BOURNE BROS.

THE FISH RIVER CAMP

Likely to Be Several Shippers in This District Next Season.—Millions Ready to Develop the Camp.

Mr. H. O. McClymont, M. E., speaking the other day of the Lardian country, said: "Undoubtedly, one of the coming mining camps in West Kootenay this summer will be Fish Creek, beginning at Connally and Thomson's Landing and ending with Cambarne. Now that the Canadian Pacific Railway has arranged to build the long talked-of road from Trout Lake to Fish Creek, many promising groups of claims are likely to be extensively developed by outside capital. Influential representatives of American, Canadian and British capital have already secured over 30 claims situated on well known main leads on coal, Lexington and Fish creeks, and as the money for such a question successful mining) behind these syndicates is right up to millions, there are likely to be several shippers in the northwest Lardian next year.

The Eva group, now being taken hold of by a Butte syndicate, after six months active development work, has proved that the high gold values found on the surface to date, have vein of quartz between slate walls, and a piece of quartz taken from the vein (which averages five feet), goes all the way from $20 to $300. The properties adjoining the Eva on the same lead, are being sought after at good prices. The group lies between Fish and Lexington Creeks, and is one of the most recent finds in the country. Many more such discoveries are likely when more of the almost innumerable ledges have been more carefully prospected by men new to the district, especially in view of an early spring and summer.

One London mining man spent eight days on Pool and Lexington Creeks, which resulted in his buying four groups of claims for part cash and part stock. Great things are hoped from the whole four groups, as his principals are not among those would-be mine owners who expect to have a mine on spending a couple of thousands and dollars on it in work.

The fact of several shrewd Butte men buying heavily into that district, is a fairly good augury of the possibilities of the camp.

One remarkable and unusual feature about the Lexington ledges is that, in every case where any depth has been attained the gold and silver values have, both, greatly increased. The Lardian Queen is a case in point. The surface values showed but 50 cents in gold and 30 ounces in silver, whilst at 60 feet, the galena ore carries $10 in gold and 54 ounces in silver, with a correspondingly lower value in lead. On the lowest-lying ledge, considerable quantities of copper, pyrites are met, but the highest values in silver have been found on the extensions of the centre Lardian Queen vein under the iron cap.

On the side of Fish Creek on Scott Creek, Montreal people own several promising properties, amongst which the Lost Cup stands out conspicuously. The formation is composed of slate and schist, and the veins are of quartz carrying gold, silver and copper in highly paying quantities. The last named property and others on Scott Creek are at a correspondingly low altitude, and besides having unlimited supplies of good timber and water will be within easy distance of transportation on the new and great of the new Canadian Pacific Road.

CONSERVATIVES IN LINE

Will Place Straight Party Candidates in the Field.

The Victoria City Liberal-Conservative Association Monday night decided to adopt Federal party lines in the approaching Provincial election, and a convention of the party will be held two weeks from now to select the candidates who as Liberal-Conservatives will seek election to the new parliament of British Columbia. After long consideration of the subject from every standpoint, the decision for party lines was arrived at. Fifteen minute speeches were the order of the evening, and some excellent public talks of the politics of the hour, the peculiarities and the dangers of the situation were given by Mr. Cassidy, Mr. Turner, Mr. Bailey, Mr. Miller, Mr. Ker and others, including the chairman and president of the association, Mr. H. D. Helmcken. During the course of the proceedings, very encouraging reports were presented from all parts of the province—reports which indicated that with an allowance of all in any way doubtful constituencies to the enemy, a conservative government will be entrusted with the management of British Columbia affairs so soon as the people have an opportunity of rendering their verdict on the majority of the very last eight seats.

HOW THEY SETTLED GRONJE

The Canadians Actually Entered the First Trenches

LONDON, March 23.—A correspondent of the Daily News, writing from Koodoostand, where Gen. Hector Macdonald led the movement of the Highland Brigade from Magerand after Lord Roberts' arrival at the front, describes the surrender of Cronje at Paardeberg. He says the Royal Canadian Regiment, having been ordered to approach the Boer laager, got into the darkness within fifty yards of the enemy's position. The Boers poured a tremendous fusillade into the advancing Canadians. Lieut. Col. Otter, deciding that it was as dangerous to retire as advance, dashed forward with the men, who tumbled pell-mell into the trenches outside the mine bushes firing the battle.

The Boers promptly evacuated them, and unless they were able to reoccupy the trenches there was nothing to save them, and the mass of the Highlanders had created a strong party in favor of surrender to the British. The situation brought about by the Canadians decided the situation and at six o'clock a white flag was sent from the Boer laager to Lord Roberts. Addressing the Canadians, the Field Marshal complimented them in the highest terms.

Make a Plucky Fight and Hold Out

THE ENEMY IS CHECKED

Lord Roberts is Now in a Position to Make a Scoop.—The Troops in Good Health and the Weather Perfect.—Col. Dalgety's Gallant Band Hold Their Own Against Big Odds.

LONDON, 9:15 p. m.—The War office has received the following despatch from Lord Roberts. Bloemfontein, April 13.—The enemies movements south have been checked. Wepener is still surrounded, but the little garrison is holding out well. Troops are being moved to their assistance. The health of the troops is good and the climate is perfect.

BLONKFONTEIN, April 13.—Accounts received here of the fighting of the troops under Colonel Dalgety at Wepener show that the Boers attacked them vigorously, but were repulsed with great loss. The Boers subsequently relinquished the attack and it is said here they are retreating northward.

