GOLD VALUES IN THE NETTIE L.

The Iron Pyrites, Which Constitute so Large a Proportion of the Gangue, Proves Gold Bearing.

The lower level tunnel on the Nettie L. was in 200 feet, when Manager Pool left the mine last week. Small stringers of ore have been crossed all the length of the tunnel.

For some time past the management have been wondering what had become of the gold values that were proved to exist in the ore at first, more recent assays showing high values in silver but nothing particular in gold. However, the company quite recently enlisted the services of A. H. Holdich, who used to reside here a few years ago, and the result of his latest assays shows the wisdom of neglecting or despising nothing in a mineral claim until it has been proved worthless by repeated trial.

In the vein matter of the Nettie L. for some time past a large quantity of iron pyrites has been encountered, but no great attention was paid to it as it had no special features to recommend it; hence it has been cast on one side. But on assays being made upon it for the first time the astonishing result was a value of from 20 to 50 ounces silver, and from $5 to $20 in gold per ton, in addition to a little copper. In consequence of this very interesting discovery, W. B. Pool and A. H. Holdich proceeded to Trout Lake last Monday morning in company with F. W. Gosdal, a prominent Alberta cattle man, who is heavily interested in the company, to make a more thorough mineralogical examination of the ledge than has been deemed necessary hitherto, and great hopes are entertained that the outcome of this trip will prove highly satisfactory to the shareholders. THE HERALD feels sure that the report of Mr. Holdich on this very promising property will be looked forward to with much expectation by its readers.

REVELSTOKE SWIMMING BATH

Opened on Monday With a Swimming Tournament.

The Revelstoke Swimming Bath opened on Monday afternoon with a swimming tournament, which attracted quite a number of spectators, including a good sprinkling of the fair sex.

The first item was object diving. Sport, Routledge, E. C. D., securing nine hits in ten dives from the bottom of the bath in one dive. W. F. Craig being second with five, and K. D. Johnson third with four. In the long dive Sport, Routledge was again easily ahead diving the whole 100 feet of the length of the bath and returning to the end at which he started without coming to the surface. The 50 yards scratch race was won by T. E. L. Taylor, C. E. Shaw second. In the tug of war Tom Bain, Chas. Field and E. Macgown were easy victors against a team composed of C. E. Shaw, R. H. Mayne and J. D. Molson. In the water polo, Johnson, Field and Macdonald scored two goals to Craig, Mayne and Molson's one. A handball race, in which the competitors entered crowned with bandboxes caused much amusement. Chief, Bain solemnly swimming round and round in a circle amidst great laughter. The misadventures of Capt. Taylor and G. Skene, who fell in clothes and all, and of W. F. Craig, disguised as an obstreperous female, also caused a good deal of mirth. It was a most auspicious opening for the new swimming bath, which is an undertaking deserving of every success, and the HERALD hopes that Monday's entertainment will be repeated before the season closes.

Thrown Out and Broke His Arm.

A little boy, Frank McMahon, son of Thos. McMahon, a C. P. R. employe, was sitting on the seat of F. McCarty's delivery wagon on Monday last, when the team took fright and started off. The boy was thrown off the seat and broke his arm and hurt his head in the fall. The team continued its career until a very badly lusted delivery wagon was ready for the repair shop. Frank is doing very well considering the nature of his injuries.

C.P.R. Engineers Now in the Lardeau.

The C. P. R. engineers have returned to Trout Lake and are now in camp near the Horne Payne buildings on the Eerguson road. It is believed that this move is the result of a recent meeting of C. P. R. magnates at Nelson, at which the question of building the Arrowhead and Trout section of the Lardeau road this summer was considered.

Promising Prospects Bonded.

J. S. Turabull returned from the Lardeau on Monday evening. While there he bonded three claims, the Copper Chief, Copper King and Copper Prince, located one mile from Circle City, on the north fork of the Lardeau, and between Circle City and the Horn ledge. The claims are only prospects, but an assay taken from the surface showings gave a value of $75.95 to the ton in silver, lead and copper.

Mining Notes from the Lardeau.

The Topic reports the strike of a new chute of ore in the Silver Cap of almost solid grey copper sacking at about $1800 to the ton.

The Lade Bros. are running a tunnel on their property which is now in 80 feet and expect to strike the ledge at 40 more.

