STARTING ON TUNNEL NO. 4

Another Long Bore for Granby Mines.

WORK TO COMMENCE NEXT WEEK

Will be 1,200 feet in Length, Before Old Ironsides Workings are Reached—Part of the Plan of Development.

Next Monday Superintendent Williams, of the Granby mines, expects to have work started on the tunnel which will connect with the 200 foot level of the Old Ironsides mine. This will be known as the No. 4 tunnel, and was projected last spring when the V., V.
& E. railway survey was run up the gulch in the heart of the city, the lines being made to connect with the mouth of the then proposed tunnel.

The site of this tunnel No. 4 will be at the foot of Church street, just below the Presbyterian church, and not far from the Pioneer office. It is expected that 1,200 feet of boring will have to be done to reach the present face of the workings in the Old Ironsides mine, which will require some months to complete.

No special significance is attached to the commencement of this work, so far as the new railway is concerned, at least for the present.

It has merely become one of the parts of the general plan of development of the Granby mines, and as such is now being carried out, according to programme. When the tunnel is completed and connections made with the underground workings of the Granby mines, if the V., V. & E. branch of the Great Northern railway is not under way, the new bore will be used for the purpose of getting long sticks of timber into the lower workings of the mine—pieces that it is difficult to get down the timber or other shafts now on account of their extreme length, and which are needed in the construction of ore chutes for the interior workings.

MAY TAKE IN MORE TERRITORY.

Council Will Consider Adding to the Boundaries of the City.

At Wednesday's meeting of the city council, there were present Mayor Rumrider and Aldermen McDonald, Porter and Marshall.

The city clerk was ordered to purchase two sets of bob-sleighs for the use of the fire department, prices having already been obtained in Spokane, and the following accounts were ordered paid:

Phoenix Electric Lighting Co., $80 00
McKee Bros. & Smith, stationery, 4 80
Morrin, Thompson & Co., hardware, 12 25
D. J. Matheson, freight, etc., 43 65
Hunter-Kendrick Co., supplies, 24 35
H. A. Munro, labor, 63 00
N. Lemieux, labor, 34 50 C. Tipping, labor, 31 75
A. Lockie, labor, 33 75
Wm. Barnett, labor, 31 75
H. McDermott, labor, 31 75
D. J. Matheson, freight, etc., 31 00
Dominion Copper Co., rent, 40 00 Yale-Columbia Lumber Co., lumber, 296 30
V. & N. Telephone Co., 4 00
Total, $594 75

Rev. Wood and N. H. Slack, representing the English church, were present, to ask the council to make some improvement to the Second street hill.
The matter was gone over by those present, and the council did not see its way clear to making any improvements outside of the city limits. A resolution was passed, however, to get matters into shape for elections for the purpose of taking blocks 26, 27, 28 and 29, Old Ironsides sub-division, into the corporation limits, and thus secure the desired improvements, if possible, if the ratepayers in the blocks referred to, as well as in the city, both wish to do so.

Dancing School.

Dancing School will be opened in Hardy-McKenzie hall Thursday night, October 23.

Social dance on Saturday.

LOCAL JOTTINGS

The C. P. R.'s new section house here is nearly completed.

For the first time in years, the price of bar silver got above 60 cents per ounce this week.

A. F. McMillan and wife, after spending several days in the city, left Tuesday for Fernie.

John A. Morrin and wife took in the Spokane Interstate fair this week, going down last Sunday.

Methodist officials are planning for a series of revival services in the local church in the near future.

Judge Leamy is holding county court in the Similkameen this week, owing to the absence of Judge Splinks.

It is currently reported at Vancouver that the Eastern Townships Bank will open a branch there before the end of the year.

The International Coal and Coke Co., has donated a car of coal to the Phoenix General Hospital, the black diamonds arriving this week.

James Sprout, chief electrician at the Cascade sub-station here, has returned from Nelson, where Mrs. Sprout is in the hospital, but improving.

Albert Biner, who moved to Olympia last July with his parents, has returned to Phoenix, finding that there are places that are worse than the chief mining town of the Boundary.

The British American Trust Co., of Grand Forks, is opening a branch at Coleman, Alberta, the new coal town of the International Coal and Coke Co. G. W. Fripp will be the manager.

