B. C. Mining

R. J. McDonell received a wire Thursday morning from Frank Brown, who is in Butte, offering him a bond of $200,000 upon the Coronado group on Hudson Bay mountain. Mr. McDonell has had a crew working all winter on the property and it is opening up in fine shape. He does not think he will consider the offer until the early summer, as he desires to complete the work he has undertaken and see what the ground looks like when that is completed. The Coronda group is one of the most promising in the Hudson Bay mountain district. They already have several tons of high grade galena on the dump, and by the time the rails reach them they will have a good sized shipment ready for market.—Omenica Herald.

The Oroville Gazette is responsible for the statement that J. W. Osborn J. J. Moak and other Spokane men have taken a bond on the Waterloo and Fontenoy group of claims at Camp McKinney, B. C., 14 miles northwest of Molson, for the consideration of $50,000 from Dr. C. K. Merriam, Patrick C. Shine and the heirs of the late Benjamin Merrick, the original owners. The new proprietors will start operations as soon as the weather will permit. The Waterloo under the management of Dennis Clarke produced about $40,000 in gold. The mine has been idle for years, however, as it was discovered that the vein dipped into the Fontenoy property. The mines are equipped with a 10 stamp mill and adequate hoisting machinery, costing about $16,000 which are driven by water power. A three mile flume has recently been constructed. There are about 500 tons of ore on the dump ready for treatment. And the new owners intend to start operations as soon possible. It will require from three to four weeks to put the machinery in shape and to pump the water out of the mine A large number of men will be employed so as to push the development as rapidly as possible under the personal direction of Mr. Moak. The reviving of this one time famous boundary camp will be watched with a grert deal of real interest and many of the old timers still hold that McKinney has the making of a fine producer of gold.

The Kootenain of March 6 says: "The first shipment of ore from the No 1 mine, via tram line, was made this week, the Consolidated shipping nine cars while the Silver Hoard has 150 tons at the terminals. Now that the facilities for handling ore are working well the Ainsworth camp ought to make a good showing on the output list. Plans are being considered by the Silver Hoard company where by their mine may be joined by tram to the No 1."

INTERIOR CHAMPIONS OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Team Now in Possession of Three League Trophies—Nelson Gives Fine Exhibition of Canada's Game—Home Defence Strong—O. B. Smith, Jr., Presents Hockey Team and Management with Gold Medals.

Monday saw the finish of the hockey season in the Boundary, when the final game to decide the interior championship of the province took place. The contest was between the crack team of Nelson and that of the home septette. Two cups were up for competition, one presented by the premier, Sir Richard McBride and the other by the leading interior paper, the Nelson Daily News. The continued warm weather had somewhat softened the ice, but even the visitors admitted that its condition was superior to that on which the first series took place in Nelson. It was a clean game throughout and the visitors excited considerable praise for their sportsmanlike qualities and also by the manly way in which they accepted defeat.

Contrary to expectation there was no special train from either Nelson or Grand Forks, but a number came up on the ordinary passenger. There was a crowded attendance, but the tension of the past week among the fans had somewhat relaxed. Fenwick of Nelson executed some really brilliant stunts while Hacking and Greyerbiel seemed to tie for second honors, but on the whole the combination tactics of the visitors left little to be desired. A feature of the game on the Phoenix side was the ill-luck that dogged Moore and Davidson who time after time pierced their opponents line only to find their shots fail. Simliar luck attended the Nelson men. It was hardly a game in which to pick out good points, the treacherous nature of the ice forbidding anything like accuracy or individual work. Referee Niles of Grand Forks, who seems to have become a favorite in Phoenix, ruled the game in a decidealy impartial manner, while Mann of the same city acted very commendably as judge of play.

