Concern expressed . . .

Municipalities threatened as Hydro ignores authority

FLAGRANT example of presently approved double standards was brought to light recently with a letter to both councils and regional board from the North Quadra Land Use Protection Association of Saanich near Victoria.

Explaining that the association represents a group of home owners in the municipality of Saanich, the letter brought to the attention of local authorities a situation which virtually threatens powers of all municipalities in the province. It states:

Three years ago Saanich council refused after public hearing to allow B.C. Hydro to construct a "Service Centre" and equipment yard to our residentially-zoned neighborhood.

Recently, however, B.C. Hydro purchased, through an undisclosed intermediary, a large acreage in this area, and has begun to remove the buildings therefrom and intends to proceed with its original plans as forbidden by the Saanich council who, incidentally, were ready to approve an alternative, convenient site in an area already zoned for industrial purposes.

It will be clear to you, we believe, that this action, over-riding the decision of the council and destroying its guarantee of residential security to the owners who built their homes in good faith, strikes at the root of all existing municipal authority and, as a fatal precedent, undermines all zoning regulations. If B.C. Hydro, or other agents of the Provincial Government, can abrogate municipal by-laws at will, no municipality will be safe from such invasion and no home owner protected from the devaluation of his property.

We, therefore, respectfully request that your council resolve that Crown corporations be required, like private corporations, to comply with municipal zoning regulations.

We trust that your views will be conveyed without undue delay to the Provincial Government before a grave blow is struck at the rights of every British Columbia municipality.

When discussed at a recent meeting of Gibsons council it was disclosed that B.C. Hydro has expanded its premises in the village and while council was so notified, no application for a permit or approval was ever made. As a consequence, council has written the Department of Municipal Affairs seeking clarification as to rights of the Hydro Authority to ignore local bylaws.

Further discussion at the last meeting of the regional board brought forth comment by building inspector Fred Reaburn to the affect that at Burnaby, crown corporation or not, they have to take out a permit.

Mayor Wally Peterson suggested it might be best to await reply to council's request for a ruling on the matter before further action be taken.

Times First Glance

NEW CLASSROOM

Official opening of the special classroom for retarded children is scheduled for official opening September 27th at 1 p.m. Letter from the Retarded Children's Association extended an invitation to councils to attend. In Gibsons, Mayor Wally Peterson agreed to represent council.

OPEN LETTER

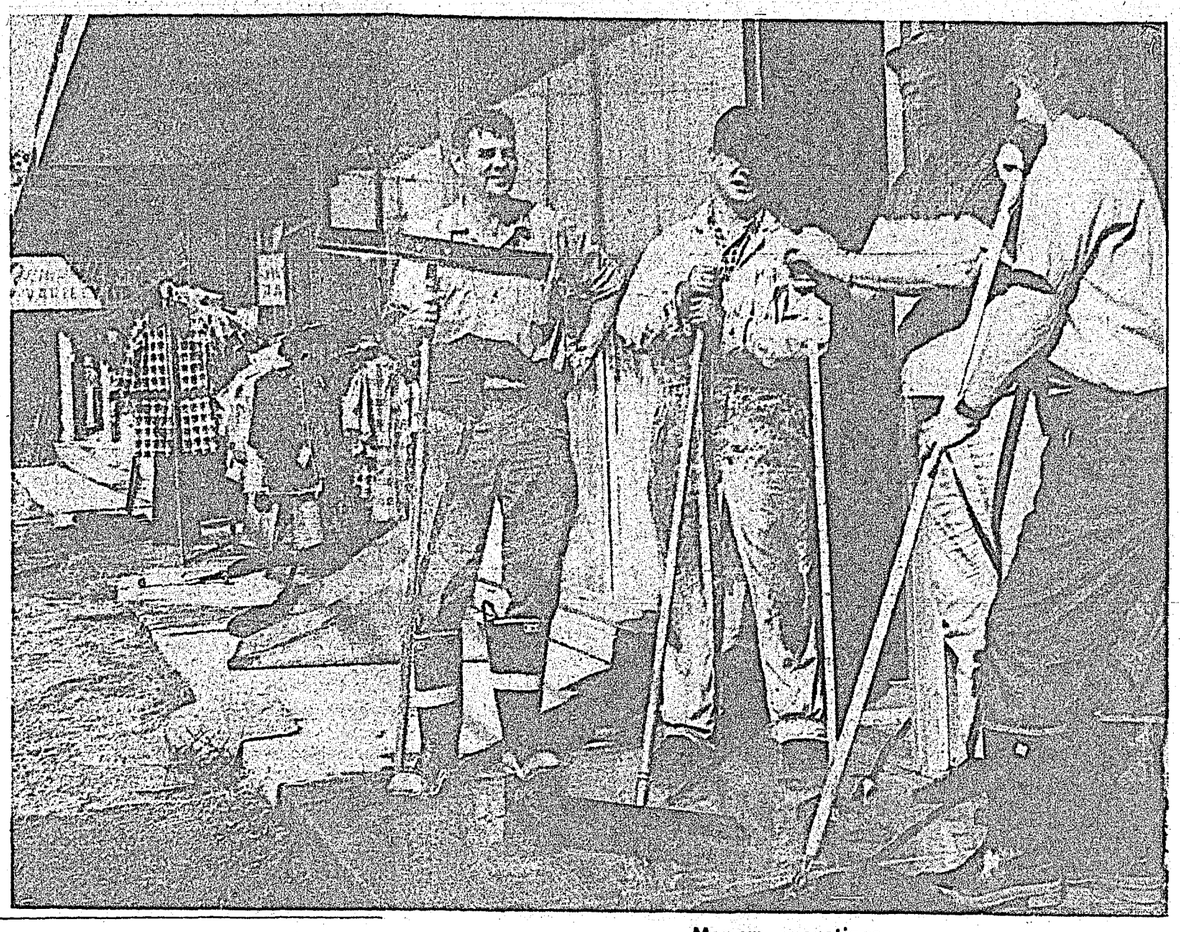
Copy of a letter sent to Premier W. A. C. Bennett protesting conditions of the ferries was published in last week's Times request of the writer, but unfortunately the press men appeared to miss out the signature, which caused further upset. Therefore to rectify the situation, we hope, the letter was signed "Mrs. Dorothy Greene."

ROD & GUN

Sechelt Rod and Gun Club has scheduled its first meeting of the season for Thursday September 10th at 8 p.m. in the Club House. It is hoed to start shortly the Hunter Training program. Juniors on Sunday evenings, Ladies on Monday evenings and Men on Thursdays.

IMPAIRED

Checked by the Pender Harbour RCMP marine boat crew, John Edward Slavin of Burnaby was subsequently charged with being impaired while operating a boat. Breathalyzer reading was .19. Appearing before Judge Pat Carey September 2nd he was fined $75.



Mop-up operations

Sudden and violent storm accompanied by thunder, lightening and massive hailstones last Thursday night appears to have been confined to the Sechelt area. Some stores on Cowrie Street looked a sorry mess next morning but volunteers were soon on the scene to help the lady operators. As may be seen, merchandise had to be moved out onto the sidewalk from Joan Hansen's Toggery Shop while mopping-up took place. Enthusiastic helpers are from left: Tommy Robilliard, Sam McKenzie, Bob Normington who finds retirement has its comebacks, and Neil Campbell.

Medical Clinic plans facing long run-round

INDICATIONS are that endeavors by the regional board to establish a medical clinic at Madeira Park are to get the interminable governmental run-round.

