ORANGE RIVER CROSSED

The Boers Retiring Before Gen. Brabant's Vigorous Advance.

OLD KRUGER LEAVES PRETORIA

And the Expectation is That Conferences Are Taking Place Between Kruger and Steyn.—French in Touch With the Enemy.—Dutch Residents of Colesberg Arrested as Rebels.—Other War Items of Interest.

LONDON, Mar. 5.—The Morning Post has the following dispatch from Osofontein dated March 3:—French made a reconnaissance today and encountered the enemy in force. They were occupying a table shaped kopje. Shots were exchanged, the Boer guns replying.

LODGEWOOD, March 4.—Dr. Leyds denies that he received any news to the effect that the siege of Mafeking has been raised or that Bloemfontein has been occupied by the British. Roberts occupied Osofontein, preparing to continue his advance eastward. It is generally understood that his first object will be Bloemfontein but he keeps his own counsel and his plan of operations may prove to be quite different from that fixed up by popular opinion. The continental critics continue to give credit to Roberts for his strategic skill but do not recognize any merit in the work of Buller or White.

LONDON, March 4.—A despatch to the Times from Osofontein, dated March 3rd, dilates upon the increasing difficulty of telegraphing as the Boers advance through the enemy's communications. The correspondent says that forage for the horses is almost unobtainable on this journey. The whereabouts of the enemy is not known, but mobile commands are hovering around our army. We anticipate opposition at Abraham's Nek, three miles east of Paardeberg, where a force from the north of the Ladysmith force, with the north eastern Free States.

There is no confirmation from Kruger's journal of opening negotiations for peace. The Times in its afternoon edition of yesterday announced that Kruger had left Pretoria for an unknown destination and that it is contending that conferences between the presidents of the two republics would take place. There was no official information respecting any overtures for peace. The members of parliament were not disposed to attach any importance to the rumor and military men explained that probably the object of the president's conference was to keep the Boers in a measure of defence against the advance of Roberts.

DORDRECHT, Cape Colony, March 4, 9 a.m.—Gen. Brabant, colonial division, after a night's march, is now leading the Boers in a strong position at Labuschaghe Nek, on the road from Dordrecht to Jamestown. Later engagements are proceeding with great vigor and the British shell fire is being exchanged, where the British are engaging the Boers on the right bank. So far the Boers on the left bank have not advanced. The Gen. Brabant's advance today is most satisfactory after marching and bivouacking over night his force reached a strongly entrenched position, which he occupied and now holds. The Boers being on the opposite hill. The British will remain tonight in the captured positions, although the Boers brought two guns into action and determined to fight them. The British losses were 6 killed and 8 wounded.

COLESBERG, Cape Colony, March 4.—A reconnaissance with two troops of the Amishibane and two guns, found the Orange bridge over the Orange River intact, and fifty Boers on the other side were taken by surprise, and the British galloped to their laager, which was some miles distant on the Free State side.

Price's command has moved seven miles north of Colesberg. The Boers, during their occupation, denied themselves water, than see the British wounded suffer.

CAPETOWN, March 3.—The railroad is now repaired northward from Kimberley to Riverton. The engineers are pushing on the work rapidly. The Boer prisoners captured at Paardeberg total up to 4000 men; about 3000 of them are on their way here.

Pressure on the rolling stock is enormous.

LONDON, March 3.—The War office has received the following from Gen. Buller, dated Ladysmith, March 2nd:—I find the defeat of the Boers more complete than I had dared to expect. The whole district is completely clear of them, and except at the top of Van Renen's Pass, where several wagons are visible, I can find no trace of them. Their last train left Modder Spruit station about 1 o'clock yesterday, and they blew up the bridge. They picked their wagons six days ago, moving them to the north of Ladysmith, so that we had no chance of intercepting them, but they have left quantities of ammunition of all sorts, herds, grass, camp and individual necessities. They have got away with all their guns except the 4.2's.

