OUR BEST ADVERTISEMENT

It is an old saying but a good and a trite one yet, "a satisfied customer is the best advertisement." The matter of a low price pleases only for the moment—the matter of quality lingers in the memory for a long time. Quality, not quantity, wins trade and holds it. A new article sold on the basis of "more for your money" may catch the temporary customer, but permanency is what we desire.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

Extract from the celebrated speech of the late Lord Beaconsfield condemning the Liberal policy in the Eastern Question then being discussed in the House of Commons, in reply to the Right Honorable W. E. Gladstone, at that time Premier:

"It is said in the East, Gentlemen, that when a caravan of traders
"starts out on a journey a donkey takes the lead to regulate the pace."

COTTON'S LITTLE JOKE

Mr. Cotton's latest exploit as Finance Minister of the Province is of a most extraordinary character. He has offered, apparently from his own motion, to put up $1,000,000, a ninth of the total estimated cost, to the proposed Pacific cable. With regard to this outrageous proposition the first objection is all that need be advanced. It simply is that the provincial government have no more power so to dispose of the revenue of the province than have the municipalities of Victoria or Vancouver. The spending powers of the province are limited by the B. N. A. Act, which reserves to the Dominion government the power of spending money on telegraph lines, even within the boundaries of the Dominion, much more outside of it. Mr. Cotton's proposal is ultra vires and no more need therefore be said about it.

But the arguments put forward by his paper, the News-Advertiser, in favor of the idea are curiously inconclusive, when one considers the very large amount of money, in comparison with its annual revenue, which he is asking the province to expend. It is to be an advertisement for the province. What advertisement? After the temporary welcome which the proposal would naturally receive from the Imperial, Dominion and Australian governments, who are responsible for financing the cable, is exhausted, all that would remain would be an officer in Vancouver, about the existence of which the rest of the world would be permanently and blandly in ignorance. Who is there who has any idea where the several Atlantic cables strike the coast on either side? Not one man in ten thousand. Secondly the expenditure of this million is to be of the nature of a speculation, which is eventually to wipe out the debt of the province. If Mr. Cotton has a cool million lying round loose, for which he is looking for a profitable field of investment, let him spend it on building roads and trails in Kootenay, and this district will undertake to wipe out the debt of this province in short order. And the money will be spent to the benefit of our own people right at home. With every camp in Kootenay crying out for development and stood off by the government with the cry of "no money," Mr. Cotton's scheme strikes the HERALD as belonging to the realm of comic opera, than the sober realities of a business government such as our present rulers boldly declared themselves to be in the days before the last general provincial election.

THEY KNOW THEIR PLACES

The HERALD hastens to confer upon the following gem clipped from the editorial column of our esteemed contemporary all the benefit of its more extended circulation. Seeing that the editor of the Mail is grievously suspected of being the party who pulled the wires at Victoria in order to get the recommendations of the city council set aside and Mr. Kellie's nominees appointed, the pious honor of our esteemed at the introduction of party politics into municipal affairs is distinctly amusing. The extract reads as follows:

"We hasten to point out that we have no sympathy with the HERALD'S remarks on license and police commissioners as they appear to us to be dangerous in that they infer political feeling in municipal matters. We want no politics, especially peanut politics, in our civic affairs, and we entreat the HERALD to stop offending in this respect. Look back at its pages for a few months and the views it had when it declared that with incorporation Mr. Kellie's pull would cease. Look at it last week and hear it ask is Mr. Kellie or the council to rule the town because the government exercised its prerogative about appointments that it keeps directly in its own gift. There is no reason for outcry about principle (tell us what principle has been abused) no need to use insulting language to aldermen who know their places and we dismiss the matter by again begging our contemporary to let such political clap-trap alone. There is too much political feeling in the town already for its own good."

