LARGE CROWDS SEE CHAHKO MIKA

Daily News Cup Won by F. Hutton, Grand Forks --Biner Wins Trophy.

Nelson's unique festival, the Chahko Mika, which is to close today, Saturday, has evidently turned out the success that its promotors prophesied for it. The competitions, for which valuable prizes were offered were all eagerly entered for and keenly contested. Greenwood is exulting over the honors won by its amateur champion trap shooter, Dan Biner, who by breaking 178 birds out of 200 captured the highly prized Ink and Ward trophy. The handicap events in the same sport were also shared by Greenwood, A. Logan dividing the honors with J. Watson of Crawford bay by breaking 45 out of 50. Grand Forks sent some of its crack riflemen, one of whom, F. Hutton, shooting at 600, 800 and 1000 yards made the record of the Chahko Mika by scoring 93 out of a possible 105 points, thus winning the Daily News cup. Phoenix sent several teams to enter for the machine drilling contest, the result of which has not reached us before going to press.

The prize for the best float in the grand parade was won by the Scandinavian Aid and Fellowship society. It was the most novel one in the procession and fully deserved the recognition afforded it, representing as it did the coming to America of Lief Erickson and his followers. The wonderfully realistic Viking ship was manned by sixteen sturdy sons of the north, with complete war riggings and weapons. Suits of mail typifying that worn by the ancient Norsemen encased each member of the crew, while four ladies on horseback, representing Canada, Sweden, Norway and Denmark, formed a pretty escort for the float. The float was immediately followed by a body of the lady members, all dressed in their national costume.

S. H. & E. F. Officers

The members of the local lodge of the Scandinavian Aid and Fellowship Society assembled in large numbers on Sunday, July 12th, for the purpose of installing in office the newly-elected officers who are to guide the destinies of the society in Phoenix for the next six months. The ceremony was carried out with becoming dignity by Messrs. Emil Carlson, A. O. Johnson and Gus. Peterson, to whose indefatigable and unselfish efforts is due in no small degree the enviable position the society now holds among other fraternal and benefit organizations in this city. The installation having terminated, the brethren were entertained to refreshments by the ladies of the order and the remainder of the evening was occupied in listening to the speeches and suggestions of the new officers, the names of whom are as follows: Pres., Ed. Mellrudd; V. P., E. G. Berg; R. S., Louis Carlson; V. R. S., A. Adolphson; V. F. S., Algat Larson; Marshall, Carl Larson; Chaplain, F. Ohman; V. C., F. Carlson; I. G., G. Gustafson; O. G., Otto Johnson; Librarian, Celius Nelson; V. L., J. Jacobson; and Trustee, H. Swanson.

Day And Night Phone

Within the very near future, Phoenix will be in phone communication at all hours of the day and night with Rossland, Nelson, Grand Forks and Greenwood, and of course with all other points within that radius. O. D. Bush, the enterprising proprietor of the Brooklyn hotel, informs us that he has made arrangements to that effect with the British Columbia Telephone company. The new system, which will be on the slot machine principle, is said to have given the greatest of satisfaction wherever it has been tried. While Mr. Bush does not pretend to assume the role of a public benefactor in the matter, the fact remains that this innovation will prove a highly useful convenience to the commercial element and a valuable asset to the camp.

Mining Notes of British Columbia

According to the Portland Canal Miner, the Clothier Bros. have taken a lease on the Silver Cup, and they have organized a leasing company composed mostly of New Hazelton and Prince Rupert people. This will make another mine operating the year round.

A petition signed by mining men and business people of Hope and others directly interested in the progress of Summit camp, has been forwarded to the Minister of Public Works, asking that the Trail from the Coqihalla river to Summit camp be re-opened as early as possible.

Seven thousand six hundred and twenty-two tons of ore from the mines of the Kootenay and Boundary were treated at the smelter of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting company at Trail during the past week, making the total tonnage treated for the year to date 173,861 tons.—Trail News.

The Omineca Herald says that Frank A. Brown has returned to Hazelton with the report of a new copper-gold strike made near McDonald's saw mill above Telkwa this spring. Mr. Brown says that recently another group of claims was staked in the same locality by J. Dravenstott and associates. The latter saw samples of the ore and says it is strong in copper.