Strikes of good ore bodies are reported from the Elamere owned by Ed. Hillman on the North Fork, from the Midnight and Lucky Star, same owner, on Bunker Hill creek; from the Gertrude and Terrible, on Gainer creek, owned by G. F. Beer, of Nelson, and a remarkable strike from the Silver Belt, owned by H. H. Johnstone, on Brown's creek.

Good reports are made from the Silver Queen. Drifts are being run each side of the crosscut along the lead exposing three feet of steel galena.

THE HALL CREEK DISTRICT

No Richer or More Promising Surface Indications in the Country.

Mr. John N. Wagner and his partner, Mr. Louis Behan has just returned from Hall creek, in the Trout Lake country, northwest from Duncan lake, where they have located a couple of claims.

Mr. Wagner says that the country around Hall creek is the roughest and most difficult country to prospect in that he ever struck. There are practically no trails to speak of, and even at this late season the snow is not all away in some places. As a matter of fact, there is only about six weeks in the year that good prospecting work can be done in this section. The snow will be gone by the end of this month, but will come again in the middle of September. Mr. Wagner says he has prospected all through the mining camps of British Columbia and he says he has never seen richer or more promising surface showings than those on the hills in the neighborhood of Hall creek. He thinks there is a large vein or mother lode which cuts across the country, and the small veins so far discovered come from this.

MOLYBDENUM

A Description of This Metal and Its Principal Ore.

As molybdenum occurs in more than one lead in the Lardeau, the following information will regard to this mineral, its properties and uses, will be interesting to the HERALD's readers. It is taken from the current number of the Western Mining World, published at Butte City, Montana.

The metal molybdenum derives its name from a Greek word meaning lead and it is so named because of the resemblance of its chief ore, molybdenite, to black lead or graphite. It can, however, be easily distinguished from graphite by some of the simple tests which will be given later.

The metal does not occur native. It is a silver white in color, has a strong metallic luster, is difficult to fuse, is brittle and is comparatively light in weight, having a specific gravity of only 8.62. It is not dissolved by dilute hydrochloric acid or dilute sulphuric acid, but is converted into molybdic acid by boiling with nitric acid. There is comparatively little use for the metal, particularly in the United States. The principal uses are, first, the preparation of certain chemicals, chief among which is ammonium molybdate, which is much used in the determination of phosphoric acid; second, the preparation of blue carmine for coloring porcelain; third, it is used somewhat in steel making as a substitute of tungsten in making hard brittle steels.

Memorial Altar to Mr. Ford.

Rev. Dr. Paget made in his sermon at morning prayer last Sunday a touching allusion to his predecessor, Rev. F. A. Ford, in whose memory a new altar and credence was placed in the sanctuary of St. Peter's church last week and used for the first time at the celebration of the sacred mysteries at the early service on Sunday morning. The preacher said that it was very gratifying to feel that in the improvements recently made to the church they were only carrying on his work as he intended should have been done had he lived, and he also said that since his arrival here he had found out in numberless ways how good had been the work quietly and unostentatiously done by Mr. Ford in the parish and how great had been the influence of his saintly life and character among his flock.

In the evening Dr. Paget preached to a crowded congregation on the divine wisdom of which King Solomon in the book of Proverbs tells that "all her ways are pleasantness and all her paths are peace."

The new altar, which is constructed of cedar, presents a very handsome and dignified appearance at the east end of the church and is a fine specimen of ecclesiastical woodwork. The maker is John E. Wood of First street.

The Macleod Gazette says they have

A Chinese population of 68 in Macleod and figures that if these "always earning, never spending" citizens accumulate $10 each every week, they'll have the little town in $680 a week poorer by their presence. An effort will be made in Macleod to make the Chinaman "go."

STRANGE DROWNING ACCIDENT

The Body of Mrs. Farquhar Recovered from Cranberry Creek. Near Arrowhead.

