THE NETTIE L.

Will Likely Ship 1000 Tons of Ore this Winter.—This Famous Property Never Looked Better.

W. B. Pool, manager of the Great Western Mines Ltd., arrived in town from the Lardeau on Tuesday evening. He reports everything at the Nettie L. in the most satisfactory condition. A force of 18 men is at work and there is 150 to 200 tons of first class ore sacked up ready for shipment. Rawhiding down the mountain to Ferguson can commence at once, as there was 14 inches of snow at the mine and 4 or 5 in Ferguson, when Mr. Pool left on Sunday and there is probably more now. Work is going on at three points. In the crosscut of the south drift, on which the new ledge was struck, on a shaft which is being sunk at the intersection of this crosscut and south drift, which it is proposed to sink 100 feet and on the drift along the ledge in the lower workings, which is now run 100 feet. Ore is being encountered in all the workings and Mr. Pool thinks it likely that the amount taken out this winter in pure development work, without stoping at all, will enable the mine to ship about 1000 tons. The ore in the upper workings is clean shipping ore and is being sacked without taking it to the sorting house. In the lower workings they are driving in a 40 foot ledge of ore that will concentrate about six to one. The workings have reached a stage which discloses the fact that an immense body of ore, "a regular dyke of ore" in fact to quote the words of an expert, who recently visited the mine, exists in the Nettie L. Quite recently an offer of a lump sum, which would have paid every dollar share in the Great Western sixty cents was refused by the directors and there is little doubt that after the next shipment the treasury shares will be held at a dollar a piece.

NOW IT IS MC'INNES

That Gives the People of Nanaimo, a Few Pointers on the Laurier Government.

A Nanaimo despatch says that Mr. W. W. B. McInnes at a big meeting at the Extension coal mines last Thursday week, furiously attacked the Laurier Government. He declared that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been false to every promise and appointed the Oriental commission as a blind to allay the agitation in the West, which was becoming dangerous. Although the Imperial government advised the Laurier government to adopt the Natal Act in reference to the Chinese, Sir Wilfrid Laurier would not do so for reasons of his own. He said that the Conservative government had drained British Columbia of $8,000, but this robber government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's has drained it of upwards of $1,600,000. The legislation regarding British Columbia was a complete farce, and only intended to appease the clamors of the people here temporarily. Regarding the Yukon commission of inquiry, Mr. McInnes said that not one member of it was honest; all were humbugs, appointed to throw dirt in the eyes of the Yukoners and gain time, there being no intention of rectifying the abominable abuse rampant there.

Board of Trade.

Pursuant to resolution past last week the executive council of the board of trade held their weekly meeting at 10 a. m. yesterday. Present H. A. Brown, president; H. J. Bourne, vice president; C. E. Shaw, secretary; J. D. Sibbald, J. M. Scott, R. Gordon and I. T. Brewister.

Communications were read from the Premier, and Hon. R. McBride promising that the matter of bringing the Nakusp returns fully under the jurisdiction of the Revelstoke Division should be attended to and also from Thos. Taylor M. P. P., fully endorsing the action of the board in the matter; fyled. From the Vancouver board of trade protesting against the Victoria board retaining the name of the B. C. Board of Trade, as being misleading which the council thought had better be referred to the next meeting of Associated Board of Trade of Eastern British Columbia. Another from the same board with reference to exacting pledges from all candidates in the Dominion election to support a bankruptcy act, which was also referred to the Associated Board. From Premier Dunsmuir and F. C. Gamble replying to the communications of the board with reference to the Big Bend wagon road.

It was resolved that the council should meet Thos. Taylor M. P. P., who was expected to come up from the south that evening, on the arrival of the train and consult with him on the present position of affairs with regard to the road.

The council then adjourned.

A NEW AND REVISED EDITION

PROMISES AND PERFORMANCES

Compiled from Recent Utterances of Prominent Liberals and Dedicated, Without Permission, to Sir Richard Cartwright.

PLANK NO. 1.—TARIFF.

We, the Liberal party in Canada, in Convention assembled, Ottawa, June 1893, declare:

"That the customs tariff should be based, not as it is now, upon the protective principle, but upon the requirements of the public service; that the existing tariff, founded upon an unsound principle, and used, as it has been by the government, as a corrupting agency wherewith to keep themselves in office, has developed monopolies, trusts and combinations; it has decreased the value of farm and other landed property; it has oppressed the masses to the enrichment of a few; it has checked immigration; it has it has caused great loss of population; it has impeded commerce; it has discriminated against Great Britain."

Frank Oliver, M. P. for Alberta, was a Liberal, when a Liberal in Alberta was looked upon as some kind of a natural curiosity. Discussing the tariff in the house in 1897 he said:

"I wish to say that there are features in the tariff as it stands, which are disappointing to the people when considered in relation to the promises which have been made, and the ideas that have been gathered from the past from the party at present in power."

Mr. Oliver would have been worse disappointed if he had known that after making what the Liberal Editor of Events calls a "bluff" at reducing the tariff, the leaders of his party would openly declare for the principle of protection, which the Liberal platform of '93 stigmatised as unsound, corrupt, oppressive and detrimental to the country; if he could have known that the finance minister of the Laurier government would in three short years declare that "it is wise to have a tariff, giving the manufacturers a reasonable degree of protection"; if he could have foretold that in 1900 Laurier, his leader, would tell the people of Montreal, Que., that free trade is ethically right, but economically wrong; if he could have forseen Mr. John Charlton, 23 years Liberal member for North Norfolk, would in his election address in this campaign call for a duty of 50 per cent. in order to "create great manufacturing interests in Canada; if he could have known that after 4 yrs of government by the party, which went into power, basing its claim to the verdict of the electors of Canada on the very issue, the whole contention between the principles of free trade and protection would be abandoned openly and without any attempt at explanation. Pledge No. 1. "The Tariff," leaves the Grits free to accept one of two alternatives. Either they did not mean what they said or they did not know what they were talking about at the time they framed it.

