SEVENTEENTH YEAR | PHOENIX, B. C., SATURDAY, SEPT. 18, 1915 | NUMBER 10

MORE PRIZES FOR PHOENIX POULTRY

F. Frederick Awarded 14 Blue Ribbons—2 Shows Yield 23 Prizes.

Following closely on his capture of nine prizes at the Vancouver Exhibition, Fred Frederick has now been informed of the further success of his fine exhibit of Rhode Island Whites at the Spokane Interstate Fair. This latter triumph is even more remarkable than the showing made by the birds at Vancouver, in view of the fact that Washington is now a centre for breeders of this particular species of fowl and consequently the competition must have been exceptionally keen. Fourteen prizes in all were awarded him by the American judges, one of whom is a famous breeder of the R.I. Whites in the east. The consignment from Phoenix numbered thirteen, and fourteen prizes went to them, the following being the list: First, second, third, and fourth for cockerel; first, second, third, fourth and fifth for pullet; a first and second for a pen of four pullets and a cockerel; and three special prizes offered by the Rhode Island White Club of America for the best pullet, cockerel and young pen at the show, which worked out at fourteen prizes for the total exhibit of thirteen birds.

It is claimed for the Rhode Island White that the bird matures rapidly; is a good layer, with a propensity to lay in the winter, and is not so liable to disease. Its weight is another recommendation and, with its white flesh, makes it about the best general utility fowl in existence today. The standard weight for the full-grown rooster and hen is 8½ and 6½ pounds respectively, 7½lbs for the cockerel and 5lbs for the pullet.

Is a woman ever satisfied. No. If she were she would cease to be a woman.

B. C. Mining

Mr. O'Farrell has just completed a tour of the Kootenay mining camps in the interest of the Canadian Pacific whose plans for the quick development of the metal mining industry he is engaged in advancing.

Work on the London group of claims in the Indian River district is now proceeding under contract, according to W. J. Mogridge. The tunnel already run on the London is in 75 feet, and the contract just given calls for an extension of 100 feet. Up to the present time the tunnel is all in ore which, while it is of low grade, is improving in value as the tunnel is advanced.

For the first time this year receipts of ore in a single week at the smelter at Trail, exceeded 10,000 tons during the week ended last Saturday. For that period the mines of Rossland shipped 6623 tons, of which the Le Roi contributed 3806, taking the lead over the Centre star by nearly 300 tons. Rossland's shipments for the year to date now total 274,821 tons. The Standard mine at Silverton shipped 219 tons during the week. It total for the year is 267 tons.—Rossland Miner.

A. Erskine Smith has returned from a trip through the Skeena river and Hazelton districts, during which he inspected a number of properties, including the Cordilera and Copper King group on Kitselas Mountain, the Dardanelles group on Copper River, the Jamieson property on Skeena Mountain, the Harris mines on Nine-mile Mountain and Hazelton View and Indian properties on Rocher de Boule Mountain. He states that the Hazelton camp is a great mining district, and although prepared to see some fine showings he was surprised at the amount and volume of ore already exposed.

A narrow-minded lover makes a narrow-minded husband, remember it girls, and don't blame others afterwards.

Autumn Notes

The closing summer has been remarkable on account of the enormous number of "yellow jackets" or wasps, exceeding the product of any year in the last quarter of a century. Instead of the hundred thousands, they were to be counted rather by the millions, and were just as vicious as they were numerous.

Loggers and teamsters all testify that it was impossible to go anywhere in the woods without arousing the spite of these pests, whose dwellings for some reasons were nearly always built in the ground, instead of as in other seasons, the more usual paper mache hives hanging pendant from a tree branch. The bush in the neighborhood of the Skylark mine was particularly afflicted by these colonists from the nether regions, whose only redeeming point seems to lie in the fact of their voracity towards the ubiquitous mosquito, while the fortunately less numerous black hornet, as we personally observed, makes the wasp his especial prey.