For some months letters have passed between the board and BCHIS in an attempt to get a copy of a brief submitted by another district which successfully obtained the go-ahead for a similar project. Suggestion that the board obtain and submit a brief on similar lines as the "Clearwater" brief was made during a visit to the area earlier this year by Health Minister Ralph Loffmark.

Following the inevitable departmental flim-flam, director Jim Tyner journeyed to Victoria and was able to pursuade the department to, reluctantly, provide him with a copy of a brief in question.

Registration night set for Sechelt Wolf Cubs

REGISTRATION Night for the Sechelt Wolf Cub Pack will be held on Monday, September 14th at 7.30 p.m. in St. Hilda's Church Hall, Sechelt.

Regional Bylaws . . . .

Double standards attacked rules for all states Mayor

ALDERMAN Norm Watson, also village representative on the regional board, was called upon at last meeting of Sechelt council to give a run-down on board policy regarding failure to include some of the islands within the district in zoning regulations. He was also questioned on policy regarding building inspection on near-by islands.

Regarding the new zoning bylaw, he explained that it will involve considerable work from an administrative point of view and, in fact, the board does not have the labour force or funds without additional grants from the provincial government.

Mayor Bill Swain expressed the view that if the regional board is to impose rules they should include the whole district or not at all. He added "I am not blaming any particular person but it does seem some can get away with things and others cannot. Either you have rules for everyone or the whole system is no good."

Ald. Watson, commenting on the exclusion of properties more than 1,500 feet from a highway or secondary road, explained that as far as he knew, this was a guideline arrived at some years ago in light of the fact it would be impossible for the building inspector to cover the entire area, particularly in some of the remote parts of the district.

Ald. George Flay asked why Trail Island should not be checked when it is considered the island has been subdivided with a road around it. Ald. Watson agreed that it is borderline but added "it is still not easy to get to, being cut off from the mainland". He also explained that while plans for a house submitted by one of the residents of Trail Island had been rejected, they were, in fact, excellent plans and had been turned down for resubmission on very small technical grounds.

Mayor Swain said he still feels there should be no two sets of rules. Ald. Watson, however, argued that in time the whole district will be covered but right now a start has been made and "half a loaf is better than none".

STOCKPILE

Ald. Watson reported that he had been informed by a local contractor that a substantial amount of fill would be available at 35c a yard should village council be interested. This price included delivery.

It was agreed that council does have a number of uses for such fill and at that price it would be more than acceptable. It was decided to purchase and stockpile until required.

Health Unit inactivity angers Village Aldermen

FAILURE by the health inspector to take action regarding a small structure used as a food outlet, allegedly lacking in plumbing facilities, was again the subject of discussion at last meeting of Sechelt council.

Alderman Joe Benner said that at a previous meeting it had been moved that a letter be sent the health unit drawing attention to the situation existing in the main shopping area on Cowrie Street. He wondered what response had transpired.

Clerk Ted Rayner said that no motion had been made, he was not present at that meeting but found a note awaiting him on the subject on his return from vacation. As a result he has himself contacted the health unit which, it appears, is looking into the matter.

Alderman George Flay said he understands another situation is developing in a house next to the food outlet. In this case he understands the yard and outbuilding is rented apart from the house. Further, an office building at the front of the house is to be rented separately from the living quarters. While there are no plumbing facilities in the office, it would be no problem should it be operated by the resident of the house. However, should it be let to another party, then it is hardly likely the householder will permit use of inside plumbing facilities. Thus, a second situation of a business without toilet or plumbing will exist.

The clerk said it would not be possible to refuse a business license on these grounds "we cannot discriminate in any way", he said. Ald. Watson agreed and suggested such a situation would be up to the health inspector.

Mayor Swain drew attention to the fact that the owners of the new shopping centre, under construction on Cowrie Street, were forced to comply with the building code in regards to toilets and plumbing, yet we have a real estate office with a building next to it now used for food sales without any such facilities. At the same time we have a howl going up about pollution and contamination and here we have it again, two different laws. On top of this, this latest information suggests possibility of a similar situation developing.

Ald. Watson said he does not consider the matter a problem "this sort of thing is covered under the Shops Act and comes under the Health Department", he added.

Mayor Swain suggested a letter be

Many odours . . .

Mayor questions protest inconsistency indicated

OBJECTION to use of incinerators within the village brought forth the comment by Mayor Wally Peterson that it seems strange to have people objecting to one stench yet protesting the fact that council is endeavoring to remove stench from ditches etc. by means of an expensive sewer system.

Objection by way of a letter from the secretary of an anti-pollution group supported establishment of an efficient garbage system on the Sunshine Coast but suggested action be taken to eliminate use of garden incinerators within the village.

Mayor Peterson added that it is equally strange the protesters appear to ignore some of the more predominent odours in the area.

Alderman Ken Goddard noted that there had been one or two complaints during the past months. He suggested council consider imposing a ban during summer months on use of incinerators.

Mayor Peterson pointed out that should council do this, the result would be, of necessity, a large burn-up at the dump periodically with the same consequences.

Council agreed and it was moved by Ald. Ken Crosby that the letter be acknowledged.

Copy of a letter sent to both newspapers by regional board director, Frank West, was given very brief consideration.

Ald Crosby said, "West has questioned what hydrants, if any, will be included in village plans for a new watermain down Pratt Road. I think we are well able to take care of that sort of thing". Mayor Peterson agreed and added, "Figures quoted in his letter would be worth considering if they were realistic. They are certainly not realistic and consequently not worthy of consideration".

Reporting on last meeting of the regional board, Mayor Peterson said the board has written to arrange a meeting with municipal affairs minister Dan Campbell and MLA Isabel Dawson. He said he is still unclear as to what will be the nature of the meeting but has no doubt time will tell. Further, he gathers from director West that the board can get the Pratt Road waterline installed at a lower price than the village "perhaps we should get them to do ours", he added.

Ald. Goddard reported that the health unit plans a programme of measles vaccine and is seeking assistance from council. It is expected to include all the Coast Garibaldi Health Unit area. Some of the funds required will come from Victoria but more is needed. Grant from council of Powell River is anticipated and, said Ald. Goddard, it is hoped to start with pre-schoolers.

Administrator Dave Johnston added that the Kinsmen clubs are also raising funds for the scheme but will all go into a central fund.

On a suggestion by Ald. Goddard it was agreed a grant of $100 be made toward the scheme.

Weigh-in

Miss Tina Gower who spends her weekends and holidays at Selma Beach with her family was a very capable "Weigh-in Boss" as shown by the neatly arranged and carefully tagged salmon which varied in weight from an 11 oz grilse to the trophy winning 7 lb 8 oz fish which Tina is holding. The annual derby took place on Sunday with 62 fishermen on the salmon trail.

BC Hydro seeks assistance against gun-happy vandals

LONG awaited opening of the hunting season makes this the happiest time of the year for many hunters and other sportsmen.

But there are farmers, ranchers, lumbermen and hydro line crews who wouldn't agree. To them hunting season can mean broken fences and slaughtered livestock, bullet damage to logging and road building equipment, power interruptions and black-outs resulting from shot-up insulators and powerlines.

All because a few vandals with rifles refuse to respect other people's rights and property.

A bullet that shatters an insulator on a high tension powerline can plunge a whole community into darkness. Electric light, heat and power cease to exist. Homes and stores, business and industry, even vital hospital services, all are affected. Every resident suffers needless inconvenience. Some, often the aged and the sick, may endure very real hardship if many hours are required to locate and repair the damage.

P. A. Hoare, B.C. Hydro's chief security officer, asks the aid of all responsible hunters and sportsmen's groups in putting an end to senseless and dangerous vandalism of this kind.