PLANK NO. 2.—RECIPROCITY.

"That, having regard to the prosperity of Canada and the United States as adjoining countries, with many mutual interests, it is desirable that there should be the most friendly relations and broad and liberal trade intercourse between them; that the interests alike of the Dominion and of the Empire would be materially advanced by the establishing of such relations;

That the period of the old reciprocity was one of marked prosperity to the British North American colonies;

That the pretext under which the government appealed to the country in 1891 respecting negotiations for a treaty with the United States was misleading and dishonest and intended to deceive the electorate;

That no sincere effort has been made by them to obtain a treaty, but, that on the contrary, it is manifest that the present government, controlled as they are by monopolies, are not desirous of securing such a treaty;

That the first step towards obtaining the end in view is to place a party in power who are sincerely desirous of promoting a treaty on terms honorable to both countries."

Only put us in and we will get reciprocity. They came in. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir Louis Davies and Mr. John Charlton were appointed as commissioners. They spent six months and $34,000 of the taxpayers money junketing with Uncle Sam's delegates. And now Mr. Charlton tells us in his election address:

"My connection with the American negotiations conducted by the Joint High Commission has led me to modify to some extent my views relating to American trade relations. I have been as you are well aware, an advocate of reciprocal trade with the United States, looking to the free admission of our natural products into the markets of that country. I have believed in the past that an approach to the American government in a friendly spirit would easily secure a fair, equitable trade treaty. I am reluctantly led to the conclusion that it is doubtful whether a treaty upon a broad and satisfactory basis can be obtained at least while the Republican party is in power. Sir John A. Macdonald once expressed himself as being in favor of reciprocity of tariffs. I look with a greater degree of favor upon his views in relation to this matter than I formerly did."

Plank No. 2, "Reciprocity," shows very clearly on their own confession that the event proved that in not going cap in hand to Washington to ask for reciprocity of trade, the Conservatives acted with a great deal more sagacity and regard for the dignity of the country than their over-confident critics.

Notice.

Mr. Chris Foley will address the people of Revelstoke on the issues of the campaign from the Labor Party standpoint at Tappings hall on Monday night.

WORSE THAN SAWDUST

The Methodist Chaplain With the Second Canadian Contingent Testifies That the Emergency Rations Were Rotten and Worthless.

Rev. W. G. Lane, Methodist chaplain with the second contingent in South Africa, has given Hon. F. W. Borden, who is having a hard fight in King's county, a serious blow. It seems that "samples" of emergency rations were sent out ahead of the regular supply, of which Mr. Lane got two tins. These samples were of superior quality, entirely unlike the supplies that followed. The Chaplain used one of these "sample" tins, and the other he gave to sick comrade. Just three days after receiving them, he received a communication from the minister of militia, telling of the proposed inquiry in parliament, and asking him to make a statement, in regard to the food. On the strength of trying this special sample lot, the chaplain added to his letter a favorable note, which is now being circulated through King's county. But the gallant chaplain's experience and report did not end here.

Four weeks afterwards the chaplain again had occasion to receive emergency rations, and this time the stuff "proved to be worse than sawdust." Not only was it no good as a food, but it was so unpalatable that it could not be taken at all by him, and never afterwards, although he saw a good deal of the stuff, did he see a tin that was fit for man or beast. Taking Dr. Borden at his word, and thinking he was after the truth, and that some fraud was being perpetrated on the government, Mr. Lane wrote the Hon. minister of militia in regard to the issues of rotten and worthless food. Further, to convince the minister of militia of the correctness of his statement as to the utterly worthless character of the great bulk of the emergency food he procured on his return to Cape Town from the military stores, a case of this ration, which he brought home across the Atlantic and sent to Mr. Borden personally.

Rev. Mr. Lane does not hesitate to state his views on this matter, and he is prepared to substantiate his assertion regarding the wretched quality of the emergency rations.

FIRST BLOOD

Four Conservatives and One Liberal Returned By Acclamation on Wednesday.

The returns of Wednesday's nomination shews 4 Conservatives and one Liberal returned by acclamation. They are all the sitting members. J. E. Seagram, N. Waterloo, Blanchard, Gloucester N. B., Jas. Robinson, Northumberland, N. B., Gillies, Richmond, N. S. are the Conservatives and the Liberal is J. Lavergne, Drummond and Arthabaska. A Liberal named Ross was rushed out at the last minute to contest North Norfolk against J. Charlton, to whom the Conservatives had left the seat. Will McClain dropped out in New Westminster leaving the fight to the two straight party candidates.

IMPROVED BALLOTS

An Improvement in the Printing Will Make Less Spoiling In Future.

Mr. D. J. McDonald, the returning officer, states that an improvement has been made in the new ballots which are to be used at the forthcoming election, says the Rossland Miner. On the old ballot, against the name of each candidate which was printed within a black block, was left a circular disc on which cross had to be placed. If the cross was not placed within the disc, although opposite to the name of the candidate, the ballot was often thrown out, although there would seem to be no reasonable doubt as to the intention of the voter.

Under the new system the black blocks, or parallelograms are still left, but they are placed an inch apart and between each pair is set the name of a candidate, in other words the names of the candidates are separated by the blocks referred to. To signify his intention, all that the voter has to do is to place the cross anywhere opposite to the name of his choice. It is thought that this method will keep many a ballot which, under the disc system would probably have to be rejected.

There is also another point to which the returning office called attention and that is the freedom of the voter to vote anywhere within his riding. Thus a Rossland voter can vote at Trail or a Greenwood voter could vote here if he so desired. It is not necessary that the voter should be within his own city to vote so long as he is within the electoral district.—Slocan Record.