LONDON, March 3.—No adequate explanation has yet been made of the fifty thousand reinforcements that are being prepared to make an attack on Roberts. Such explanations as are advanced tentatively suggest either that the Cape Dutch have become more restive or that the Imperial government has a hint of foreign suggestions as to the future status of the allied republics.

The admiralty board has telegraphed to the Cape commander an expression of admiration and thanks on the part of the lord of the admiralty to the

BOERS CLEARING OUT

Brabant Drives Them Before Him in Full Retreat.

GATACRE ENTERS STORMBERG

A Strong British Force Marching North from Kimberley to Attack the Boers at Fourteen Streams and Relieve Mafeking.—Col. Plummer Occupies a Boer Position.—The Disposition of Lord Roberts' Army.

DORDRECHT, March 5.—(Evening.)—General Brabant has scored a complete victory. The Boers were in full retreat with their guns and wagons and were being pursued.

STREKSTROOM, March 5.—(Evening.)—Gatacre entered Stormberg unopposed today. The Boers destroyed the railway approach, but the station is intact. The town was found to have been evacuated by Boers last night.

CAPE TOWN, March 5.—A strong force of British, including the Kimberley light horse, is marching northward from Kimberley. It is expected that the crossing of the Vaal river will be disputed at Fourteen Streams, where the railway bridge has been wrecked and Fourteen Streams is about sixty-five miles north of Kimberley on the border of the Barkley west district and is the boundary between the Free State and Transvaal. It is about one-third of the way to Mafeking. Mafeking is to be relieved as soon as the British force now on the way from Kimberley can raise the siege. Their forces described vaguely as strong. The Kimberley Light Horse is mentioned as a component. In view of the fact that the Kimberley Light Horse is under the control of the DeBeers Company Lord Roberts' visit to Kimberley had possibly to do with an arrangement with Cecil Rhodes and the company for their troops. Rhodes and Col. Kekewich have had differences of policy, it appears, which did not end with the relief of Kimberley.

LONDON, March 6.—A dispatch to the Times from Bulawayo, dated February 27, says: Col. Plummer yesterday recovered position at Grocodile Pools, which the Boers evacuated on the 25th. It is not known whether the enemy have taken another position or been obliged to retreat, owing to events in the south.

LONDON, March 6.—A dispatch to the Standard from Osofontein, dated 4th, says: Lord Roberts now occupies the most advantageous position. The Sixth Division, under Gen. Kelly-Kenny is posted on the right and holds all the kopjes for a distance of five miles south of the Modder River. The Seventh Division, under Gen. Buller, is in the center, immediately south of the river, and Gen. Colville with the Ninth Division is on the north bank. The cavalry brigade under Gen. French is posted on the left front and the mounted infantry under Col. Redley-Matton on the right front. The country around consists of wide grassy plains, broken only by ridges and isolated kopjes. A body of the enemy has taken up a position on one of the latter, a flat topped hill to the north of the river, five miles beyond Gen. French, who today took out the horse artillery and shelled them. Another force of 4,000 strong, includes a Dr. Carruthers as medical health officer during Dr. Cross' absence was approved.

The mayor was authorized to effect $1,500 insurance on the fire hall.

W. A. Nettle was instructed to put in ladders, transoms, etc., in the fire hall at an extra cost of $45.

The council then adjourned.

FROM THE LARDEAU.

The Beatrice Has 8,000 Tons of High Grade Ore in Sight.

