VOL. 2. NO. 7. SANDON, B. C., SATURDAY, JULY 23, 1898. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

ORE SHIPMENTS.

The total Shipments Form Sandon Since January.

Although the winter and spring have been anything but favorable to mining operations in these parts on account of the heavy snow fall, numerous slides and consequently bad roads till lately, the shipments from this section are very favorable. From the first of January to the 30th of June they are as follows:

MINES.	TONS.
Payne	5,060
Ruth	2,009
Slocan Star	978
Last Chance	879
Reco	420
Queen Bess	175
Sovereign	40
Ajax	38
Goodenough	20
Wonderful Bird	7
Fountain Fraction	5
Argo	2½
Total	9,628½

The Queen Bess in addition to the above shipped 610½ tons at Three Forks; the Idaho 1,880 at the same place. At McGuigan there have been shipped in the same period 385 tons by the Cariboo-Rambler; 50 tons by the Antoine, and 45 by the Dardanelles.

ROSSLAND.

The following are the ore shipments from the mines adjacent to Rossland from Jan. 1, to June, 18th, 1898:

Le Roi	22,970
War Eagle	9,498
Iron Mask	1,673
Centre Star	910
Poorman	453
Velvet	350
Monte Cristo	185
Cliff	140
Total	36,208

During the month of May the value of the mine exports through the port of Rossland (3,760 tons) was $90,816, divided as follows:

Gold	$ 75,200
Copper	11,580
Silver	3,036
Total	$ 90,816

PORT NELSON.

The Collector of Customs at Nelson kindly sends us the following returns:

The mine (copper matte) 99 tons valued at $ 70,679

SLOCAN.

The following returns have been received from Kaslo:

The total returns for the month were $3,715, divided as follows:

Kaslo	$ 3,091.56
Nakusp	478.16
Rykerts	145.48

For the month May there were cleared at the Kaslo Customs office 1,860,357 pounds of ore valued at $67,735, containing 696,036 pounds of lead and 94,052 ounces of silver.

Of this amount the port of Nakusp credited with gross pounds of ore, 540,500, valued at $15,498, containing 54,000 pounds of lead and 24,300 ounces of silver.

The shipments by Kaslo were as follows:

	lbs.
Ruth	520,000
Slocan Star	480,000
Whitewater	74,000
Antoine	37,000
Coin	25,000
Total	1,144,000

Ore shipments for May from the Slocan were low owing to the breaking up of the roads, the burning of the Payne tramway, the shutting down of the Slocan Star on account of the scarcity of water, and the alterations going on at the Whitewater.

LARDO-DUNCAN COUNTRY.

It is Sustaining its Reputation For Large Ledges and High Values.

Messrs. Miller and Chestnut, president and secretary of the Old Gold Quartz & Placer Mining company, have just returned from a two week's trip in the Lardo-Duncan country, where they have been inspecting the properties of the company.

They report a great deal of development work going on in that part of the country, and signs of prosperity in a mining way on all sides.

The government has a large force of men repairing the roads and trails already established, and building new ones up both the North and the South Forks of the Lardo, as well as in many other directions.

There are 95 men at work on the Duncan river building roads and trails and within the next 60 days they will have completed the road to the West Fork of the Duncan.

The Lardo-Duncan country is sustaining its record for large ledges and great values.

Messrs. Miller and Chestnut have brought to The Miner office a splendid showing of ore. A number of assays taken from the same are exhibited in our window, running all the way from $104.17 to $1,294.40.

Out of many assays taken from this property the company claims the distinction of never having an assay as low as $100 in value.

These assays were taken from near the surface of the ledge and may—as is the case throughout that country generally—increase in value as depth is attained.

There are several ledges on the property. The ore from which this was obtained is between 25 and 30 feet in width and will undoubtedly carry a pay streak of at least three to five feet. This lead is on the lime and slate contact and carries five times the values the famous Silver Cup carried at the same depth.

The company has a good force of men at work and is taking out high grade shipping ore from the surface. The company expects to begin shipping in the near future.

Rossland's Payroll.

MADE RICH IN THIS PROVINCE.

A Pioneer Miner of B. C. Enjoys Himself on the Sound.

Alexander Audet, a pioneer miner of British Columbia, says a Tacoma despatch, is on the sound enjoying a well earned rest, and also devising ways and means in which to spend some of the money received a short time ago by himself and partner for the sale of the Black Cock mine in the Ymir district, B. C, to an English company.

These fortunate prospectors received $75,000 for their property, and before another month they will receive an additional $150,000 for the White Horse and Last Chance mines in the same district. The mines in Ymir district are very rich, and with the aid of large capital and modern machinery methods wonderful results are predicted.

A large majority of the better claims have been bought by English capitalists.

Had a Visitor.

While Martin Isaacson was sitting in the cabin at the Exchange mine recently, an adventuresome bear effected an entrance through the window and immediately proceeded to devour a portion of his provisions. Mr. Isaacson retreated to the farthest corner of the building and with an air of deep concern watched the big shaggy fellow eat with apparent relish a strip of bacon and a bag of oatmeal. Bruin knew when he had enough and having finished his meal he leisurely took his departure, grunting his thanks to the hospitable host as he did so. Mr. Isaacson admired the animal's pluck, but deplored his own luck in not having a gun.—S. C. News.

THE PROVINCIAL CABINET.

The Department of Mines Should Go to the Member Elect for the Slocan.

Under any and every principle of right, this constituency must furnish the next minister of mines for the Provincial cabinet. It may be said there are other divisions whose representatives are better entitled to promotion than is Mr. Green of the Slocan; but that is not the principle that is now involved. The parliament is calculated to legislate for the country, and not for the representatives of the country. This was one of the fatal mistakes the Turner government always lived in—they legislated for themselves and not the people or the country they represented, and hence most of them, such as Col. Baker and "Chinese" Martin, for instance, grew rich at the country's expense.

The Slocan division has infinitely more men at work in its mines than any other metalliferous section of the country; it has more mines; more capital invested in them; turns out annually a greater value of ore, and pays larger dividends than any other district—the Payne paying last year more dividends than all the Rossland mines put together. These are circumstances that cannot and must not be overlooked. The new government will, of course, say they are there to legislate for the country, and here is an opportunity to show their sincerity. If Turner resigns, or is defeated, at the opening of the new House, it will be the duty of Lieut-Governor McInness to call on Mr. Semlin to form a new government. Mr. Semlin can then either undertake the task or recommend some one else to his Honor. This is the constitutional course, and, no doubt, it will be followed in the event of the overthrow of the Turner administration. As "Joe" Martin is the only lawyer elected by the opposition, he, no doubt, will be attorney general; Mr. Cotton, minister of Lands and Works, and Mr. Green minister of mines. It is whispered in some quarters that in his deathbed repentance even Mr. Turner came to the conclusion that he had long slighted the Slocan, and was going to give the Department of Mines to Mr. Retallack, had he been elected. As, however, he did not live to see the realization of his dreams, it opens the way for the recognition of the claims of the constituency by the new government. Mr. Green may not be the orator that some members of the House are; but even in speaking ability he takes no second rank compared with any other member who would be likely to get the position—such as Messrs. Martin (Rossland), Hume or Kellie. Mr. Green is, however, a strong representative man, as well acquainted with mining as many men who have spent much of their lives in the business; he is largely interested in mines himself, and is a No. 1 office and business man. These are the qualifications a minister of mines should possess, and Mr. Green has them. When Semlin is forming his cabinet, he must look to the Slocan for his Minister of Mines.

