EIGHT-HOUR LAW INVALID

Colorado Court Thus Decides in Case Brought by Mining Interests.

DENVER, July 17.—The supreme court today unanimously decided the eight-hour law to be unconstitutional. The opinion is not yet written, and will be filed later.

The eight-hour law, which was enacted at a late session of the legislature, applies only to mines, smelters and mills for the reduction of ores. The refusal of the American Smelting and Refining Company to pay the same wages for eight hours as had been paid for ten and twelve hours caused its smelters to be closed on June 15, when the new law became law operative.

This company, which is known as smelter trust, will now endeavor to reach an agreement, with its former employees as to the wages and hours of labor, and to reopen its smelters as soon as possible.

Officers of the Smeltersmen's Union say that furacemen who formerly worked twelve hours a day, will work but eight in the future.

John R. Wright, president of the Smeltersmen's Union, was examined at length today regarding the conditions prevailing among the smelter workers, and the causes of the closing of the trust smelter by the members of the United States industrial commission, who are holding sessions in this city. He believed there was no matter so important to laboring men now as the eight-hour day, regardless of questions of wages and all other considerations. He said that before the smelter combination was affected the men never had any difficulty in dealing with the managers and obtaining any concessions desired, but now it was found almost impossible to reach those in authority.

A Hot Time in Fire Valley.

H. N. Coursier, gold commissioner, has returned from a hurried visit to the lower part of the district. There is trouble down there. At Burton City no appropriations have been expended this year, nor have they heard of any that are going to be, and electors are beginning to think that it is time for a change. At Fire Valley the usual subsidy of $1000 for roads and trails in the settlement has been cut down to $300. The expenditure of this money was very wisely entrusted to the name of Moorhouse. He laid out a large amount in powder and steel at generous prices and by the time his supplies and groceries were packed up to the scene of action only poor $115 or so remained to be expended on the roads. Hence the gold commissioner's visit. It is said things took a lot of explaining.

EDITORS WERE ASTONISHED

The Glaciers of British Columbia Are a Revelation to Them.

GLACIER, B. C., July 19.—Three hundred members of the National Editorial Association of the United States shouted a chorus of "ahs" and stormed the great glacier of the Selkirk's at nine o'clock yesterday morning.

To be dropped by the train at the nose of the monster ice Niagara in the middle of July was a revelation which the visitors had scarcely reckoned upon. There were twelve Wagner coaches full to the guards of editors from the east to the west and from Minnesota to Mississippi, and so great is their enjoyment of the scenery in the Canadian Alps that they have decided to push slowly through the mountains until the eastern foothills are reached. Americans touring the Rockies gave the newspaper men a rousing welcome upon their arrival at the Glacier. Today will be spent at Banff Springs in the Canadian National Park. Swiss guides escorted small parties to the foot of the glacier and beyond.

Cranbrook's First Wedding.

On Wednesday morning, July 12th, 1899, the Presbyterian church in Cranbrook, B. C., was the scene of a pretty wedding, when Jennie, second daughter of Major J. Evans, of Oremus, Ont., was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Chas. E. Reid, formerly of Revelstoke, B. C.

At 8 a. m. to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March the bride entered the church leaning on the arm of Mr. W. T. Reid, brother of the groom, preceded by little Tamms and Ruth Reid, strewing flowers. They were met at the altar by the groom, supported by Mr. Cecil Priest of Cranbrook. Rev. J. Wood, Methodist minister of Kaslo, B. C., assisted by Rev. Smith, B. A., of Cranbrook, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of people.

The church was tastefully decorated by the friends of the young couple, the bridal party standing beneath an arch from which was suspended a large floral bell. After the ceremony the invited guests repaired to the home of W. T. Reid where a reception was held.

The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful, as well as useful presents. Their future home will be in Brandon, Manitoba.

A SERIOUS BUSH FIRE

RAGING SOUTH OF TOWN TWO DAYS AND NIGHTS.

CLOSE CALL FOR THE MILL

Lively Battle With the Flames Fanned By a High Breeze, to Save Robinson's Mill and Two Million Feet of Saw Logs.