Mr. J. A. Dyer returned recently from a visit to the Lardeau country, and during his trip he visited Fish, Mohawk, Pool and other creeks. Mr. Dyer owns the Pontiac group on Pool creek. This is a promising property. The Beatrice is turning out remarkably well. Several shipments of ore have been made to Trail, and there is 3,000 tons of high grade ore in sight in the mine. Messrs. Briggs & McCullough are uncovering some fine ore on the Eva group which adjoins the Kingston and Brunswick. Messrs. Pool and Brown of Revelstoke are energetically developing a promising claim on Pool creek. The work on this property is under the direction of D. F. Cameron. There is a splendid showing of galena in an open cut on this property. Messrs. Downey & Ramey are working on the Mohawk, which adjoins the Moscow. There is a fine showing of galena on this property. A number of Rosslanders are interested in this section, and in the spring considerable of a boom is anticipated here.—Rossland Miner

The City Council

Met as usual on Friday, all present. The only communication of any importance was the resignation of Ald. McKeechie to date from the 7th.

The Public Works committee reported that they had inspected fire hall No. 2 and found it complete with a few minor details. They recommended that it be accepted. Report adopted.

The election of deputy fire chiefs, A. McRae for No. 1 and J. T. Campbell for No. 2 brigade was approved.

The mayor and treasurer were authorized to draw a cheque for $1,900, less $100, in favor of W. A. Nettle, being the balance due on the contract for the fire hall, which has cost $2,000.

It was moved by Ald. Peterson, seconded by Ald. Abrahamson, that the mover and seconder with Ald. Kilpatrick be a committee to interview the C.P.R. officials here and insist on the company giving the railway crossing at Douglas street, without delay.

The appointment of Dr. Carruthers as medical health officer during Dr. Cross' absence was approved.

The mayor was authorized to effect $1,500 insurance on the fire hall.

W. A. Nettle was instructed to put in ladders, transoms, etc., in the fire hall at an extra cost of $45.

The council then adjourned.

Miss Murett's Lectures.

Miss Murett's lecture at the Methodist and Presbyterian churches on Saturday, Sunday and Monday were well attended. Her opening lecture on Saturday evening in the Methodist church was a powerful exposition of the strength of the Christian position against the attacks of infidelity. It was illustrated by a most beautiful series of stereopticon views of events in the life of our Lord taken from Hoffman's celebrated pictures. Added interest was given to the lecture from the fact that Miss Murett is herself a convert from Judaism. Her last lecture was given for children last night in the Presbyterian church and was also illustrated by stereopticon views.

A TRIBUTE TO CANADA: The brilliant achievements of the Canadian troops during the attack which resulted in the surrender of General Cronje and his entire army.

Storn, Lovable, Inspiring "Fighting Mac" of a Highland Brigade. (From The London Mail).

Brigadier General Hector Macdonald "Fighting Mac" has gone to the front, and it is to be hoped that his proverbial luck will follow him.

For Royal Highness the Princess Louise also called his excellency as follows: "Signed) Louise."

After advising the continuation of war preparations, the Times concludes as follows: "But, if anything should enhance the intense and widespread satisfaction of the nation at the achievements of our troops, it is the knowledge that the Canadian contingent played the principal part in the decisive movement which forced the stubborn Boer leader to own he was beaten."

The Daily Mail says: "To the Canadians belong the honor of having hastened to peace, and in so doing, however, to suppose the Boers will sue for peace, or that all our difficulties are removed."

The whole British Empire is ringing with praises for the men sent from Canada to fight for their empire. These men were no tried veterans, but men of merely a few months' training. They have already shown themselves able to endure hardship without complaint and discomfort with cheerfulness, but the success which they have now achieved reflects credit not only on the men themselves but upon the country which can produce such excellent soldiers.

REMOUNT STATIONS: The necessity for the establishment of remount station throughout the West has been brought home to us in connexion with the recent purchase of horses for Lord Strathcona's contingent.

It is more than evident that England must depend on foreign sources for supply whose market may be closed to us at a time when we most need them, nor can we depend on the fact that we can buy whatever we need with money, if it should unfortunately happen that there is no market open to us.

HARMSWORTH KILLS TIME: London Daily Mail is printed in Manchester at the Same Time as in London.

London, Feb. 25.—To annihilate time to the extent of four hours, and a distance of 183 miles, seems an almost impossible task, but has been done, and that quite recently.