TOO ENGLISH FOR ME,

Sir Charles Tupper has again repudiated the false and malicious election cry raised against him in the English speaking districts. Sir Charles never said Sir Wilfrid is "too English for me." What he did say was said in connexion with Sir Wilfrid's absurd proposition to transfer to England the power of imposing taxation on the people of Canada.

Here is Sir Charles' specific denial in his speech at Toronto, on October 20th:

"I challenge his statement in the face of the Canadian people when he represented me as having said in that speech to which I have referred: "Sir Wilfrid Laurier is too English for me." I say that it is an unfounded, base and absolute misrepresentation. What I did say was this: That Sir Wilfrid Laurier's policy of transferring the powers of imposing taxation to England to tax the people of Canada was too English for me."

And every Canadian who is loyal to his country will agree with Sir Charles.

ALL HANDS KEEP QUIET.

Admit that H. H. Cook did not get what he was after, and accordingly strike out his censure of the government.

Admit that President Jaffray, of the Globe, for instance, DID get what he was after, and accordingly strike out his praise of the government.

The curses of disappointed ambition are as noble in their origin as the blessings of satisfied greed.

The grunts of satisfaction from the influences which are close to the trough are not more patriotic than the groans of dissatisfaction from the gentlemen who have been shouldered to one side.

If Mr. Cook is to be kept quiet because he is disappointed, the gentlemen who have been protected against disappointment by offices, subsidies, contracts and coal lands, should also keep quiet. Canada would then be the abode of the mightiest silence which ever blessed a free nation.

THAT TARIFF.

At Montreal on the 22nd, a meeting of representative business men was addressed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hons. Fielding and Tarte. In answer to a question, Mr. Fielding replied. (Free Press, Oct. 23) as follows:

"We do not anticipate that any material change in the tariff will be necessary. The tariff is not perfect. Here and there the duty may be excessive, but these are very rare. If this is so the government will not shrink. But in the main the tariff is a fair revenue tariff, and I will say to the manufacturers I do not see why there should be any material change."

Did you expect this sort of language four years ago when you voted for Frank Oliver and free trade in agricultural implements?

MORE DEFECTIONS

Leading Liberals are continually publishing their severance from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and a sensation has been caused by the desertion of John Charlton, M.P. for North Norfolk, Ont., whom Sir Wilfrid Laurier pronounced a great authority on international trade.

Out here in the West Mr. Kenneth McKenzie, of Burnside, has also solemnly discarded his former associates, and its grows difficult to remember who everybody is.

THE CROWS NEST DEAL

The Liberals today claim credit for the construction of the Crow's Nest railway.

The construction of the Crow's Nest railway was agreed upon before the Conservatives were turned out, and a contract had been completed whereby the C.P.R. was to get a bonus of $5000 per mile and a loan, the repaymeno of which was guaranteed. The Liberals tore up the contract, gave a bonus of $11,000 per mile and handed over the Crow's Nest coal lands to Cox and Jaffray of the Toronto Globe. The supposed control of freight rates is a myth, and the C.P.R. made a clean million of dollars on the deal.

Today the Liberal government are posing as the friends of the people against the monopolies. Your vote on November 7th will show whether you believe the government or not.

No matter how far the distance, it is every man's duty to go to the polls and vote.

Toronto Telegram: In its editorial and news treatment of R. L. Richardson, the esteemed Globe has displayed the manners of a Pecksniff and the morals of a Bill Sykes.

The most important work now before Mr. Bennett's friends is to get the voters to the polls on election day. If this feature is systematically attended to his majority will be a big one.

In 1896 the money orders issued by the United States post office department amounted to $363,008,921. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1900, the money orders issued amounted to $504,790,213.

The controller of the currency of the United States states that the deposits in the savings banks of the United States at the present time amount to $2,400,000,000 as compared with $1,907,000,000 in 1896; an increase of about $450,000,000 in four years. He notes particularly the increase in the number of workingmen who have bank deposits. From 1894 to 1898 hudreds of thousands of workingmen in the United States were out of employment. Now they have steady employment and are saving money.

LAURIER WAS DUMB

Made no Allusion to Cook's Charges. The Only Conclusion Possible

Toronto gave Sir Wilfrid Laurier a grand reception the other night. The thing was well done. No expense was spared, and all that money could do to create enthusiasm was done. The army of Washee Clarks maintained by the people of Ontario in the provincial offices of Toronto is in itself big enough to fill the hall, and this army of paid partiots was augmented by many willing to enlist in the same cause. Every band in Toronto was hired for the occasion, and one band disgraced the British khaki uniform by wearing it to do honor to the man who refused to send help to Great Britain in the African war. Delegations from outlying cities, towns and villages added to the throng, and the reception was a grand success.

There were many speakers, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier was the chief centre of interest. He said nothing new. He completely ignored his master, Tarte, and had not a word to say about Mr. Cook's charges against his government.

On his arrival at Toronto Sir Wilfrid found waiting for him a letter from Mr. Cook, in which that gentleman said:

Recently I addressed a letter to the Liberal electors of Canada, in which I charged that the present leaders of the Liberal party, yourself and your colleagues in the cabinet, have betrayed the principles of our party, have been false to the pledges and broken faith with the people of Canada. In that letter I said that the record of our party while in power under the leadership of yourself and your colleagues has been one long, shameful story of promises unfulfilled and pledges broken, of extravagance, jobbery and corruption, and of the most shameful betrayal of every principle for which the party has stood in the past. Recognizing the seriousness of the charges I make, and realizing the responsibility which anyone must assume in making such a charge against the leaders of the party to which he himself belongs, I felt that I ought not, in fairness to you and your colleagues, and to the members of the party generally, to make a general charge of this nature without giving specific instances and examples of the dishonesty and treason to principle of yourself and your colleagues, and this I did as clearly and distinctly as I was able to do.