A funeral procession, which wound its way from the Roman Catholic church to the cemetery on Monday afternoon was the sad sequel of the mysterious disappearance of Mr. and Mrs. Farquhar from Arrowhead last Thursday recorded by the HERALD last Saturday. The coffin, which was covered with flowers, contained the mortal remains of Mrs. Farquhar, which was discovered last Saturday floating in Cranberry Creek, a stream which flows into the Arrow Lake at Bunnock Point, about two miles from Arrowhead. The water of the creek is at this stage of water, still and deep, and the body of Mrs. Farquhar was found floating in it only a few feet from the bank. The appearance of the features was quite calm and peaceful and there was no indication of any struggle for life. The coat, belonging to her husband was found floating close to his wife's body. The boat was found upside down about half a mile away. It is conjectured that the intention of the husband and wife on their ill fated trip being to gather berries. Mr. Farquhar perhaps attempted to scramble out of the boat on to the bank, which is steep and crumbling, and that the ground giving way beneath his weight, he fell back into the boat upsetting it. The bed of the creek at the spot is nearly dry at times and covered with snags and bushes, and Mr. Farquhar, who was more than an ordinarily good swimmer, may have got caught in this death trap in the bottom of the water in trying to save his wife, his body not having been at the time of writing discovered.

The body of Mrs. Farquhar was conveyed to Arrowhead as soon as found, and brought up here for burial as above mentioned. She was a woman of middle age and one daughter of about 15 years is left to mourn the sudden taking off of her parents.

Of the Yukon Gold Output for the Year.

Montreal, July 20.—John Cram, who for the past year has been manager of the Dawson City branch of the Bank of British North America, and who has been appointed manager of the Ashcroft, B. C. branch, was in Montreal on a visit yesterday. Mr. Cram states that some $1,000,000 will be taken out of the Yukon this year as compared between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 for the year 1898.

McINNES AT ATLIN

The B. C. Governor States the Object of His Visit.

Victoria, B. C., July 20.—In a speech at Atlin Governor McInnes said his visit to Atlin was for the purpose of suggesting changes in the mining laws and thus provide against a recurrence of tangles such as those in other districts. The colonist says that Premier Semlin has, in view of the speech of the governor, no alternative but resignation.

ALGER RESIGNS

His Position as Secretary of State for War.

Washington, July 20.—Yesterday afternoon it was announced officially that General Alger has resigned his position as secretary of state for war. His resignation is to be acted upon at the pleasure of the president.

LONDON, THURSDAY

The Standard this morning publishes an editorial article regarding the resignation of Alger, it says: "President McKinley's prompt acceptance of General Alger's resignation is equivalent to an admission that the war department has been badly managed."

DROWNING ACCIDENTS

Rat Portage, July 20.—Frank Thorpe, aged 14 years, the only son of Robert Thorpe, millwright in the Rat Portage Lumber company's mill, was drowned in the waters a short distance above the mill about 3:30 yesterday afternoon. He and Reggie Westcott were playing in a canoe which was accidentally upset. Westcott got out all right. The body was discovered last evening where the boy went down.

THE SHAMROCK'S CRITICS

London, July 20.—The Morning papers are disappointed at the work of the Shamrock today and say that she is little if any better than the Britania.

MERITS OF THE CORSET

Chicago Chronicle: Students at the North London collegiate school for girls recently held a friendly contest which for novelty certainly ranks front rank. For a long time no school work had been sadly interrupted day after day by animated discussions concerning the merits and demerits of wearing corsets. It was finally decided to settle the matter by a practical exhibition.

THE SHAMROCK'S CRITICS

The non-wearers of corsets issued a deft to cope with the corset inclosed girls in any form of exercise suggested. The challenge was accepted instantly and 16 girls were chosen on either side. No men were admitted to view the test but it is safe to say that tickets for the performance, if put up at auction would have brought figures to make prize fighters blush in the background.

THE SHAMROCK'S CRITICS

The first trial was at leaping. Neither side scored an appreciable advantage. The average leap for the corset wearers was 3 feet 7 inches, while the abstainers made an average of 2 feet 6 inches. Then came the long leap, in which the corset champions cleared 9 feet 1 1/4 inches, and the rivals 9 feet 4 1/2 inches. Among the non-corset wearers, however, was one girl who out stripped them all with a leap of 12 feet.

THE SHAMROCK'S CRITICS

All the girls had trained hard for the tug of war. The 18 who had never wore the waist embracers easily had an advantage over their sisters, who were twice dragged over the line. On the programme there was also an endurance run, in which it was shown that the corset girls had an advantage in the respiration rates. In the way of pulse rates the other side scored. The breathing capacity furnished a good test and the corset wearers were found to have their capacities diminished by 0.2 cubic inches. On the other hand, after the hard run, the abstainers breathing capacity was found to have increased 4.4 cubic inches.