The Rossland Miner is out for James Martin, the representative of that constituency; but it may as well hold its wind, Mr. Green must have the Department of Mines. The Miner may talk of its "Premier camp," but Mr. Green represents the Premier mining constituency of the province, and withal he is a better qualified man, education, ability, etc. considered, for the office than any of his competitors. Besides this to equal things up, there must be three Conservatives as well as three Liberals in the cabinet, and it will take Semlin, Cotton and Green to make the trio. James Martin, of Rossland, is a Liberal, and there will be three Liberals in the cabinet without him. The Conservative members of the opposition must have fair play, if the fabric is to hang together. The Liberal members of the opposition can no more man the ship without the aid of Conservative oppositionists than they can fly, so they must treat the latter properly. Blustering can accomplish nothing for the Miner. If Mr. Green and members like him feel themselves ignored, they would be justified in taking steps that would soon force recognition, and the country will back them up in it promptly.

The Crow's Nest Pass Railway.

Work on the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass railway, between McLeod, N. W. T., and Kootenay lake, is progressing rapidly, and the indications are that the road will be completed to Kuskonook early in the autumn. Tracklaying has been completed from McLeod westward to Elk River Crossing, a distance of 144 miles from the former place and 138 miles from Kootenay lake. It will thus be noted that the line is supplied with steel a little over half of the entire distance. Between Kuskonook and Moyie lake the work of clearing, grading and preparing for the tracklayers is well advanced. It is said that contracts have been made to deliver unbroken carload lots in Kootenay over this route by the middle of next October.

The commencement of regular traffic over this road will mark the inauguration of a new era in this district. The cost of general merchandise from eastern points will be greatly lessened to local merchants, and it will naturally follow that the public here will be directly benefitted. An additional advantage will also be experienced by the mine owners, for with the completion of the Crow's Nest Pass railway the fuel from the Crow's Nest coal mines will then be available for the local smelters. This will mean a reduction of at least $4 per ton on the present rates for coal and coke, and the cost of ore reduction will be proportionately lessened. The construction of this railway is by far the most important work of development that has so far been undertaken in Kootenay.

Losses by Strikes.

Statistians, governmental labor bureaus, State boards of arbitration and others often regale us with figures on the thousands of dollars lost during strikes by both parties thereto and the community generally. Wherein and how? In the majority of strikes work is delayed briefly; when the strike ends, additional time is put in to catch up. In protracted strikes other labor is secured; wages are still paid. In shut-downs or lock-outs the consumer buys elsewhere; wages continue. If he cannot buy that particular product he will buy a substitute; he yet pays out wages. During the recent engineers' strike, trade left England for America and Germany; wages did not stop; or, if they did, it was to the extent of surplus product, and any difference will now be made up on delayed orders. Referring to the miners' strike of 1895, the Illinois Bureau of Labor Statistics said the miners lost $1,693,910. President McBride said: "The strike lasted eight weeks. The markets were stripped bare of coal; but within two weeks after resumption the markets were glutted and the majority of miners were either idle or working an occasional day each week." Even inconvenience of strikes means more labor for some one. Wages and profits at such times may be shifted, but how do these bureaus figure out a loss? As a matter of fact, the only real loss to the community is that of their own salaries; but figures, like charity, cover a multitude of sins.

Canada in London.

A further decline in the standard value of money and an abundance of funds for legitimate enterprise have helped to maim the stock markets. In Canadian securities there has been a fair amount of business, but elsewhere inactivity is more remarkable, and the approach of the Bisley and Henley functions may, for the present, also check speculation. Both Grand Trunk and C. P. R. descriptions are lower, as the traffic returns of all trans-Atlantic companies for May show the effects of rate cutting. Of $273,000 gross increase, the addition to net revenue on the Canadian Pacific was only $71,000, but the Grand Trunk Company, from an increase of £35,000, has a net increment of £18,000.—B. C. Santiago Has Fallen.

So Santiago has really fallen at last. And a good job, too; what on earth is the use of these silly Spaniards attempting to tackle Uncle Samuel. Spain is hopelessly in debt, cannot raise a cent, army unpaid for months, commissariat worse than was England's in the Crimean war, and owing to 500 years breeding "in and in" the native constitution is absolutely rotten. The "sooner its over the sooner to sleep," for Spain at any rate. We suppose the queen will now abdicate and go to Vienna; she has feathered her nest and will take the little king with her. Don Carlos is too old to attempt royalty again and so, take it altogether, we imagine they will have a republic. But nobody cares whether or not—nobody bothers nowadays over a bankrupt community.

BLENHEIM, ONT.

"I have been suffering with heart trouble and excessive nervousness since last spring and became completely debilitated and weakened so that I thought I was going to die. The Province and Martin.

If the Vancouver Province would let up a little in its puffing Joseph Martin, it would stand better in the eyes of many of its readers. Mr. Martin is a man of good average ability and that is all that can be said on that score. Mr. Laurier considered him the inferior of Mr. Sifton when he passed him over, and took the latter into his cabinet. There is, however, one blot on the public reputation of Mr. Martin, and that do as he may he cannot remove—he got his party into power in Manitoba through public and private deception; and the most of men will acknowledge political deception is no more defensible than business fraud. The REVIEW is quite willing to overlook Mr. Martin's defects of the past, for the good he may do in the future; but we are not prepared to see him lionized to the prejudice of men equally good in intellect and infinitely more so in principle. We fancy this is plain enough for any one. There are a few Grit papers in this province very anxious to force federal politics into the provincial arena, and, if they succeed, they and the province must suffer for it.

FROM THE GAZETTE.

The Latest Registrations, Licenses, and Certificate of Improvements.

The issue of the British Columbia Gazette of July 14th contains the following:

Applications for certificate of improvements for the following mineral claims have been made: Annie fraction, Jumbo No. 3, Jumbo No. 3 fraction, Nancy Hanks No. 3, Victoria, Copper Cannon, Susan, Victory fraction, Venture fraction, Wedge fraction, Whitewater Deep fraction.

The following extra-provincial companies have registered: The City of Paris Gold Mining company, limited, with a capital stock of $1,200,000. The head office of the company is in Spokane, the office in the province is in White's Camp, B.C., and Henry White, miner, is the attorney.

The Cameron Construction company with a capital of $500,000. The head office is in London, Ontario, in the province the office is in Vancouver, and William E. Drake, of Vancouver, is the attorney.

Licenses to extra-provincial companies have been issued as follows: The Alberta and British Columbia Exploration company, limited, with a capital stock of £20,000. The head office is situated in England, in the province the office is at Kaslo, and George Alexander, manager of the company, of Kaslo, is the attorney.