LONDON, April 14.—There is nothing whatever to cause uneasiness as it will be seen that the Boers are just where we want them. "In a word we are all right," says a Bloemfontein despatch.

Lord Roberts says the forward movement of the Boers is checked. Relief is on the way to Wepener. The Reserve Companies of several infantry battalions has been called out for South Africa.

Col. Dalgety's forces at Jammersberg have been surrounded by some thousands of Boers since Monday but have and are capable of repulsing any attacks.

MACKINTOSH THE CHOICE.

Conservatives of the Rossland Riding Unanimously Favor the Ex-Governor.

The Conservative convention for Rossland, riding north, yesterday night and the greatest enthusiasm nominated Mr. C. H. Mackintosh, ex-M. P. for Ottawa and lately Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest Territories, as their candidate for the legislature. The nomination was by acclamation, as there seemed to be no member of the Conservative party who desired to rival him for the place. The convention was under the presidency of the Boundary towns and Rossland, and Trail. A well attended public meeting was held Tuesday evening. The principal speaker was Mr. Mackintosh, who said that if elected to do all that he could to develop and put on a better footing than at present the mining interests of the country.

THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY.

They Will Win Every Province Next Election but Quebec.

MONTREAL, April 10.—A rally of the Conservative party for the district of Montreal has been called for Thursday April 12, under the personal direction of Sir Charles Tupper. A prominent member of that party today said that the Conservatives' election to win the next elections, by a majority of between twenty and twenty-five. He also said that Ontario might be counted on with a certainty, the lower Provinces were not for one moment doubtful, while in the Northwest and British Columbia the Liberals were thoroughly discredited. As for Quebec, they expected to carry twenty seats out of sixty-five.

ELECTION DAY SET.

Lieutenant-Governor McInnis Acts on Advice From Ottawa.

In accordance with advice from Ottawa the Lieutenant-Governor has dissolved the house. The elections will be held on June 30th. Nomination day will be May 26th. The house will meet July 31st.

The Maple Leaf Wearers.

The Toronto Evening Telegram's London correspondent cables the following: A. Gordon Dyer is an article in the Friend of the Free State, the newspaper established by the correspondents at Bloemfontein, describes the men of Gen. Smith-Dorrien's brigade in which is the Royal Canadian regiment. These men, he says, are taller and sturdier than infantry of the line. They are grim, solid men, straight as poplars and wear the maple leaf on their shoulder straps, and the British brigade is glad enough to have these maple leaves beside them, for the Canadians are the men of Paardeberg.

A Strange Coincidence.

As I was in Revelstoke the other day I happened in to the most fashionable tailor to leave my measure for a pair of working pants as I had hired out to a farmer to drive a yoke of oxen and was in need of something strong and durable. Arriving at the farm a week later I started to work. In going through the field one day the plough struck a stump splitting it in two. I stepped on the stump and myself passed right through. Arriving on the other side the stump closed in on my new pants. Away went the oxen. Yes, away went your pants! No Sir! I up came the stump and the pants. I always told you that Wilson the Tailor had the best goods in Revelstoke.

A Toronto Opinion.

British Columbia will get nothing but a few post-offices and Government jobs at Ottawa so long as the people of that province rely on weak and ineffectual representatives like Hewitt, Bestock, M. P. A wealth of money and a still greater affluence of good intentions have not prevented Mr. Bestock from degenerating into a partisan of the most abject and servile type.—Toronto Telegram.

A CLEVER RUSE.

The Sequel to a Hot Fight Over a Scalper's Ticket.

"Talking 'bout scalper's tickets," said an old conductor, "the queerest thing I know in that line happened when I was working for the Missouri Pacific, back in the eighties. My run was between Kansas City and St. Louis, and one morning as I was pulling out on my east bound trip a fellow gave me an old three day excursion ticket that had expired at least six months before. I told him it was no good, and after considerable growling he handed me some small silver. 'There will carry me to—' he said, naming a little way station, 'and between times I'll think it over.' 'Very well,' I replied, 'but I give you notice right now that I won't carry you a foot farther unless you put up the money.'"

"He made no answer and began carefully studying his ticket. When we got to the station, I was by his side. 'Well,' said I, 'what do you intend to do?'
'Intend to ride on this ticket,' he answered. 'I've read it over and it's perfectly good.' 'I'm not going to argue any more about that,' said I. 'You pay your fare quick or get off.' 'Not unless you're the best man,' said he, looking ugly. 'Well,' I threw him out, and he was on his way.
He fought like a wildcat and came near licking both me and the brakeman. The station where this happened was in the heart of a wild moonshine district, and the crowd that collected all sympathized with the passenger. As we pulled out they stoned the train. I expected to hear from the fellow almost at once, but I didn't, and the affair soon passed out of my mind.

"Six months later I happened to be in the general offices when, to my great surprise, I saw him coming out of the manager's private room. 'Who is that man?' I asked a clerk. He laughed. 'Why, don't you know him?' he said. 'He's 'Er', and he named a detective who had lately worked up the evidence in a big train robbery case in the very neighborhood of the station where our row had occurred.

"Then I understood. You see, he wanted some good excuse for going into the manager's office, and there was no better one than that of a poor man just ejected from a train by a brutal conductor. He had his scalper's ticket to show; he had just put up a genuine fight, and he claimed to be dead broke. All that appealed to the manager, and he let him in. 'Once more,' the result was that he staid there a month and picked up all the evidence he wanted. It was a shrewd scheme, but I still think he made that scrap unnecessarily realistic."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

HORSE FOOLED THE OFFICER.

