WATER SYSTEM NOW COMPLETED

Official Test Was Made Last Thursday.

PUMP NOW RUNNING AT THE LAKE

Six Powerful Streams Were Used at the Same Time in Different Parts of the City—Test Was Satisfactory.

After many unavoidable delays in construction, the water system of the Phoenix Water Supply Co., Ltd., is now complete—including both domestic and fire service. Last Thursday Manager Hemenway invited the mayor and members of the city council to witness the final test of the system, which was made at the same time at six different points. Promptly at two o'clock streams were turned on at the following hydrants: Granby cottages, Hospital, corner Knob Hill avenue and First street, corner Dominion avenue and Phoenix street, corner Dominion avenue and Banner street and on Brooklyn avenue. Both tanks were connected, one on each side of the hill, and the streams that came out did not seem to be any smaller because there were several of them. In the lower town the test showed a static pressure of 115 pounds, while it was, as expected, somewhat lower at the hydrants located in the upper town, where the fall is not so great. Both 100,000 gallon tanks are on exactly the same level, thereby equalizing the pressure on the mains.

As far as can be learned, the test was most satisfactory to the city fathers, as well as to others who observed it. In the lower town the pressure was so heavy that it took several men to hold the nozzle. The streams were kept on for an hour, and lowered the tank only slightly.

The pump at the lake was started this week, and is working in good shape. After filling the tank near it, it was found that the lake had only gone down four inches, and raised an inch the next night. Apparently there will be all the water needed for domestic uses available from the lake for a long time to come. In addition to this, the line of pipe from the Banner spring will almost supply the entire city itself in the springtime.

The water works were installed under the personal supervision of Rolla V. Jones, an engineer of wide experience from Spokane, and he has done a good job. The pressure is all that could be desired, and the city is now with its hose carts and firefighting apparatus, in excellent shape to fight any ordinary blaze that may break out.

TWO PHOENIX MEN MARRIED.

One Wedding Was in Brandon, the Other in Spokane.

This week two citizens of Phoenix have left the estate of single blessedness, and taken unto themselves wives. One was married at Brandon, Manitoba, and the other in Spokane.

Rev. John M. Millar, M. A., pastor of St. Andrews Presbyterian church in Phoenix, when he left here a couple of weeks ago, was to be married on Dec. 18th at Brandon to Miss Bella Malcolm at the Presbyterian church in Brandon. Mr. and Mrs. Millar are expected to arrive in Phoenix about the 1st of the new year, and will take up housekeeping in the new manse now being finished for them, located at the corner of Grey Eagle avenue and Second street. A reception will probably be given them by the members of St. Andrews church shortly after their arrival.

Tuesday afternoon W. L. Germaine, for the last two years office man of the local branch of the Hunter-Kendrick Co., Ltd., left for Spokane, where he was to be married Thursday to Miss Amy Peterson. Mr. and Mrs. Germaine are expected to arrive in Phoenix today, and will start housekeeping in the Boyle block on Knob Hill avenue.

BOUNDARY MINING NOTES.

A number of men have recently been laid off at the Morrison.

S. F. Parish, manager of the B. C. mine, went east early this week.

The shaft on the Carmi is down 200 feet, and ten men are employed.

On the Butcher Boy, Carmi camp, the shaft is down 50 feet, and a test shipment of 200 sacks of ore will be sent to the Greenwood smelter.

The Morrison Mine, Deadwood camp, was recently prospected with the diamond drill, and the same kind of work continues on the Snowshoe.

COPPER MARKET IS FLUCTUATING

But Boundary's Mines Can Stand It.

SHORTAGE NOT BELIEVED TO EXIST

Properties Here Can Work at a Profit on 10 or 12 Cent Copper, It Is Asserted—Market Expected to Recover.

As the copper mining industry is the chief one of the Boundary country, every one is more or less interested in the present fluctuations in the markets of the world of the price of the red metal. It has been asserted that there is an immense surplus of copper being held by the Amalgamated Copper Co., the great Montana producer, but no one has yet been able to locate that reserve. In fact, those best posted say there is no such reserve, but that the copper kings are merely playing the markets for their own ends, and that shortly, when they get ready, the market will recover. In the meantime, of course, Amalgamated shares have declined one-half, and copper itself has gone down two cents or more. It is also given out that Amalgamated and the Rothchilds, who control the Rio Tinto copper mines in Spain, are fighting for control.