The Algonquin Mining company, limited, with a capital stock of £500,000. The head office is in London, in the province the office is at Rossland, and Edwin Durant, of Rossland, is the attorney. The object is to carry on a general mining business.

The Columbia-Kootenay Mining company, limited, with a capital stock of £200,000. The head office is in London, in the province the office is in Rossland and Edwin Durant of Rossland, is the attorney.

East Le Roi Mining company, limited, with a capital stock of £500,000. The head office is in London, in the province the office is in Rossland and Edwin Durant of Rossland, is the attorney.

The Kootenay Development company, limited, with a capital stock of £10,000. The head office is in London, in the province the office is in Victoria and George D. Mackay is the attorney. The object is to carry on a mining business in all its ramifications.

The McClary Manufacturing company, with a capital stock of $500,000. The head office of the company is in Vancouver and William E. Drake, manager of that company, is the attorney. The objects for which the company is formed are to manufacture stoves, stove furniture and tin, copper and pressed ware and all kinds of agricultural implements and general machinery and iron founding.

The Selkirk Mother Lode Copper Mines, Limited, with a capital stock of £25,000. The head office is located in London, in the province the office is at Nelson, and Henry Braugham Thompson of Nelson is the attorney. The object is to carry on a general mining business.

The Vermillion Forks Mining & Development company, with a capital stock of £60,000. The head office of the company is located in London, the office in the province at Princeton, and Wm. John Waterman, manager of the company of Princeton, is the attorney.

The West Le Roi Mining company, limited, with a capital stock of £500,000. The head office is in London, in the province the office is at Rossland, and Edwin Durant of Rossland is the attorney. The object is to carry on a general mining business.

The Minister of Mines.

After doing its best to defeat him because of his inability to properly represent that constituency in the House, the Rossland Miner now has the unadulterated gall to hoist the name of James Martin for Minister of Mines. Think of it, ye gods, making a minister of a man incapable of representing a division on the floor of parliament. How very different the situation is here. The Slocan News, that opposed Mr. Green declares him to be an "ideal statesman." No opposing paper here ever declared Mr. Green unfit for the representation of the division. But the Miner foams over the importance of the Rossland camp largely because Mr. McIntosh sank a lot of other peoples' money in properties, many of which must turn out to be mere mud holes.

Let the Miner take off its befogged goggles and make an honest comparison between the mining developments and capabilities of the two constituencies. To-day there are 2,250 men at work in mines in the Slocan against less than half that number in the Rossland camp. In the Slocan there are over 40 mines that have shipped and are shipping.

Last year there were well on to $4,000,000 worth of ore exported from Mr. Green's constituency, and our mines paid well on to $1,250,000 in dividends the Payne here paying more than all the Rossland mines put together. Let the Miner put these facts together and give us an honest opinion on the mining importance of the two divisions. We take it the new parliament will be one of consideration and justice; and if it is it must give the Department of Mines to Mr. Green, for two very important reasons; firstly because he is pre-eminently qualified personally for the office, and secondly because he represents by all odds the most important mining division of the province. How is this, friend Miner?

Penny Postage to be Adopted.

The Duke of Norfolk, postmaster-general, announces that as the outcome of the Imperial conference on postal rates it has decided to adopt the proposal of the Canadian representatives for a letter rate of a penny per half ounce for the United Kindom, Canada, Newfoundland, Cape Colony and Natal. The date for initiating the new rate has not yet been fixed.

CHURCH NOTES.

METHODIST—In the absence of the pastor, the pulpit will be supplied as follows: 11 a.m., G. W. Grimmett; 7 30 p.m., C. N. Haney, B. A.

PRESBYTERIAN.—Rev. J. Clelland will preach as usual in the Virginia hall, to-morrow at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m.

Union Sabbath School in the Methodist church at 3 p.m. Everybody welcome.

Sandon Ore Shipments.

The following is a list of ore shipments over the K. & S. from Sandon for the week ending July 22:

MINING BRIEFS.

With Scissors and Pen.

The Ajax mine people are offering to let 1,000 feet of tunnelling, which means pushing work vigorously.

It is said a big strike has been made on the Emily Edith mine. Some fine samples of ore now on exhibition.

Assessment work has been done by Bert McNaught, on Saddle-rock claim, on the North Fork of Lemon creek.

Operations at the Sovereign mine are going on quietly and under the tools of the miners the seam is improving all the time.

The Annie L. claim on Pocupine creek is to be opened up again. Gus. Schnider, lately of the Comstock mine is interested in it.

J. C. Harris has sold the Tyro near Silverton to the Northwest Mining Syndicate of London, Eng., for $7,500 cash, Mr. Sandiford acting as agent for the company.

Sampling the ore of the L. H., a gold proposition, near Silverton shows a value of $50 per ton. The ledge has a width of 60 feet. The property is said to be most promising.

The Payne was a record breaker last week, it shipping 24 cars of ore, and the recent strike of six feet of solid ore combined with the increased facilities for operating the mine it will no doubt gradually increase its shipments.

A visitor at the Last Chance mine the other day informed the Editor that mine is growing under development into a most wonderful property. In the third tunnel, the miners are working on a seam of clean ore over five feet wide.

The Last Chance has an immense amount of ore blocked that would make the mine a permanent shipper, but it is the intention to withhold heavy shipments until the Reco wagon road is constructed, just shipping a little over the Noble Five tram.

Mr. Warner says he and another man are taking out about a ton of ore a day from their new property, the Coin. They made one shipment last week that turned out 100 ozs of silver to the ton and 70 per cent. lead. This is considered an excellent showing for a new property.

A 30 foot ledge of dry ore carrying galena, copper glance and carbonate of grey copper running high in silver, has been exposed on the Gatineau and Simcoe claims owned by Tom Reed and Chas. Smitheringale. These claims adjoin the Enterprise on Ten Mile and are part of the Slug-Ten group.

A very rich strike was made by Mr. Davidson, manager of the Miller Creek Mining company, on Miller creek near the Wonderful mine the other day. In driving a tunnel near the surface they encountered a 24 inch vein of very rich galena. If the mother lead of the Wonderful is found in that vicinity, a most valuable property will be located.

A strike of a new ledge of rich dry ore is reported on the Tail Holt, which is situated on Gold Hill, near the Howard Fraction. A large amount of work was done on this property during the winter of '96-7, but persons who have been there lately say there is nothing nearly so good in sight as that recently uncovered Wm. Ferguson owns the property.

The returns from the Trail smelter of the shipment recently made from the Mollie Hughes are very gratifying, corroborating the sampling at the mine and the assay made by Howard West. The No. 1 lot gave 554 ounces in silver and $10 in gold, and the average returns from the whole ore mined by the company gave the satisfactory sum of $95 per ton net.

Work is to be resumed on the old Skyline mine at Ainsworth. This fine property has been shut down for some time owing to an excess of water. Arrangements have been made to pump it out and resume shipments. The Skyline was at one time the biggest shipper in this camp and the ores being "dry" were in great demand at the smelter as fluxing well with ore from other camps.

