PRESIDENT LUTHER ON GRANBY AFFAIRS

Cost of Smelting Reduced—Will Continue Diamond Drilling.

President Luther of the Granby Consolidated has the following to say regarding operations for the year ended June 30 last:

"Expenses have been reduced, and average cost per ton of ore has been less than in any previous year. Had we been able to operate at full capacity, this cost would have been further lessened materially.

"Difficulties in obtaining coke supplies, and finally the strike of all coal miners in British Columbia and Alberta, have added to costs.

"Our plants were never in better condition. All renewals, repairs, and developments have been charged to expense; all profits from outside operations as well as all dividends received from investments, have been credited to their respective accounts, thus reducing their book value, instead of considering them as profits.

"All developments at the Hidden Creek property fully confirm the information furnished by our engineers. These reports now appear to have been, if anything too conservative. It is hoped that production will commence on a small scale before the end of 1912.

"Mine development during the year consisted of 9894 feet, and diamond drilling 8207 feet. Granby ore smelted amounted to 959,563 dry tons, and foreign ore to 24,783 dry tons."

General manager Graves says: "Net earnings were not at all satisfactory, amounting to $217,416.

"The mines at Phoenix produced and shipped 950,563 tons of ore, against 1,175,548 tons shipped last year for the same period. Cost of mining was only one per cent per ton greater than the previous year, while the cost of smelting was reduced three cents per ton. I consider this excellent work in view of the conditions that prevailed at both the mines and smelter.

"The mines at Phoenix to date have produced and shipped a total of 7,229,914 tons. On July 1, 1910, there were 6,429,196 tons of ore estimated in sight. During the past twelve months 1,248,298 tons have been blocked out. Shipments during this period were 957,200 tons.

"More energy has been put into development of outside properties and in securing other properties than in the development of the Phoenix property. The intent has been, however, to develop as much ore each year as is shipped. Diamond drills will be put down from time to time to prove the continuance of ore bodies in various locations.

"The stockholders can congratulate themselves upon the purchase of the Hidden Creek mines, which has practically doubled our ore reserves. It is reasonable to assume that the cost of producing copper will be less at the Hidden Creek property than it has been at our plant at Grand Forks."

Blind Pig at Bull Creek

Provincial Officer Stanfield, of Phoenix, who was despatched up the river, on Monday, to investigate a case of illegal whisky selling, succeeded in proving his charge in the court at Greenwood, on Thursday, when Gorman West was hailed before Magistrate McMynn to explain his infraction of the licensing laws. The court fined him $100 or two months' imprisonment. The defendant promptly paid the fine.

The total reward for the capture of the men who robbed the Bank of Montreal in New Westminster is $32,000.

Death of Mrs. P. J. Cook

We are sorry to announce the death of Mrs. Palmer Cook, which took place on Monday, October 9th. The deceased lady, who had been ailing for some time, was residing at Curlew, Wash., when her illness took an alarming turn. Her husband, who was in Phoenix, was summoned, but unfortunately before he could reach her bedside, the sufferer had passed away. Mr. Cook and family have the genuine sympathy of a host of friends in the loss of an affectionate help-mate and the children a devoted mother.

The funeral of Mrs. Cook, which took place on Thursday, Oct. 12th, at the Phoenix cemetery, was very largely attended, and was preceded by a an impressive service in St. John's Anglican Church, which was crowded to the doors, the Rev. L. Lee officiating. The members of King Edward Lodge, A.F. & A.M., of which Mr. Cook is a member, were present in a body, and many beautiful floral tributes, including one from the latter lodge, covered the casket. The Scandinavian Aid and Fellowship Society also sent a deputation and a wreath of natural flowers.

British Columbia Mining Notes

A local syndicate interested in quartz mining near Hazleton have received word that Silver Standard ore, near there, gives assays of $800 in silver and copper.

The work done on the Bear creek properties, says the Merritt Herald, has shown up a splendid lead of copper sulphides, which is carrying values up to $63 per ton.

Colonel Robert Stevenson passed through Merritt, a short time ago, having just come in from the Big Plateau claims. He is on the road to the Coquihalla Pass to locate if possible a claim he staked forty years ago.

James McEvoy, who has spent several months on Groundhog mountain, near Hazleton, opening up coal measures there is very pleased with the properties. They have opened up an immense body of coal equally as good as the best Pennsylvania hard.

The B. C. Copper company has taken a bond on the War Eagle mineral claim, on Copland mountain, six miles from Camp McKinney. The claim is the property of Jas. Dale and adjoins the Le Roi group on which is a ninety foot ledge containing copper, gold and silver, yielding four per cent in copper.

A mineral discovery of the very first importance is reported from the near neighbourhood of Fort George. The discovery is one of a peculiar free milling quartz, alleged to exist in immense quantities four miles to the west of Fort George town. Numerous prospectors have been gophering in this territory for months past.

Owing to the fact that good placer ground has been discovered on Perry creek, near Cranbrook, prospectors have been busy for many years in an endeavor to locate the source from which it came. As a consequence of this search Geo. Carr arrived in Cranbrook recently, with some splendid specimens of gold quartz. The Cranbrook Herald says "that if they were exhibited elsewhere, it would create a stampede."

Articles of incorporation of the Utica Mines, Limited, were drawn up and signed on Friday, the 22nd Sept. The company will take over the mine and other properties known as the Utica, on 12-mile creek, west of this city, says the Kootenaian, of Kaslo, and will erect concentrators, tramways and do such other work as may be necessary to properly develop the property. The capitalization of the concern is $2,000,000.

MARTIN BURRELL, M.P. GETS APPOINTMENT

Receives Portfolio of Agriculture —A Popular Selection.