Will Not Affect the Boundary.

Most of the great copper producers have no subsidiary values, and therefore the copper situation is most serious for them if the decline continues. In British Columbia it is different, as there are other values in the ore besides copper—such as gold and silver. One who is well informed says that a gentleman largely interested in Boundary mines has stated that the Boundary can work at a profit if the price of copper goes down to 10 cents per pound. But even if it does, it is not believed that the price will remain at this low figure for any length of time, because it is a fact that the demand is now, notwithstanding the statements of the copper magnates, greater than the supply.

In this connection, the following from the Vancouver Province will be read with interest:

"If copper should fall to 12 cents it is perhaps needless to say that a number of British Columbia mineowners would do some close figuring. Mr. Miner, whose interests in the Boundary country are very large, is credited with saying that he can make money on 12 cent copper, a view that is certainly reassurring, but in the meantime interest in the situation will remain unabated."

TO REPRESENT THIS SECTION.

Kaslo Board of Trade Passed a Resolution Last Week.

The following resolution was passed by the Kaslo Board of Trade, last week, and sent to the Phoenix Board of Trade:

"Whereas, the province of British Columbia is represented in the Parliament of Canada by six members of the House of Commons and three Senators; and whereas the population of Kootenay and Yale, shown by the recent census, is about one-third of the population of the whole province and of the nine members of both Commons and Senate only one is resident in the southern interior of British Columbia where the business interests are diverse from those of every other part of Canada.

"Be it resolved, that this board respectfully submits that in the event of a vacancy occurring in the Senate representation of British Columbia, such vacancy should, as a matter of fair representation by population and interest, be filled by calling to the Senate a resident of this mining district, familiar with its requirements."

License Meeting at Eholt.

Last Monday the half yearly statutory meeting of the board of license commissioners of the Boundary Creek license district was held at Eholt. Thirty-six applications for renewals of hotel licenses were granted as follows all being for licenses for six months, but two: Rock Creek 1, Midway 6, Boundary Falls 2, Deadwood 2, Anaconda 1, Hartford Junction 2, Eholt 5, Summit City 1, Denoro 2, Fourth of July Creek 1, Carson 1, near Columbia 1, Edward's Ferry 1, Cascade 6, Christina Lake 1, Gladstone 1, Castlegar 1, and between Trail and Rossland 1.

Those attending the meeting were E. Jacobs of Greenwood, chairman, H. S. Cannon of Grand Forks, and W. B. Townsend of Rossland, and chief license inspector Dinsmore of Grand Forks.

BIG SHIPMENTS IN TWO WEEKS

Granby Mines Will Shortly Increase.

WILL BE AT LEAST 1,000 TONS DAILY

Third Furnace at Smelter to Be Blown in Second Week in January, and Fourth About First of February.

Beginning early in January, the Granby mines in this camp will begin permanently to increase the output of ore. This is the information given to the Pioneer this week by Supt. Wm. Yolen Williams. The last parts of the new furnace have been shipped from the factory in the east, and it is expected that the third furnace will be started the second week in January, the fourth to be blown in shortly afterwards, or about the 1st of February.

At present the shipments regularly exceed 700 tons of ore per day, and the requirements of another furnace mean that 50 per cent. more ore will be needed to keep the additional furnace in operation, or a total of over 1,000 tons per day. At present the smelter keeps about 10,000 tons of ore on hand constantly, in case of any unforseen contingency that might prevent regular shipments for a few days; but this storage capacity will be increased as rapidly as possible. About the first of the new year the increase of shipments will be inaugurated, and it will probably mean that additional men will be employed at the mines to break and get out ore.

Pretty Cheap Mining.

Last Sunday the residents of the city were startled by hearing several extraordinarily heavy blasts from the Knob Hill side of the city. By that explosion something like 3,000 or 4,000 tons of ore were broken down at one time, making probably the cheapest mining that was ever done in the province of British Columbia.

Three 18 foot holes were drilled in the wall or east side of the glory hole or ore quarry, and were heavily charged, the result being as above stated.

Much the best, at Boyle's.

UNION LABEL

TWENTIETH CENTURY CHRISTMAS.