From all accounts, the Hospital Ladies' Aid Society proposes to give a entertainment and ball on the 12th of November, for which preparations are now actively under way, that will, as usual, be a great success.

About November 1st, if present plans mature, the Vernon & Nelson Telephone Co. expects to remove its local exchange to the Bunk block, taking the room now occupied by the Phoenix Electric Lighting Co.

On the evening of 13th of December the local branch of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will give the annual ball. This order has the reputation of doing things up in style, and this will doubtless be no exception to the rule.

Manager Reeves, of the Wm. Hunter Co., Limited, has gone over to Ferguson, to look after his cousin, J.
V. Reeves, who is down with appendicitis. Mr. Wilson, of Silverton, arrived Saturday, to look after the business during Mr. Reeves' absence.

Thursday evening's Thanksgiving dance, given by Phoenix Miners' Union at their hall, drew a large number, who enjoyed themselves with the light fantastic till an early hour. Supper was served at Black's hotel, and Almstrom's orchestra furnished the music.

Next Monday evening at 8 o'clock a meeting is to be held at the old school house of all those interested in athletics for the purpose of forming a gymnasium association. Rooms have already been secured in the Morrison-Anderson block and some apparatus installed. Those already interested have secured Chris Mack, of Denver, as instructor.

MADE PAYMENT OF $5,000.

Jackpot People Have Now Paid $5,000 on Property.

It is currently reported that last Monday John Farrell, who bonded the Jack Pot fraction, adjoining the Athletan, in Wellington camp, a few weeks ago, had received a second payment of $5,000 on the short time bond on the property.

When the claim was taken over by the Athletan syndicate some weeks ago, it was on a basis of $15,000 for the mine, of which $3,000 was paid in cash at the time. Mr. Farrell has thus received $8,000 on the purchase price of the claim, the balance of $7,000 being due also in a short time.

While nothing is given out for publication, it is understood that the Jack Pot is turning out fully as well as expected when it was bonded, and is likely to become one of the important claims of the Boundary.

SKETCH OF OUR MEMBER

Something of New Representative-Elect.

MR. FRASER IS A NATIVE OF ONTARIO

First Man to Represent This Riding at Victoria Will be One of the Youngest Members in the Assembly.

Now that the elections are over, and the smoke has cleared away, the electorate of this riding will doubtless wish to know something more about the man who will be the first representative of this new electoral district in the legislative assembly.

George Arthur Fraser was born in Woodstock, Ontario, in the year 1868, and is consequently 35 years of age —being probably one of the youngest of the members of McBride's government, that will meet for the first time on the 26th of November. He lived in Woodstock till some ten years ago, when he started west. Having learned the drug business from the bottom up, Mr. Fraser was soon located in this line at Portage la Prairie, and spent a couple of years there and in Winnipeg.

In the spring of 1896 the attraction of the Pacific slope being so strong, Mr. Fraser came still farther west, and reached Rossland, which was then a mighty lively camp, with the War Eagle and Le Roi both declaring dividends monthly. He immediately took up his old business, which he successfully conducted for three years, eventually disposing of the same to Goodbye Bros., and moving to Grand Forks in 1899, which place has since been his home. He was a member of the first city council of Rossland, the city having been incorporated in 1897.

Mr. Fraser continues in the drug business to this day, and is one of the well known business men of the Boundary. There is no doubt but that he will give a good account of himself in the legislative halls at Victoria, and will not forget the interests of his constituents, who gave him such a good majority on the 3rd of this month, thereby showing their confidence in him.

New Butcher Shop Opened.

Today the Union Meat Co. opens its doors to the public in Phoenix and Greenwood, and a few days later a shop will be opened in Grand Forks.
James Kerr is the manager of the Phoenix shop, and has been busy this week getting things ready to start business. A slaughter house was built at Hardford Junction, and the first killing done Thursday. The fixtures are now being put in place, and in a few days the store will be completely equipped.
The Phoenix shop is located on Knob Hill avenue, in the McMillan block.

Latest Prices in Metals.

New York—Copper, electrolytic and lake, $13.00 @ $13.25.
Bar Silver, 60 1/2.
Lead, 44 00.