By Wednesday afternoon last the bush fire, which started last Sunday night from what was apparently a camp fire on the point of the smelter flat had assumed alarming proportions. It had spread over the bench between Robinson's mill and MacKenzie Avenue and was seriously threatening the mill itself and the couple of million feet of saw logs piled up around it. The energies of the mill hands were directed, by Mr. Robinson to construct a hasty defence work of logs, at which the flames might be fought, and men and horses worked hard in the blazing heat and blinding smoke to throw up in the rear barrels of water and men with pails were stationed to extinguish any sparks which might be blown over the line and start a fire inside it. The piles of logs also were placed under careful watch. The chemical engine under Mr. Chas. Abrahamson's care, was posted near the logs as an extra precaution. It took a lot of watching, but those working were successful in holding the flames at bay, though they were not much more than fifty yards from the saw logs.

All along the side of the fire next the town, in which direction it showed a decided tendency to keep working, a line of barrels was placed under the direction of the mayor, whose watchfulness was indefatigable, and Fleming's party of graders and a railway gang sent by Supt. Duchesnay, were kept busy with pail and shovel smothering incipient blazes. As there was very little wind the headway made by the flames was not very rapid and there was no great difficulty in checking its onward progress towards the town.

After supper, however, a stiff breeze got up from the northwest, which fanned up the flames and drove the smoke and burning brands before it towards the mill. Only incessant labor and watchfulness saved the situation, and indeed had it not been for the work done in the afternoon nothing could have saved the mill. At one corner of the fire guard the flames raged with great ferocity and the bucket brigade were kept on the alert all the time to prevent them spreading across the road and taking the mill in the flank. All night the fight was kept up and the HERALD is thankful to say that the flames finally burnt themselves out without any damage being done to Mr. Robinson's property. Everybody worked like Trojans and, as providentially the wind blew away from the side of the town, the defenders were able to concentrate their efforts on the mill. Mayor McCarty showed himself fully equal to the situation and was unceasing in directing and devising every conceivable means available under the circumstance, of protecting the mill and town.

THAT HALF BREED SCRIP. From the Calgary Herald. When the arrangements for settling the claims of the halfbreeds of the North West were under discussion in parliament Minister Sifton said he was "satisfied the changes he had made with regard to the assignment of scrip certificates would to a great extent stop the abuses complained of."

THE SESSION. From the Calgary Herald. Fairly good progress was made during the past week in the commons. The estimates relating to the post office, the militia, and railway and canal departments have gone through committee, and might have been passed much earlier if the information asked for by the opposition had not been withheld.

Information has been laid against the Hamilton and Grand Powder companies for storing explosives within two miles of Nelson, contrary to law. Contracts were let last week by the C.P.R. for the construction of a branch line from Cranbrook to the North Star mine.

Its inaugural meeting was held in London, recently, when Sir Charles Cameron, M.P., dwelling upon the need of the society pointed out that the number of deaths from cancer in New York had doubled during the past 10 years, and it was calculated that if the increase was maintained, there will be more deaths from cancer in 1900 than from consumption, smallpox, typhoid fever combined.

Nevada Kid

Did I ever tell you 'bout the tenderfoot that joined the Diamond? Well, say he was a holy terror!

It came about this way: Our wagons on at Cherry Coulee; we was just after having dinner, and the boss, old Rowe, was going round like a bear with a sore head, bullying at everybody and everything.

Cherry Coulee ain't far from town, and we used often to have people come out to look at our outfit when we camped near town; so when we seen a duds chap with a "Christy stiff" hat and a stud up collar come a-walking towards the wagons we just supposed that he was another of them eastern tourists who was nosing around, and we didn't pay no attention to him.

Rowe looked at the "Christy stiff" hat, his stuck up collar, his silk tie, his boiled shirt, and his pretty clothes and then he says, quite slowly: "And that kind of a job might you be looking for?"

"Well, that's no lie," said Rowe, who was getting a bit tired of him. "Oh, hold on," said Mr. "Christy-stiff" you haven't seen me ride, have you? I'm pretty hard up and want a job."

"All right," says he, "will you give me top wages if I ride that horse?" "Sure," said Rowe, chuckling to himself.

"And perhaps you wouldn't mind buying me an outfit, as I'm broke," said the dude.