Before another issue of the Pioneer is presented to its readers, Christmas day of the twentieth century will have come and gone—meaning that since the birth of Christ more than 2,000 years have rolled by. This is the season of "Peace on earth, good will to men," as exemplified by the lowly Nazarene so many years ago. It is the season of good wishes, and better still of good deeds. There is not a reader of the Pioneer but can make himself, as well as others, happier at this season by practicing this. To a large extent this is a selfish world, and the great majority are looking out for themselves only. Nevertheless, it is a fact that by bestowing happiness on others one invariably and generally unknowingly brings happiness to himself.

In a mining community there are always many—as in any other community—who do not believe in the teachings of the man who gave Christianity its name. Nevertheless, the greatest tribute to the man from Nazareth is the fact that every civilized nation under the sun is under Christian government. Agnostics and atheists may argue as they will, but they cannot gainsay this great fact. While many do not allow themselves to be guided by the rules of Christianity, yet they are living in a Christian land—and the land is certainly better off on this account.

There is probably not a man in this camp today who, if approached, would not willingly contribute to the Christmas tree that will be given here next Monday for the benefit and happiness of all the children of Phoenix. Every man may not be willing to acknowledge it, but this is the spirit of Christ. It is doing as he would do were he on earth again. It is a good thing for each one of us, at this annual holiday season, to tarry from our labors, and make the effort to bring happiness into the lives of others—lives, perhaps, that know little of the meaning of happiness. May every one in Phoenix make this effort this year.

LOOKING AT THE BRIGHT SIDE.

The following article in Tuesday's Nelson Tribune is worth reproducing in full:

J. B. McArthur writes the Tribune from Toronto on the 12th instant. He says:

"I want to keep in touch with the political situation in British Columbia during the winter months. I am glad to see things are improving in the province, and another year will make a great difference. Confidence is slowly being re-established in British Columbia mines."

The above is the view of a clear-headed and progresive man. No words of lamentation; instead, the bright side is looked on. The way to re-establish confidence in our mines is to have confidence in them ourselves. If our own people have confidence in the resources of British Columbia and make the fact known, outsiders will not continue to give us the "marble heart."

The way to restore confidence to our mines is to adopt Horace Greeley's idea of resuming specie payments. In 1865, the paper money of the great republic was at a discount because of the immense issue of green-backs made to pay the expenses of the civil war. The resumption of specie payments was a burning question, and the sage and philosophical Horace claimed the way to resume specie payments was to resume. In other words, if the government would only announce that it would redeem green-backs in specie on a certain date, on that date green-backs would be at par, as the people did not really want to exchange their green-backs for specie, they only wanted to know that the government was ready to do it. And Horace Greeley was right. The day specie payments were resumed, the amount of green-backs presented for redemption was so small that people began to wonder why specie payments had not been resumed months before.

So with confidence in mines and other business enterprises in British Columbia. Let the people announce the fact that they have confidence, and confidence will be restored so quickly that people will wonder why it was ever lost. Shouting blue ruin and putting on a poor mouth is not the way to restore confidence. Proclaim the facts as to what our mines and smelters are doing and what our people intend to do, and it will be surprising the influence such proclamations will have in giving outsiders confidence in British Columbia.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

It will soon be time to make new resolutions for the coming year. One of these should be to see that the printer is paid promptly. There are a few overdue subscriptions to the Pioneer.

The holidays are right at hand, and the merchants of Phoenix have larger and better stocks than ever before to accommodate the holiday shoppers. Nearly everything wanted can be had right here.

With three and a half cents per pound for lead as the price staring them in the face after January 1st, it is no wonder the Slocan mine owners do not look happy these days. In the Boundary the price of lead has no effect.

For "Imperial reasons" the Oriental labor question is practically shelved by the Imperial government at London. If the members of the Imperial cabinet would take a trip through the Pacific coast cities, they would have a different opinion on the subject.

The Rossland Miner calls the editors who do not agree with its reprehensible style of journalism, "nincompoops," etc. As nearly the entire press of the province is on one side and the Rossland Miner on the other, the latter's idle vaporings are gauged at their true worth.

About the best Christmas present that could be given to John Bull or Uncle Sam would be the termination of the Boer and Phillipine wars. From present appearances these wars will still last for many moons.

How many mines in the province have been provided with trackage facilities equal to 50 cars? It is safe to say that the Granby mines in Phoenix are the only ones that can be placed in this category.