Atwood mountain, situated between Lind Creek (we refuse to remove ancient landmarks, like our Greenwood contemporary, and miscall it Lynn Creek), and the No. Seven road, seems to be the present habitat of numerous bears, their signs being frequent all over the southern slope. Scores of places are evident where their omnivorous appetites have led them to tear up the homes of the festive "yellow jackets," which makes us suspect their near relationship to the Bosches, whose brilliant achievements on Belgian churches bear a startling resemblance to the doings of their ursine emulators.—But no, do not let let us unduly vilify the poor bears, for after all, their kinship to the hog family, is far more distant than that of the "Schweinhundus Germanicus."

Another remarkable feature of the present season, that is for lovers of the beautiful, is the gorgeous display of scarlet fruit now worn by the mountain ash "Pirus Sambucifolia" or, in Scot's nomenclature, the Rowen. Every tree of this variety, however small, is loaded almost to the breaking point with glorious clusters of the characteristic, holly like berries.

The most extraordinary example of the above, in the writer's whole experience is situated on the Robert Dempster pre-emption, about 100 yards south-west of the cabin at the foot of Atwood mountain, less than half a mile south from the Hartley residence, on the old Parker ranch. While not a particularly large tree, yet it is probable that the fruit, if gathered, would more than fill a bushel, with a large wasp's nest thrown in for good measure. As this is not more than four miles from Phoenix the sight might well repay the trip.

For the information of local Nimrods, we may add that grouse-hunting in these vicinities is likely to be more than good—only be sure that you put the accent on the word following the hyphen, as the birds are scarce. However, the reason for this should not discourage any "real all-round sport," as it lies in the fact that coyotes, cougars and the like, are rather too numerous.—(Contributed by W. M. S.

War Relief Committee Disburses Further Sums—Joins Flying Corps.

Phoenix is to have a representative in the Canadian Flying Corps, and within the space of a few months, if all goes well, he hopes to be dropping his calling cards in and beyond the German lines in France or Belgium. This was decided on Monday, at the monthly meeting of the Phoenix War Relief Fund Committee, which met at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. McLaughlin to decide on the disposition of the August subscriptions. The aerial neophyte is A. G. Hodgson, assistant at the local C.P.R. depot, part of whose tuition expenses at the new Vancouver Aero School, will be defrayed by the residents of Phoenix. Mr. Hodgson, who has already passed the strict medical examination, was in receipt of a wire from Vancouver on Wednesday informing him of his acceptance for the initial class of instruction, and requesting him to report at once.

The total amount collected in August was upwards of $2050, of which $250 was set aside to form the nucleus of a fund for the relief of local soldiers, who may be incapacitated by either wounds or sickness. The remainder of the sum was distributed as follows: Canadian Red Cross $650, Canadian War Contingent Fund $650, Overseas Aero Club of Toronto $100, St. John Ambulance Association $200, and No. 5 B.C. Base Hospital $200. The total amount collected and disbursed since the fund was instituted, exclusive of that for machine guns, is now $6540. $5290 went to the Canadian Red Cross and War Contingent funds; $300 was given to the Canadian Aircraft fund; $450 to the local disabled soldiers fund and $500 for the B.C. Base Hospital. Messrs. W. X. Perkins, P. B. Freeland, J. G. Mullen, Dr. W. L. Ritchie, and J. McLaughlin are the committee in charge of the funds.

Copper Market

Copper continues dull and prices are fractionally lower, says the Boston Commercial. Lake is 18 to 19 cents and electrolytic is 17½ to 18 cents a pound. Some of the smaller producers are reported to have sold electrolytic this week at 17½ cents a pound, and it is also reported on good authority that others have made sales at 18 cents. Nearly all of the consumers are keeping in close touch with the market, and their frequently repeated inquiries indicate that they must soon make purchases. All of the larger producers are maintaining prices at around 18 cents a pound delivered, and they express confidence that consumption is keeping full pace with production, and that sufficient buying will soon develop to relieve them of the small stocks of copper they have on hand.