The HERALD is free to admit that it did suppose that with incorporation Mr. Kellie's pull over this town would become merely a malodorous memory of the past. The HERALD did not suppose for an instant that even Mr. Kellie or any of his satellites would have the colossal impudence to upset the unanimous recommendations of the city council for appointments, which are of purely municipal concern and interest; the HERALD did not suppose that, if they did, they would find the provincial government so lost to all sense of decency as to set aside the unanimous recommendations of the city council in favor of those of a little handful of political partizans; the HERALD least of all supposed that in the event of such an outrage being perpetrated, there would actually be found members of the council so devoid of independence and public spirit as to wish to have it so, and to plead ignorance as a reason for having coincided in the unanimous vote of the council, which claimed for the municipality the rights and privileges which it undoubtedly possesses, in spite of all the special pleading of interested politicians to the contrary. But as the Mail justly remarks, this class of aldermen "know their places." Great is Kellie, and the Mail is his prophet.

Gun Club Shoot

The regular weekly shoot of the Gun Club for the gold buttons came off on Saturday with only a fair attendance. A strong wind was blowing across the traps, making shooting very difficult. The following are few of the best scores:

|---|---|
| A. McRae | 11 |
| Guy Barber | 11 |
| H. A. Brown | 11 |
| J. Sperling | 9 |
| R. Philpot | 10 |
| F. Brown | 10 |

The results of the tie for the 1st button was a win for H. A. Brown with 5 out of 6. E. Philpot won the second button and F. Brown third.

F. Brown having won the third class button three weeks in succession, now shoots in the second class.

A Real Live Representative

Mr. Wells, M.P.P., reporting to the Golden Era the result of his recent visit to Victoria, mentions among other matters:

"Strenuous efforts have been made to connect the Tete Jaune Cache district with other constituencies by road expenditures, but the government fully appreciates that we have the only available route and there will be no appropriation other than what will make Golden directly tributary to the new goldfields."

Eureka

T. W. Baird returned from the Eureka claim on the Adair group, Laforme creek on Monday. The tunnel is now in 31 feet and the first lead was struck at 29 feet. The face of the tunnel is all in ore, principally iron pyrites. There are three men at present working on the property, and the owners intend to extend the tunnel for about three hundred feet at which they expect to crosscut all the three ledges shewing on the surface. Blackmore's boat took up some supplies yesterday morning. Messrs. Baird and Adair will go up to the mine next week, and another boat load of supplies will be forwarded immediately as far as Laforme creek, in case of high water flooding the trail in places this season.

Opulens Sine Dubitate

The city seal engraved after Mr. W. R. Graves' design, has arrived. The design looked nice enough in the drawing, but is too elaborate to come up well in the impression. At the same time the motto "opuleus sine dubitate," wealthy without doubt, is comforting, though it will probably not be found of material assistance when a poor man wants the critical bank manager to see eye to eye with him when the day on which you are requested to provide for the same arrives with its usual incomprehensible rapidity.

WHY?

Because by selling for CASH only we are contented with the one profit only and the Consumers Save the Retailers' Profit, This is as it should be and consequently in stores where the consumer formerly had a credit account, but is now paying Cash, a vast difference will be found in the prices and we may safely say that

And the others will no doubt try to come into line. To refute several false statements which have been circulated by interested parties we take this opportunity of saying that

THE NETTIE L

Progress of the Work—Stoping Ground 117 Feet Long by 125 Feet in Depth—A Lower Level Tunnel to Strike the Lead at a Depth of Between 300 and 400 Feet is the Next Work on the List.

Work is progressing on the two drifts in the Nettie L. The south drift has been run a distance of 62 feet and the north drift 55 feet. The breasts of both drifts are in ore of high quality. The ore increases in value in gaining depth. A winze has been sunk to a depth of 27 feet, when the surface water stopped the work for the meantime. Ore is shewing on both walls of the winze of a very high grade. It is estimated that there is stoping ground for the whole 62 feet in the south drift and 55 feet in the north drift. A shaft has been sunk for a depth of 25 feet from the surface all in ore, so that if indications go for anything the ore should extend to the surface over a total of 117 feet of stoping ground 125 feet in depth.

The contractors say that the very best ore yet struck is met with in the lowest level, showing beyond a reasonable doubt that the property will improve with depth.