The contest started at 9.18 p.m. and for a few minutes the features were very even, until Charley Davidson took charge of the rubber and wriggled his way to the visitors' ice where a lively scrimmage took place and the home bunch were forced back to mid-ice. Some very threatening work then took place to the left of Mitchell, which Moore straightened out by a swift bolt for the enemy's net, but what looked suspiciously like a tally was foiled by the tinkle of the off-side bell. Grand Forks quickly returned the visit and treated the home net to three successive shots that Mitchell took splendid care of. Fenwick followed with a long straight shot that Mitch returned in speedy style. Some fine fast play on centre then took place, both sides exerting themselves for a breakaway. Moore turned out to be the lucky one and passed neatly to McKelvey who scored in seven minutes. Resuming, a quick advance was made by the home seven out of which Moore tried an unsuccessful shot. Nelson immediately retaliated and made a rapid change to the other end, where Cochrane caught Mitchell napping and equalized the score by a very slow shot. Both Herb Neil and Bassett now showed up in fine style, the Nelson boys swarming on all sides of the home net in a very business-like manner, but with no result. Some anxious moments were caused at this time by Mitchell leaving the net and sailing around it with the puck. The closing minutes of this period were marked by some good combination work on the part of Nelson together with some really clever checking on the part of McKelvey and Sayers. The score for the first period was 1-1.

Generally speaking, the pace during the second period was not notable for speed, but there were times when an occasional individual stunt enlivened the game. Nelson paid the first visit and Bassett made a fine break, but was cleverly checked by Bishop. Moore also took a rapid business trip to the other end, only to see the puck neatly swiped from him by Atkins. During a scrimmage in front of Mitchell, a shot from a Nelson forward skidded on the former's stick and fell over into the net. Nelson also forced matters and Sayers and Moore did some fine combination work, the the former taking the last pass and making a straight shot that barely missed the post. A second later the same party landed the rubber in the Nelson net. Quite an increase in the speed was then noticed and Phoenix made three unsuccessful visits in as many minutes. Moore tried another shot and missed by a small margin. Heavy work then ensued for Elukie and Moore aroused considerable enthusiasm by some of the neatest stickwork of the evening. Cochrane tried his luck with a long shot, but nothing came of it except it be a short penalty on the fence for Neil for an attempt to trip Taylor. During the six-man period the home bunch held their ground, although their net was vigorously assailed, Bishop and Taylor being very conspicuous. Davidson and Neil twice cleared the danger, and towards the end of the period Sayers made an unusually clever move when he fairly flew past all opposition and scored the third goal for the orange and black. Mitchell was on guard when the gong rang. Score, 3-2 in favor of Phoenix.

Resuming Phoenix forced matters for a couple of minutes, but some clever work by the visiting defence brought the scene of action to mid-ice and for some time the teams seesawed, Neil almost scoring. During a visit of Nelson, Moore grabbed the rubber, and what seemed like another goal was frustrated by Atkins and the puck returned to the front of Mitchell. The third period was noticeable for the individual work on both sides while the gait was considerably increased. Neil of Phoenix shooting a successful high shot, and towards the end another from the same player, shot from centre ice, ended the scoring. The last five minutes witnessed the neatest checking of the season, no side being able to hold the puck more than a couple of seconds. The finish again saw the visitors hard at work on the home ice. Final score: Phoenix 5, Nelson 2.

Visitors Entertained

After the match the local club entertained the visiting sportsmen to supper at the Queen's Hotel and a dance was given in their honor in the Miner's Union hall; the latter affair was largely attended, the dancing being kept up until the following morning. Harold McCoskrie made an excellent floor-manager and the music was furnished by Messrs. Chas. King, Chas. McKay and John Findlay.

During the supper, the handsome trophies, emblematic of the Interior and Boundary championships, were filled with a supply of the generous juice and passed around, after which a number of short speeches were delivered in proposing and replying to the various toasts. Dr. Vigneaux and Mr. Bishop of Nelson spoke in a kindly way of the home team, and expressed the hope that the two teams might meet again next year for the interior championship. Chas. Davidson made a suitable reply and incidentally commented on the fine sporting instincts of the visitors.

Handsome Gifts to Hockey Team

Prior to his departure for the coast a few weeks ago, O. B. Smith, jun., who for years has taken a parental interest in the local hockey club, generously promised a gold medal to each member of the team and management, conditional on the club retaining the Boundary championship. Last week, in accordance with his promise, the medals arrived and at Friday's big smoker the recipients were presented with the jewels, which were greatly admired.

Provincial Voters List

The whole of the old provincial voters' list has been cancelled, and all those wishing to figure on the new list will have to apply immediately. In the event of an election taking place between now and next May, only those registering before the sitting of the next court of revision will be eligible to vote.