"Slim" Has Hard Luck

R. L. Williams, the mechanic of the "Stutz Special" which came to grief on Monday during one of the auto races at the Spokane Fair, was well known in Phoenix, where he was employed as chaffeur by D. J. McDonald of the local livery stables. "Slim," as he was familiarly called, was something of a speed artist himself, and while here frequently cut into the time record between Phoenix and Midway. According to reports, the car he was riding in crashed through the fence after the bursting of a front tyre, and Williams sustained a depressed frontal fracture of the skull. The driver escaped uninjured.

War Pictures

G. M. Thompson, president and manager of the Calgary News-Telegram, will be in Phoenix in advance of the forthcoming war motion picture entertainment, which is to be given on Wednesday, September 22nd, in aid of a fund for augmenting the government pensions and allowances to sick and disabled Canadian soldiers. Mr. Thompson carries credentials from the government recommending that school officials make an effort to interest the children with a view to arranging for an afternoon matinee.

The Pioneer is now ready to receive 25c. subscriptions to the Overseas Club tobacco fund. The money thus raised is used strictly for the benefit of the men in the various firing lines or serving in the Royal Navy, and on no account can a package be consigned to a soldier in training in England or Canada. The scheme is as broad as the empire. No matter where the absent one be, whether he be hewing his way to the Rhine, or driving the unspeakable Turk out of Europe, or keeping the command of the sea, his heart will be gladdened as he smokes the weed that has been sent him by some kindly soul at home. We acknowledge with thanks the following sums: Geo. Mattocks 25c; a friend 25c.

The Grand Forks members of the "Daughters of the Empire" are preparing parcels for the soldiers from that town at the front or in German prison camps. Each package will contain a fruit cake, candy, tobacco, two handkerchiefs, and two pairs of socks.

Orders have been received by the military authorities at Vernon, directing that no more dtafts be sent there. All recruits now will be concentrated at Hastings park, Vancouver and the Willows, Victoria.

Thirty more Italian reservists left Fernie last week to join the colors in their native land. They were given a rousing send-off.

PREDICTS EXTRA GRANBY DIVIDEND

With Copper at 18c., Company Are Earning $24 Per Share.

A prominent eastern authority in the copper mining circles ventures the opinion that the Granby Consolidated directors will not increase the quarterly dividend beyond $1.50, and further states that it is reasonably certain that an extra large dividend may reasonably be looked for in either December or January next. The meeting takes place on October 5th. On eastern exchanges the prediction is freely expressed that Granby shares will eventually sell at $120 per, and with copper going at 18c. the company must have been earning at the rate of $24 per share.

If you discover a few good points in a man, cultivate them; it may bring out others.

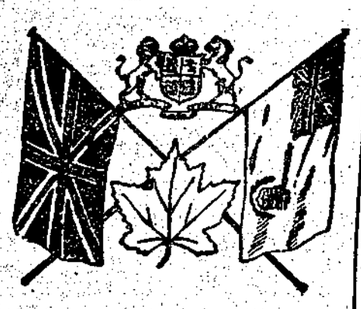
SATURDAY, SEPT. 18, 1915.



The game running at large in the forests of British Columbia is the property of the people, but the present laws governing the hunting of game in this province seem to be designed with a view to making it a rich man's preserve. Why would not a standard fee of $2.50 meet the case for all classes of game. As it is the British Columbia hunter's privileges are limited to the size of his bank roll, which is not equity, but tyranny. In the case of the $10 license for trapping no one will object, neither can any exception be made to the increased fee for the non-resident or alien hunter, but to deliberately restrict the sporting assets of B.C. to those who can afford it, is something the people of this province will not submit to.

The name of Botha is not at all liked in Germany just now. "Is this the man," one paper asks, "who was giving the British army so much trouble only a few years ago. Is this the same man who once sat down an honored guest at the kaiser's table?" and so. It is the same man, however, the man who affixed his signature alongside that of Lord Kitchener to the treaty of Veereening, a document that he for one never regarded as a scrap of paper.