Offers have been made to lease the mine but the Great Western Co. intend to develope it for themselves and mean to make it, what every indication points to its being, the richest silver-lead property in B. C. The company intend to drive a lower level tunnel a distance of 400 feet to strike the lead at a depth of between 300 and 400 feet. This work will be commenced almost immediately.

THE CALEDONIAN SPORTS

Programme of the Events Arranged for the Celebration on the 24th.

The trap shooting will commence at 10 o'clock on the Gun Club grounds. The Cowan-Holten-Downis Co. have presented a silver cup to be shot by teams of five from any club in Kootenay or Yale. Besides the cup there are individual prizes, first a silver spirit flask, second a gold medal, and five silver medals.

The Caledonian sports will start at 12 o'clock and begin with five races for children. At 1 p.m. the grand bicycle parade will come off and prizes to the value of $20 are offered for the best dressed ladies' and gentlemen's wheels. After the parade the sports will recommence and the bicycle races, consisting of one mile, half mile for boys under 15, half mile ladies' and two mile are sandwiched in between the events. There will also be three firemen's competitions, hose reel race, 100 yards, hose reel race, dry test, and hose coupling competition, which will come off towards the end of the programme. A prize valued at $10 is offered for the best piper and prizes worth $20 are hung up for the Highland Fling. The proceedings will close with a ball in Tapping's Opera House. The complete programme of the sports has been printed and will be issued today.

What's the Matter With John?

The Hume campaign committee have many sins of omission and commission to answer for. One is that the committee has not met since the February election; another is that one or two members have arrogated to themselves the powers of the full committee; and still another is that the one or two members who have arrogated to themselves the full powers of the committee have recommended for appointment to office men who were never in sympathy with the opposition when out of office, and are only in sympathy with it now that it is in office in order to get office. It is safe to say that three-fourths of the gentlemen whose names were placed on the Hume campaign committee last February are disgusted with a majority of the appointments that have been made, or that will be made, since that famous election.

Local Wheelman Organize.

The wheelman of this city congregated last night in fire hall No. 2, to discuss the advisability of forming a bicycle club in Revelstoke to affiliate with the Canadian Wheelman's association. It was unanimously agreed to organize, the club to be known as the Revelstoke Bicycle Club. Officers were appointed as follows: K. D. J. C. Johnston, president; E. K. Steele, vice president; H. C. Dier, secretary-treasurer; Guy Barber, captain; B. E. Atkins, statistical secretary; W. Meldrum, first lieutenant; J. A. Stone, second lieutenant. The club starts out with a large membership, and its success is only a matter of course.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

The idea of municipal ownership is gaining strength all over the world, by leaps and bounds. A few years ago, the suggestion that a city should own its public services was regarded as Socialism. Today it is looked upon as a business solution of one of the most important problems of municipal life.

As near home as Winnipeg, it has recently been decided to purchase the plant of the Waterworks company, and to establish a municipal electric lighting system. Today the city of Calgary is prepared to either purchase the property of the Waterworks company or to establish an efficient service of its own. The principle of municipal ownership has been proved by experience to be correct.

The only possibility of failure lies in the undertaking of the management of public works without due consideration and efficient management. In order to avoid blundering and consequent reaction against the idea of municipal ownership it must be seen that the duty is assumed under conditions which promise real and lasting success. As far as Calgary is concerned, the council are to be congratulated upon their dealing with the waterworks problem in a careful and business-like manner.

