Around Home

Greenwood was full of sensations last week,

Al Hagelberg, of Molson, was in town this week.

A. S. Black returned on Monday from California.

Frank White will move to Anaconda, Montana.

Big Dan McDonald died last week in Okanagan, Wash.

Charles Russell began this week running his auto stage to Midway.

Sir Richard McBride will speak in the Boundary towns in a short time.

This year at 30 mills, Grand Forks expects to receive $32,100 in taxes.

Last Friday there were 372 men on the Granby payroll in Phoenix.

"Chuck" Henderson is the wine clerk at the Queens hotel in Phoenix.

There will be a Conservative convention in Greenwood next Tuesday.

An auto climbed the hill to Phoenix last week, the first of the season.

Our entire stock of crockery at one half price for CASH. L. A. Smith & Co.

There will be a moving picture show in the Star Theatre on Friday evening.

The civic employees in Grand Forks have had their salaries raised 10 per cent.

J. R. Jackson returned from Victoria last week, and is in good form for the campaign.

Jacob S. Shields, of New York, will lecture on Christian Science in Greenwood on March 26.

Ed Stanaway is running a jitney in Grand Forks. The fare to any part of the city is 10 cents.

At Princeton 20 men went to work on the wagon roads last week. The wages are $3 a day.

With the Mayor, G. A. Rendell and A. S. Black are police and license commissioners in Greenwood.

The wagon road brigade is about to go into action. Some rock work is already being executed.

Private Ross Fleming, of the 2nd C.M.R., Willows camp, Victoria, is spending a few days in the city.

Snowdrops were picked in Grand Forks last week. Drops of snow can still be picked in Phoenix.

D. J. McDonald and Fred C. Graham have been appointed police and license commissioners in Phoenix.

The cent has reached Greenwood. The banks received a consignment of bright copper coins on Saturday.

From now on we will be handling fresh made Curlew butter. Save 5c. a pound by paying cash. L. A. Smith & Co.

Mrs. Thomas Walsh has gone to spend a few days in Spokane with her husband, who has just returned from California.

In Grand Forks when you pay dog taxes, your name is put in the paper. Must be considered an act of great merit in that city.

Dating from the first of March, the Granby has raised the wages in Phoenix and Grand Forks, to the scale that was paid before the war.

At the coming election it is thought that Dr. J. D. MacLean will be the Liberal candidate, and J. R. Jackson the Conservative, in the Greenwood riding.

The payroll of the Granby in Phoenix for the month of February amounted to a little over $29,460. The payroll for March will be several thousand dollars more.

This spring Charles Russell drove the first auto to arrive in town from Grand Forks. He came via Curlew on Saturday and found the road in fairly good condition.

Copper is produced in Grand Forks, so it is quite natural to have coppers in circulation in that city. The banks of the Forks introduced the red cent last week.

After sojourning for many moons at Bull River, and other fashionable resorts the vivacious, optimistic, and eloquent Joel W. Payne has returned to the copper metropolis.

The fittings are being installed in the postoffice building. Mr. McDougall of Grand Forks, the contractor, expects to finish the work in three weeks. The building will be ready for occupancy by May.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Keffer expect to leave for Spokane next Monday.

George Miller, C. C. Hewar, George Mario and C. V. Stacey, Greenwood, also W. T. Jourdan and Norman White of Midway have joined the Sharpshooters in Grand Forks.

Oscar Lachmund is in the east where he will attend the annual meeting of the B. C. Copper Co. He will return about March 27, after visiting Denver, Salt Lake City, Chicago and other points of size and importance.

At the last election, March 28, 1912, in the Greenwood riding J. R. Jackson, the Conservative candidate received 361 votes, and George Heatherton, Socialist, 102 votes. There was no Liberal candidate in the field.

It pays to pay CASH. Try it; see our special CASH prices on groceries for Friday and Saturday. L. A. Smith & Co.

Nat Darling and Al Campbell, two of the most famous commercial travellers the world has ever known were in town on Saturday. They both still have the appearance of a couple of chicken-fed parsons or capitalists.

There is no doubt but what some day the new postoffice building will be opened for business. It will be a sad disappointment to cheap advertisers, and may force some of them to occasionally buy a few dodgers.

On the 1st of April Charles Russell will take over the livery business owned by Frank Buckless. In future the Palace Livery Stable and the Greenwood-Midway stage, will be known as Russell's Livery and Stage Line.

The service in the Presbyterian church, Sunday, March 21st, 7.30 p. m., will be special, in memory of Fanny Crosby, the eminent hymn writer. An account of her interesting life will be given and her hymns will be sung. All welcome.