"Most hunters are good and responsible citizens," Mr. Hoare says. "So it seems a shame that the reputation of hunters as a whole should be damaged by the actions of an irresponsible few. I think good hunters and good citizens owe it to themselves to protect their good name, and help put an end to this kind of wanton damage. After all, they're the ones who suffer, along with everyone else, when some idiot starts using powerline insulators for target practice."

B.C. Hydro is again this year offering a reward of up to $250 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons wilfully damaging insulators or powerlines.

"FIRST AID FOR CARS"
PART II

Remember, new paint will not adhere to a dirty or greasy surface, so wash thoroughly and use the proper cleaning agents to remove road tar, grease or oil. Before painting, it is wise to put your car in a garage or protected place where there is very little dust. Dust can ruin new paint.

Bare metal should be given a light coat of metal primer before you apply the top coat Check with your dealer for the correct primer to use. Let the primer dry overnight, and sand lightly before you apply the top coat.

Touch-up paint with a small brush applicator should be used for small nicks and scratches. Spray cans of touch-up paint are also available for larger damaged areas. Don't try to paint a large area such as a deck or door. This type of work requires the skill of a professional car painter. When using a spray applicator, it is easy to spray too much or cover a larger area than you intended to cover, so practice ahead of time. Mask areas you do not want to paint, with newspapers and masking tape.

When applying top coat enamel, remember that several thin coats are better than one heavy coat. Sand lightly between each coat. The paint should be completely dry before sanding and recoating. After the enamel has dried for several days, it can be polished with a buffing compound to make it blend with the original finish.

By taking over easy and inexpesive touch-up painting on your car, you can save yourself many repair bills and own a car you're proud to drive!

Clarke — Wheeler . . .

Catholic Church wedding pretty double ring event

HOLY Family Catholic Church, Sechelt, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday, August 29th when Rev. D. Kenny united in marriage Jo-Anne Marie Wheeler and Donald Douglas Clarke.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wheeler of Selma Park, and the groom is the eldest son of Harold W. Clarke and the late Evelyn S. B. Clarke of Gibsons, B.C.

Pink and white roses, gladiolus, white daisies and baby's breath, decorated the church for the double ring ceremony which took place at 1 p.m. Organist was Mr. Jack Mayne.

Escorted by her father, the bride walked through an archway of white gladiolus, stephanotis and purple heather, looking radiantly lovely in her entrain gown of poi de soi styled in mid-Victorian fashion with high lace collar, empire waistline and long full sleeves, with richly laced cuffs. Her three tiered bouffant veil was held by orange blossom and she carried a cascade bouquet of long stemmed red roses with green fern and red satin bow. Her gold chain and cross was the groom's gift to his bride.

Matron of honour was Mrs. Diana Eberle, sister of the bride; Mrs. Julie Clarke, sister-in-law of the groom, was bridesmaid. Both wore lime green floor length dresses of peau de creme with empire waistlines trimmed with daisies and carried nosegays of rust and yellow chrysanthemums and white carnations. Miss Sherri Eberle was flowergirl dressed in floor length gown of pink taffeta trimmed with white daisies and carrying a small white basket of yellow and rust chrysanthemums and white carnations topped by a green and yellow bumble bee.

Mr. Leonard Clarke, brother of the groom was best man and Mr. Al Boser was usher.

Reception was held in the Legion Hall, Sechelt where purple heather and white gladiolus formed an archway for the receiving line. White lace and damask covered the bridal table where the three tiered cake was surrounded by a table decoration of pink tulle with pink roses and lily of the valley. Crystal candelabra completed the decor.

Mr. Jack Mayne proposed the toast to the bride. Among the congratulatory wishes was a telegram received from an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carlisle of San Carlos, California.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wheeler chose a lace ensemble of royal purple with champagne accessories. Her corsage was a pink orchid set in feathered carnations.

Ladies Auxiliary to Royal Canadian Legion Branch 140 were caterers.

The bridal bouquet was presented by the bride to Mrs. Douglas Meldrum, of Gibsons, the sister of the late Evelyn Clarke.

The honeymoon was spent touring Vancouver Island and for travelling the bride chose a dark green suede leather vest and skirt with pale green long-sleeved tailored blouse, white and black snakeskin shoes and purse. Upon their return, the young couple will reside in North Vancouver, B.C.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. R. Gurniak, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. K. Taylor, Coquitlam; Mr. and Mrs. C. Neufeld, Williams Lake; Mr. and Mrs. R. Clarke, Okanagan Falls; Mr. and Mrs. L. Clarke, Langley; Misses Denise and Deborah Clarke; Mrs. L. Wolff, North Vancouver; Mrs. P. Condon; Miss A. Condon, Powell River; Mr. and Mrs. Neil Ranson; Mr. and Mrs. G. Roy; Miss A. Anton, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. D. Rushton and family, Richmond.

sent the health unit "speaking to them does not provide them with anything on their books regarding the situation", he said.

Ald. Watson expressed the view that council "is stirring a big pot".

Ald. Joe Benner disagreed and added that the real estate office also has a dental mechanic operating there and he has to go through the real estate office and through a kitchen for toilet facilities. "There are rules regarding this too", he said.

The clerk asked that council let the matter rest with him until such time he has checked further with the health unit.

Mayor Swain agreed but made clear the fact he is not happy with the situation as it stands.

EXTENSION

Following recent discussion regarding extension of the village office to include a reasonable council chamber which would include facilities for public attendance, it has been decided to consider providing accommodation for other public bodies such as the court house, probation office etc.

Letter last week from the Attorney General's Department stated council's proposals are being considered and it is hoped to submit requirements to council shortly.

In the meantime, council has agreed to contact other governmental departments with the object of centralizing all such agencies in one centre.