The Daily Mail, the growth of which has been phenomenal, is nothing if not enterprising. It aims to compete with not only the London, but also the provincial journals.

Mr. Alfred Harmsworth, the creator of The Mail, was not to be balked by time or distance. Today his paper goes to press almost simultaneously in London and Manchester.

ties, especially as they are modified by danger, discipline, victory and defeat, it is the first duty of a general to study Wellington's conduct in the stress on the part which had been calculated, to be thought, and even executed, with a great genius and a great soul.

To accomplish this feat required much thought, more money, and still more energy. In the first place a duplicate printing plant was established in an old school building on the outskirts of Manchester.

Special Staff Organized. In the Daily Mail office, in London, a special staff was organized to send matter. After each item of news had been put in type, a copy of the special proof was taken, the style of heading written upon it, and it was then given to the operators who telegraphed it, headlines and all, over the leased wire to the Manchester office.

There it was taken in hand by the editor, who then sent it to the composing room, and again put in type, this time in Manchester. The same procedure was followed with each advertisement and each item of news.

As the time approached for going to press in each office, the London and Manchester news were in type and ready to go into pages. The London office was made up of a list taken of the items in position. This was telegraphed to Manchester in this style: "Begin number one head, 'Kimberly Reported,' next number three head, 'Roberts Report,' and so on, until each item on the page had been enumerated.

Similar directions followed for all the pages, and by the time the presses in the London office had started printing The Mail the last page in Manchester was almost ready for the stereotypers to make plates.

Brigadier General Hector Macdonald "Fighting Mac" has gone to the front, and it is to be hoped that his proverbial luck will follow him.

For Royal Highness the Princess Louise also called his excellency as follows: "Signed) Louise."

After advising the continuation of war preparations, the Times concludes as follows: "But, if anything should enhance the intense and widespread satisfaction of the nation at the achievements of our troops, it is the knowledge that the Canadian contingent played the principal part in the decisive movement which forced the stubborn Boer leader to own he was beaten."

The Daily Mail says: "To the Canadians belong the honor of having hastened to peace, and in so doing, however, to suppose the Boers will sue for peace, or that all our difficulties are removed."

The whole British Empire is ringing with praises for the men sent from Canada to fight for their empire. These men were no tried veterans, but men of merely a few months' training. They have already shown themselves able to endure hardship without complaint and discomfort with cheerfulness, but the success which they have now achieved reflects credit not only on the men themselves but upon the country which can produce such excellent soldiers.

REMOUNT STATIONS: The necessity for the establishment of remount station throughout the West has been brought home to us in connexion with the recent purchase of horses for Lord Strathcona's contingent.

It is more than evident that England must depend on foreign sources for supply whose market may be closed to us at a time when we most need them, nor can we depend on the fact that we can buy whatever we need with money, if it should unfortunately happen that there is no market open to us.

HARMSWORTH KILLS TIME: London Daily Mail is printed in Manchester at the Same Time as in London.

London, Feb. 25.—To annihilate time to the extent of four hours, and a distance of 183 miles, seems an almost impossible task, but has been done, and that quite recently.

The Daily Mail, the growth of which has been phenomenal, is nothing if not enterprising. It aims to compete with not only the London, but also the provincial journals.

Mr. Alfred Harmsworth, the creator of The Mail, was not to be balked by time or distance. Today his paper goes to press almost simultaneously in London and Manchester.

ties, especially as they are modified by danger, discipline, victory and defeat, it is the first duty of a general to study Wellington's conduct in the stress on the part which had been calculated, to be thought, and even executed, with a great genius and a great soul.

To accomplish this feat required much thought, more money, and still more energy. In the first place a duplicate printing plant was established in an old school building on the outskirts of Manchester.

Special Staff Organized. In the Daily Mail office, in London, a special staff was organized to send matter. After each item of news had been put in type, a copy of the special proof was taken, the style of heading written upon it, and it was then given to the operators who telegraphed it, headlines and all, over the leased wire to the Manchester office.