W. F. Proctor died suddenly in Armstrong March 10. He had been in poor health for some time. He leaves a wife and two sons. For years he was manager of the Bank of Montreal in Greenwood, and was transferred to Armstrong about four years ago.

STOP, STOP. Think how you can reduce the high cost of living. BY EATING MORE BREAD. 2400 calories body energy in one 10c loaf. Only 750 calories body energy in eggs. Only 410 calories body energy in meat. Moral. Eat more bread raised with FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST.

One day last week, aeveral boxes of dynamite sat in front of a local store for several hours. If it had gone off there would have been a boom in Greenwood. Merchants should take no chances in allowing dynamite to hang around their places of business if it is liable to make things too lively if a Zepp comes along and drops a bomb on it. The law is opposed to having so much sudden death lying in reach of the public.

Cut the high cost of living by paying CASH and note the savings. L. A. Smith & Co.

CITY COUNCIL

The Council met on Monday evening.

It was decided to have the Ottawa building razed, and the lot cleared of debris.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid: Fire Brigade, $45; The Ledge, $1; C. Kinney, $2.35; R. Wilson, $50; Sing Lung, $1.90; L. A. Smith & Co., $7.05; J. L. White, $3.

The purchase of a horse from F. C. Buckless for $225 was ratified.

The matter of fixing a water rate for the postoffice building was left with the committee until the next meeting.

Instructions were given to place gravel in certain places where needed.

John Holmes was appointed pound-keeper.

Council adjourned until March 29th.

FOR SALE.—One Orient motor bicycle. Cost $275, F. O. B., Greenwood. Used one year. Will sell for $30. $10 down and the balance in one or two months. Apply to F. Keffer, Anaconda.

Western Float

The bedbugs have been driven out of Oroville.

Bartenders are the best dressed men in Lillooet.

Two sawmills are being installed four miles from Chesaw.

On the upper Fraser many Chinks are rocking gold.

There is some talk of building a public fish wharf at Rupe.

Honey is being shipped from Creston in large quantities.

A summer resort will be opened at Curlew lake this summer.

Mike Rossi is opening a wholesale liquor store in Blairmore.

In good or bad times the creeks at Three Forks never quit roaring.

There is much activity in the copper mines at Chewelah, Wash.

There will soon be a daily train service between Rupe and the east.

For several days no new daily papers have been started in Vancouver.

Frozen salmon and halibut are now being regularly sold in Great Britain.

J. R. Campbell has bought out his partners in the drug business at Fort George.

At Duck Creek, Jack Jackson has had pansies blooming in his garden for a month.

See that the war stamp is on your bottle of wine. You do not need one on the hot bird.

Harry Bloom will run the steamer Omineca this year, on the Stuart river to Tacla lake.

The old Hudson Bay store at Port Simpson was borned down recently. It was built in 1850.

Standard mail cars and mail clerks, are now running between Edmonton and Prince Rupert.

This spring the G. T. P. railway will employ 2,000 men on its track, between McBride and Fort Fraser.

Near Merritt, Henry Kinnear committed suicide by shooting himself, while temporarily insane.

Police court business is dull in Merritt. Only goodwill whiskey is now sold in that town and buttermilk.

Jim Edwards, an Indian, was recently found frozen stiff near Quilchena. He had a wound on his head.

Conductor B. H. Graves, who recently died in Nelson from cancer of the stomach, left an estate valued at $11,700.

Plenty of halibut is landed at Prince Rupert, but it is nearly a year since any suckers have been landed at Calgary.

Al Palmer is managing an hotel in Lytton. He misses the big Kaslo poker games, and the fishing on Kootenay lake.

Fuel oil is to be used on the G. T. P. engines. A steel tank that will hold 350,000 gallons is being built at Prince George.

During February there were 20 cases in the police court at Chilliwack. Five people were interdicted during the month.

Be loyal and support your local paper. Do not enjoy the advantages that a paper brings to a town, and let your neighbors bear all the expense.

F. E. Simpson is starting a weekly paper in Victoria. At one time he ran a paper in Cranbrook, before the frost killed the bananas in that town.

Jack Evans was the first man to die in New Denver. His death was hastened by amateur doctors. They gave him a little of all the patent medicines in camp at that time.

It is reported that Patsy Clark, will open up the Galena Farm, near Silverton, In 1896 this property was floated in London for $2,500,000. The company was afterwards disincorporated.