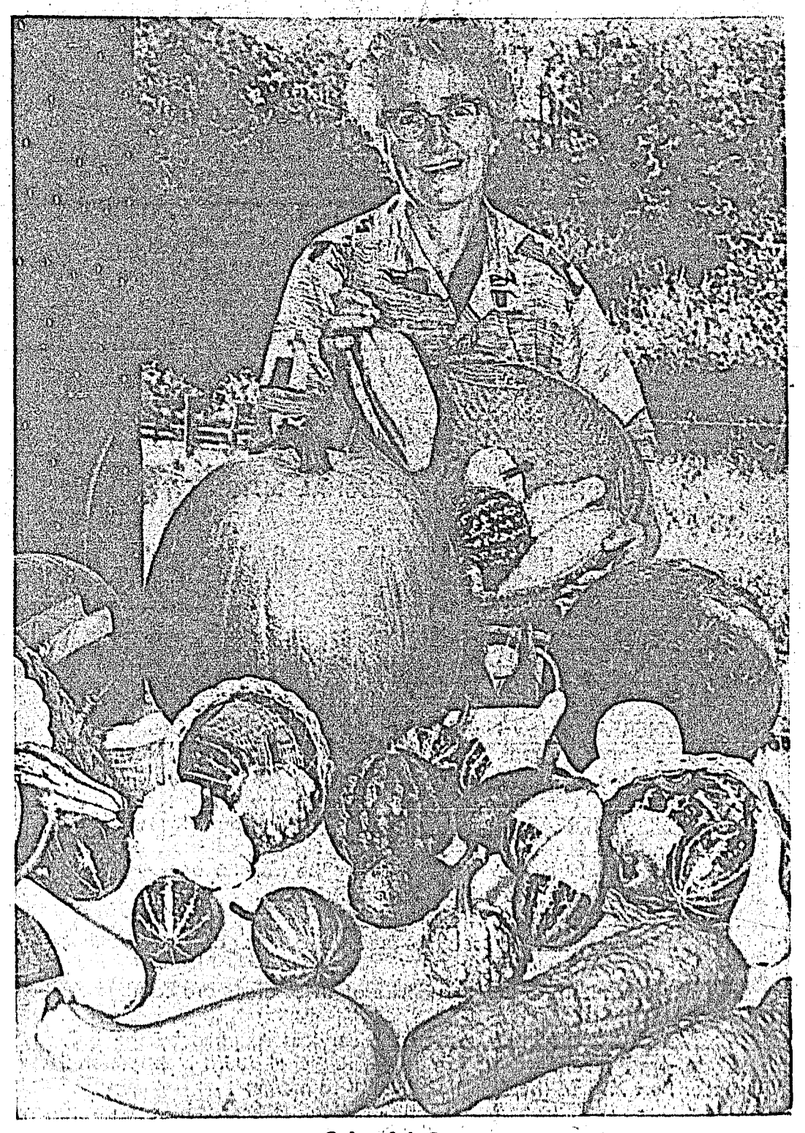
Bountiful Harvest

Grown without the aid of sprays or chemical fertilizers, the crop this year on the market garden of Mr. and Mrs. George Charman, Gibsons is truly bountiful. In great demand are the citrons used for preserves, hubbard and acorn squash and the giant pumpkins pictured here with Mr. Charman. Crop this year has included green beans, potatoes, corn, besides the vine crops and carrots now ripening in the well tended garden on the S bends at Gibsons.



Colourful Crop

Grown for either decorative or culinary purposes the whimsical gourds and sweet flavoured squash being harvested here by Mrs. Marion Charman of Gibsons, come in a fantastic variety of colours and shapes. The white crookneck and pattypan summer squash make delectable eating. The gourds, especially those with yellow tops and green bottoms and others either plain or striped with smooth or bumpy surfaces, when dried are used for decorative purposes or toys for children.

Safe motoring

AMONG the thousands of youngsters returning to school will be many who use their bicycles for transportation. Motorists will be on the alert for bicycle riders but the riders themselves can do much to ensure their own safety.

While all youngsters should know the basic traffic laws before they are allowed out on their bikes, the B.C. Automobile Association offers these additional tips for safe riding.

— Keep well back from moving cars — they may stop suddenly.

— Be smart on left turns. Drive straight across the street close to the right curb. Wait for the light to change. Then start off in the new direction — with the light. Walk your bicycle when crossing busy streets and intersections.

— Be alert for pedestrians who might step from between parked cars.

— Be on the lookout for doors of parked cars which might open on the street side.

— Avoid driving too fast down hill, or on rough slippery roads — Good drivers avoid skids.

— Cross streetcar and railroad tracks fairly straight across — then your bike won't skid on the tracks.

— Play fair on your bike by showing good driving sportsmanship to pedestrians, other bike riders, and automobile drivers.

The BCAA says that if all bike riders will incorporate the above tips with the basic traffic laws and ride with care, common sense and courtesy, countless accidents could be avoided.

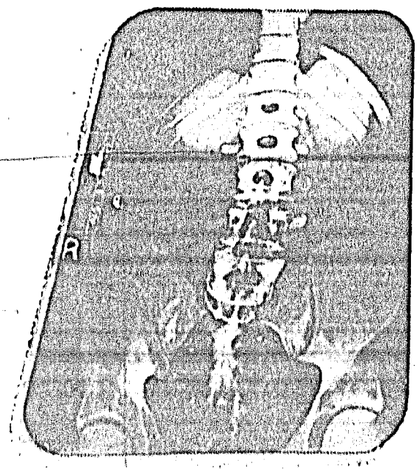
Next time
you lift something,
use your head.



When a doctor takes candid shots of your spine, it's because your back hurts.
5,562 people in B.C. were disabled by work-caused back injuries last year. And most of those injuries could have been avoided.

To prevent a pain in the back, learn to lift the correct way:
1. Bend your knees. 2. Get down, so your arms, legs and back can share the load.
3. Keep your back straight and lift slowly.
And if it's too heavy, don't even try. Get help.
Some back injuries are the result of arthritis, or other back disease. Other ailments are caused by spinal defects you were born with. They're likely to hurt you sooner or later.
But if your back injury is caused by your job, the Workmen's Compensation Board can help you with the best of medical care and rehabilitation therapy.
We can give you some candid advice, too: next time you lift something, save your back. Use your head.

60th wedding anniversary brings letter from Queen

MR. AND Mrs. Russell L. Baldwin of Selma Park, were guests of honour at a small reception held at Wilson Creek Hall on Saturday, August 29th, 1970, when relatives and friends gathered to celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary.

Attending were their three children, Harvey of Dawson Creek, B.C.; Bud of Camrose, Alberta and Anna of Wilson Creek, their families and friends. Two very special friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. Elliott, formerly of Saskatchewan and now living at Sardis, also attended the celebration.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the happy occasion. Centering the head table was the three-tiered Diamond Anniversary cake made by Mrs. Anna Ebach and richly decorated with white icing and pink iced rosebuds.

Letters of congratulation were read from Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth; Governor General Roland Michener; Hon. J. R. Nicholson, Lieutenant Governor of B.C.; Prime Minister Pierre Elliot Trudeau; Hon. W. A. C. Bennett, Premier of British Columbia and Hon. Isabel Dawson, Minister without Portfolio.

Music was provided by the Western Troubadors with Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin's daughter Anna Ebach playing the organ; son-in-law Herb Ebach on the violin and grandsons, Chuck and Lee playing guitars.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin were married on August 31, 1910 at Mountain, Ontario and moved to Cereal, Alberta in 1917, where Mrs. Baldwin's parents had settled as farmers in 1912. The family moved successively to Maidstone, Sask.; Rosthern, Sask.; and in 1927 to Saskatoon, Saskatchewan.

After the two sons and Anna's husband went overseas during the last war, they moved to Victoria where Mr. Baldwin retired in 1951 at the age of 65. They resided in Haney, B.C. until moving to Sechelt three years ago.

Mrs. Baldwin who is 82 is not too active, although she enjoys reasonable health. Mr. Baldwin at 84, keeps active and only recently had to refrain from strenuous exercise. He still drives a car.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin have twelve grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Labour Minister's message seeks industrial harmony

ON THIS special occasion, Labour Day 1970, it is fitting that we pause and take stock of the many gains that have been made as we enter a new decade.

The 1960's were notable for their increase in real income, and, therefore, an improved standard of living. During the ten-year period, population grew 29 per cent, while the labour force increased 48 per cent and total employment was 54 per cent greater. At the same time, total personal income more than doubled and retail sales grew approximately 85 per cent. Our record is an outstanding one to be envied by all sections of the country, but we cannot rest on our laurels. Much remains to be done and higher standards attained.

Unfortunately, there are a number of obstacles which stand in our way: there is inflation which must be overcome, high interest rates to be reduced, a gain in productivity achieved and labour-management relations to be greatly improved. Unless we successfully surmount these difficulties, we cannot make the progress that we are capable of.

Let us co-operate and work actively together, therefore, to achieve these goals rather than allow conflict and dissension to deter us, to the end that we will have a better British Columbia and a better Canada during the 1970's.

Ever notice how as things get smaller, the price gets bigger? And the most expensive way to celebrate your wife's birthday is to not get her anything at all.

MB reports . . .

Labour unrest restricted student summer employment

LABOUR unrest this year in British Columbia has sharply reduced the number of summer jobs available to students.

MacMillan Bloedel has released figures on the hiring of students during the summer which probably are indicative of the general trend in the province.