J. S. C. Fraser, manager of the Bank of Montreal at Rossland, was married last Wednesday at New Westminster; the bride being a Mrs. L. Clinton.

Mrs. Ira Black, wife of a former proprietor of a Phoenix hotel, died last week in Spokane.

Boundary Mining Notes.

In about ten days the air compressor at the Oro Denoro is expected to be running.

Ore is being steadily shipped from the Jackpot, as well as the adjoining mine, the Athelstan, in Wellington camp.

It is reported that the C. P. R. has placed a standing order with the International Coal and Coke Co. for 1,000 tons of Coal per day.

In order to make some repairs one furnace at the Boundary Falls smelter was allowed to go cold last week, but is now in blast again.

September's clean up at the Waterloo mine, Camp McKinney, amounted to $10,000. The mine employs 25 men, and the mill is running full time.

The new cylinders for the Granby electric air compressor and one of the slag hauling locomotives have been shipped together from the factory at Sherbrooke, Quebec.

G. Arthur Rendell, of Elkhart, took a sample lot of ore from the Waterloo claim, on the headquarters of the North Fork of Kettle River, to the Nelson smelter this week for testing.

Last Saturday was the monthly payday at the Granby mines and Thursday of this week at the Snowshoe and Winniipeg mines. Between the three properties about $40,000 was distributed in wages.

H. T. Ponterbury, of Montreal, has arrived in the Boundary to assume the business management of the Montreal and Boston Copper Co.'s Sunset mine and smelter. Albert I. Goodell will continue as smelter superintendent.

According to the Boston Commercial, the Granby Co. made a net profit of 2 3/4 cents per pound on its copper for the year ending June 30th last.
This included six months of 1902 when the price of copper was low.

At the Granby mines the force employed now exceeds 350 men, and outside work is being crowded before bad weather sets in. Contractor Fisher is hauling ore from the south side of the Grey Eagle to the head of the tramway, and has also secured a small stripping contract.

At the brick substation, being erected near the Greenwood smelter by the Cascade Water, Power and Light Co., there will be three transformers, each of about 1,000 h.p. Contractor Barber is making progress on the clearing of the pole line right of way, and it is hoped to have the line pretty well completed before severe weather sets in.

More C. P. R. Officials Here.

It is an unusual month when a party of prominent C. P. R. officials does not visit Phoenix on a trip of inspection. Last Sunday was one of these times, when W. R. MacInnes, freight traffic manager, of Montreal; W. B.
Lanagan, western freight traffic manager, of Winnipeg; Frank W. Peters, assistant freight traffic manager, of Winnipeg; Harry E. McDonnell, assistant freight man at Nelson, and a few others, were in Phoenix.

After being taken through the Granby mines by Supt. Williams, Mr. Mac-Innes gave assurances that the C.P.R. was prepared to care for the increased ore tonnage soon to be sent out from the Phoenix mines, for which purpose three new locomotives were now being added to the motive power of the Boundary division.

BOUNDARY ORE SHIPMENTS.

The following table gives the ore shipments of Boundary mines for 1902, for 1901, for 1900, for 1899, and for 1898, as reported to the Phoenix Pioneer.

GROWING IMPORTANCE OF BOUNDARY.

Up to date the ore tonnage of the several mines of the Boundary for 1903 is nearly equal to the tonnage for the entire year previous, that is, about 500,000 tons. The value of this ore may be said to be, in the absence of positive data, about $3,000,000. In a little over nine months of this year, in other words, Boundary mines have sent out and treated at local smelters as much ore as during the entire year 1902.

There is no gainsaying the fact that these figures are significant of what there is in store in the future for this wonderful mining district. If the Boundary, with all the drawbacks that have been only too self-evident to every resident of this section for months past, can mine and dispose of ore at the rate of say $335,000 monthly, what will it be able to do when all the conditions for successful mining and smelting are favorable—as they are now rapidly getting to be.

It is not so long since success in mining in British Columbia was gauged by what was going on in the camp at Rossland. That camp gets along very well, but as compared with the Boundary, it is not making the same rate of progress. Not only that, but in the future Boundary's progress can hardly fail to be at an even greater rate than in the past, for the reasons here mentioned, that development and smelting conditions have at last gone through the initial stages of preparation and unavoidable delay, and are now beginning to show what can be done when everything is favorable.