"I ain't used to that kind of a bridle pap had a bridle but it wasn't that kind of fancy truck. I generally use a just put a rope round Molly's neck, or a halter. Please take the bridle off."

So off came the bridle; but it was a tough job for old General Weyler was waiting round in fine style, kicking up and striking out and snorting to beat the band. The Missouri hayseed's eyes began to bulge out some and he says: "That seems a pretty ornery kind of horse, I guess I'll have a little trouble in getting on him. I ain't afraid of him, 'cause I can get on him, but getting on seems to be the trouble with me."

THE LATE MR. IVES

Well boys, I guess the drinks are on Rowe this time? Did you fellows get this old mutton headed plug cause from a sheep herder?

There might be another to be caught. And off she glanced down the lane's long course.

That was the court hadn't yet adjourned. Oh he may have halted to wet his face with a lawyer who'd got away with the case.

Out on the open prairie, out 'neath the bright blue sky; Out where the cattle's browsing, out where Nature's nigh;

Out on the open prairie, out where the wild rose grows; Out where the sunshine's gleaming out where the soft-wind blows;

Out on the open prairie, out where the streamlets flow; Out where the feathered songsters in the sun's declining glow

Yes, I've got a little brother. Never asked for him from mother, But he's here; But I s'pose they went and bought him.

Now we've got to dress and feed him, And we really didn't need him, Little frog! And I cannot think why father Should have bought him when I'd rather Have a dog!

ALBERTA GOLD

The Story of a Treasure Hidden in the Porcupine. In the old days, says the Regina Weekly, before the gold came out, it was dangerous for a white man to travel through the country of the Blackfeet, and the Indian traders, who often made small fortunes out of selling whiskey to the Indians, used to establish their trading posts in the forests, where they were safe from the attacks of any war party that might happen along.

When the police tracked away to the westward in the early seventies, they found the feeling has always existed that gold in paying quantities existed on the eastern slope of the Rockies; if it could only be located.

The year before the police came west, a party of American miners, of which he was one, was prospecting for placer gold up towards the Canadian boundary, and as the showings seemed better the further north they went, they crossed the line and proceeded along the foothills through Canadian territory, and eventually pitched their camp in a range of small hills where their diggings were attended with the greatest success.

The man from Alberta listened to the narration with considerable interest, but put the story down as an old man's yarn and dismissed the subject. He mentioned what one day when driving through the country in the vicinity of Macleod he was struck by the resemblance between the range of hills known as the "Porcupine" and those described in the old man's narrative. Laurier Testimonial Abandoned Owing to the Comments Made on the Matter World's Championship Record Broken

ARCHBISHOP LANGEVIN LAYS THE CORNER STONE OF VANCOUVER'S NEW CHURCH—THE QUEEN AND THE SCOTS' GUARDS

Montreal, July 17.—The movement in favor of presenting Sir Wilfrid Laurier with a testimonial of $100,000 has been abandoned. It seems that the idea of presenting the testimonial to him was first suggested over a year ago by a couple of the premier's intimate friends and when the fact of the suggestion having been made came to Sir Wilfrid's ears he forbore any open public subscription being made. Lately a suggestion was made in Sir Wilfrid's hearing that some of his personal friends would like to present him with a testimonial, and while he did not consent he did not actually express his disapproval. Some of his friends encouraged by that, started quietly to ascertain from some of the premier's known monetary friends just what could be done. The result was most gratifying. Several handsome amounts being promised. It was intended to keep the matter a profound secret, but through the indiscretion of some one on the story leaked out, and gave rise to a good deal of comment. Sir Wilfrid has now refused to sanction any further steps being taken in the matter.

MR. TARTÉ'S HEALTH

Has Been Much Improved Already by His Voyage.

Montreal, July 17.—Writing from Bristol to a friend in this city, Hon. J. T. Tarte is pleased to be able to report that his health has been considerably improved by his voyage and he had no doubt that when he returned to Canada he would be greatly benefited by the rest taken from active public duties.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

Mile Cycling Record Broken by a Young Rider.

Norwood, Mass., July 17.—The world's mile bicycle record was broken today by Jamaica Plains, a 16 year old lad of Jamaica Plains, who paced by a motor tandem made the distance in 1 minute 16.5 seconds. The race against time was run on a public highway the mile being straight ahead and slightly down hill.