Strikes and lockouts in the construction industry, the towboat industry and part of the pulp and paper industry all have reduced the number of jobs available to students.

MB reports that it was able to place 740 students in jobs this summer, a figure which represents about 4.1 percent of the company's total employment figure.

A spokesman said that while this was a substantial number of summer jobs, it was down from the 1,080 jobs MB provided students in 1969. Last year's 1,080 jobs was about six percent of total company employment.

MB also reported that of the 740 jobs it provided students this year, 210 students subsequently were laid off as a result of the strike July 24 by the Pulp and Paper Workers of Canada at Harmac Pulp Division, near Nanaimo, which is continuing.

In the forest products industry students are hired each summer as vacation relief, that is they help to maintain the work force at normal level while regular employees take their holidays.

This year, however, mill closures and production curtailments due to strikes, secondary boycotts and picketing have prevented the companies from scheduling vacations in a normal manner.

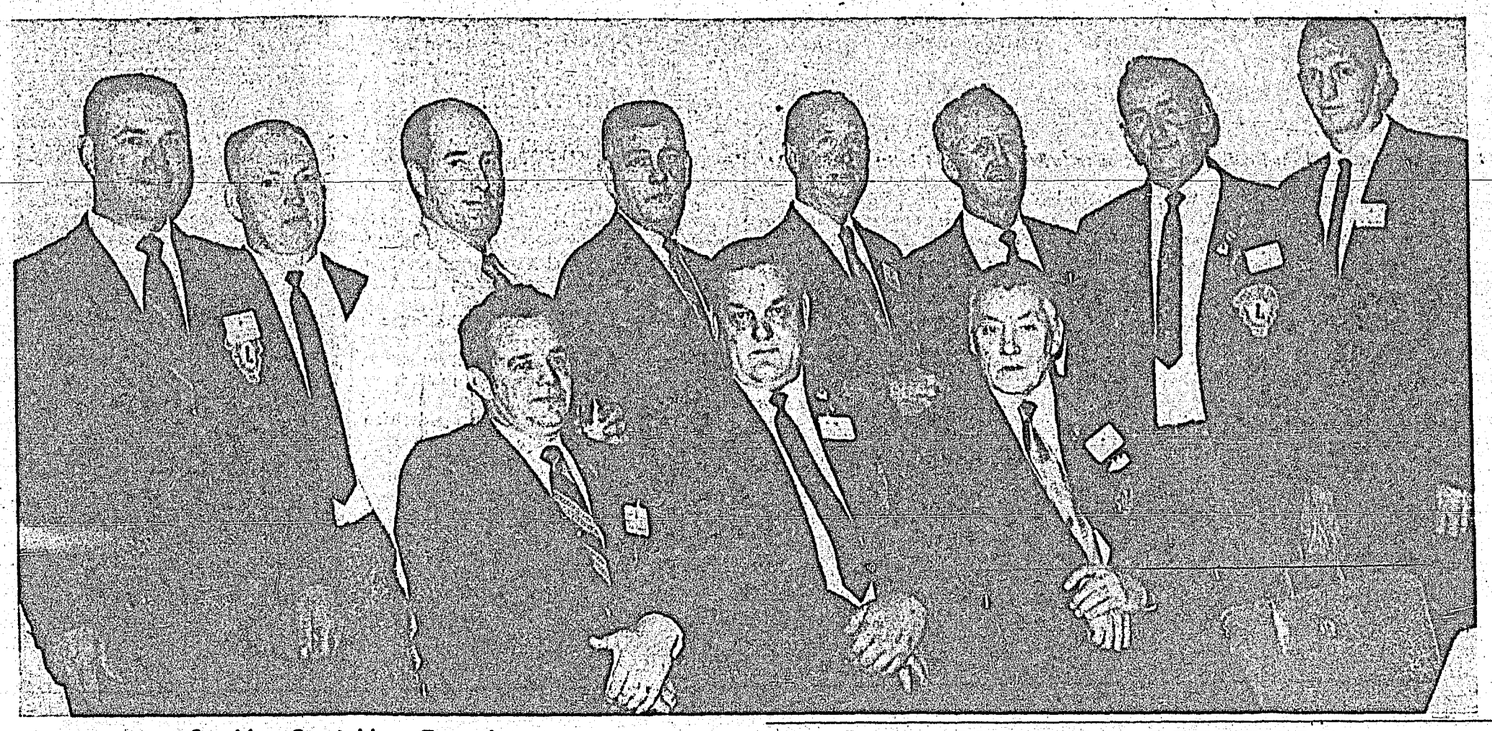
First meeting of the new season under chairmanship of Chuck Rodway was held last Thursday September 3rd at the Casa Martinez dining room, Davis Bay. Present for the occasion were a number of out-of-town guests including the district governor and zone chairman. From left: dist. governor Ralph Long, Chuck Rodway and zone chairman District 19 A 1.



Sunshine Coast Lions Executive

Halfmoon Bay Happenings

—by Mary Tinkley

A PROUD winner at this year's P.N.E. is Mr. Ed Surtees whose pigeons took four prizes, two Firsts, one Second and one Third.

Mrs. Mary Harvey and Mrs. Joan Hansen who live in the Halfmoon Bay Banana Belt left their homes last Friday morning quite unaware of the storm which had hit Sechelt during the night and totally unprepared for the surprise awaiting them.

First arrival was Mrs. Harvey who opened the door of the Sechelt Beauty Shop to find the floor covered with an inch of water and silt. Business was held up for a mammoth mopping up operation in which all the staff, the fire brigade and neighbors co-operated. It was exactly a month to the day since Mrs. Harvey had taken over the Beauty Shop.

VISITORS

Recent visitors to the area from Northern Ireland were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Flack of Co. Armagh. They were guests of Mrs. Eva Lyons and had happy reunions with their cousins Mr. and Mrs. George Flack of Gibsons and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morgan.

The Flack Brothers, Jack Morgan and the late Frank Lyons all came from the same district in Co. Armagh. It was Mr. and Mrs. Flack's first visit to the west coast.

Mrs. Ed Cook received surprise visitors last Friday with the unexpected arrival at Eureka of old friends of her childhood in Calgary. Her visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Watson Bodie, Mrs. Bodie's brother, Gid Westaway and his wife Stella, all from Taber, Alta. The father of Mrs. Bodie and Mr. Westaway was the pastor of the church where Mrs. Cook attended Sunday School as a small child.

It was unfortunate that the visitors did not get as long to visit their old friend as they had hoped because they had to wait for three ferries at Horseshoe Bay.

CHRISTENING

On August 30, at the Church of His Presence, Canon Alan Greene officiated at the christening of Andrea Christine Dalton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dalton of West Vancouver. Godparents were Mrs. June Simpson of Vancouver, Mrs. M. Sutherland of W. Vancouver and Jeremy Dalton of North Vancouver.

IN BRIEF

Canon Greene who recently received news of the death of his last surviving brother, Phillip in New Jersey, is now in Toronto as the guest of his son John. He will visit old friends and relatives before returning home around the end of September.

Mrs. Janet Allen on the occasion of her birthday last Saturday, was surprised to find herself guest of honor at a turkey dinner at the McCrady home. One of the surprise guests was Mrs. Elizabeth Pearce a former resident of Redrooffs now living in an apartment in Burnaby. Mrs. Pearce was the guest of her nephew Alan Jacques at her old home.

Mrs. Alan Greene celebrated her birthday last Sunday with a luncheon party at Lord Jim's Lodge.

Jack Richmond who has been spending a holiday at the Bill Richmond cottage, has returned to Edmonton for his final year in dentistry.

