BOURNE BROS.

THE CITY COUNCIL

A City Engineer Appointed for Five Months.

The council met last night. Present
Kilpatrick, Wells, Brown, McKechnie, Graham and Cragge.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

Communications were read from P.
R. Peterson, applying to purchase that portion of Denison street lying between Morris & Steel's store and the Oriental Hotel for the purpose of turning it into a garden; from Less Martin offering to do the type-writing for the public works committee, for $10 per month; from the secretary, of the board of trade, asking the council to pay L. T. Brewster's account for expenses incurred on his trip to Victoria as a delegate from the board of incorporation, $75; from Rossland Standard Pub. Co. asking the mayor for his photographic and another from the same asking the council to pay for 175 copies of their annual at $1 apiece.

P. R. Peterson's communication was read over for the report of the committee on the similar application of H.
N. Courcier. Miss Martin's offer was not accepted for the present, as the city clerk can do all the type-writing necessary; the request of the board of trade was refused, as the council could not see its way clear to assume the expense of the delegation to Victoria;

the Standard Pub. Co.'s offer was referred to the Finance Committee to report at the next meeting.

The report of the Finance Committee on Fred. Fraser's account as returning officer recommended the payment of the account, with the exception of the following items: salaries of deputy returning officers $57, poll clerk $5; A. McNeil $3; W. G. Paxton and A. C. O'Neil $3; total $73, total $23, which they considered should be paid by the returning officer. Moved by Ald. Graham, seconded by Ald.

McKechnie, that the amount of $23 be deducted from the amount as recommended by the Finance committee. Amendment moved by Ald.

Cragge, seconded by Ald. Wells, that the city pay the several accounts, deducting the amount of $23 from Mr.
Fraser's bill, and applying it as recommended by the Finance committee. Carried 4 to 2.

The Public Works committee recommended the employment of J. H.
Buck as city engineer for five months at a monthly salary of $150. The report was adopted.

The Public Works committee, in their opinion it would be inadvisable to sell the portion of King street applied for by Mr. Courcier. Report adopted and the clerk instructed to notify Messrs. Courcier and Peterson to that effect.

Bylaw No. 10 to regulate the weight and sale of bread was read the third time.

The following bylaws were re-considered and finally adopted:

1. Health.

2. Dog Licenses.

3. Fire Insurance Tax.

4. Road Tax.

5. To borrow $1,000 from the Molson's bank.

6. City Pound.

7. To regulate streets and sidewalks.

8. Dog Tax.

9. Public Morals.

The Public Works committee was instructed to interview the C.P.R.
officials with regard to their repairing the sidewalk from F. McCarthy's to the station and also to instruct the city engineer to commence work as soon as they deem it advisable.

The Council then adjourned.

Adair Group

Ed. Adair came in on Tuesday night from the Eureka claim on Laforne creek. Three men are working on this claim and have run in 14 feet.
The snow is still very deep and the climate decidedly wintry up at the mine.

Early Closing.

The merchants of this city have agreed to close their respective places of business at 7 p.m. sharp, every day except Saturdays and evenings preceding holidays, on and after May 1st.

The Lyceum Company.

The Lyceum company opened here in Tapping's opera house on Wednesday night with the farce-comedy "All the Contours of Home." There was a good house, which fully appreciated the humor of the piece in which William Colvin, as John Davis, the henpecked banker, and Rose Cameron, his wife, created much amusement.

The parts of Mr. Eudors, taken by Douglas Patterson and Lillian Tassell, by Florence Royden, were well presented.

On Thursday night the piece presented was "Under Two Flags," a drama taken from Ouida's well known novel. The piece itself is rather sketchy, as is inevitable when a long and complicated plot in a novel is compressed into four short acts of a play and the reason for Bertie Cecil's silence is not adequately brought out at all. However, the actors did their best with it, the acting of Clare Lawrence, as "Venetia," being particularly good. Annie Lorrimer, as the other difficult part as "Chippette," very cleverly, and Edgar Keller as the hero of the piece, "Bertie Cecil," acquitted himself very creditably. The points and situations of the play elicited frequent applause.

Last night Shakespeare's tragedy
"Othello" was presented and very well put on, although to a poor house.
This was the first time a Revelstoke audience has had an opportunity of witnessing a play of Shakespeare in their own town and in justice it must be said that in their presentation of Othello the Lyceum Company exceeded our expectations. Every character was well taken and the piece ran with great smoothness. Edouard D'Olze as Othello, Leland Webb as Iago and Marguerite Lorrimer as Desdemona had the star parts and acquitted themselves to admiration. The costumes were very fine. In fact the play was a great and unexpected treat throughout.