GAUDAUR AND WRAY

May Compete at Vancouver for the World's Sculling Championship.

Vancouver, July 17.—Jake Gaudaur has written to the chief of police in Vancouver with the idea of arranging the world's championship single scull match for Burrard Inlet, Vancouver, between himself and the Australian champion, Wray. Vancouver gave a big purse for the championship race between Gaudaur and Wray, and would no doubt offer substantial encouragement again.

AN UNIQUE FUNCTION

Her Majesty Presents State Color for the First Time.

London, July 17.—The Queen presented the state colors to the Scots Guards at Windsor on Saturday. The occasion was a notable one in view of the fact that this is the only state color which her majesty has presented in the course of her reign. The Queen, learning that Adjutant Dewitt, Clinton Falls and Captain Francis G. Landon, of the Twelfth regiment of New York state national guards were among the spectators, requested that they should be presented to her. The officers appeared before her and her majesty spoke kindly words to them from the royal carriage. They were dressed in uniform.

VANCOUVER'S NEW CHURCH

Archbishop Langevin Lays the Corner Stone of the New Building.

Vancouver, July 17.—The corner stone of the new Roman Catholic church in Vancouver, costing $100,000 was laid on Saturday by the Archbishop of St. Boniface, assisted by Bishop Desautels and Fathers Langevin and Therien, of Montreal. Low mass was celebrated at 6:30 and pontifical mass at 10:30. At 3 p. m. the ceremony of laying the stone was commenced and Father Langevin delivered an impressive sermon. The stone was blessed by Archbishop Langevin. A basket was placed in the stone containing money, medals made from copper of the steamer Beaver, and the latest newspapers. Several Indian hands were present and played sacred music. The corner stone weighed seven tons. The church spire will be 190 feet high and in the belfry of it will be hung the first peal of bells to be used in this city.

WINNIPEG'S WIN

The Deciding Lacrosse Match with the Victorias.

Winnipeg, July 17.—The Winnipeg and Victoria lacrosse teams met in the provincial championship at Fort Garry on Saturday for the third time this season. Much interest was centered in the game, as they had previously won a match a piece and consequently a large crowd was present to witness the concluding contest. The Winnipeg team were somewhat handicapped by Campbell, Clarke and Hermann being on the sick list and their places had to be filled by juniors, but they nevertheless managed to win after an exciting game by 4 goals to 2.

SEEKING A MURDERER

A Negro Wanted in New York for Murder Supposed to Be in Canada.

Cornwall, July 18.—Constable Johnstone, of Massena, New York, was in town last night looking for a negro, named Jas. Ryan, whom he will arrest on a charge of murder. Mr. Johnstone says that the body of a canal employee named Kelly was found lying across the rails of the Grand Trunk railway near Massena Springs. He had evidently been killed by a blow from a club which had cut open his head. It seems that a month or so ago Kelly and a chum gave Ryan a terrible beating and strangely enough the darkey was sent to jail for 30 days. It is said that he threatened to get even with Kelly. Ryan was seen here yesterday and will probably be captured.

"FIGHTING JOE" MARTIN

Has Been Looking Up Cotton's Record at Denver, Colorado.

Vancouver, July 18.—Joseph Martin, attorney general of British Columbia, went south recently and pondered at his leaving at such a critical time. The explanation now given is that he went to Denver, Colorado, to look up the record there of F. C. Carter Cotton, the minister of public works, whom he blames for resigning Premier Semlin to ask for his resignation. Martin claims to have his gun loaded for Cotton and if Semlin and Cotton do not retire in order that he may assume the leadership of the government that he will batter the government to pieces. The attorney general is well earning his nickname of "Fighting Joe."

Special Committee Reports That Its Efforts Have Failed.

London, Ontario, July 18.—The street railway strike still goes on. For some time past the eyes of the ratepayers have been upon a special committee consisting of a number of aldermen and prominent citizens who have endeavored to act as mediators between the company and its men. This afternoon at a special meeting of the city council that committee reported the failure of its efforts and that the outlook continues practically as it was before the committee was formed. The council took steps towards the immediate removal of the troops brought to assist the civil authorities and passed a resolution notifying the Street Railway company to begin not later than the end of July the running of its full service of 21 cars for 17 hours a day.