Up to the present neither you nor any of your colleagues, nor any of the newspapers who are supporting your government, have ventured to dispute or deny even so much as one of the serious charges made by me. I notice you have permitted one of your colleagues—the one directly responsible for the ineffable disgrace brought upon our party by the actions of the gang of ballot thieves and switchers who operated in West Huron and Brockville under his direction, and whose entrance into the cabinet immediately after the doings of the gang became known, had all the appearance of being payment for service done—to make an attack upon me with the evident hope of being able to divert public attention from the charges I made. I might, did I care to do so, challenge, without fear, a comparison of my public record and party service with that of this colleague of yours, for a man who never made or sought to make a dollar out of politics need not hesitate to invite such a comparison between himself and one who has become wealthy by making the most of his opportunities. But permit me to say that neither my reputaion as a man or a politician, or the motives that may influence me in making them are of consequence in matters of this kind.

The question is: Are the charges I have made true? If they are not, you owe it yourself, to your party, and to the country to deny them, deny them specifically and give evidence in support of your denial. I say you owe this to your country, as well as to yourself and the party, for it will not be held by any honorable man that the country is not vitally interested in knowing whether the men entrusted with its government are or are not promise-breakers and traitors to principle.

You are to speak tonight in this city. May I ask you to take your audience into your confidence, and say whether or not the charges I have made be true. Do not content yourself with glittering and meaningless generalitiies, but speak plainly, so that, if I have accused you and your colleagues wrongfully the public, and particularly the rank and file of your party, may know it.

In order that Sir Wlifrid might more easily meet the charges, Mr. Cook repeated them in his letter.

And what was Laurier's reply? Not one word; not even the slightest allusion to Mr. Cook or his charges. Sir Wilfrid could not controvert one of the charges, and he ignored them all. We do not think the people of Canada will need any further evidence of the absolute truth of the charges made by Mr. Cook.

PURELY POLITICAL

HUGH JOHN AT ELKHORN

Explains His Position on the Agricultural Machinery Question

Elkhorn, Oct. 27.—A crowded house greeted Hugh John Macdonald here tonight on his first apeparance before an Elkhorn audience. Mr. Roche opened the meeting going over the H. H. Cook and Yukon charges, the promises of free agricultural implements, and spoke for an hour. Mr. Fraser of Brandon spoke for Mr. Sifton and was well received. He replied to Mr. Roche in a very able and convincing manner and claimed that coal oil was six cents a gallon cheaper now than under Conservative rule.

Mr. Macdonald was presented with an address by the local Conservatives and a bouquet by Miss Jones. He said that Sir Hibbert Tupper made out a good case against Mr. Sifton at Brandon. Mr. Philps apology had nothing to do with the charges read. Several charges had been made aginst Mr. Sifton by Sir Hibbert Tupper and Mr. Sifton, if innocent should have granted an investigation. A reporter could not be responsible for what the different members said, but a man was responsible to the reporters for his onw sayings, and Mr. Sifton had promised free agricultural implements. The Liberals only took one cent a gallon off coal oil and increased the cost in Ontario. The price of binder twine had increased through the unfair sales of the Kingston output. As to why he left the local house several leading Conservatives in Ontario had asked him to go into Dominion politics and as he did not agree with manufacturers on the question of free agricultural machinery he thought he could make more use of his influence by going into Dominion politics. After touching on the Greenway deficit and direct taxation he appealed for votes on his behalf. The meeting closed with cheers for the Queen, Mr. Macdonald and Mr. Sifton.

SUTHERLAND'S MISTAKE

Liberal Whip Writes a Letter Which Gives Offence to Catholic Electors.

Toroto, Oct. 23.—A meeting of Roman Catholic Liberals from all parts of the province took place yesterday at the Temple Building. Among those present were Chas. Murphy and John J. Lyons, Ottawa; J. W. Liddell, Cornwall, and other well known Catholic Liberals, to the number of nearly 100. The proceedings were secret.

The principal event of the day, according to the statement of a Catholic from the western peninsula, was the reading of a letter of Hon. James Sutherland to a well known Catholic Liberal, in which he stated that, in his opinion it would be inadvisable for the Liberal party in Ontario to place any more Roman Catholic candidates in the field in Ontario.

Letter Caused Indignation.

This letter naturally caused much indignation, although its contents were already known to many of those present. Some of the eastern men tried to square things for the government by maintaining that Sutherland was speaking for himself, and not for the government. The delegates from Western Ontario, however, especially those within the zone of Mr. Sutherland's alleged influence, were so indignant in their comments that some of the eastern men, fearful of being censured at Ottawa for party disloyalty, left the meeting.

It was decided, that a serious protest should be made to the leaders of the government against the creed handicap, which has been introduced into the present campaign by the Ontario minister.

HUGH JOHN'S ELECTION SURE

Reports From Rural Districts Are That He Will Beat Sifton.

Winnipeg, Oct. 27.—A Brandon despatch says: "There seems to be a growing feeling favorable to Hon. Hugh John Macdonald on account of his honorable dealing with his promise regarding a prohibitory act, and many are going to vote for Hugh John for the reason that they believe they can trust him to do all in his power to do what he promises. A very prominent temperance organizer is authority in part for the statement as to this tendency, which will lead to more independent action at the polls, than, perhaps, has been seen in any contest previously held here. Many are getting away from the fact that they were Liberal or Conservative, and are quietly weighing the matter for themselves. The Conservatives say today that they have reports from rural districts and outside villages which place the certain election of Hugh John Macdonald beyond a doubt.