The Lardeau Stock Exchange Committee appointed Wednesday, July 13th, a special settling day in Goldfields of British Columbia, Limited, 51,642 £1 shares fully paid. Nos. 200,0001 to 245,712 and 247,713 to 253,642, and 375,000 vendors' £1 shares fully paid, Nos. 1 to 200,000 and 253,643 to 428,642. Applications have been made to the Stock Exchange Committee to appoint a special settling day in the New Fraser River Gold Mines, Limited, 15,000 £1 shares, 15s. paid, Nos. 1 to 15,000 £1 shares, 15s. paid, Nos. 1 to 15,000 and the Whitewater Mines, Limited, 87,000 £1 shares, fully paid, Nos. 1 to 7 and, 38,0008 to 125,000; and 38,060 vendors' £1 shares, fully paid. Nos. 8' to 38,007.

UNITED ACTION REQUIRED.

From all avenues of information, it is apparent the mining laws of the past and present of this country have proved in many essentials unsatisfactory to the mine owners as well as the operatives. If this country is to improve, as nature designed it to improve, there is much to be reformed in these respects. All restrictions on labor must be removed, and encouragement afforded by legislation for the investment of capital; and every effort must be put forth to harmonize the united employment of both.

There is no doubting the fact that the 120,000 people of the province can be increased five fold in the next ten years, if our natural resources are taken hold of as circumstances fully warrant by capital and labor. Heretofore our mining laws and regulations were the outcome of the suggestions of officials and interested parties instead of the interested masses. It appears to us there should be a provincial association of practical miners, mine owners and capitalists, to direct our mining laws from time to time, for they will require variation as conditions affecting our mining from within as well as without vary and change.

A short time ago Mr. Carlyle, perhaps one of the most proficient theoretical men in the country, suggested changes in our legislation, and they were speedily disapproved of by practical operatives. Capitalists again would offer suggestions that would not be fully endorsed by operatives, and the latter would not be likely to suggest legislation that would be regarded as faultless by mine owners.

A parliamentary representative from one district, on the other, hand has suggestions put into his mouth by one class of one section of the country only, to be considered imperfect by another class in a different section of the country, and so it will go on until representatives of all classes in every district are brought face to face in convention, and the best suggestions of all are crystallized into legislative form. It appears to us such a convention cannot be organized and convened too soon. The province has within its boundaries the elements of untold wealth, and all that is required to produce it on the surface is the confidence of capital and the harmonious and contented operation of labor. No one statesman, no matter how clever he may be, can see the intricacies of success, or want of success of all classes whose interest is required to bring about the desired results. It is only by the joint action of all the desired ends can be accomplished.

PARTY POLITICS.

We are sorry to see the efforts some papers, most of them Liberals, are making at this juncture to introduce Federal politics into our provincial Legislature. This is regretable for two very strong reasons: First, because there is no necessity for them as they can serve no useful end, and secondly because their introduction would take many of the newly elected members at a disadvantage. In the contest just ended, the only question before the electors was, Shall or shall not the Turner government as it stands be continued in office? For the NEW House now altogether unexpectedly to be confronted with the introduction of party politics, would, we repeat, be taking it at a disadvantage. In the contest just closed many Liberal electors voted for Conservative members and many Conservative electors for Liberal members on the distinct understanding, at least impliedly, that politics were not, and would not be, involved. To spring them now would, of course, force every newly elected member to take sides with his party, and thus deceive to some extent, at least, many electors in his constituency. If party politics are decided on, let it be made an issue at the polls, to test public opinion, and not an issue in the House where public opinion cannot reach. This, at least, is our view of the matter.

SHOULD CALL MR. TURNER OFF.

Victoria, July 15.—Hon. D. W. Higgins, who is acknowledged to be the best informed man on parliamentary law in Canada, expresses the opinion that the Lieutenant-Governor should refuse to sanction the payment of special warrants or confirm appointments made since the 9th inst. He should also, Mr. Higgins contends, demand that negotiations for the issue of the $5,000,000 loan should be suspended, and a cable sent to London to that effect at once.

Whoever says that Higgins is a better parliamentary authority than Bourinot is, as Lord Dundreary would say, "an ath."

The lieut-governor is not supposed to be a politician; and, therefore, until a vote is taken in the House has no means of knowing whether or not Turner has been beaten. As he is in ignorance of the fact, there is one stand he is justifiable in taking, that is not sanctioning appointments that public service does not pressingly call for. If it is shown that the country will not suffer by a delay in negotiating the $5,000,000 loan, he could urge the suspension of negotiations for the cash. We like to see fair play to even a defeated government. There are plenty of precedents for what we say above.

To build or speculate on the outcome of the recent elections is yet premature. In any event, though they know they were beaten at the polls, the government are not compelled to resign until defeated in the House, on its assembly at the regular time in February or March next. In the interval some protests will doubtless take place that may change the present complexion of the legislature. The premier too has a portfolio, and perhaps two, to offer that may be accepted by members of the opposition in safe constituencies, so it is apparent a guess at the outcome is only one of indefiniteness. The results of the polling, however, show unmistakably that the people are opposed to the present methods of doing business. The cost of running the machine at Victoria is out of all reason; the railway policy has been most wasteful of the public money and domain. As a consequence of these things too little of the public money has been returned to the people in roads, bridges and such local improvements. The new government must make the necessary changes in these directions, if they would secure the confidence of the electorate.

The Ledge says:

"The defeat of the Turner government has been a surprise to many, but it cannot be said that the people have acted unwisely. In many respects the government has shown too little consideration for the needs of various sections of the province. It was easily seen many months ago that the Turner government was not giving entire satisfaction."

This is paving the way to support whatever new government may be formed for the loaves and fishes that follow. "No matter what king reigns, Lowry is bound to be the "Vicar of of Bray."

How many papers are there in the province to-day that would give a few dollars to blot out their record of the past six weeks, so that they might support the incoming government without swallowing themselves in a few issues?

The Canning Industry in Alaska.

E. B. Pond, an ex-mayor of San Francisco, returned from the north yesterday on the steamer City of Topeka. His trip to Alaska was made in the interest of the Alaska packing association, of which he is a director and a large stockholder. He visited all the Lynn canal ports while in Alaska, and inspected a number of the 20 canneries operated by the Alaskan Packing company. To a reporter yesterday he said:

"The Alaska Packing Association, which about controls the Alaska canneries, has 20 of these plants, and 16 of them are now in operation. The annual output each year varies from 450,000 to 800,000 cases, but it would be a hard matter to estimate the quantity of fish that will be canned this year. We are also establishing a number of new hatcheries, and are making other improvements. The work of canning has already commenced, and will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. I can truthfully say that the prospects for a favorable canning business in Alaska this year are good."

Like many visitors from Alaska, Mr. Pond observed the country closely, and said regarding his observations:

"The country is, as every person knows, wild and rugged, and like all new countries, patience and energy are required on the part of the people who go there. Many men are stranded, and they very naturally feel unkindly toward Alaska. I also understand that many people are stranded at Cook Inlet. Many are now pushing their way through to the Klondyke over the Dyea and Skagway trails, and while I was there I witnessed the departure of many of them.