He Made Up His Mind That He Must Finish His "Spree."

On a recent evening, during a driving rainstorm a telephone message was received at the Walnut Hill police station stating that a runaway horse attached to a spring wagon had been stopped by some boys on May street.

"Who understands horses?" asked the sergeant of the second relief that had just entered the station house.

"I do," answered Officer Horstmeier, and he was detailed to go over and drive the horse to a livery stable, where it would be kept until turned over to its owner. Upon arriving on May street Horstmeier found the horse, a wild ered brute, held firmly by the bridle bits by two boys. There was no seat in the wagon and nothing but an old soap box upon which to sit. Clambering in, Horstmeier gave the boys orders to let go the bridle, and in a second the horse's hoofs began beating a violent tattoo on the bottom of the wagon, sending the soap box in the air and jarring the officer's spine with each concussion. This lasted for two or three minutes, when the horse started and ran like a blue streak down May street, the policeman clinging desperately to the lines. South May street ends abruptly in a dump or all, and Horstmeier knew it, and pursued it. At the end of the street was reached at last, and the horse, with a wild leap, went over the wagon followed, and in a second the animal, the wreck of the wagon, the remains of the soap box and Horstmeier were mixed up in an indiscriminate mass at the bottom.

A half-hour later a mud plastered individual limped up to the door of the Servant district station house, leading a horse, on which hung the remains of a harnessed and carrying a horse blanket on one arm.

"Who is that?" asked Sergeant Barley as he peered out through the rain.

"It's me—Horstmeier," answered the officer.

"You understood horses?"

"I do," answered Horstmeier. "But I think it's a low German!"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Big Cedar.

The finest English elm in New York city is on the west side of Madison square. Probably the choicest tree in any of the four corners of the city is the Elm on Prospect park. It stands on the meadow northeast of Lookout hill.
The height, about 40 feet, is remarkable for this country, and it would bear no mean comparison to some of the famous ones in the gardens of London. It is claimed that there is only one finer cedar of Lebanon in the United States. It is on the Huntington estate at West Chester and is about 60 feet high. These trees are most attractive in the early summer, when the old and new cones hang pendent together. This tree does not come until it is 40 years old.—New York Tribune.

More Distinctions.

Nice distinctions are troublesome. It is so much easier to say that a thing is black than to say it is white. It is easier to say that a thing is brown than to say it really belongs. It is so much easier to make up your mind that your neighbor is good for nothing than to enter into all the circumstances that would oblige you to modify that opinion.

Good International Law.

Jabbers—I tell you, old man, it's a terrible thing when your wife quarrels with her mother and the old lady lives with you. Which side do you take?

Harvey—Neither. I preserve an alarmed neutrality.—Harper's Bazar.

The orientale of Bokhara indulge in a peculiar pastime which is said to resemble football as played in England. It is played on a flat, open space, the place of the ball, and 200 horsemen scramble for it.

that maketh wretchedness or happiness, his New York estate. His contempt for ber of the New York legislature. A bad parts of the world.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

KITCHEN HELPS.

To whiten the kitchen table spread it over with a thin paste of chloride of lime and hot water. Leave this on all night, and in the morning wash it off.

If, when cooking, a saucepan or fish kettle springs a leak; drop a small piece of bread into it, and it will immediately find its way to the hole and stop the leaking.

Often in the use of the double boiler the water in the outside vessel refuses to boil. When this happens, fill the outer saucepan with strong salt water, and it will boil much sooner.

OCEANS TO ORDER.

What Engineers Propose to Do With the World's Deserts.

Few people realize how completely of late years the surface aspect of this weakened old globe of ours has been altered and improved, says the London Mail.

The world of today, in fact, differs from the world of our ancestors much as a society lady, in all the glory of gold and fill and furbelow, differs from her savage sister running wild in pestilential woods. As art has transformed the one, so has it the other.

Only the "Mme. Rachel" who has made the earth, if not exactly "beautiful forever," at least a pleasant and healthful place wherein to dwell, is no charlatan with a drayload of cosmetics and a glib tongue, but a civil engineer owning nothing more harmful than a few mysterious looking instruments and a measuring tape.

And the marvel of it all is this—that what has been done is but an infinitesimal fraction of that which may and doubtless will be done. Who can doubt, for instance, that the great Sahara desert, that mole upon the world's face, will one day be but a memory? It would not be a very difficult matter to convert it into one again.

A canal 60 miles long, connecting with the Atlantic the vast depression which runs close up to the coast nearly midway between the twentieth and thirtieth parallels of latitude, would do the business beautifully. The water would not, of course, cover the entire surface of the desert. Here and there are portions lying above sea level.
These would become the islands of the new Sahara ocean.

What would be the results that would ensue upon this stupendous transformation? Some would be good and some bad. Among the latter may be mentioned the probable destruction of the vineyards of southern Europe, which depend for their existence upon the warm, dry winds from the great African desert.

As some compensation for this, however, the mercantile marines of the nations affected would be enabled to gain immediate and easy access to vast regions now given over to barbarism, and a series of more or less flourishing seaport towns would spring up all along the southern borders of Morocco and Algeria, where the western watershed of the Nile sinks into the desert, and on the northern frontier of the Kongo Free State.