BOWELLS CRITICISM

He Thinks Certain Members of the Cabinet Live Beyond Their Salaries

Belleville, Oct. 27.—At the Conservative meeting Sir McKenzie Bowell spoke as follows:

"When Sir Wilfrid Laurier went to England he was surrounded by a false glamor and it had turned his head. The senate could be depended upon to reject any bad measure carried through the commons. Before Tarte first went into the cabinet he swore that he was not worth 25 cents. Now he is able, it is said, to buy houses and go to Paris. Sifton, before he went into the cabinet, had to compromise with his creditors, and now he is able to buy property, and give parties and banquets costing $1,000 and $1,200. 'Gentlemen,' said Bowell, 'I have drawn the same salary these men draw, and I know it is impossible for men to live as they live, and spend money as they spend it, on the salary they get.'"

A COSTLY JOKE

The prohibition plebiscite cost the country $197,932.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the Liberal party had pledged themselves in convention at Ottawa. "The answer is not in my hands; it is in the hands of the people, and according to their answer such legislation they will have at the hands of the government."

He said: "We will take a plebiscite, by which the party will stand. The will of the people will be carried out, even if it should cost the Liberal party power forever."

Many people thought Sir Wilfrid could not afford to violate his pledged word but it was only one of the many promises that were made and the temperance people are not the only ones the Liberal "machine" men are laughing at for being innocent enough to believe the promises would be kept.

ALGOMA CONSERVATIVES

Tender the Nomination to Ex-Governor Patterson.

Winnipeg, Oct. 27.—Lieutenant Governor Patterson was waited on by a deputation from Algoma, who tendered him the Conservative nomination for that constituency. The lieutenant governor declined for private reasons, and Edward C. Boyce, a young and popular lawyer of Rat Portage, has accepted the nomination. He will make a strong candidate.

ANTI-SIFTON LIBERALS

Have Nominated E. D. Martin to Oppose Puttee in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Oct. 29—A number of anti-Sifton Liberals waited on Mr. E. D. Martin on Saturday and asked him to contest Winnipeg against Mr. A. W. Puttee, the labor candidate in nomination. Mr. Martin has consented to run and is now in the field being an Independent Liberal.

WINNIPEG NOMINATIONS

Winipeg, Oct. 25.—T. W. Taylor, ex-mayor of Winnipeg, was today nominated as Conservative candidate to contest Centre Winnipeg in the provincial election rendered necessary by the retirement of the present Lieutenant Governor McMillan. Robert Muir, grain merchant, was nominated by the Liberals to oppose him.

MARK TWAIN

Admirers of "Mark Twain" will be pleased by the news that Mr. Clemens has returned to New York in the best of health and spirits, although his hair is white with 65 years not free from misfortune. Five years ago he set out round the world on a lecturing tour to pay off a debt of $200,000 incurred by the failure of the publishing house of C. L. Webster and Co. The task was accomplished two years ago, and Mr. Clemens is now able to refuse an offer of $50,000 for lecturing, which he does not like. The burden of debt incurred by Sir Walter Scott under very similar circumstances crushed out his intellect and life. The great humorist of our own day has cheerfully faced a task which many a business man has found too much for his powers—the making of a fresh fortune at 60 years of age. He is entitled to our admiration and respect for the strength of his character as well as the brightness of his intellect. To suffer misfortune bravely and make the world laugh are two great titles to esteem.

THE SPORTING EVENT OF THE SEASON

Ponoka Herald: One of the greatest duels of the present century will be fought on Wednesday, November 7th, the date on which the polling for the general elections take place. The two principals, F. Oliver and R. B. Bennett, are well known throughout Alberta, and both of them are in the pink of condition for the forthcoming fight. Mr. Oliver has a slight advantage in weight, but in the next two weeks he will no doubt reduce it by several pounds. Mr. Bennett, although slimly built, is all bone and muscle, and wiry as an eel. He is an expert fencer, and his rapier is as keen edged as a Damascus blade. He is especially good at the thrust. His opponent, who has a more solid frame, relies more on the parry or defence, and will be armed with a stout bludgeon. Both participants in the coming fray are undergoing a regular course of training under the supervision of their supporters. Immediately on rising a cold plunge is taken, after which a slight breakfast consisting of raw meat, a cup of coffee, and some dry toast, a sharp walk of four or five miles, then slight luncheon of fish, which is a great brain producer, a drive for an hour or two, a frugal supper of mush, and after a short study of Hansard, a long night's rest. This treatment, of course, is varied a little to suit the Alberta weather. Enormous sums of money have been laid on the result, the betting being even. Already public interest in the affair has risen to fever heat. An immense crowd is expected to witness the great event. Seats in the amphitheatre are being sold at a high premium. Mr. Oliver is no novice at this method of warfare, as he has appeared in the ring before, and it will take a clever gladiator to give him the knock-out blow. Several preliminary encounters have taken place between the two candidates, but at this stage of the game it is impossible to say who is the favorite. Each has his special points. Mr. Bennett, the younger man, plumes himself on his power as a rhetorician, and not without grouds, for he is a great declaimer and in contests of this kind, a fluency of speech and quickness of repartee tell more than blows. His principle planks are the denunciation of the members of the Liberal government and their platform—the tariff question or a protective tariff in lieu of a preferential one, the high price of binder twine and farming machinery. These are the weapons he is handling in order to overcome his rival.

MRS. "BUT"

Mrs. "But" is our next door neighbor. Her real name is Green, but Jonas, whenever he sees her marching up the walk, remarks, "My dear, here comes Mrs. 'But.'" He is not given to calling people names; he says it merely to put me on my guard, for he knows our neighbor's failing. She is a bright, breezy little woman, and as long as the conversation is confined to the weather and household affairs I quite enjoy chatting with her, but the moment that a human being, living or dead, chances to be mentioned, I quake.