LAST NIGHT'S GARDEN PARTY

A Most Enjoyable Al Fresco Entertainment for a Midsummer Night. The garden party given last night at Mrs. Courser's residence in aid of the Kindergarten fund was a great success. Owing to Thursday night's downpour, the affair was postponed till last night, which perhaps accounts for the fact that the attendance was not quite adequate to the very enjoyable entertainment provided. The pretty garden surrounding the house was gay with flags, decorated booths and Chinese lanterns. The stall holders were—Miss Powell, flowers; Miss Eva Forrest, ice cream and strawberries; Miss Francis Dent, fruit; Miss Hannah, candies; Miss Jordan, braun tub and pop. Gay Barber was in charge of the shooting gallery, while Miss Austin looked after providing the guests with tea, which was in great demand. The late band arranged a programme which was well worth listening to, and Miss Spurling delighted the audience by a couple of selections on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. Hoag. Nurse Latens gave a selection on the piano, which was greatly appreciated. The mouth organ and guitar quartette, by Messrs. Barber, Dier, Douglas, Macdonald and Melburn, was well received. The proceedings wound up with an impromptu hop on the lawn to the strains of the band. The whole affair was most enjoyable and the HERALD hopes the results of the kindergarten fund will be as satisfactory.

CITY COUNCIL IN SESSION

A City Auditor Appointed and the Sunday Closing By-law Passed. The usual meeting of the city council was held last night, all present. There were no communications of importance except a request from S. Nudhum for a crossing on Douglas street. The R. W. L. & P. Company were requested to put a hydrant at the corner of McKenzie Ave. and Victoria Road. Bruce Lawson's application for the position of auditor was accepted and he was instructed to make an audit of the books to the end of June. The police magistrate was requested to make monthly returns to this council. The Sunday closing by-law finally passed, and a by-law to prevent the growth of weeds received a couple of readings. The constitution and by-laws of the Fire Brigade of the City of Revelstoke were considered and approved.

Kipling and the Drink Evil.

Rudyard Kipling has much to his credit, but there is a little bit in his "American Notes" that should place his name high up among the saints of temperance. Referring how in a conversation in Buffalo, N. Y., he saw two young men get two girls drunk and then lead them reeling down a dark street, he says: "Then, recollecting previous opinions, I became a prophet and utterer of truth. That a man should go without his beer in places and content himself at sweating at the narrow-mindedness of the majority, better if it is to poison the inside with very subtle temperance drinks and to buy lager, fanily back doors, than to bring temptation to the lips of the young fools, such as the four I had seen. I understand now why the preachers rave against drink. I have said there is no harm in it, taken moderately; and yet my own demand for beer helped directly to send these two girls reeling down the dark street. To God alone knows what end. It is worth taking a little trouble to come at such a man will undergo to compass his own desires. It is not good that we should let it lie before the eyes of children, and I have been a fool in writing to the contrary. Moral:—Close up the saloons and see that they are never opened."

Suicide At Kamloops.

About a week ago an old man named Lind, a Norwegian who resides at Casino Creek in the Salmon Arm district, left his home for Kamloops to consult a physician for an intolerable pain in the stomach, which he thought was caused by eating bacon upon which he had been feeding heavily. Dr. Proctor, whom he called on was very busy at the time, asked him to call again in the afternoon, but as he failed to show up the doctor concluded that Lind had been accidently killed. The friends at home becoming anxious through the week communicated with Kamloops and a search party was organized and the old man's body was found about a mile from town in a badly decomposed condition.

His Scalp for His Life.

An Italian section hand is lying in the hospital with a bad scalp wound, the result of an encounter between a handcar load of section men and the No. 1 in the Beaver canyon. The other four members jumped and escaped without injury, but the wounded man suffered the operation of being almost entirely scalped in leaping for his life from the track. The engine struck the handcar and threw it over to one side of the track. It is plain that owing to the carelessness of the section gang in being on the track in No. 1's time an accident, which might have proved fatal not only to themselves but also to some of the passengers on the express, was very narrowly avoided.

A Good Showing.