In a similar manner the greater portion of the central Australian desert, covering an area of fully 1,000,000 square miles, might be flooded. The island continent would then be reconverted into a gigantic atoll and would resemble roughly an oval dish, of which the depressed central portion would be covered with water and only the "rim" inhabited.

The Progressive Dinner.

The new kind of progressive dinner party in vogue among fashionable people is said to possess unlimited possibilities. The fact does not confine itself to the seclusion of private homes, but exploits itself at public hotels. The whole party unceremoniously appear in a public dining room, arrayed in full evening dress. The more consternation and surprise shown at their unusual appearance the greater their fun.
After the Blue Points have been disposed of the merry diners enter their carriages and drive to another hotel, where soup awaits them.

They partake of game at another hostelry, and on until the cup of black coffee and cigarettes have been finished amid the oriental surroundings of some restaurant.—New York Tribune.

"Cross Education."

This term is used to describe a phenomenon which has recently come under investigation at the Yale psychological laboratory. Experiments carried on during the past year have shown that the effects of practice on one side of the body are transferred to the other side, where there has been no practice. For instance, a fencer, practicing lunges with a foil and using only his right hand, gained in two weeks 58 per cent of accuracy in aim. At the same time it was found that his left hand had also gained 58 per cent of accuracy in the same exercise, although it had had no actual practice. So the exertion of the muscles of the right arm likewise increased the strength of the left arm.

A Freakish Spring.

A most remarkable spring is located on the farm of Mr. Davis in Ellsworth, Me. The spring is located upon a hill, and the water is conveyed by a pipe to a watering tub by the roadside.

There is an abundant flow of water till about 10 in the morning, when it ceases to flow until about 1:30 in the afternoon, when it again resumes operations, filling the tub to overflowing with an abundant stream.

A Paper House.

A large paper house with 18 rooms has been erected by a Russian nobleman on his country estate in Padolia.
It was constructed by an American engineer and cost $8,000 rubles. Its architect declares that it will last longer than a stone building. To make the triumph for paper more emphatic the owner has resolved that all the furniture shall be of the same material.

Serum Treatment of Diphtheria.

Thanks chiefly to the use of the serum treatment, the mortality in Prussia from diphtheria has been reduced from a rate of 15.5 per 10,000 in the years 1895-96 to 7.6 and 9.2 in the years 1896-7.

is still alive at the age of 84. She is the grandchild of Annalee Goulet, the first white child born in St. Louis, and re-

Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, who recently celebrated her ninety-first birthday at Oyster shook hands with the people of the town.

Devona Burkill is the new queen of the gypsies. She was crowned at Lan-

Helena Gould has given Mary Sutton of Baltimore a law scholarship, which includes books and board in the University of New York. Mr. Sutton, who served in the Cuban war, attracted Miss Gould's favorable attention when in the

Mrs. Clara E. Wright of San Francisco started the Rampart City Whirlpool in the Klondike last January, and it has proved to be a great success. It is issued once a month and sells at $1 a copy. It is not printed, but is typewritten by Mrs.
Wright and her daughter, and is well filled with good paying "ads."

One of the most interesting women in South Africa is Miss Alice Rhodes, sister of Cecil Rhodes. She has a beautiful country seat near Cape Town, which she has named Great Schuur, and has in her zoological garden nearly every wild animal native in South Africa. Miss Rhodes is said to be an authority on politics and statecraft. She is pronounced as masculine in appearance.

Mrs. Percival of Ealing, the youngest one of the 12 children of the Right Hon. Spencer Percival, the English prime minister who was assassinated in the lobby of the house of commons in the early part of the century, entered upon her ninety-fifth year on Aug. 27 last. She still continues to show a keen interest in all around her and retains a vivid recollection of the tragedy of her childhood.

It appears that Miss Enid Yandell is not the only woman sculptor member of the National Sculpture society. In addition to Miss Yandell, the society includes Mrs. H. H. Kitson of Boston and Miss Bessie Potter, who, like Miss Yandell, now lives in New York.

A great-granddaughter of Betty Ross, who made the first American flag, is livher great-grandmother, who died when she was a child of 6. Mrs. Ross was 90 made the first flag she was but 29 and quite girlish in appearance.

The Double Eagle Company has been formed for the purpose, not only of mining its present properties but of acquiring promising claims and developing them to an extent that will justify their sale to English and other companies at a profit. The company already owns and has paid for in full, the Trilby and Old Saul properties in the famous Fish River district, and a three-quarters interest in the May Bee mine, in the Lardeau district one and a half miles from Ferguson. Sufficient promoter's shares have been set aside for the purchase of the remaining quarter.

The May Bee is the sister claim to the now famous Nettie L, which has broken all records in British Columbia for large bodies of phenomenally rich ore. The May Bee and Nettie L were located together in 1892 by Mr. W. B. Pool (who has been appointed manager of the Double Eagle Co.) Both claims carry identically the same rich ore on the surface and the same remarkable ledge runs through both, carrying high values in gold, copper, silver and lead. The promoters have already spent $4,000 in developing the May Bee, with excellent results, and in order to place the mine quickly on a shipping basis the company now offers the public the opportunity of investing to a limited extent in fully paid and non-assessable treasury shares (par value $1) at 10 cents each.

Shares will be sold in blocks of 100 and upwards.

The company reserves the right to withdraw the sale of shares from the market at any time without notice. Applications may be sent to the Secretary.