There it was taken in hand by the editor, who then sent it to the composing room, and again put in type, this time in Manchester. The same procedure was followed with each advertisement and each item of news.

As the time approached for going to press in each office, the London and Manchester news were in type and ready to go into pages. The London office was made up of a list taken of the items in position. This was telegraphed to Manchester in this style: "Begin number one head, 'Kimberly Reported,' next number three head, 'Roberts Report,' and so on, until each item on the page had been enumerated.

ONTARIO ROADS

Toronto, Feb. 25.—Premier Ross made an important announcement yesterday afternoon to a "good roads" deputation that the government were prepared to grant $400,000 a year for a period of ten years towards improving the roads of Ontario.

The delegates informed the government that they wanted legislation favoring a county system of main roads touching the principal parts of each county towards which grants should be made by the government.

The delegates agreed with this, but thought a vote by all the people of the country would settle the matter, even though the township councils be not satisfied.

Mr. Ross suggested statute labor on the lands fronting the main roads could be devoted to improving the back roads. Finally the premier announced that the province was prepared to grant a million dollars for improving roads, distributing it over a period of ten years provided an equitable system could be devised.

The province could afford to do it and he thought by so doing they could make it much better to the farmer. They would get a market much more easily and quickly and the comforts of rural life would be greatly increased.

Large grants were made to railways but railways were of little use to the farmer if he did not get to the station. The government would work on a bill and would be glad to receive suggestions.

Man's course begins in a garden but ends in a city—Dr. Maclaren. The uncertainty of sure things always causes a lot of worry. Scarcely was said to be the ugliest man of his age.

Every man can see where there is room for a lot of improvement in other men. Waste land in Turkey sells at 22 per acre, good farming land at 22 to 230.

It is considered a deadly insult to tell a Bostonian that he doesn't know beans. Eighty horses generally stand in the castle stables, when the court is at Windsor and at the Royal Mews of Buckingham Palace, 120 horses are kept.

If a horse realizes how careless he is about paying back what he borrows he seldom lends anything. Many a man's reputation for goodness is soured upon his ability to conceal his badness.

The Queen has a great liking for white heather, and when she is driving in the Highlands very often delights to gather a bunch. A Kaffir captured by the Boers while taking a quill despatch from Mafeking to Kuruman was searched from head to foot, and then told to go.

The wily native thus escaped, with the despatch safely concealed up his nose, and reached his destination without further mishap. In the year 1800 England quaked for fear of a French invasion. Here, in the city of London, volunteers drilled every day; preparations for destroying the bridges over the Thames were made ready, and blockhouses and barricades were planned for a house-to-house defence of the capital.

CAPITAL $1,000,000 IN ONE DOLLAR SHARES. 400,000 THE TREASURY FIRST BLOCK OF TREASURY SHARES NOW ON THE MARKET FOR A LIMITED TIME AT 10 CENTS.

DIRECTORS: Wm. F. COCHRANE, Manager The Cochrane Ranch, Limited, Macleod. JOHN J. YOUNG, Managing Director of The Calgary Herald. W. B. POOL, President Great Western Mines, Limited, Ferguson and Revelstoke. J. D. GRAHAM, Gold Commissioner, Atlin, B. C. F. W. GODSAL, Rancher, Pincher Creek. GEO. S. MCCARTER, Solicitor, Revelstoke. W. M. BROWN, Proprietor St Leon Hot Springs, Revelstoke.

The Double Eagle Company has been formed for the purpose, not only of mining its present properties but of acquiring promising claims and developing them to an extent that will justify their sale to English and other companies at a profit. The company already owns and has paid for in full, the Trilby and Old Saul properties in the famous Fish River district, and a three-quarters interest in the May Bee mine, in the Lardeau district, one and a half miles from Ferguson. Sufficient promoter's shares have been set aside for the purchase of the remaining quarter.