As the result of the recent rebuilding and enlarging of one of the copper furnaces at the Trail smelter, the company's mines in Rossland will likely be called upon for an increased shipment of ore. Four copper furnaces are now running at the smelter. Heretofore the mines have sent down from six to seven hundred tons per day. The four furnaces will now accommodate three hundred tons additional per day, and this ore must come from the mines in Rossland.—Miner.

Chester F. Lee, mining engineer from Seattle, recently arrived in Princeton and went up to inspect the work on the Roaney hydraulics on the Tulameen river, between Princeton and Coalmont, where the company has twenty men employed getting the ditches and pipe line in shape for hydraulicing. Several gold and platinum specimens have been taken from these placers. The leases are located on the old south channel of Granite creek and rich returns are expected when the bedrock is cleaned up.—Similkameen Star.

Alex. Smith, manager of the Surprise mine at Sandon, and who recently returned after spending the winter in Ontario, was in town on Friday last, says a recent issue of the Slocan Record. Mr. Smith stated that the Surprise people would build a concentrator this season. The new cable for the aerial tram is being strung. Mr. Smith said nothing in reference to the mine, but the fact that regular shipments of high grade ore are being made, and that a mill is to be built is evidence that the ore reserves are satisfactory.

"I would not say that there will be a boom—which no one wants to see anyway—but there will be a great increase in the legitimate mining development of the Similkameen during the next few years, says L. W. Shatford, M.P.P., who has recently concluded a tour of inspection of that constituency. "Mining prospects in that section are exceedingly bright. Several properties are being bonded, and considerable outside capital will be introduced this season. The old Fairview camp, which contains a large amount of low-grade ore, is showing unmistakable signs of renewed activity, and this same development applies to other sections of the district."

Petition Being Prepared

The oft-repeated suggestions of the Pioneer, that some action be taken by the authorities to stock Loon lake with some suitable species of fish, have up to the present met with no response, but the friends of the movement will be pleased to learn that the matter is shortly to be brought to the attention of the parliamentary representative of this riding, Hon. Martin Burrell, in the form of a petition. The document, which is being prepared by W. H. Bambury, will be ready for signature on Tuesday at Thos. Brown's store, when every British subject in the camp should make a point of signing it. Loon lake is distant about five miles from Phoenix. It is about three-quarters of a mile in length and probably a quarter of a mile in width. The new government road runs parallel with it for its entire length.

Visits Lillooet

Alderman M. Kane, who for the past few years has spent considerable time prospecting in the Lillooet district, and who possesses some promising mining claims in that section of B.C., left on Thursday morning for the purpose of completing his usual annual assessment work. Mr. Kane appears to think that while other portions of the province are likely to receive considerable attention in the near future, the next mining excitement of any consequence will be in the Lillooet.

To Attend Convention

Harry Elsmore, president of the local Branch of the Western Federation of Miners, who was recently elected a delegate from Phoenix to the 21st convention of the above union, left on Saturday for Vancouver, where before leaving for the gathering at Denver, Colorado, he will attend the annual convention of the British Columbia Federation of Labor.

THE JEWEL MINE RUNS STEADILY

Mill Works Without Interuption—New Body of Ore Struck.

Reports from the Jewel mine on Long lake, are of a decidedly gratifying character. The entire force of fifty or sixty men are working full time, and the mill is affording the liveliest of satisfaction to all concerned. Below ground the outlined plan of development is yielding the most promising of results. During the driving of the raise from the 400 to the 300 level a splendid body of ore, averaging seven feet, was struck. The surface improvements recently carried out include a residence for the mill foreman, P. Brady. W. Roe, mine foreman, whose health has been failing for some time, has gone to the coast to recuperate.

A Danger Point

The absence of a crossing of any description over the Great Northern railroad at Hale is causing the owners of motor cars in Phoenix and elsewhere no little inconvenience, not to say anxiety. The last on the list to come to grief is N. J. Carson, one of the springs of whose machine was completely snapped in two. We understand that something is about to be done to remedy matters, the attention of the railroad commissioners having been drawn to the danger by no less a personage than the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. Martin Burrell, who in company with the provincial member for Greenwood were recently stalled at that particular point. The crossing, or rather the want of one, constitutes the only dangerous link in the Boundary's splendid chain of government roads.

Republic is to have a new school building at a cost of $36,000.