The first time she called— it was soon after we moved into the neighborhood— happened to say that Mrs. Goodwin, from the opposite side of the street, had been in to see me, and that she impressed me as a very lovely character.

"Oh, she is indeed," said Mrs. "But" heartily, "she is such a devoted wife and so good to the poor. But," she went on, lowering her voice, "there used to be a good deal of talk about her when she was a girl, and though I don't suppose half the things that were said were true, people don't seem to forget it."

What necessity there was for this drop of poison to be instilled into my mind I could not see. Mrs. Goodwin's youth was in the far past, and as gossip concerning her in that remote period had no interest whatever. I was quite willing to take her as she was in her sweet, ripe womanhood.

One day when Mrs. "But" dropped in she found my little friend Nellie Gray, at the piano. Nellie is a shy, brown-eyed girl of 15, gifted with a wonderful ear for melody, and, as the Gray's had no piano, I had offered her mine. "I can't help loving the child, she is such a warmhearted little creature, and so eager for music," I said as the door closed behind her.

My visitor gave a slightly perceptible shrug.

"Yes, Nellie seems to be a very nice girl," she admitted, "but I suppose you know that she is a poorhouse waif."

"No," I said, I knew nothing of the kind. Mrs. Gray had introduced Nellie to me as her eldest daughter, and the information volunteered by Mrs "But" was utterly uncalled for.

One evening on our way home from prayer meeting, Jonas remarked that he always enjoyed listening to young Spaulding, he was so devout and earnest.

"Yes, he is a very interesting speaker," said our neighbor, who had joined us as we came out of the lecture room, "and he seems very sincere, but I can't help feeling a little suspicious. I knew him when he was a boy."

Jonas made haste to change the subject; a word of encouragement would have resulted in our hearing the whole history of the young man's boyhood.

"I've no patience," he exclaimed the moment we were by ourselves, "with people who are always bringing up the past. Just imagine what heaven would be if the inhabitants were disposed to indulge in that sort of retrospection. The Angel Gabriel himself would hardly be safe from their disparaging 'buts' and the whitest robe in all the 'white robed throng' would be in danger of being smutted."

"And yet," I said, "Mrs. 'But' evidently considers herself a Christian."

"Oh, I don't dispute her title," said Jonas, but I can't help thinking that she might be able to read it clearer if she would rub up her glasses with the 13th chanter of 1 Corinthians.—Christian Intelligencer.

The Fate of a Boy Who Played Foul in the Game

"I don't know what to do with that boy of mine," said the fond father, who is always telling about his son, getting his friend in a corner where he couldn't escape. "When I went home last night my wife told me that he had been fighting with one of the neighbor's boys, and needed a talking to, so I summoned him, and said sternly:

"What have you been doing my son?"

"Fighting," he answered shortly, looking me straight in the eye.

"So I see," said I, looking him over. "He's bigger than I," he said, with a ring in his voice.

"Who?"

"Jimmy Jones."

"So you've been fighting with Jim Jones?"

"Yes," he said.

"Son," I said sternly, "have you forgotten what is said about fighting?"

"He hit me on the cheek," shouted my boy with kindling eye.

"Oh, son, son," said I, "don't you know what the Bible says about turning the other cheek?"

"I remembered it, pop—honest, I did—and turned the other cheek, but instead of hitting me there he smashed me on the nose! Say pop, wasn't that a foul?"

"It looks like that," said I, trying not to laugh.

"That's what I thought," he exclaimed as quick as a wink, "so I sailed in and licked the stuffin' out of him Tain't no use pop," interposed the boy quickly, forestalling my remarks, "he's been to Sunday school just as much as I have and knows the proper thing to do as well as I do."

"Now what could I say to that?" exclaimed the fond father.

A trusted employee of the First National bank, New York, made false entries on the books to the extent of $700,000, of which amount the bank is short.

Pennsylvania Miners Resume Work

Satisfactory Termination of the Great Strike.

Serious Trouble at Valley Field P. Q.—Soldiers Attacked by Striking Miners.—Boer Victory in South Africa. Jacobsdaal Captured After a Stubborn Resistance.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 27—There is great rejoicing today all through Scranton and the Lackawana valley at the calling off of the miners' strike. The order has also had the effect of stimulating the companies which had not already posted notices agreeing to an advance in wages of 10 per cent to do so and today the Pennsylvania Coal company sent out notices to the miners at Dunmore, Avoca and Pittson. This action was also followed by the Passic Mountain Coal company and every other individual interest that had done so and this evening will find the notice at every mine in the valley from West City to Pittson. On Monday 45,000 men and boys will resume work.

TROUBLE AT VALLEYFIELD

Outbreak Between the Striking Miners and the Soldiers Said to Be Imminent.

Valleyfield, Quebec, Oct. 27.—The strikers and sympathizers held a meeting on the Canal bridge and decided on the release of the prisoners. A delegation waited on Colonel Ibbitson, but he said he had nothing to do with it and referred them to the mill officials. When the delegation waited on the officials they were told their presence was not wanted and were ordered off the premises and escorted hither by the militia. Their report to the mob only increased the bad feeling already existing, and although there has been no outrages so far the situation is extremely serious.

Mayor Langevin says things are quiet this morning. He fears trouble tonight as the feeling is very strong, especially amongst the English militia, but it is thought that the soldiers now there and the Maxim gun will be sufficient to quiet the riot. He fears that the strikers are so excited that they will fight hard before they give in and is fearful of the consequences.

Montreal, Quebec, Oct. 27.—More troops in addition to the second contingent of 200 which left here at 1:30 yesterday morning were ordered to muster at the drill hall at 7 o'clock and took the train immediately for Valleyfield. The third contingent consisted of the Duke of York Hussars, cavalry being requested to over-ride the mob of workmen.