The May Bee is the sister claim to the now famous Nettie L, which has broken all records in British Columbia for large bodies of phenomenally rich ore. The May Bee and Nettie L were located together in 1892 by Mr. W. B. Pool (who has been appointed manager of the Double Eagle Co.) Both claims carry identically the same rich ore on the surface and the same remarkable ledge runs through both, carrying high values in gold, copper, silver and lead. The promoters have already spent $4,000 in developing the May Bee, with excellent results, and in order to place the mine quickly on a shipping basis the company now offers the public the opportunity of investing to a limited extent in fully paid and non-assessable treasury shares (par value $1) at 10 cents each.

Shares will be sold in blocks of 100 and upwards. The company reserves the right to withdraw the sale of shares from the market at any time without notice. Applications may be sent to the Secretary, Or to JNO. J. YOUNG HERALD BLOCK, CALGARY.

—The Louise Brechany Ballad and Opera Concert Co. will come here, if some local society will take hold of engaging them. The company includes six well known artists, headed by Louise Brechany, the charming ballad singer, (formerly prima donna with Sousa's Band), and the program is a departure from the conventional concert style, in that it includes scenes and acts from grand operas, beautifully costumed, and a goodly sprinkling of popular ballads. Their circulars, etc., can be seen at the HERALD office.

Wedding Bells.

Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Presbyterian church was crowded to its utmost capacity by a congregation, assembled to witness the celebration of the Lewis-Powell wedding ceremony. The knot was tied by Rev. T. Neuzie, pastor of the church. The bride looked charming in her bridal array. She was attended by two pretty little maids, Miss Gertrude Dent and Miss Iridie Carruthers. The groom was supported by Mr. C. McDonald as best man. Miss Mabel Colburn presided at the organ, the solemn strains of which added greatly to the impressiveness of the service. The happy couple left on the No. 1 the same day for a honeymoon trip at the coast.

Keep Your Cash at Home.

The Revelstoke Steam Laundry paid out during the five months ending February 24 the following money, which has been largely spent in town: $800 for wages, $250 for coal, $150 for general running expenses, $500 for improvements and repairs, total, $1,700. Should not an industry like this receive the hearty support of the citizens, rather than a foreign element that would send away this money to China or elsewhere?

THE MARTIN PLATFORM

Out of the chaos which at present roods over the face of the political puddle at Victoria, one feature is gradually evolving into some like clearness. It is becoming obvious that Mr. Martin is going to contest this coming election as the professed leader of a Liberal provincial party. In this capacity the HERALD is free to confess that it considers that his chance of getting a majority in the coming contest is very slim. As an avowed laborer with a strong democratic and socialist platform, Mr. Martin might prove a dangerous opponent. But merely as a Grit partisan leader with a bunch of old-fashioned Grits hanging on to his coat tails, he is very little to be feared. He cannot possibly hope to control the whole Liberal vote in the province. The Conservatives will be quite willing to pick up the challenge which he throws down against them. The labor vote will be split up by the hoisting of the Grit standard and are quite as likely to rally round Mr. Cotton's provincial party, which contains some notable labor leaders, as to be attracted by Mr. Martin's programme, which presents unmistakable traces of the influence fine old crusted whiggery in certain of its clauses.

To revert to Mr. Martin's programme. The largest feature of it is the adoption by the province of the policy of the government ownership of railroads, which has been already endorsed by every party in the province. Mr. Martin, however, proposes to put it into practical effect by pledging the province to construct a Coast to Kootenay line, south of the Fraser, and to build a bridge over the Fraser by which it is hoped to induce the Northern Pacific to come into Vancouver. This is a large order, and though this district will not be immediately affected by the proposed line, which terminates at Midway, still the HERALD will discuss the proposition at more length in another issue. Another plank endorses the principle of the eight hour law with a broad hint that it may be modified to suit those affected. Mr. Martin does not say what these modifications are, but it is not unreasonable to suppose that his Grit allies have insisted on a relaxation of the strictness of the present enactment in this interest of capital. Eight hours will be a matter of but overtime will be allowed. The alien exclusion act is to be repealed, a measure against which the HERALD fancies Mr. Martin will find few of his opponents to raise a dissenting voice.

