TRACKMEN STILL OUT

A Local Committee Interview Thos. Taylor M. P. P.—Traffic Disorganized by a Washout at Kananaskis.—The Strikers Still Holding out Without Wavering.

Up to the time of writing to outward appearancer the main features of the strike remain unchanged as far as the trackmen themselves are concerned on this division. The strikers are holding firm and attempts to fill their places have all proved futile, the men brought in joining the ranks of the strikers almost as fast as they are put off the cars. At Ottertail the Golden Era reports that thirty Japs went back to work on Wednesday of last week under a Jap boss. This is the only defection from the ranks of which the HERALD has any information, but there has been one gang at work at Golden all the time under Evan Pughe, who was working as foreman of an extra gang near Illecillewaet up to the Saturday before the strike. On the other hand the strike has become general throughout South Kootenay and on the Crow. Revelstoke Division No. 1 of the B. R. T. of A., which went into the strike with a membership of about one hundred now report more than three times that number of members and a couple of hundred more trackmen stationed at other points in the division anxious to join.

While the continued dry weather of last week was favorable to the company the heavy rains at the beginning of the week have altered the condition of the track for the worse very quickly and materially. On Monday the Bow River washed out the approaches to the bridge at Kananaskis and completely disorganized the train service. On the Western divison, to which that point belongs, there is one bridge gang, which is not exactly known, which never went out and their services were called on to repair the damage. Monday's No 1 is expected to leave Calgary this afternoon getting in here tomorrow morning, while Monday's No 2 is hung up at Banff. Last night a local came through from Banff but without the mails or through passengers as the distance along which the roadbed was cut up is to great to admit of a transfer. On the Arrowhead branch a spread rail near Wigwam put some cars on Monday morning's train in the ditch. The work train went out with the usual crew from the shops reinforced by officials and members of the clerical staff. The wrecking crew got the cars back on to the track and the repairs to the rails and roadbed were done by the amateur section gang. A wreck is also reported somewhere on the prairie.

The strikers have continued to maintain a law-abiding and peaceable attitude. This correct and dignified conduct on their part has wonderfully increased the public sympathy with their cause. Speaking on this point the Golden Era says:

"Public sympathy is with the strikers and all express the hope that their wages will be increased to at least a living standard. Deducting poll tax, union fees and hospital dues from $1.35 per diem, which white trackmen now get, there is little left for clothing and food, the latter being $4.50 per week. What can a man, at this rate of wages, lay away for the proverbial rainy day? Can he afford to marry or indulge in what ought to be the pride and hope of every man—a home?"

The Post, a little weekly paper recently established at Victoria with a view apparently of counteracting the namby pamby dulness of the daily press of the capital, has a characteristic paragraph on the situation. It says:

"We congratulate the Colonist on its leading article yesterday with reference to the C. P. R. trackmen's strike. The Morning Glory says: "We cannot for the life of us see what the grievance of the C. P. R. trackmen is. 'The men seem to have been relatively well paid,'" etc. We own up honestly to a burning desire to take the writer of those words by the scruff of the neck, yank him out of the editorial chair and plump him down on a strip of railway track, with $1.25 a day, and tell him to keep himself and his family. We are willing to bet that, inside of forty-eight hours, he would have forgotten all about Og the King of Bashan, the wash-bills of the early Babylonian Kings, and the "culchaw" of New Brunswick, and would have a very thorough comprehension of what the trackmen's grievance really is."

Sympathy from the press and public is very well in its way and pleasant for men in a crisis to feel that they enjoy. But it adds very little material weight to the issue on one side or the other. However there is no longer any doubt that the other brotherhoods of railway employes are thinking about doing something more than sympathise with the trackmen in this contest with the company.

Yesterday Thos. Taylor M. P. P., met a special committee of five members of Revelstoke Division, B. R. T. of A. and explained his position with regard to the recent employment of special constables on the right of way by the province. His remarks on this topic were practically the same as those given to the HERALD in an interview, which will be found in another column and were quite satisfactory to the committee. He promised to have the whole matter investigated and to find out where the real responsibility lay.

There was to have been held a meeting of the executives of other railway brotherhoods on this division last night at Kamloops but the result of their deliberations is not known here yet.

Tonight at 8 o'clock a joint meeting of railway union men will be held to which Thos. Taylor M. P. P., the Mayor, J. M. Kellie, A. McRae and some other residents of Revelstoke and the press have been invited.