When the Prince George team won the hockey cup this winter, E. E. Phair of the King George hotel filled it with champagne, and the boys drank it. Pop never did anything like that in Nelson.

The Indians at Port Simpson and other places in the north are in the midst of a great religious revival. They often start services at 5 a.m., and the brass bands are liable to play at any time in the night. The redskins believe that the world will come to an end in May. It may for the Kaiser.

"Lucky" Johnson, from the Half-way House, Lillooet-Lytton road, was in town a few days ago and showed us some fine silver ore from the old Watkinson mine. He has forwarded about fifty pounds of this ore to the Trail smelter. As some assays have already gone over $100 a ton, he has every hope of getting a satisfactory smelter test.—Lillooet Prospector.

To The Electors

At the earnest solicitation of many friends in Greenwood and Similkameen ridings, I will be a candidate at the convention next week for the Conservative nomination in the Greenwood riding. Soliciting your influence and goodwill I am

Yours Faithfully,
F. W. McLAINE.

A Sunday Blaze

The residence of Guy Wright, near the C.P.R. depot, was burned down on Sunday evening. Only Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Lester McKenzie and their children were in the house at the time their husbands being out of town. After taking the children to a safe place the women saved part of the contents of the hose. A piano and other valuable material was burned. The fire department turned out in quick time, and had an immense length of hose in order to get a stream of water on the blaze. The fire started by a stovepipe coming apart and setting the wallpaper on fire. The building is a total loss. The building was insured for $1,200, and the contents $800, both risks being carried by the Hartford Insurance Co.

Anaconda

Mrs. Jos. Caron and Harold have gone to their ranch near Midway.

Messrs. Smith and Wolverson have returned from England, leaving their families to follow later.

On Friday evening about sixty people assembled in the school house to wish Mr. and Mrs. Dagman a pleasant journey and much prosperity in their new home near Moscow, Idaho. The evening was spent in games, music and dancing. A short but interesting program by the school children was much appreciated by the audience. The music was supplied by Mr. Robt. Morris, Mrs. Philips and Mr. John Compoleto. An excellent lunch was provided by the ladies.

The White Metal

Statistics show that England and Continental Europe have been coining, since the war, enormous quantities of silver. The demand in the Orient is also improving very markedly. Shipments to India, for instance, thus far in 1915 are far in excess of a year ago.

Stocks of silver bullion in the hands of London dealers have now fallen to a very low ebb, and in addition to a very heavy demand for coinage purposes, the requirements of India are gradually increasing, and it is expected that the exports of silver bullion to India in 1915 will almost equal the exports in 1913, which amounted to nearly 107,000,000 ounces. In 1914 exports of silver bullion to India fell to 57,450,000 ounces, owing to the interruption of shipments by the European war.

The demand from China is also showing some improvement, but has not reached the normal average requirements. Shipments to Hong Kong are, however, still being made from the Pacific coast at infrequent intervals, and these are serving to largely reduce the stock of stored silver in the San Francisco banks.

Judging by the immense amount of silver that has been used in England for coinage purposes throughout the British Empire, it is evident that an immense amount will be required in Europe at the close of the war, and it is probable that there will be a considerable demand before then from France, Italy and Holland for coinage purposes. It is also expected that Russia will enter the market in the near future.

The outlook for higher prices for silver in the very near future is exceedingly encouraging.—N. Y. Mining Age.

WE have received a poem from Three Forks, entitled, "He Kissed Her Rooby Lips." We will print it after the war and election. The people are surfeited with sorrow at the present moment.

THE man with a cure-all for diseased imaginations might do a good business in this town. Some people are mean and crooked, but imagine that it is the other fellow. Such unfortunates are to be pitied more than condemned. They are insane and need a mental cathartic to cut the cobwebs out of their upper stopes.

WE have a case for libel against Joe Martin. In his journalistic world regulator he calls us a "Flannel-shirted editor." This is a prevarication of the deepest dye. While the Canadian contingent is doing its part at the front and the Canadian business man is doing his part at home, it remains for the Canadian citizen also to do his part. It is patriotic and it is good business to buy goods, first, that are made in your own town, second in our own country, and in our own British Empire.