This afternoon at 2:30 a three act comedy, the Prince of Liars, will be presented, and the company will close its engagement tonight with Shakespeare's great comedy the "Merchant of Venice," which, after last night's experience, the HERALD advises every lover of good acting to take in.

THE LARDEAU ROAD

Will Commence at Once from the Argenta End.

Gen. Sup't. R. M. Marpole came up from Nelson yesterday. Speaking to the HERALD he has completed the statements of the Nelson Miner that the Lardeau railway would begin at once from the Kootenay Lake end.

Two hundred men would be put on the work and as much of the line as possible be built this season. As the construction of the lower end of the road is easy the line may be built as far as Trout Lake before the summer is over.

The Nelson Miner of Thursday says that Poupore & McVeigh have secured the contract from Lardeau to Trout Lake City, 35 miles, and will start 300 men at work at once. Thirty men are already at work clearing the right-of-way. Their section is to be ready to hand over by October 1st.

SILVER CROWN GROUP

On Trout Lake Bonded to Mr. Axelrad of London, Eng.

On Monday last E. L. Kinman put through a deal with M. Axelrad, of London, Eng., whereby Mr. Axelrad secures a bond on the Silver Crown Hill, between and Face Tree, mine claims located on the north side of Trout Lake, 10 miles from Trout Lake City. The purchase price of $14,000 is to be paid in three payments on or before September 1st, November 1st and January 1st next, with a good payment in cash down. The owners of the claims are Messrs. A. Staunton and N. Lay of Trout Lake, and Messrs.
W. F. Cragge, T. L. Huig, A. Johnson and E. L. Kinman.

This group is considered one of the best undeveloped prospects in the country and lies in the same belt with the Silver Cup, Seattle L. American Maid, Beatrice, Great Northern and many other promising mines.

Mr. Axelrad will start a seventy foot tunnel in the Silver Crown as soon as the snow will permit of it, to crosscut the ledge at a depth of 50 feet.

Work is rapidly progressing on the fine new station and hotel which the C.P.R. is building at Sicamous. A large gang of men are now at work under the supervision of Contractor Tomkins, and the stone foundations are nearly completed. The building will be 150 x 60 feet, three stories, and the plans show that it will present a remarkably handsome appearance when complete. The travelling public will hail this news with a good deal of satisfaction, as the present hotel accommodation at Sicamous is altogether inadequate to the requirements of that important junction. It is stated that the new building will cost about $17,000.

There is a section of the Kootenay which should come to the front this year. This is the Lardeau district, into which two railroads are about to be built. The C.P.R. have surveyors out laying out a route from Arrow lake, which other roads will be built on the other side. There are some splendid properties in the district and with transportation facilities they would soon be developed.—Canadian Trade Review.

SILVER QUEEN TUNNEL

AN IMMENSE SHOWING OF ORE
IN THE CROSSCUT

A STREAK EIGHT INCHES WIDE

What the Topic Man Saw While On a Visit to the Great Northern Hill—

Important Showings in the Tunnel,
Which is Now in 200 Feet, Will Prove an Excellent Guide to Future Operations on Mt. Great Northern.

During the early part of this week the Topic spent a few days on Great Northern mountain, and while there, looked over the Silver Queen. This property has one of the largest showings of any claim in the camp. For over 35 feet is to be met with in more or less quantities. In the crosscut tunnel which is now driven over 105 feet, the first ore to be met with comes in at about 45 feet from the present face of the tunnel. The streak is about eight inches wide and runs 188 ounces to the ton in silver. A space of about 10 feet is passed composed of ledge matter heavily impregnated with iron and with small quantities of galena showing up here and there, then a stringer of two feet of solid zinc ore, and lying next to it 10 feet of a fine white quartz with masses of galena interspersed throughout its entire extent. At times in this part, after a shot, the whole face of the tunnel would be one mass of glittering ore, giving the impression that a huge body of galena had been encountered;
this would pass in the next shift, only to occur again. It is the impression at the mine that this section of the vein will, when a greater depth is gained, pass into a solid mass of ore. The galena contained in the quartz is very brilliant and crumbles away under pressure of the fingers into perfect cubes, from the most minute particle to the size of a pea. Next to this body lies about twelve inches of mixed iron and galena ore with the iron predominating. After passing through this streak, 18 inches of good steel galena was encountered; this was the latest strike. The steel galena has been left behind some 15 feet or more and the men are working through a ledge matter which on Tuesday last was becoming very heavily impregnated with iron and galena, from the appearance of which it was thought that another body of ore was at no great distance.