The decision of the premier to include Martin Burrell in his cabinet, although quite expected here, is a graceful compliment to the people of British Columbia. In all the seven gentlemen representing this province at Ottawa, the member for Yale-Cariboo stands out a conspicuous figure. In the first place he is an agricultural specialist of the first rank, and has figured prominently in all the most important debates that have marked the later sessions of the House. It is an open secret that almost from the time he delivered his first speech he has been marked down for such an honor. The hon. gentleman will now have ample opportunity to exercise that ability he no doubt possesses, together with his unrivalled knowledge of things agricultural, and incidentally the people of the east will have a chance to judge the reasons which actuated the electors of Yale-Cariboo in returning Mr. Burrell to Parliament.

Coal Miners Refer To Executive

The miners completed their convention on Thursday, says the Nelson Daily News, but have absolutely nothing to make public. It is thought that the convention referred the whole situation back to the executive to do as they think best.

There is no doubt that something will transpire in a few days to bring about a settlement of the strike.

It is known that the international executive is in favor of having a settlement reached as soon as possible, and for this express purpose Mr. White came up to the scene.

It is significant that he left for Indianapolis to-day and before he left he seemed very optimistic regarding a settlement. It is generally believed that the convention formulated some plan of action that the executive will follow to re-open negotiations and that something of importance will be made public in a few days.

Missing

Enquiries are being made for the whereabouts of Arthur S. Plumtree, supposed at one time to have resided in Phoenix. Any news of his whereabouts will be appreciated by his sister, Mrs. Andrew B. Chalmers, 261 Wreford-ave., Detroit, Michigan.

Frank McDougal returned to town from the coast this week.

R. Fuller and Ab. Hillier, who have been spending a few days at Christina, returned to the city on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Biesel and family left for Nelson, on Monday, where they intend to reside. Miss Hogarth accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop of Vancouver, arrived in town on Saturday. Mr. Dunlop and W. Prendergast are on a hunting trip around Long lake.

F. Roy, R. V. Chisholm, Dan McPherson and Soapy Smith took the trail after big game last week. The party returned on Thursday, and reported that owing to the presence of Soapy they were unable to get within range of any game.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system.

THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. SATURDAY, OCT. 14, 1911

The Retiring Governor-General

One of the most popular vice-regal representatives that Canada has ever had, his excellency Earl Grey, sailed for England this week, accompanied by the Countess Grey and their two daughters, Sybil and Evelyn. Earl Grey during his extended term of office as governor-general, has won the lasting esteem and affection of the Canadian people, because he has taken the trouble to thoroughly acquaint himself with conditions and affairs, besides being eager and willing at all times to do anything in his power to promote their welfare. He has travelled extensively in order to acquaint himself with the magnificent resources of our country, and in almost every part of the Dominion he is a familar figure and has warm personal friends. The deep interest taken by both himself and Lady Grey in the movement to stamp out the white plague in Canada has perhaps, more than anything else, endeared them to very many. Ever since their introduction to the capital of the Dominion, the countess and her two daughters have been admired for their entire absence of ostentation and affectation, their simplicity of manner, their consideration for others and their interest in all around them. At the beginning of their regime the daughters were practically school girls, but their responsiveness and personality won for them golden opinions from the wives of cabinet ministers and others of the official set who first met them. Their love of Canadian winter sports, in which they excelled, particularly skating, soon made them favorites with the young people. Both the countess and her daughters have usually accompanied the earl on his trips, and are almost as well known as he. The term "gentlewoman" has become old-fashioned in this age in which brilliancy and glitter are frequently more highly valued than real grace and worth. Yet after all there is nothing finer in this world than that for which the word "gentlewoman" stands. As genuine gentlewomen, and as governor and gentleman, the vice-regal family have been examples worthy of emulation by the girlhood and boyhood of the Dominion of Canada.

Bucknam Pasha

Ransford D. Bucknam (Bucknam Pasha), vice-admiral of the Turkish navy and naval adviser to the government, was born at Hansport, Nova Scotia, in 1869. After considerable experience at sea he became a superintendent in the Cramp's shipbuilding yard in Philadelphia. In 1904 he took a warship to Turkey which the company had built for that government, and stayed on as naval adviser to the notorious old Sultan. A new navy is being built for the Turkish government by British firms, and Rear-Admiral Hugh Williams together with five other British officers have charge of the reorganization of the Turkish navy. The present fleet, which does not begin to compare with that of Italy, either in numbers or efficiency, includes a number of warships recently purchased from Germany.

The Late King's Printer

Another link with the historic past has been broken by the death of Lieutenant-Colonel Wolfenden, I.S.O., King's Printer for the province of British Columbia. The Colonel, who has been associated with the early history of the province, having arrived here with the Royal Regiment of Engineers, was a well known figure on the coast, and performed a never to be forgotten service by recording the pioneer history of British Columbia. The passing of the gallant colonel is not only a loss to official circles in Victoria, but the Dominion loses one of its brightest and best citizens.

Peck's Wanderings

Advices received from that hive of industry, Merritt, record the fact that the province is about to lose one of its most eminent citizens, for a time at least. The Hon. Peck McSwain is about to start on a tour of Central America; whether the hon. gentleman has planned the trip in order to escape the snows of our winter we know not, but we can surely promise the mosquitos of the canal zone an excellent treat when the irrepressible one appears in their midst, while he in return will discover in them a never ending theme for a series of new poems.