A BLOODTHIRSTY CHINAMAN

Attacks Five of his Country men With an Axe.

VANCOUAER, June 23.—An atrocious series of murders occurred Sunday at Ladner, a village at the mouth of the Fraser river, opposite Steveston about 20 miles from Vancouver. All the details that could be learned tonight were that a Chinaman had entered a shack in which five other Chinamen were lying asleep. It appears that without making any noise to awaken the sleeping men, the murderer attacked first one and then another with an ax. The first Chinaman was killed before the others awakened. The cries of the second which the bloodthirsty Chinaman attacked awakened two others and in the darkness they attempted to rescue him.

These three men were cut by the follow in all parts of the body and so badly injured that they will all die. The fifth succeeded in stopping the murderer before further damage had been done, although the fifth man himself was seriously injured. He finally laid out the murder-crazed Chinaman by hitting him on the head with a board. Then the fifth man himself collapsed and the whole six were found lying in pools of their own blood early this morning by other Chinamen who happened to pass that way. The scene was a frightful one that met the gaze of police officers who made the first investigation. There was blood and torn clothing strewn all over the floor from one end of the little room to the other. One Chinaman was quite dead and from their wounds surgeons believe that not one of the other three can recover. The details as given are related by the fifth man, who is in the hospital. Little is known so far of the cause of the terrible murders. There appears to have been a standing grievance between the murderer and the five men he sought to kill, the trouble having occurred over a Chinese woman who recently arrived there. The murderer recovered early today from the wound that prevented him from killing the fifth Chinaman, and this evening was brought up to Westminster jail. He maintained a stolid indifference to the results of his crime. Other Chinese in Ladner say he has manifested crazy fits for several days.

A good story comes from Rossland. Paddy Nolan, a C. P. R. section boss, lives in that town. The other day he was approached by a high official of the company, who was anxious to know how he stood on the issue of the strike. Paddy, it is said, looked the h. o. square in the eye and said in his richest Irish brogue: "What would you do Mr. Downie, if you were in my place? I am now getting $1.05 a day and may be in two weeks I'll be getting $2 a day. Mr. Downie, I'm going to stroike."—Tribune.

THROWN UNDER THE WHEELS

Fatal Accident in the Nelson Freight Yard Last Friday Evening.

Neil McLennan, who was employed on the steamer Nelson, met with a fatal accident in the C. P. R. freight yard Friday evening. McLennan was walking toward the steamer, which was lying at the railway wharf and when opposite the old depot building attempted to cross one of the tracks upon which the yard engine was moving some cars. Whether McLennan saw the cars approaching and tried to cross the track in front of them or whether he did not know they were moving will never be known. Just as he was stepping across the track he was struck on the shoulder and thrown under the wheels. One wheel passed over his left arm and left leg and he was then dragged some distance before the trainmen knew of the accident.

When the train was stopped it was found that McLennan's arm had been completely severed and was thrown some distance from the body, while the unfortunate man was pinned fast by the left leg under one of the wheels. The trainmen got jackscrews and released the sufferer as quickly as possible. McLennan was conscious throughout the whole of the operation, and the men had some difficulty in holding him.

When he reached the hospital McLennan had lost consciousness, which he never regained, dying in some three hours after the accinent.

The deceased was well known in Nelson. He was a brother of Captain McLennan of the steamer Nelson and had been employed on the steamer off and on for some time. He leaves a widow and four small children in Nova Scotia.

Assays From the Ajax.

Twenty assays were made last week by the management of the Nettie L, of samples taken from the new strike on the Ajax. They averaged 153 oz in silver ranging as high in some cases as 258, 340, 369, 390 and 415 oz. One sample gave the very promising value of $17 in gold and every one shewed gold valuos with an average slightly over $4.00, which is an excellent surface indication.

COMPETITION ELIMINATED

By Divorcing the Traffic Department From Other Affairs of the Railroads.

J. C. Stubbs, vice-president of the Southern Pacific, whose appointment as traffic manager of the vast system of railroads controlled by the Harriman interests is announced from Chicago, has arrived in San Francisco.

In speaking of the innovation to be introduced in railroad methods by the creation of the position to which he has just been appointed, Mr. Stubbs explained the matter by saying that Mr. Harriman had been considering for some time the feasibility and practicability of divorcing the traffic of the lines he is interested in from the other affairs of the road.