The Xmas sentimentalists have at last gained their point, and persuaded the British government to allow the shipment from Rotterdam of millions of dollars worth of German-made toys and other Christmas goods. With the gold thus obtained our enemies will be able to purchase enough shells to wipe out half the Canadian army.

No matter how populous British Columbia may become, this province will always possess a valuable asset in its great hunting grounds, for there are districts far too rugged to be used for any other purpose than to shelter the teeming wild game of the country.

If ever there was a crime unspeakable, it is that perpetrated by the British labor unions in restricting the output of the munition factories. A German spy just now is a gentleman compared with a British coal mine or munition factory striker.

The recent order-in-council permitting the sale of deer for a period of six weeks, was no doubt designed with a view to helping the ranchers pay for their hunting licenses.

Arnold Maschke, a brewer of Republic, announces his intention of establishing a brewery in Grand Forks. Mr. Maschke must be an optimist of the optimists.

The Vancouver Fenian Raid company of infantry always parades at the police station. They must be well known to the police.

Thanks to the visit of German zeppelins the greatest recruiting boom for months is now going on in the British Isles.

Address to Canadians

The Pioneer is indebted to Private W. H. Sewell, formerly of the 15th Battalion, for a type-written copy of the speech of General Alderson, delivered in the presence of all units of the 1st Canadian Division, after the twelve days and nights of strenuous fighting embraced by the period of April 22nd to May 4th, 1915:

"All units and all ranks of the 1st Canadian Division—

"I tell you truly that my heart is so full that I hardly know how to speak to you. It is full of two feelings. The first is sorrow for the loss of those comrades of ours who have gone, and the second, pride in what the 1st Canadian Division has done.

As regards our comrades who have lost their lives, and we will speak of them with our caps off (here he took off his cap, and all followed his example); my faith in the Almighty is such, that I am perfectly sure that, when men die as they have died, doing their duty and fighting for country and empire, and to save the situation for others, in fact to die for their friends, no matter what they have done that they ought not to have done, (as all of us do). I repeat, I am perfectly sure that the Almighty takes them, and looks after them. Lads, we cannot leave them better than like that. (Here the general put on his cap and all did likewise).

"Now I feel that we may, without any false pride, think a little of what the division has done during the past few days.

"I would first of all tell you that I have never been so proud of anything in my life, as I am of this armlet with "1st Canada" on it that I am wearing on my right arm. I thank you and congratulate you from the bottom of my heart, for the part each one of you have taken in giving me this feeling of pride.

"I think it is possible that you do not, all of you, realize that if we had retired on the evening of April 22nd, when our allies fell back before the gas, and left our left flank quite open, the whole of the 27th and 28th divisions would probably have been cut off, certainly they would not have been able to take a single gun or vehicle away with them, and probably not more than half the infantry.

"That is what our commander-in-chief meant when he telegraphed that "the Canadians saved the situation." My lads, if ever men had a right to be proud in this world, you have.

"I know my military history pretty well, and I cannot think of any instance, especially when the cleverness and determination of the enemy is taken into account, in which troops were placed in such a difficult position, nor can I think of an instance in which so much depended on the standing fast of one division.

"You will remember the last time I spoke to you, just before you went into the trenches at Sailly, now over two months ago, I told you about my old regiment, the Royal West Kents, having gained a reputation for not budging from their trenches, no matter how they were attacked. I said then that I was quite sure that in a short time, the army out here would be saying the same of you.

"I little thought, we none of us thought, how soon those words would come true. But now, today, not only the army out here, but all Canada, all England, all the empire, are saying it of you!

"The share each unit has taken in earning this reputation is no small one.

"I have three pages of congratulatory telegrams, from His Majesty the King downwards, which I will read to you, also a very nice letter from our army commander, Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien.

"Now, I doubt if any divisiona commander or any division, ever had so many congratulatory telegrams and messages as these, and remember, they are not merely polite and sentimental, but they express just what the senders really feel.