One thing which strikes the visitor
as peculiar, in examining the crosscut, is the fact that there is no rock present which has the appearance of wall rock from the mouth of the tunnel to its breast, and the driving has been through a sort of ledge filling totally devoid of anything like the country rock of this part of the district. Taking a pick, it is impossible at any point in the last 35 feet, by striking the walls of the tunnel, to expose mineral of some kind or description. The work now being done on the Silver Queen is most important and will have a very great influence on the future of this hill.

Lying on the same lead with the Silver Queen are the Broadview, Great Northern, True Fissure and St. Elmo groups, sixteen claims in all. On the Great Northern there are very extensive workings as is also the case on the Broadview. The St. Elmo is showing up very well, but has no
very great depth, neither has the True Fissure. When these properties are actively operated, which it is hoped will be the case during the coming summer, one of the biggest veins in the province will be sending its product to the smelter.

The getting of depth on this vein appears to be the greatest difficulty to content with at present on both the Broadview and Great Northern; this is aggravated by the nature of the surface ground and the extreme flat-ness of the lead. On the Silver Queen this difficulty is not so apparent, for the crosscut has been driven from a point where the tunnel site could not possibly be improved on. The lead has been cut at a depth of over 100 feet and appears to be straightening up.
The results of future operations on this property will be eagerly looked for as it is expected that before encountering the footwall a large body of ore will be passed through. It is the case on the Northern and it is reasonable to suppose that it will be so at this point on the vein.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 1899.

A large number of Americans are coming into Alberta this spring. In conversation with a number of them we find that the main attraction of Alberta is for them is her mild climate. They say that Manitoba and Eastern Assiniboia are too much like Minnesota and Dakota. "Sunny" Alberta is a great drawing card.

According to Winnipeg papers that city is knee deep in mud, under the influence of the sun, emits odors like sulphur.

DIVER ESCAPES A SHARK.

A Thrilling Experience at a Wharf in South African Waters.

One of the local divers named Batten has experienced a shock and a narrow escape. The Cape Argus has been engaged to recover a few heavy rails which had fallen overboard from a steamer and the main wharf. The rails were found and one had been hauled to the surface when Batten perceived a young shark swimming around him. Having omitted to arm himself with the knife which he carried, Batten moved to the boat and secured a weapon, intending to stab the shark if opportunity presented itself. On descending to the bottom again, however, Batten did not see the prowling "juvenile" and proceeded to the rails which remained to be hoisted. He was about to attack the next rail when, to his surprise and alarm, he noticed a huge shark, approximately 10 feet long, lying right across the rails.

The diver was in a quandary, because retreat from such a monster was exceedingly dangerous, while open hostilities with the knife would have been almost suicidal, not only on account of the size of the shark, but on account of its being literally sheathed with barbed teeth. Further, although the shark lay almost motionless, not a single rail could be touched without disturbing it. With a view to frightening the shark Batten suddenly released all the air contained in his suit, which act caused a cloud of bubbles to rise from the escape valve. The shark did not budge, and when the suit had refilled Batten made several feints as if to stab his enemy, but again without the desired effect. Then the monster made the first move. Steadily he rolled over on his back, showing a long white belly, and opened and shut an enormous mouth, framed with rows of ivory white sawlike teeth. Batten wisely waited for no more, but dipped the escape valve, causing him to rise rapidly to the surface. He lost no time in scrambling up the ladder into the boat out of harm's way. A number of people spent a great part of the afternoon in endeavoring to hook the shark. Various kinds of bait were tried, but without success.

PHOTOGRAPHING A MONKEY.

He Is the Hardest of All Brutes to Get Before the Camera.

"One of the most difficult brutes to photograph is the monkey," said a man in New York who was very expert in taking the pictures of all sorts of animals and birds. "You may try as much as you like, but you will never succeed in making a monkey look straight into the center of a camera for even a second. Its glance always shifts off to one side or the other. Not only that, but even your eye full or fix its own upon yours, and I have come to the conclusion that a monkey cannot look at a camera any more than it can look a human being in the face. "Take a dog's head in your two hands and look into its eyes. The beast will turn your gaze, not for long, perhaps, for the contemplation of human intelligence distresses all animals. But it is not so with the monkey. Hold its head as patiently as you please between your hands, and it will cast its eyes up to the ceiling and keep on blinking or cast them down to the floor as if asleep or twist them around in a most absurd fashion to look over one side or the other, but never, even in passing by it, will it catch yours. "Why is this? I don't know, unless it is that the animal has some secret regarding its own origin that it does not wish us to find out. However, if they are bashful, they are very inquisitive, and if I were to leave my camera unguarded for ten minutes in a cage containing a dozen monkeys half the family would be busy taking photographs of the other half."—Washington Star.

In School.