Even now the output of the district is close to 20,000 tons per week, and before another month passes will reach an even higher figure.

We have had our trials and tribulations in the Boundary, and there have been plenty of them, but the light is now rapidly breaking, and the dawn of decidedly better times is here. There is every reason for encouragement, both to mining and business men generally in the Boundary. We have heard in the past of the great heritage that is here in the bowels of mother earth, but have scarcely realized it. Now the proof is at hand. Our tremendous low grade ore bodies can be made to pay a profit, and that means, in due time, one of the greatest and most prosperous mining sections on the face of the footstool. There is every reason to be encouraged.

It is pleasing to notice that local papers now contain something besides politics—of which there has been a surfeit for several weeks last past.

This is Thanksgiving week. Conservatives are thankful that the government is safe, Liberals are thankful that they did not get beaten any worse, and the Socialists that they have two lone some representatives in our august legislative assembly. The people in general are thankful that elections do not come any oftener.

Rumors enough have come from the coast as what Premier McBride intends doing in regard to cabinet positions, to fill every cabinet in every province in the Dominion. There must be a lot of mind readers among those coast correspondents, for it is certain that Mr. McBride never gave out one-half of the statements attributed to him. One would think that half the Conservative constituencies were to be reopened.

WHAT EDITORS SAY

The anarchists, it is said, are threatening the life of the Sultan. We hesitate to believe that they could be so usefully employed.—Toronto Globe.

TOLL THE BELLS—Buried at Vancouver, on October 3rd, under a Tory avalanche, Hon. Joseph Martin, erstwhile head push of the Liberal party. His awful fate should be a warning to all tempestuous politicians.—Slocan Drill.

LIGHTNING CHANGE ARTIST—Joseph Martin seems to have closed in Vancouver one of the stormiest and most chequered careers in Canadian political history. Unless Joe writes an autobiography—and possibly not in that case—some of his lightning changes will probably never be understood.—Nelson Economist.

O.L.L.A. PODRIDA.

True happiness does not consist in that which we have seen and missed, But in contentment with our lot, Whether 'tis what we'd have, or not.

Those business chances which offer phenomenal profits are always accompanied by tremendous risks. It is a good deal safer to keep somewhere within sight of the legitimate.

An announcement that President Roosevelt is much concerned because he weighs 220 pounds and is still gaining weight should serve as a warning to illegal combines in the United States. If the president feels that he is in need of exercise he knows where he can begin.

An eastern paper suggests that the Sultan join a "Don't Worry" club. His manner of conducting his financial operations would indicate that he would shine with more brassy brilliance as the great mogul of a "Don't Worry" club.

STRICTLY BUSINESS.

Strength in the ad puts strength in the business.

The time to advertise is whenever you need customers and are prepared to serve them.

An advertisement should be a simple, straightforward statement, easily read, easily comprehended, and conspicuously placed.

As a tree is known by its fruits and as a man is judged by his conduct, so an advertiser is measured, and placed by the text matter of his advertisements.

An advertiser ought to put only such claims in his ad as he would make personally, face to face, to the most particular customer that comes to his store.

World Wide Mining.

Dividends declared thus far this year by mining companies amounts to more than $100,000,000.

According to official statistics the number of mines in Mexico producing smelting ores at present is 373.

It is said that the Rothschilds of London, are trying to purchase the Homestake mine in South Dakota.

The mines of the Black Hills in South Dakota produced an average of more than 150,000 tons of ore per month during the year 1902.

Japan's output of copper, gold and silver in 1902 was about as follows: Copper, $6,000,000; silver, $4,000,000; and gold $2,000,000; total, $12,000,000.

According to the annual report of the Greene Consolidated Copper Co., operating in Arizona, the year's product of copper, gold and silver was worth $5,706,192.

In his report to the United States Geological Survey, now in press, Mr. Kirchhoff says that the production of zinc in 1902 was greater than ever before, reaching a total of 156,927 short tons.