Pither-Leiser Curling Trophy

The rinks of Chas. M. Campbell and G. Kay, which throughout the local curling season have been victorious over everything in sight, came together on Saturday last to decide the honors of the Pither-Leiser trophy. Both the above rinks, which have been conspicuous for consistent work throughout the season, had each a score of eleven out of a possible thirteen. The decisive game drew an interested crowd of friends and members of the club, but the poor condition of the ice had the effect of robbing the game of anything in the nature of the spectacular, and accuracy was much a matter of chance. The teams tied on the third end and Kay's rink led on the fourth. On the fifth Campbell took the lead by four and no scoring was done by either side on the sixth end. During the seventh and eighth Campbell's rink notched another couple of points and the final end saw his opponent's score rise two points. Result: Campbell, 10; Kay, 6.

The following composed the contesting rinks: C. M. Campbell, skip; G. S. Thompson, vice; C. H. Knight, second; Murdoch McLeod, lead. G. Kay, skip; Wm. Lindsay, vice; H. Tilton, second; W Brewer, lead.

Witnesses Hockey Game

T. A Love editor of the Grand Forks Gazette, accompanied by a few of the hockey fans of that burg came up on Monday to witness the final stunt of the hockey series. T. A., who at one time guided the destinies of the Pioneer, is a most enthusastic hockey sport, and while here in Phoenix did much to foster interest in Canada's winter game. To Mr. Love belongs the credit for inducing the premier, Sir Richard McBride, to offer his now famous championship trophy.

Sound Logic

An up country business man recently visited Wall street and had a talk with one or two of the regular "fixtures." He was told that under no circumstances should he think of buying stocks at the present, as "the bankers want to give the politicians and labor men a lesson, and are going to plunge the country into a condition of serious depression." The business man was not at all daunted. He bought the stock which he had made up his mind to buy. Speaking of the matter afterwards, he said: "I am in business to make as much money as I can. So are the bankers. When money is being made by manufacturers, merchants and the commercial interests generally, it is being made by the bankers also. I do not want to reduce my own profit for the sake of giving anyone a lesson, and the bankers are no more inclined to such a course than I am. They are big men, and, while at times they may feel disgruntled, they are not of the kind to cut off a foot for the sake of getting rid of a corn."

W. G. WEICHEL, M.P. ON THE NAVY BILL

Member of German Descent Makes Strong Appeal For an Immediate Contribution

One of the most interesting speeches delivered in the debate was that delivered by W. G. Weichel, member for North Waterloo, who defeated Hon McKenzie King. As a member of German descent and repesenting a constituency largely settled by people of German descent, his utterances commanded unusual attention. Canadian unanimity in the Borden proposals was shown by the speech of Mr. Weichel, for although he paid a strong tribute to the greatness and progress of the German Empire he made it very clear that he was enthusiastically behind any plan which made for the strengthening of the ties betwenn Canada and the Motherland and gave his hearty support to the plan for a stronger navy. It was one of the most striking speeches of the debate and seldom a young member gets as close a hearing as Mr. Weichel.

"We have the assurance," said Mr Weichel, "that a permanent naval policy will be submitted to the people latter on. In the meantime let us be true to our profession of loyalty. Let us do something to regain our self-respect. Our sister colonies have put us to shame by doing their share. Why should big and prosperous Canada lag behind? We are proud of our heritage. Proud of our history proud of our Empire. Envious eyes are to-day watching our progress in developing our natural resources. Our future is with that of the Mother country. She has watched over us, has guarded us and now when we are fast becoming a nation it will be to our best interests to stick closely to the Union Jack. She has confidence in us, and to prove it she sends freely of her money to develop our resources. We owe a great deal to England. Although of German origin and proud of my ancestry, I am prouder still that I am a Canadian and a British subject."

And again in closing Mr. Weichel amidst cheers said:

"A great deal has been heard and said about autonomy and rights and far too little abont duties and responsibilities. In my opinion, the principal of local autonomy has once for all been accepted and no serious minded person questions it any longer. Canada is either a part of the Empire or it is not. We cannot any longer with self-respect stand idly by and allow Great Britain to shoulder the whole burden.

The supreme interest of the British Empire is the peace of the world. We would all hail with delight an announcement that the powers had decided to propose disarmament. But as long as nations will persist in arming to the teeth, just so long must the great British nation be in the van, ready at all times to defend her rights and to maintain at all hazards the integrity and stability of the Empire.