Chesaw Mines

Chesaw is acress the line, a few miles west of Greenwood. The Northwest Mining Journal has the following to say about the mines:

"A town of 300 people four miles south of Myncaster, B.C., its railway station. There are two distinct clases of ore in this camp. On the west side of Meyers creek the ore is all free gold; on the east side, or Copper mountain, is base ore conveying copper as principal value with small gold values. On the west side is the famous Reco claim. This property gained fame last fall by the discovery of high grade ore from which assays as high as $16,000 were obtained. The lead is a very high grade stringer about four inches in width between decomposed porphyry walls, mineralized to a width of 15 feet. By mining the entire 15 feet it can be made to average $10 per ton, and should be a paying proposition as there is a 10 stamp mill with in 2,000 feet of the property. The property is developed to a depth of 50 ft. only.

The property, which is owned by the Loundagin family, is under bond to E. S. Campbell, who is also thought to have obtained bonds on a number of adjoining properties carrying the same class of ore."

Mention is also made of the Apex, Ben Harrison and Shipper groupes and the Wester Star Claim is described in detail. In closing the Journal says:

"There is more activity in the camp this fall than for several years. Nearly every prospect is being further developed. The owners have found out that it is no longer possible to sell an undeveloped prospect at any price, much less $25,000 to $50,000, at which price most of the properties have been held in the past."

Kaslo-Slocan Mines

If conditions are favorable and the water is sufficient, the Cork-Province will resume operations about the first of April.

O. V. White, superintendent of the Slocan Star mine, Sandon, who was in Kaslo the first of the week, stated that the Slocan Star mill will resume operations shortly.

The feeling around Ainsworth is now more optimistic than has been the case at any time since the beginning of the war, and the camp is showing increased activity every week.

During February 153 tons more of zinc ore were shipped from the Slocan than during February of 1914. The zinc shipments last month totaled 855 tons. Of this quantity the Rambler contributed 84 tons; John L. Retallack & Co. 86 tons; the surprise, 516 tons; the Utica 43 tons, and the Hewitt 126 tons.

The force at the No. 1 is being further increased and four cars of ore were shipped from that property on Monday. As soon as there is sufficient water another shift, it is learned, will be put on at the Highland. It is also reported that the Maestro will shortly start up again. Manager Fowler, of the Bluebell, is expected back shortly from an extended eastern trip.—Kaslo Kootenaian.

Old Mines

The "Old Abe" mine of Homestake that produced millions for the Hearsts, is being renovated and the "Old Abe" shafts overhauled. The "Old Abe" and Homestake workings in the Dakota Black Hills, opened up by the elder Hearst in the seventies, are among the oldest producing gold mines in the United States today.

By a peculiar conincidence perhaps the oldest gold mine in the country is also called the "Old Abe," but this particular Old Abe is in an altogether different part of the United States. Its history dates 'way back to about 1843.

The original "Old Abe" gold mines are in the old mining camp of White Oaks, Lincoln County, New Mexico.

It is the oldest and has the largest production of any gold mine in New Mexico and enjoys the distinction of being the deepest dry gold mine in the world. Its deepest workings are 1,300 feet, at which point the vein and values are persistent and still carry free milling pay ore.

WAR NOTES

American greenbacks during the Civil War fell to forty cents on the dollar, and the depreciation of these German bank notes—which are legal tender in every part of the German Empire will depreciate in geometrical progression as the great catastrophe is neared.

Germany has thoroughly mastered the science of financing Commerce and war with paper money. Merchants, land owners, and manfacturers could go at any time to the banks and secure all the paper money their property was worth in paper currency. With this paper currency they could build ships or factories, and buy Government bonds. The war loan of $1,125,000,000 was subscribed for in the paper money of a vastly inflated currency.

Germany's paper money is not one whit more stable or more valuable than the confederacy currency of the American Civil war, and I cannot see aught but stupendous ruin and prostration for the Teutonic peoples, wrought by the mad ambitions of quack statesmen and quack bankers. Germany is spending $12,500,000 daily on this war. She has already spent $2,225,000,000 and before this war ends a year from now, she will have piled an additional $5,000,000,000 of bonded debt, bearing 5 per cent interest, upon her people. That means a perpetual charge of $250,000,000 a year. The first billion loan of the war cost Germany 5.25 per cent and it cost Austria 6.25 per cent. The second billion not gold but paper money—will cost Germany at least 6 per cent and Austria far more, and before the golden harvests of Canadian wheat fields can be garnered in 1915 Germany and Austria will be crushed beneath financial burdens that will make their peoples slaves of tax gatherers for centuries.

America and Canada will reap enormous profits from the wastage of this war. Wheat, and oats, and corn, and cattle, and sheep, and hogs, and horses will enhaunce more and more in value as the war progresses. Twenty millions of men in the prime of life are turned from the trades of peace to the trade of war. From creators they have been turned into destroyers. War makes people reckless, wasteful and extravagant, and the fields are neglected and the mills disorganized when the God of War stalks at large over the land.