He has talked over the scheme with other men who helped to frame the policy and direct the fortunes of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, and has evolved a plan which, in Harriman's opinion, ought to accomplish the heretofore impossible task of harmonizing the interests of the several Harriman roads, and will bring about a unification of interests with a reduction of friction, and the elimination of unnecessary competition without consolidating the properties under one management.

Under this plan one man is to have entire charge of the traffic from the several corporations, and in order to effectually divorce the traffic of the other affairs of the road this official will report directly to the board.

This position of power and responsibility, comparable to no other in the history of railroading, was offered to Mr. Stubbs and he accepted.

The plan is an absolutely new one in railroading.

The Waragraph

The following is a clipping from the Winnipeg Free Press of May 25th, regarding the Waragraph, which is to appear at Tapping's Opera House on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of this week:

"There were many attractions in the city yesterday, but none so interesting as that given by the Waragraph Co. at the Winnipeg Theatre. The house was full at both the matinee and in the evening, and the performance really surpassed all expectations. The moving pictures far excelled any that have ever been shown here. They are very clear and steady, and this company have added life to their pictures by the accompanying sounds of moving trains, rushing cavalry, reports of musketry, etc., so that they appear almost as realistic as life itself. The subjects shown were numerous and varied, touching on subjects from Alaska to South Africa, England to Manitoba and a host of comical novelties that provoked much amusement and wonder. Winnipeggers were greatly surprised to see their own fire brigade come dashing down Main street, while several well known faces could be recognized.

M. J. Noll completely captivated the vast audience with his female impersonations. His appearance as a Ballet girl is particulary good and his clever dancing and skipping the rope brought storms of applause."

No doubt the company will attract a full house in Revelstoke as they are shewing something new and highly recommended. Seats are on sale at the Canada Drug & Book Co's. store.

THOSE SPECIAL CONSTABLES

The Member for Revelstoke Will Sift the Matter of Their Appointment to the Bottom.

Thos. Taylor, M. P. P., accorded the HERALD an interview yesterday with regard to the recent appointment of provincial special constables in this riding on account of the trackmen's strike. Mr. Taylor entirely disclaims all personal knowledge of the circumstances connected with this action on the part of the authorities. "I suppose," said he, "that the representations made by the railway officials were pretty strong and that these appointments were hastily ordered in consequence. Now that the real condition of affairs is better known and the quiet and orderly conduct of the strikers shews that there was no real necessity for any increase in the police force, the men have been withdrawn. However, I intend to have the whole circumstances connected with these appointments sifted to the bottom and to find out where the real responsibility lays as far as this riding is concerned. I also mean to find out what instructions were given to these special constables and if it is really true that they were told to look to the officials of the road for orders. This step on the part of the provincial authorities was in my opinion hastily taken and quite unnecessary and one to which my own feelings are quite opposed. Still I want to find out exactly where the responsibility lies and what was actually done before giving a definite and decided opinion on the subject."

TRACKMEN'S POSITION

The Grievance Committee Answer Some Statements and Criticisms of the Press.

The grievance committee of the C. P. R. trackmen gave out last week the following statement of their position:

"We desire to refute the statements which have appeared concerning the strike situation. Reports to the effect that the men are returning to work in various localities are denied by local representatives of the trackmen's organization who have been instructed to keep the committee advised. We wired our local representative at Owen Sound to know if the report to the effect that men between Owen Sound and Toronto were at work was true. The reply came back: 'The men all out, and will stay out until told by committee to return.' A similar message was sent to Winnipeg. The reply was: 'All out to stay.' The report that the men have all returned to work on the Canadian Pacific in the State of Maine is refuted by the local representative from Presque Isle, as the following message will show: 'They say in the papers the men have gone back to work. This is not true. Not one of them has gone back. All are out to stay.' Similar reports have been received from various parts of the entire system. Any citizen who would not use the names of the parties making the reports for blacklisting purposes, is at liberty to call at our committee room for the purpose of convincing himself whether or not our statements are correct.

"There seems to be a disposition on the part of certain individuals to lead the public mind from the principles in the contest between the C.P.R. and its maintenance of way men. Were it possible, they would divert the minds of the public and try and persuade the men to believing this is a contest between the company and the president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen of America. Such is not the case. If we lose in the contest it means more poverty, more misery, and suffering for the maintenance of way men and their families. If we secure a fair settlement it means more of the necessaries of life for ourselves and families. The president of our organization is a hired man. He came here in obedience to our command. We help to pay his salary. We certainly have as much right to associate in industrial organization and to employ a president to look after our interests as the stockholders of the Canadian Pacific railway company, or any other organization, have to combine their capital and employ a president to look after their interests. We believe we have the sympathy of all intelligent, honest and peace loving citizens who are familiar with the question at issue. We have requested the officials of the C. P. R. in humble and most respectful manner to concede to us the right to have a word to say about the terms and conditions of our employment; we have been scoffed at, ignored, and our actions have been misrepresented by the C.P. R. officials to our constituents, a poor class of men who are eking out a miserable existence and are struggling for relief.