The returns from a shipment recently made by the Beatrice mine in the Lardau to the Trail smelter have been made public. The shipment consisted of 38 1-2 tons of concentrate and netted the shippers $6,070. The ore assayed $2 in gold, 178 ounces in silver and 27 per cent lead. The Beatrice is under bond to the Beer Brothers, of Nelson, and next payment amounting to $125,000 falls due on September 1st.—New Advertiser.

NEW POLICY REQUIRED.

Editor Lagrin of the Colonist has published a two column letter in the Victoria Globe setting forth the line of policy which he conceives the next Government of British Columbia should pursue. He says, "The problem presented by British Columbia today may be described as a great business proposition and what seems to be called for is a business men's government and not of politicians." Further on he asks, "the public men of British Columbia if the success of a party or a clique is comparable to the realization of the great future which awaits the province under wise administration."

The whole article is well worth reading, though it is unfortunately too long to admit of reproduction in the HERALD's columns, and from it admirable materials could be extracted for a platform from which to oppose the Martin socialistic programme in the coming election. But the best use which can be made of it is for each constituency to take the spirit which underlies it as their motto in selecting their next representative and that is that the administration of this province is a business proposition and requires business men, not politicians, demagogues and fanatics, to carry it on. This is a point which the HERALD has already taken occasion to expound with regard to our own particular community. If there is any constituency in the province into which circumstances should have ground this axiom it is Revelstoke. For years we have endured the rule of politicians pure and simple. We have seen our interests neglected and our progress thwarted and the ruling clique might score some petty point. We have seen the loudly expressed wishes of our business men disregarded at the bidding of a catch vote of carefully packed public meetings. Every effort made to further the progress of the town has been subject to a senseless and vexatious system of procrastination and opposition. Such has been our experience under the regime of the small politician.

It is not any political exigency, it is a purely business consideration which demands a change from this state of affairs to a settled policy of straightforward enterprise and progress. There is no place in the province with brighter prospects, with a finer business territory to develop, or one whose known resources demand more urgently the inauguration of a firm, well-considered and progressive policy. To carry this out we require a man to represent us at Victoria who comprehends the situation, who has faith in the district and who is in full sympathy with our aspirations. We require a man who will have the full confidence of his fellow citizens and will be capable of using to the utmost the weight of his position in the house as representing one of the most important constituencies in the province. We shall have to ask for considerable help from the government to enable us to use to the full the advantages of our position, and we want a man at Victoria who will be able to get our reasonable demands satisfied. We are convinced that we cannot ask for any government expenditure in North Kootenay from which the provincial treasury will not itself reap a rich return. And we want a man in the local house who has character and wit and influence enough to persuade the legislature that to assist our projects for the development of this rich district will mean, in a few short years, fresh Rosslands, Nelsons and Slocons in the north, increasing the revenue by leaps and bounds, even as their predecessors have done within the last half decade in the south.

—A Snap!—Eight-roomed house, lot 5x100; City water, $250 down, balance 9 per cent. per month. Inquire of F. Baker.

EIGHT HOUR LAW

Nelson Board of Trade Instructs Its Members to Discuss the Question. NELSON, July 10.—An effort was made by a few government supporters here last week to compel the Board of Trade delegates at a joint meeting at Rossland to refrain from discussing the Eight-Hour Law, but as packed meetings resolutions to that effect were carried by a small majority. Yesterday a meeting was held, the largest in the history of the board, and representatives of every interest in the city and district, which, with one dissenting vote, that of the gold commissioner, decided to let the delegates to Rossland discuss and vote on the eight-hour question as they see fit. This is the hearty endorsement of men who have been heartily opposed to the eight-hour law.

THE PASSING SHOW.

Is it not about time J. M. Kellie cleared up this little discrepancy between himself and Mr. Cotton with regard to the calling of that famous public meeting? Kellie, in opening the meeting, told the people distinctly that he had been requested by the government to call it. Mr. Cotton most emphatically repudiated this statement to the board of trade last Saturday and not only that but expressed the utmost contempt for the value of any expression of opinion gained by such meetings. So far from asking Kellie to call it, he said that the resolution carried at it cut no figure with the government at all. Now who are we to believe? The HERALD's columns are open to Mr. Kellie to explain himself.