THE SHAMROCK'S CRITICS

The test didn't definitely settle the question, but it gave the young women a novelty with plenty of fun thrown in.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS

The next session of the county court will be held on September 20th.

W. M. Lawrence is the proud possessor of the first-class gold button of the Revelstoke gun club this week.

Miss Jessie Orr, twin sister to Miss Jean Orr, arrived on Sunday from the east on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Lawson.

Mrs. M. Gintzberger is visiting Mrs. C. Holden for about a month. She was Mrs. Holden's school mate in Vancouver.

Mrs. Cousier and family will leave tomorrow for an extended visit to her old home in the east, which will last over winter.

Dave Ferguson, the father of Ferguson, was in town Saturday and reports a steady sale of town lots in the cowstate.

There will be drill for the B. C. Rifles at the court house every evening for about three weeks yet, under Drill Instructor Routledge.

Pete Peterson is flying the Stars and Stripes on his summer house upside down in sign of distress at the "goings on" of the board of the trade.

The Sunday closing bill came into force last Sunday. It was only partially enforced, some houses being strictly closed, while at others the thirsty public could get its drinks as usual.

Today is the date of the government caucus at Victoria and our only Kellie has had to make up his mind by this time which it is to be Martin or Cotton. "Under which king, Bezouian, speak or die."

The travelling representative of the tailoring firm of Kennedy & Douglas, Toronto, was in town to do business on Monday, but the fifty dollar fee knocked him out and he concluded to pass over Revelstoke this trip.

It does no look as if the miners were suffering to any great extent for the want of work, when it is necessary for some of the big properties to wait till men can come in from other towns to take the position offered.—New Denver Ledger.

J. H. McFarlane came down from McCalloch Creek on Friday. Very few men are working in the Big Bend. The Consolidation is closed down. Andy Parkes' party is working on Smith Creek and about five men are prospecting on the French Creek Co.'s property. Mac says the Bend is dead.

F. W. Gadsal of the Cowley Ranch, Pincher Creek, Alberta, who is a large shareholder in the Great Western Ltd., as, by the way, are some others of the great ranching province's cattle kings, came in on Monday's No. 1. He reports big prices for cattle and splendid crop prospects in Southern Alberta.

T. D. Pickett returned Saturday from the Standard basin, where Messrs. French, Beach and Skea had arrived all safe and were proceeding with the inspection of the property. The shaft is still full of water but they have started to empty it. There is still much snow on the ground and it will be two weeks before the pack train can get in to the basin.

It is contended by some people living in the Sloan, that miners should not ask for $3.50 a day, but should submit to a reduction, because, while some of the mines may be able to pay the higher scale others are not able to do so. This sounds well, but it is very noticeable just now that the properties that have paid the greatest dividends and are the best able to pay decent wages are the very ones that are the most stubborn in their opposition, while developing properties many of which have never shipped a pound of ore, are working steadily small forces at the standard scale of wages.—New Denver Ledger.

Mayor McCarty is away on a visit to Ground Hog Basin.

T. L. Haig left this morning on a visit to the Waverley mine.

S. Fraser has gone up to the Glen-garry to work on the Diamond Core Drill.

Mrs. E. S. McLean and her mother, Mrs. Hamilton, are away on a visit to the coast.

J. D. Sibbald, Mrs. Sibbald and the children left on Monday on a trip to Trout Lake.

The question, what is eight days, Monday to Monday or Monday to Tuesday, is agitating a portion of the community this week.

A. Johnson, of the HERALD, Mrs. Johnson and her mother, Mrs. Cleary, and the children have been away on a trip to the St. Leon Hot Springs.

A travelling representative of the Night Directory Co., of Toronto, who are getting out a Gazetteer of the Dominion was in town on Monday.

W. C. Wells, of Golden, It. F. Green, of Kaslo, and Jas. Martin, of Rossland, M.P.P.'s, all went through on Saturday bound for the government caucus at Victoria.

W. Fleming's grading party commenced work on the hill on Douglas street yesterday afternoon. The old toboggan slide, which erstwhile graced the rise is now a thing of the past.