No. 5 Discovery, on Anvil Creek, Nome, is credited with producing the largest gold nugget ever discovered in Alaska. The discovery was made on September 8, and the nugget weighed 187 ounces, valued at $3,276.

THE OBSERVATORY

THINGS TALKED OF AT HOME AND ABROAD

It was pleasant news that came over the wires last week, to the effect that the railway committee had decided on the subsidies to be granted to new lines this year, to the extent of some $2,000,000 in this province alone. The Midway and Vernon road was aided to the extent of some $600,000, and the line up the North Fork of Kettle river is also said to have been aided substantially. The chances are that by the time the V., V. and E. finally get around to building the extension to Phoenix, for which surveys have been completed and the right of way secured to the extent of some $55,000, these other roads will be making a move also to do business. So, taking it altogether, there is likely to be no small amount of railway building in the Boundary district in the comparatively near future.

It appears that there is another Granby concern in the mining business besides that well known Boundary corporation, as witness the following item going the rounds of the mining press: "The Granby Mining and Smelting Company of St. Louis and Joplin, has notified Col. H. H. Gregg, superintendent of Missouri mining and metallurgical exhibits, that it proposes to expend $2,500 in the preparation of its exhibit for the World's Fair."

Last week the annual meeting of the C. P. R. was held at Montreal, and it goes without saying that Canada's greatest corporation made a fine showing, the last year being the most prosperous in the history of the road. We know it should be, if the rate of freight charged into the Boundary is any criterion. At the meeting referred to it was decided to spend some ten millions more for rolling stock—a little item that shippers all along the line of railway will appreciate when it is put into effect. For months there has been complaint of a shortage of cars in nearly every section, not excepting British Columbia.

Schoolboy days were recalled recently by the futile attempt to launch a flying machine down in Virginia. Nearly every schoolboy has heard of Darius Green and his flying machine. The gentleman from the south had no better luck than did Darius of ancient story. Both machines lasted very quick, and came to grief in short order as soon as they became subject to the laws of gravitation.

From time to time, for the last year or two rumors have been current that the British Columbia Copper Co. would increase the capacity of the smelter considerably. A few days ago something more tangible than rumors eventuated, when F. L. Underwood, president, J. L. Sommer, vice-president, and W. H. Thomas, managing director, all of New York, were in the Boundary and gave it out definitely that the decision had been arrived at to enlarge the company's Greenwood smelter by four furnaces and a converter. Of course, it requires time to carry out these extensive improvements, and it will be some time next year before it is done, but the authoritative statement is pleasant to hear, none the less.

The statement that there is a most malignant form of smallpox raging in Spokane shows the wisdom of the provincial health authorities in establishing a quarantine at the boundary line, but it should be the real article, wisely administered without fear or favor, instead of the graft-like apology that has been in force between Grand Forks and Marcus. Some may justify giving political hangers on positions in the quarantine service, but unless the said hangers on can rightfully attach M. D. to their names, they should not be permitted to poke vaccine points into travellers in their own discretion.

Rev. J. G. Shearer, of Toronto, was in Phoenix a few days ago, and a local branch of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada was formed. Mr. Shearer is the field secretary and organizer of the organization. The officers of the local branch were chosen as follows: President J. E. Mills; vice-presidents, ministers of the various churches; secretary treasurer, Hugh Reed.

B. C. MINING

The Rambler has 100 men on its payroll.

Slocan ore shipments are in excess of 11,000 tons.

Winter has set in at many of the Slocan mines, there being a foot of snow at the Payne.

The Lenora mine, on Vancouver Island, has an output of 150 tons of copper ore a day.

During September the Nelson smelter shipped 452 tons of bullion and received 4,313 tons of ore.

A small stamp mill has been installed at the Cherry Creek mines at the head of Fire Valley, and will soon be in running order.

During the month of August the Ymir Mine's total revenue was $15,030. In that month over $7,000 was spent in development. The full battery of 80 stamps is now in operation.

The Poplar Creek Gold Mines, Limited, has been incorporated under "the Companies' Act, 1897" as a limited company with a capital of 1,500,000 shares of ten cents each.