Quake In Victoria

An earth tremor, accompanied by a rumbling noise was felt in Victoria recently. The duration was from two to three seconds, aud the movement was from northwest to southeast. The tremor was of a pronounccd character, and was noticed by residents, not only throughout the city, but in the Esquimault and Oak Bay districts. While of an entirely unalarming character, it was sufficient to cause houses to tremble, while articles on tables and shelves were moved.

The Plague

We are only now beginning to discern the truth about the plague. Men thought it had almost vanished from the earth. Medical science ignored its existence, and in the day of trial found it hardly remembered how to treat it, if it ever knew. But the fact is that plague has always existed in certain spots. It has never left India, for instance. Investigation has shown that there was continual outbreaks the last century in the highlands of Kumaon, under the shadow of the Himalayas. It is at least possible that Bombay was affected in 1896 from the Himalayas rather than from Hong Kong. Plague has been continuously present in the mountains of Syria, in Western Arabia, south of Mecca. It has really never left Mesopotamia, or the Chinese province of Yunnan. There is an epidemic centre of long standing in Uganda. Why at the close of the 19th century plague should suddenly have flared forth again with widespread intensity is one of those mysteries of disease which no one can pretend to fathom. The cause is probably quite unconnected, in the main, with the development of intercommnnication between nations. The sinister feature of the present epidemic is that it is accompanied by a serious prevalence of disease among the lower animals, who are liable to communicate it to man. That is not a new condition, but much of the data concerning it is new. In England we have the disquieting rat epidemic in East Anglia. The province of Transbaigalia, which is in suspicious proximity to Karbin, finds that plague is epidemic within its borders among a species of marmot, which is extensively hunted. Marmots in the Caucasus and in Tibet are also found to be apparently permanently affected. In the United States, west of the Rocky Mountains, a new and disturbing endemic centre of plague infection appears to have been set up within the last six years among the ground squirrels of California. The rat is not the only culprit, and these centres of affection among rodents constitute a far more insidious danger for the world than occasional human epidemics. Modern research into plague is still only in its infancy, but already it has suggested the lesson that we must awake from the dream that the new civilization is necessarily exempt from the graver forms of pestilence. If we continue to cherish that delusion we may have a rude awakening.—London Times.

Ridiculous Report Denied

The Conservatives of Granton, Ontario, have signed a declaration which is to be presented to the parish priest of Lucan, denying that on the night of the election at a Borden celebration the effigy of Sir Wilfred Laurier was nailed to a cross and burned in a huge bonfire.

Provincial Items

Premier McBride declined the offer of a place on R. L. Borden's cabinet.

A typhoid epidemic has broken out among the workmen engaged in constructing the Canadian Northern road near Savona. The provincial health authorities have taken the matter up.

In the presence of a distinguished gathering, and with ceremony befitting the occasion, Lieutenant-Governor Patterson unveiled the memorial to Simon Fraser, at Victoria, last week.

A drowning fatality occurred near the west end bridge near Kamloops last week. The victim, a man named Barti, supposed to be a German, was seen shortly before standing on the bank. It is supposed to be a case of suicide.

James Gandar, a Frenchman, and Mow Wo, a Chinaman, were found guilty in the police court of Chilliwack last week, on a charge of supplying liquor to Indians. They refused to pay the fines and were taken to the jail at New Westminster for three and four months respectively.

The setting aside of the sum of $1,000,000 out of next year's provincial revenue for the erection of the first building at the new university, at Point Grey, assures the completion of a portion of the university buildings next year. The government will add fifty acres more to the site. The Governor-General will lay the corner stone.

September's school attendance in Vancouver was a record one. April of last year was the highest of all months up to that time with a record of 10,240, but last month eclipsed that record by 800, and showed a total of 11,055. Mount Pleasant school had the largest attendance, its record being 1012, Seymour was second with 777, and the Strathcona school next with 732.

Ernest William Morris, of Kamloops, while getting into his motor boat to return to the city after a few hours' shooting down the river, accidentally discharged his shotgun. The charge entered his right arm above the elbow, shattering it badly. He died shortly after the arm had been amputated. He was attached to the land registry office at Kamloops.

Chief Downes rounded up seventeen Greeks and one Austrian last week. They were charged with an attempt to evade the immigration law, and were fined $15 and costs each, and ordered to be deported from the country. They originally came from Spokane, and evidently intended to engage in railroad work in the province. Immigration officer O'Neil took charge of the party and conducted them to the boundary line.

Another Missionary Duped

Six thousand dollars' worth of crude opium that had been smuggled has been seized by United States officers in a raid on four Chinese shops in Newark. The raid followed the arrest of a Chinaman on a ferry boat with $1,500 worth of opium in a suit case.

Four celestials, one Charlie Song, and a white woman, Mrs. Song, were taken in the raid, but Mrs. Song was permitted to go free. It is hinted that the first arrest and the raid were made possible by her information.

The woman declared she was weary of the life of white slavery she has been leading, to which Song forced her to descend after she had been a missionary among the Chinese of Newark. She charged her Chinese husband with trying to poison her.

Mrs. Song said her name before marriage was Mabel Weis, and that she was the daughter of a prosperous farmer of Washington, New Jersey. She married a man named Wayton who died four months later. Then she went to Newark and joined one of the leading churches there, afterwards taking up missionary work among the local Chinese. At a Sunday school she met Song; he was intelligent and seemed to be particularly anxious to embrace Christianity, and incidentally the English language. She decided to marry him, because, she said, she hoped to accompany him to China, and with his aid to find a larger field for her missionary work. Mrs. Song said he professed Christianity for several months and they travelled together doing missionary work. Then Song opened a tea store in Newark; he quickly reverted to paganism, his wife said, and made a slave of her, to be disposed of as he saw fit.