"It is also stated that Mr. Armstrong found fault with the position taken by our president at a meeting held in Toronto on the 10th inst.

"Our president says there is no truth in the statement. If Mr. Armstrong made an argument in favor of the company it was after he had left the meeting. If Mr. Armstrong has been incorrectly reported he must be a tool, a hireling that would stab labor in the back in the absence of its defenders. The position taken by the company and its defenders, who do not pay their maintenance of way men living wages, is that because the Grand Trunk and other railways are withholding from their maintenance of way men a just share of the wealth they help to create, we have no right to strike. Wages are not regulated by justice; they are regulated by power of the industrial organizations to force them up. If the maintenance of way men on other roads in Canada are members of the B. of R. T. of America, we are not aware of it. We are endeavoring to fight our own battles with the C.P.R. with the only means at our command, organization. If labor organizations must confine their operations to localities where wages are lowest, all advocates of high wages and a higher standard of living should leave this and other civilized countries and confine their operations to heathenized China, where workingmen are paid from 4 to 7 cents a day."

"(Signed) Jos. Lennox, chairman: A. F. Stout, secretary."

Mica Near Supreme Rapids.

The Golden Era states that W. Callander, of Canmore, returned last week from Supreme Rapids, of the Columbia River, about 30 miles below Beaver, bringing with him some fine specimens of mica, which he says he obtained from a ledge 30 feet in thickness. The ledge has been traced over a great extent of country, and is believed to be a rich strike. Mr. Callander intends to bring several cargoes up the river to Beaver by boat this summer and expects to realize some handsome profits from them. If the extent and quality of the ledge are as represented, this is one of the best strikes made in the province.

HARMONIOUS RELATIONS.

A good argument for unionism appeared in the Railway and Engineering Review, which was not perhaps intended as such. In an editorial it says:

"It is becoming more and more evident, as well as more generally accepted, that the highest degree of efficiency in railway operation can be obtained only by the promotion of harmonious relations between not only the different departments, but throughout each department of the railway. The characteristics of the service are such that no chief of a department, however able or however earnest, can make a success without the hearty co-operation and voluntary effort on the part of those under him. The man who fails to obtain this co-operation lacks the primary qualifications for success, and however superior may be his other attainments, his administration will be a failure. It is not intimated or supposed that one iota of discipline or dignity needs to be abated to obtain this result. Railroad men are like soldiers in this regard; they know that discipline is necessary not only for the good of the service, but their own good, and no regulation that carries with it the element of justice will be questioned. On the other hand, American railway men are not machines and they know it, nor will any other imputation than this be so quickly resented. The difference between a well operated road and one that is poorly managed rests largely in the fact that on one every employe is seeking to do everything possible to 'make the thing go,' whereas, on the other, they are doing as little as possible and 'hold their jobs.' One of the prime essentials in the conduct of any road is the cultivation of an esprit de corps that shall make every man anxious to see his road stand at the head, and the official who best promotes this feeling will be the most successful."

A railroad that is well operated is generally one on which the men are well organized. The good for nothing class cannot belong to the Brotherhoods, and they naturally drift to the unorganized roads.

Brotherhood men do not shirk their tasks, nor perform their work in a slovenly manner, because they respect themselves and their fellows. Rail road managers who are as capable as they are liberal know that the Brotherhoods help them in the operating of their roads as nothing else could, and if it were not contrary to custom would be proud to wear a button themselves.—Railroad Telegrapher.

TRADE CHANCES MISSED.