The War in Africa

DESPERATE DEFENCE

Bloemfontein, April 5.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The Royal Irish Rifles had been marching in the eastern portion of the Free State, collecting arms and were returning to Bethany Thursday when they were intercepted by the Boers who placed them in a position. The Irish entrenched themselves while the mounted infantry started along both flanks only to find escape impossible. The Boers opened with gun and rifle fire. The British replied sparingly with rifle, husbanding their cartridges in the hope that help would arrive. Gradually the Boers drew closer. They fired intermittently during Thursday night but did not attempt to rush the British position until Wednesday when the Irishmen, who had fought tenaciously, were suffering severely for want of food and water. Finding that there was no sign of success they surrendered, having fought desperately for 30 hours. They lost 10 killed and many wounded. Among the captured is Captain Tennant, General Gatacre's chief intelligence officer. Bethany, Orange Free State, April 5.—The five companies of British infantry which were surprised at Reddersburg by a commando via De Wettersdorp, made a plucky stand, but as the Boers had three field guns and the British none, the latter were compelled to surrender. General Gatacre arrived too late, as Reddersburg was already occupied by the Boers and the enemy are now threatening the lines to the south. General Gatacre's commando, having fought without having found any trace of the ill-fated British column captured by the Reddersburg commando. It is impossible to estimate the British loss but as the men fought stubbornly it is probable that they were large.

LIEUTENANT COLONEL HUTTON

To Command a Brigade of Mounted Infantry—Canadians in It. Bloemfontein, April 6.—There has been a reorganization of the mounted infantry corps of the army under Lord Roberts, the new division thus constituted being put under the command of General Hamilton. One brigade of the division is formed of the Canadians, Australians, New Zealanders and other colonial units, and has been placed under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Hutton, late commanding officer of the militia force of Canada. The second brigade made up of regular and volunteer imperial troops, will be under the command of Major Reilly. They will act as the advance guard of the scouts patrolling and clearing the country in advance of the main army.

MAY CATCH HIM YET

London, April 7.—It is said that the Boers who captured the British at Reddersburg belonged to a commando, if so he has not retired north, and hopes are expressed that he may still be cut off. It is asserted that 4000 rebels surrendered during General Clement's march northward. The Boers will do their utmost to hold Ladybrand and Thaba Nchu, both being rich grain producing districts. A correspondent of the Morning Post at Springfield, telegraphing Thursday, says he is glad to be able to report that increased precautions have been taken to patrol the railroad. It is said that most of the prisoners captured at Boshof are foreigners.

ANXIOUS FOR ACTION

Bloemfontein, April 7.—The Boers are reported in force to the south and threatening the railroad, which, however, is strongly protected. British pickets at Springfield, 15 miles distant, were attacked today by the Boers advancing from the waterworks. Remounts are rapidly arriving. The British are in high spirits and anxious to advance.

WEPENER ISOLATED

Lines of Defence Are Enormously Strong and the Garrison Is Fully Provisioned. London, April 10.—The Times publishes the following despatch from Wepener, dated Sunday, April 8th: "The Wepener garrison is completely isolated. However, the lines of defence are enormously strong and the garrison is fully provisioned. The Boers are in great force around the town and desultory firing between the outposts continues. A Boer commando, estimated at about 2000 men, with four guns, went into laager last night five miles from here, in the direction of Dewetsdorp."

BOER TREACHERY

Many of the Enemy Who Took the Oath of Non-Combatants, Rejoin Their Old Commandos. Alluvial North, April 9.—Small bodies of the enemy have been seen across the river near the town of Odendoolstroom. The ferry has been destroyed. There is a Boer commando of 1000 men, a large one has left Smithfield for Wepener. There are two commandos around Wepener but thus far there has been only outposts firing. A lieutenant of Brabant's Horse had been captured at Boshofville by the Boers who had previously surrendered. The lieutenant is also said to have broken his oath. A detachment of Queenstown volunteers arrived today. Many Boers who have taken the non-combatants' oath are rejoining their old commandos.

GUARDING AGAINST SURPRISE

Movements of Troops Continue with Bewildering Frequency. London, April 10.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Times, telegraphing Thursday, says that only 500 remained unrounded out of the whole British column captured at Reddersburg. General Gatacre and staff were fired on from the Boers while they were occupying Reddersburg. Considerable movements of troops have occurred there with the object of preventing a surprise. The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Morning Post, telegraphing on Sunday, says that the movements of troops continues with bewildering frequency. Brigades and divisions appear to disappear at intervals. The Boers are reported to be in considerable numbers to the west of the line. The Boers are also apparently feeling their way from the

MOVEMENTS OF CANADIANS

Bloemfontein, April 9.—The Canadians returned on Friday from the second demonstration eastward. They started on Wednesday at an hour's notice and marched to Reddersburg, 12 miles to the south-east. On Thursday the whole division advanced on a strong position but could find no trace of the enemy and accordingly retired the next day.

INSURGENTS IMPRISONED

Carnarvon, April 9.—Hart was formally reannexed to Cape Colony on April 1st, amidst the cheers of the assembled troops. A large number of insurgent colonists including many of their leaders, are now imprisoned here. Colonel Drury's column, including the West Australian and Canadian Mounted Rifles and artillery left here yesterday for DeAar.