Land Rush Predicted

A Canadian Pacific Railway official who has just returned from a trip to the Pacific coast, states that there will undoubtedly be a big rush of settlers to the Windermere valley next year. This district is being rapidly opened up. The C.P.R., it is stated, will have forty miles of railroad into the valley in operation next year, and with these transportation facilities at their command, new settlers will find the district an excellent one in which to settle. The land of the Windermere valley is singularly free from rock, and composed of rich fertile soil, with sufficient timber for the construction of buildings and also for domestic purposes. Water for irrigation purposes is plentiful and easily obtained, the climate being remarkably free from heat and cold.

A Wonderful Discovery

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mrs. Marsh, of 101, Delorimier-ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Company and told them that for over 25 years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands had been at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. Today—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c. stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

New Empresses Named

It was officially announced at the Canadian Pacific headquarters, in Montreal, that the company's new steamships, which are building on the Clyde for its Pacific service, will be named the Empress of Asia and Empress of Russia.

The new Empresses are now in course of construction at the yards of the Fairfield Shipbuilding company at Glasgow, and C.P.R. officials believe that they will revolutionize the passenger and freight traffic of the Pacific coast. Certainly there are no ships now plying between this continent and the orient which will be able to approach the new Empresses in point of efficiency and magnificence.

New-made Islands

Captain Schroder of the schooner Elviera, who has lately arrived on the coast from northern waters, reports that while hunting sea otter off the island of Bogoslov, a burst of vapor rose above the island, splashing the spray with bright colors. From the ascending cloud dust rained down upon the sea, stirring it to a boiling mass. As the vapor cleared away, a new land was in sight. When it cooled off they could see four new islands. "We could see them distinctly, said the captain, but they quivered in such a strange manner that we did not attempt to approach any nearer."

Centrally Located

American Schooner Seized

The Canadian government has seized the American schooner, Arbutus. The Arbutus put into Louisburg on her way to Gloucester, Mass., and there took on a consignment of fish detined for her owners in the States. This was a violation of the treaty of 1818, under which United States fishing vessels may put in at Canadian ports only for supplies, water and shelter. The Canadian authorities promptly seized the vessel, and will confiscate both her and her cargo. It is the first seizure ever made under this part of the treaty.

The committee which has in hand the erection of a monument to the memory of Montcalm, at Quebec, has fixed the date of unveiling to take place on October 16th. The intention is to surround the ceremony with all possible solemnity. This is the first independent memorial to the great French general to be erected in the ancient capitol. For years he has been commemorated in the joint monument with General Wolfe in the governor's gardens on Dufferin terrace.

Mr. Businessman Are You Very Much Alive?

¶ To the fact that Printers' Ink is an essential to the building up of a successful business. If you want to stand in the front rank of commercialism, you must advertise—not once or twice, but continuously. Therefore, Printers' Ink must be your watchword. The guide of the thrifty housewife is the newspaper, every column of which she scans to find out the price and particulars of any article she requires; the same applies to the man who wants either a suit of Clothes or a pair of Boots, etc.

MARTIN BURRELL, M.P. GETS APPOINTMENT

Receives Portfolio of Agriculture —A Popular Selection.

The decision of the premier to include Martin Burrell in his cabinet, although quite expected here, is a graceful compliment to the people of British Columbia. In all the seven gentlemen representing this province at Ottawa, the member for Yale-Cariboo stands out a conspicuous figure. In the first place he is an agricultural specialist of the first rank, and has figured prominently in all the most important debates that have marked the later sessions of the House. It is an open secret that almost from the time he delivered his first speech he has been marked down for such an honor. The hon. gentleman will now have ample opportunity to exercise that ability he no doubt possesses, together with his unrivalled knowledge of things agricultural, and incidentally the people of the east will have a chance to judge the reasons which actuated the electors of Yale-Cariboo in returning Mr. Burrell to Parliament.

Coal Miners Refer To Executive

The miners completed their convention on Thursday, says the Nelson Daily News, but have absolutely nothing to make public. It is thought that the convention referred the whole situation back to the executive to do as they think best.

There is no doubt that something will transpire in a few days to bring about a settlement of the strike.

It is known that the international executive is in favor of having a settlement reached as soon as possible, and for this express purpose Mr. White came up to the scene.

It is significant that he left for Indianapolis to-day and before he left he seemed very optimistic regarding a settlement. It is generally believed that the convention formulated some plan of action that the executive will follow to re-open negotiations and that something of importance will be made public in a few days.

Peck's Wanderings

Advices received from that hive of industry, Merritt, record the fact that the province is about to lose one of its most eminent citizens, for a time at least. The Hon. Peck McSwain is about to start on a tour of Central America; whether the hon. gentleman has planned the trip in order to escape the snows of our winter we know not, but we can surely promise the mosquitos of the canal zone an excellent treat when the irrepressible one appears in their midst, while he in return will discover in them a never ending theme for a series of new poems.

B. C. Copper Treatment

The B. C. Columbia company's smelter treated 12,002 tons of ore this week, as follows: Mother Lode, 6448; Rawhide, 4,071; Wellington, 389; Athelstan, 341; others, 753.

Blind Pig at Bull Creek

Provincial Officer Stanfield, of Phoenix, who was despatched up the river, on Monday, to investigate a case of illegal whisky selling, succeeded in proving his charge in the court at Greenwood, on Thursday, when Gorman West was hailed before Magistrate McMynn to explain his infraction of the licensing laws. The court fined him $100 or two months' imprisonment. The defendant promptly paid the fine.

B. C. Mining

A local syndicate interested in quartz mining near Hazleton have received word that Silver Standard ore, near there, gives assays of $800 in silver and copper.