There exists right now in the new gold fields just discovered on Fish River a promising trade territory, which should rightly belong to the business men of Revelstoke but which is being left by them for others to exploit. Particularly are our good friends in Nelson and Rossland alive to the opportunities presented by this new territory for turning the nimble dollar. Not only are their mining men the ones handling the gold bearing claims but their business houses have their agents in the district looking over the field for trade openings and securing what business there is to be got already. Considering that the district is within fifty miles of Revelstoke and can be reached from here before breakfast, it seems rather supine of our business men to allow it to slip through their fingers in this way. It is so close that men who have just come down from staking claims and working on properties in the gold bearing belt can be seen on our streets any day of the week. But it might almost as well be in Atlin for all the interest anybody here appears to take in it. There is no sense in keeping our eyes so firmly glued on the Big Bend as to let others snap up chances all round us in every other direction. It is just possible that if we let other distributing points gain a permanent foothold in this way in the other parts of the trade territory properly belonging to Revelstoke, we may find them jostling us for business in the very district, which we imagine to be so peculiarly our own. There is no such thing as a dead immortal commercial cinch in these days. Eternal hustling is the price of business.

GOVERNMENT RAILWAY EMPLOYES

In a speech made during the recent session S. E. Gourley M. P. for Colchester, N. S., made some very pertinent remarks with regard to the condition of the railway employes working on the Intercolonial for the Canadian government. Mr. Gourley is to be commended for pleading the cause of his constituents but "Why, don't you speak for yourself, John?" There seems to be a fine field for organization open among the employes of the Intercolonial. Surely an administration which has started a Labor Department and a Labor Gazette would be only too glad to help its own workmen to organize and so place themselves in a position to demand fair wages and security from unjust dismissal. Mr. Gourley should not have to plead for such simple rights as these for the railway employes of Canada as a favor. It reflects very little credit on the employes themselves that they dare not or at all events do not adopt the same course of organization, by which the same class of workers on roads owned by private corporations are enabled to maintain an attitude of independence in dealing with their employers. "Who would be free themselves must strike the blow." And at the same time it shews up with startling completeness the utter hollowness and hypocrisy of the grand stand attitude of the government towards labor that it actually has to be entreated as a great favor to pay its own working men the same wages as private corporations in the same lines of business.

The Hansard report of Mr. Gourley's speech is as follows:

I wish to say one word to the Hon. Minister of Railways (Hon. Mr. Blair). He has in my town a staff of workmen and mechanics that would do credit to any employer of labor. I do not wish to be a demagogue—and I think he will understand that—for already I think he has attempted to ameliorate the conditions of these men by increasing their wages, but most inadequately. At the same time in this growing period of which we have heard so much, and with the increased revenue of the Intercolonial Railway, for I would not have made this application five years ago, recognizing that the Intercolonial was then somewhat of a burden upon the country, but today, since that great system has become a source of revenue to the Dominion—the improvement of the condition of these men should engage his serious attention. The workmen and mechanics employed on the Intercolonial Railway—and there are Liberals and Conservatives among them. I speak for all—are a splendid body of men. Cannot the hon. minister scale up the wages of these efficient and trusty men? There are no more trustworthy men in the world. When the members of this House, leave for Easter recess, the lives of many of them will be in the keeping of these faithful men. I want these men to be remembered, and I hope the minister will find it in his power to increase their wages at an early day. In a number of the associations in my county, and in the province of Nova Scotia, they are passing resolutions and working out figures, to show, that they are not paid, as highly, as are men in similar occupations, in other countries. I have not the data to speak upon that subject myself; but when the time comes, and this subject is presented to him more in detail by myself and others, I hope the hon. minister will deal generously with the employes of the Intercolonial Railway, and especially with those in the county of Colchester and the town of Truro.

THE REVELSTOKE HERALD

AND RAILWAY MEN'S JOURNAL.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY.

Takes a place in the first rank of Journals in this Province. Its mining, telegraphic and local news is gathered from reliable sources and presented to the reader in attractive shape. As the local paper of such an important Railway Centre, its attention has always been drawn to Railway matters, and recently it has definitely taken up the task of forming itself into a vehicle of railway news in which railway employes all over British Columbia and Alberta will find the news of the Great Railway System to which they belong, and of personal and the happenings affecting themselves and their fellow employes. THE HERALD has long enjoyed the largest circulation of any paper published in the district, which is now rapidly increasing among the Railway Men East, West and South. It is hardly necessary to point out to any shrewd businessman the advantages which it thus offers as an advertising medium throughout the entire field which it covers.

Subscription $2.0 Per Anuum

$1.25 FOR SIX MONTHS, IN ADVANCE

It takes a foremost place in the race for prominence and popularity with business houses and as a consequence does more business with those requiring Printed Stationery and office supplies than any other Printing Establishment in Eastern British Columbia. The class of work turned out has been pronounced equal to anything of the kind executed in the large cities by much larger Printeries.

JOB RINTING DEPARTMENT.