Teacher—Now, leather comes from the cow and wool from the sheep, and wool is made into cloth and cloth into coats. Now, what is your coat made of—yours, Tommy? Tommy (with hesitation)—Out o' father's.

LESSONS IN SLANG.

The Teacher Began Well, but Soon Came to Grief.

In spite of the fact that she wanted to learn a little something about the subject, it seems probable that she was better versed in some features of it than he thought. In fact, she denoted appearance of a girl or a woman does not necessarily make it safe to draw any conclusions as to her knowledge of those features of our language not usually recognized in polite society.

"John," she said, "I want you to give me the meaning of some slang words."

"Why, of course," he replied. "Fire ahead."

There is nothing that pleases a man more, you know, than any sort of an intimation from a woman that he knows more than she does about any subject. Things of that sort occur so seldom.

"What is a 'cinch'?"

"That's easy," he replied. "You know, in the west the knot a cowboy ties in his saddle girth is called a cinch, the feature of it being that it positively will not slip or come loose. From that we sort of reason that—"

"Well, it conveys the idea of something that holds tight."

"Like matrimony?"

"Well, not exactly. Matrimony is sometimes a cinch, but not always—not by a good deal."

There was just a suggestion of some sinister meaning underlying this, but before she had time to go very deeply into it he hastened to explain that cinch meant something that was easy—a certainty.

"For instance," he went on, "when I made up my mind to ask you to marry me, it was a cinch that I would get you."

"Oh, it was, was it?" she demanded, suddenly showing unmistakable signs of aggressiveness. "And what is a bluff? Can you tell me that?"

"Why—er—er—a bluff is—er—"

"When you told me you could support me in the style to which I had been accustomed," she interrupted, "I suppose that was a bluff."

Sometimes a man whose bump of humor is abnormally developed, is unable to see the point of a joke when he is the butt of it. Possibly that may explain the strained relations that existed in that household for as much as half a day.—Chicago Post.

Pouring Oil on Troubled Waters.

The Indiana was kept dry by the dripping of oil from both bows, and, although tremendous seas were running and breaking, they could not come on board. This was certainly a most practical illustration of the old saying, as to the "pouring of oil on troubled waters," a proverb as old as the Bible, but only very recently applied, thanks to the hydrographic office of the United States, and now very generally followed, and the world over. It was an American also (Redfield) who first thoroughly found out and explained this, true character of these revolving storms, and to him all seamen are forever indebted.

In using oil it is astonishing how small a quantity will suffice—just a quart or two in a bag stuffed with cotton hung over the bows and allowed to drip drop by drop on the sea, where it spreads out in a thin greasy film over the surface of the water. Over the film the wind slips, as it were, and has no power to bank the water up into waves which would have carried the ship overboard.

Hundreds of reports are on file in the office attesting the marvelous results of this simple agent of safety.—St. Nicholas.

Afghan Exclusiveness.

In the matter of trade and passage through his country the amir is irreconcilably obstinate. Here again his inordinately suspicious character comes in, for no trade king or syndicate has yet been able to move him in this matter, though he must see plainly that the opening up of Afghanistan to the benefits of external trade would eventually enrich the country and improve his own revenues. With similar jealousy and want of trustfulness in the motives of others, he closes his country to foreign travelers almost as selfishly as the Tibetans have closed theirs. It is only to special individuals of rank and importance that he will concede the privilege of a protected passage, albeit there is comparatively speaking, little danger involved in traveling in Afghanistan. The writer was very recently in what was then one of the most uncivilized bazaar in the country, and the Afghans were most civil and obliging.—Review of Reviews.

Only Marked It Out.

A lovelorn youth had quarreled with his ladylove, and with bitter angry words he named, and he decided that life was no longer worth living. Abruptly turning into a barber's, he sat in a vacant chair and calmly requested the barber to cut his throat.

The barber acquiesced, and, tucking the cloth round his neck, fixed the heady razor to the youth's chin, and was well advanced. Then drawing a stout pin from the corner of his waistcoat and holding it firmly between his finger and thumb, he drew the pin quickly across the neck of the man.

Immediately with a scream worthy of a red Indian, the despairing one leaped from the chair, shouting:

"Surely, surely you have not done it?"

"Oh, no, sir," said the barber. "Sit down again, sir. I've only marked it out!"—Pearson's Weekly.

Anecdote of Aldrich.

A very clever anecdote is told of Thomas Bailey Aldrich. One day the distinguished author happened to saunter into an auction room where a sale of rare editions, old manuscripts and autographs was going on. The auctioneer, holding in his hands a bundle of letters, said: "Ladies and gentlemen, I have here two autographs which were written by a man named Thomas Bailey Aldrich. I shall now start them for you at the price of two for five cents." No bids were made, and they were sold for that sum.