The work done on the Bear creek properties, says the Merritt Herald, has shown up a splendid lead of copper sulphides, which is carrying values up to $63 per ton.

Colonel Robert Stevenson passed through Merritt, a short time ago, having just come in from the Big Plateau claims. He is on the road to the Coquihalla Pass to locate if possible a claim he staked forty years ago.

James McEvoy, who has spent several months on Groundhog mountain, near Hazleton, opening up coal measures there is very pleased with the properties. They have opened up an immense body of coal equally as good as the best Pennsylvania hard.

The B. C. Copper company has taken a bond on the War Eagle mineral claim, on Copland mountain, six miles from Camp McKinney. The claim is the property of Jas. Dale and adjoins the Le Roi group on which is a ninety foot ledge containing copper, gold and silver, yielding four per cent in copper.

A mineral discovery of the very first importance is reported from the near neighbourhood of Fort George. The discovery is one of a peculiar free milling quartz, alleged to exist in immense quantities four miles to the west of Fort George town. Numerous prospectors have been gophering in this territory for months past.

Owing to the fact that good placer ground has been discovered on Perry creek, near Cranbrook, prospectors have been busy for many years in an endeavor to locate the source from which it came. As a consequence of this search Geo. Carr arrived in Cranbrook recently, with some splendid specimens of gold quartz. The Cranbrook Herald says "that if they were exhibited elsewhere, it would create a stampede."

Articles of incorporation of the Utica Mines, Limited, were drawn up and signed on Friday, the 22nd Sept. The company will take over the mine and other properties known as the Utica, on 12-mile creek, west of this city, says the Kootenaian, of Kaslo, and will erect concentrators, tramways and do such other work as may be necessary to properly develop the property. The capitalization of the concern is $2,000,000.

Death of Mrs. P. J. Cook

We are sorry to announce the death of Mrs. Palmer Cook, which took place on Monday, October 9th. The deceased lady, who had been ailing for some time, was residing at Curlew, Wash., when her illness took an alarming turn. Her husband, who was in Phoenix, was summoned, but unfortunately before he could reach her bedside, the sufferer had passed away. Mr. Cook and family have the genuine sympathy of a host of friends in the loss of an affectionate help-mate and the children a devoted mother.

The funeral of Mrs. Cook, which took place on Thursday, Oct. 12th, at the Phoenix cemetery, was very largely attended, and was preceded by a an impressive service in St. John's Anglican Church, which was crowded to the doors, the Rev. L. Lee officiating. The members of King Edward Lodge, A.F. & A.M., of which Mr. Cook is a member, were present in a body, and many beautiful floral tributes, including one from the latter lodge, covered the casket. The Scandinavian Aid and Fellowship Society also sent a deputation and a wreath of natural flowers.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my heartfelt thanks to my many friends for their many expressions of kind sympathy and assistance extended to myself and family in our recent bereavement.

PALMER J. COOK.

PRESIDENT LUTHER ON GRANBY AFFAIRS

Cost of Smelting Reduced—Will Continue Diamond Drilling.

President Luther of the Granby Consolidated has the following to say regarding operations for the year ended June 30 last:

"Expenses have been reduced, and average cost per ton of ore has been less than in any previous year. Had we been able to operate at full capacity, this cost would have been further lessened materially.

"Difficulties in obtaining coke supplies, and finally the strike of all coal miners in British Columbia and Alberta, have added to costs.

"Our plants were never in better condition. All renewals, repairs, and developments have been charged to expense; all profits from outside operations as well as all dividends received from investments, have been credited to their respective accounts, thus reducing their book value, instead of considering them as profits.

"All developments at the Hidden Creek property fully confirm the information furnished by our engineers. These reports now appear to have been, if anything too conservative. It is hoped that production will commence on a small scale before the end of 1912.

"Mine development during the year consisted of 9894 feet, and diamond drilling 8207 feet. Granby ore smelted amounted to 959,563 dry tons, and foreign ore to 24,783 dry tons."

General manager Graves says: "Net earnings were not at all satisfactory, amounting to $217,416."

"The mines at Phoenix produced and shipped 950,563 tons of ore, against 1,175,548 tons shipped last year for the same period. Cost of mining was only one per cent per ton greater than the previous year, while the cost of smelting was reduced three cents per ton. I consider this excellent work in view of the conditions that prevailed at both the mines and smelter.

"The mines at Phoenix to date have produced and shipped a total of 7,229,914 tons. On July 1, 1910, there were 6,429,196 tons of ore estimated in sight. During the past twelve months 1,248,298 tons have been blocked out. Shipments during this period were 957,200 tons.

"More energy has been put into development of outside properties and in securing other properties than in the development of the Phoenix property. The intent has been, however, to develop as much ore each year as is shipped. Diamond drills will be put down from time to time to prove the continuance of ore bodies in various locations.

"The stockholders can congratulate themselves upon the purchase of the Hidden Creek mines, which has practically doubled our ore reserves. It is reasonable to assume that the cost of producing copper will be less at the Hidden Creek property than it has been at our plant at Grand Forks."

Missing

Enquiries are being made for the whereabouts of Arthur S. Plumtree, supposed at one time to have resided in Phoenix. Any news of his whereabouts will be appreciated by his sister, Mrs. Andrew B. Chalmers, 261 Wreford-ave., Detroit, Michigan.

Knights of Pythias

A special meeting of Phoenix Lodge, Knights of Pythias is called for next Tuesday, October 17th. Business of importance is to be discussed, and all members and visitors are earnestly requested to be present. Eight o'clock sharp.