ANGLICAN CONFESSORS

The following extracts from an article in the May number of the North American Review from the pen of Rev. John Watson, D.D., more familiarly known as Ian Maclaren, expresses the opinion of one section of those who are prominent in the present religious controversy in England: "A large number of Englishmen are neither high, low nor broad; they do not trouble themselves about questions either of doctrine or ritual; they prefer a sound, sensible practical sermon to any theological discussion; they like a well conducted musical service, they respect a parson who does his duty to the sick and the mourning and the poor and the children during the week, and, if he chooses to wear vestments on Sunday, they certainly do not think any more of his judgment: but, since it pleases him (and the women) and does them no injury, they offer no opposition. This kind of man does not enter readily into controversy, and refuses to attend party meetings, and it is doubtful whether as yet he has expressed himself upon the present situation. He is begining, however, to watch events, and to get hold of the issues in question, and as soon as he is convinced that the Church of England in real danger, and that the danger comes from the foolishness of a few hot headed extremists, he will make his voice heard, and also his power. In no circumstances will this man, the average intelligent Englishman, return to the Roman church, or throw away the national and religious freedom which was won by his fathers; nor does he propose to be driven out of the national church, which is his home and his heritage, to take refuse in a Non-Conformist chapel. The moment that he has any suspicion that the confessional, for instance, is really to be re-established in the Anglican church, he will bestir himself to some purpose, and will be inclined to make very short work of Anglican confessors. It is this man who creates sound opinion in his church, and when that opinion is created it will certainly be against the Roman party and as certainly it will be irresistible."

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP LESSONS

A parliamentary return has recently been issued giving particulars of the water, gas, tramway, electric lighting and other reproductive undertakings carried on by municipal boroughs in England. The total capital invested in such undertakings amounted at the end of March, 1898, to £88,152,600, of which £83,379,300 has been borrowed. Of this borrowed money, however, about £11,250,000 had been paid off at the date of the return, leaving £72,129,300 outstanding against which there had been accumulated sinking and loan funds to the amount of £3,203,600.

The Economist summarizes this document. It appears that the average annual income from all the undertakings in the five years ending March 3, 1898, was £8,898,100 or 10.09 per cent, the average annual net profit for the same period £3,613,700 or 4.04 per cent, and the average amount paid in respect of principal and interest on capital borrowed £3,171,300. Water and gas works are the two principal undertakings in which the municipal boroughs have embarked, the capital invested by them in the former amount to £5,434,900, and in the latter to £20,175,800. Tramways figure in the investments to the amount of £3,213,700, electric lighting undertakings for £3,416,700 markets for £4,770,300, and piers, quays, etc, for £4,797,500.

TARIFF TACTICS.

The reduction in the average rate of duty accomplished by the Liberals is something less than 1 per cent. Mr. Foster struck the right key when he told the House that the tariff generally was now settled on the lines of protection, and that the opposition were willing to assist the government in keeping it intact, so long as it did not become a burden. The principle of protection of Canadian industries is now an admitted fact, though some details need adjustment.

The tendency displayed by the rank and file of the opposition as well as by the opposition press to taunt the government with having abandoned their principles in this regard is to be deprecated. No doubt the temptation is great and is increased by the foolish boasts from the government benches, but the Conservative party will best show its sincerity by abstaining from a line of criticism which may result in the harrassing of the government into unwise tinkering with the tariff.

A Boston paper suggests that in order to stop rich American girls marrying English dukes, earls, etc., and taking huge fortunes out of the country, that those titles be conferred on Americans on a graduated scale, for that of "prince" so much be charged, for "duke" much less, and so on down to the minor titles. It declares that this is only carrying a step further the present plan of selling degrees, such as D.D., etc., which, notoriously are marketable goods and very low priced—possibly though over their real value.

Admiral Dewey's exploits during the war were not any more worthy of praise than the modesty which has enabled him to keep his mouth closed about himself since he became famous.

THE MAN BEHIND THE PLOUGH

There's been a lot to say about the man behind the gun,
And folks has praised him highly for the noble work he done;
He won a lot of honor for the land where men are free,
It was him that sent the Spaniards kitin' back across the sea;
But he's had his day of glory, had his little spree, and now
There's another to be mentioned—he's the man behind the plough.

A battleship's a wonder and an army's mighty grand,
And warrin's a profession only heroes understand;
There's somethin' sort of thrillin' in a flag that's wavin' high,
And it makes you want to holler when the boys go marching by;
But when the shoutin's over and the fightin's done, somehow,
We find we're still dependin' on the man behind the plough.

They sing about the glories of the man behind the gun,
And the books are full of stories of the wonders he has done;
The world has been made over by the fearless ones who fight;
Lands that used to be in darkness they have opened to the light;
When God's children snarl the soldier has to settle up the row,
And folks haven't time for thinkin' of the man behind the plough.