A SONG OF THE EVERYDAYS.

Come, sing me a song in the tongue I know.
I am tired of the stilted strain,
The worn old rut where the fancies strut
In a meaningless, tangled chain.
I am weary of flights with the far off gods,
That only the wise may praise.
I want the mirth and the tears of earth,
A song of the everydays.

A song to lighten the lives of those Whom labor has called its own,
A note to beat as an echo sweet
Of the world that each has known,
A breeze from the mountain's craggy peak,
A whiff from the woodland ways,
A flock of foam from the beach at home,
A song of the everydays.

A blossom plucked from the hawthorn hedge,
A leaf from the bough above,
A ribbon rare or a tress of hair,
A kiss from the lips of love.
A mother's step on a chamber floor,
The catch of a childish phrase,
A grass grown sod and a prayer to God,
A song of the everydays.

Oh, sing me a song of the fields and hills,
A song of the sea and land,
That shall ring again in the hearts of men
And the least shall understand.
No hint of the scholar's classic lore
Or the cynic's bitter lays,
But a song to rest in a peasant's breast—
A song of the everydays.

—Joe Lincoln in L. A. W. Bulletin.

A SIGNATURE.

It was about 15 days ago, at the country home of Brignac, on one of those exquisite afternoons when, although one shivers at the thought of the approaching autumn, the sun throws here and there mild though already pale rays.

While awaiting the hour for taking up the nets in the pretty bend of the Marne, a river which loiters indolently along the meadows, winding like a great silver snake, we were talking on the wide veranda, which was filled with the heavy, intoxicating odor of heliotropes.

A charming man is Brignac. Formerly an officer in the light cavalry, he is a man of majestic ghost, large face, a trifle too flushed, with an immense white beard and square features. Born at that period when the empire was at its height, he had taken pleasure as it came to him, and it must be said that the advent of the republic seemed to him an insufficient reason for renouncing the pleasures of this world. He amused himself under M. Thiers, under MacMahon and even under M. Grevy. It was only seven years ago that the gout thought best to interfere. Brignac was then—but why disclose the age of a gallant man whose friendship is true and whose cook is without equal? He was advised to try the baths. It was there, near a spring, whence bubbled up a hot liquid which smelled like a bad egg, that he met a young English girl, straight and slender as a pretty bamboo stalk. He had still a gallant air and quite a fortune, she very little. The next winter the pretty English woman married the former cavalry officer. They have one child. They are happy.

Only, Brignac has aged a great deal and has become horribly serious. He is a good comrade for me. He gave me when I was very young that practical advice which is never forgotten, and I am happy from time to time to be with him—for an hour or two.

While talking, as we passed by a little room opening on the conservatory, I saw in the corner of the room, soberly seated before a table, my host's son, Gaston, a pretty, dark child. He had let his pen roll across the table, and with a glance that seemed to me full of melancholy he followed the rustling flight of the swallows that were skimming close to the lawn, flying through the swarms of gnats.

On such a beautiful day, in this room, which, in contrast to the sunny veranda, seemed more gloomy than a dungeon in the palace of the doges, the sight of this child prisoner gave me pain, and I could not refrain from saying to my friend:

"How have you the heart to shut up this child at such a time?" And Brignac answered:

"My dear friend, when he knows how to write I will leave him alone, for he is not yet 5 years old and very intelligent; but he must learn to write, and write well, I mean."

"That is without doubt because your own handwriting is like cat scratches."

"That might indeed be a reason. We should endeavor to help our children to avoid such of our faults as have troubled us in our own career—and besides"—

"My dear Brignac, I do not know whether it is because you live too much in the country, but it seems to me that you are becoming very much of a Prudhomme."

He interrupted me with some spirit:

"Perhaps I am like Prudhomme. Prudhomme was an individual who paddled his own canoe very well; besides— Do you wish me to tell you why I am so anxious that my little scamp should write well?

"It is a story of that time when you would not have called me Prudhomme. It was a long time ago, in 1863. At that time Baden-Baden was Baden-Baden, and Monte Carlo nothing but a little fishing village. Every one who was in the swim or considered himself so hurried to Baden-Baden as soon as July came around. At that time the clubrooms were empty—not more so than now, during the week of the races at Deauville. That year I had remained at Paris, where, in my little suit on a ground floor in the Rue Taitbout, I had not been so frightfully dull, when one morning a letter was brought to me. The letter was a demand for money—not one of those vulgar, begging letters, heaping upon one recitals of ill luck, swearing eternal gratitude and everlasting devotion. No, it was short and to the point, without any beating about the bush.

"'I have not a single sou. Send me immediately 1,000 francs that I may pay my hotel bill and return to France to enlist.'

"This letter, horribly scrawled, was dated from Baden-Baden. As to the signature, it was impossible to read it.

"I made every attempt, examining it letter by letter, searching among my papers for the name of the person who could have been guilty of this vile sorawl. It was absolutely impossible to discover any clew which would put me on the right track. At Baden-Baden? I had 300 friends at Baden-Baden. But this unlucky name—still, I must find out what it was. For two days I did nothing but turn it over in my mind, seeking the solution, giving every one whom I met this signature to decipher. Absolutely useless. Each person gave a different opinion.

"You can imagine into what a fever this had thrown me. At the time I was full of a great many notions. I imagined that to refuse money to a friend was meanness. We are all simpletons when young. But what caused me the greatest annoyance was the thought that perhaps this note was from some one for whom I entertained a real friendship.

"I telegraphed to 10 or 12 intimate friends. None was the author of the note. Then I betook myself to experts in chirography. One said the name was Casernier—had no doubt of it, was willing to swear to it. The second said that he challenged any one to read the name otherwise than Sutinais and was willing to swear to that name, and finally a third declared it was not a name at all, but a word. In his opinion it was 'Civilities.'

"Sutinais and Casernier were alike unknown to me. I turned over the club directories. I again reviewed my book of addresses, name by name. Nothing. I could discover nothing. I was almost crazy, you may imagine, and I had even lost sight, to some extent, of the original reason for all this trouble, thinking loss now of obliging a friend than of discovering this name so carefully concealed.

"On the third day an inspiration came to me, so simple that it had occurred to me only after all the other attempts had failed. I wrote to Baden-Baden for a list of the Frenchmen staying at the hotel of the unfortunate scribbler. I would need only to write to all whom I knew in the place. This calmed me. And, in truth, I needed it, for I had conceived an inexplicable rage against all this, as if something mysterious and fatal pursued me.

"I retired early on the evening of the third day and soon fell asleep.

"I ought to tell you that I then had—I still have, in fact—the habit of using a night lamp. I cannot bear to feel myself in total darkness for an instant.

"That night—it is truly a singular thing, and I have never been able to think of it without a strange sensation—that night I was awakened by a sharp crackling sound in the great silence. I have never known what that noise was—doubtless the night lamp going out, for it was perfectly dark. At first a feeling of awful anguish oppressed me, a feeling I always have when in the dark, and before I had time to fully awaken I heard—yes, my friend, I actually heard—the effect of nervousness, you say?—it matters not—I heard a voice, which whispered very low, 'Jacques Lorminier.'