At this holiday season, while the year has not been all that was desired or hoped, the newspapers of this section should be thankful that there has really been steady progress in nearly all the mining camps in the last twelve months.

Both Bernard McDonald and Director Frechville have submitted their reports on the great Le Roi mine and there is only a difference of over 50 per cent. between them. Nevertheless, the Le Roi is a wonderful property, and with good management will yet again pay large dividends.

According to the press dispatches, the Rothchilds, who contral Rio Tintos, and Rockefeller, who owns the Amalgamated, are entering on the fight of their lives over the copper market. It is not stated what becomes of the little fellows during the scrap, but at present there is some decline in the red metal market.

The Snowshoe owners are testing the oil concentrating process for reduction of ores, and the London and B.C. Goldfields, one of the most successful of old country concerns operating in the province, is making experiments along the same line. As the process is a cheap one, if it is a success, as claimed, it will increase the value of every claim in the Boundary.

Over $2,000,000 worth of ore has been shipped from Boundary mines this year, and it has all been smelted in the province—within a few miles of the mines from which it was extracted. And yet, ore production in the Boundary is merely in its infancy. Next year there is every reason to believe that ore valued at over five millions of dollars will be taken from our mines.

From the attendance of late at the Phoenix Public School, it appears that the city will receive from the government next year the sum of $1,400 for the expenses of the local school. This is based on an average of 70 scholars for the last quarter. This amount will hardly meet all the expenses, and the city will provide the rest, according to the new School Act.

Hon. Wilmer C. Wells, chief commissioner of land and works, has returned from the east, and is once more relating the result of his visit to the Dominion capital, which summed up is as follows: The Dominion government may or may not assist the Const Kootenay railway; it may or may not bonus the Canadian Northern railway, and it may or may not contribute to the building of the New Westminster bridge. But the province will foot Mr. Wells' bills for securing the valuable information.

WHAT THE EDITORS SAY.

The Coeur d'Alene mine owners have knuckled down to the trust and will take $3.50 for their lead. Another cut will probably follow when the trust gets rid of its surplus.—Sandon Paystreak.

If Smith Curtis, M. P. P., Rossland, will stand pat, and work consistently along the lines he has laid down in a platform he has proposed, he will win a place in the hearts of the people.—Lardeau Eagle.

The Canadian Mining Review published in Ottawa and actuated by jealousy of everything British Columbian, is at the present time violently attacking the Granby Consolidated company. In its last outslaught it states in three places in the article that the value of the Knob Hill and Ironsides ore is respectively $7, $5 and $4 a ton. The accuracy of its knowledge may be inferred.—Victoria Post.

The Crow's Nest Coal Company now turn out 2000 tons of coke per day.

John H. Mackenzie, the new manager of the Le Roi, has taken full charge.

W. H. Brewer, M. E., advocates the establishment of a copper refinery on the coast.

The Vermillion Forks Mining Company is now selling coal at its Princeton mine.

Chas. W. McCrossan says he will build a 40 ton smelter at Trout Lake City next spring.

The first car of ore from the Molly Gibson mine this season has reached the Nelson smelter.

A company has been formed to work the gravels of Granite creek, Similkameen, by hydraulicing.

Shipments from Rossland for last week are given as 5,750 tons, the same as for the previous week.

The Anderson Lake group, Lillooet, has been taken over on a $60,000 bond by San Francisco capitalists.

Hall Mines shares are beginning to climb up again on the London market, the latest quotations received in Nelson being 10s. 3d.

A. F. Rosenberger, of Nelson, has gone to Michigan and Minnesota to push sale of stock in the Northwestern Development syndicate.

It is announced that steps are now being taken for the reorganization of the Athabasca mine, and that the prospects are good for an early resumption of work.

It is given out that the Kingston group, adjoining the Nickel Plate, in the Similkameen, has been bonded to eastern Canadian capitalists for $100,000, and that development on an extensive scale will soon be instituted.

The fourth dividend for 1901 has just been paid by the Ymir mine, making the total distribution during the year $192,000. That the profits are being well maintained is indicated by the fact that the last returns made of monthly profits are in excess of those of any previous month.

McRae Bros. & Smith have the finest line of Christmas goods ever brought into the Boundary. You'll miss it if you don't see their stock.