Valleyfield, Oct. 27.—On an examination of the wounded soldiers yesterday morning it was decided it would be necessary for six only to be returned to Montreal, the wounds of the remaining soldiers being of a slight nature. The six injured are mostly cut about the head by stones hurled at them. The two men arrested are being held as active participants in the disturbances. They were yesterday morning removed to the county jail at Beauharnois. During the scrimmage Thursday night a man, named Boyer, received a bullet wound in the stomach which may prove fatal.

Hon. Mr. Mulock Is Anxious to Offer Assistance.

Valleyfield, Oct. 28.—All has been quiet in Valeyfield in connection with the strikers last night and today, but it is feared there may be a renewal of the disturbance tomorrow, which is pay day. Mr. Mulock, minister of labor, had telegraphed offering to act as arbitrator, or to assist in the arbitration in any manner and if necessary will cancel all previous engagements in Ontario where he is listed to speak at numerous meetings, and to come right to the scene of the trouble. This offer has been telegraphed to the cotton company, to the operative hands and to the mayor of Valleyfield.

LATEST WAR NEWS

Police Patrol Captured by Boers—Fifty Thousand Men for Foreign Defence.

Winnipeg, Oct. 29.—It is believed the transport Idaho was outside Halifax horbor late last night.

A Cape Police patrol with convoy was attacked by Boers near Hoopstad and lost two Maxims. They were outnumbered ten to one.

A party of British cavalry were captured near Springfontein.

General Barton badly defeated General DeWet, but the British losses were heavy.

The neemy is raiding the northern part of Natal.

One million people waited in London on Sunday to welcome the yeomen from South Africa and the imperial volunteers, but the transport Aurania's arrival was delayed and the heroes will not be in the city until today.

The military men are demanding harsher measures in the treatment of the Boers, and it will not be safe to sen home the army or release the prisoners for some months. It is also suggested that an additional army of 50,000 men be raised for foreign defence.

JACOBSDORF NOT CAPTURED

Capetown, Oct. 26.—The Boers have captured Jacobsdorf, south west of Kimberley, after a stubborn resistance on the part of the garrison, which consisted of a detachment of Capetown Highlanders. The latter suffered severely, losing 34 out of 53 men.

Later

London, Oct. 27.—It now appears that Jacobsdorf was not captured by the Boers, the reports received to that effect yesterday from Capetown being incorrect. Advicets were received from Capetown shortly after midnight say: "Later news received from Jacobsdorf shows that 200 Boers unsuccessfully attacked the garrison. The Highlanders had 14 killed and 20 wounded."

BOERS RAIDING NATAL

Durban, Oct. 26.—The Boers are raiding in the northern part of Natal. They have burned the railway station at Waschbank and blown up the culvert.

A TRIBUTE TO BULLER

New York Mail and Express: There is something that appeals to the imagination in the spectacle of Buller, who began the British advance in South Africa by taking the soundest sort of a beating, now heading the pursuit of the Boers in the Lydenburg district and conducting in person the concluding British operations. The interest attaches to this officer that attaches to constant ill luck accompanied by consistent resolution. No one can accuse Buller of being a great general, but he is as full of fight as an egg is of meat. His career in the war indicates that he is more greedy of punishment than other men are of victory.

"Without stratagem and in plain shock, and even play of battle," as Henry V. would say, the redoubtable Gen. crossed and recorossed the Tugela in a series of foredoomed and disastrous movements that gained him the nickname of "Ferryman." If it had not been tragic, it would have been almost comic when he wound up the week in which three of his lieutenants were smartly defeated by himself encountering the most signal reverse of the war. Even after Paardeberg, when the Boers were on the run everywhere, they kept Buller in check in Natal, and his column was the only one of the three that had trouble in the last stand of the war near Machadorp. That through all his misfortunes he has not weakened the confidence of his superiors in him would seem to show their belief that perverse fate rather than personal inadequacy was Buller's handicap. As commander of the only British square that "Fuzzy-Wuzzy" ever broke, and as "The Ferryman of the Tugela," Sir Redvers is a sympathetic and picturesque incarnation of a notably unlucky soldier.

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION

The Transvaal Annexed to the British Flag.

London, Oct. 27.—In the presence in Pretoria of 6,200 home and colonial soldiers, the Transvaal was proclaimed British territory. Sir Alfred Milner read the proclamation, being attended with impressive ceremonies. The Highlanders have suffered a severe loss. It was reported that the garrison defending Jacobsdorf, after a stubborn resistance had been forced to surender, but this turns out to be incorrect. Their loss was 14 killed and 20 wounded. Hans Botha derailed a reconnoitering party of "kilties" between Heidleberg and Graylingstad and captured the entire force.

KRUGER'S MOVEMENTS

The Ex-President Will Spend the Winter at Nice.

Paris, Oct. 27.—Dr. Leyds, the Transvaal agent, who is in this city for a few days, was questioned by a representative of the Associated Press today with reference to the plans of former President Kruger. He said most of the stories published on the subject are imaginative. Mr. Kruger is an old man and not accustomed to a cold climate so it is likely he will sojourn in the neighborhood of Nice for the winter.

HUGH LEE NOT DEAD

WROTE TO FRIENDS IN ENGLAND ON AUGUST 9th

Although Reported Killed on July 6th

His friends in this district will be glad to learn that the report of the death of Trooper Hugh Lee is contradicted by the fact that although he was reported killed on July 6th he wrote under date of August 9th from Johannesburg to friends in England.

Lee came to Canada from England with Captain Coppock, of Cannock Chase, Calgary, and Mr. H. C. Coppock who wrote home regarding the report of his death, is now in receipt of the following letter from a friend in Butport, England:

"This morning I received the paper you sent and an hour or so afterwards your letter came. I think you must be mistaken as to the death of Hugh Lee. I called on his mother this afternoon and saw a lettre which he had written from Johannesburg, dated August 9th. The paper stated he was killed on July 6th so you see there must be some mistake. He wrote from a convalescent home saying that he had been wouded, but was now all right. He expected to be sent to Netley hospital and was looking forward to see her mother. I told her Hugh would probably turn up before I could again hear from you."