Capt. Gore, Mayor McCarty, and H. A. Brown, went up the river on Sunday to about two miles above the Nine Mile Tiffle. The captain's visit was intended to secure materials for a report on the navigability of the river above town.

A. E. Phipps, acting manager of the Imperial Bank, returned on Monday evening from Golden, where he has completed arrangements to open up a branch of the Imperial Bank there. The branch office will be open in the course of a few days.

The Sunday closing bill did not appear to diminish the Monday morning docket in the police court to any very great extent. Thirty-five dollars was the very respectable contribution turned over to the city treasury at the close of the morning's proceedings.

D. Maclean, proprietor of the Calgary Flour Mill, was in town Monday. Calgary flour is gaining quite a reputation in this province. Mr. Maclean describes business at the launching capital as flourishing, as well it may with beef cattle nearly up to $53.

J. Smith, a First street barber, was sentenced yesterday to 30 days imprisonment by Police Magistrate Haig, on a charge of stealing property belonging to Nellie Swift. The prisoner's attitude during his trial was extremely nonchalant and even defiant. He said he intended to appeal from his sentence.

Town Topics on the "Incompetents."

Heaven protect our rich and lovely province if we are not prepared to sink all political differences of opinion if need be, in order to secure men of well known probity and capacity to represent the various constituencies at the approaching elections. I say approaching advisedly, for it is absolutely impossible for the present condition of affairs to endure much longer.

The house at present seems to be filled with a lot of incompetents, if we are to judge by the clamor of the inland newspapers, which unite in demanding that their recreant representatives step down and out. Let's all join hands and the result can readily be foretold. We want men who, while they may have a large stake in the country are too honorable to sacrifice the interests of their country for the sake of personal aggrandizement.

Poor men may occasionally be found who will faithfully and honestly attempt to carry out their pledges, but alas and alack, they are few and far between. And then they are usually afraid to present themselves, because they know the people will look at them askance, and, assisted by the press, immediately begin questioning the motives by which they are actuated. Something must be done, and that soon, or the province will suffer a relapse from which it will not readily recover.

This is how Zola is described by Stuart Henry in "Honors With Famous Parisians": "A business man, no emotion, no ideals, no imagination, no poetry, in his personal intercourse. He does not try to win or entertain you. He takes no personal interest in you and does not expect you to take any personal interest in him. He talks frankly and freely about everything, but in a secular way. It makes life seem to you merely a commercial career. Fiction for him is editions of 100,000 francs a year. His magisterial and magnificent panoramas of descriptions, unequalled for their kind, are all measured off in his mind as so many rods of printed matter at so much a rod. No personal magnetism, no sentiment, no perfume, no rose colors. Life has been for him a blunt, rude, brutish thing. He has conquered merely because he has worked harder than any one else. With him material literature succeeds only by the sweat of the brow. What loaves of strength nevertheless! What Titanic capacities to achieve! He towers over all his Parisian contemporaries, as Victor Hugo towered over his epoch.

KELLIE'S TRIUMPH.

Kellie's pocket organ fairly glows over the fact that there is to be a wagon road built without a steamboat or in other words that its little tin god has again succeeded in abasing his position as member for this district to thwart and obstruct its progress.

The Big Bend district is practically dead this season. Nothing worth mentioning is going on there at all. The appearance of Front St., which with activity in the Big Bend, would be humming with business, is enough to make a man order his grave to be dug in the cemetery without further delay. The prospects for the coming winter in the town are fairly appalling. But Kellie has scored his point. He has succeeded in killing for this year the steamboat project on the upper river, which looked at the opening so promising, and has condemned to another twelve months of stagnation and depression. This is a tremendous victory for the clique and Kellie's private organ does not fail to give expression to their feelings of triumph. Kellie "has got the board of trade where he wants it." In other words he has abused his pull with the government once more to obstruct the wishes of every man of independent and progressive ideas in Revelstoke. If that road had been built, as was intended, there would have been a steamer on the river by this time, and the first step towards the opening up of the Big Bend and towards solid business prosperity for Revelstoke would have been gained. But the stupid and malicious policy of Kellie's little clique of wire pullers has again prevailed to thrust back development and progress for another season and all the people of this town can do this winter is to sit round the stove again and tell what a wonderful place Revelstoke will be when the Big Bend is opened up. And in the HERALD's opinion that is all we ever shall be able to do as long as we allow a regime of wooden-headed windbags to misuse public office for private revenges and private profit.