COPPER TRUST CANNOT DO HARM

Interests Cannot For Long Be Adversely Affected.

WILL SOON CONTROL THE MARKET

Copper Can Be Produced in This Province For Cheaper Than in Any Other Part of the World.

The gigantic war in copper being conducted by the Amalgamated Copper company against outside producers is still causing no end of excitement in the great markets of the world, and every copper producing district outside of British Columbia has been adversely affected by the slump. This province has undoubtedly felt the effect of the hammering down of the price of copper, but not to an extent yet appreciable.

A gentleman of this city, well known to be on the inside track of copper transactions, was interviewed this morning on the probable effect the war now being waged will have upon the copper mining industry of British Columbia. He stated that up to the present time no material harm had been worked to this province, and that it did not matter if the price of copper dropped to ten cents per pound so far as British Columbia is concerned. He claimed that owing to the cheapness with which copper can be produced in British Columbia the fall in the price did not matter, and in point of fact this province will within a few years time hold the balance of power in copper markets, raising or lowering the price at will, according to the production.

Manufacturers of articles into which copper enters largely, are also somewhat responsible for the fall of the price. They have lately been purchasing as little as possible, and the great market for American copper in Germany has vanished owing to the financial depression from which that country is now suffering. To sum up the situation the demand for copper is far less than the production. The Calumet and Hecla mines, the Rio Tinto mines, and the Chilean mines, have been disposing of their product outside of the Amalgamated control, and it is from their stocks that manufacturers have largely drawn.

Should the price be hammered down to ten cents per pound, the majority of the American mines and sources of output would be forced to close down owing to the expense of production being greater than the sale price. Here in British Columbia copper can be produced as low as eight cents per pound, and sufficient at that price to control the market. Should the American mines close, copper will find the twenty cent mark at a bound. — Vancouver Province.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

H. N. Boss, who is interested in the deal pending between the Dominion Copper Co. for the transfer of the Brooklyn group to the Mother Lode people, has gone to New York in company with Engineer Thomas, where the matter will be decided probably in the next few days. Mr. Boss thought something definite should be known by Christmas or New Years. In the meanwhile, the water is being kept out of the Brooklyn and Stemwinder, until the result of the negotiations is known.

The Boundary Creek Telephone and Telegraph Co., Ltd., (the old Sperry line) has brought suit for damages against the old Columbia Co. It appears that the Columbia Co., having sold out its entire lines to the Vernon & Nelson Co., or more properly speaking, to the British Columbia Telephones, Ltd., the English concern controlling the telephone business in this province, the Columbia directors have ceased paying the $175 per month notes, the purchase price of the old Sperry line. Hence the suit.

At that time there were three independent telephone companies here, and Boundary business men were telephoned to death, with an indifferent service. Then the Columbia line swallowed the Sperry line, and last summer, the Vernon & Nelson line swallowed both. The present arrangement is certainly more satisfactory to business men, and the tolls are reasonable.

Speaking of tolls, the announcement is made that after the 1st of January next, local phones connected with exchanges in the Boundary will be charged for at the rate of $4 for business phones and $3 for residences. Heretofore, on account of competition, the flat rate has been $2.50 per month.

D. R. Young is certainly a versatile man. Mr. Young was connected with various newspapers in the Kootenays for a number of years, and among his acquaintances is known as "Windy" Young. Last summer he succeeded in organizing the Similkameen Valley Coal Co., and secured some valuable coal measures near Princeton. A townsite was laid out adjoining Smith Curtis' townsite of Copperfield, and eventually Copperfield was bought outright and amalgamated with the new townsite of Ashnola. It is needless to say that great things are predicted of Ashnola by its owners, and a number of good men are reported to have gone into the company.

But there is no pent-up Utica about Mr. Young. He has been down to the coast lately, and the papers there tell us that he has organized a smelter company, to build at Ashnola. This is evidently no small affair, that will be satisfied with say a capacity of 250 or even of 500 tons per day, but according to the announcement of Mr. Young, will begin by treating a round thousand tons of Similkameen ore every 24 hours. It will also be arranged so that it can be enlarged readily to a capacity of 2,000 tons daily. Exactly which mines will contribute this initial tonnage of 1,000 tons per day, Mr. Young does not state, nor whether the ore will be hauled by wagon, mule team or on pack animals. These little things he appears to think will regulate themselves in time. He is confident of having railway transportation some day, and all the rest is apparently easy—if only the dear public will subscribe for the shares.