MONDAY'S PARLIAMENT

Ottawa, April 10.—A debate on Chinese legislation occupied considerable attention during the afternoon. It was brought up by Mr. McInnes, who moved that no person be allowed to employ Chinese labor on the bill for incorporation was in committee several members opposed it and the amendment was finally defeated. In the course of his speech Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated that the government intended dealing with the Chinese immigration this season. The bill was read a third time. Mr. Flint's prohibition resolution will be debated on the 23rd. Mr. Davis moved for all correspondence to the N.W.T. subsidy grant of the past two years. Mr. Fielding stated the subsidy had been increased from $309,000 to nearly $500,000 under the present government. Papers on General Hutton's resignation were brought down. The public accounts committee will examine J. D. McGregor in connexion with the Yukon liquor licenses.

DESTRUCTIVE FLOODS IN TEXAS

Austin, Texas, April 7.—This city is in a pitch of darkness with raging river a mile wide and swollen far beyond its natural banks roaring and surging through all the lower portions of the town, having spread death and destruction in its wake. In addition to the vast loss to property in this section, it is calculated that between 30 and 40 lives have been sacrificed and reports coming in from the tributaries do not tend to improve matters. The flood is not unlike the disastrous Johnston flood some years ago, when a raging river already swollen far beyond its capacity bore too heavily on an immense dam spanning the river here, breaking it and letting loose a roaring water 30 miles long, half a mile wide and 60 feet deep to aid in carrying destruction down the valley of the Colorado river. The great dam in Colorado river gave way at noon today, from the enormous pressure of water and debris, and with a roar and crash swept the valleys below the city, wrecking the immense light and power plant and drowning eight workmen.

WIRE FLASHES

It is generally believed that the Prince of Wales will visit Canada this summer. The Edwardsburg Glucose Works at Cardinal, Ont., were completely destroyed by fire. On Saturday Queen Victoria was welcomed in a drive through Dublin by 50,000 children. Admiral Dewey's resolve to run for the presidency is unfavorably commented upon in London. An Indian tragedy has occurred at Long lake, north of Lake Superior; Chief Toweda having been decapitated.

THE TURF RECORD

Running races in Havana draw crowds of from 6,000 to 7,000 people. Palma Donna is by Greystone, dam Cotta P. by Orion, and has a record of 2:17. That stanch old sire Dauntless has two newcomers this season—Centric, 2:18, and Iless, 2:20. Billy Andrews, 2:08 1/4, pacing, at 4 years, is said to have gone into winter quarters perfectly sound. H. W. Peel of Portland, Ore., owns a colt by McKinney, 2:11 1/4, out of Data, sister to Chabalis, 2:04 1/4. Six horses in the stable of Hon. Frank Jones, Portsmouth, N. H., won $37,285 in the past season. Mr. J. Malcolm Forbes is said to have lost an amount of $2,500 for the 2-year-old by Arion, dam Hour. Cedilla, 2:22, the sire of Endow, 2:14 1/4, will next season be trained for a faster record. His present mark was obtained eight years ago. The McLaren stable, which John Kelly will train and drive next season, will consist of: Lovable the Great, 2:12 1/4; Lucy Carr, 2:14 1/4; Rosey Posey, and Secular. It is proposed in France to set aside 5 per cent of every trotting purse of $200 and over, to be given to the breeder of the winner's dam, or, in case of race death, to the widow or legal heirs who owned the dam of the winning horse when it was foaled.

APHORISMS

While thou livest, keep a good tongue in thy head.—Shakespeare. Self respect is the cornerstone of all virtue.—Sir John Herschel. Trust that man in nothing who has not a conscience in everything.—Sterne. Childhood may do without a grand purpose, but manhood cannot.—Huland. Precious beyond price are good resolutions. Valuable beyond price are good feelings.—Hawley. More helpful than all wisdom is one draft of simple human pity that will not forsake us.—George Eliot. There never was any heart truly great and generous that was not also tender and compassionate.—South. The safest principle through life, instead of reforming others, is to set about perfecting yourself.—Hayden. The mind that is cheerful at present will have no solicitude for the future and will meet the bitter occurrences of life with a smile.—Horace.

THE TURF REVIEW

Peter the Great, 2:07 1/4, is the fastest trotter ever bred in Michigan. Kitty R. bay mare, 2:08 1/4, pacing, by Kermis, has been thrown out of training. Guy, 2:12, record made this year, entered the 2:30 list as a 3-year-old in 1892. Wynema, 2:13 1/4, by Robert McGregor, is credited with a 2:10 trial at the trot. M. E. McHenry is credited with having won $27,000 with the horses he drove on the grand circuit. Allerton and Elyria are tied for the honors of the year to date. Each has seven performers to his credit. Searchlight paced a mile in 2:02 at Indianapolis Sept. 22, but it was not a record, as he started to beat 1:59 1/4. The race at Providence is said to have been the first one in which Charley Herr was ever behind the mule. The team Ottiger and Jackson, owned by Jacob Juntke, trotted in 2:18 1/4 at Belmont park, Philadelphia, recently. Daniel's mile in 2:10 at the recent Bethlehem (Pa.) meeting was the fastest ever paced in the state over a half mile track. Marcus Daly has a 2-year-old colt named Joe N. by Millot, who is said to have beaten 2:20 and shows a half at a 2:15 gallop. Billy Andrews, 2:08 1/4, by Bow Bells, won all of his races in the grand circuit, five in number, and his winnings foot up to $8,325. B. B. P., 2:09 1/4, by Pilot Medium, has joined the side wheelers and has paced several races in the west, but has not yet entered the list. Another trotter named Alix has entered the list of California. She is by Nutwood Wilkes, dam a sister to Little Albert, and her record is 2:24 1/4. The old trotter Walter E. 2:10, by Patchen Mambrino, is now owned by E. F. Swinney, Kansas City, and will be used in matinees. He is 15 years old.