Is equipped with the latest faces in type designs and all work entrusted to THE HERALD is handled by experienced workmen who thoroughly understand the proper use of the material at their disposal. THE HERALD does not claim to be the only printing house in the district, but it does claim to be

Thoroughly Up-To-Date

And in a position to give as good value for the money expended, either for advertising space in its publication or for Job Printing, as can be given by any other house of the kind in British Columbia. PROSPECTS IN THE LARDEAU

Some Talk by the Eagle on Conditions Existing in the Wonderful Mineral District, Of which Ferguson is the Centre.

[CONCLUDED]

FERGUSON'S LE ROI.

The marked progress of the Nettie L. mine since this time last year can scarcely be realized by us who are so near at hand. Not only was the 800 tons of ore which the company shipped last winter undiscovered a year ago, but sufficient development and prospecting work has been done to demonstrate beyond a doubt that the Nettie L. is a mine in every sense of the word. Last year at this time 20 men could scarcely find room to work. Two months from now the company could employ with ease 200 men. And every man could be stoping ore. This one mine will naturally aid in making Ferguson a Rossland.

A NEW NORTH FORK SHIPPER.

On the Metropolitan group, which was sold to Chas. W. McCrossan of Minneapolis last fall, a force of men are now at work, and arrangements will be made in a few weeks to continue work the year round, if present indications are anything like materialized. Several test shipments from this ore prove this group to be very high grade, and this summer a few tons will be shipped to the smelter, so that an accurate idea of its average value will be available. The new company have plenty of money to carry out any program which they may undertake.

THE OLD GOLD CAMP.

As announced in the Eagle's last issue, the companies operating in the Old Gold camp are already making a move, though the lateness of the season is retarding their progress somewhat However, a few weeks more will see all these companies—the Old Gold, Primrose and Guinea Gold—with forces of men at work, the supplies already being on the ground. A carload or two of ore will be packed out on horses down the new Duncan trail, though it can scarcely be expected at a profit. It may, however, have a stimulating effect with the railway people, and the shareholders will have a better idea of what is in store for them when railway transportation is provided. Supt. Westfall informs us that about $15,000 was expended in this camp last season, and probably as much more will be spent this year.

UP THE NORTH FORK

On the Sunset group, owned by the Golden Link Mining company (also Americans,) a tunnel is now being driven, and this season will to some extent demonstrate the value of the property. The surface indications are very good, and the mineralized ledge matter now being encountered in the tunnel is most encouraging.

THE FAMOUS TRIUNE.

The backward spring, combined with the unusually inaccessible location of this property, makes this season very short for actual work; but the owners, the Ferguson brothers, will be equal to the occasion. A cabin was built last fall and some of the supplies are now on the ground. At any rate there is some 20 tons of sacked ore in the tunnel, mined by the lessees, Messrs. Lade brothers, Gunn brothers and James Otto, last season, awaiting shipment, so that supplies can be taken in and ore brought down on pack horses—rather expensive, but the ore will stand for it all. Every thing is in readiness for the time when the snow does migrate to Trout lake. As many men as can be worked to advantage will be employed. And the results will more than justify anything which the Eagle might predict in the way of an eye-opener to the outside world in point of outside returns.

UP THE SOUTH FORK

S. Shannon, B. A., will have charge of work on the White Warrior group, particulars of which were given some weeks ago, and upon his return from the east, about the 15th inst., a force of men will be engaged. Mr. Shannon will also expend considerable money on other properties owned by himself and companies which he represents here.

THE EMPIRE GROUP

There was probably some $10,000 spent in development work upon this group last season, but until Supt. R. Leckie-Ewing returns from Scotland, about July 1st, no definite knowledge of the company's intention is at hand. Supplies are already on the ground, and it is more than probable that a few thousand dollars more will be available for the continuation of the work commenced last season.

OTHER PROPERTIES WILL BE WORKED

Besides the above mentioned there will be more or less work done on the Maybe by the Double Eagle company, the Lucky Jim, Cromwell, Lone Star, Rob Roy, Molly Mack, Towser, Free Coinage, Union Jack, Little Robert, Minto, Brow, Idle Hour and others, while the number of representations to be made on the many prospects staked throughout the district will reach well into the hundreds.

GOVERNMENT WILL EXPEND $14,000

Then, too, it must be remembered, is an item of $14,000, which will be expended this season by the provincial government on road and trail work, nearly all of which is represented in labor.