Mr. Aldrich, in speaking of the incident, referred to a friend said: "I wouldn't have cared at all if they had gone for five cents each, but two for five reminded me very forcibly of little apples."—Philadelphia Post.

MARCH WINDS.

Far herald from the frozen north, The green of grasses bringing, With violets on the wayside slopes And sounds of bluebirds singing. How shall we joy to find thee here When spring has slipped her tether, Swift scattering from her, far and near Winds and the windy weather.

By night the wild goose phalanx lone To polar zone is flying, And o'er the hills the thrills Thrill of the wind's cry. The white light flung from faroff skies Drifts downward like a feather And bending northward bends the wind and the windy weather.

The orchard sap begins to stir As swift the March wind passes, The primrose and the wild flower meet Where cool weed shadow mingles, And o'er the hills the rain and sun Troop down the days together, With weaving maze of blossoms spun, Winds and the windy weather.

A MODERN SOLOMON.

The Dogs In an Arabian Family Made to Tell the Truth.

A recent French judgment may be cited as an illustration of Arab manners and Gallie astuteness. An Arab was traveling through the interior with his wife. He was on donkey back, and she was afoot. By came a rich Arab on horseback and offered her a lift behind him. She accepted, and presently, in the course of the journey, confided that she was unappetizingly married. Her companion proposed a plan by which she might elope with him, and she agreed to it readily. Accordingly when they came to a branch road they increased their pace and said no heed to the protestations of the husband, who was soon left behind. He succeeded in tracking them to the horseman's village, only to find that precautions had been taken against his arrival, for all asserted that they had known the runaway pair for many years as man and wife, and that the real husband must be an impudent impostor.

The unfortunate man had recourse to the French, who were at first puzzled how to act in the face of a village's unanimous testimony. At last a happy thought occurred to the judge. He placed the real husband and dogs in one room and those of the other man in another and confronted the woman with both. Arab dogs are very faithful to their own households and very fierce toward all strangers, so, though she did her utmost to irritate her own dogs, they could not be restrained from barking and howling, and she testified every blandishment toward the dogs of her new home, they barked and showed their teeth with ever increasing fury. The judge thereupon ordered her to be given back to her husband, and he placarded the village with the following notice: "The testimony of one dog is here to be believed than that of ten Arabs." As a dog is one of the Arab's worst enemies of opprobrium, this notice was deemed a worse punishment than fines or imprisonment.—London Post.

Nothing Broken.

A recent bride in Washington, who received many handsome pieces of glassware and among her wedding gifts is exceedingly proud of her treasure and has a perfect jewel of a maid, who hasn't broken a single piece. One afternoon not long ago the mistress came home and found the maid out. An hour or so later the domestic returned. Her arms were full of bundles, and she carried a basket. Her face was radiant.

"Oh," she said, "the table was perfectly lovely! It was just exactly the way you fix yours when you have company—candles and everything. It was just too sweet. Everybody thought so."

"What are you talking about?" asked the mistress.

"Why," answered the maid, "the luncheon my sister gave today. I didn't have time to ask you, but I knew you wouldn't mind. Nothing's broken! And unwrapping her bundles, she disclosed her mistress astonished eyes the very pick of all the cherished wedding china and glass, not to mention sundry pieces of silver. They had adorned the luncheon, and the table was 'perfectly lovely.'—Exchange.

He Could Steer.

A member of the crew of the Yankee tells The Electrical Review of an incident that happened aboard that vessel during the recent cruise. Said he:

"We were out at sea, and one of the boys—you know him—was doing his trick at the wheel. Commander Brown came up alongside him and after watching him a few minutes said, 'You steer very well, my man.' Billy just saluted, being up on naval etiquette. 'Been practicing since you joined the ship?' asked Brown. 'No, sir,' I haven't been practicing much," said Billy. "Well, you handle this ship as if you'd steered before," said Brown. 'Yes, sir,' said Billy. 'I have.' 'Where?' said Brown. 'All along the Atlantic coast,' says Billy. 'What did you steer?' says Brown. 'My own steam yacht,' says Billy. 'How big is that?' says Brown after a pause. 'About 1,000 tons, sir,' says Billy. 'I-I see,' says Brown. 'Thank you, sir,' says Billy saluting. And the old man went to his stateroom."

Optim and Wine In Tunis.

The Arabs of Tunis give their children optimism to prevent their crying. It is reported that each child consumes on an average an infusion of one-penny head every evening of its life up to the age of 2 years. No ill effects are noted as resulting from this singular practice.

The men of Tunis who are not Moslems are often fast drinkers. There are shops in the town where a subscription of 5 shillings a month gives the right to come every day and drink as much as one likes. This is possible as palm wine is very cheap and very strong.