Warning to Canadian Girls

Despite the entente cordiale there has been no change in the laws governing the marriage of a Frenchman with a woman of another country. Such a union whether contracted in or out of France, without the consent of the bridegroom's parents is illegal and in the eyes of the French law the issue of such a marriage is illegitimate. The pseudo husband is at liberty to return to la belle France and contract another marriage. So sweeping is the French law on this subject, that it matters not if the bridegroom is 70 years old, Jacques must gain the consent of his father. The foregoing is the text of a warning recently sounded by one of the most prominent of London magistrates, whose time has been taken up listening to the pathetic plaints of many of these misguided English "widows." In view of the fact that there has been a not inconsiderable influx of French immigrants into the prairie provinces and British Columbia, the warning has just as much significance to our own Canadian girls as it has for those to whom it was originally addressed.

Campbell-Bennett

The nuptials attending the wedding of William Munro Campbell to Miss Elizabeth M. Bennett, were quietly solemnized on Wednesday, July 15, at St. John's church, by the vicar, Rev. Laurence B. Lee. The bridegroom has been for many years associated with Phoenix, coming here from Belmont, Prince Edward Island. The bride is one of Auld Scotia's fair daughters, and claims the old burgh of Dreghorn in Ayrshire as her birthplace. They have taken up their residence on Brooklyn avenue.

Curious Present

Chas. Maynard, pianist at the Phoenix Opera house, is evidently preparing to enter the snake-charming profession. On Tuesday last he was in receipt of a box containing a fine healthy specimen of a Texas bull snake, forwarded to him by a friend in San Antonio. The reptile, which by the way had to be cleared at the custom house and duty paid on it, is said to be quite harmless and has the reputation of being the inveterate foe of the rattle snake, a purpose for which it is often tamed and kept around the ranches in the lone star state. If this is so, then its arrival in Phoenix is opportune, a den of rattlers having been found and one of them killed last Sunday under one of the trestles adjacent to the town. The new arrival has so far proved very tractable, but there are times when Mr. Maynard is almost under the impression that he has swallowed a neighbor's collie dog. At such times he emits the bellow from which he evidently derives its name of "bull" snake. It is nearly seven feet in length and in looks much resembles a rattlesnake.

Orange Organizer's Visit

J. W. Whiteley, organizer for the Loyal Orange Association was in town during the week looking into the affairs of the local lodge here. Mr. Whiteley reports much progress and says that considerable of his time has been taken up this year in forming new lodges. The order in British Columbia and the prairies is increasing in numbers to a remarkable degree, said Mr. Whiteley, and before long an additional organizer will in all probability be placed in the field. The organizer left on Friday for Grand Forks to take part in the initiation of a class of new candidates.

SATURDAY, JULY 18, 1914.

Sir Richard McBride has recently given an unqualified denial to the report that an election would take place in August.

Referring to Canada's decision to keep Asiatics out of the Dominion, the London Times says that "influences that corrode and resist assimilation must be excluded."

Visiting the South Pole appears to be no picnic. The Victoria Times in a recent issue says that Shackleton and his crew will subsist mainly on such delectable dishes as lard, oil, nuts, oats and dried milk. We would like to see a copy of their menu card for next Lent.

F. J. Smythe, who is now comfortably installed in the manager's chair of the Similkameen Star, says he had the pleasure of handling "eight pounds of coarse nuggetty gold, just to let him see what it felt like." Couldn't have been much of a surprise to F. J. seeing that he has only just left Phoenix.

W. G. Kennedy, the well-known merchant of Greenwood, has offered a prize to the person landing the biggest trout this season from Boundary creek. The idea is a good one and may result in reducing the abnormal number of fish liars who visit that favorite angling resort. The number of big fish that escaped last year was incredible.

Reports from the east say the Farmers' bank depositors are holding indignation meetings. Sir Wilfrid and his Grit senators should make a point of attending some of them. In passing we note that in the constituencies where the greater number of depositors lived, they did not dash out and elect Liberals. No, not to any extent.

Premier Roblin of Manitoba has met the fate of all who attempt the impossible feat of running with the hare and running with the hounds. The experiment has always proved a disastrous one to all who have tried it, and in future he must take his place with either the one or the other. Ever since his last election he has been riding furiously for a fall.

The advocates of reciprocity must be somewhat surprised at the prevailing ptices obtained for Canadian wheat on the Minneapolis market. According to the Winnipeg Free Press, the leading Liberal organ of Manitoba, the prices for June showed a margin of four cents per bushel in favor of the figures at Winnipeg. Options for July in Winnipeg were 89⅝c. while the quotations in Minneapolis were only 84⅜.