Canada's destiny lies with that of the Empire. Our success and prosperity will be assured if we share with her for weal or woe. I hope to be spared to see this, a great nation, taking an active part in trying to secure a better understanding between the Christian nations of the world. Canada has a destiny and it is going to be a glorious one, linked together with all the other parts of the Empire in one indissoluble tie that will make for the peace and prosperity of the world."

Successful Forest Policy in B. C.

Victoria, B. C., March 13.—That the new policy of protecting and administering the Provincial forest asset, under expert and practical business methods, is vastly to the advantage of British Columbia and to the credit of the minister responsible, Hon. W. Ross, is attested by figures, more eloquent and convincing than words, constituting the statistical record of timber revenues for January and February. These in the ordinary recapitulation of license fees, transfer charges penalties, rentals, etc., amount, for the two months just closed, to upwards of half a million dollars—to be exact, $500,805.03. There is to be added to this handsome total, however, the proceeds of the sales by tender of odd remnants or isolated small stands of timber which took place on the 24th ultimo, and which more than redeemed even the most optimistic hopes concerning them.

Approximately $130,995 is the immediate contribution to the general provincial revenue through the sale of these odds and ends of timber (a considerable portion of it fire-killed and destined to be a total waste unless immediately cut) besides which royalty is to be paid on every tree and pole cut, thus eventually bringing to the treasury a further sum, the magnitude of which may be broadly appreciated when it is remembered that the present royalty is at the rate of 50c. per M, and the tracts disposed of are roughly estimated to contain 89,004,000 feet of timber, in addition to poles and railway ties, all of which will bear tribute.

Aside from the monetary phase of the question, too, the newly inaugurated competitive sale policy is peculiarly advantageous to the country in as much as purchases are in all cases made conditional upon immediate cutting, so that in the event of the lands of any of the tracts being suitable for agricultural utlization, they will be available for the pre-emptor as soon as logged off—and pre-emptors are certain to come to British Columbia in industrious battalions now that "free lands for settlers" has been adopted as a policy in this branch of the Lands Department.

Yet still another accruing benefit is found in minimization of the general forest fire risk by the expeditious removal of timber, which otherwise would in numerous cases constitute an unavoidable and very serious monace. As to the advantages in enabling loggers in the interested sections to complete their operations throughly and without waste of the odd bits of inferior timber bordering their respective holdings, augmenting the general provincial output, and giving profitable employment to many good men of the woods, these are too self-evident public benefits to call for comment. They may be classed as by-profits of the transaction.

Leaving the matter of these special sales for later consideration, the general timber branch revenues of the province for January and February are found to reach the record total of $500,805, the several heads of receipt being as follows:

January—License fees, $141,-666.30; license transfer fees, $2,-000; license penalty fees, $2400; protection license lands, $7558; protection lease lands, $43.78; protection Crown grant lands, $5778; lease rentals, $1882; lease transfer fees, $56; hand logger license fees, $225; scaling fees, $3122; royalties, 62664; timber tax, $2794; trespass penalties, $205; exchange, $4; interest and discount, $336; miscellaneous, $9; total, $230,731.96.

The February receipts from the same sources were even larger, the sum collected being increased by about $40,000, which briugs the February receipts up to $270,073.

The special sales of February, the conspicuous success of which from every view point have been referred to, are the first timber sales by tender ever held in the province, and have afforded the first opportunity of purchase of timber from the Crown since the reservation was declared on December 24, 1907. The reservation in question debarred the invasion of new timber territory by virtually all save hand loggers. The sales which were made in February were thoroughly appreciated by the loggers and lumbermen, as it enables them to clear up territory in which they have plants established and where the timber would be worse than wasted, if left standing, by increasing the fire hazard.

The new schools in Calgary this year will cost $420,000.

Do you Believe in going straight to the weak spot in treating disease? If so, you will never use anything but Peps for coughs, colds, bronchitis, and throat and lung troubles. Listen why!

Peps are tiny tablets, which contain rich medicinal ingredients, so prepared that they turn into vapour in the mouth, and are breathed down to the throat, the breathing tubes and lungs direct.

Cough mixtures go—not to the lungs and chest at all, but to the stomach. There is absolutely no direct connection between stomach and lungs.

When you have a bad cold, your digestion is weakened. You lose appetite, and if a man, your usual smoke does not "taste good." In other words, your digestive system is lacking tone. All cough mixtures make this condition worse.