"A cold shiver ran through my whole body, though I saw no reason for it. In a second I had risen, lighted a candle and reread the letter from Baden-Baden. Why had I not deciphered it before? It was perfectly plain.

"Lorminier was a refined boy, obliging, but a little wild, whom I had loved much when we were young together, soon lost from sight, then found again in those momentary encounters where a rapid clasp of the hand and an earnest 'Do you remember?' is all, and then separation, perhaps for years.

"Poor Jacques! That is what we always called him at the school of St. Cyr.

"He should certainly have had his 1,000 francs.

"I looked at the clock. It was past midnight. Nothing could be done until morning. Immediately I wrote a letter to Baden-Baden, excusing myself, explaining all. I placed the money in it and sealed it. And while I did this I remembered that the whisper which I had heard erewhile was exactly like the voice of Jacques when deeply moved.

"How strange is the work of memory in our brains, I said to myself, and how was it possible for me to recall at the same time and while yet asleep the name and the voice of 'poor Jacques.'

"Then I went back to bed again, satisfied and calm. I did not dream any more of the whispering voice in the blackness of my silent chamber. No, indeed. I thought no more of it until two days later, when I received a dispatch from Baden-Baden. My registered letter had been remailed to me.

"'Poor Jacques' had killed himself at midnight two days before, at the moment when my sleep was interrupted by a sharp crack—that sharp crack like the report of a pistol."

Brignac coughed slightly to clear his throat.

"I positively insist that my child shall write a legible hand," he said, with a sad smile.—From the French For Short Stories.

Seth Bryant.

Seth Bryant, who has just died at his home in Ashmont, Mass., at the age of 97 years, was the oldest and best known Democrat in Massachusetts, having been a delegate to all the recent conventions of the party. "He loved," says the Springfield Republican, "to occupy a front seat on the platform and with his silver ear trumpet turned toward each speaker eagerly absorb the party doctrines upon which he had acted since Jackson's time. During the war he did a large business with the government and first suggested that each manufacturer be compelled to put his name on all shoes sold to the government."—New York Tribune.

It is undoubtedly a fact that our grandmothers, the pioneer women of the country, led more laborious lives than the housewives of to-day. In spite of this fact, they bore their husbands healthy, robust sons and daughters, and did not become weak, complaining invalids as a consequence.

There are probably several reasons for this. One is, that they lived more in the open air, and another, and probably the most influential of all, is that they were less prudish than the women of to-day. They were not ashamed to know something of their own physical make-up. They were not too nice to take care of their health in a womanly way. Women now-a-days suffer untold tortures in silence, because of weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism, rather than consult a physician, or even talk upon the subject to their own husbands. They imagine that troubles of this description can only be cured by undergoing the disgusting examinations and local treatment insisted upon by the average modern physician. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures all diseases peculiar to women in the privacy of their own homes. It does away with the necessity for examinations and local treatment. It acts directly on the important organs concerned, making them strong, healthy and vigorous. It fits for wifehood and the burdens of household duties. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It banishes the discomforts of the time of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. Thousands have testified to its merits.

A PECULIAR PROPERTY.

One of the most interesting mining problems to be found anywhere in British Columbia is now in process of solution by G. W. De Beck of Vancouver. The property which constitutes the problem is located in the Fire Mountain district near Skookum chuck. It is about two miles from the Indian reserve and on the opposite side of the river from the old Cariboo road. About 900 feet above the level of the river is a round hill which appears to have been subjected to volcanic action at some stage of its formation. The burnt and crystalled quartz and other material which form the hill all show abundant evidences of igneous action. The formation around the hill is broken and masses of altered diorite serpentine and porphyry are encountered. Through those run streaks of quartz in most instances apparently making directly toward the hill first mentioned. Work was begun by running a tunnel in on one of these streaks. Though the walls are about three feet apart the actual pay streak is very narrow. Some of this is however, rich, beyond belief. Samples have been brought to Vancouver that are fairly frosted over and all through with fine gold. Assays running as high as $40,000 per ton have been secured from this rock. The tunnel is now in about 70 feet and another 75 feet yet remain before the main chimney will be broken into. Meantime more surprises have been encountered. Rock containing masses of native silver has been taken out. Some show native gold and silver in a highly crytalline form, each separate and distinct, sprinkled through the rock. Again along one of the ribbons there is found a leaf of solid gold from 1-16 to 1-32 of an inch thick. Considerable sheets of this have been encountered. Some of the vein matter contains from pyrites, copper pyrites, tellurides and other minerals. The whole forms one of the most unique mineral formations ever encountered in British Columbia. There are six claims in all in the group. These are the Woodstock, Bluebell, Bonnie Scotland, Carleton, Skookum and Mohawk. So far five leads, outside of the peculiar one first noted, have been discovered. These run from trates up to as high as $88 per ton in gold and have been averaged at $14 per ton in free milling values. A company called the Del Ecuador has been formed with a capitalization of $500,000 for the purpose of handling the claims. Great things are expected when the tunnel now being run cuts the main chimney.

South Pole Expedition.

The Royal Geographical society and explorers generally have been much disappointed by Lord Salisbury's refusal to supply government aid to the expedition in search of the south pole. In the face of this decision, the geographical society has determined to raise $250,000 by subscription for the purpose of supplying the needed funds. The sum of $25,000 from friends of the society has already been received; also a private offer of $50,000 more and $25,000 additional is available in Australia by the bequest of the late Thos. Elder. It is proposed to send a specially equipped steamer in June next and one of the purposes of the expedition will be to land a sledge party on Victoria Land, which will endeavor to penetrate the interior as far as possible and seek to locate the south magnetic pole.

In Trouble.

The Alki Gold Mining company is in trouble over the title to its property, the Iron Horse fraction, otherwise known as the Alki, near the Georgia and north of the Iron Horse. The property was located as the Iron Horse fraction, but the company informally changed the name to the Alki. Some time since a certificate of work was applied for and secured for the claim under the name of the Alki, but as no such location was extant on the books of the recorder's office the certificate was not valid, and the property became subject to relocation. T. P. O'Farrell, who claims an account from the company for services rendered, promptly relocated the property under the name of the Alki, and now declares that he intends to hold the property until the company settles with him to the amount which he says is due for his services. The company on its part has filed a notice with the mining recorder, setting forth that its certificate for the Alki instead of for the Iron Horse fraction was secured in good faith and expresses its wish to have its title to the ground confirmed.

If you value health, youthful and nice appearance do not stand back, but investigate for yourself, as no charges are made for full illustration. Remember Grand View hotel, Brandon.

Attracting Attention This Way.

Straws, it is proverbially stated, show which way the wind blows, and it is therefore interesting to note as indicating the considerable attention now being accorded to British Columbia mining affairs abroad, the space devoted in leading European and American journals and publications to articles descriptive of the provincial mines and camps. In the Engineering and Mining Journal, of New York, Mr. W. M. Brewer, who is also a valued contributor to the Mining Record, is writing a series of admirable articles on this subject, and in the London Mining Journal in addition to regularly publishing letters from its well-informed Vancouver correspondent, hardly allows a week to pass without commenting in a favorable strain upon the province's mining possibilities. These two journals are the most influential authorities on mining in respectively the old and the new world, and the opinions they advance are invariably received in the highest quarters with respect. Another journal that is doing good work for the Province in England is the British Columbia Review, which has now been in existance rather more than a year.