The recent rush to take up the issue of the new French loan, which has been over subscribed to the extent of forty times the amount, calls attention to the remarkable money-lending power of the French peasantry. At the end of the Franco-Prussian war that remarkable people staggered the civilized world by paying off the Prussian indemnity of approximately a million million of dollars in the incredibly short space of six months.

Dr. David Jamieson of South Grey, is being mentioned as a probable choice for the speakership of the newly-elected Ontario House. He is a veteran of the legislature, a man who rarely takes part in debate, but who always has some message to deliver when he does get up. If he receives the appointment he will be second of that name to rise to distinction in the overseas dominions of the empire, the other being Dr. Starr Jamieson of the South African parliament, and the leader of the now historical raid.

A leading English suffragette has recently petitioned the King praying that some recognition be given to her sex in the next list of royal honors. She enclosed with her letter the names of several suffragettes whom she suggests are worthy of some sort of title. But where is is the necessity for such a request as far as the militants are concerned. Has not every man in Great Britain and Ireland been bestowing titles on suffragettes for the past three years, and the King having been raised a sailor, there is no reason to suppose has been behindhand in the practice.

In his plea for the Hindus to be admitted to Canada, the Rev. Dr. Symonds of Christ's Church cathedral, Montreal, says that the people of India, though differing in color, are of the same Aryan stock as we ourselves. Taking the same line of argument we might add that the present day racehorse is of the same family tree as that of the prairie cayuse. Yet that is no reason why we should confine ourselves to the use of the latter. The doctor also advances the theory that the literature of our very unwelcome visitors is one of the greatest in the world, but it is within the realms of conjecture that the doctor's knowledge of Sanscrit is on a par with that of his familiarity with labor conditions in British Columbia.

July 1, Canada's natal day, will also be a memorable date in the history of the navy of our cousins to the south of us. On that day the order of the American naval secretary, forbidding the use of wine, beer, or any other alcoholic beverages on the warships of Uncle Sam went into effect. One can now imagine the scene in the wardroom of a Russian ship on the reading of an invitation to dine with their brothers under the stars and stripes. In this connection it would be interesting to know the part that he, of grape juice and 16 to 1 memory has had to do with an innovation which, after all, will be watched with more than ordinary interest by the medical staffs of every naval service in Europe.

The record of our Northwest Mounted police is one that we Canadians are never tired of talking about, and it is with feelings akin to alarm that people in this country have viewed the apathy of headquarters to the report, now nearly two years old, of the murder in the far north of two white explorers, one an American and the other a Canadian. Canada is a new country, thousands of square miles of which have never been thoroughly explored and thefr resources tabulated. Under the circumstances it is patent to everyone that any interference with the exploration and exploitation of the northern districts must be sternly suppressed. Man, whether white or red, must be allowed to traverse our trackless wilds with as much assurance of saftety as that attending a quiet stroll around the palisades of the police fort at Macleod. Canadians expect it, and no consideration of time or money should be allowed to stand in the way of its actual realization. Better late than never is a poor maxim, but for once we have to accept it, coupled with the hope that the expedition now preparing to start in pursuit of the murderers may be as successful as the great majority of similar undertakings that have been taken in hand by our scarlet-coated riders of the western plains.

No More Potlatches

At an Indian potlatch recently held at Duncan, Vancouver island, Indian Agent W. R. Robertson announced to the tribes that in future the regulations prohibiting potlatches would be rigidly enforced and that no more such gatherings would be allowed. The chiefs of the various tribes have signed a strong protest which will be forwarded to Ottawa.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Poaching on the British Columbia halibut fishing grounds by American schooners is decreasing owing to the number of fish protection cruisers placed in commission by the Ottawa authorities.

The three-masted gasoline schooner Ruby leaves Vancouver in a few days for Herchell island with stores for the Royal Northwest Mounted Police post. She is the only vessel to go there this year.

The cruiser Rainbow, flagship of the Canadian navy on the Pacific, is to be pressed into commission at once. She has been ordered to assist in the patrol of the Behring sea.

During the month of June no less than 926 claims for petroleum and gas rights were applied for in the Edmonton recording district. The sum of $100,000 was received in license fees.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Chilliwack Game Protection association held a few days ago, a resolution to recommend the shortening of the hunting season was passed.