STAGE GLINTS

Verona Jarbeau returns to the stage and will play vaudeville. Miss Jarbeau has a new act. The antique furniture and quaint costumes of 50 years ago in "The Dairy Farm" contribute to the realism of the stage effects in this pretty pastoral play. An actress in "The Man in the Moon" in New York was discharged for the offense of holding conversation while on the stage with friends in front and in the boxes. "Daughters of the Poor" contains a realistic rescue and shows Carrie Radcliffe as the blind girl hanging in mid-air by a rope, while her pursuer, standing on the fire escape, is killed by a bolt of lightning. Frau Cosima Wagner made a large sum out of last summer's Wagner festival at Bayreuth. American ladies were the financial mainstay of the season. Frau Wagner's war on ladies' hats was short and force, and the hats had to go. Robert Mantell produced his new play in Trenton. It is called "The Dagger and the Cross," and has four acts and a prologue. The play was written by W. A. Tremayne, who dramatized it from Joseph Hutton's novel of the same name. An old time manager's agent was once booking attractions. He asked his client what he thought of "Young Mrs. Winthrop" as an attraction. "Oh, was the accommodating reply, 'it's a fair actress and wears swell gowns give her a week.' A new idea is "The Richard Mansfield Calendar for 1900." It contains "pictures of Richard Mansfield's favorite characters, a few quotations and some good wishes" the quotations and good wishes being in reproduction of Mansfield's hand.

APHORISMS

Think wrongly, if you please, but in all cases think for yourself.—Lessing. Labor bids us of three great evils—irresponsibility, vice and poverty.—Voltaire. Justice is the constant desire and effort to render to every man his due.—Justinian. A good face is a letter of recommendation, as a good heart is a letter of credit.—Bulwer. We blame others for slight things and overlook greater in ourselves.—Thomas a Kempis. Evil events come from evil causes, and what we suffer springs, generally, from what we have done. Aristophanes. Men possessing minds which are more serene, solemn and inflexible enjoy, in general, a greater share of dignity than happiness.—Bacon. Of all virtues magnanimity is the rarest. There are a hundred persons of merit for one who willingly acknowledges it in another.—Hamlet.

FLOWERS

The pansy is a particularly good plant for window cultivation in winter. The bellflower is not a good winter window plant in a cold climate. It cannot stand the dry heat of our sitting rooms. It is easy to repot a fuchsia. Simply turn the ball of roots out in your hand, having ready a larger pot with some fresh soil in the bottom. Set the ball in the center and pack the soil around it with a water wall. It is a little odd that the tuberoses should have gone so completely out of favor. You can hardly find one in a flower store. Probably the cloying sweetness of the odor has something to do with its loss of popular favor. Fruit and Nuts. Don't be afraid to eat plenty of fruit if it is ripe. According to recent health reports, juicy fruits are not only cleansing to the stomach, but they feed the brain and nerves. Eat good fruit, and you will be clear headed, say the doctors. Another good food for the brain and muscles consists of baked, or "blanched," almonds. A few of these every day will, it is said, add much to one's mental powers. If you are going to do some hard studying this fall and winter, you would better get a supply of almonds and put them in the oven to bake them. Then eat a few each day with a little salt and see if you don't find your problems easier of solution.

HOUSE OF MOURNING

LOYALTY TO THE DEPARTED AND CONSIDERATION FOR THE LIVING.

The Joy of Youth and Strength Does Not Mean Disloyalty and Heartlessness—The Proper Way to Honor Those For Whom We Mourn.

It is a curious question, so pertinent and so provoked by the daily sight of households in which there is "one vacant place," that it would appear a natural one also: "How would I like to be remembered? In what way would I desire that my memory should be kept green?" But very rarely is this a matter of speculation, and yet more rarely of direction, when death enters the door, to show zealously that they are sorry, without any further thought. And in many cases the home is plunged into a gloomy isolation which deprives it of all its natural charm.

Many widows see with alarm the quick reaction of the young hearts of their children and find in every spontaneous revival of happiness among them a sign that the dead and father is forgotten. Out of this comes an artificial form of life and an unrelenting conduct of family affairs which, like all unreal things, are inherently without value.

Every sorrowing mother in the world has felt an indignant fear arise in her heart at the out of sight is for forgotten because a jolly brother and bright girl sister are ready to laugh again and feel the old spirit of rhythm moving their young feet. But we may not turn the course of life out of its deep groove because one human heart has fled from earth. The stir of the pulse and the joy of youth and strength are happily made to surmount the waves of sorrow as surely as a swimmer comes rejoicing out of the strong surf, and this does not mean disloyalty or heartlessness.

There is—we cannot shut our eyes to it—an element in society which says that there is neither time nor place for sorrow in the world and whose aim is clearly to reduce sorrow and hide everything disagreeable and distressing. We are not concerned with this small minority of the great human family, but are thinking of the average home out of which a good father or mother has gone, or where some dear son or daughter is no more seen. In such homes people do not willingly or easily forget, and the vast majority are more than ready to cherish every token of tender remembrance. There is a tedious holding of all the memories which the daily intimate details of a lifetime have implanted in the hearts of those who are left.

It becomes a very important matter for each home to find the proper order of its contact with the world so as to live in wholesome relations with society and yet be true and loyal to the dead.