Rossland ore shipments for last week were: LeRoi, 5,080; Centre Star, 1,260; War Eagle, 1,110; Velvet, 50; Jumbo, 150; making a total of 8,370 tons for the week, and a grand total for the year to date of 289,872 tons.

The first lot of refined silver ever produced in Canada was recently sent from the Trail smelter to San Francisco. The shipment amounted to three tons gross, valued approximately at $55,000. This is the first product of the new experimental plant recently installed at Trail by W. H. Aldridge, and thoroughly proves the success of the system.

The organization of the Sullivan Mining Company on a bonded basis is moving ahead so favorably that $50,000 of the company's indebtedness, on account of smelter construction has been taken up. The principal smelter debt, which, with interest, amounts to about $116,000, is due to 17 of the large stockholders who agreed to accept bonds at par.

The Trail smelter is said to have secured 42 coal licenses for prospecting on the east side of the Elk river and the west side of the Fording river in East Kootenay, on unsurveyed coal lands forming practically an extension of the areas owned by the Crow's Nest Coal company. The Granby company is credited with negotiating with Fernie people for the purchase of coal areas on the Elk river.

The following prizes for mineral exhibits have been awarded at the Spokane Interstate Fair. W. A. Coplen being the judge: Best free milling gold, Ymir, B. C.; best gold nugget, Ymir, B. C.; best gold quartz, first, Poplar creek, Lardau, B. C.; second, Big Casino, Cal.; best silver, gold and copper ore, Greenwood, B. C.; best silver-lead ores, first, Coeur d'Alenes; second, Slocan, B. C.

Coleman Is Growing.

Building operations at the new town of Coleman are being rushed as fast as men and material will permit. Several business blocks are now well under way and already the big office building of the International Coal & Coke Company is nearly up. At the mines of the company, development work is being pushed ahead night and day, and a large force of miners is employed. Another work that this company has underway is the confining the river at one point entirely to one channel, and a force of men is at work blocking up the numerous channels and turning all the water into the channel next to the mountain.—Blairmore Times.

The Alienation of the General.

I FIRST encountered him in the streets of a town in the west where he was affording amusement to a crowd of men and boys, while a tipsy musician was attempting the Boulanger March on an antique piano. To save him from further abuse I bought him, and ever afterwards he was known to his little world as "General Boulanger."

We grew to look upon the General as an interesting scientific phenomenon.
His was a soul saturated with hate for all men. Any amiable qualities he may have possessed in early youth had been killed by abuse. He knew but distrust and fear. We determined to reclaim him, and in our kindly camp the General became the object of such flattering attention that only his unconquerable misanthropy kept him from becoming an ardent snob. For a long time our efforts were vain, but as the weeks went by I thought I noticed a little less shrinking, fewer growls, and a faint gleam of recognition in the glassy eyes when I appeared. I felt a thrill of conquest, and redoubled my efforts. The heart of stone was at last touched, and my theory in regard to "valler dogs" was correct.

We returned to the outskirts of civilization, and one day driving some more to the town, so filled with painful memories for the General, I was surprised to behold him again in the street, sinking about with others of his kind. The sight lost anything particular in labor was in peril. It would never do to allow the General's slowly growing faith in man to be nipped in the bud by further town life, so with infinite pains I reclaimed him and tied him to the back of my wagon. I remonstrated with him gently, as he lay cringing in the dust, for his base desertion of the only friends he had ever known.

The painful journey homeward began. The General betrayed a distinct unwillingness to ride, so he was allowed to follow at the end of a long rope behind. With his usual acumen, he fancied the streets of the town, the broken broncos to be as naught compared to his fiery determination to remain in town. So he sat down. With an expression of painful surprise on his countenance he traversed a few hundred yards of the dusty road in this position, and then tried his back. It was quite in keeping with the eccentricity of the General's mental processes that a simpler method did not occur to him, with which a deep rut he was hurled high into the air, and by some happy chance alighted on the extremity of locomotion. Then, with bowed head, he trotted contentedly along. I was to look at him occasionally, and flatter myself that I saw in his demeanor evidences of regret at his folly, and a determination to do better in the future. I spoke encouragingly to him, but he was too absorbed in meditation to look up.