Hundreds of acres of land are being leased near Sumas city by persons firm in the belief that oil may be found in paying quantities there. The report says that surface indications exist on either side of the international line.

Several prairie schooners loaded with household effects and accompanied by much live stock, passed through Cranbrook last week en route for Idaho. They came from the neighbourhood of Moosejaw in Saskatchewan.

In pursuance of Lord Strathcona's bequest of $25,000 for the establishment of a leper asylum in England, a farm has been purchased about four miles from the town of Chelmsford There are said to be twenty known lepers in the British Isles. The dreaded malady is said to have been first introduced into Britain by the returning crusaders.

One of the strangest looking bears ever caught in the Revelstoke district, is in the possession of H Munro, who trapped and then shot it. The hide of the animal is a cream color, while its four paws are a dark brown. It was extremely fierce.

Quite a new and wide principle is being adopted by the Imperial government in the formation of the new naval flying corps. Any civilian who qualifies himself can now enter the service direct either as an officer or air mechanic. The rate of pay is higher than that of the submarines, a wing captain receiving twelve dollars per day.

A french naval diver recently engaged off Cherbourg in the work of recovering a lost torpedo, found the projectile buried deeply in the sand, but while in the act of extricating it the propellor commenced to revolve at great speed cutting his airline. The man immediately seized hold of the torpedo, which began to move upwards and eventually landed him by the side of the warship's boat.

What is said to be the largest cougar shot on Vancouver island, was recently killed at Cowichan lake by Ike Holman, dean of the B.C. cougar hunters. The hide measured eight feet four inches in length, the largest one shot measuring two inches more. The latter was killed last year. Mr. Holman is the hunter who relieved the anxiety of many people at Stanley park some time ago when a large cougar strayed into the park and terrorized the residents. He has already bagged thirteen cougars this spring in the Cowichan district and in that way makes a livelihood. There is a government bounty of $15 on each skin.

Women And Chinamen

The following culled from the the Week is worthy of the consideration of those in the Boundary who make a practice of employing Chinaman as "housemaids":

"In consequence of certain recent happenings the Week wishes to sound a note of warning. It does so at the suggestion of one of the most eminent jurists in the province. How many women are there in British Columbia who regard a Chinaman as a mere chattel, a machine, a log? How many are there who never think of him as a man of flesh and blood, and none the less a man because his natural demeanor is apparently so calm and unimpressionable? What right have we to complain if the Chinaman yields to temptations which few white men could resist, and to which he is constantly exposed by the thoughtlessness of those who have never regarded him as anything more than an automatum?"

Hosmer Mines

The closing down and dismantling of the Hosmer coal mines by the Canadian Pacific Railway company has occasioned considerable criticism of a decidedly unfair character, and in order to get a better understanding of the why and wherefore of the company's action a correspondent of this paper sends us a few of the facts obtained in a recent interview with Mr. Dennis, assistant to the president of the C.P.R. company.

"Since the company established the Hosmer mine six years ago," said Mr. Dennis, "large sums have been spent in an effort to make the property productive, but for the past two years the colliery has been run at a steadily increasing loss. The property in the first place was only primarily intended to supply fuel for our own needs, together with coke for the Trail smelter. It was incapable of doing that, so the only alternative left us was to close it down. It was never our intention to work it for the sale of coal.

"We realize that our action is causing the miners some inconvenience, and I say that if the mine could have been operated to only meet expenses, it would never have been closed down. It was not a sound business proposition.

"As to the townsite and those who are left with property on their hands," continued Mr. Dennis, "we have nothing to do with that. We didn't own it. It was bought and laid out by a local syndicate from the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company. It was not situated on C.P.R. property. We had supplied residences for our employees adjacent to the mine. There is no doubt but that some hardship will be imposed on those who have taken up property in the town, but the company can in no sense be held responsible for that. We will be able to employ some of those who have been thrown out of work on our other properties."

A MISTAKEN IDEA

There are some people who still resort to drugged pills or alcoholic syrups to overcome colds, nervousness or general debility, and who know that the pure, unadulterated nourishment in Scott's Emulsion is eminently better, but refrain from taking it because they fear it may lead to excessive fat or obesity.

This is a mistaken idea, because Scott's Emulsion first strengthens the body before making flesh. Its blood-forming properties aid nature to throw off sickness by building health from its very source, and flesh is formed only by its continued use. Avoid alcoholic substitutes for SCOTT'S.