Don't ruin your stomach to heal your lungs. Take a remedy that goes right to the spot—Peps.

Surprising how they end coughs, catarrh, bronchitis, sore-throat, "clergyman's throat," asthma, and all lung troubles. Contain no poison, and are best for children.

Dr. Gordon Stables says:—"If you wish to ease and end a cough, if you desire to loosen tickling phlegm, and clear the throat and the breathing tubes, use Peps. The pine fumes and balsamic fumes, so beneficial in throat and lung trouble, which are liberated when a Pep is put into the mouth, also serve another good purpose. They are strongly germicidal, and germs of disease in the mouth, on the palate, in the throat, and in the breathing tubes, are at once destroyed by their action."

Have you tried this famous remedy? If not, cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c. stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps at 50c. box.

SATURDAY, MARCH. 15, 1913

White Slavery in Canada

A deputation of chiefs of police from all parts of Canada has recently asked the Minister of Justice to amend the criminal code so as to restrict appeals in disorderly house cases, and to institute more stringent inquiry into the white slave traffic in Canada. They also wanted broader right to search suspected disorderly houses. The prevalence of wife-desertion was emphasized as a reason for legislation providing for deportation.

The recent drastic legislation in Great Britain directed against the white slavers is already bearing good fruit and the heavy crop of cases before the judges and magistrates has proved beyond doubt the wisdom of the British Parliament in granting extended powers to the police. The existence of organized gangs in London, with agencies in New York and Buenos Ayres, all engaged in this blackest of traffics, has been known to the metropolitan police for years, but owing to their limited powers they were unable to take action except in rare instances. By the new act the British police are invested with extraordinary powers, one of them being the right to make arrests without the formality of a warrant. The penalties are also severe, the use of the whip, even on a first offender, being a noticeable feature. An interesting discussion as to whether the "cat" should be included in the list of punishment met with some slight opposition and a motion to exempt women from the whipping was also voted down, the legislators evidently believing that this was a case where women should be granted the equality that some of them so much desire. Immediately after the passing of the Act there began an extraordinary exodus of white slavers from London, the police estimating the number at many thousands. The question now arises where did they go to, and what country is giving them an asylum? The recent appeal of the Canadian police chiefs would lend substance to the thought that Canada is one of them.

The "Sun's" Contention.

Our breezy contemporary, the Grand Forks Sun "feels quite positive that up to the present time no craft of sufficient buoyancy to navigate the air between the two countries has been invented." As usual our friend is wrong again and a recent report appearing in the Aero, a journal exclusively devoted to the science of aeronautics, is the Pioneer's authority that such a craft is actually in existence. The LI, as it is named, has a lifting capacity of 27 tons, a sailing radius of 1500 miles, and a speed of 50 miles per hour. It is also credited with ability to keep aloft for twenty hours. Now, when it is considered that the distance from Dover to Cologne in Germany is but a matter of 240 miles it would be quite possible for the LI to reach the Dover or Woolich supply depots in about six or seven hours. This would allow ample time for a two-hour visit, leaving the remaining hours of the twenty to make its way back to the place it started from. It is somewhat difficult to understand the Sun's contention, unless possibly it might be due to ignorance of relative distances in Europe, or what is more likely, wilful misrepresentation of facts that are patent to everybody.

A Canadian Arctic Expedition

The government has decided to finance the expedition of Vihjalmur Steffannsson, the Canadian explorer to the far north. Steffannsson's claim to fame is his discovery of the tribe of blonde eskimos on Coronation bay, on the Arctic ocean. The famous explorer has planned an extensive trip into the unknown country to the north of the mainland of the continent and all his work is to be under the direct auspices of the Dominion federal authorities. The country to be explored is Canadian territory.

Steffannsson is a Canadian, having been born on the banks of Lake Winnipeg and, like all other Canadians, is naturally delighted over the fact that his government has decided to finance the enterprise. The party will outfit at Victoria, B.C., and is to be equipped with the most modern appliances that science can suggest. As far as practicable the expedition will be composed of Canadians and the main camp will be established on Herschell island. Steffannsson expects to be away for four years.