Guest of Mrs. Hugh Duff at Welcome Beach is her sister, Miss Clara Hall of Boston, Mass. Miss Hall flew out to the west coast after a tour of southern Ireland.

Mrs. Mary Walker had a fall at the P.N.E. which did not result in any serious injuries. However, she pays tribute to the P.N.E. first aid service, for she was immediately transported in a gleaming new ambulance to the Royal Columbian Hospital for a check over before being released.

Children of the Halfmoon Bay School were entertained at a beach party at Duck Rock sandbar last week. Hostesses were Mrs. M. Tinkley, Mrs. B. McCaul and Mrs. Wm. Sexton. Lifeguard was Lori Sexton.

Cougar Country back at Gibsons theatre

DON'T miss the return engagement of "Cougar Country" this week at Twilight Theatre in Gibsons, probably the most popular and entertaining of wild-life adventure movies to come along in years.

And then, "The Wild Bunch", bloodshed and violence, nothing new is this day and age; the story of outlaws in the cruel terrain of the West. It takes place in 1913 when the world was about to plunge into war, and Mexico, where much of the action takes place, was being strangled in a bloody counter-revolution. Sound familiar??

Pike Bishop (William Holden) and his gang are outlaws of a sort whose exploits 10 or 15 years before might have been considered as heroic. Even their arch-enemy, Deke Thornton (Robert Ryan), thought they were re-living past glories. But time had passed them by. If by now you are truly interested, come and see the movie; you can be sure that it is no ordinary western.

Lions Guests

School days bring hazards

WITH an increasing population and a subsequent increase in motor traffic, plus the fact that the Sunshine Coast is attracting more and more year round tourism, it naturally follows that school areas in proximity to highways will now provide a greater hazard than ever before.

This situation is not restricted to this particular district but is, perhaps, somewhat more of a problem than many other communities. Gibsons elementary and high schools are probably located in as bad a spot, if not worse, than anywhere, and warrant extreme caution on the part of motorists.

Both schools are well populated and are in the unfortunate position of being presently located not only on either side of a busy major highway but on the fringe of village boundaries. Thus, visiting vehicles frequently tend to build up speed on leaving the lower village area and very often greatly exceed speed limits when passing through the school zone.

This is one danger. The second is local traffic and while drivers are aware of the school zones, they have become accustomed to a comparatively safe situation during past months that schools have been in recess. Consequently it will take some weeks of having to exercise caution until motorists again become mindful of the fact a large number of children and young people will be in evidence for the next few months.

Often an unavoidable accident is due to the careless actions of youngsters or older people who step out onto a highway with every confidence in the driver of an approaching vehicle to avoid them. Should another auto be approaching from the opposite direction at high speed, it is likely to be a question of hitting the pedestrian or becoming involved in a head-on collision with the approaching car and possibly injuring a number of people. In any case, the onus invariably rests with the motorist.

As pointed out in a news release from the B.C. Automobile Association:

The areas around schools will again be crowded with children who often are not as mindful as they should be of traffic rules," it is up to the motorist to drive within the reduced speed limits so that he can bring his car to a stop at a moment's notice, if necessary."

The BCAA urged motorists to be especially alert at the street crossings and to watch for youngsters who may dart into the street from between parked cars.

"When driving around schools, it is important to have your car under strict control at all times. Daydreaming or any other kind of distraction is particularly dangerous in these areas."

How far from Socialism?

—from P.R. News

R. B. BRYCE, former deputy finance minister and one of the architects of the Benson Iceberg, admitted that the government's new tax proposals went overboard in trying to correct the "scandal" of tax advantages for small businesses. Mr. Bryce is now economic adviser to Prime Minister Trudeau, and Mr. Benson is trying to find ways to soften his first proposals which hit small businesses to the point where their disappearance could be seen within a generation.

Mr. Benson does not propose any important easing of the new tax bites for small business, or at least has not come out with any statement to that effect. About all he has done is grunted enough to lull the protesters into a state where they will let up on their protests and be only semi-conscious when the proposals become law.

The "evils" of which Mr. Benson complains and is trying to correct in small business taxation could be easily corrected in a much simpler way than by damning all small business and hitting them all with the sledgehammer of confiscatory taxation.

About all that has been achieved so far is to remove any possible encouragement a person might have to be his own boss by starting his own business.

What Mr. Benson and company seem to have completely overlooked is that small businesses (which Mr. Benson does not like) become big businesses (which Mr. Benson likes because they are easily taxed). If there are no new small businesses over the next generation, there are going to be no new larger ones, either.

Unless, by some coincidence, Ottawa is determined to have Canada a complete socialist state by that time.

We are a mixed pot

ONE of the stranger aspects of life would seem to be the fact that while most of us strive toward establishment of a better and more peaceful existence there are always those who seek to pull down and disrupt.

In many cases much of the trouble-making element consists of people who have comfortable homes and hold down financially rewarding positions. Usually positions of responsibility, yet of such a nature that grandiose proclivities are limited. As a consequence they direct their endeavors and excess energy toward channels of dissention and often downright anarchy.

Significantly, although not always so, majority of people who volunteer their services to working for betterment of their community are by no means in the higher wage bracket. They are, instead, individuals who have an interest in their district and are prepared to give a great deal of time and effort to bringing about improvements of benefit to all.

The point is—those who do all the screaming often feel justified and in their own minds probably are convinced they speak for the majority. At the same time, if they are genuine in their desires to improve, then there are various official outlets available to them: namely council, school board and regional district. Each year as terms of office are terminated a whole host of seats are open to nomination.

Strangely enough, the perennial rabble raisers are conspicuously missing on these occasions but emerge from the proverbial woodpile the moment elections have ended.

One such person dropped in last week to complain that while many people support his views and philosophies he attracts no support from official bodies, therefore feels perhaps he should leave the area.

We most certainly would not argue with the latter suggestion but cannot help but note, this man has never yet allowed his name to stand for public office. We can only surmise that there are those who gain considerably more satisfaction from standing alone with the cherished ambition to acquire fame and prominence as a contemporary Aristotle.

As a member of a duly elected body they become one of a group and as such they would have to be both tenacious and vociferous as well as above average in intelligence in order to sway the group to their way of thinking. Very few back-room politicians have these qualities. Most of them are certainly vociferous but lack other qualifications to back it up. Consequently, their achievements seldom rate beyond the nuisance category.

On the other hand we have the radicals, subversives and trigger-happy revolutionaries who have other reasons for disruption and should be treated as true criminals of society.

We have too the other side of the coin, the so-styled "Flower Children" who seek to establish peace and happiness by throwing flowers instead of taking their place in society and working, as everyone else should be, toward improving things constructively.

In actual fact, as we have stated previously, world conditions are better today than ever before. Fear of nuclear weapons is sufficient to hold off another major world war and while small scale wars are in evidence, in some remote corners of the world, they are not as prevalent as they were in the now distant past. In the western world, where we still have freedom to protest, far greater numbers than ever before are enjoying a very good standard of living.

It would seem that if the protesters, radicals and society drop-outs woke-up to the fact that no-one owes them anything and that they get out of life only what they are prepared to put into it, then the world could indeed be a better place in which to live. Right now it has a lot to offer but this is due to the builders, not the sob-sisters and wreckers.

Readers' Right

Squeaking wheel

Editor, The Times,

Sir: One reads with interest the letter from the irate resident of Redrooffs dealing with the matter of inadequacies in our ferry system.

One remembers water transport experienced some fifteen years ago in this area and cannot but help, by comparison, consider what we have now, the very acme of luxury.