Wanted to Make It Heat.

He was a painter son of Ireland, and as he worked painting the frame his face wore a troubled look. Suddenly a smudge came across his countenance, and, hastily dipping the brush into the paint pot, he began to paint faster and faster.

"Why are you painting so fast?" asked a bystander. "You're in a rush all of a sudden to finish the job."

"Sure, an' that's all right," was his reply. "I've been a painter since I was a boy, but I didn't know of all this fancy work."—Philadelphia Call.

Ottawa, April 25.—T. O. Davis, of Saskatchewan, moved a resolution in the house today providing that the coal oil should be placed on the free list. Ellis, St. John, B.D., seconded. Nicholas Flood Davis also supported the resolution.

Hon. Mr. Fielding moved the adjournment of the debate. In doing so he said that the house could not deal with a separate item of the tariff, but must deal with the tariff as a whole. The resolution was lost on a straight party vote of 63 to 33. Fielding also announced that the budget would be delivered on Tuesday next.

WHITE MAN'S BURDEN

Atlanta, Ga., April 25.—The series of crimes which began with the burning of Palmto to by incendiaries and the burning of a month later of four negroes by whites in that city, in retaliation, to be followed 10 days later by the murder of Alfred Grandford and ravishing of his wife, for which the negro Sam Hose was burned at the stake yesterday, have roused the people of Georgia and the whole of the south into a frenzied interest in social problems of race. Discussion of crimes and remedy for this lawlessness has reached all circles and the question of protecting the white women in the settled districts is the topic of the day.

Chief Justice McCall broke down on the last words as he pronounced sentence of death.

SPLENDID RECEPTION

The Duke and Duchess of York have met with a splendid reception in Ireland. In fact the exceptional cordiality of their welcome from all classes, including the peasants, made a considerable impression. The Earl and Countess of Cadogan had a very smart party at the Cadogan Lodge, Dublin, during the Duke and Duchess of York's visit, including the Countess of Warwick whose jewels and dresses quite eclipsed all others. Among the other guests were the Duke and Duchess of Abercorn, Lady Helen Stewart, the Earl of Salisbury and Lord Cowling. One of the leading functions was a ball given by Lord and Lady Roberts of Kandahar on Thursday evening, the cream of the society being present. There was a dazzling scene in the ball room, the walls being covered with 4,000 pieces of polished steel armor and trophies won by Irish regiments in foreign battles.

GRMEANY'S DENIAL—STORMS AND SHIPWRECK

Newton, Ga., April 24.—Sam Hose, the negro who murdered Alfred Burnard and assaulted his wife was burned at the stake two miles from here yesterday afternoon in the presence of 2000 people. Hose was taken from the jail by the mob and a procession quickly formed, the doomed negro being marched at the head through the principal streets of the town until the public square was reached. Here ex-Governor Atkinson of Georgia, who lives at Newman came hurriedly upon the scene. Standing up in a buggy he implored the crowd to let the law take its course. It was in vain and the negro was quickly attached to the stake and burnt to death with horrible tortures.

TROUBLE BREWING AT VANCOUVER OVER THE DEADMAN DEAL

AN ALLAN LINE STEAMSHIP REPORT—ED MISSING

Berlin, April 22.—Wilhelm Liebnicht, the Socialist leader, has received a letter from Michael Davitt, Nationalist member in the British House of Commons for South Mayo, in which the writer says that he is unable to confirm from his own personal knowledge that the charges recently brought in the London Truth against the London Missionary Society by Lloyd Osbourne, stepson of the late Robert Louis Stevenson, who characterized the society's antagonism to Mafana, a Roman Catholic, as the whole cause of the Samoan troubles. Davitt describes Chief Justice Chambers as nominal anti-American but in reality an Englishman, who is anxious to promote the Anglo-American alliance. He accuses his hatred of England and warns the Germans against making the Americans answerable for the blameworthy attitude of one or two persons.

"All the trouble," says Davitt, "is due to English intrigues. You may rely on the United States settling matters honorably and fairly as soon as they learn the true origin of this riots."

LET 'EM ALL COME

London, April 22.—Despatches from Shanghai to the News Agency say that the German protected cruiser Ceilon has been ordered to proceed to Apia, Samoa Islands, after embarking an extra supply of ammunition at Kiau Chow, China. Another cruiser will shortly follow her.

BLOOD IS UP

Vancouver, April 22.—Deadman's Island affair is rapidly nearing a crisis. The city is determined to resist to the last and has ignored the letter from the deputy minister of militia stating that the government had leased the island to Ludgate because the city had nothing to do with its disposition. Insulted as the guards are still stationed on Deadman's Island with instructions to expel trespassers, Ludgate stated this afternoon that he was making preparations to break the ground shortly.