Ridiculous Report Denied

The Conservatives of Granton, Ontario, have signed a declaration which is to be presented to the parish priest of Lucan, denying that on the night of the election at a Borden celebration the effigy of Sir Wilfred Laurier was nailed to a cross and burned in a huge bonfire.

HOW TO SELECT VINES.

Needs of House Should Be Studied Before Planting Seeds.

A house almost entirely covered with vines is quite as unsatisfactory as the yard so filled with shrubs that all traces of the lawn are lost in a general effect of thicket. We often see houses so overrun with vines that scarcely anything of the house is in evidence.

One good vine, trained up the house walls and prevented from rambling where there seems to be no need of a vine, will afford much pleasure, says The New Idea Woman's Magazine. But in order to get this result the character of the vine used must be understood before planting, and it must be given a place where its attractions can be given ample chance to display themselves.

A vine that has a tendency to go away up, up, up until it can hang its festoons of greenery from the cornice seems sadly out of place when obliged to confine itself to a one-storey building. Such a vine is our native ampelopsis, better known as American ivy or Virginia creeper. This cannot do itself justice unless allowed to climb to a considerable height, as it always does when growing in the forest and along streams. There it chooses a lofty tree for its support, and it is not content until it reaches its topmost branches. When planted by a house it will be sadly inaffective if it cannot clamber to the second or third story.

The celastrus, generally known as bittersweet, is a native plant of great value for house use if the right kind of support can be given it.

It has no tendrils, but climbs by tightly coiling its branches as it grows.

We often find old plants of it growing over trees, into whose branches it has imbedded itself so deeply that it cannot be separated from them. The best support for it when planted about the house is a large, stout wire extending from the ground to the cornice or in whatever direction you desire the vine to go.

That Tell-Tale Ribbon.

A certain well-known but rather near-sighted and absent-minded bishop once went down to a place in the West of England to officiate at the marriage ceremony of a lady whose parents were amongst his oldest friends. He arrived the day before the wedding, but owing to the pressure of engagements he had to leave the same time as the bridal pair, but was driven to a different station. As he proceeded to take his place in the train, with the porter at his heels carrying his traveling-bag, he became dimly conscious of the fact that he was creating a great sensation, but was entirely at a loss to account for it. Then, when he had taken a corner seat, he could not help noticing that quite a number of people passed and repassed the window, stealthily glancing at him meanwhile.

At last a porter came to look at the tickets, and he seemed hardly able to restrain his laughter.

"Whatever is the matter with you and all the people, my man?" asked the bishop.

"They want to know," was the response, in West-country dialect, "'ave 'ee been and left the lady behind, zur?"

"What?" exclaimed the astonished bishop.

Then his eyes fell on the side of the bag which the porter turned round on the seat before him. There, glued to it, was a wide strip of white satin ribbon, on which was painted in large letters:

"Married this morning."

One of the jocular guests at the wedding had mistaken the bishop's traveling-bag for that of the bridegroom!

Properly Resented.

An extremely timid widow living alone in the suburbs of the city was afraid that agents and tramps would discover she had no protector, so she wasted no words upon them. Answering a ring at the front door, the man standing before her asked:

"Is the gentleman of the house at home?"

"No, he is not," said the widow shortly.

"Do you think," the stranger mildly persisted, "he would be interested in a chemical fire extinguisher warranted to put out the fiercest fire if taken in the beginning?"

"No," replied the widow, deeply shocked; "I'm sure he wouldn't be, for he's in no need of one."

The agent is still wondering why she slammed the door so hard in his face.

Scaring the Lizard.

Some caterpillars have the power of fixing themselves by their two hind feet to a twig and stretching themselves out as straight as a rod, so that, being in color much like the twig of a tree on the leaves of which they feed, they are not readily observed. The muscular power required for this position of rest is great, and the number of muscles is found to be 4,000. When this fails to deceive a lizard about to devour it the caterpillar will lift its head to frighten its enemy and act like an angry snake, but gradually the lizard comes nearer and nearer with watchful eyes and finally attacks and devours its victim.

How to Cook Bacon Properly.

Place thin slices of bacon closely together in a fine wire broiler; place broiler over dripping pan and bake in a hot oven until bacon is crisp and brown, turning once. Drain on brown paper. Fat which has dripped into the pan should be poured out and used for frying liver, eggs, potato, etc.

Wrong Diagnosis.

A certain high rolling student at Heidelberg was ponderous, bibulous and somewhat stupid, his thirst for knowledge not being quite up to the standard of his thirst for beer.

This student the morning after a corps meeting, a meeting whereat he had drunk by actual count fifty-three large mugs of beer, awoke to find himself in bed, but half undressed, with his feeting resting on the pillow.

From the low footboard the student regarded for a moment his large feet propped side by side on the white pillow. Then he muttered:

"Himmel! Here I've been thinking all night that I had the toothache, and it's my shoes that have been pinching me."

GOOD PRINTING

There are three essentials to good Printing---Good clear type, good workmanship, good machinery. These are all at your disposal at the office of THE PHOENIX PIONEER.

A LITTLE DIP INTO SPACE.

Distances From Earth to Stars That Make Even Imagination Gasp.

One of the greatest sources of the fascination of the starry heavens is the measurelessness of their abysses. The ocean of space is so pellucid that we seem to see its spangled bottom, but trigonometry is powerless to reach it. Here and there only some projecting reef throws a star-gemmed point within touch of the astronomer's sounding line.

Such a spire, situated at a depth hitherto unfathomed, has caught and arrested the spectroscope plummet flung into the abyss by the astronomer Charles Nordmann, who has invented a new method of celestial soundings. The glittering star crag that he has hit is charted by astronomers under the name of Delta Librae, and the length of the mathematical line which now hangs between it and the earth makes the imagination itself gasp.