Suffered ten years from weak heart action and nervousness.

Cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

No trade or profession is exempt from disease or derangement of the heart and nerves. The pressure of work and the mental worry are bound to produce serious consequences sooner or later.

Mr. Donald Campbell, the well-known carriage maker of Harriston, Ont., said: "I have been troubled off and on for ten years with weak action of my heart and nervousness. Frequently my heart would palpitate and flutter with great violence, alarming me exceedingly. Often I had sharp pains in my heart and could not sleep well at night. I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and from them derived almost immediate benefit. They restored vigor to my nerves and strengthened my entire system, removing every symptom of nerve or heart trouble, and enabling me to get restful, healthy sleep."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure palpitation, throbbing, dizzy and faint spells, nervousness, sleeplessness, weakness, female troubles, after effects of grippe, etc. Price 50c. a box or 3 for $1.25, at all druggists. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ont.

Rosebery Townsite.

The many advantages enjoyed by Rosebery put before the public, CLAIMED WITHOUT OPPOSITION.

Its Advantages as a Distributing Center.

Rosebery is the only town in Kootenay having both railroad and steamboat connection that can ship goods daily to ten different towns, whereby the shipper can see his wares leave his hands and that they will be received by the consignee within two hours.

Its Advantages as a Railroad Center.

Rosebery enjoys the position of king of the funnell as it were, for the railroad business of the whole of the Kootenays. All ore and matter for shipment from Nelson, Trail Creek and the Slocan must, and is now passing out this way to the main line of the C. P. R., as well as all goods coming in from Revelstoke to the Kootenay country.

NOTE. To substantiate this: The C. P. R. are now putting in track weigh scales at Rosebery, the first and only scales that has been put in on any of the C. P. R. branches in Kootenay—which goes to show the importance of this point by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's actions.

Its Advantages as a Steamboat Point.

Rosebery claims, without opposition, of being the only junction on the lake, unlike Slocan City, where you can step off the steamer to a waiting train and continue your journey. You can take either a north or south train at this terminus; consequently Rosebery is the best transient town in the race. Nevertheless we claim Slocan City second in importance, and would say watch the head and foot of Slocan Lake, viz.—

ROSEBERY AND SLOCAN CITY.

Its Advantages as a Manufacturing Center.

As a manufacturing center Rosebery claims to have demonstrated the fact that after the careful observation of the Denver (Colorado) Ore Coy's manager, as the natural advantages of all points in Kootenay for the treatment of ores the cheapest, Rosebery was selected, and they now are erecting works, with a capacity of 250 tons per day, which will be in operation within 90 days; and it is their intention to pay out monthly in the vicinity of $100,000. I might also add Rosebery has the largest water power from Wilson river flowing into Slocan Lake.

AS TO CLIMATE.

Rosebery claims the mildest climate on Slocan Lake, from its admirable southern exposure and absolute shelter from the north; snow always leaves the place about the 15th of March.

AS A TOWNSITE.

As a townsite, Rosebery is without a peer. It is possessed of all the flat land available at the mouth of the Wilson river leading to the valley—mining region—consequently there is no danger of any contagion. The title is a Crown Grant and is perfect. All purchasers of lots are safe in this respect. The only safe speculative townsite in the Slocan is Rosebery.

Why should I say the only safe speculative townsite in the Slocan? Because Rosebery business lots to-day are only $150 to $200 each and are bound to increase rapidly this summer. These figures can, and will, double before long. The time to buy is now. Don't wait till they are from $700 to $1,000, as you did in Slocan City last May, go in on the ground floor and make a few dollars in speculation; if you want to invest go to Vancouver or Winnipeg; if you want to speculate and and clean up money go quick to Rosebery before lots are out of sight.

What's Wanted in Rosebery.

We want a restaurant.
We want a good hotel right away.
We want a first-class general store.
We want a butcher shop.

Anyone looking for an opening spy out this place at once.

Maps and price-lists on application; prices run from $75 to $200.

TERMS: One-third cash, balance 3 and 6 months. For actual builders special terms can be arranged for a few lots by applying to

A. M. BEATTIE, General Agent, Rosebery.

P. Burns' wagon and W. Walmsley's express collided Wednesday, the express coming out minus the front gear.

The Queen Bess wagon road is now under way. J. Hirsh, foreman of the work, will push it through as rapidly as possible.

Mrs. McKinnon has taken over the cafe of the Clifton house and is running it in first-class style. You can always get a square meal at the Clifton.

We are advised that Murray Byers has not taken over the management of H. Byers' business here; but that it is to be continued on as for some time past.

A reliable estimate places the number of British investors interested in British Columbia mines at 15,000 to 20,000, and their investments at $50,000,000.

"Patsy" Carney, of Kaslo, as they call him, must have stirred up a wasp's nest in different parts of the riding, from the way some papers piled into him.

Mr. M. L. Grimmett is excavating preparatory to erecting a residence just east of the school house. We may now expect to hear progress reported at any time.

Ladies, take the best. If you are troubled with constipation, sallow skin, and a tired feeling, take Karl's Clover Tea. It is pleasant to take. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

Karl's Clover Root Tea is a pleasant laxative. Regulates the bowels, purifies the blood. Clears the complexion. Easy to take and pleasant to take. 25 cts. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

It is said there are 17 Liberals and 19 Conservatives in the new Provincial House. Fifteen of the opposition members elected are said to be Liberals and the remaining four—Messrs. Tisdale, Cotton, Semlin and Green, Conservatives.

Slocan City News: "Robert F. Green is one of the nicest and most gentlemanly men we ever met, and it is our candid opinion that he will make an ideal legislator." And still the News pleads consistency in trying to defeat an "ideal legislator."

Fred Carlisle, of Springer creek, was treed by a bear the other day, after he had fired two pistol shots at the animal. His bearship waited a long time for Zacheus to come down but when he would not the bear got disgusted and walked away.

One of Mr. Melvin's dogs committed suicide on Saturday last, or at least some spectators thought so. As an engine was approaching the depot he walked up to it deliberately until it ran over him and bisected him. He was evidently tired of "faith, hope and charity."

At a conference held in New York between George F. Considine and W. B. Gray, representing respectively J. J. Corbett and Kid McCoy arrangements were made for a meeting of their principals at Buffalo, Sept. 10, in a twenty-round bout. It is agreed by both parties that "Honest" John Kelly will be referee.

C. E. Bade, plumber, who has been for some time on the coast on a visit, is back again and at work for Mr. Harris. He says arrivals from the Klondyke have created a little stir. The war has injured business on the American coast. B. C. towns generally are quiet, few, if any, of them as active as Sandon.

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church are giving a social on the evening of Aug. 2nd. Special attractions are to be a feature of the evening's entertainment, among which will be a Gipsy tent. Recitations and musical selections will be given. Cake, Hazlewood ice-cream, home-made candy, etc. are to be served. The public are invited. Admission free.