FERGUSON WILL CONTINUE TO GROW

This will also be further supplemented by local building and improving, all of which goes to make up a town. "Look after the development of the district; the towns will take care of themselves," said a prominent mining man to the Eagle last week. And after all this is very true, especially so of Ferguson, its citizens being perfectly aware that the place where the mines are is the place where the towns are. And as an evidence of good faith we find that over $12,000 worth of new buildings have been erected here since last fall, with many more on the way, including the enlargement and improvement of three stores to an appreciable extent, the erection of a good sized block by the Nettie L and Double Eagle companies for their offices, and several new dwellings, not to speak of what might occur if that long-sought-for railway were to hove in sight.

PERHAPS TOO MUCH WAS EXPECTED

Taking all these things into consideration, the citizens of this district have no particular kick coming. We are making great strides, socially, commercially and otherwise and if we were not looking for the realization of what we had expected, rather than of a reasonable growth, much more in keeping with local and foreign conditions, the present progress would be more appreciated.

OUR LAST RESOLVE

The Lardeau district is strictly all right, disappointed boomsters to the contrary notwithstanding. The sheriff may be on the way, ever timid capital may be absorbed by the trusts, the flood may be averted and the sleighing bad; but we have the mineral and the people who will take it out in due time. If not we'll die game any way. We're here to stay.—The Lardeau Eagle.

DESPATCHERS FINISH WORK

Convention Adjourns After Receiving Reports and Electing Officers for the Year.

The Train Despatchers' Association of America wound up the affairs of its fourteenth annual convention last Wednesday week and adjourned. Although during the two days' session no extra amount of work was accomplished, the Train Despatchers had a delightful vacation and thoroughly enjoyed their sojourn in San Francisco.

The committee which had been appointed to consider reports of officers reported that the financial affairs of the association were in a stable condition. The president was advised to consider geographical location when appointing the next train rule committee.

There were seven cities in the contest for the next convention—Buffalo, Louisville, Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Cleveland, Denver and Charleston. Pittsburg was finally selected in honor of Past President Lusk, who hails from that city. The convention will convene on the third Tuesday of June next year.

In the election of officers the only real contest was between J. W. James of Tucson, Ariz., and J. F. Mackie of Chicago for the position of editor of the official organ. The latter won.

Secretary and Treasurer J. F. Mackie, in appreciation of the valuable services which he has rendered to the association, was presented with a magnificent gold watch.

The officers who were chosen for the ensuing year were: President, J. P. Mann of Ennis, Tex.; Vice-President, F. S. James, Cherokee, Iowa; Secretary, Treasurer and Editor, J. F. Mackie, with a salary of $1,000 per annum. Executive Committee—J. W. James, J. D. Canfield, T. W. Evans and F. S. Rogers.—S. F. Call.

THE MASONIC GRAND LODGE

NELSON, June 22.—The thirtieth annual communication of the grand lodge of A. F. & A. M. of British Columbia, which has just adjourned, was the largest meeting of the grand lodge ever held in this province, there being 117 votes recorded on the divisions. The following officers were elected:

R. W. deputy grand master, E. E. Chipman, Kaslo.

R. W. grand senior warden, Rev. C. Ensor Sharpe, Esquimalt.

R. W. grand junior warden, W. J. Bowser, Vancouver.

V. W. grand treasurer, A. B. Erskine, Vancouver.

V. W. grand secretary, W. J. Quinlan, Nelson.

V. W. grand chaplain, Rev. C. F. Yates, Golden.

V. W. grand tyler, E. Hosker, Vancouver.

Friday night the visiting delegates were banqueted by the Nelson lodge, when covers were laid for 200 and a very enjoyable evening was spent. The next meeting of the grand lodge will be held in Victoria.

M., reports that the meeting of the grand lodge there last week was a most successful affair with the largest attendance, 117 votes, ever yet gathered together on such an occasion in this province. Altogether there was over 200 members of the craft at the meeting and 227 guests sat down at the banquet given on Friday evening.

Among those, who owing to the disorganization of the train service enjoyed the hospitality of the Revelstoke yesterday were T. J. Vaughan-Rhys and J. B. Giffen of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Creech of Grand Forks, R. N. Jakes, M. D., of Greenwood, J. J. Sullivan of Lardo, H. W. Pepin and W. Fetherstonbaugh of Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Reeve of Lethbridge and J. S. H. Matson of Victoria.