In all the pomp and splendor of an army on parade,
And all through the awful darkness that the smoke of battle made,
In the halls where jewels glitter and where shoutin' men debate,
In the palaces where rulers deal out honors to the great,
There is not a single person who'd be doin' bizness now,
Or have medals if it wasn't for the man behind the plough.

We're a buildin' mighty cities and we're gainin' lofty heights;
We're winnin' lots of glory and we're settin' things to rights;
We're showin' all creation how the world's affairs should run,
Future men'll gaze in wonder at the things that we have done,
And they'll overlook the feller, jist the same as we do now,
Who's the whole concern's foundation—that's the man behind the plough.

London, May 12.—The pope has declare a universal jubilee for next year.

AN AMERICAN TRIBUTE

If you're wounded by a savage foe
and bugles sound "retire,"
There's something in the English
after all;
You may bet your life they'll carry
you beyond the zone of fire,
For there's something in the English
after all;
Yes, although their guns be empty,
and their blood be ebbing fast,
And to stay by wounded comrades,
be to fall,
Yet they'll set their teeth like bulldogs and protect you to the last,
Or they'll die, like English soldiers, after all.

DR. PARKER'S DAMNATIONS

The Saturday Review, (London, England), speaking of Dr. Parker's recent utterances concerning the sultan, in the City Temple says: In one of Black's novels, if we remember right, a naughty little boy can think of no worse torment for his sister than to hold her down and make her "say a sweer." For a certain order of mind oaths have a wonderful fascination, and we have no doubt that Dr. Parker, as he bawled out his "goddams" from the pulpit of the City Temple, "snatched a fearful joy" from the mere articulation of such wicked words. We can imagine the thrill of terror, relieved by "loud cheers," which ran through the godly audience, as they heard princes, potentates and peers denounced in what is supposed to be their own language. Of course, Dr. Parker thought he would shock and surprise the world. But we are neither shocked nor surprised, for we always regarded this reverent person as a self advertiser, with no ideas, and the forcible, feeble vocabulary of a tub-thumper. Otherwise, he must have seen the inevitable failure rhetorically of invoking damnation upon anyone from a Christian pulpit. Nor would he have made a panegyric on Cromwell, a racing man and owner of racers, the vehicle for a denunciation of similar tastes in Lord Rosebery.

[illegible] AND HOLDEN

Latest Particulars as to Their Clever Escape from Custody

Napanee, May 4.—Nothing of importance has transpired respecting the escape of Pare and Holden, although it is still the all-engrossing topic of conversation.

Inspector's Investigation

Prison Inspector Chamberlain arrived in town last night and made a thorough investigation of the jail this afternoon. What his report will be, and whether any, or all of the officials will be discharged, is not known. This much, however, he made pubile, that with the wire implements found in his pocket, and the iron bar, in his opinion Pare could easily make his escape without outside assistance or the use of skeleton keys.

Pare Is a Cripple

Pare suffered a good deal from rheumatism in his left arm and also in his leg. When the barber went to the Jail Sunday morning to shave him, as was his weekly custom, he said Pare's leg was greatly swollen and that he walked with difficulty.

Theories Laughed at

Outside assistance and the ladder theories are laughed at on all hands and even the sheriff is becoming sceptical about its plausibility.

That Mortar

The mortar under Pare's window, which the sheriff thinks was knocked out of the wall of the building by pushing the ladder up to the window, was evidently thrown out by Pare day by day, as he removed it from the hole in the wall.

Pare Gave Warning

It leaked out today from an official that Pare for several weeks past had given them notice that he would shortly be on the tramp again, but they imagined he referred to his expected release after the trial in Toronto. Pare had a very sore toe, and one day showed it to a visitor who was so impressed with the seriousness of the disease that he told him it should be amputated. Pare replied with a laugh that inside of two weeks he would be again on the tramp, and it would heal rapidly when he got outside and had exercise. This was just two weeks ago yesterday.

Where Did He Get the Wire?