The private organ repeats and reiterates Kellie's preposterous twisting of Mr. Cotton's "guarantee" into the idea that he meant that if a steamboat is put on the river and owing to business or natural causes fails to render a regular service then the owners will have to forfeit an amount equal to the cost of the wagon road. Of course Mr. Cotton only meant by a guarantee, a guarantee that a steamer capable of rendering an efficient regular service was to be put on the river. Mr. Cotton is no windy demagogue. He is a man of common sense, who recognizes to the full that the province stands to reap big profits from the development of the Big Bend and should also stand in with some of the risk. If he can see a steamer in sight on the upper river, he will build the road, and the HERALD does not think Kellie's remonstrances will have any effect with him, after his personal experience of the very humiliating position occupied by our local demagogue with regard to the business community of this place. When that road comes to be built, as built will be, though unfortunately Kellie's senseless opposition has lost us this season Kellie will find there is no condition about any forfeit. The HERALD cannot always see eye to eye with Mr. Cotton, but it will say, and that is not saying much, that at all events he is not a politician of Kellie's No. 60 calibre.

The transcendent genius who so lately shaped the destinies of the world in the solemn columns of the Kootenay Smiles, has now subsided into the position of clerk in the gold commissioner's office. So one by one each noble hearted patriot proceeds to his well-earned reward. But to some it is long and weary waiting and the promised positions tarry, may even go occasionally to some other fellow altogether. How painful it must be for a pure, self-sacrificing patriot, to see time rolling along, another election looming up. Kellie heading straight for Salt Creek, and yet no job; no job. To all these noble, these unfortunate men in the Kellie ranks, and they are not a few, the HERALD extends its heartfelt sympathies. Do not blame Kellie; the patriots are numerous and the jobs are few. And if in the hurry and excitement of the last election three or four patriots were inadvertently promised the same job, what of that? Surely a patriot would not let a little thing like that annoy him.

A SCENE ON THE SOO.

The King of France Took Possession of the Land Two Hundred Years Ago.

In St. Nicholas there is an article on "The Great Lakes" by W. S. Harwood.

Mr. Harwood says:

While waiting for my steamer to be carried through canal locks of the Soo, I stood one summer day near a hill on which now stands Fort Brady, overlooking the rapids of the Soo as they flow from Lake Superior down into the St. Mary's river and so on to join at last the waters of Huron. On the top of this hill, as nearly as I could decide from the topography of the country, was witnessed two centuries and a quarter ago one of the most remarkable, one of the most significant scenes in the history of the new world. It has been brilliantly described, and I may but mention it.

On June 14, 1671, a strange body of men was assembled on this hill. It was composed of four classes—the official representatives of the king of France, the Catholic missionaries, the voyageurs and the Indians. Weeks before word had been sent out to the chiefs of 14 of the different tribes of Indians in the region to meet at the Soo on the date mentioned. An immense cross of wood was made and carried to the top of the hill overlooking the swift flowing rapids. A stout timber with an engraved plate on it was set up near the deep hole in the ground which was to hold the foot of the cross.

When all had assembled, St. Lesson, the representative of the king, lifted in one hand a clod of earth and in the other his blessed sword and in the name of his most Christian majesty the king of France took possession of the land, embracing in his assumption "all the region from the north to the south sea and extending to the ocean on the west."

The cross was then raised before the motley throng—the representatives of the government in their most gorgeous suits, the priests in their rich vestments, the voyageurs in their hunting garb of skins, the Indians in their most fantastic feathers and paint. At the cross assumed position, the priests intoned a stately chant of the seventeenth century. Then the French exclaimed "Vive le roi!" while, as one historian puts it, "the Indians howled in concert."

The plate upon the smaller timber bore an engraved inscription denoting the king's possession of the land.

The Critics.

Flick—Call him a musician! Why, he doesn't know the difference between a nocturne and a symphony.

Flack—You don't mean it?

And they hurry to get away from one another. Each is terribly afraid that the other will ask, "By the way, what is the difference?"—Boston Transcript.

Authority of Precedence.