Yesterday the year old child of Morris Anderson fell into a bucket of water head downwards. The baby was unable to extricate itself and it was some little time before either of its parents noticed what had befallen it. When taken out it was to all appearances dead. Dr. McLean was hurriedly summoned and after working with artificial respiration for some time restored the child alive to the arms of its anxious parents.

The low rate to Vancouver on the 12th, only nine dollars there and back, is going to depopulate Revelstoke. The HERALD received a programme of the celebration this morning. The monster procession forms up on Westminster Ave at noon. The speeches will be given at Brockton Point at 1.30 and the time from 3 to 6 p. m. will be devoted to lacrosse and baseball matches and athletic sports for which prizes to the value of $500 are offered

Thos. Taylor, M. P. P., arrived in town on Monday evening.

Manager Pool of the Great Western Mines Ltd. is away at Ferguson.

Major Hargrave, provincial officer of the Salvation Army will conduct a special service in the barracks here on Friday, June 28th.

Little Prince Edward, the heir presumptive to the throne of the British Empire, was seven years old yesterday.

F. McCarty has not yet returned from the coast, where he has been buying the machinery for the new steamboat.

The government assay office will be established in Vancouver under an assayer from the east and will be ready to receive gold by July 15th.

The mayor and council of Revelstoke have been invited to be the guests of the city council of Vancouver at the Dominion Day celebration there.

Gen. Supt. Marpole is having some twenty lots, which he owns here in town, cleared in accordance with the requirements of the city council.

—Don't forget the strawberry festival to be held on the grounds of the Methodist parsonage on Thursday evening June 27th.

H. Perry Leake has gone up to Albert Canyon to take over the Waverley machinery and other property, recently advertised for sale in the HERALD, which he has purchased as agent for a mining company.

By a mistake on the part of our reporter the recent item about the payment made by the Duquesne Mining Co. read as if it included the Surprise and Gertrude. The money paid was only on the Blue Jay.

The members of L. O. L. 1658 and visitors desire to express their sorrow of the sad accident that has befallen Bro. David Strachan. Though not a member of the local lodge he is an old time Orangemen and well up in the order.

E. A. Bradley, manager of the Duquesne Mining Co's. placer properties on Smith Creek, has sent out twenty men and two pack trains loaded with supplies to the Blue Jay. He expects Capt. Hughes back on Thursday and will go up to the mine with him the next day.

As will be noticed in our advt columns Messrs. Field and Bews, the well known druggists from here have dissolved partnership. Mr. Field takes the store at Golden and Mr. Bews will continue the business here. He has made a popular and efficient manager and will make a good success of the business on his own account.

A big feature of the Lawn Social of the Methodist church on Thursday will be the Apron Booth, at which aprons of every sort, size and variety will be found on sale, as well as other fancy articles. Refreshments will be served from 3 to 10 p. m., consisting of strawberries and cream, ice cream, cake and coffee, lemonade and all the delicacies of the summer season. The band will be in attendance.

The remains of W. Ross were shipped to his home at Chatham N. S. on Tuesday morning. Deceased up till about a couple of years ago was a railway conductor running west from here to Kamloops on the C. P. R. He suffered from asthma and had to leave railroading on that account. He has since been a resident of Trout Lake City, where he died from the effects of his malady last week.

The bandstand opposite the opera house was upset about midnight on Saturday by some unknown persons. This seems to be a very unnecessary piece of work. It certainly does not look any prettier than it did before nor is it of any more service to the public. Mr. Tapping, being spoken to by a HERALD man about it, declines to take any more interest in the matter, since he considers that he has done all that one private citizen can reasonably be asked for.

A. S. Potter of Pittsburg, W. F. Cummings of New Orleans, Victor Thrane of Chicago, H. H. Mann and Jno. S. Murray of Muskegon, Mich. and R. H. Lee, P. L. S. of Kamloops, started up to the timber limits in the Big Bend with J. Sands on Monday morning. The party includes investors interested in two separate sets of limits, who came in last Friday one by way of Spokane and the other on the main line of the C. P. R. without being at all aware of each other's visit to the country. Mr. Thrane represents Chicago capital, which is contemplating investment in the lumber industry out here.

He was greatly pleased with the progress Nelson had made since his last visit and said he thought it the brightest and prettiest city he had seen. Mr. Holten said that business conditions in Revelstoke were good at present and likely to improve with the opening up of the Big Bend country to the north, for which supplies would have to come from Revelstoke principally. He was here attending the Grand Lodge meeting of the Masons and thoroughly enjoyed his visit.