There are other clauses in the programme of importance. One declares that the disallowed legislation against Mongolian immigration will be enacted and the rights of the province against the federal government in this matter be maintained. This appears to be a most mischievous notion. The Natal Act, which both the late B. C. government and the Laurier cabinet have been seeking to introduce on the express advice of the Colonial Secretary, fully answers all the requirements of the case and does so without needlessly stepping beyond the powers of the provincial government, or embroiling it in a bitter and useless conflict with Ottawa over the question of provincial rights. Where our aim can be easily peacefully attained, what earthly object can there be in striving up stairs to arrive at it in the other way? There can be only one idea and that is to entangle the Laurier government in a contest with the province, a scheme which may seem highly desirable to Mr. Martin but to which, unless the HERALD is making a great mistake, it is highly unlikely that sensible men in this province are likely to see eye to eye with him. The HERALD is no friend of the Laurier government, but still less is it an admirer of the introduction of these tortuous political plots into the affairs of the country. What we want is a great deal more business and a great deal less political squabble than we have got already.

The HERALD fails to see how Mr. Martin can possibly expect Kootenay to support his very peculiar ideas of the best methods of opening up a new territory such as ours. He declares himself willing to borrow money to build roads and trails, but only on condition that either sufficient taxation is derived from the district in which the roads are constructed, or that the interest on the loan or else tolls are imposed with the same object. This plank, if adopted a few years ago would have condemned Kootenay to remain for ever in its condition of primitive wilderness. In the very nature of things the first government expenditure on a new mineral district in a mountainous and rugged country must necessarily be of the nature of an experiment, or investment. Money must be spent to open it up in the hope, a hope which so far expenditure in Kootenay has amply justified, that the returns to the provincial revenue will come in later. Come it does very quickly but the government, which would wait to begin to open up the country until the returns were actually in its hand would never begin at all. On the other hand, to those living in Kootenay the idea of a collection of tolls for the use of every new government trail or road need only to be stated to be dismissed. It is impossible and there is no end of it. Every private company which has built trails and roads in the country, though they may have hinted at the desire to do so, have never ventured to impose any toll upon the public for the use of their trails and no politician who really proposes to adopt this medieval idea in the last years of the nineteenth century, need appeal to Kootenay for support.

COMING

Now that it is universally acknowledged that my patent appliances positively cure RHEUMATISM and are guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction. I invite the very worst cases—INFANTS, CHILDREN AND ADULTS.

Ottawa, December 20th, 1899. I have much pleasure in testifying to Mr. Armstrong's ability in the mechanical treatment of Hernia or Rupture. He has successfully treated patients of all ages from a few months to 90 years of age. Most of these patients were afflicted with very unmanageable Hernia, which failed to be relieved by all the trusses tried. The principle of his patent appliance seems to be perfect. The support is directed against the seat of the rupture only, and can be manipulated to retain accurately power in the position recommended by Mr. Armstrong to the consideration of the profession and all who are afflicted with this complaint.

HENRY P. WRIGHT, M. D., 102 Elgin Street.

Ottawa, December 7th, 1899. DEAR SIR: In my practice I necessarily meet with many cases of RHEUMATISM. During the past 19 years I have had occasion to use trusses of many patterns, with the usual results obtained by the use of the same, viz: very unsatisfactory. Until recommended your patent appliance, I had never heard of all have been little better than useless. I voluntarily recommended anyone afflicted with Hernia to try your appliance, and have no doubt that every intelligent physician, as he becomes aware of your ability to cure rupture, will gladly recommend you to his patients.

A. A. HENDERSON, M. D., 414 Albert Street.