Where did Pare get the wire? All the officials from the sheriff down never tire of asking, "Why don't you ask something easy?" Did not a government detective and the local officials last fall furnish him with a nine inch file, a piece of brass, wire, etc., that he might demonstarate that he could make a delicate Yale lock key with the rude file he claimed he did in his evidence? The key was produced in court, and the Court were delighted with his skill and handiwork. Of course Pare handed back all the materials, and this is where the insolvable mystery comes in.

A PATHETIC WAR STORY

A story comes from one of the southern camps, which is good, whether true or invented. A busy-looking, duty-loving woman hustled up to one of the wounded soldiers who lay gazing at the ceiling above his cot.

"Can't I do something for you, my poor fellow?" said the woman imploringly.

The "poor fellow" looked up languidly. The only things he really wanted just at that times were his discharge and a box of cigars. When he saw the strained and anxious look on the good woman's face, however he felt sorry for her, and with perfect sang froid he replied:

"Why, yes; you can wash my face if you want to."

"I'd be only too glad to," gasped the visitor eagerly.

"All right," said the cavalier gallantly, "go ahead. It's been washed 21 times already today, but I don't mind going through it again if it'll make you any happier."

THE NORTH WEST—CANADA

Oh, would ye hear, and would ye hear
Of the windy, wide North West?
Faith! 'tis a land as green as the sea,
That rolls as far and rolls as free,
With drifts of flowers, so many there be,
Where the cattle roam and rest

Oh, could ye see, and could ye see
The great cold skies so clear,
The rivers that race through the pine-shadb dark,
The mountain snows that take no mark,
Sun-lit and high on the Rockies stark,
So far they seem as near.

Then could ye feel, and could ye feel
How fresh is a western night!
When the long land breezes rise and pass
And sigh in the rustling prairie grass,
When the dark blue skies are clear as glass,
And the same old stars are bright.

But could ye know, and forever know
The words of the young North West!
A word she breathes to the true and bold,
A word misknown to the false and cold,
A word that never was spoken or sold,
But the one that knows is blest.

LINES TO HENRY TOLCHER, CANMORE, POET

Henry Tolcher, you're a daisy
Worthy of a nation's praise;
Though your jaded muse is crazy,
She's not slow in April days.

April days when snows are melting,
While the chilly rains come down;
While the hail storm swiftly pelting
Makes the smiling farmers frown.

Henry Tolcher, lo! we claim thee—
Kipling ain't a "patch" to thee—
For your works are grand—the same we Spread abroad from sea to sea.

Sow them thick where Genius bowing
Hides her head in modesty.
Where the farmer, toiling, plowing,
Dwells in sweet simplicity.

Where the stupid stare and wonder
At a poem of Tolcher's make:
Calling rhythm, rhythm by thunder;
O, 'twould make an angel quake.

Henry Tolcher, could we see thee
Grazing meekly on the grass,
We should say ha! ha! he! he! he!
Henry Tolcher, you're an ass.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST

A big copper find is reported from Oculet, B. C.

The shortage in the first year's operations of the extension of the Drummond Counties railway is about $360,000.

The Yukon River and Atlin Lake Improvement company, with headquarters in Ottawa, is asking incorporation. The capital stock is $2,500,000, 25,000 shares at $100 each. Among the applicants are James Shelby, William, Texas; T. A. Darby, Wilmington, N. J.; W. J. Poupore, M. P.; H. A. Bate, Ottawa; N. A. Belcourt, M. P., and Dennis Ryan, of St. Paul.

Mr. Herrington, of Napanee, County Crown Attorney, speaking of the escape of Pare and Holden, said Pare escaped from the only corridor in the jail that it was possible for him to get out from. He thinks that it will be a very difficult matter for the authorities to catch the fugitives, as they know perfectly well if they are caught this time they will never again obtain their liberty in this world. It is not likely that they will go near a large city. The Pinkerton men will no doubt be on the outlook for them.

The ratepayers of the village of Thurso, by a vote of 47 to 6, have carried a bylaw to raise $18,000 to buy and complete a waterworks and electric lighting service put in by the Stadacona Electric and Water Power Company.