The decision of the government in taking the matter up and making of it a national undertaining is deserving of considerable praise and will no doubt meet with the approbation of every Canadian gifted with a spark of public spirit. Especially should this be so, when we call to mind the fact that the original intention of Steffannsson was to make the trip under the auspices of several important American organizations, who, it must be said, have acted with commendable generosity in releasing him from all obligations.

An Encouraging Reception

No fakir, or otherwise undesirable person could have been subjected to such discourteous treatment as that meted out to Dr. Friedman by the medical authorities of the state of New York. Dr. Friedman, who claims to have made a valuable discovery in connection with the cure of consumption, was objected to by the doctors of New York on the grounds that he did not possess the necessary license to practice in the state. In this connection it is pleasant for us to compare his recent reception in Canada to that which greeted him in New York. Canadians doctors have never yet laid claim to infallible powers, on the contrary they have always evidenced a willingness to test any new discoveries in the realms of surgical and medical practice. The New York doctors, however, seem to be in a class by themselves, and either their finer instincts have been blunted by those big money inducements or there is nothing else for them to learn—except it be manners.

C.P.R. to Spend Big Sums

The Canadian Pacific Railway company are, as usual, well to the front again in the amount of money to be expended in development this year. On their eastern lines alone they contemplate the expenditure of $16,000,000. Of this sum six millions will go towards double-tracking the lines, while a greater part of the remainder will furnish employment to many hundreds in the construction of a new line along Lake Ontario. The C.P.R. is a renowned money maker, but they certainly know how to spend it.

A FIREMAN'S PERIL

How Zam-Buk Delivered Him

At 215 Fraser avenue, Edmonton, Alberta, lives W. P. Mahy, a former member of the local fire brigade, who has wonderful cause to be thankful for the curative powers of Zam-Buk. He says: "A serious skin disease broke out on my face, and spread until I was in a terrible state. The spots and little ulcers were frightfully irritating, and yet when stretched and rubbed they bled and smarted. Shaving caused me agony, and sometimes I would have to go two weeks without a shave. I tried home-made remedies, herb salves, and various other preparations, but the sores got no better. When Zam-Buk was mentioned I had little faith that it would be able to do me any good. My case seemed such an obstinate one. I gave it a fair trial, however, and the first box made such a wonderful change for the better that it gave me encouragement to continue. I did so, and to cut a long story short, Zam-Buk, in the end quite cured me. My face is now clear of all traces of the terrible disease which troubled me for so long."

Thousands of sufferers from eczema, blood poison, ulcers, chronic sores, piles, ringworm, cold sores, cuts, burns and skin injuries, have been relieved and cured, as was Mr. Mahy, by Zam-Buk. As a balm for all skin injuries and diseases it is without equal. All druggists and stores at 50c. per box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the NEW METHOD TREATMENT and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

Inspects Roads

R. Spraggett, provincial road supt. for Grand Forks, spent a couple of days this week looking over the roads at this end of his riding. Mr. Spraggett is anxious to proceed with the construction of the new road, but unlike other parts of his charge, the abundance of snow will delay operations hereabonts for perhaps a month. For some years we have had little to complain about as far as the highways in the vicinity are concerned and according to Mr. Spraggett, the government will bend every energy toward keeping in automobile order what roads we have, besides undertaking the construction of new ones. Hon. Jos. Taylor's slogan of good roads finds a sympathetic echo in this portion of the province.

Copper in Strong Position

A prominent financier, identified with a very important group of copper companies says in reference to the copper situation: "There is a very healthy demand for copper. Each day sees sales of the metal, and I should say that copper is now daily moving into consumption at a rate slightly in excess of the daily rate of production. The buying is of a firm character and there are many calls for early delivery. In the case of the foreign consumers, each 'order' from Europe is generally followed, if not accompanied by instructions, that the copper bought is to be shipped on the earliest possible steamer.

"The character of the present demand for copper is very encouraging, for it indicates that consumers are operating on the smallest possible margin of stocks. The present rate of demand, in conjunction with the large sales made of the last two weeks would seem to indicate that the metal now occupies a strong position."

Serious Mine Accident

Paul Nelson, a machine man employed by the Granby company, was seriously injured in an accident on Wednesday while at work in the Gold Drop mine. The accident was due to the fall of a slab of rock. He was at once taken to the local hospital where an examination revealed injuries to the head and back, besides a fracture of both legs. His condition is considered extremely critical.