SCHOOL QUESTION AGAIN

Ottawa, April 22.—In the Senate today Senator Perley moved to a copy of the letter from the Archbishop of St. Boniface to the government dated October last. He said there was a rumor that some initials were sent hush money to the Archbishop. That was why he asked for a copy. Mills stated he would have to get permission from Laurier before complying. The Archbishop is anxious to have the letter produced in the Senate.

ALASKAN BOUNDARY

Washington, April 22.—An unexpected delay has occurred in the negotiations towards the Alaskan boundary modus vivendi, which makes the future of the modus quite problematic. Extended conferences were held on the subject today. Results are far from encouraging. Principal difficulties arise from dealing with Ottawa as well as London. This dual negotiation causes a great deal of delay and complications.

ADRIATIC ON THE DEEP

St. Johns, Nfld., April 22.—Allan

liner Manitoban, from Liverpool, April 1, bound for St. Johns, Halifax and Philadelphia, was sighted off Cape Race three days ago apparently in distress. She should have reached here within a few hours, but is still adrift. It is believed that her machinery is disabled. Three steamers are searching for her.

NEW REGULATIONS

It is stated that the Dominion government have decided upon regulations, as it was intimated some time ago that they would, prohibiting American steamers from running between points on the Upper Yukon river, its tributaries and the lakes. The masters, mates and engineers of the Canadian steamers carrying over 100 passengers, will have to have British certificates. In fact the regulations will be a strict enforcement of the laws prohibiting foreign steamers from trading between two Canadian points. An officer will be sent up to enforce the law.

CONTRACTS FOR CARRYING MAILS

There is much interest being taken among rival Montreal shipping firms just now in the contracts for carrying the mails to Great Britain during the summer season. The Beaver Elder Dempster & Co. were bidding for the business of mail carrying, and Messrs. Allan and Torrance also were in the field early. For the last week Mr. John Torrance, Jr., has been in Ottawa, and it is reported the mail contract has been secured by the Dominion Line till August of this year.

HOPE RETURNS

From o'er the Rocky Mountains,
From the land of golden ore,
A printer sad and weary,
On his eastward journey bore.

Past caves of purest crystal
Cast up in many dyes,
By lakes, that in the sunshine,
Mirrored shadows of the skies.

Through the mountain's rugged passes
Where the wolf and guzzly stray,
With thoughts of better days ago
He wandered on his way.

How he once was proud and hopeful,
When he learned the "case"
"down home,"
Little dreaming that a hobo
O'er the land he's someday roam.

But at last he struck the prairie
And as he gazed out on the plain,
Pshaw! Fill it, he said,
And hope came back again.

Norman K. Luxton's paper, Town Topics, of Vancouver, having called down a sensational revivalist by the name of Fair, an advertisement appears in the daily papers that next Sunday he (Fair) will preach on "Evil" and that during the service "he will burn up the Luxton Police Gazette, that dirty little paper known as Town Topics." Mr. Luxton says he could not have chosen a stronger drawing card. Town Topics is vigorously exposing the humbugs of Vancouver among whom Mr. Fair seems to be one of the biggest.

A bloody highbinder war has broken out in the Chinatown of Fresno, Cal. As a result five Mongolians are dead and nine in jail. Which makes the future of the modus quite problematic. There is nothing in the gazette about the appointments of those recommended by the council to act as police and fire commissioners here. The city clerk received instructions to write and find out the cause of the delay, which seems both unreasonable and uncourteous.

Thos. Taylor, mining recorder at Trout Lake City, came in yesterday with a prisoner named Beauregard, sentenced to six months at Kamloops by H. Macpherson, J.P., for being too handy with his gun on the streets of the town. Pres. Com. A. McKee took over the prisoner here.

Ed. Adair found three feet of snow still on the trail at Boxcar Kellie's place at the Canyon last Tuesday and the trail was not bare until the hen ranched about a mile and a half out of town, was reached. There is a great contrast in the climate of Revelstoke and of the country even a very few miles north of us.

A quiet but interesting ceremony took place at J. E. Wright's residence on Mackenzie avenue, on Thursday evening, when Fayette Buker was united in wedlock to Miss Agnes M. Clarke by Rev. S. J. Thompson. A few friends were present at the wedding. The Herald extends its best wishes to the happy couple.

The management of Tapping's Opera House must either devise some method of keeping the occupants of the galleries in order or else close them up altogether. People go there to enjoy the acting not to be annoyed with the ill-mannered and ill-bred smart alecks in the audience.