Vancouver is excited over the news of a great coal strike at Carmanan point. The whole district has been staked out and people are very excited over the find.

The complaint of the locomotive engineers of the United States against the custom of placing firemen on an engine in the place of locomotive engineers is causing considerable talk among the men in Canada.

A trunk containing the body of a man was found last week in the King's Cross, (London, Eng.) depot in a pile of other baggage, marked "theatrical properties." It was believed a murder had been committed, but investigation showed the body was that of Jimmy Green, a music hall artist, who had been on the road with a troupe. Green died while on the road, and the manager, in order to economize, sent the body home as freight, paying 10 shillings for the transportation, whereas it would have cost £14 to have sent it home as a corpse.

A HUNK OF POETARE

(Guelph Herald.)

There was a bold burglar named Pare
In Napanee town he did tare,
He entered the bank;
Tore open the tank,
Much swag he outward did care.

And then this same burglar named Pare,
In Napanee jail had to tare,
Seven locks he undid,
And with Holden he slid,
He's a slick one is Pare, by Hare.

Dawson City is progressing. With a view to the sanitation of the city a series of ditches will be dug to drain the town. The contract for the establishment of the drainage system was let early in April to Davidson & Matthews, whose bid was $3.30 per cubic yard. The contract is to be completed by May 15th, otherwise the contractors will forfeit $100 a day. Engineer Buck estimates that the work can be done for $5,000. Plans are being prepared for a new post office at Dawson City. Work will be commenced on this building in the spring.

Michael Shaughnessy, a well known brakesman on the Grand Trunk railway at East Toronto, was squeezed to death about 1:15 last Sunday morning, whilst making up a train at Scarboro Junction. He was about to move the tongue in a Jenny self coupler, to prevent it coupling, when the slack of the train came back and pinned him between the two cars. His body was very little marked, but the grip had been a tight one and he expired in less than three minutes. Deceased was about 30 years of age and leaves a wife and child to mourn his loss.

Mrs. R. Hockley, of Edmonton, who is just returning from a trip to San Francisco and the coast cities, is spending a few days in town, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Pettipiece.

There will be a special general meeting of the board of trade on Tuesday, 23rd inst., to amend the bylaws so as to make the regular general meeting of the whole board monthly instead of quarterly. It will be held on the first Thursday of every month.

The latest phase of the Deadman's Island fracas is that it belongs neither to the city, the province or the Dominion, but to the Imperial government. It was concluded in the naval reserved lands before the province entered Confederation and has never been transferred since.

Messrs. Price and Owens started out from Golden yesterday and it is understood they intend going to Tete Jaune Cache to stake some quartz claims. They went by Canoe from Golden and will make an all-water trip of it to within a short distance of the Cache.—Golden Era.

There is nothing to hinder horses going in up the river as far as Laforme creek now and for two miles up the creek, as far as snow is concerned. But there are two places where the cribbing has slipped out in the canyon, which should be fixed at once to make the road passable for horses.

Dr. Paget, the new vicar of St. Peter's church, officiated for the first time on Sunday last. There were good congregations at both Morning Prayer and Evensong. Dr. Paget is an interesting and impressive preacher and the sermons at both services were listened to with great attention.

The Harry Lindley Company closed their engagement here on Saturday last with two performances. The matinee, little Lord Fauntleroy, was well attended by the young folks and was very nicely put on with little Ethel in the title role, but the evening performance of The Wages of Sin, drew a good house, but was a very tame affair.

W. M. Lawrence has found his trousers and his boy's clothing which was taken out of his house. They were thrown away by the thief in the bush below G.S. McCarter's residence. All the keys were in the pockets untouched. Fortunately Mr. Lawrence had not followed his usual custom that evening of putting the cash in the till into his trouser's pockets, so that the thief missed what he was after.

A. N. SMITH'S—BREAD

Is baked in the modernized old-fashioned way—the way your mothers and your grandmothers did. An immense brick oven heated by "4-foot wood," the fire drawn and there you have it hot enough to bake 400 loaves. That's part of Smith's secret of success. The rest lies in knowing how. Cakes and all baker's goods fresh every day.