One point brought out in the letter is important because many of us still travel by shank's mare and have suffered from lack of help with luggage. This deficiency creates considerable hardship especially in the case of elderly or infirm pedestrian travellers.

It is also intimated that the Nanaimo ferry suffers from the same need but I well remember being told at the Horseshoe Bay side that carts were provided for that particular ferry but not for ours. So this ought to be a very simple matter to rectify and no doubt if enough pedestrians write and complain things will be quickly rectified for it's the squeaking wheel which gets the grease.

Swim classes

Editor, The Times,

Sir: We would like to express our appreciation to the Gibsons Athletic Association and publicly thank the two swimming teachers, Denise Littlejohn and Linda Jackson.

Our children were in a variety of swimming levels, from "non-swimmers" to "Red Cross Seniors". All thoroughly enjoyed their lessons and all successfully passed their exams. We attribute this to the time and thought put into this course by Denise and Linda. Thank you.

Mrs. A. Aarnott, Mrs. G. Sinclair,
Mrs. R. Thicke, Gower Point, B.C.

Outlaw traps

Editor, The Times,

Sir: As a member of the Canadian Association for Humane Trapping, I would like to draw to the attention of your readers, the horrible suffering that is being inflicted on fur-bearing animals all across Canada.

I am referring to the barbaric and atrocious leg-hold trap, which holds its victim by the paw until the animal dies either of starvation or freezing.

An animal is in many cases trapped up to a period of two weeks. Sometimes it even succeeds in chewing off its own paw and crawls away to die.

There are humane traps available to trappers now, and more research is in progress to develop others.

I urge people to please write to their members of parliament, urging them to instigate legislation to outlaw these leg-hold traps as soon as possible.

The Canadian Governments must outlaw this crime against our fur-bearing creatures. There is no valid reason for such unnecessary cruelty and absolutely no reason for our governments to be so far behind other countries which have abolished leg-hold traps, many years ago.

Anyone wishing further information about Humane traps, write to the Canadian Association for Humane Trapping, Box 934, Station F, Toronto 5, Ontario.

J. BICKS,
Ontario

Great service

Editor, The Times,

Sir: I am writing this letter to inform you that I receive your paper from time to time, through my son-in-law, who ships lumber to the various centres on the Peninsula. I think you have a fine publication which is rendering a great service to the people of your district.

As one who is deeply interested in public affairs and who writes continuously to the papers of the Lower Mainland, over a period of many years, it gives me great pleasure to read the letters in your Readers Right column. I am also very interested in the editorials and I wish to state that your editorial of Wed. Sept. 2nd "Time for Re-examination" was well taken.

I, like yourself believe that there could be a vast improvement in the justice courts of the United States, not that our courts are perfect. Where man is involved with his worship for gold, money comes many times before justice. To wit, I think the Kennedy case could have been brought out into the open more fully than it was. However these are the problems we must bear, while we aim for a better world.

In closing I wish you and your paper the best of everything. Hoping that our industrial wars will end quickly, so we can march forward in harmony and not hate.

THOMAS FARRINGTON,
South Burnaby, B.C.

Next step

Editor, The Times,

Sir: Most people will agree that the establishment of an efficient garbage collection on the Sunshine Coast was a much needed and appreciated action on the part of the village of Sechelt and the Regional District.

Now that the operation has been proved a success would it not be a logical move to the next step and use the service to its maximum efficiency?

There are many garden incinerators still in use which have been a source of extreme annoyance to a number of people during the beautiful summer that we have just experienced. Most of these complaints came from the more densely populated parts of the area. Apart from the obnoxious odours that these things can produce they are also an unnecessary source of pollution which most people, especially when it concerns them directly and personally, are concerned about. We are inclined to blame industry for most of the problems and fail to realize that each and every one of us is responsible in a small way to a certain extent. Here is a way in which everyone could help keep our air cleaner for the benefit of all.

I would certainly respectfully suggest to the village of Sechelt that a bylaw banning the use of these incinerators be considered so that next summer people will be able to relaxe in their gardens without fear of objectionable odours pervading the atmosphere from their neighbors activities.

I am sure many people would thank the village of Sechelt for helping to eradicate an unnecessary source of contamination of our beautiful environment.

2 trays ice cubes	4 sticks cinnamon, broken
3 cups white vinegar	2 pieces gingerroot

Slice the melon in quarters, and remove the pink pulp (see note below). Cut off the hard green skin and all but a thin layer of pink pulp. Then dice in 1½-inch squares. Sprinkle with salt, and add cold water and ice cubes. Drain, rinse and drain again. Drop cubes into boiling water, and cook until just tender when tested with a skewer. Drain well. Mix th next 3 ingredients together in a large kettle, and drop in the spices tied in a cheesecloth bag. Tint with rose food coloring. Bring to a boil, and boil 5-8 minutes. Add the rind, and cook gently, stirring occasionally, until transparent. Remove the bag, and let stand overnight. Next morning drain the syrup into a kettle, and boil 5 minutes. Pour over the rind, and let stand overnight. Next morning bring to a boil, and ladle into hot sterilized jars. Seal. Makes about 6 pints.

Here's how to use the watermelon leftover from your pickles:

Scoop out melon balls, or dice the pink pulp for freezing. Remove the seeds, and pack in covered plastic or specially treated pressed paper cartons. Flavor cold thin or medium sugar syrup with a little lemon juice, and pour over the melon, leaving a ½ inch headspace. Crumple pieces of waxed paper, and press on top of fruit to fill the air space; then cover, and chill in the refrigerator. Freeze. You may prefer to cut out pink part for eating; then scrape out remaining pulp and juice. Discard seeds, and swish in a blender. Add chilled fruit juice or fruit-flavored carbonated beverage for a refreshing punch.

Mature women often arthritis sufferers

ARTHRITIS is called "everybody's disease" because nearly everyone suffers from it sooner or later. According to Dr. William E. Reynolds, medical director of The Arthritis Foundation, 50-million Americans have some form of arthritis.

"Those who have complaints sufficient to bring them to medical attention," Dr. Reynolds explained, "today number about 17 million." In that group, five million suffer from rheumatoid arthritis, which can cripple and disable its victims.

Mature women are particularly prone to rheumatoid arthritis. "It tends to come on in women more frequently than in men, perhaps three-to-one. Its onset is most common in women in their forties and fifties," said Dr. Reynolds. He pointed out, however, that it can also occur in children of pre-school age.

The word arthritis literally means inflammation of a joint. But it is used to cover 100 different conditions which cause aches and pains in both joints and connective tissues throughout the body, not all of them necessarily involving inflammation.

COMMON FORMS

The most common form of arthritis is osteoarthritis, a degenerative joint disease. Everyone who lives long enough gets a touch of it sooner or later. "We are dealing here with changes that are, in part, simply due to wear and tear as one gets older," said Dr. Reynolds. But one form of osteoarthritis is more commonly found in women over forty. It is characterized by bony enlargements of the joints of the fingers and sometimes the toes.

MEN AND ARTHRITIS

Two forms of arthritis attack men more often than women. These are gouty arthritis and ankylosing spondylitis, a disease of the spine that occurs ten times more frequently in men than women. "Gout is a disease of long interest in history and often associated with what can be called high living and fatty foods," said Dr. Reynolds. The connection exists but it is not quite so direct. "Gout is due to a derangement of our ability to digest and handle certain types of fatty foods," said Dr. Reynolds.

Ankylosing spondylitis, which often begins in the productive years of the thirties, frequently starts with a pain in the lower back and legs as an early symptom. This arthritis of the spine, Dr. Reynolds explained, can also involve the hips and shoulders and, less often, the hands and feet.