"There is one more word I would say to you before dismissing you. You have made a reputation second to none gained in this war. But, remember, no man can live on his reputation, he must keep on adding to it. That you will do so, I feel just as sure as I did two months ago, when I told you that I knew you would make a reputation when the opportunity presented itself.

"I am now going to shake hands with your officers, and as I do so, I want you to feel that I am shaking hands with each one of you, as I would if time permitted. No, we will not have any cheering now, we will keep that until you have added to your reputation, as I know you will."

Knaves or Fools—Which?

An astounding social problem has been brought to light by Sergeant Hood of the Vancouver police department, who is in charge of the registration of alien enemies. The sergeant in the course of his duties finds it necessary to enquire if the person who may be held as a prisoner of war is married or otherwise, and through this means has discovered that there are a number of alien enemy couples living in the city who are under the impression that the purchase of a marriage license gives them the legal status of married people, without a visit to a clergyman. Instances are quoted where the couples have been so "married" for a considerable time, firmly believing that the payment of the five dollars legalized their state.

A RELAY RACE FOR $1250 PURSE

Championship of World to Be Decided at the Spokane Interstate Fair.

The world's championship will be decided in a relay race of four days to be run off at the Spokane Interstate Fair the week of Sept. 13 next, and in addition the winning riders will divide up a purse of $1250.

Some of the best relay riders of the United States and Canada will compete, and entries are coming in daily. The race will be for two miles a day for four days, beginning on Thursday, Sept. 15. Riders are to change horses and saddles every half mile. They must use regular western saddles, to weigh not less than 25 pounds, and must change and fasten same unaided, at the end of each half mile. Thoroughbred and professional horses are to be barred. The start will be made from the ground, the horses to be brought to starting post with saddles on. Each rider will be allowed one man to hold fresh horses and bridles need not be changed. The rider making the best total for eight miles wins. Each rider must complete full two miles each day, but in the event of incapacity through accident a substitute rider will be permitted to compete that distance. No entrance fee is charged and no deduction will be made for money winners.

Entries are received by Secretary-Manager Geo. P. Larsen, Chamber of Commerce Building, Spokane.

Yes. We have a very good idea who would be members of the local "Friends of Peace" movement. We also know where there is a very liberal and handy supply of good hemp rope.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

The weather conditions throughout the province are gradually becoming more favorable with respect to forest fires, a low barometer indicating showery and unsettled weather, the forerunner of the usual fall rainy season.

Owing to a heavy "drop" which continued well into August, the apple crop of British Columbia will not be as great as previously reported. It is now considered very probable tbat the total yield will not exceed 600,000 boxes. Last year it was 684,000 boxes.

An alien captain or member of the crew of any vessel arriving in Canada must now possess a passpost issued to him not less than two years ago. A portrait of the owner must also be affixed to the document. Failing these regulations no foreign seamen will be permitted to land in this country.

Taking advantage of the low rate of exchange prevailing on Thursday, C. G. Pennock, acting for the joint committee of the Red Cross and St. John Ambulance Association, transmitted all money they had then collected, bought 4200 pounds at $4.66 and saved $840 for the B.C. Base Hospital.—Nicola Valley News.

Cheere Singh, a Hindoo, was found guilty last week by Police Magistrate Cochrane, and sentenced to a year's imprisonment. Singh tried to live up to his name of "Lion" and attempted to crudely bisect a fellow countryman with an axe. He was arrested by Police Constable Stanfield of Grand Forks.

The body of a placer miner named Stevenson, was found recently in a tent near Princeton. The man had evidently passed away in his sleep. On his person were found $162 in cash, a few nuggets of gold and platinum, and bank books showing deposits up to $4000. The money was banked in Penticton, Grand Forks, Princeton and Rossland.

Boundary District of British Columbia

RICH IN MINERAL, AGRICULTURAL AND LUMBERING POSSIBILITIES--- A MOST PROMISING FIELD FOR THE INVESTOR.