THE TRAFFIC IN RAILWAY TICKETS

Winnipeg, Oct. 26.—The C. P. R. are making a very strict check of the return portions of tickets from the West. In adition to the three passengers taken from the train some days ago, and who came from Calagry, another man was caught yesterday travelling on a ticket sold him by A. C. Murdock and was made to pay full fare from Calgary to Montreal. Two French Canadians also arrived from Edmonton today travelling on the return parts of tickets sold them by Jules Maron and Peprian Morreau. They had to pay the regular rates from Edmonton and are minus the sums paid to their friends in the West.

GERMAN SOLDIERS

The life of a German soldier in the German army is often a burden and a misery through the oppression of his superior officers. Sometimes their cruelty is carried to an extreme. The other day an officer killed a private at Cobentz with a bread knife. At Adelsberg, shortly after the first murder, a private received permission from his lieutenant to leave the barracks to get a drink. His captain meeting him coming out of the saloon, and not knowing of the permission, killed him with a single sword stroke. The murdered private leaves a widow and three children. The captain will probably be exonerated by a court martial.

A NOVEL ACTION AT LAW

According to the Atchison Globe, a woman of that city is preparing to bring suit for damages against a railroad for a peculiar reason. Her "steady" lives out of town, and had arranged to come to see her. She was sitting in her best gown in the parlor at 7:30, but his train was late, and he did not get in till 2. He was compelled to make his call on her the next morning, when he saw her in curl papers. He did not propose, as expected, and the girl will sue the railroad for the loss of a husband valued at $80,000.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF A HERO

Onward came the frantic steed!
People, shrieking, fled its path;
From constraining forces freed
On it came a thing of wrath.

Bildad heard the noise and ran;
Saw the terror clear the street;
Something stirred the little man—
Thrilled him to his very feet.

Bildad's courage did not flag—
All the danger clear he saw;
Click! he caught the running nag—
Caught it with his camera!

BRYAN'S GREAT TOUR

Splendid Receptions Through New York State

Jersey City, N.Y., Oct. 26.—The first day of Mr. Bryan's tour of New Jersey, which closed with six meetings yesterday may be described as a mad rush. From the time he entered Washington park, opposite Philadelphia until he closed his last meeting here he had made 15 speeches. The average of their duration was longer than usual. He spoke in succession at Washington Park, Riverside, Burlington, Trenton, Princeton Junction, New Brunswick, Elizabeth, Marion, and Jersey City. His journey through the state was a surprise to those accompanying Mr. Bryan. In few states, if any, has he had larger or more demonstrative audiences. His meeting at Washington Park was almost a record breaker in both of these respects and his meetings in Trenton and his reception in this city were second only to the Washington Park meeting in numbers and in feeling.

AS BEFORE

The following biographical notice is clipped from the New Denver Ledge: Chris Foley, the Labor candidate, is a son of the late Michael Harrison Foley, well remembered by the older Canadian politicians as a brilliant and eloquent Irish-Catholic member of the parliament of old Canada, and a member of the Brown-Dorion and Sandfield-Macdonald governments of pre federation days.

The hall belonging to Selkirk lodge, No. 12, I.O.O.F., has been brought from Donald and is being erected again on a lot on Second street, nearly opposite No. 2 fire hall. Hon. W. C. Wells, Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, who, with H. C. Killeen, the superintendent of roads, was here on Tuesday, found all the tenders for the contract on the first section of the Big Bend wagon road too high and decided not to accept any of them. Mr. Wells returned that evening to Victoria, but Mr. Killeen is still here. Whether or not the Department intends to make any move by day labor on the road this fall, the HERALD has no information.

An entertainment, which is being got up by the Talent Society of St. Peter's church, will come off early next month. Smoke the famous El Presidente

THE BIG BEND ROAD.

It is now announced that the tenders for the first three and a half miles of the proposed Big Bend wagon road are all too high and that no contract is to be let. It is getting about time that this dilly dallying came to an end. By this time there might have been a couple of months work done on that road, if the department of Lands & Works had gone to work energetically about it, with an honest desire to satisfy the just demands of Revelstoke for the completion of this important work. But instead of that we have had one delay after another, the work has been put off without any adequate reason being assigned and all we have for the fall's work is an uncompleted survey. No wonder that people are saying that the reason why the road is not being built is because the Commissioner of Lands & Works does not want it to be built because it is not to the interests of his own constituency that it should be.

Revelstoke is not asking for this road simply to get a road built or to get some government money spent in this constituency. The provincial government owes this road to this district and to the whole province, for which it would, if built, prove one of the best investments in the way of increase of revenue of any public work yet undertaken in British Columbia. It is the often expressed opinion of mining men, who have visited the Big Bend district that for indications of mineral wealth the country south of us is not in it. As it is, it has been for all these years, locked up for lack of proper facilities of transportation. Had the government of this province been alive to its opportunities that road would have been build ten or twelve years ago. If that had been done Revelstoke would now be a place of ten thousand of a population and a distributing point for twenty or thirty live mining camps, for a big lumber industry, for a considerable agricultural and cattle raising population in the broad valleys of the Fraser and Canoe rivers and for a score of big mica mines around Tete Jaune Cache.

In the name of the people of Revelstoke the HERALD demands that there shall be no more delay about the matter, that the government shall give the department of Lands & Works to understand that no more of its present policy of dilly dallying and shuffling will be tolerated, and that the cabinet shall make this great trunk road a big feature of its own policy and push it through to completion as a great measure of development for the benefit of the whole province.