TREATMENT

Dr. Reynolds said that a warm, dry climate does offer relief for many patients suffering from arthritis. "On the other hand, other patients find little or no difference by simply changing their climatic surroundings. Most physicians would not urge a patient to go to unusual expense or inconvenience to make that change."

He suggests that arthritis patients seek early medical treatment, before irreversible damage to joints takes place. For one thing, a medical diagnosis can pinpoint the form of arthritis. If it is gout, for example, it can be effectively controlled with treatment. If it is rheumatoid arthritis, medication and a combination of rest and exercise — and occasionally surgery — will help to restore function and prevent progressive deformity.

Top stars team up for lively western

JOHN Wayne and Rock Hudson come to Sechelt Theatre on the waterfront this week, as they team up to star in the colorful action-packed western adventure "The undefeated".

At the close of the Civil War, Union Colonel, John Wayne, resigns his commission to round up wild horses for sale to the Army. The government agents prove to be cheats and Wayne makes a deal instead to sell his three thousand horses to Emperor Maxmilian in Mexico. At the same time Confederate Colonel, Rock Hudson, who will not the war end, is taking his family and followers to get aid from Maximilian.

Both expeditions converge at the Mexican border, where the Yankees help the antagonistic Southerners fight off a bandit attack. The well-equipped western also presents a fitting amount of rough and tumble humor along with some youthful romance.

Terre Haute, Indiana; A musical combo consisting of piano, drum, guitar, and bass has been formed by inmates at the Federal Prison here. Name of the group is "The Fifth Amendments."

"Kelly"

Victim of rheumatoid arthritis since the age of two, little Kelly receives regular treatment from the CARS centre and will be under such care until she reaches the age of twenty-one. Sunshine Coast Lions campaign this month on behalf of the Society under campaign chairman Neil Campbell.

Immunize pre-schoolers scheme gains momentum

CAMPAIGN, to immunize every child from one to twelve in B.C. against German Measles, is gaining momentum. During the past few weeks several Municipal Governments have agreed to cost-share with the Provincial Government in a programme to immunize all children of school age. It is hoped that other Municipal Governments outside the metropolitan Vancouver and Victoria areas will do likewise.

In the spread of Rubella infection there is still one gap — the pre-schoolers. The little guy who has lost the immunity carried over from his mother, which protected him through his first year of life, and who has not had exposure to the disease, has built up no immunity of his own. This child would not suffer much himself, but is a threat to pregnant women who have not had the disease previously. 1970/71 is the epidemic year in B.C. for German Measles. Mothers are urged to contact their local Health Unit to see that their pre-schoolers and school children are included in the program and prevent damage to unborn babies from German Measles.

Lions Club undertakes annual CARS canvass

SUNSHINE Coast Lions Club again campaigns on behalf of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society and this year Neil Campbell is campaign chairman.

To portray the many sufferers who have gained relief through this organization a two and a half year old child will be featured in newspapers and on posters during the present project. The youngster will be known only as Kelly.

Kelly represents the estimated 100,000 British Columbians who suffer from arthritis in one form or another. The 100,000 people The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society wants to help. The 100,000 people CARS can help with your support of campaigns and United Appeals.

When Kelly was not quite two years old, her doctor requested a consultation with a CARS specialist. The diagnosis was rheumatoid arthritis. Kelly was put on treatment immediately.

Every week Kelly's parents drove her in from out-of-town to the CARS Centre where she received physiotherapy. This went on for four months. She learned special exercises which sometimes take the form of play. Kelly calls them "up-ups". Whatever they are called, they are extremely important. Her exercises keep Kelly's little legs strong and straight. She must do them several times every day at home in addition to taking daily medications to control inflammation and pain.

We don't really know what the future holds for Kelly. Rheumatoid arthritis is impossible to predict, but CARS will follow Kelly's progress until she is 21.

Under the Children's Program at CARS, directed by Dr. Robert H. Hill, a careful record is kept of all children suffering from juvenile rheumatoid arthritis. Their progress is recorded, compared to others with the disease, and compared to normal children.

For Kelly, and for all people of all ages who suffer from arthritis, tomorrow, next week, next year is uncertain. The cause of arthritis has not been found. The cure has not been found. Until a cure is found, treatment will prevent crippling and deformity in four out of every five cases.

The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society will continue their research and public and professional education programs until a cure is found. And until then, CARS will treat arthritis patients, helping them to lead normal lives. CARS Campaigns and United Appeals all over the province make this work possible. You make this work possible.

Top Fisherman

Sixth holder of the Selma Beach Salmon derby trophy is Mr. Lloyd Olmstead who topped 62 fishermen in last Sunday's annual fun event by bringing in a 7 lb 8 oz fish. Fishing was restricted to the area from Trail Islands to Davis Bay wharf and lasted from daybreak to 2 p.m.

Annual event . . .

Selma Park Fishing Derby successful despite weather

OVERCAST skies and threatening rain did not deter sixty-two dauntless Selma Beach sports fishermen, who set out at daybreak on Sunday for the Annual Salmon Derby which brings the summer holidays to an exciting end.

Before the last booming blast from the horn, sounded by Mrs. Bernie Duval, finished echoing round the Bay at 6 a.m., boats were being launched in a calm sea, ideal for fishing despite the threatening rain.

Mr. Larry Grafton started things going when he caught the first fish at ten minutes past seven and by weigh-in time at 2 p.m. a total of 26 silvery salmon were neatly laid out by Miss Tina Gower who was the "Weigh-in boss" for the Derby.

By 2:30 p.m. the verandah outside the Carruthers home looked like a railway station during holiday excursion time, packed with fishermen all eager to admire the catch and discover who were the lucky prize winners.

The array of home baked delicacies was also something to behold and the hot coffee was more than welcome as the rain came down in a steady downpour but doing nothing to dampen the happy spirits of old friends enjoying the last long weekend of a fast fading summer.

PRIZES

This year it was the smallest fish ever, to capture it's angler the Selma Beach Salmon Derby trophy donated by Mr. Jim Edwards and the honour goes to Mr. Lloyd Olmstead with a 7 lbs. 8 oz. salmon.

Previous winners were: 1965, Jim Embley, 18 lbs 3 oz. 1966, Bill Slade, 8 lbs 4 oz. 1967 Dorothy Richardson, 9 lbs 8 oz. 1968 Charlie Foster, 8 lbs 3 oz. 1969 Gordon Head, 14 lbs 1 oz.

Second prize went to Mr. Larry Murray (5 lbs 1 oz) and the third to Mrs. Jean Hamon (4½ lbs).

As Mrs. Hamon had already won a prize, Mrs. Dot Richardson won first prize for the largest salmon caught by a lady. Mrs. Richardson who had caught a 3½ lb. fish, and is a previous holder of the trophy was delighted because the prize money reimbursed her for the lost tackle which was causing much ribbing from husband Jack who also won a prize for catching the largest total weight of fish.

From the far away shores of the British Isles came a special message from Mr. and Mrs. Bill Slade, absent for the second consecutive year from the Derby. Bill who is also a previous trophy holder and keen fisherman, sent a one pound note for the salmon closest to 26 ozs which seems to hold a place of affection in his heart. This year, the note went to David Grafton.

Eddie Gower won the fish caught closest to the hidden time of 10:45 a.m. and a host of other prizes were awarded during the afternoon.

Mr. Edward Gower did a tremendous job as master of ceremonies and as the little boats rested at anchor on the grey seas, the families that live at Selma Beach enjoyed a happy time of relaxation.

Man, returning home from work, to wife: "The good news is I'm in the vanguard of the fight against inflation. The bad news is — I'm fired."