Probably no district in the Dominion of Canada possesses so great an array of potentialities as the above. The mountains throughout its entire length and breadth, are almost without exception mineraliferous, containing gold, silver, copper, iron and other valuable ores, while in a few localities there are more than surface indications of the presence of coal.

FOREST AND MINERAL WEALTH

Its forest stretches are among the richest in the province, and what is of great importance, easily accessable to river and railway. There is scarcely a square mile of it that is not either equipped with high tension wires, or which could not be reached by the expenditure of the smallest outlay. Not the least attraction from the point of view of the investor, is the sites for water power, which abound in this district.

Just at present an immense amount of interest is being directed to the recent free gold discovery in Greenwood, while in the same district is to be seen one of the best equipped free gold properties in the west, a not inconsiderable asset in these days of industrial depression and shrinkage of gold reserves. It is in this district where is situated the Bhoenix and Grand Forks properties of the Granby Consolidated, together with those of the British Columbia Copper company. In the former camp, and surrounding it for miles on all sides, are acres of crown-granted mineral claims, all awaiting the advent of the investor. The title deeds to these properties, thanks to a beneficent series of mining laws, are unimpeachable, and if proof is wanted of the statement, let us point to the almost entire absence of mining litigation in the courts of the province.

AGRICULTURE AND FRUIT-GROWING CENTRE

The possibilities of the Boundary as an agricultural and fruit-growing centre are also worthy of investigation, and a visit to some of its spendidly equipped orchards will prove a revelation to the stranger. The highways throughout the Boundary makes this section of the province the motorists paradise, millions having been spent on the construction of government roads.

No localityis better served with railroads than the Boundary district. At present this section is served by two of the greatest systems on the continent, the C. P. R. and Great Northern companies, while within a few months the route to the Pacific coast will be commercially curtailed by the opening of the new K. V. V. branch of the former.

The Earl of Kerhill, in love with and favored by the girl Wynnegate admires, is a member of Wynnegate's regiment. By means of a forged check, Kerhill embezzles the fund. Much to do is made over the disappearance of the pension fund, and to save the honor of the family, Wynnegate agrees with the Earl's mother to disappear and let it be understood he is the embezzler. He leaves England in a schooner, and has terrible experiences. Tuesday

OLDER BUT STRONGER

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and rich and active with the strength-building and blood-nourishing properties of Scott's Emulsion which is a food, a tonic and a medicine to keep your blood rich, alleviate rheumatism and avoid sickness. At any drug store.

Pat Mullally was summoned on Thursday, by Provincial Constable Howieson to appear before the beak next Monday and explain why he was packing a .22 rifle without possessing the necessary license.

Two auto loads of local dancers travelled to Danville, Wash., on Friday of last week and took in the harvest dance. F. Werner, whose orchestra provided a very fine program of music, said the sight of the Phoenix bunch made him homesick. He was contemplating a dance in Phoenix in the near future.

Wm. Slack received the news this week that his only son, a youngster of sixteen, had enlisted in a battalion of the Border Regiment. It appears that the kid waited patiently for his birthday and then beat it hot foot for the colors. This should be an example for older Britishers who are slow to decide.

The drill of the Phoenix Volunteer Reserve takes place every Wednesday evening at 7.45 in the skating rink. So far the progress made has been very creditable, but the irregular appearance on parade of some of the members has somewhat hampered the instructor, who has been obliged to repeat his instruction for the benefit of a few. In order to give beginners a chance, an extra drill has been arranged for Friday evening. The affairs of the reserve are now under the control of the Phoenix War Relief committee.

On October 15th, the program at the local motion picture show will be the famous Greek play, Damon and Pythias. It was from an incident in the lives of these two men that Justin Rathbone, of Washington, D.C., obtained the inspiration that culminated in the founding of the Order of Knights of Pythias. It is claimed that to produce the various scenes the sum of $60,000 was expended, and the cast includes some hundreds of actors and actresses. For a photo play, Damon and Pythias had one of the longest runs of any attraction shown on the coast.