A hot afternoon's ride brought us to an irrigating ditch. After rattling over the few loose planks which served as a bridge, I stopped to repair a break in the harness. The General, not and dusty, at once dashed into the little stream to drink and bathe. With my back to the tired horse I watched him.
As I looked he performed his coldest act of folly, the final episode in his wild career. After refreshing himself on one side of the tiny bridge, quite unmindful of his connection with my rear axle, he laboriously splashed under the bridge and came out the other side. Cooled by his bath, he came to the side of the wagon and looked sweetly up at me. Immensely impressed by his sagacity, I was on the point of alighting and meeting him on the dangerous predicament, when the hand of fate, ever turned against him, struck the last blow.

A fly stung my eye, and with a swish he and his started, and I was hurled down the road. I was hurled to the bottom of the wagon, but before I saw the General turn a perfect back somersault and shoot toward the stream. In a cloud of dust he disappeared and I was left in a showers of spray he struck the road twenty feet from the bridge, and did not gain his feet until I had brought the horses to a standstill. Once more I turned to the General. He was a pitiable sight. Covered with mud, his half strangled, he quivered with cold and rage.

As we traversed the short distance to camp I tried to fancy what his reflections were. Knowing him as well as I did, I felt sure that he looked upon the past weeks of kindness as part of an elaborate scheme to win his confidence enough to practice this last insult upon him. I dreaded the consequences of the episode in his planned new blandishments to reinstate him in his favor.

Arriving in camp, my first thought was to release him from the wagon.
But the water was so muddy, and I could not untangle the knot at his collar.
Feeling keenly the embarrassment of his position, I untied the rope from the axle and threw it on the ground.
The General watched me sulkily, and when the end of that hated rope fell free he bounded to his feet. With one final snarl of utter hate and disgust he was off like a shot; not in a wild, pur-poseless dash, but straight as the arrow across an arrow-straight road.
Away he went, with the larrah dragging behind him.

With eyes raised to the solitary snow peak a hundred miles away he flew from his, with a heart full of hate and a grim determination to put half continent, if need be, between himself and tyrant man. As I watched the little cloud of dust, raised by his hurrying feet, disappear on the horizon, I realized the futility of battling against fate.

Then our packer broke the silence:
"There goes the ornariest cur in the world with the best larrah in Montana."
"Atlantic Monthly."

The Color Cure.

Now it is the color cure, and medicine men are recommending that their depressed and nervous patients should wear nothing but garments of red. Mr.
Ruskin went so far as to say that all the people he had known who were morally and physically sound loved bright color; that the yellow hues of a sinner were being washed away, and that it was enough merely to see a bushman in the "pink" to give you courage to take a ditch yourself."

He Learned a Great Truth.
It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" Mrs. Wesley: "Because once telling is not enough." It is for this same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of those diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

Anecdotal.

When the English barrister, Richard Eve, desired to "take silk" — or, in other words, to become a Queen's Counsel — he sent the usual note to the other members on the circuit to see whether anyone objected, according to custom.
Mr. Adam Walker, one of the senior members, replied as follows: "My dear Eve, — You may take silk or a fig leaf. I don't care."

Shortly after Sir Lawrence Alma-Tadema, R.A., was knighted, he and Lady Alma-Tadema gave an At Home at St. John's Wood. Everybody present was congratulating them, and one lady was very profuse. "Oh, dear Sir Lawrence," she said, "I am awfully glad to hear of the honor you have received. I suppose now that you are knighted you will give up painting and live like a gentleman."

In an Ohio town last fall, the African Methodist-Episcopal Church of that district held a conference, and for a week the town was filled with colored pulpit orators. A few days after the conference closed, one of the leading colored women of the town drove out to Pea Ridge to purchase chickens of an old mammy who had supplied the family for years. Aunt Hanna, coming to the gate, said, "I'm sorry, Miss Allie, I've got a chicken left. Day all done enter de ministry."

A story is going the rounds about a prominent Nova Scotia lawyer who is noted for his carelessness in dress, which fact annoys the members of the Bar exceedingly. Entering the courtrooms one day minus a cravat, the judge reproved him, saying the law required him to wear one. "Oh, yes, your honor, I know it," he answered; "but it does no harm where he shall wear it," and as he spoke he pulled it out of his trousers pocket. The matter then dropped.