Mr. B. C. Riblet is surveying right of way for an aerial tram for the Last Chance mine, to strike the Cody branch of the K. & S. near Greentree. When it is completed, the Ajax, on the line, will most likely use it for the transport of their ore to the railway. Everything is now tending to lessen the cost of mining in this country, which will greatly increase the output.

Allan Bayne, the miner, whose leg was badly smashed at the Reco mine some two or three weeks ago, has not been doing as well as many would desire, consequently Dr. Brouse, of New Denver, was brought in on Wednesday. The patient was put under treatment by the doctor and the two resident physicians, and is now considered in a fair way to recovery. His injuries were very bad.

The Slocan City News is weeping over the loss of the elections and, like Rachel of old, will not be comforted. It says Carney's fibbing about that Lardo-Duncan job had much to do in hoodwinking the electors. Oh, that Carney. But does it not occur to the News that if the people generally approved of the Turner government's policy even Carney's fibbing (?) would not shake their confidence.

The Lash-Hamilton Concert Co. gave entertainments here Wednesday and Thursday evenings under the auspices of the fire brigade. Miss Winslow handles the 'Cello with rare ability; Miss Hamilton recites in a taking style, though she is not an accomplished elocutionist; Miss Lash has a very rich, mellow mezzo-soprano voice, well cultivated, with a compass of quite two octaves. In style she much resembles Edith J. Miller, of Manitoba, now of New York. Altogether they gave an excellent entertainment deserving of much better houses than they had here.

The Palace has added to its "Zoo." a young cub, which was the "find" of a prospector.

If you're crazed with headache send for Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders, stop it in a minute. 10c. and 25., at all dealers.

The returning officer gives Mr. Green an even 100 majority. Even this will do, as Mr. Retallack would be satisfied with 10 per cent. of that number, if he only had it.

Dyspepsia cured. Shiloh's Vitalizer immediately relieves sour stomach, coming up of food distress, and is the great kidney and liver remedy. Sold at McQueen's Drug Store.

Mike Grady, killed a big cinnamon bear last Sunday, about one mile from Silverton on the old Vancouver trail. Mr. Grady is a most successful bear hunter and he owns the best pair of hunting dogs in the country, Buck and Silver.

Yesterday the Sandon baseball kids went over to New Denver and whollopped the kids there in a score of 14 to 2, and only one man out in the first innings. There is great noise in town over the event. The Sandon kids say they had to put up all "the shot" besides.

Engineer Walkem is in town this week laying out the C. P. R. yards, the difficulty between that Co. and the K. & S. being adjusted. While here they will likely lay out the spot for the passenger depot which is likely to be near Lane's stable, opposite Crawford's blacksmith shop, or near Harris' stable on Slocan Star street. A few days will tell the tale.

It is not at all unlikely that a portfolio will be offered to Mr. Green in the new cabinet, if he can see his way clear to accept it. If the position is offered and Mr. Green accepts, he will make a most capable and efficient minister. We think, however, that the first thing the new government should do is to give redistribution and hold a general election that the country may be properly represented in the House.

We were compelled reluctantly to decline an invitation from Nelson Martin to be present at the formal opening of the Whitewater hotel, at Whitewater, last evening. A special train left at 8 p.m. Everything was free except circus lemonade, and we have no doubt but that a most enjoyable evening was spent. We are fully convinced that Mr. Martin did everything in his power to make everyone at home.

The coast papers are again trying to boom the Klondyke, but it is only the wail of a dying man. Supposing that $15,000,000 of gold is got out there this year, it is scarcely more than $100 a piece for all who have gone to that country, and it will take from $5 to $10 a day to keep them while there. Considering everything there has been ten times as much money sunk by Klondykers as they will ever take out of it, to say nothing of the fearful loss of life by accident, cold and privation. In its disasters, it is little short of the celebrated Darian expedition conceived by Banker Patterson many years ago.

Among the exchanges of the Kootenaian is the Sub-Peninsula, a paper published in St. Petersburg, Florida. In its issue of July 7, describing the event of 4th of July celebration in that place, it says: "The magnificent flag presented by Capt. Tomlinson was furled man-of-war style and lashed with the halyard directly over the stand. At this juncture the editor of the Sub-Peninsula stepped upon the platform and tendered the flag in the following words: 'Fellow citizens! In behalf of a gentleman whose generosity is equalled only by his modesty, and whose loyal devotion to his country is only equalled by his devotion to his fellow men, I tender the gift of Capt. E. H. Tomlinson to the town of St. Petersburg.'" The Captain has extensive mining interests in these parts, and spends his time between his native place and his mining claims.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Bruce White was at Nelson last week.

The Misses Hammond, of Slocan City, are visitors in town.

Mr. Green, the member elect, is expected to visit the city in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Bade have returned to the city after a lengthy visit on the coast.

W. B. Honeyman, of the Nelson Foundry company, was in the city, Thursday.

Mr. Ed. Seal, of Spokane, is spending his holidays with his sister, Mrs. W. W. Fallows.

Mrs. McKinnon's two daughters, who have been attending the convent at Calgary, arrived in town this week.

Rev A. M. and Mrs. Sanford went to New Denver this morning, where Mr. Sanford will take the Sunday services in the Methodist church.

Before locating permanently at Rossland, Mr. Anderson, of the Bank of B. N. A., will relieve the agents at Katlo and Slocan City, giving them a holiday.

Mr. E. R. Athey, who has been for some time connected with the Reco mine, left on Thursday to join some friends at San Francisco who are touring the country.

Dr. Gomm, has returned to the city to take up his residence here permanently. Mrs. Gomm has gone to visit with her parents in California, after her wedding trip, preparatory to taking up her residence here also. The Doctor looks quite as young as when he left here, some five months ago, showing that married life agrees with him.

A stampede will take place from the Bank of B. N. A. in a few days. Mr. Anderson, the manager, goes to Rossland to take charge of the business there; Mr. Winter, who has been in the agency here since it first opened its doors, goes to Victoria, and Mr. Haney goes into a law office in Vancouver. They are all three very popular gentlemen and all Sandonites will be glad to hear of their success in their fields new of labor.

Kidney Trouble FOR YEARS.

Nothing did Mr. R. E. Pitt any good until he got Doan's Kidney Pills.

Throughout the County of Leeds and the Town of Brockville there is no medicine spoken so highly of for all kinds of Kidney Diseases as Doan's Kidney Pills. As Canada's pioneer kidney pill, introduced by Mr. James Doan, of Kingsville, Ont., in 1885, they stand to-day far superior to all the imitations and substitutes that have been offered the public in their stead.

Mr. R. E. Pitt, the well-known contractor and builder, voices these sentiments when he says, "I have had kidney trouble for years. I had tried numerous remedies without much relief, and had given up my back as gone for good, but since using Doan's Kidney Pills the result has been marvellous! The pain is all gone. I feel like a new man, and can highly testify to the virtues of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers or sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents a box or 3 boxes for $1.25. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.