It is two quadrillions of miles!

It is only step by step that one can comprehend a number like that. Two quadrillions of twenty dollar gold pieces would make 100,000 necklaces, each long enough to embrace the earth and the moon in a double loop. An express train traveling 100 miles per hour and never stopping would require more than 2,280,000,000 years to go two quadrillions of miles. A projectile flying 3,000 feet per second, or in round numbers 50,000 miles per day, would require about 110,000,000 years to reach Delta Librae. Light, the swiftest thing known—the swiftest thing that can possibly exist, if we may trust recent calculations based on the phenomenon of radio-activity, and that can make the round of the whole earth more than seven times in a second—takes 355 years to come to us from that star.

Yet Delta Librae lies in shallow water. It is a gem cast upon a shoal, and all around it the mighty deeps of the ether descend to profundities unthinkable. At ten times, a hundred times, perhaps a thousand times, its depth glitter the star sands of the Milky way. To our telescopes they appear to lie on the very bottom, drifted into heaps and curves by mysterious currents, but it cannot be the real bottom even there. Beyond yawn abysses so black with excess of depth that the stars themselves, great suns that they are, fade to invisibility.—Garrett P. Serviss in New York American.

When He Did Better.

A celebrated bishop once sat through a long and atrocious sermon on a hot summer morning. The preacher was a youth just out of college—a very conceited youth. He bellowed through his sermon at the top of his lungs. His gestures were violent enough to break his arms. At every climax he fixed the bishop with his eye to see if a suitable impression had been made.

And at the end of the service this young snip swaggered up to the bishop and said:

"I fancy I did rather well to-day, sir. Don't you think so."

"Yes," returned the bishop; "but you did better last year."

"Last year!" said the young man. "Why, I didn't preach at all last year."

"That's the reason," said the bishop, with a pleasant smile.

Retention of Heat.

In human beings the skin is the principal means of heat loss, being responsible for the loss of 87.5 per cent. of the total heat lost. This is not so in some animals—the dog, for instance, whose hairy coat does not permit its skin to perspire. The dog loses heat largely by its expired air and by the radiation and evaporation of water from its tongue; thus it pants and puts out its tongue on a hot day. Obviously our clothes prevent the loss of heat, and the more effectually as they are bad conductors of heat. For this reason flannel, wool and furs are so much "warmer" than linen or cotton, materials from the vegetable kingdom and therefore not the natural clothing of animals.

A Misunderstanding.

"Why don't you go about with Miss Scadds any more?"

"Why—er—she told me that she did not care for society since her father had failed?"

"He is failing, that's a fact. Old age, I suppose?"

"Great Scott! It that what she meant? I must certainly call and—ah—express my sympathy."

Like a Man.

"Well, old Jenkins certainly bore his misfortune like a man," said his friend.

"Ah! Courageous, and all that sort of thing, what?" said the man who did not know Jenkins.

"Well, not so much that," said his friend. "As a matter of fact, he made rather a fuss about it. What I meant was that he blamed it all on his wife."

His Bluff Quickly Called.

"I want you to understand," he said, "that I'm the master in this house."

"All right," she replied. "Go out and tell the cook that we're going to have company all next week."

Then he put on his hat and went away, making sarcastic remarks about people who were afraid to say their souls were their own.

The Brighter Side.

"Goodness, pa, look!" said the mother of the amateur aviator. "His engine's broken down. He is 2,000 feet high. Oh, this is terrible!"

"Don't take it so hard, mother. Nobody can deny that he's going some."

Speaking of Color.

She—Girls seem to have the color sense better developed than boys, according to experiments recently conducted in the schools of Cologne, Germany.

He—But when it comes to hair boys stick to one color longer.

How It Looked.

"Why don't you eat your caviare?" asked the host.

"Didn't know it was to eat," replied Broncho Bob. "I thought there had been an accident and the cook spilled the bird shot."—Washington Star.

Domestic Bliss.

Mrs. Henpeck (with newspaper)—It says here that buttermilk will extend one's life to over a hundred. Henpeck (wearily)—If I was a bachelor, I'd take to drinking it.—Boston Transcript.

Provincial Items

Premier McBride declined the offer of a place on R. L. Borden's cabinet.

A typhoid epidemic has broken out among the workmen engaged in constructing the Canadian Northern road near Savona. The provincial health authorities have taken the matter up.

In the presence of a distinguished gathering, and with ceremony befitting the occasion, Lieutenant-Governor Patterson unveiled the memorial to Simon Fraser, at Victoria, last week.

A drowning fatality occurred near the west end bridge near Kamloops last week. The victim, a man named Barti, supposed to be a German, was seen shortly before standing on the bank. It is supposed to be a case of suicide.

James Gandar, a Frenchman, and Mow Wo, a Chinaman, were found guilty in the police court of Chilliwack last week, on a charge of supplying liquor to Indians. They refused to pay the fines and were taken to the jail at New Westminster for three and four months respectively.

The setting aside of the sum of $1,000,000 out of next year's provincial revenue for the erection of the first building at the new university, at Point Grey, assures the completion of a portion of the university buildings next year. The government will add fifty acres more to the site. The Governor-General will lay the corner stone.

September's school attendance in Vancouver was a record one. April of last year was the highest of all months up to that time with a record of 10,240, but last month eclipsed that record by 800, and showed a total of 11,055. Mount Pleasant school had the largest attendance, its record being 1012, Seymour was second with 777, and the Strathcona school next with 732.