General William T. Sherman was fond of relating the following story:
"When I was with the army in Geo-gia, a slave-owner about Christmas time missed a fine fat turkey. He suspected a good-looking mulatto, and ordered the man brought before him.
"You have stolen my turkey and eaten it," said the irate planter. "I've not gwine to say I didn't, when you says I did, massa." "I ought to have you flogged. What have you to say why you should not punish you?" Well, massa, you hain't lost anything particular.
You see, you has a little less turkey and a good deal more nigger." And the master was compelled to acknowledge him to be right.

As a young man Paul Kruger was regarded as an authority on psalm singing, and the farmers used to come to him to learn the keynote for starting the psalms at the next Sunday's sermon. Kruger, even in those days, was no believer in the policy of giving anything away — not even a note of music.
So he had a uniform charge of a double handful of dried peaches for his instruction. Even the fact that the work was in the service of religion did not deter him from resorting to strategy.
For he made a point of giving each applicant a different note. The result when the pious Doppers attempted to raise their voices in sacred harmony next Sunday may be imagined. The result was that each man concluded he had lost the key, and had to return for a further lesson. "I nearly bankrupted myself on dried peaches," said the president.

Ford Madox Brown, the artist, once had to be smuggled into his own exhibition. The occasion was a private view in Bond Street of the Manchester fresco, "John Kay." The artist being unable to get in, he was smuggled in by his carriage to the front by the doctor and old friend, William Gill. The time passed pleasantly enough en route in conversation, when suddenly Madox Brown's talk came to an abrupt full stop. He started as though struck by some very disquieting, thought, and wildly plunged round in his various pockets, blank dismay depicted on his countenance. "Good heavens, Gill," he exclaimed, "I've forgotten my card of admission! What shall I do?" "Your card of admission!" replied his amazed friend, "surely you can get in without that?" "No, no," asserted Madox Brown in despair, "I never never forget a thing, but I don't know me!" Fortunately, however, Mr.
Gill was provided with the necessary passport, and he thus played the artist admission into his own show.

There Was One.

"Is there a man in all this audience," he exclaimed, "who will occur, when I have done, to lightening the burden resting on his wife's shoulders?
What do you know of woman's work?"

"Is there a man here," he continued, who will ever do anything to lighten
the burden resting on his wife's shoulders?
What do you know of woman's work?"

A local clergyman was engaged in conversation with a number of friends the other day, says the Duluth "News-Tribune," when each started telling stories of weddings he had performed.
One of the party had this to say:
"Some time ago a great big fellow, roughly dressed, and a wee mite of a woman came to him. They had no witnesses, and, in fact, did not care to have any. Nevertheless a bride-maid and groomsmen were selected from the household, and the ceremony began. They had promised to love and obey and all the rest of the service, when the preacher announced: "Kiss the bride."

The groom, on bended knee, hesitated a little, tried to say something and couldn't.
"Kiss the bride," said the pastor.
"Why, parson, I did afore I was here at all," replied the groom, whose face had taken the color of a June rose.

Owes His Life to a Neighbor's Kindness.
Mr. D. P. Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Sumner counties, W. Va., must likely owe his life to the kindness of a neighbor. He was almost hopelessly afflicted with diarrhea, was attended by two physicians who gave him little, if any, relief. When a neighbor learning of his serious condition, brought him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which cured him in less than twenty-four hours. For sale by all druggists.

Preparing Holidays

You are doubtless thinking of what you will give this year for Holiday presents. Nothing pleases more than some piece of jewelry—a Watch, a Ring, or any one of a thousand and one things that we can furnish you.
See my goods before sending to the east or elsewhere. I know I can please you.

Last Week I

Advised buying International Coal and Coke shares. Today the price has advanced and will go still higher. Therefore, TURN YOUR ORDER IN to me today.

ORO DENORO is another good buy. Where on earth can you get into a slipping mine and profit maker of $1.75 per ton for the small figure of 15 cents per share? This stock will rise inside of 60 days. Come and see me about this, and if you want that estate take a lot in DENORO, the townsite adjoining the mine. Prices of lots, $100 to $750.