Basket Social

A joint basket social under the auspices of Snowshoe Lodge, I.O. O.F. and the Daughters of Rebekhah, was held on Thursday evening. The fine rooms of the Odd Fellows' hall were crowded with the friends and members of the two lodges, and the auctioneer, W. Oxley, was called upon to preside over some spirited bidding. The first prize for the most attractive basket was awarded to Miss Lily Pickthall, while the honors of second fell to Mrs. R Elmgreen. The music for the dance, which continued until the early hours of the following morning, was played by the Ironsides orchestra, and all present are instinted in their praise of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs as first-class entertainers. H. Sawrey was the floor manager, while W. Oxley certainly must have missed his proper vocation.

K. P. vs. I.O.O.F.

The local lodge Knight of Pythias crack base ball nine turned the tables on the I. O. O. F. ball team on the Recreation grounds last Wednesday. The warm weather certainly helped to awaken a few of the dead ones, and what looked like a bunch of creaky joints turned out some real snappy plays at times. Bill Jackson was on the mound for the three links, and fed the K. P.'s a fine assortment of benders, until the fifth, when he was derricked in favor of Bro. Barnes; another curve ball artist, who held the triangle boys scoreless. Davidson again started for the K. P.'s, but two and a half innings was enough, a splinter of glass falling from his salary wing stopped the play for a few moments, and on resuming play, Perkins was found winding up for one of his famous fadeaways, the latter didn't last long, the I. O. O. F. found him from the start, and seven runs came over. A S. O. S. was immediately sent to Noah, and in a minute an aeroplane (Jim Murdock's) was seen in the distance. With wonderment the large crowd gazed up in the sky, waiting patiently for the new hurler. After a little manoeuvring the plane landed with George Elkins on board. After a little warm-up, George was seen to wind up, and with a bullet-like heave the pill crossed the pan. Elkins saved the day, and with a bunch of shoots kept the I.O.O.F. from doing any further damage. McIntyre was full of life behind the bat, but seemed a little off color. Phillip's circus catch was the feature of the game, spearing a high fly back-handed, while up in the air. Chief Cook did the heavy stick duty, and speed considered, was the best man for the I. O. O. F. Bassett and Happy Murray called the decisions, with satisfaction. After the game the teams adjourned to Danny Deane's and did justice to the losing I. O. O. F. hospitality.

Line-up, I. O. O. F.—McIntyre, c.; Jackson, p. and 2nd b.; Cook, 1 b.; Bassett, 2b. and p.; Quance, s.s.; Pierce, 3b.; Johnson, c.f.; McKinnon, l.f.; Patterson, r.f.

Line-up, K. of P.—Perkins, p. and c.; Davidson, p. and c.; Elkins, 1b. and p.; Docksteader, 2b.; Goodwin, 3b.; Phillips, s.s.; Campbell, r.f.; Miles, c.f.; Patterson, r.f.

Too Many In B.C.

Suspected of being in the employ of the German government, a young woman, the daughter of a German resident of Seattle, whose prejudices in favor of the Teutonic allies are known to be particularly strong, and who is a friend and confident of Alvo von Alvensleben, was seized and deported by the authorities several days ago, after she had gained entry into Canada by false pretences. She was arrested in Vancouver.

There must be quite a number of these friends of Von Alvensleben in British Columbia. One of them has been in Phoenix quite frequently of late, and on one occasion made absolutely no secret of his pro-German sympathies. One of the gentlemen to whom this "friend" of Canada unbosomed his sentiments, informed us that he knew him as a member of a once prominent and now defunct German club on the coast.

B.C. Epsom Salts

The big natural reservoirs of Epsom Salts, situate on both sides of the international boundary line in British Columbia and Washington, are now being worked by a company. Recently three car loads, sufficient to keep New York City awake for a week, were shipped to the east, two going to that city and one being consigned to Philadelphia. The supply is practically inexhaustible, as by some process of Dame Nature, the lakes are constantly being renewed.

If you keep a man waiting, he might get into his head to keep you guessing.