VERNON & MIDWAY RAILWAY

May Be Built By F. August Heinze of Butte.

F. August Heinze has come to the front again in British Columbia railway circles. He is credited with being largely interested in the Vernon and Midway railway charter and is said to have deposited $160,000 in a bank at Victoria as a guarantee of good faith.

The charter was obtained at the last session of the provincial legislature, carrying with it a bonus of $4,000 per mile for 125 miles, or a total of $500,000. In reality, the road forms the connecting link between Vernon, the southern terminus of the Shuswap and Okanogan railway, and Midway, the western terminus of the Columbia & Western railway. It will also give practically a through road from the Coast to Kootenay points, pending the construction of the proposed Victoria, Vancouver & Eastern road.

While it cannot be announced positively, there are good grounds for believing that F. August Heinze is the purchaser of the controlling interest in the charter. Mr. Coyle was one of Heinze's engineers on the construction of the Rossland-Trail road.

John B. Donald of Grand Forks is credited with making the deal. Donald recently accompanied Coyle over the proposed route from Midway to Vernon. The two men went to Victoria, where they were joined by D. J. Fitzgerald, who is Heinze's right hand man in the province. From Victoria Coyle and Fitzgerald hastened to Butte. From this the inference is drawn that Heinze is the man who is putting up the money to build the road. If it is correct, the Canadian Pacific railway has for a second time to meet the operator who makes his headquarters in the "biggest camp on earth."

Robinson Lumber Co's. boat on Arrowhead-Thompsons Landing run will in future make one trip daily only, leaving Arrowhead 10 a. m. returning arrive Arrowhead 2 p. m.

No Despensing With Publicity.

That all great business men have been great advertisers is not coincidence, but simple cause and effect. Men like Barnum and Lipton began by keeping small shops in side streets, but they were not content to remain obscure. First and foremost they turned to advertising. It mattered little that they had no large sums to spend in dignified advertisements. They took the best means that their capital would afford, and though their initial ventures in advertising were generally outlandish and crude, they served the purpose of letting people know that Barnum and Lipton were keepers of small shops—better small shops than those of thousands of their contemporaries who never rose in the world. As fast as their fortunes grew they increased their advertising expenditures, nor did they ever reach a point at which they thought they could dispense with publicity.—Printers' Ink.

The Grand Forks Miner-Gazette is at odds with the city council of that place, and a recent issue occupied a couple of columns to relate all the nice (?) things the members of the council had said of the Miner-Gazette editor. The same issue contains an apology for statements made previously regarding Mayor White.

Two Men Hurt at the Snowshoe.

Last Saturday an accident happened at the Snowshoe mine, when Henry Syrsted and N. H. Gillespie were the victims of an explosion. It happened in a drift being run in the open quarry at two o'clock in the morning. The two men had gone on shift and were drilling into an old hole, when they struck powder, and an explosion followed. Syrsted was the worst injured of the two, having his legs broken and his eyes injured, while Gillespie got off with a broken bone in one wrist. Both were taken at once to the hospital by Dr. Gordon, the company's physician. Syrsted has lost the sight of one eye entirely, and the other may be saved.

What the City Council Did This Week.

At Wednesday's meeting of the city council all the members were present except Alderman McInnis. Trades License By-Law Amendment By-Law No. 34 was read a first time, and passed, and the city health officer reported on the case of George Elliott, who has been ill and destitute at Black's hotel. It was decided to allow $10 to send him to his relatives at Yuir.

The council also decided to have the nominations for aldermen at Hardy-McKenzie hall, which will take place January 13th, and the election in the same place, the city clerk being the returning officer.

Curling Club Organized.

Tuesday evening the Phoenix Curling Club was organized, and now has a membership of 28, with others to join. The following officers were elected: President, G. W. Rumberger; vice-president, R. B. Boucher; secretary-treasurer, I. Crawford. The matter has been talked of for some time, and at last has taken the above definite form. It has also been decided to erect a curling rink not far from the present skating rink. While there are not a large number of old curlers in Phoenix, there are many that are willing to learn, and the old Scotch sport will doubtless have many patrons this winter.