"Hence, ere this war ends, wheat will sell for $2 a bushel, and corn for a dollar, and oats for 72 cents, while wool and leather and beef and pork will reach the famine prices and all this will go on while Europe will be adding capital obligations of billions to its bonded indebtedness. The taxpayers of Europe will be so crushed that countless multitudes will sooner or later seek relief in emigration to the United States and to Canada and the taxation in Europe will be so great that the manufacturers of the American continent will in time be better able to compete with Europe than ever before.

All these things must be carefully thought out by those who would shape their course for the world of tomorrow.—P. A. O'Farrel.

At Rest

Take a walk through the cemetery alone and you will pass the resting place of a man who looked into the muzzle of a gun to see if it was loaded. A little further down the slope is a crank who tried to see how close he could stand to a moving train while it passed. In strolling around you will see the monument of the hired girl who tried to start a fire with kerosene. The tall shaft of a man who blew out the gas casts a shadow over the boy who tried to get on a moving train. While by his side is the pretty creature who always had her corset laced to the last hole. At repose is a doctor who drank his own medicine. There with the top of a shoe box driven over his head is a rich old man who married a young wife. Away over there reposes a boy who went fishing on Sunday and a woman who kept strychnine powder in the cupboard. The man who stood in frent of the mowing machine to oil the sickle is quiet now. Beside the careless brakeman who fed himself to the 70-ton engine, and near by may be seen the grave of the man who tried to whip the editor.

Fresh vs. Stale Fish

Fresh fish is an exceedingly perishable food product. Even when reasonable care has been taken by the packers and dealers, such fish will frequently deteriate rapidly.

It has been scientifically demonstrated that the toxic or poisonous elements formed in decomposing fish, greatly exceed those produced in the flesh of warm-blooded animals. Further, these are most dangerous in the early stages of decomposition. Consequently the need for extra precautions in the selection of fresh fish is plain. The following points are worth remembering when purchasing fish.

Dead fish are unfit for food:

(1) When the eyes have lost their sheen and have become cloudy.

(2) When the red gills have become pale.

(3) When the flesh has become soft so as to pit if pressed with the finger.

(4) When the scales are easily loosened.

(5) When the fish will float on water.

Obviously all these tests cannot be put to all fish that are oflered for sale in the market stalls, but some of them can, and the householder will do well to apply them before purchasing fish.—A. D.

Little By Little

Little by little the times goes by—
Short, if you sing through it, long, if you sigh.
Little by little—an hour a day,
Gone with the years that have vanished away.
Little by little the race is run
Trouble and waiting and toil are done!

Little by little the skies grow clear;
Little by little the sun comes near;
Little by little the days smile out,
Gladder and brighter on pain and doubt;
Little by little the seed we sow
Into a beautiful yield will grow.

Little by little the world grows strong
Fighting the battle of Right and Wrong;
Little by little the Wrong gives way—
Little by little the Right has sway.
Little by little all longing souls
Struggle up nearer the shining goals.

Little by little the good in men
Blossoms to beauty, for human ken;
Little by little the angels see
Prophecies better of good to be;
Little by little the God of all
Lifting the world nearer the pleading call.

Londoners are almost looking forward to a Zeppelin raid. Things are slack just now, but it is felt that in the event of a raid by air everybody's business will be looking up.

The Government of the Province of British Columbia, Land Registry Act.

TAKE NOTICE that an application has been made to register as the owner in Fee Simple, under a Tax Sale Deed from Herbert Ridley Townsend to Hugh McKee bearing date the 18th day of November, A. D. 1913, of all and singular that certain parcel or tract of land and premises situate, lying and being in the Province of British Columbia, more particularly known and described as: Lot 1484, Similkameen Division, Yale District, Mineral Claim known as "Maple Leaf."

You and those claiming through or under you and all persons claiming any interest in the said land by virtue of any unregistered instrument; and all persons claiming any interest in the said land by decent whose title is not registered under the provisions of the "Land Registry Act," are required to contest the claim of the tax purchaser within thirty days from the date of the first publication of this notice upon you, and in default of a caveat or certificate of lis pendens being filed within such period, or in default of redemption before registration, you and each of you, will be forever estopped and debarred from setting up any claim to or in respect of the said land, and I shall register Hugh McKee as owner thereof in fee.

DATED at the Land Registry Office, Kamloops, Province of British Columbia, this 28th day of January, A. D. 1915.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations.

COAL mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon: If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.
