boharn, Saskatchewan, for his world champion Holstein cow, Canary Korndyke Alcartra; but representations are being made to the Provincial Government to have this famous animal retained in the province.

"You don't have to sell the idea of game protection and conservation to sportsmen," said James W. Stuber, well known sporting writer who attended the recent banquet in Montreal of the Quebec Association for the Protection of Fish and Game. "The problem is to convince the settler and guide in the backwoods that a surplus of game for the attraction of the hunter means money in their pockets and a source of revenue to many classes in the community."

The Santa Claus team of fairy reindeer must be having an exciting time these days in keeping pace with modern delivery methods, for Christmas presents shipped by Canadian Pacific Express are being speeded through the clouds by airplanes. Between Quebec, Montreal, New York, Ottawa, and Toronto, in the east and Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, and Edmonton in the west, airplanes have been busy this season carrying air mail and express matter and many belated shippers have been able to have their presents delivered before Christmas by using the air express service.

Vancouver is rolling up its bell bottomed trousers in preparation for the four day Sea Music Festival to take place at the Hotel Vancouver from January 23 to 26. The cheery sea chanteys and famous salt water ballads that have been sung by sailors for many centuries will be presented at this novel music festival, which promises to be one of the most popular and important events of the season in the west. It will be preceded by a Yuletide Festival at the Empress Hotel at Victoria when Christmas carols will be sung by well known artists and many quaint old customs will be revived by the players.

The finest show herd and the only shipment of its kind ever sent out of Canada is now on its way to Australia. Twenty seven animals, three bulls and 24 females, the cream of James D. McGregor's famous Glenearnock stock farms, have been loaded into C. P. R. cars and started on their long journey to New South Wales. Twenty of the animals will be used for the foundation herd of the government animal husbandry department, while seven others will go to private purchasers. All are of the finest stock raised by the leading Aberdeen Angus breeder and most of them have won prizes at fairs and stock shows throughout the continent.

An ingenious machine for the repair and maintainance of railroad tracks has been experimented with for some time by the Canadian Pacific Railway, it is reported. A gasoline motor generates power for an electric metallic arc welder and a grinder. These in turn build up and smooth out worn sections of rail near joints. It can operate anywhere on the lines, quite apart from any outside source of electric power.

Shipping beer by tank cars is an innovation alike for the brewing industry and railroading. A London brewery is now using insulated and refrigerated glass lined tanks containing 4,800 gallons to ship beer to their Montreal bottling plant. The tanks are the same as those used to ship milk in bulk, but have the addition of a safety valve to release pressure in excess of twelve pounds that may be generated in transit.

Maple products have almost equalled Canadian apples in popularity as souvenir presents from Canadians to their friends in the old country, states J. R. Martin, manager of the foreign department of the Canadian Pacific Express. Christmas shipments got under way at an early date this season, he said, the urge of the express companies to express Christmas presents early having a marked effect.

Another story of a bull moose attacking a man comes from Banff, Alberta, where the Mercury reports,—"One of our local prospectors was tramping through the hills some miles from Banff, when he looked forward and saw a bull moose coming rapidly towards him. He took to the timber pronto, and afterwards discovered that Mr. Moose had established his herd of three or four cows in a secluded spot near and was not going to permit the approach of any strangers."

Heavy windstorm put fifteen telephone lines out of order

Fifteen of the B. C. Telephone Company's long-distance telephone circuits on the mainland, including the new direct line to Calgary, were put out of order by a windstorm on the night of Saturday, Dec. 8. Trouble in all cases was caused by trees being blown down on the wires.

As alternative routes were available, there was no extensive cessation of service. Aldergrove was the only place isolated. The trouble demanded immediate action, however, and telephone repairmen were soon in the field making necessary repairs.

All lines affected, including those to Aldergrove, were restored to normal by the following day.