Chief Downes rounded up seventeen Greeks and one Austrian last week. They were charged with an attempt to evade the immigration law, and were fined $15 and costs each, and ordered to be deported from the country. They originally came from Spokane, and evidently intended to engage in railroad work in the province. Immigration officer O'Neil took charge of the party and conducted them to the boundary line.

The famous Crystal Palace is to be sold. An attempt will be made to purchase it for the nation.

Local and General

Dry wood in car lots for sale. Apply J. Trombley, Phoenix.

Born—At Phoenix, on October 10th, to Mr. and Mrs. R. Lindsey, a son.

There is nothing like a visit from a milliner for bringing the ladies out.

W. A. Pickard and F. C. Edwards returned from a coast business trip on Tuesday.

Gordon Thompson returned on Tuesday from a short vacation spent in Vancouver.

Jas. McGregor, inspector of mines, visited Phoenix last week, returning to Nelson on Monday.

P. T. McCallum, inspector of immigration, of Grand Forks, was a visitor to the camp during the week.

Rev. L. Lee, of St. John's Church, visited Greenwood on Tuesday for the purpose of officiating at a wedding.

Eastman plate camera, 4x5, with carrying case and plate holders, in good condition. Price $15. Almstrom.

C. Weathered, mining engineer of the Canadian Con. No. Seven mine registered at the Brooklyn Hotel this week.

During the service of Evensong at the Anglican Church, on Sunday last, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Humphries was baptised.

Thos. Brown returned to town on Tuesday from a visit to the coast. He speaks in complimentary terms of Vancouver, and says the possibilities of that city cannot be over estimated.

T. H. Roberts, who seriously injured his eye in the mine some time ago, and who has been under treatment by a Spokane occulist, returned to town on Wednesday, considerably improved.

Jas. Walsh, who has been touring the rain belt for some weeks past, returned to the only city during the week. While in Vancouver he witnessed the defeat of the Toronto Tecumsehs by the Vancouver Lacrosse team.

Mike Kane returned from a prospecting trip this week. He brought news of the death of Jim McCague, at Vancouver. McCague at one time ran the Phoenix-Greenwood stage.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop of Vancouver, arrived in town on Saturday. Mr. Dunlop and W. Prendergast are on a hunting trip around Long lake.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

TAKE NOTICE that I intend to apply to the Superintendent of Provincial Police for a renewal of the Liquor License held by me for the Hartford Hotel, Hartford Junction.

Frank McDougal returned to town from the coast this week.

The Retiring Governor-General

One of the most popular vice-regal representatives that Canada has ever had, his excellency Earl Grey, sailed for England this week, accompanied by the Countess Grey and their two daughters, Sybil and Evelyn. Earl Grey during his extended term of office as governor-general, has won the lasting esteem and affection of the Canadian people, because he has taken the trouble to thoroughly acquaint himself with conditions and affairs, besides being eager and willing at all times to do anything in his power to promote their welfare. He has travelled extensively in order to acquaint himself with the magnificent resources of our country, and in almost every part of the Dominion he is a familar figure and has warm personal friends. The deep interest taken by both himself and Lady Grey in the movement to stamp out the white plague in Canada has perhaps, more than anything else, endeared them to very many. Ever since their introduction to the capital of the Dominion, the countess and her two daughters have been admired for their entire absence of ostentation and affectation, their simplicity of manner, their consideration for others and their interest in all around them. At the beginning of their regime the daughters were practically school girls, but their responsiveness and personality won for them golden opinions from the wives of cabinet ministers and others of the official set who first met them. Their love of Canadian winter sports, in which they excelled, particularly skating, soon made them favorites with the young people. Both the countess and her daughters have usually accompanied the earl on his trips, and are almost as well known as he. The term "gentlewoman" has become old-fashioned in this age in which brilliancy and glitter are frequently more highly valued than real grace and worth. Yet after all there is nothing finer in this world than that for which the word "gentlewoman" stands. As genuine gentlewomen, and as governor and gentleman, the vice-regal family have been examples worthy of emulation by the girlhood and boyhood of the Dominion of Canada.

Bucknam Pasha

Ransford D. Bucknam (Bucknam Pasha), vice-admiral of the Turkish navy and naval adviser to the government, was born at Hansport, Nova Scotia, in 1869. After considerable experience at sea he became a superintendent in the Cramp's shipbuilding yard in Philadelphia. In 1904 he took a warship to Turkey which the company had built for that government, and stayed on as naval adviser to the notorious old Sultan. A new navy is being built for the Turkish government by British firms, and Rear-Admiral Hugh Williams together with five other British officers have charge of the reorganization of the Turkish navy. The present fleet, which does not begin to compare with that of Italy, either in numbers or efficiency, includes a number of warships recently purchased from Germany.

The Late King's Printer

Another link with the historic past has been broken by the death of Lieutenant-Colonel Wolfenden, I.S.O., King's Printer for the province of British Columbia. The Colonel, who has been associated with the early history of the province, having arrived here with the Royal Regiment of Engineers, was a well known figure on the coast, and performed a never to be forgotten service by recording the pioneer history of British Columbia. The passing of the gallant colonel is not only a loss to official circles in Victoria, but the Dominion loses one of its brightest and best citizens.

Quake In Victoria

An earth tremor, accompanied by a rumbling noise was felt in Victoria recently. The duration was from two to three seconds, and the movement was from northwest to southeast. The tremor was of a pronounced character, and was noticed by residents, not only throughout the city, but in the Esquimault and Oak Bay districts. While of an entirely unalarming character, it was sufficient to cause houses to tremble, while articles on tables and shelves were moved.