As the very primal point from which to look forward, we want the living to remember the dead lovingly. Every act which is unnatural and purely done from conventional usage, against the will and wish of the living, tends to lessen the value of the memory of the dead, and would hope to keep from ever growing cold. Far indeed would it be from seeming to disregard a reasonable yielding to what tradition is deemed the fitting manner of expressing the deepest outward respect. What we feel clearly does not suffice. One of the rights of the dead is decorous observance of common usage concerning them. But side by side with this stands the absolute right of the living to the use of their faculties and of cordial contact with their fellows, without which no mind is entirely sane.

It would surely seem both rational and sensible to revert to the judgment of those who have gone, or who are mourning. Take a family left fatherless. Would it not be a wholly reasonable procedure to endeavor to honor the lost head by carrying out his views? Yet in how many households is the father's memory kept alive by a sympathetic, cheerful father follows a reign of darkness? In the home of a man whose nature had been marked by love of social merriment, whose cordial interest had endeared him to his neighbors, and who felt his duty to be a positive duty, we are sometimes shocked to find a once open door closed to all except the few nearest relatives and a pervading coldness and silence, which it would have been impossible for him to endure. Filling the rooms he had loved.

There can be no more beautiful and vital way of honoring the dead than by making others happy for their dear and neighborly souls which yields to the demand of personal loneliness and grief, by losing interest in everything outside its own narrow limits, can neither make a memory strong and faithful in the hearts of the living, nor can it be a positive duty, we are sometimes shocked to find a once open door closed to all except the few nearest relatives and a pervading coldness and silence, which it would have been impossible for him to endure. AUSTRALIAN ODDITIES.

The native dogs never bark. They only howl. Some seeds grow completely outside their fruit. The bears live together in the trees and cry like children. Some of the trees shed their bark in winter instead of their leaves. One kind of fish, found near the coast, makes a noise like a small trumpet. Some of the birds laugh exactly like human beings. Some cannot fly at all. The native flowers are all single in petals and almost all are completely scentless. The swans are all black. The birds generally have very brilliant plumage, but have no song. Most of the animals go about on their hind legs. They move along by jumping, or rather hopping. Some of them fly through the air like birds, and some of them have bills like ducks.

KIPLING.

Let us hope that Mr. Kipling has not gone to Scotland to acquire the dialect. There are already enough of those books to translate.—Albany Times-Union. It is said that Kipling has resolved to rest and write nothing for a year. Perhaps he thinks that he will need all his time to attend to his regiment of law suits.—Boston Globe. The fact that Mr. Kipling is not going to do any work while he is in Scotland will be very reassuring to those who began to fear another flood of Scotch dialect stories.

Hon. Jos. Martin's Platform

TO THE ELECTORS.

In appealing to you as the Premier of the Province, I beg to lay before you the platform of the new Government as follows:

1. The abolition of the $200 deposit for candidates for the Legislature.

2. The bringing into force, as soon as arrangements can be completed, of the Torrens Registry system.

3. The redistribution of the constituencies on the basis of population, allowing to sparsely populated districts a proportionately larger representation than to populous districts and cities.

4. The enactment of an accurate system of Government sealing of logs, and its rigid enforcement.

5. The re-enactment of the disallowance of Labor Regulation Act, 1898, and also all the statutes of 1899, containing anti-Mongolian clauses, if disallowed as proposed by the Dominion Government.

6. To take a firm stand in every other possible way with a view of discouraging the spread of Oriental cheap labor in the Province.

7. To provide for official inspection of all buildings, machinery and works, with a view to compelling the adoption of proper safeguards to life and health.

8. With regard to the Eight-hour Law the Government will continue to enforce the principle of the law. An immediate enquiry will be made by the Minister of Mines into all grievances put forward in connection with its operation, with a view of bringing about an amicable settlement.

9. If no settlement is reached the principle of the referendum will be applied and a vote taken at the general election as to whether the law shall be repealed. If the law is sustained by the vote it will be retained upon the statute book with its penalty clause. If modifications can be made removing any of the friction brought about, without impairing the principle of the law, they will be adopted. If the vote is against it the law will be repealed.

10. To establish the London Agency of British Columbia, and to take every effective means of bringing before the British public the advantages of this Province, as a place for the profitable investment of capital.

11. The retaining of the resources of the Province as an asset for the benefit of the people, and taking effective measures for the prevention of the alienation of the public domain, except to actual settlers or for actual bona fide business, or industrial purposes putting an end to the practice of speculating in connection with the same.

12. The taking of active measures for the systematic exploration of the Province.

13. The borrowing of money for the purpose of providing roads, trails and bridges, provided that the money is expended upon some system which will be advantageous to the general public, so that the old system of providing roads as a special favor to supporters of the Government may be entirely discontinued.

14. To keep the ordinary annual expenditure within the ordinary annual revenue, in order to preserve intact the credit of the Province, which is its best asset.

15. To adopt a system of Government construction and operation of railways, and immediately to proceed with the construction of a railway on the south side of the Fraser river, connecting the coast with the Kootenay district, with the understanding that unless the other railways now constructed in the Province give fair connections, and make equitable time, freight and passenger arrangements, the Province will continue its line to the eastern boundary of the Province.

16. To proceed with such Kootenay railway to be given to the Island of Vancouver. With respect to other parts of the Province, to proceed to give every portion of it railway connection as early a date as possible, the railway when constructed to be operated by the Government through a Commission.