Mica Mining in Quebec

In view of the possible development of the great mica deposits at Tete Jaune Cache, tributary to Revelstoke, the following paragraph from the official mining report of the Quebec government on mica mining in that province will be interesting to our readers:

"There has been considerable development in the mica industry, in proof of which it suffices to remark that in 1907 from 50 to 100 men only were employed in it, while in 1908, the number of persons employed in the mines and in transporting the mica exceeded 250, with 7 or 8 important mines in operation, and some 20 prospects, producing a little mica.

In the course of a year a large number of prospecting licenses in the counties of Ontario and Pontiac were taken out. In the latter some discoveries were made, so far of little value, but which may lead to more important finds.

The demand for amber mica, which is almost exclusively shipped to the United States, is good, and Canadian mica is well appreciated, seeing that it finds a regular market, notwithstanding the high duty of 20 per cent, ad valorem, and six cents per lb. on thumb-trimmed mica and 12 cents on the knife-trimmed article, and it may even be remarked that the customers, while being very hard to please as regards the fashion in which the mica is prepared, are less so with respect to the quality itself; certain dark-colored micas, which were formerly difficult of sale, now finding purchasers more easily. The demand also appears to be better for small mica and less for the large, which results in the first place from the great difference in price which may range from five cents for mica of large dimensions, to $1 per lb. for mica of small dimensions. These large dimensions were formerly necessary, but they are now replaced by plates of mica, or of mica-boston, which are nothing but thin sheets of small mica glued one upon the other and afterwards pressed to the thickness of 1-16 of an inch, these forming plates which are cut any desired size. The United States customs duties are paid by the customers and weigh more heavily on the small than on the large mica.

WE ASK FOR MORE

As yet no announcement has been made of the way in which the miserable debt of $15,000 allotted by the Provincial Government to do this year's work of opening up the resources of the Revelstoke district is to be expended. It is going to be a difficult matter to divide it up so as to satisfy the legitimate needs of the whole of this large district in which fresh discoveries of the utmost promise are continually being made. There is, for instance, Isaac creek, which a number of locations have been made within the past couple of years and which is declared by those who ought to know to show indications of being in the larder mineral belt, but to which there is no method of access whatever. This camp lies close to town and its development would mean a great deal for Revelstoke. Again, there is the Laforme creek camp, on which active operations have already commenced on the Adair group, in the hope of a trail being built this year to aid the work of development. This is a camp in which Revelstoke is also directly interested. And so on throughout the district. The Larder proper alone will require all of the $15,000 to keep up with the development which the construction of the railway will bring with it. Fish creek is another camp on which the present stage of development urgently requires the judicious expenditure of a large amount of money and on which instead $2,000 is going to be squandered in a useless bridge which will swallow up quite a slice of our $15,000 before the wagon road up the creek can be put in shape and extended so as to make the bridge available for any purpose whatever.

There are all these districts and others to be considered in the division of the paltry sum which the miners' friends government at Victoria has doled out to us. Besides these demands, there is a trail to be built from Goldstream to the mouth of Canoe river. Our local member does not appear to take much interest in this demand. But the HERALD assures him that it is going to be made pretty interesting for him from now on until we get it satisfied. That trail is necessary to Revelstoke in order to pioneer the development of the territory belonging to her. Even if we get steamers placed on the river this summer, as there is every likelihood that we shall, the trail will be required from the proper examination of the country between Goldstream and the mouth of Canoe river. We have got to have it, and the proper place for J. M. Kellie, M.P.P., just now is Victoria, where he should be urging our claims until the Government accedes to them.

THE LARDEAU RAILWAY

Work Will Commence on the Kootenay Lake End at Once

Some weeks ago the Miner predicted that the C.P.R. would soon commence construction of the road from the head of Kootenay lake to Arrowhead and that work would commence at this end. This prediction proves correct as Mr. R. Marple, superintendent of the Pacific division of the C.P.R., informed the Miner last evening that construction will commence as soon as arrangements can be made.

Mr. Marple is expected in the city last evening accompanied by H. J. Canby, chief engineer of the C.P.R. for the Pacific division. They leave this morning by special train for the head of the lake and will meet the engineers that are now at work in the Lard country. The work outlined so far by the company will know just what it has on hand. Mr. Marple returns to Nelson tomorrow and contracts will be let as soon after the necessary arrangements can be made.

The decision of the C.P.R. to push on with this work at once will give satisfaction to the people of Nelson for it will mean a great deal for the city this summer. Nelson will naturally be the outfitting point for the construction camp and a great deal of money will be put in immediate circulation. A large number of men will be employed as the company has determined to put the work through as rapidly as possible. So we can expect to see Nelson soon overrun with engineering gangs, contractors and a whole army of laborers who will spend money here and make things decidedly lively.
