To the Electors of Greenwood Riding

The rumor that if elected (I am going to) move away from Greenwood is being insidiously and industriously circulated.

This story is on a par with the usual tactics of the Bowser machine. Unable to defend the record of the government in public the supporters of that party are resorting to misstatements such as the above, with the vain hope that such conduct will help the cause of their candidate.

To set this rumor at rest, I hereby state publicly that I have no intention of leaving Greenwood; but, should I decide to do so, I will place my resignation as a member, in the hands of the people.

Yours respectfully,

J. D. MACLEAN.

The Voice of Experience

"Huh! I guess you never stacked up against a church fair did you?" demanded a victim in the back row.
